GOING ABOARD.

The other shore—she sails to that
And leaves me here alone to wait
Till I can see her face again
Slip down my cheek. Another dear, However, will be left me at

The old stand, and I hang my hat
Up until she comes, when I
I much rejoice. Betimes, I fear
The other shore.

Ah, me, I talk but through my hat
And begin to talk like the old
And still I have a doubt and fear,
And hope presents but little cheer,
Yet if I'm left I'll wait for thee

THE RAY'S WORK.

Of all the beautiful things in this beautiful world there was none that the little ray loved so well as the summer

sea. He and his comrades would play

by the hour together with the rippling

waves, darting from one to another

in dazling, mad flashes of light, spreading themselves over the waters, a sheet of molten gold, till a touch of the white light broke it up into thousand and shimmering fragments. And the waves loved their playmates, too, and

each, as the rays kissed it, became itself

a little golden sun, sending forth its light into the radiant air, for the sea, like a flicker, lovable woman, answers back to all in their own words and is loved just because she cannot be trusted. Then,

where the waves broke on the golden

sands or round the clean, dark rocks,

the little rays would find their foam with light till it shone more brightly white

than the Jungfrau's crest, and then the

of the waves would be a joy song for their own loveliness. Laughing, they ran up the smooth sand and embraced

with teasing play the small pink feet

which scampered away before them,

while the sun's rays flashed from their surface to meet the little, lighter still,

which shone from the children's eyes. Oh,

these were happy days, and as the little ray danced along over the waters he hoped that they never might end.

But a time came when the voice of the wind sounded from afar. The sea

heard it and was troubled to its depths

at the new life of power and strength which was tearing within it, while the waves far and wide raised their tiny crests, and in ripples of white foam whispered the news one to another. The clouds, too, heard the voice and gathered together at its bidding, to spread themselves a thick, dark curtain over the sea and hide from the sun's face

the things which were to be. And so the little ray could visit the sea no longer nor join any more in sport with his favorite playmates. At this his heart was broken, and he took no re-

light in the other pleasures to which his comrades called him. They told him of the wild games they played with the wind shaken leaves of the forest; of the snow cold peaks which they crowned with dazling splendor; of the joy of the sun's rays which they loved so well;

of the most beautiful things of the world's most beautiful things. But it was all in vain. The little ray longed for his lost playmates and would care

for none of these things.

As he wandered sadly among the heavy, driving clouds, losing himself in their sullen masses, searching for some crevice through which he might

[For the Reporter].
Stephen K. Wescott
died at the Old Folks' Home, at Wilton, on the 8th inst., aged sixty-eight years. He was the illegitimate son of a clergyman, who for a brief period preached in Antrim, but left town on business in 1820, and failed to return. Stephen was well known in this and adjoining towns. He was a superior basket maker; a musician, the violin and flute being the instruments which he usually played. His music was all original. For several years he imagined himself the superintendent of the Peterboro & Hillsboro Railroad, causing the railroad men considerable trouble at times by signaling trains to stop, his place of abode being near the railroad. He was a very devout man; sometimes when engaged in prayer the boys would tease him. Stephen would suddenly stop and address the lady with a routine of verbs and adjectives not usually used in time of prayer. He was a peaceable, inoffensive man. If we had the ingenuity that Steve Wescott had we might know how to make a basket or paint on paper a train of cars.
"Peace to his ashes."

So Much Female Suffering Needless
Mrs. Julia A. Rice, Florence, Kentucky, says:—
"I suffered eight years from woman's early troubles."

"I could find no permanent relief until, one year ago, I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. Relief then came with it almost immediately, and at this time I am a well woman. I absolutely know, not only by my own experience, but by others also, that this is a harmless and sure remedy for: Irregularity, suppressed or painful menstruations, weakness of the stomach, sick headache, and female complaints generally. There is no need of so much female suffering. Here is the remedy. It is wicked not to accept the relief it will bring." At druggists.

My Mamma gives me BROWN'S INSTANT RELIEF, For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Sore Throat, Diphtheria, etc. I THINK IT IS REAL NICE TO TAKE.

Mrs. Cyrus J. Whitney.
Died in Antrim, Sept. 3, 1894. Mrs. Mary J. Whitney, aged 72 years. The older residents will remember her as one of the singers at the M. E. church in her younger days. Mrs. Whitney was a true Christian and a member of the Methodist church for more than 40 years. Her death casts a heavy shadow over her household, where she leaves an aged husband, blind and dependent, four sons and five daughters, who sadly mourn her loss. The following lines were inscribed to the memory of our dear mother:

We shall miss thee, patient mother, Dear solace of our tender years; Our beds are empty—one chair is vacant— Our eyes are filled with scalding tears.

Cold and relentless came the death angel. In the brightness of the morn; Suddenly, surely, before we knew it, Mother, dear mother was gone.

Sweetly, peacefully her soul went upward. It seemed like going to sleep; There to rest in eternal mansions— Dear Saviour, comfort the hearts that weep.

O, may we remember and cherish The lessons, the toils that were given: In weary paths, in darkness hours, That we have a mother in heaven.

ANTRIM CENTRE.

Mrs. E. H. Gifford of Charlestown, Mass., is at Sam Holt's Lake view Farm.

Mrs. Sam Holman and daughter Mary of Hillsboro with William and Lilly Holman of Lowell, Mass., visited Mrs. M. W. Holman on Wednesday last.

Miss Linda Hutchinson has gone to Boston to visit her brother Lincoln and other friends. She will be absent two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson are in Concord as delegates to the Congregational Conference. They will upon their return make a short visit in Warner.

Mary A. Newen and Mrs. Sarah Butterfield of Hillsboro are visiting J. N. Gove.

DEERING.

Mrs. Geo. Forsaith and daughter, Florence, from Everett, Mass., visited at Matthew Forsaith's last week.

A party of young men from Hillsboro spent Saturday night and Sunday at Forsaith's cottage.

Miss Lincoln from Meredith is teaching the high school at the Centre.

Rodney Clark lost a part of one finger last Saturday while working on stone for Mr. Hurbin, at Antrim.

Mrs. Mary J. Bingham visited at J. E. Favors' last Saturday.

John Wilkins and wife of Boston visited relatives here last week.

Cleaves Ellsworth and Miss Vilona Chase of Ware, spent Sunday at his father's C. N. Ellsworth.

Julia Forsaith spent Sunday at home. Hilliard Goodale and wife, from Dorchester, are in town.

Quite a large number of people from this town attended "Locust Grove" fair last week, and think it an improvement over previous years.

BENNINGTON.

One of our esteemed fellow-townsmen, Frank W. Twitchell, was married last week to Keziah C. Owen, also of this place. The ceremony was performed Thursday, Sept. 6, at Warner, by Rev. W. E. Reushaw. Our congratulations.

The price of Dobbin's Electric Soap has just been reduced in order to put it in the reach of every one. Quality same as for 30 years. Insist upon your grocer keeping it. Premiums given for wrappers. Try it at once.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Ayer's Hair Vicer tones up the weak hair-roots, stimulates the vessels and tissues which supply the hair with nutrition, strengthens the hair itself, and adds the oil which keeps the shafts soft, lustrous, and silky. The most popular and valuable toilet preparation in the world.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Harmless, reliable, sure.

Improper and deficient care of the scalp will cause grayness of the hair and baldness. Escape both by the use of that reliable specific, Hall's Hair Renewer.

Real Merit is the characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is manifested every day in the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the kind. Try it.

One trial of a poor article ends its use. One trial of a good one makes a new consumer. Dobbin's Perfect Soap (only 5 cents) needs but one trial, to prove that you can't afford to ever use any other.

There is nothing to prevent anyone concocting a mixture and calling it "sarsaparilla," and there is nothing to prevent anyone spending good money testing the stuff; but prudent people, who wish to be sure of their remedy, take only Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and so get cured.

Park's Wymoke is especially recommended for headache, pain in the back of the head and neck, toothache and neuralgia pain.

WHY HOOD'S? Because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best, most reliable and accomplishes the greatest cures. HOOD'S CURES

Four Big Successes. Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale. Dr. King's New Discovery, for consumption, Coughs and Colds, each guaranteed. Electric Bitters, the great remedy for Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at Harrington & Kibbey's Drug Store.

MAGIC EXPLAINED.

THE STAR TRICKS OF HINDOO CONJURERS MADE EASY.

The Magic Trick Explained by Kellar, the Magician—It is the Same Which Globe Trotter Stevens Claims to Perform Exclusively Performed by Yogi Men.

The sleight of hand performances of Mr. Muskatine, a remarkably clever juggler, have excited a great deal of interest in London. Not only are his tricks skillfully done, but his explanations of other tricks have attracted much attention among a class of men who seldom visit the halls where feats of this sort are presented.

The Mail and Express recently published an article from the London Spectator in which the writer describes one or two tricks which he saw in India and which astounded him greatly. Here is one, which, by the way, is described by Thomas Stevens, the globe trotter, who says that the Yogi men, who perform it, are aided by an occult force that the world is as yet ignorant of.

A juggler placed a cloth over the pavement of the street, and presently he removed it, and there was a mango growing between the stones. "The juggler," adds the writer, "one of the hereditary caste, did undoubtedly make a leaf spring out of the ground; did make it grow into a dwarf mango, and did hand the mango from it to be eaten. It looked wonderful because of the unsuitability of the juggler, but he performed his feat in four processes, and between each he shook out his chunder, or muslin wrapper, so that it passed for an instant between the spectators and the plant. The writer had no doubt then and has no doubt now that this was done not to conceal anything, but to distract attention momentarily; that the first leaf, the upgrowth of leaves, the dwarf mango and the mango on it were all of wax or other carefully made imitation, and that the whole miracle was marvellously rapid sleight of hand."

To Americans who are interested in this sort of thing this mystery is almost amusing. It was exposed several years ago by Kellar, the prestidigitator. Four or five years ago Kellar publicly offered $1,000 to any one who would perform a trick so subtle he could not be duplicated and which he could not prove to be done by wholly human aids. A number of persons who had recently visited India immediately deluged him with descriptions of this and other specimens of oriental jugglery. Pleasant to Take, Instant Relief Hlof and Suro Cure.

I ask the attention of ladies in a special manner to Groder's Dyspepsia Cure. This is THANKFUL to certify that it has cured me of all my troubles from Dyspepsia, Neuralgia and Kidney Trouble for a long time. I was greatly tormented by stomach, heart, and TO constipation, and nervousness, and TO complicate, and I was weak and nervous. Through my suffering I was induced to try this Syrup. This I did without any faith but to my great surprise and gratification, I was cured. I feel free from pain and completely cured. I feel that it is my duty to place my testimony before the thousands of ladies that are suffering from BOTANIC just as I was, hoping that by doing this I may induce them to try this Syrup. I am yours respectfully
MRS. LUCY A. FARNHAM.

All patent medicines are sold under the old, and DYSPEPSIA No. 1. No one can ever do you anything their money back. No other company backs up its medicine. Guarantees SYRUP that your dealer will sign to give you satisfaction or refund your money, as we do. None genuine without bearing our trade mark—the leaver.
