Dear Sir—Ira E. Gould is one of the leading painters of Colebrook, N. H. Seven years ago he bought four gallons of our paint from Wesley Wentworth; he thinned it down with two gallons of oil and gave his house one coat. It covered so well that he had given it two coats. Mr. Gould is going to paint his house again this spring. Although there are many brands of paints sold in Colebrook, all of which he has tried, yet he says he prefers ours, and if he can't get it, will have to use the next best thing, lead and oil. It is just such facts as this that have won for our paint the reputation of being the best-covering and longest-wearing paint made.

STRONG STATEMENTS.

Three Women Relieved of Female Troubles by Mrs. Pinkham.

From Mrs. A. W. SMITH, 59 Summer St., Hildford, Ma.

"For several years I suffered with various diseases peculiar to my sex. I was troubled with a burning sensation around the small of my back, that all day long, and the heat exertion and discouragement, the best exertion I could make. I tried several doctors but received little benefit. At last I decided to give your Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The effect of the first bottle was magical. These symptoms of weakness that I was afflicted with, vanished like vapor before the sun. I cannot speak too highly of your valuable remedy. It is truly a boon to woman."

From Mrs. MELISSA PHILLIPS, Lexington, Ind., to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I have taken four bottles of your medicine. I had suffered for two years with that terrible feeling, headache, backache, nervousness, and a run-down condition of the system. I could not walk across the room. I have taken four bottles of your Vegetable Compound, one box of Liver Pills and used one package of Sarsaparilla Wash, and now feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work."

From Mrs. MOLLIE E. HERRICK, Powell Station, Tenn.

"For three years I suffered with such a weakness of the back, I could not perform my household duties. I also had falling of the womb, terrible headache, nervousness, and backache. I have taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and feel like a new woman. I recommend your medicine to every woman I know."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6, 1898.

The administration is highly pleased with recent war news, and even more so with the outlook.

Admiral Sampson only awaits the arrival of the fleet to make a combined land and sea attack upon Santiago de Cuba.

The capture of the Spanish fleet is now known to be in the harbor. It is impossible to say how long this will take, owing to lack of definite knowledge as to how strong a defense the land batteries will be able to put up, and the amount of assistance the insurgents will give our land forces.

Although General Shafter, who is in command of the army sent to assist Santiago, will welcome any assistance rendered by the insurgents, his plans are in no way dependent on them.

The strictly business one from the start, says the orders of General Shafter make the town of Santiago, and those of Admiral Sampson to take or destroy the Spanish fleet.

The present programme is to follow up the capture of Santiago, with the capture of Porto Rico, the fleet going from Santiago to San Juan and troops following at once from Florida.

The Spanish fleet is now in the harbor of Santiago, and the only Cuban remaining intent is that to Key West, which he can make no use of.

By the time Santiago and Porto Rico are disposed of, we shall have our way, and, thoroughly equipped and ready to move on Havana, if it becomes necessary to do so.

It is a home-made device that performed by Lieutenant Hobson and a crew of seven volunteers who carried the U. S. battleship Merrimack into the narrow mouth of the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, under a hail of Spanish shot and shell and sunk her to obstruct the channel, that makes one proud to be an American.

When Admiral Sampson asked for volunteers for this perilous duty, regarded as going to almost certain death, more than four hundred men volunteered.

The seven heroes performed their work and escaped death, but they were all captured by the Spanish. Promotion and ovation awaits them, when they are restored to liberty either through exchange or by the capture of Santiago by our forces.

Speaker Reed has made a positive statement that the House will be allowed to vote on the resolution for the annexation of Hawaii this week, and it is an absolute certainty that it will be adopted by a large majority when it is voted on.

But there is in the Senate and House an expressed that the minority can stave off a vote indefinitely and will do so, unless they can be reached by the force of public opinion in favor of annexation.

PEOPLE'S DEPARTMENT.

To the Secretary of the Antrim Improvement Society:

I desire to enter my protest against the practice of most of the residents of Antrim of burning up the rubbish around their dwellings and dumping the same on the river bank beside the same on the Antrim depot. This rubbish consists of old castings, stoves and tin ware, dead cats and hens; and as part, and a great part, of the said rubbish comes from the houses of members and principal officers of your society, I address you, that you may bring the matter before some meeting of the society and see if the unneighborly and disagreeable business cannot be stopped.

Yours truly, ARTHUR H. INGRAM.

Antrim, N. H., May 23, 1898.

Antrim, N. H., May 20, 1898.

F. C. Parmenter, Sec. Imp. Society:

Dear Sir—I would like to call the attention of the society to the condition of the grounds in the rear of the Town hall. While our citizens generally throughout the village are extending both time and money in improving their grounds, and Mr. Martin and Mr. Woodbury have each made extensive improvements at quite a large expense along the shores of the pond, it is time that some one, either your society or the town, make some improvements in the condition of the above mentioned grounds.

I have taken the liberty to mention this matter, hoping the society might find some way in which to bring about the desired result.

I am, sir, Very respectfully yours, A. CRIVEN.

In regard to the dumping ground, we believe the complaint is reasonable and it is believed the Selectmen will soon provide a proper place to deposit the rubbish of the village; its location will be published when decided upon.

In regard to the grounds in the rear of the Town hall, the society think the town should at least keep pace with its citizens in the matter of keeping its public grounds in condition. It was decided to publish these letters in order that these matters might be brought to the attention of all concerned.

The Surprise of All.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Sons, Concord, N. H., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with la grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Concord and Paris could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at Antrim Pharmacy.

We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—no simply stop pain, but cure absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by C. H. A HELPING HAND.

The greatest help is health. A poor man with health is a thousand times better off than a sick man with a million dollars.

Nearly everybody could be healthy if they would only take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

It is a helping hand that is held out to the sick. It does more than help. It cures. It cures liver complaints, constipation, indigestion, rheumatism, croup, and all kidney, bladder and urinary diseases.

Mr. E. C. Caswell, of Brockport, N. Y., was afflicted with scrofula. He had no hope of cure. But Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy gave him great benefit, and he is now well. It is a helping hand to other scrofulous sufferers.

Don't give up because other remedies fail. Remember this is the greatest remedy anybody ever made.

Americans are great hunters.

"Americans are great hunters," said Porter Norton, the Philadelphia lawyer, a day or two ago in speaking of a trip he made to Europe a year ago. When he was in England, he visited the northern part of the country and spent a couple of days fishing in a little lake. I got badly numbed and made up my mind that I'd look for a drug store and buy some witch hazel.

I walked into a little chemist's shop, as it is called in England, and asked if he kept witch hazel. The druggist said he did, and after rummaging around his cellar, a few minutes brought out a bottle of witch hazel which bore the trade mark of a Philadelphia firm of chemists. I asked how it was that a druggist situated in all various corners of England should be selling a compound made in the city of Philadelphia. He replied that all the preparations of that kind came from this side of the ocean, and I soon found out that he was correct.

If you go into a drug store in any part of England and ask for quinine, phenocaine or any of the thousand and one tablets put up for the restoration of health, you'll find that they are made in this country nine times out of ten. The Americans are great advertisers too. I found that they give the Englishmen the Germans, the French and the men of the other countries of Europe cards and spades on advertising patent medicines and pretty nearly everything else that is advertised largely.—Boston Journal.

The Havana City.

Havana is bounded by beauty on one side, by ignorance on the other. The approach to it, particularly in the early morning, is exceeded in loveliness by perhaps but two or three other ports. There are many exquisite things in the world, and among them, near the head of the list, stands dawn in the tropics. It is sudden as love and just as fair.

Dawn in the Havana harbor is a formation of what paradise may be.

The tourist who has sailed that way passes a night beneath stars that are larger and more neighborly than our own. The water, too, is different. At Key West it looks like a lawn in May. It has the same appearance green. Then it changes. It becomes scented with phosphorus. As the stars disappear it changes again, and very suddenly, into a strip of opals. At the horizon is a tender pink. Overhead is a fusion of salmon and of blue. Just beyond, within rifle range, is an amphitheater of houses, particularly in Havana, threaded with the pearl points of a

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton house, Burton, V. Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me, and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of suffering." In June, 1874, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Iron Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured. For sale by C. H. Martin, druggist.

Young British Journalists.

Months in England have shown themselves able to do what few old heads in America can accomplish—make money in journalism. Over here we can give points to all the earth on how to lose money in a newspaper.

The two young men are both in journalism in London. One of them is Arthur Pearson, proprietor of Pearson's Weekly. He was naturally attracted to newspaper work and before he was 20 was an experienced journalist of his particular type, rather the gossip, social and light literature type. He was not content to remain a mere writer, however, but quickly launched into enterprising journalism. He got the largest circulation from his weekly, which was somewhat of the style of the New York Ledger, that name of wealth to Robert Bonner. Pearson is 32 years old.

The other gift edged journalist is Alfred Charles Harnsworth, the man who got rich even in journalism by buying and equipping the Wardlaw for the Jackson expedition, and after that was finished turned the vessel over as a present to Peary. It must be said, however, that neither Pearson nor Harnsworth got his money out of ordinary newspaper business. Harnsworth, too, founded a weekly paper, which became popular among the people and earned him thousands. Then he bought, first, the London Evening News, and next founded The Daily Mail, both now through his management immensely valuable properties. After all, though, Harnsworth owes his success in daily journalism to his adaptation of the American idea of break, crisp, short editorials and reviews and condensed news matter. Harnsworth is 33.

Patrol Peppering.

Some years ago Poland came to this country from Warsaw, Poland, a Hebrew youth, by name Julius Peppering. He had the accent and energy of his race. Taking advantage of the opportunities that he all around in our happy land for his keen eyes and brain to see them and the instinct to grasp them, Peppering went on and became prosperous. He settled at length in Plattsmouth, Neb., there to enjoy the fruits of his years of work. Peppering was not like hundreds of rich native American men and women who never earned a dollar themselves, but who spend in lavish living in Europe the incomes their hard, hardworking ancestors earned in our republic. Peppering loved his adopted country more than most native Americans love the land where they were born. He loved it because he knew, when all is said and done, it is the country of the people.

The war with Spain came on Peppering could not see and fight for his was 30 years old and would not be accepted. So he drew a check for $200 and sent it to President McKinley. In the accompanying letter he said that since he owed his happiness and prosperity to the institutions of this free country he wanted to help the government in the present crisis, therefore he enclosed the check to be used in the national defenses. The letter was signed "Your Jewish fellow citizen," "Julius Peppering."

The best policy for both England and the United States seems to be to have an alliance to the last and end of an age. Nobody doubts the immense friendship of the British nation toward us now, and we are glad to have it in the present crisis. It will keep the essential powers from forming a coalition against us, as it has done already. On the other hand, our publicly expressed good will toward England will do the same for her in case of the unanimous hostility of the other European nations to her. But a formal alliance would mean that if England became involved in a war we would be bound to help her out of it if called on to do so. It would be awkward to send ships and men across the sea to fight a nation with whom we desired above all things to cultivate a profitable trade, a country in which we wanted a market, not a war. England, too, would find it extremely unpleasant under like circumstances, especially as Queen Victoria's descendants are intermarried with all the leading Protestant royal houses of Europe. It is enough for other countries to know that each of the great English speaking nations of the globe has the sincere friendship and moral support of the other.

With wheat at top prices of civil war times it is unfortunate that those who are getting the most benefit of the rise are not the ones who grow the wheat, but the men who gamble in wheat. There was more than a speculative reason for the high price of wheat. The crop is short in all parts of Europe, in Australia and in Argentina.

When Gladstone was prime minister of England, he raised revenue to carry on war by taxation. He always opposed adding to the government debt by borrowing money and issuing tin bonds.

The archbishop of Manila, in charging that the Americans will desecrate the altars and demolish the century crosses of the Philippine islanders, fails like an American yellow journal.

There will now be opportunity for a few more patriots to serve their country as that peace of danger, Washington, by filling clerkships in the war department.

As soon as Admiral Dewey whipped the Spaniards in Manila bay the great naval experts of all nations began to investigate the fight. They received all the evidence on both sides in regard to it, they studied it this way and that, they dissected it and examined it through a microscope and an anaphone. After sitting on it for weeks they rendered the solemn verdict that Admiral Dewey gained the victory because of superiority at sea. It takes experts a long time to find things out sometimes.
