Providence River oysters will hereafter be found every Saturday noon at Harrington & Kibbey's.

Next season promises to be a very busy one in Antrim, and it is probable that building operations will even be more extensive than those of this year.

Chas. Richardson will remove next Monday to M. D. Poor's tenement, recently vacated by the Crowell family. James Merrill removed last week from the N. C. Jameson tenement and it will soon be occupied by other parties, the names of whom we have not learned.

Miss Clara Fuller of So. Lyndeboro has entered the employ of the Goodell Company.

Dr. I. G. Anthonie will become a resident of Nashua Nov. 1st, and will commence practice there at that time. Dr. F. H. Warner of Monterey, Mass. is to be his successor, and will come to us bearing very high recommendations as an experienced physician and surgeon of years standing. Dr. Anthonie will attend to his patients in Antrim and vicinity up to that time. Rev. W. R. Cochrane takes possession of his newly acquired property on the above date.

The ladies of the Home Circle of No. Branch will give their annual harvest supper at the chapel, on Tuesday evening next. Fun, mirth and amusement will be the general order of things at that time, and everybody is cordially invited. There will be a potato race during the evening. Admission only 25 cents, and this includes a splendid supper. A good barge load should go from the South part of the town.

There were seven applicants in one day last week for a tenement which had just been vacated, and several more appeared subsequently. This is only one instance of the great need of tenements here.

Praise is heard on all sides of the electric light system in this place. The Baptist church will be lighted by electricity Sunday evening, and Patney & Little, Harrington & Kibbey, Geo. Wilson, E. C. Goodwin, F. F. Roach and others will soon fall into line. The reading room is all wired, and any one who has an idea that they are not a fine thing will do well to call at our stationery department, the store of John Balch or Antrim's model post office, or go through the extensive Goodell Co's works of an evening, and inspect them to their own satisfaction.

A system of water works is being put in by the Goodell Company for the lower shops. We learn there will be three hydrants at all angles building, one at the saw mill and one near the "cucumber" shop. The other departments are already supplied. Excavating and pipe laying has been in progress for several days.

The Antrim Brass Band gave a most successful and enjoyable promenade last Thursday evening at the town hall, the attendance being large. Everybody seemed to have a good time, and the boys are to be congratulated upon the evening's entertainment.

Improvements are being rapidly pushed forward on the Goodell tenements, and those who are to occupy the south side of what was formerly known as the Whitman House, expect to move there in the course of a few weeks.

Mechanics Military Band will give their first concert of the fall and winter season, at Carter House Hall, on Thursday evening, instead of Wednesday evening of this week, as announced in last issue. The entertainment promises to be a good one, and everybody is invited. Dancing after entertainment with music by Mechanics Orchestra. Remember that Mr. C. H. Adkins, the soloist and novelty instrumentalist will appear on that evening. Admission to hall, 15 cents, dancing 35 cents.

We wish to call special attention to our beautiful and extensive line of cards, ball folders and wedding cabinets for 1893, just received in our stationery department. These are well worth the time and attention of those needing them, and are, we believe, the finest in workmanship ever seen in this office. The books are now open, and we invite any and all to inspect the elegant samples, whether purchasers or not.

All those indebted to Dr. Anthonie are kindly requested to make a settlement of their accounts before Nov. 1st.

The colorings of the trees are beautiful this year, and are admired by everybody. Especially is it a beautiful sight to look down Main street from the churches—a picture worthy of a painter's brush.

Hortace Atwood died very suddenly, Friday night, Sept. 25th at the residence of Nelson St. Sauveur, aged 78 years, 2 months, 8 days. He has for many years been a great sufferer from heart disease, and his friends, upon going to his room late in the evening, found that his spirit had just taken its flight to the better land. He had been a consistent Christian for some 50 years, and during that time he did all the good his limited means would allow. He was a man of great generosity, and was ever willing to lend a helping hand to those who were in need. He has gone home to his reward in heaven.

Stephen Gooke has proved himself quite a gardener this season, especially in the raising of radishes, one which has been placed in our sanctum this week measuring 18 inches in length, and 7 inches in circumference.

In accordance with the President's proclamation and that of the Governor of the State, Antrim public schools in connection with the Grand Army and citizens, will celebrate Columbus Day Oct. 21st. The official program with some additions will be carried out as follows: At 9 o'clock A. M. the scholars and teachers of divisions 2, 3, 5 and 7 will assemble at the school rooms at the centre. At 9:30 the Antrim Brass Band, G. A. R. Post and citizens will be met at the entrance of the school yard by the schools, and escorted to the flag staff, where the American flag will be raised, and after cheers and a salute, and singing of America led by the band, all will march to the town hall, where speaking by the scholars, remarks, singing and a short address by Dr. Cochrane will be enjoyed, after which dinner will be served.

At 1 P. M. the same official program will be carried out at the south village schools in divisions 1 and 4 uniting. After the flag raising, a line of march will be taken up Main street, down Elm, up Concord to Main, down Main to the post-office and return to the Baptist church where singing, speaking etc. will be the order, several citizens participating.

In the evening there will be a grand band concert and promenade at town hall, Antrim centre.

Every scholar is expected to be in the school room at the appointed time and place, and answer to the roll call just as much as on any other day, and will be marked absent unless previously excused for good reasons. Official badges for scholars and teachers will be distributed free at J. A. Balch's store on the day previous to the celebration—Oct. 20th.

Miss Mary Butler is visiting in Manchester.

Ladies Aid Society connected with the M. E. church, will meet with Mrs. I. G. Anthonie on Friday evening. Gentlemen invited to tea.

John Balch makes an important announcement relative to the official badge on Columbus Day, in his advertising space. Be sure and read it.

N. J. Morse will appear as drum major for the Antrim Brass Band on Columbus Day, a handsome drum major's hat and baton having arrived from Boston for him, last week.

Our Ass's Postmaster has proved himself within the past few days, an adept in the handling of a buck-saw. His ability in this line has been well tested, and from this time all orders either by mail or otherwise will receive his prompt attention. Orders delivered personally may be left on the north side of the post office until the mercury reaches zero, when they may be left at the office of E. W. Baker. Owing to the conscientious manner in which William does all his work, the management have decided his prices shall be quoted as follows: 75 cents per cut for sawing and 75 cents per cord for splitting. All orders brought him before cold weather will be worthily bestowed.

Come one, come all, give William a call, and get your wood sawed up this Fall. Cold weather is coming, and he is spry, hurry along your orders and to please you'll try.

Work upon the large new Presbyterian Church is progressing very rapidly, and the slaters arrived last week. When finished, it will eclipse anything in this section as to beauty, both inside and outside, and size.

Married in Antrim, October 6, by Rev. W. R. Cochrane, D. D., Mr. George H. Maxwell of Bennington, and Miss Mary E. Brooks of Antrim.

The barber shop of Geo. Wilson has been papered on walls and ceiling this week, with very neat and tasty designs, and other improvements are soon to be made.

Chas. H. Bass lost a horse by colic about 3 o'clock Monday morning.

Patronize first-class entertainments when they are here, and you'll have the privilege of attending more of them during the year.

Another lot of blank books and miscellaneous articles in the stationery line, have arrived at Barron's stationery store.

Lots of apples hereabouts, and apple picking has been in order for some time past.

The comfortable seating capacity of the new Old Fellows hall, has been found to be over 300 people.

Girls wanted at Goodell Company's office. See advertisement.

Resolutions of Respect appear in this issue upon the death of Mrs. Mary Holmes.

Admission every department of the fair on 25 cents. Tickets are good going October 18th, and returning not later than the 21st.

Mrs. Wm. Tuttle returned last week from Madison.

1492. COLUMBUS DAY. 1892.

THE OFFICIAL BADGE

Columbian School Celebration.

To be distributed free of charge to every Scholar and Teacher of the Antrim schools, now on exhibition in our window, together with the official programme and an oleograph reproduction of the celebrated oil painting representing Columbus at the Royal Court of Spain, by the Bohemian artist Vaeslay Brozik.

The mammoth four column advertisement of Kimball & Roach which appears in today's paper and will appear in subsequent issues of the Reporter, is well worthy the consideration and careful attention of buyers. This firm has become very popular throughout this section for the fairness, honesty and impartiality of their dealings with the public, and the quality of their goods, with the prices, have given the House a reputation which has made it a great centre of trade with the people of Hillsboro and surrounding towns. Their prices are always as low and often much lower than city prices, and the quality of their goods are what they are represented to be, every time they are offering some great bargains.

The first instant at 5 o'clock P. M. the Republicans swore to the breezy flag bearing the portraits of Harrison & Reid with cheers from those present and music by the concert band those present were apparently in the best spirits. Ere many hours had passed away there came a crash, and lot one of the tall majestic flag poles lay prostrate in the street. Naturally the query with some of the opposite elements was, "Is it typical of defeat in November?" Moral: Let each one look well to the soundness of their political principles and to the soundness of their flag poles.

The building formerly occupied as a barber shop has been rented for a Peoples' reading room during this present month. The room will be open Wednesday and Saturday evening when all will be welcome to come in, read and investigate.

D. S. Henderson, while painting a building in Greenfield last week, had the misfortune to fall a distance of ten or twelve feet, receiving several bruises and laming his right arm. He laid by for repairs one day only.

The first item in locals of last issue was somewhat misleading. It is Miss Dickey who is teaching one of Antrim's public schools instead of Mrs. Dickey. Mrs. Dickey came here with the intention of opening dressmaking rooms, and will do a limited amount at residence on Wallace street for the present.

Hancock. Hon. H. W. Parker of Claremont, and James F. Brennan of Peterboro', will be at Hancock, Friday evening of this week, and will address the people of this town and vicinity at the town hall on the political issues of the day.

We are sorry to learn that Joshua L. Lakin who has been sick for several weeks is gradually failing, and is expected to live but a few days.

Frank Lee and wife of Cambridge, Mass. and a friend of theirs, visited at Charles Lee's last week.

The Democrats had their caucus last Saturday to nominate town officers. The Republicans have one Saturday of this week.
