WONDERFUL WINTERGREEN RHEUMATIC REMEDY.

WORTH READING

Dear Sir -- I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism for twenty-five years. Two years since, while suffering from a severe ttack of Sciatica, I learned of the "Wonderful Wintergreen," and found entire relief which I believe to be permanent. Scores of people in this vicinity have been entirely curred by this medicine, and speak of it as a boost wonderful regard. Most wonderful remedy.

Is the best 5 cent soap in the World, as one trial will demonstrate. It is the result of twenty-seven years of experience in the manufacture of the old and well-known Dobbins' ELECTRIC SOAP, during which time we have been studying and learning how to put the most value into a bar of soap, while others have been experimenting as to how much they could reduce cost and with it, as a matter of course, value.

May First.

One sadly solemn thought Comes to us day by day; We're one day nearer cleaning-house time The dreadful first of May.

Gov. Smith has issued his annual proclamation for Arbor Day, setting house on West St. is up and boarded aside Wednesday, May 9, to be observed as such.

. It is said that the coupon craze has reached such a point that a western dentist offered certain "parts" to patrons who would have teeth extracted by him. What will come next?

An exchange has it thus: "A wood yard would be more effective in than the militia, in dispersing Coxey's Army." And also says: "We shall have a good many generals after this, all honorable titles, of course, with Coxey as the commander in chief."

Senator George has introduced a bill to reduce the salary of all government officials twenty per cent. This, if enacted, will reduce Mr. George's salary one thousand dollars. The most of these government officials can afford to have a reduction in salary; much more so than the average workingman who is compelled to take

The chapter of crime in all parts of the country seems to be on the increase. Burglaries without number are being committed with great frequency. It will be well for people and communities to use extra caution and foresight to guard against deeds of this nature as summer approaches. The transfer of valuables to safer places should be considered at an early date.

A distinguished speaker made use of the following language in Boston one evening last week while discoursing upon the condition of the country: "Look around you to-night. Take a survey of existing conditions and tell us what you see. Industries depressed, capital uninvested, trade at a standstill, idle men and starving women and children. Listen to the bytery to attend the General Assembly ominous tramp, tramp, of the armies from many and varied quarters in their march to the national capitol. I care nothing about the wisdom or the folly of their crusade—the burning fact to me is, they are on the march." The following was his definition of idleness: "Social order knows no foe like idleness. Idleness makes honest men bitter and wicked men bold. It sows the seeds of new for dry roods, groceries, curpets, of those alread; sown."

nally set apart by legislative enactment as a holiday, to be observed with fitting ceremonies to the memory of deceased soldiers; but the rising generation is breaking away from the original design of the day and sports of all kinds are indulged in. In one of the large cries of the state a mass bicycle convention will be held, other places horse trots will be in order, while base ball will find audiences in numerous towns and villages. The character and impressiveness of the ceremonies are such that it seems as though the original intention of the day should not be departed from, doubtless it will be in some degree, for the reason that the generation that has come upon the stage look upon the subject as a matter of history only. It has been suggested in some places that it would be more in keeping with the sentiment of the day if the coremonies were held on Sunday.

The tramp armies in different parts of the country employ different methods temore of procedure as they persue their journey toward Washington. Those from the extreme west capture railroad trains and overpower local authorities, and the state militia is called in requisition and the belligerents are brought to terms. The Eastern armies are more pacific in their deportment, and up to date have not materially disturbed the peace of the public. They have requested food and shelter, and in most cases their desires in this direction have been complied with in a liberal manner. In some large towns and cities the authorities have not objected to them passing through and even have permitted them to hold meetings. The wisest course seems to be to accord these people privileges | model of which is used in its construcin common with other citizens, so long as they do not commit acts against the as they adhere to this mode of conduct | $400. A during case of burglary and arson was perpetrated in Denvers and Peabody, Mass. One house, a barn and two sheds were totally destroyed and another house badly damaged over $4,000 worth of property going up in smoke to conceal the larceny of ome silver knivesend forks and $25 The incendiary also attempted to rob another house. The facts, as far as a secretified, are as follows: Shortly after 2 o'clock a. m., the Danvers thre department was called to Lafayour's point, and on its arrival found the house owned by Frank Watson and his son J. C.

Watson, a mass of flumes. The barn and two sheds, also, had all been consumed. The firemen worked on the flames nearly two hours before extinguishing them, and as they were about to return to their quarters s were seen issuing from the house or the Gardiner estate in Penbody, near the Dan-yers line. The Danvers fremen immediately went to work to quench that fire, and, an alarm being sounded in Peabody, the two departments worked together and saved the shell of the old structure.

This estate is owned by the Gardiner heirs, and is occupied by the family of James H. Douglass, a traveiling salesman, It is claimed that the supposed incohding was seen about the place during the fire, but before the attention of the police was called to him be had left, going toward Peabody.

Mrs. Douglass, after the fire, found several silver knives and forks were missing. One fork has been broken to see if it was silver, and left on the table. Mrs. Douglass could not give much description of the man who collered her room. He wore a cap, and the collar of his con was burned up so that she could not see his face. He was of medium. The Douglass family had no insurance on their furniture, but the Gardiner heirs had enough to cover the damage to the house.

The Extensive Strike of the Coal Miners.

Operators Have Called for a Conference of the Bosses.

The Chicago Herald says that secret conferences of operators in the Illinois and Indiana coal fields, and Western representawere held in Chicago, looking to the settle-ment in the near future of the great coal miner's strikes. The result of the confer-ences was that a call was sent out for a conference of the besses at giny point they would be willing to meet. The conference, the Herald says, is likely to be held at Pittsburg, although Columbus may be chosen. James W. Ellsworth, one of those who attended the conferences, said he believed the strike would be of short duration, and that a proposition would be soon submitted to the miners that would be acceptable to them.

A majority of the miners at Toluca, Ill., are determined to work regardless of the wisher of the Spring Valley, La Salle and Streator strikers. At a meeting all but 45 of the white men and all the colored men decided to retarii to their labors. President Devlin as-sured the men that the company would de-everything in its power for their protection. Acting Governor Gill promised that he would call out an armed force if the miners at this place were interfered with.

The village of Townshend, Vt., was visited by a disastrons fire which nearly wiped out the business centre, besides destroying the Baptist Church, Leland & Gray Seminary, togother with a number of dwellings. The fire started in Mrs. Sarah Wilson's barn on the east side of the common. The wind was blowing hard at the time, and the flames quickly spread to the horse-sheds of the Bapfist church and thence to the church liself. The village being without fire apparatus assistance was asked from Brattleboro, and a special train with a steamer and about thirty-five men started for the scene, the run being made in little more than an hour

The fire spread rapidly, and in two hours the seminary, William Holland's store, the hotel belonging to the Thomas Evans estate, together with the connecting barns, Silas Clark's dwelling, together with his drug store, Mrs. Blue Swan's dwelling and Mrs. Sa-lina Powers' brick dwelling had been burned. When the steamer arrived the flames had been arrested, and the steamer had only to play on the ruins. The burned district covers about 120 rods, and the loss is estimated at $40,000; partly insured. The Baptist Church was built in 1838, and was valued at about $4,000; insured for $3,000. The seminery was built in 1835, and was a substantial brick of Jackson, N. C., who says: "I had been troubled with skin disease all my life. As I grew older the disease seemed to be taking a stronger hold upon me. I tried many advertised remedies with no benefit, until I was led to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When I began taking it my health was very poor: in fact, several persons have since told me that they thought I had the consumption. I weighed only about 125 pounds. The cruption on my skin was accompanied by severe itching. It was first confined to my face, but afterwards spread over the neck and head, and the itching became simply unbrarable. This was my condition when I began taking the 'Discovery.' When I would rub the parts affected a kind of branny scale would fall of.

For a while I saw no change or benefit from taking the 'Discovery,' but I persisted in its use, keeping my bowels open by taking Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and taking as much outdoor exercise as was possible, until I began to gain in flesh, and gradually the disease released its hold. I took during the year somewhere from fifteen to eighteen bottles of the 'Discovery.' It has now been four years since I first used it, and though not using scarcely any since the first year, my health continues good. My average weight being 155 to 160 pounds, instead of 125, as it was when I began the use of the 'Discovery.' Many persons have reminded me of my improved appearance. Some say I look younger than I did six years ago when I was married. I am now forty eight years old, and stronger, and enjoy better health than I have over done before in my life."

Thousands bear testimony, in equally strong terms, to the efficacy of this wonderful remedy in curing the most obstinate discusses. It rouses every organ into healthy action, puri-fles, vitalizes and enriches the blood, and, through it, cleanses and renews the whole system. All blood, skin, and scalp diseases, from a common blotch, or cruption, to the worst scrofula are cured by it. For tetter, worst scroum, aczema, crysipelas, boils, carbuncles, gottre, or thick neck, and enlarged glands and swellings, it is an unequaled remedy. Virulent, contagious, blood poison is robbed of its terrors by the "Discovery" is robbed of its terrors by the "Discovery" and by its persevering use the most tainled system respected and built up ones.
