The high school closes Friday. Examination in the afternoon. Parents and friends of the pupils are expected to be present.

Mr. Rayner, who has charge of the water-way to the pen-stock of the cutlery works, took from the flume last week a number of live pickers.

We were in error last week in reporting N. W. C. Jameson as being ill in New York. N. C., his son, was the party in question.

Somersworth has at last received its charter to become a city. New Hampshire has now on its roster eight of these municipal governments.

The Epworth League will hold a sociable in the M. E. church, Friday evening March 3d. Cake and ice cream will be served. All are cordially invited.

The governor and council have appointed Fred Gowing of Nashua, to be state superintendent of public instruction, to succeed Hon. J. W. Patterson.

O. C. Moore, editor of the Nashua Telegraph, has returned to his home from the hospital at Philadelphia where he has been for some few months. His health is somewhat improved, but he has practically lost the use of his limbs.

It has been an appropriate season the past week to appreciate the sentiment expressed by the poet when he gave those lines entitled, "Beautiful Snow", a contribution to literature. It is not only beautiful, but just at this time, rather bountiful.

It is probable, in view of the important measures to be acted upon in the average March meeting that the orators are preparing themselves for the discussion of town affairs. A New England Town Meeting is an institution that should engage the attention of all the citizens of the town.

Notwithstanding the fact that a large number of measures for the public need are being passed upon by the law makers at Concord there appears just below the surface a political undercurrent that steps in and shapes various matters in some of the municipal governments. The question arises, is it good politics?

The sidewalks, yards and driveways along the street present a novel appearance. The snow shovel has been a busy agent in the manipulation of these temporary baracades, caused by drifting snows. In front of many of the residences the piles of snow almost obscure the windows of the ground floor, while the store fronts are nearly hid by huge walls of shoveled snow.

Lycium exercises were held at the High School room last Friday evening. The prominent feature of the evening was the debate on the following question: "Resolved that Western Farmers are more prosperous than Eastern Farmers." The affirmative was taken by Belle Forsaith and Benj. Cochrane; the negative by Grace Herrick and Myrtle Cooley, while Dr. Cooley closed the debate in the Negative and Mr. Henry Hall in the affirmative. The evening program was made up of interesting essays, declamations, etc.

Six of these gentlemen are lawyers, one a banker and street car president, the other a journalist and a farmer.

Goodell Division, S. of T.

A division of the Sons of Temperance was organized at the M. E. Church last Friday evening. They have adopted the designation of Goodell Division, No. 7. The following is a list of officers:— W. H. Pickard, Royal Patriarch; Mary F. Jackson, Recording Scribe; Edwin J. Whittemore, Financial Scribe; Mrs. James Greene, Treasurer; Rev. M. T. Cilley, Chaplain; George Perkins, Conductor; Mrs. James Ashford, Asst. Conductor; Carlton W. Perkins, Inside Sentinel; James Ashford, Outside Sentinel. It is understood that the regular meetings will be held on the first and third Wednesday evenings of each month. The permanent place of meeting has not yet been decided upon, but this week the session will be held in G. A. R. hall. Those who join this Wednesday evening can do so as charter members. This division has been organized and officers installed by Mr. Dolly of Danbury, who is deputy of the Grand Lodge.

The Warrant.

The selectmen have officially posted their warrants notifying the people of the town qualified to vote in town affairs to meet at the town house on Tuesday, the 14th day of March, to act upon twelve articles of town business, which comprise among other things to be done the following: To choose town officers for the year ensuing, and to hear the report of those who have wielded the affairs of the town for the year that has passed. To see if the town will make use of the new ballot system in the election of town officers, also to see if the town will vote to have their real-estate re-appraised by the selectmen this year. The last subject to be taken up, is in relation to the building of a town house in South village.

The party who brings the Sunday papers from Greenfield, noted the fact that the roads in this vicinity were the best of any on his route. Outside the village however, they are not in so good condition. One of the physicians, Dr. Warner, on his way to Stoddard, found the road so badly drifted in on Monday that he was obliged to unhitch, turn about and come home. Those who are acquainted with the highways in the outskirts claim that they are in a much worse condition now, or since the great storm, than they were five years ago.

The inauguration of Mr. Cleveland as President of the United States takes place on Saturday. It will be a gala day in Washington, although attended with uncertainties as far as the weather is concerned. There will be a great rush of people from all parts of the country to witness and be present at the demonstration, not a few of these however will have a double motive in going to the capitol of the nation just at this time, for there are a large number of willing candidates for the many offices that are within the gift of the executive.

A new device, designed for the illumination of public buildings and called the Bailey reflector, has been placed in position inside the auditorium of the Presbyterian church. It was made use of for the first time last Thursday evening. It is very unique in appearance and when properly adjusted will no doubt furnish the required amount of artificial light. In case it should prove inadequate for the church something different will be substituted.

It was something of a calker, but none the less true. A party down in Mass., opened a tea store and at the same time became enthusiastic in the temperance movement. One evening while he was acting as president of a temperance meeting his place of business was searched and a large quantity of whiskey was found on sale.

It will not be long before it will be time to hang up the sap buckets. The bounty on sugar ought to stimulate the old rock maples to yield a bounteous supply these days, that is, "if they are in it."

The funeral services of Mrs. Mary Abbie Buchanan, took place at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Nancy Jameson, on Friday last. Rev. W. R. Cochrane, D. D., officiated. Burial was at Maplewood cemetery.

The Epworth League is one of the strongest religious organizations in the country. It has 9400 chapters and 650,000 members, beside 1250 junior chapters with a membership of 60,000.

Mrs. N. C. Jameson and daughter Isabel arrived home from New York Tuesday night. Mr. Jameson will follow later; will probably be home to attend the annual meeting.

The two little girls, daughters of Elmer Buchanan, have gone to the home of his brother, Forest Buchanan at Peterboro, where they will be cared for, for the present.

Dr. I. G. Antoine of Nashua, formerly of this place, was called to consult with Dr. Loveland of Bennington last Monday.

The mercury at 7 A. M. on Tuesday was at zero, five hours later it was at 40 above. How is that for weather?

Arthur Kibbey of Newport won the Demorest silver medal at the prize speaking at that place Feb. 8th.

New Superintendent.

It is reported that superintendent Garvin of the County Farm, has tendered his resignation, and will retire from the position he has so efficiently filled, on or about the first of April. He, as superintendent, and Mrs. Garvin as matron, have been worthy officials and have always held the confidence of the county commissioners. It is understood that a Mr. Libbey and wife of Orford, will succeed to the positions held by their predecessors. It is probable that this institution is managed with due regard to the interests of all concerned, as much so as any in the state.

We have within the last few days sent out to our subscribers a considerable number of statements of their indebtedness. This is purely a business operation and should not be considered in any other light. The plain facts are that these several amounts aggregate to quite a sum and in this, as in every other newspaper establishment that depends upon its receipts to prosecute its business, they are the necessary resources depended upon for that purpose. Those of our friends to whom these missives have been directed can and as very materially just at this time by an early remittance. Put yourself in our place and we venture the assertion that you would do the very same thing.

It seems hardly possible that a condition of affairs such as is indicated by the investigation of the Dorer insane asylum could have existed anywhere in this state or any other. The parties involved in that affair are little less than criminals and should be so treated.

In regard to this matter, Attorney General Eastman said recently: "I guess it was a drunken state of affairs there and we shall go to the bottom of it. There is no doubt but that we shall fix the cause of the fire and be able to show that, had proper work been done after the fire was discovered, it would have been extinguished without loss of life."

Dr. Watson of the state board says he will take up and investigate the charges of immorality which are rife, and learn, if possible, the condition of affairs at the asylum.

Mrs. Charles Coole died at East Washington Feb. 15. The funeral services were held in the M. E. church, Antrim, Friday, Feb. 17th, Rev. W. R. Cochrane, D. D., officiating. She leaves a son, Arthur Coole, living in East Washington. The body was laid at rest in Maplewood cemetery. The singers were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Little, Mrs. John Anderson, Mr. Charles Kibbey.

Two days more only of Republican national administration, as on and after Saturday the policy of the government passes under Democratic control. May success attend their efforts and the peace and prosperity enjoyed in years past be vouchsafed to all the people. There is every indication that it will be.

Their catalogue of choice seeds specially adapted to our latitude and climate is sent free to all applicants.

ANTRIM CENTRE.

The ventry at the Centre, has scarce sufficed for the members gathered there; in response to the well directed efforts of those who have the conduct of preaching in their charge. While deprecating the circumstances which have brought about this new arrangement, our western and centre townsmen feel pleased at the successful advent of mission preachers near their homes and at the demonstrated efficiency of their own concerted and conscientious action. Having arranged for a continuation of their meetings they extend a cordial invitation to all who can attend, either at church, or Sunday school, or at the evening meeting. On the 19th of Feb., they listened to Rev. O. M. Lord of Deerfield, N. H., who preached from Luke 24:21. On the 26th, Rev. L. M. Morey of Lowell held with ease the rapt attention of a meeting which, in spite of the unsatisfactory state of the roads numbered over 100. Around Proverbs, 29:18, he drew a tasteful and happy garment, redolent of the vision which, preceding and glorifying action, forms the sublime forceful attribute of the mind.

Reputation is a great thing in the commercial world. The reputation of being able to do something or make something better than anybody else, is a sure sign of future success, however slow it may be in coming. We suppose other firms could make as good as the Chilton Paints, if they would take the same trouble and go to the same expense. But seemingly they do not think it worth while. Other firms turn out as much, and more paint in a year as we do, but they don't turn out as good. We concentrate our energies first on the quality, the output is sure to increase later. We make a pure linseed oil paint. We guarantee it to be more durable, and to cover more surface than any other paint made. Its excess of cost over others is far less than its excess of quality. Look for yourself at some of the buildings covered with Chilton Paints. Ask the owners about it. Invest fifteen cents in a pound can and see for yourself.

Sold by H. P. Kimball.

FRANCESTOWN.
The town warrant is posted which reminds us that the March election is near. The warrant asks for an appropriation of $250 to build a road to Mt. Crochet which seems to be a very insignificant sum for such a commendable enterprise. One that if properly carried out would be a fruitful source of ever increasing wealth to the town. We must make our town a magnet. Our salvation as a town will depend on our power to attract. The warrant mentions the sinking of a public well on the common, which seems more than folly, when on high ground and within a short distance of the village there are two never failing springs of the purest of water. One of those springs is already tapped and supplies more than half of the village with running water. The other spring should be utilized by the town or some private party, as it would be a paying investment. The drying, aggravating watering trough could then be well supplied and a public fountain beside, in which to sport gold fish and reflect the beauty of the admirer. Strike while the iron is hot. This time while the water pipes are frozen and the people know the value of plenty of good water by turning the faucet and attaching the hose—a hint to our fire department. The warrant further states to see what the town will do in reference to buying the building owned by Rev. A. C. Hurd for a public library and reading room. The property is cheap, well located and at small expense could be fitted up for such a commendable purpose. The present library is far too small for a reading room. A golden opportunity is offered—one of a life time and should not be allowed to pass unimproved.
Rev. A. J. Abbott of the Unitarian church will take his annual vacation during the month of March. The announcement was made from the pulpit last Sunday morning. He will spend some time with his son in Boston. Also with his second son, recently settled over the Unitarian church at Chicopee, Mass.
Rev. McDonald of Hanover, preached at the Congregational church last Sunday. That church has not secured a pastor yet.
The subject of the discourse at the Unitarian church Sunday morning was "The Unwritten Word of God." Evening. "The Day of Burning."

[Received too late for last issue.]
The farce of pickles given at the town hall on Wednesday evening by the young ladies of the Academy, and the masked backward dance that followed was highly appreciated by a large audience. The sociable and ice cream that followed made the evening replete with refinement, pleasure and good taste.
Mrs. Mary Eaton, aged ninety years and two months, died at her daughter's, Eliza Presbys in Francestown, on the fifteenth. Mother Eaton raised a family of six children, four still survive, two sons and two daughters. The funeral took place at Mrs. Presbys Friday at three o'clock p. m., conducted by Rev. A. J. Abbott, pastor of the Unitarian church. The music was in charge of Geo. E. Downer. Interment at Nashua.

These is talk of a soldiers monument being erected on the common at no distant day. Our towns-men are just patriotic and enterprising enough to do such a commendable work.
The post-poned sleigh party to Hancock, took place on Friday evening. There were twenty three couples and a half. The party were feasted on turkey and entertained in good modern style at the Furthest House, where the genial landlord, good cooks and accomplished waiters deserve more than a passing notice. The Barnea Orchestra furnished the music, while the party kept good time by most graceful motion.

Business of all kinds except fire making and storm gazing was at a standstill on Monday in our electric village. No schools opened during the day. None but the doctor and the milk-men have credit for bravery enough to face the storm.
A petition to congress will be found at the post-office, awaiting the signatures of all voters who desire to have the telegraph and telephone added to our excellent postal system.
Another petition will be presented to the legislature, favoring the extension of railroad connection with Francestown. There are other enterprises in the public atmosphere of our own that will come to the front soon.

DO YOU WANT TO ADOPT A BABY?
Maybe you think this is a new business, sending out babies on application: It has been done before, however, but never have those furnished been so near the original sample as this one. Everyone will exclaim "What that's the sweetest baby I ever saw!" This little black-and-white engraving can give you a fair idea of the exquisite original.

"I'M A BABY!"
which we propose to send to you, transportation paid. The little darling rests against a pillow, and is in the act of drawing out its pink sock, the mate of which has been pulled off, and hung up to dry. The baby's eyes follow you, no matter where you stand. The exquisite reproduction of this great picture by Ida Waugh (the most celebrated of modern picture artists) is to be given to those who subscribe to Demorest's Family Magazine for 1893. The reproduction cannot be told from the original, which cost $50, and the same also illustrated. We have also in preparation, to present to our subscribers during 1893, other great pictures by such artists as Jerry Moran, Maud Humphrey, and others of like merit. The year is now almost over. Take only two examples of what we had during the Christmas season. The "Baby" and "A White House Child" by the wife of President Harrison, and you will see what our pictures are worth.
