fail to see that the story points to anything at all. Pigs, when found where they grow, are sold at a comparatively low cost, and, besides that, a bushel of fresh pigs is not so good to eat as a single apple or peach.—New York Times.

Vienna. Here we have a proud, imperial city, rather disdainful of trade, aristocratic and easy going, conscious of a long past, its rulers still animated with the conviction that they are the successors of Charlemagne and Otto, looking on Berlin as parvenu, on London as merely commercial, on Paris as half-courier. Excepting in the domain of music, Vienna is not a home of art and culture, but it is a center of dignity and grace and a certain calm air of superiority, which, however, does not offend. It is content to look on while other places explore and write and toil and push and strain; it stands on its rank; it can never forget its 16 quarters and its claims to high estate.

Mr. Huxley says ingeniously (speaking of societies of animals) that the ethical process "is, strictly speaking, part of the oculo process, just as the 'governor' in a steam engine is part of the mechanism of the engine. But we know how the governor got into the engine; we don't know how or why early men introduced the ethical process. "It was their nature to," and the ignorant, superstitious blacks say that a god, Bhambe, gave them this law. Yet in some ways morality does seem to pay, practically, though not when carried to an extreme. The universe, like the traveling tutor, seems to whisper to his pupils: Practice, youths, a little virtue. Just as much as will not hurt you. This is ordinary morality. Do much further, and you are a saint. The Isle of Saints has never been the most distressful country. Whether in the world are these reflections hurrying as? I have no idea beyond an ineradicable conviction that the ethical process, plus some "governor" not yet invented, will win in the long run, and that we must back it with our best exertions.—Andrew Lang in Longman's Magazine.

Polk Miller of Richmond is known as a raconteur of plantation life in the south before the war. One story told by Mr. Miller will well bear repetition. An old darky named Absalom was the favorite attendant of a widower acquaintance of Miller, and as rumor had it that the widower intended taking to himself a second wife Miller asked Absalom if it were true. Absalom scratched his woolly pate for a moment and replied that he reckoned it was. "Well," said Miller, "will he take a bridal tour?" This somewhat puzzled Absalom for an instant; then an inspiration struck him, and he said, "I dunno 'bout a bride, sah, but when de ole missus was 'lived he used to take a paddle to her; so maybe he take a bride to de gwine one!"—Exchange.

Neither Did the King. It is told of King Frederick VI of Denmark that while traveling through Jutland one day he entered a village school and found the children lively and intelligent and quite ready to answer his questions. "Well, youngsters," he said, "what are the names of the greatest kings of Denmark?" With one accord they cried out, "Canute the Great, Waldemar and Christian VI!" Just then a little girl, to whom the schoolmaster had whispered something, stood up and raised her hand. "Do you know another?" asked the king. "Yes—Frederick VI."

He Was Her. "I learn," she said reproachfully, "that you were devoted to no fewer than five girls before you finally proposed to me. How do I know that you didn't make desperate love to all of them?" "I did," he replied promptly. "Oh did!" she exclaimed. "Certainly," he returned. "You don't suppose for a saluta I would be foolishly enough to try for such a prize as you are without practicing a little at first, do you?"—Chicago Post.

Desperate. "I want a job and, too, for a salary. Can you let me have them?" inquired the young man in the loud cheery suit of the candidate. "Yes," replied the employer, "but you must first show me your references." "Well," he said, "I've got a list of names of all the people I've ever worked for."

Assassinated. The newly discovered peak in Alaska, which is said to be taller than Mount St. Elias, is a very treeless and inhospitable region, as well as a most dangerous one, in fact, to ascend. It is not to be attempted by the mountaineer, but by the professional climber, who, when he has the best individual in front of him, is a very different matter.

City Editor (in) anetium, addressing the water front editor)—"Joe, you ought to be pretty well up on etiquette. What do you consider the worst form? "I don't quite remember, but I think it is to address chloroform or acetone."

For Republican Ticket in the State.

ANTRIM GIVES A GOOD MAJORITY FOR TICKET.

With but Two Exceptions, and Those Representative and Moderator.

A brighter and more propitious day seldom dawned on the morning of election day than greeted the people of this section.

Antrim gives the Republican ticket entire about twenty-five majority, not including candidates for Representative and Moderator.

The state vote gives Rollins, Republican candidate for Governor, about 9,000 ahead of Stone, the Democratic candidate.

New York, as far as heard from goes Republican by a handsome majority.

Antrim has the largest number of voters on the list in her history—443—and a large vote was polled, there being 375 cast.

Herewith is given the returns from a few near-by towns in which our readers are interested:

Deafness Cannot be Cured. By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or perfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is removed, and unless the inflamed surface is destroyed, hearing will be forever lost. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that is not cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists.

STORIES OF ENGLAND.

Two Letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. John Willard, Englishtown, N. J. DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot begin to tell you how I suffered before taking your medicine. I was so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without falling. I had womb trouble and such a bearing-down feeling; also suffered with my back and limbs, pain in womb, inflammation of the bladder, piles and indigestion. Before I had taken one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great deal better, and after taking two and one-half bottles and half a box of your pills, my back and limbs were cured, and my womb and bladder were cured, and my indigestion cured. I feel as though I would not take your medicine they would not have to suffer so much.

Mrs. Joseph Peterson, 515 East St., Warren, Pa., writes: DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I was displaced of the womb. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for my heart would beat so very sick when lying; also I was so weak I could not do anything.

I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and need three packages of Sensitive Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me.

which breaks the trouble at once. It relieves and soothes the skin immediately. It's best for babies.

residence serenaded him and several times gave "three cheers for Warner!" This unusual demonstration was responded to by Mr. Warner and Mr. Jamison, Moderator-elect, and cigars were passed around. Accompanying this expression of jovial feeling was the firing of cannon upon the ball ground, which lasted for about one hour. In his remarks, Mr. Warner thanked his friends for their support at the polls and said he goes to Concord a free man and will serve his constituency to the best of his ability.

Every Thursday the Year Round. In more than half a million homes The Youth's Companion comes every week, the welcome guest of young and old—read with equal interest by every member of the household. The best of fiction, poetry, sketches of travel, instructive articles, comment on current events and selected miscellany and anecdotes fill its columns from week to week and from year to year. The publishers promise that the volume for 1899 will surpass all former ones, in variety, interest and value. Among the two hundred distinguished contributors already engaged are Hon. John D. Long, Secretary of the Navy, Edward Everett Hale, Henry M. Stanley, Sarah Orne Jewett, W. D. Howells, Poultony Bigelow, Herbert E. Hadden, Hon. Carl Schurz, Rt. Hon. James Bryce, John Burroughs, Robert Barr, Thomas Nelson Page, Bret Harte, William Black, Alfred Austin, Andrew Lang and William A. Hammond. All subscribers to the 1899 volume will receive The Companion's new Calendar, exquisitely colored, with a border of free also from the time subscription is received until January 1, 1900, then a full year to January 1, 1900. A handsome illustrated announcement and sample copies will be sent free to any one addressing THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, 211 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back and weak kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at Antrim Pharmacy.

Cure Scrofula promptly and permanently by Hood's Sarsaparilla. All forms of this painful disease yield to the blood purifying power of this great medicine.

A little girl of tender years, who has been attending one of the public kindergartens, fell from a ladder. Her mother caught her up from the ground in terror, exclaiming, "O darling! how did you fall?" "Vertically," replied the child, without a second's hesitation.

Catarah Can be Cured. By eradicating from the blood the scrofulous taint with it, Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarah, promptly and permanently because it strikes at the root of the trouble.

The rich blood which it makes, circulating through the delicate passages of the mucous membrane, soothes and rebuilds the tissues, giving them a tendency to health instead of disease, and ultimately curing the affection.

At the same time Hood's Sarsaparilla strengthens, invigorates and energizes the whole system and makes the debilitated victim of catarah feel that new life has been imparted.

Do not dally with snuffs, inhalants or other local applications, but take Hood's Sarsaparilla and cure catarah absolutely and surely removing the causes which produce it.

Hood's pills are the best family cathartic and liver tonic. Gentle, reliable, sure.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.

W. M. Repine, editor Triaktava, Ill., writes: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc."

It is idle to experiment with other remedies even if they are urged on you as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and is backed by a guarantee. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Antrim Pharmacy.

STORIES OF ENGLAND.

What a fine day! The sun was shining brightly, and the air was so fresh and cool. I had never seen such a beautiful day before. I had heard that the weather was bad, but I was so lucky to see it. I had never seen such a beautiful day before. I had heard that the weather was bad, but I was so lucky to see it.

"Let's see," said the captain, "you were to have half a dollar a day. We'll call it a day, although it ain't sundown yet. That's 50 cents for you, and you were to pay me ninteen a cord for the use of the saw. There were three cords and a half in the pile. That makes 45 cents due me. Somehow, Caleb, you don't have very much coming to you."

"How unfortin'," said Caleb, after scratching his head dubiously for a minute, and then looking up quickly, as if a new light had broken in upon his mind—"how unfortin' that you didn't have half a cord more, for then we'd 'a' come out just square!"—Success.

The Conference of Committees was a pleasing feature. The singing directed by Mr. Crowell, was of high order. His solos will long be remembered. A fine selection was rendered by a male quartette from Peterboro.

It has been suggested that a larger number of short pithy talks and essays would improve the character of these meetings. As the purpose of the Union is to develop fraternal interest among Endeavorers, would it not be well to accept this gentle hint?

When Audobon was traveling in Labrador, he came, one day, upon a house where the friendly Indians made much of him and his companions, and where the good wife asked him if he played on any instrument.

"I, myself," she said, "an extraordinarily fond of music and have an instrument which has been sent away for repairs. We miss it greatly, for we can all play on it, and when we are tired the servants use it for us."

"You must be a very musical family," said the naturalist. "What sort of an instrument is it?" She was perplexed.

"Gentleman," said she, "my instrument is large, longer than broad, and stands on four legs like a table. At one end is a crooked hand, by turning which, fast or slow, I do assure you we make most excellent music."

She smiled delightedly. "Ah, that's it!" said she. "It is a hand organ, but for the life of me I could not recollect the name."—Youth's Companion.

The St. James Budget tells the following somewhat unbelievable story gleaned from the columns of the London Times:

Here Wolff, special correspondent of The Tagblatt, having an idyllic day with his dog, Schuster, and his clerk. Arriving at a country house, he found a mandarin preparing to try 13 Chinese, charged with murdering German missionaries. Waving a piece of paper, which he declared was his warrant, he promptly took the highest seat, ordered "Herr von Schuster" to take the next in dignity to his right, placed his clerk on his left, waved aside the bewildered mandarin, who doubtless thought that this was the "mailed fist" in person, and called for the prisoners, whom, without hearing evidence, he promptly acquitted. He then rode off, followed by Herr von Schuster and the clerk, declaring that the order of the day was at an end.

AND FANCIES

Our advs. are based on facts, no mythical fancies or false promises, but plain straight forward statements, EVERYONE OF WHICH WE SUBSTANTIATE. The group of offerings this week is made up mostly of little lots. Its emergency selling. Emergency that begets profit to the thrifty purchasers. A straightening of our stock is responsible for the emergency.

It may seem mysterious to cut prices on good desirable garments at this season of the year. It's our way. We don't like to see many odd sizes, one or two may be of a certain line, more like them, good style, good sizes for somebody but bad for stock, therefore we have put a red mark on them, which means they will be sold about one-third less than regular price. We have selected twenty of this kind, which we describe in three lots as follows.

An Event In GARMENTS!

LOT 1 Nine JACKETS that are worth from $6.50 to $8.50. Red Mark $4.98

LOT 2 Eight JACKETS and CAPS that were $9.00-10.00-11.00-12.00. Red Mark $7.00

LOT 3 A few fine unsorted BOUCLES and KERSEY, a silk lined, indoor made. Red Mark $10.48

...Dress Goods...

The stuffs to wear and please, in varied array. Some odds and ends to be sure, but all so new and attractive as to excite admiration. The prices well, we thought them cheap, we will sell them cheap.

2 Pieces Silk and Wool colors combinations. Usually priced at 75c. Our Price 50c.

1 Lot all Wool and Silk and Wool Novelties, single pattern, no two alike, some were priced $1.00-1.50-2.00 anything in the lot at 87c yard.

This is only an inkling of the many values we have in our stock. You can save money by coming to Hillsboro. We have said it, we will prove it to you if you come. Write for samples and prices and compare our prices with them you get elsewhere. Have you entered our prize contest? It is not too late to begin.

PLURIMAGE

To Montreal, Niagara, Pittsburgh, Washington, Gettysburg, Philadelphia and New York.

Written by Sir Knight W. A. Loyne. Number Two.

It was with very deep regret that we turned our footsteps away from the world renowned Niagara and with the feeling that all must have that visit the falls, that some time and in the near future one may have the delightful privilege of again visiting the King of waters.

On to Pittsburgh. We left Niagara at 9:30 p.m. Sunday on the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad to Buffalo and from there over the Lake Shore and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie line and Pittsburgh, and this was a nice night ride through small parts of New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, having covered a distance of 285 miles from Niagara and arriving at 8 a.m. Monday.

Our train was side-tracked on the Lake Erie Railroad and quite near our headquarters. In making the night journey we were one of a number of special trains from Niagara. I heard it said that eight trains followed each other in quick succession and with this thought in mind and the almost constant passing of trains made the night memorable at least for a feeling of anxiety and noise.

The entrance to a city by the railroad does not always give one the best possible impression of the beauty of the town any more than it does on a stranger's first visit to our own beautiful town by the way of the railroad. Every body that reads and is posted with the march and trend of things knows that Pittsburgh, Pa., has a record for smoke and the half has never been told, and one of our party who is not noted for scriptural quotations said as we left the city, "It is a pillar of a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night, and this is varly true." From the hundreds of smoke-stacks and chimneys throughout the city there falls through the day (though less like the snow in winter the fine and superfine particles of smoke which settle on the people and buildings alike, our impression of the city and its people will remain. Pittsburgh is with the adjoining city of Allegheny nearly as large as Boston and it appears to be about as full of life but we may not be able to judge of the town as we saw everything at high tide. Public buildings everywhere abound and they are the pride of the people, but we must not stop to speak of them. Our headquarters were in the Federal building, the Post-office and U. S. court, etc. It is a magnificent structure and we were told that all the best buildings in the city were at the disposal of the Templars.

Tuesday was the great day of the Conclave. The morning opened fair and beautiful, yet it was predicted that there would be rain before night. Our Commandery was ordered out at 7 a.m., one hundred swords, Garvin R. Magoon, eminent commander, and Fred W. Noyes, captain general, escorted by the great military band of the city, we crossed the Monongahela river, and across the city to the Allegheny river, to the grand starting point in the city of Allegheny. At this place we had the privilege of seeing the visiting Sir Knights from all parts of our great country, and as we had to wait for the thousands to get in line for the day's march, we also had the privilege of getting acquainted with quite a number of visitors from other states, and especially from the south. There were supposed and said to be one hundred and thirty bands and by the noise I should think there must have been that number. Our march covered over ten miles in the start to finish, and it was an occasion from first to last. The last time was made in a pouring rain. It is estimated that there must have been 800,000 people from the starting point at Allegheny to the grand stand at Schenley Park. During the march quite a number of men were obliged to fall out of the line.

The electrical displays and the wonderful arrangement into all kinds of devices of our national colors were the wonder of the visitors. Perhaps is the only tea that should be taken into the system. Poor tea is not economical even if it is cheap. Tea that contains injurious adulterations and ingredients is bound to cause trouble sooner or later with the digestive organs.

Chase & Sanborn's Package Teas

are guaranteed pure. They are the best that money can buy, and as they are packed in airtight, leaded forms, adulteration is impossible. One pound makes over 250 cups.

Stop Coughing

Every cough makes your throat more raw and irritable. Every cough congests the lining membrane of your lungs. Cease tearing your throat and lungs in this way. Put the parts at rest and give them a chance to heal. You will need some help to do this, and you will find it in

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

From the first dose the quiet and rest begins the tickling in the throat ceases; the spasm weakens; the cough disappears. Do not wait for pneumonia and consumption but cut short your cold without delay. Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral should be over the lungs of every person troubled with a cough. Write to the Doctor.
