THE CLOTHES LINE

They say it's poor policy to "blow your own horn," but it's an awful temptation . . . when you get something rare for your customers.

Take for instance . . . boys' dress shirts. Peak through your catalogues and visit your city stores. There are almost none. And yet you'll find them here. In the nick of time for school.

Men's extra large sizes in work pants. The big man has been the forgotten man, but you'll find here pants in waist sizes 44 to 48.

Men's dark gray work shirts. The kind that most workingmen like and can't get. You'll find them here if you come early.

Who hasn't searched high and low for men's white dress shirts. You'll find them here today and good ones too.

We scarcely dare to mention this one . . . because they are only on the way to us and it isn't safe to count your chickens before they're hatched. But, by week's end we should have received some boys' shorts and shirts (underwear).

Yours . . . to have and to wear for better or worse . . . the best that we can get . . . always.

TASKER'S

This Newspaper to Feature Series of Photographic Studies of Local Youngsters

"The best investment is in children. You had better take a good look at them as they pass you on the street, for they are the ones who are going to make a new world for you, and you can catch some glimmer of the dawn in their faces."—William J. Cameron.

Truer words were never spoken than this bit of philosophy, in the opinion of the Messenger publishers. And because we think our readers should "catch some glimmer of the dawn" we intend to help them do it. That is with the cooperation of the mothers and fathers of Hillsboro and our neighbor towns, of course.

The only way we can give you a good look at all these future "world builders" is by publishing pictures of them. And soon these pictures will begin appearing in the feature columns of the Henniker Weekly Courier, The Antrim Reporter and Hillsborough Messenger.

To be certain that the Messenger receives the latest and best reproduction picture obtainable—they must be of uniform size and quality—we have made arrangements with The Woltz Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take these special pictures for us.

Expert children's photographers for the studios, with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work will be here in Hillsboro Tuesday, Sept. 11. The special studio will be set up in the Opera House and will be open from 1 P. M. to 8 P. M.

There is no charge to the parents! There are absolutely no strings to this offer! It is bona fide in every sense of the word. Bring your children as guests of the Messenger Publications. Parents do not have to be a subscriber nor even a reader of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature. Also, they are not obligated in any way to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want additional pictures may obtain them by arrangement directly with the studio when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

We simply want pictures of all the youngsters and the more the better. So mothers and fathers of Hillsboro, Henniker, Bennington and Antrim should remember the days and dates —Tuesday, September 11 at 1 P. M. and not fail to bring their children in.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did and very, very sorry if you fail to allow your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have fun and both mother and dad—and the youngsters, too—will be very proud to see their picture in print later.

You see, you do not have to order photographs to make sure daddy sees the picture and if daddy is in the service he will quite likely see it because many copies of this paper go to men in the armed forces. That's the reason we especially invite mothers of children whose father is, perhaps, in some distant camp or thousands miles away overseas, and who hasn't seen his offspring for a long time or maybe never has seen the little lad or lassie. What a thrill it will be for these dads to see a brand new picture . . . in the home town newspaper. What a "kick" they will get from showing it to their comrades!

UP TOWN DOWN TOWN

NEW YORK VIGNETTE . . . by Gil Babbitt

BIG TOWN TALK—Representative Clare Booth Luce, a pretty good actress in or out of Congress, making with the Thespis as "Candida" in the Stamford, Conn., summer theatre production of the G. B. Shaw classic . . The dance tapestry of Gene Kelly in Metro's "Anchors Aweigh" . . . The news that movie actor Ricardo Cortez, in town to do a play, has been made fashion editor of Esquire . . . Al Jolson's ambitious plans for the Fall. Rumor says Al will return to Broadway in a musical play and will also do a weekly network program, both under the aegis of Mike Todd, the Broadway producer . . . The set DuMont Television is building to sell at $150 which will tune in radio stations as well as television . . . Dan Seymour's plan to sell his MBS "Now It Can Be Told" air series as a syndicated cartoon-strip . . . Erroll Garner, who can't read a note of music, but makes plenty of it with his piano at 52nd street's "Club Downbeat" —Debussy to Boogie . . . The Kudos being tossed in the direction of Sgt. Millard Lampell for his adult scripting of the MBS "Return to Duty" radio series. Lampell's script savvy first found expression in the writing of Norman Corwin's "The Lonesome Train."

CANDIDLY PEEKING — 5th Ave. and 49th — Arleen Whelan, the stage and screen pretty, last seen in "Oh Brother," getting that "Oh Sister" stare! . . . Kelloggs Cafeteria (the poor man's Stork Club): with its patronage of small-time actors and their ladies reading Variety (show-biz bible) with that far-away look in their eyes in the early ayem . . . Waldorf-Astoria: Lt. John Roosevelt, USNR, and the missus, lobbying . . . MBS Studios: Julie Gibson, curvaceous Paramount starlet upping the temperature a few points as she makes a sweeping exit, after an MBS "Auction Gallery" program rehearsal.

IN PASSING — Kathryn Cravens, Mutual network's femme correspondent now in Berlin, writes to her best friend, publicist Dorothy Ross: "I spotted a list of Americans marked for death by Goebbels and my name was among them. A fellow named Winchell led the list!" . . . Producer Cheryl Crawford hopes to secure the services of Margaret Webster, Shakespeare's most ardent interpreter, to direct the forthcoming musical "45 Plus" . . . Martha Burnett, who adds her loveliness and voice to "Up In Central Park," is skedded for a top role in a new fall musical comedy . . . Recommended: Jane Dillon's expert clowning and song stylings at La Martinique . . The ferry trip to Staten Island—Manhattan's biggest ten cents worth.

POST-WAR FLYING IN YOUR HOME TOWN

By C. C. CAMPBELL, Member, Aviation Writers Association, Washington, D. C.

National Groups Aid in Airpark Planning

The day is not far off when a town that does not possess community landing facilities will be as much out of the American scene as would be a town without roads leading to other sections.

As personal flying and feeder airline transportation become a definite and important feature of our everyday lives, much of the community activity will be centered around the airpark. For this reason, progressive town officials look forward to building an air service installation that will be attractive, convenient, and economic, as well as being capable of future expansion.

Naturally few citizens know much about the construction of an airpark, so seek expert advice. Fortunately, this is easily available. Both the Government and several non-profit aviation organizations are ready with information and advice from the early decision to have an airpark through all the stages of selecting a suitable site and arranging for runways and buildings.

The usual community will find that its State Capitol offers a wealth of information. Most states have aviation commissions and boards functioning for this very reason. State officials know the local conditions and geography, are aware of what the neighboring towns are planning, and usually have data on the number of feeder or area airlines contemplated and lists of prospective owners of personal planes.

At Washington, the Civil Aeronautics Administration has an airport division which will supply diagrams and working plans for air landing facilities of every description. Regional offices of the Civil Aeronautics Administration work closely with State aviation executives.

Various privately operated aviation organizations can provide much salient information. For instance, the National Aeronautic Association is helping communities to plan their air future and aiding them to gain their position on the "Main Line." More than 40 years of accumulated knowledge on aviation, and particularly on the construction of air facilities, is available. Many communities which have decided to establish airparks or other types of landing facilities have formed their own community chapters of the National Aeronautic Association.

Two other groups ready and willing to plan and work with town aviation planning organizations in this effort are the National Aviation Trades Association, located at Kansas City, Missouri, and the Personal Aircraft Council of the Aircraft Industries Association of America at Washington, D. C.

These organizations have endorsed the model airpark at Eldon, Missouri, and are doing pioneer work among other communities in all parts of the country.

The Joint Airport Users Conference, designed by the National Aeronautic Association as a discussion and study group, meets in Washington. Conference membership includes such organizations as the American Road Builders Association, the American Public Works Association, the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, the American Association of Nurserymen, and many other technical and professional groups with an interest in airport planning, construction, and use.

This is the eighth of a series of articles on post-war flying and its effect on community life. The final article, "Local Flying to Aid American Air Power" will appear in an early issue.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CONSERVATION OFFICER

Phone 104 Wilton, N. H.

One day last week I went to Hampton Beach with one of the sons on a family picnic. Had a fine picnic dinner on the beach and when he came home late in the P. M. we were to pick up a supper somewhere on the route. Not an eating place was open and but for the extra loaf of bread that the Mrs. put in we would have gone hungry. The eating places are hard hit just now. A man and his wife from the home town went to Concord one day last week and he could not get a meal in either Concord or Manchester and had to come home to eat.

A family from out of state who have a summer home here are having a lot of trouble with a bob cat or it may be the black panther. Most every night he comes around this house and gives them an hour's entertainment which they don't appreciate. I have a well known cat man on the job and the next time they hear this noise they will get in touch with the cat man and then there will be things doing. Watch for an extra.

We have at hand a membership card and a button from the Fitchburg, Mass. Rod and Gun club for 1946. It's a pleasure to receive these little tokens from a big club like that.

To the party that wanted a St. Bernard puppy. I have the address of a party who has some nice ones to sell.

Did you ever read the booklet gotten out by the Maine Dept. of Inland Fisheries and Game? It's called "The Snowshoe Hare and Artificial propagation." The book was written by Joye H. Severaid now in the armed forces. He is the only man to successfully raise the wild snowhare in close confinement. The book is well worth the reading.

Many people the past week have asked me if they could fish with bait in the month of August. The answer is yes but not in September. Fly fishing only for trout in September.

Up in Keene next month at the Cheshire Fair will be an old fashioned Firemen's Muster. It's been many years since we have seen one of these events.

Yes, we still get tinfoil; where it comes from we know not but it's coming all the time. This week our honor roll goes to Algie A. Holt of Peterboro, Mrs. George Brewer of Winchendon, Mass., W. T. Whittle of Milford and F. K. Parker of Henniker.

The waterfowl season for 1945 is 80 days. See Federal laws.

There is a bill before Congress making the use of live decoys legal for the next open season on waterfowl. There is a strong movement against this bill. Are you for or against. If against get in touch with your U. S. Senators and Congressmen. Personally I am against it. If a hunter can't get his ducks without a live decoy he should not have them.

Believe it or not but the officials at Harvard College Zoology Dept. don't believe that N. H. ever had a snake over 5 ft. 9. The snakeskin that I have, 6 ft. 3¼ in. they claim came off of a snake not over 5 ft. 9. In the past I have killed several snakes that were over 6 ft. in length. The next time you get a big one let me know and we will send it to Cambridge, Mass., and convince them that we raise 'em

It's a funny thing but a guy never needs a vaction so much as he does after he has had one. You're telling me.

Canada is planning on stocking one of their provinces with Russian Grouse right from Siberia. long and handsome.

Speaking of foxes my neighbor, Fred H. Tarbell saw a pure black one a few days ago at his apple orchard near the Wilton-Lyndeboro line. Also another neighbor, Mr. Curtiss (he spells it with two ss) saw a huge red fox one day this week with a pure black tail, a small patch of white on the tip end of same.

The other day I ran in to call on Lyman Chandler of Main street and he told me a real snake story. Some years ago he saw three huge black snakes, one had a white ring around its neck and the other two had yellow rings. Later the one with the white ring was killed and he was well over six feet in length. The other two that got away he knew were much larger than the one killed. Mr. Chandler had several people who saw the three snakes sleeping on a warm rock.

That black panther that was seen three times in Wilton and twice in Greenfield has now showed up again in Hillsboro. We are just as well pleased that he has gone back to his old stamping grounds in Hillsboro.

Mrs. Charles Carter of Hillsboro hands us an idea to keep deer and other birds and animals out of the gardens. Just mix some red pepper and rotonone, sprinkle on your beets and carrots and the deer will let them alone. Thanks for the tip.

The people living near the proposed big dam on the Contoocook river are all haired up and are sure doing something about it.

Dumping rubbish beside the road and into a brook is against the law and there is plenty of law to take care of this outrage. Every town has a good dump and that's the place for it. Let's keep our highways clean.

A dog running the streets without a collar is running the same risk that a man would that ran his car without plates. If you think anything of your dog put a collar on with his license tag. Collarless dogs are going to be picked up and taken care of.

Ed., and J. E. Cunningham of the Herd Register. The N. H. Dept. of Agriculture was represented by Andrew W. Felker, Commissioner, and Dr. R. W. Smith, State Veterinarian. Another notable spectator was Mayor Charles McKee of Concord.

There was an excellent showing of good cattle and competition was keen. In addition to other prizes the coveted Silver Cup for the best Get of Sire was won by Mr. Wm. Niedners entries, who retains permanent possession of it having won it three years in succession. Another Silver Cup won by the Rosewald entries was for the best three uddered cows in the show. Also going to Rosewald was 1st prize two year old cow, Junior and Grand Champion bull. Mrs. Helen Dodds of Rosewald took first prize for showmanship in the Woman's class. Wm. K. Hepburn of Langwater Farm, North Easton, Mass., was the official judge. The animals were shown under a forty by eighty foot tent.

Special attendance prizes given by President Wm. Niedner to the lucky ticket holders was a beautiful wrist watch won by Elaine Browning of Laconia, N. H., and gent's watch won by A. J. Young of Dover, N. H.

A delicious lunch of baked ham and egg salad, desert and coffee was served to 36 people in the house. Tables were set up in the garage and sandwiches, dessert and coffee were served to 400 or more. The day ended with a tour of Rosewald Farms. Great interest was shown in the beautiful barns.

portant events that I wanted to take in. Profile Kennel Club outing at Derry, Lone Pine Hunters' Club Clam Bake outing at Nashua and the Clam dinner at Townsend, Mass., by the Townsend Club. Was off all last week so had to work over time to catch up.

A large hound dog with plenty of white on his neck with four white feet and a black body is chasing deer on Abbott Hill. The owner will do well to keep this dog tied till the law says he can run. Some day he will turn up missing. The citizens on that hill like to sleep and they don't like to see a dog chasing a doe and two small fawns.

Several semi-wild house cats have been brought into me the past week looking for the bounty. It's true they are wild cats but they are not bob cats. One of them weighed in at 11 lbs. They were shot miles from any house. House cats gone wild. Sorry we could not pay the 20 bucks.

Don't forget the Horse Show at the Austin Farm at West Wilton on Labor Day. You horsey folks will enjoy this event.

Another party going back to the grind. Had a stray cat come to them this summer and now they have more cats. If no Humane Society near you drop the cats into me as you go back to the city. That's much better than leaving them to feed on our bird life.

nurse, is on her vacation all the month of September. Her vacation will take her to St. Hyacinthe, P. Q., Canada, where she will visit her brother, Arthur J. La Plant.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Coad have recently purchased a new home in No. Abington, Mass., with which they seem well pleased. Their son Leslie will be only two miles from them when they occupy the new home. Miss Bernice Coad has a good office position in Springfield, Mass.

Miss Olive Colby of Boston is spending this week with her father Alton Colby. Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Colby are away for the week on vacation.

Mrs. Louis Cutter has been in the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital since last week Tuesday when she underwent an operation. Mrs. Cutter is improving.

Norman and Elmore Basse have purchased the garage on the flat from Edward Fleming and will take over Labor Day.
