A JOYFUL MOTHER OF CHILDREN.

Mrs. Pinkham Declares that in the Light of Modern Science no Woman Need Despair.

There are many curable causes for sterility in women. One of the most common is general debility, accompanied by a peculiar condition of the blood. Care and tonic treatment of the female organs relieve more cases of supposed incurable barrenness than any other known method. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has effected so many cures; its tonic properties are directed especially to the nerves which supply the uterine system. Among other causes for sterility or barrenness are displacements of the womb. These displacements are caused by lack of strength in the ligaments supporting the womb and the ovaries; restore these, and the difficulty ceases. Here, again, the Vegetable Compound works wonders. See Mrs. Lytle's letter, which follows in this column. Go to the root of the matter, and you will find the parts, and nature's plan, and the Compound will do the rest. Nature has no better ally than this Compound, made of her own healing and restoring herbs.

restore the strength of the nerves and do the rest. Nature has no better ally than this Compound, made of her own healing and restoring herbs.

Easter Celebrated.
As is the usual custom at the churches at this season of the year, last Sunday was celebrated at the Presbyterian and Methodist churches as Easter. A pleasing occasion was given by the Sunday school scholars of each society, and a large number gathered to listen to the children. The lessons were well understood, and everything went very smoothly. The beautiful service was held in the walls of the churches, and a goodly number of the people were present.

Card of Thanks.
The undersigned wish to most heartily thank all friends and neighbors who in any way rendered aid and sympathy during our recent affliction in the death and burial of our dear son and brother. May the Lord be a Father to all.

Something to Know.
It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. It is a medicine purely vegetable, acts by going tone to the nerve centers in the stomach, greatly stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in the removal of impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor.

Program of the exercises at the Methodist church, which was also held in place of the regular morning preaching service, was not so lengthy as to mar the interest of the occasion but occupied just time enough, and is presented in full as follows:

Household Goods.

The household god of today is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of the Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at Antrim Pharmacy. Single size 50c and $1.00.

SUDDEN DEATH

At Greenfield, of Alvah F. Ingram, of Antrim Village.

It was with much sadness that the people of this community learned on Thursday morning last of the sudden death of one of our most highly esteemed young men, Alvah F. Ingram, at the age of 29 years. He had gone to visit for a few days with his twin brother, Arthur F. Ingram, in Greenfield, and on Wednesday morning decided to return home, and went to Greenfield station to board the train which would convey him to his home here, but was taken ill at the station with a shortness of breath, and in a carriage he was at once taken back to his brother's home, and his parents here were notified, who by train immediately drove to that place. Upon their arrival they found him more comfortable and later he rested so well that his father returned home, leaving Mrs. Ingram with others to care for Alvah. He rested quite nicely during the first part of the night and about midnight went quietly to sleep apparently resting as well as could be expected, and about two o'clock Thursday morning he passed peacefully away, leaving this life with as much ease and composure as he had manifested during his stay with us—a most fitting manner for such a person, so characteristic of his life, quiet, unassuming, pleasant.

Alvah had not been well for a long time, and recently his friends had remarked that he appeared unusually delicate, and he did not go out much evenings, unless it be at a meeting of Waverley Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was a member and to which he was very much attached. Being in so frail health his friends were in a measure prepared for the change which so suddenly took place; however, the shock seemed to cast a gloom over the entire village, he was generally beloved by all, and especially by those who were most intimately acquainted with him and knew his worth to appreciate it. No better tribute could be placed to his memory than that which is repeatedly expressed when mention is made of our departed brother and friend: he was a cheerful, whole-souled, Christian young man, and one who always had a word of encouragement for everyone.

Deceased possessed a most pleasing disposition which was very manifest to his home life, and here it was he will be greatly missed; his health here, such as to confine him quite a few days at home. With all of the illness, pain and suffering, which he never uttered a word of complaint or was known to murmur in the least. The bright side had the attraction for him and there he always fixed his gaze.

Alvah had been a member of the Methodist church for several years and held a position on the all board; was a member of and very much interested in the welfare of the Epworth League, and had been its treasurer for about eight years; he had long been a member of Waverley Lodge, No. 99, I. O. O. F., and a worker in the degrees; he was also a member of Had in Hand Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., and as a brother in these several societies he was highly respected and greatly beloved.

It would seem we had too few of such men in our midst to lose even one, but at these times it becomes necessary to submit to the inevitable, and comfort ourselves in the thought that he has passed on from a world of care, pain and sorrow, to one where all is joy, peace, and where there is no sickness.

We shall miss him!
The funeral services took place Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Methodist church, and were in charge of Waverley Lodge of this village. The service was very largely attended. Rev. W. A. Loyne and Rev. Thomas Whitehead officiating, the latter being a former pastor here and an intimate friend of the deceased. He spoke feelingly of the departed one, and endeavored to comfort the bereaved friends in their hour of affliction. At the close of these remarks the ritual service of the Old Testament was read. The brothers of Waverley Lodge escorted the procession, consisting of the remains and friends, sisters of the Rebekah Lodge, and shop mates, from the late home of the deceased to the church; there were in line by actual count 66 Old Fellows, 35 Rebekahs, 41 shop-mates, making a total of 142. After the service at the church the brothers of the Epworth League escorted us returning to the house.

The floral tributes were handsome and are enumerated and described as follows: Pillow, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Ingram, Greenfield; Easter lilies, Miss Burd of Lynn; crescent lilies, Miss Hurd of Lynn; crescent lilies, Epworth League; pillow, Waverley Lodge; 29 carnation pink, Rebekah Lodge; mound, Sunday school class; harp with broken string, shop-mates; calla lilies, G. H. Perkins and family; calla lilies, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sawyer.

Deceased leaves a father, stepmother (his own mother died some five years ago), two brothers, besides more distant relatives and friends, who have the sincere sympathy of all in their sad affliction.

Saturday morning the remains were taken by the family to Newport for interment, accompanied by the conductor, O. W. Brownell, and bearers, George H. Perkins, Fred W. Roberts, Leander Patterson and James Patterson, delegated by Waverley Lodge for this purpose.

Two years ago R. J. Warren, a druggist at Pleasant Brook, N. Y., bought a small supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sums up the result as follows: "At that time the goods were unknown in this section; to-day Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a household word." It is the same in hundreds of communities. Wherever the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy become known the people will have nothing else. For sale by C. H. Martin, Druggist.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Special Correspondence.)
WASHINGTON, April 11, 1898.

Now that the uncertainty is over there is less excitement in Washington than there has been at any time since the news of the blowing up of the Maine was received. It was not the probability of war that caused the excitement, but the fear that in some way tricky Spanish diplomacy would get the best of us without giving us an opportunity to fight. That fear existed more or less up to the moment that the die was cast by the President's message asking Congress to provide for immediate forcible intervention to drive the Spanish flag out of Cuba. Although the official announcement of an armistice in Cuba declared by Spain is generally believed to be merely another trick, it was feared that it might cause the President to postpone his message or to change his mind about sending it in. Now, those fears are all past. Gen. Lee and all the Americans who decided to leave are safely out of Cuba, and the message is before Congress. Consequently there is a feeling of contentment because it is known that long deferred justice is about to be meted out to Spain by the United States; that vexatious delays are over.

Congress is practically a unit, although there are a few individuals who would prefer proceeding a little differently, and by the middle of the week the authority will be placed in the President's hands to use the U. S. army and navy to drive the Spanish out of Cuba, and before the week closes Cuba is likely to be surrounded by the most formidable fleet of warships this country has ever assembled under one commander, and the steps will have been taken that will send the necessary troops to be landed on Cuban soil to co-operate with our ships. The plans are all made, the ships have up steam and only await the final order to start. The only thing that can upset our program now is the showing of the white teeth by Spain, but those who are thoroughly conversant with the Spanish character as well as with existing political conditions in Spain think that a big bluff in making an aggressive war upon the United States will be made and kept up until there is danger not only of Spain losing Cuba but her other colonies and her entire navy. Then she will, through the European powers, sue for peace.

It is known that the Spanish emperor is not to openly fight our navy, but to try to use the fastest cruisers and torpedoes and torpedo boat destroyers to damage our commerce and seaward towns and endeavor to keep out of the way of our heavy fighting ships. They will find, however, that this will be a very dangerous sort of game to engage in.

What a world of contrasts it is! While Congress is listening to a message from the President that means war, thousands of happy children are gathered upon the grounds at the rear of the White House engaged in sport peculiar to Washington—of rolling Easter eggs to the number of twelve Marine bands, which plays at the approach of the President to add to the enjoyment of the little ones. There can be little doubt that the President as he looks out over the joyous children finds far more enjoyment in contemplating their play than he does in looking forward to the war.

In view of the war now almost upon us, the following opinion of Col. Edo. Hotchkiss, of Va., who was on General Jackson's staff, is interesting, if not important: "I put a very small valuation on big battle ships. They are formidable in looks, but what can they accomplish? If two of them fired at each other simultaneously and both struck, two ships would undoubtedly go to the bottom. One shot will settle the business of the best one ever built. They are too clumsy, too heavy, too slow to get away. The best fighter is the one who can retreat quickly, and to do that there must be little impediment, little weight. When men centuries ago, leached both rider and steed in armor they thought they had something wonderful, but the steel and iron combination was not a continental. Our big war vessels I regard as a repetition of that ancient blunder." It should be remembered that Col. Hotchkiss did all his fighting on land.

DO IT YOURSELF.
You can tell just as well as a physician whether your kidneys are diseased or healthy. The way to do it is to take a bottle or glass tumbler and fill it with urine. If there is a sediment—a powder—like substance at the bottom after standing a day and night, there is something wrong with the kidneys. Another sure sign of disease is a desire to urinate often, and still another sign is pain in the back. If urine at its issue, there is no doubt that the kidneys are affected. Any and all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and of the urinary passages and on up to the bowels are cured by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. There is no need about its being the best and surest medicine in the world for such troubles. It quickly relieves and cures and it is sold in every town, young or old, who take it are not compelled to get up a number of times during the night. It is a sure cure for that scalding pain so often met in passing urine. Nothing is so good as Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It cures the bad effects of alcohol and beer; is pleasant to the taste and does not seem to be medicine at all. Diseases of the kidneys and bladder often require the use of instruments to reach back the sandy matter so the urine can be voided. In such cases Favorite Remedy should be taken without delay either alone or with cathartics. It is sold for one dollar a bottle and drug stores. It is well worth many times its price.

Simple Bottle Free.
If you wish to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy before buying it, send your full post office address to the Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Boston, N. Y., and mention this paper. We will then mail you a sample bottle free, as well as circulars giving full directions for its use. Every bottle of this paper can depend upon the eminence of this liberal offer, and all sufferers from kidney trouble should take advantage of it at once.
