JOHN RODNEY PUTNEY.

One of Antrim's Business Men, Prominent in Odd Fellows Circles, Passes Away.

SELDOM are we called upon in this community to record a death that is more unexpected than was that of John R. Putney, which news came to everyone with great force attended by much sadness.

Mr. Putney had not been in extra good health for some time past but nothing serious was anticipated, tho' he had been confined to his home for about two weeks; Thursday his condition was such that an operation was deemed necessary, and the condition of his system being weak together with a weak heart, he had not the strength to withstand and yielded to the inevitable. Thus a man in the prime of life leaves all that is near and dear to him on this earth and steps out into the great beyond.

On Friday morning, at about half past five, the lamp of life went out, and the sad news that was spread about town seemed hardly credible.

In Odd Fellows circles, where he was known more widely perhaps than elsewhere, he had endeared himself to the brethren in a peculiar manner; a faithful and consistent worker, and did that which was for the best interests of the Order. In 1879 he took his degree in the Subordinate lodge when Waverley lodge was in its infancy, and he lived to see it grow and prosper. He passed the chairs in 1883; in 1887 he was elected recording secretary, and held the office continuously till 1904

Good Roads Progress.

An encouraging condition of things as regards highway improvement under the state law is reported from the office of State Engineer Arthur W. Dean. Last year at this time just two contracts had been let under the law. To-day 46 have been let and 63 more are advertised, with others to follow. In more than 100 towns, it is seen, the work is well under way, while last year only 55 contracts in all were let. This year in three quarters of the cases the selection of the various towns are the contractors for the towns.—Concord Monitor.

Everybody Decorate!

It is the earnest desire that everybody as far as possible decorate their residences and places of business for the celebration on July Fourth, and assist the town in putting on her best holiday attire. Per order,

If you don't take it you ought to—THE ANTRIM REPORTER!

—17 years. In the Grand Lodge he was honored by appointment on committees, being at the time of his death a member of the Odd Fellows Home committee; in 1900 he was grand guardian of the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire. It was largely through his efforts that Mt. Crotched Encampment of this place was granted a charter. For several years he was the very efficient degree master of Hand in Hand Rebekah degree staff, in which he took great interest. In all of these several capacities he will be keenly missed.

For a little more than a year past deceased followed the business of undertaker, having purchased the same of the J. G. Abbott Est. He was also tax collector for the town and precinct.

John Rodney Putney was the son of Rodney and Emily (Barney) Putney, and was born in Marlboro, Mass., December 1, 1857. When young he removed to Hancock, in which schools he received his education. April 11, 1881, he was united in marriage with Nellie Knowlton of Hancock, who is his only survivor. After his residence in Hancock he removed to Antrim where he has since resided; a few years ago he built a new house on corner of Pleasant and High Sts., where he and his wife enjoyed a very pretty and happy home.

The direct cause of Mr. Putney's death was effusion of the lungs, tho' he suffered from a complication of diseases.

Funeral services were held on Monday of this week from the Presbyterian church, following prayers at the house. Rev. W. R. Cochrane, D. D., officiated, being assisted by Rev. William Hurlin. A quartet, composed of Mrs. Nims, Miss Jameson, Mr. Prentiss and Mr. Carpenter, sang beautiful selections. Dr. Cochrane spoke comforting words to the friends, especially to the widow and relatives, in a manner which but few are able to do. Quite a large concourse of people were present; members from the Orders were present in large numbers,—about seventy-five from Waverley lodge and thirty-six from the Rebekahs.

The remains rested in a lovely oak casket, elegantly trimmed and lined, surrounded by a wealth of floral tributes, some of the pieces being handsome beyond description.

Interment was in Maplewood cemetery, to which place Waverley lodge acted as escort, and where the burial service of the Order was read.

At a time like this, when such a thick cloud hangs over the afflicted family, words of sympathy seem inadequate to express the feelings of friends, but slight as this expression is, the widow and relatives are assured that it is sincere; a feeling which contains something of a comforting nature.

Ancient Dress Still Worn.

In the little town of Munsiedel, in Bavaria, there exists one of the most curious charitable foundations in the world. One of the burghers, Christopher Wanner, died in 1451 and left his fortune for the establishment of a home for aged poor. He attached, however, the condition that every old man who was taken in should wear his beard and the same cut of clothes and cap as he himself used to wear; consequently the ancient pensioners are still to be seen wandering about the streets of Munsiedel in the costumes of the fifteenth century.

Imaginary.

"Father," said the little boy, "every now and then I hear you talking about somebody who was old enough to know better."

"Yes, my boy."

"What age is that, father?"

And the old gentleman after some thought replied:

"My son, there isn't any such thing. It's like the golden age—purely mythological."

Multiple Screws.

Multiple screws were used as early as the American civil war on certain vessels known as "tin clads" on the Mississippi, their adoption being necessitated by the shallow draft. The great advantage they possess in securing a vessel against total disablement and for maneuvering soon made them the rule in the navy. They were much longer in coming into use in the merchant service. But since the era of the very large transatlantic steamers, beginning with the Paris and New York and the Teutonic and Majestic, all very large vessels have been built with twin screws.

CLINTON VILLAGE.

Ralph Ollis, who has been clerking for D. B. Dunham the past two years, has resigned his place and moves to Milford this week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Brownell and son, and Miss Currie, will spend the vacation at Buffalo.

Lewis Gove and F. A. Whittemore were at Hillsboro Bridge on Friday last.

Mrs. Kibben was a guest of her daughter one day last week.

Miss Kate Brownell is visiting friends in Keene.

Mrs. Harland Ford and son of the Branch called on friends here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Swett spent Sunday with friends at their former home.

Earl, the youngest son of Geo. Butterfield, was badly burned on one limb by the tipping over of a kettle of hot water.

F. A. Whittemore was at Stoddard on Monday.

CONDEMNED AS FOOD

NEARLY EVERYTHING WORTH EATING HAS BEEN UNDER A BAN.

From the Days of Adam There Has Been Not Only Forbidden Fruit, but Forbidden Meats and Vegetables. The Peculiar Belief of "Totemism."

From the days of Adam and Eve to the present time there has been not only forbidden fruit, but forbidden meats and vegetables. For one reason or another people have resolutely refused to eat any and all kinds of flesh, fish, fowl, fruits and plants. Thus the apple, the pear, the strawberry, the quince, the bean, the onion, the leek, the asparagus, the woodpecker, the pigeon, the goose, the deer, the bear, the turtle and the eel—these, to name only a few eatables, have been avoided as if unwholesome or positively injurious to health and digestion.

As we all know, the Jews have long had a hereditary antipathy to pork. On the other hand, swine's flesh was highly esteemed by the ancient Greeks and Romans. This fact is revealed by the many references to pig as a dainty bit of food. At the great festival held annually in honor of Demeter roast pig was the piece de resistance in the bill of fare because the pig was the sacred animal of Demeter. Aristophanes in "The Frogs" makes one of the characters hint that some of the others "smell of roast pig." These people undoubtedly had been at the festival, known as the Thesmophoria, and had eaten freely of roast pig. Those who took part in another Greek mystery or festival, known as the Eleusinia, abstained from certain food and, above all, from beans.

Again, as we all know, mice are esteemed in China and in some parts of India, but the ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Jews abhorred mice and would not touch mouse meat. Rats and field mice were sacred in old Egypt and were not to be eaten on this account. So, too, in some parts of Greece, the mouse was the sacred animal of Apollo, and mice were fed in his temples. The chosen people were forbidden to eat "the weasel and the mouse and the tortoise after his kind." These came under the designation of unclean.

But people have abstained from eating kinds of flesh which could not be called unclean. For example, the people of Thebes, as Herodotus tells us, abstained from sheep. What is the matter with mutton chops? Then, the ancients used to abstain from certain vegetables. Indeed, the Romans sneered at those Egyptians who did not dare to eat onions, leeks or garlic, and yet the Romans themselves were superstitious about what they ate or what they should avoid eating.

In his "Roman Questions" Plutarch asks, "Why do the Latins abstain strictly from the flesh of the woodpecker?" In order to answer Plutarch's question correctly it is necessary to have some idea of the peculiar custom and belief called "totemism." There is a stage of society in which people claim descent from and kinship with beasts, birds, vegetables and other objects. This object, which is a "totem," or family mark, they religiously abstain from eating. The members of the tribe are divided into clans or stocks, each of which takes the name of some animal, plant or object, as the bear, the buffalo, the woodpecker, the asparagus, and so forth. No member of the bear family would dare to eat bear meat, but he has no objection to eating buffalo steak. Even the marriage law is based on this belief, and no man whose family name is Wolf may marry a woman whose family name is also Wolf.

In a general way it may be said that almost all our food prohibitions spring from the extraordinary custom generally called totemism. Mr. Swan, who was a missionary for many years in the Congo Free State, thus described the custom: "If I were to ask the Yaka people why they do not eat zebra flesh, they would reply, 'mbila'—i. e., 'It is a thing to which we have an antipathy, or, better, it is one of the things which our fathers taught us not to eat.' So it seems the word 'mbila' means 'the people who have an antipathy to the leopard,' the 'mbashambila,' 'those who have an antipathy to the dog' and the 'mbashilanzulu,' 'those who have an antipathy to the elephant.' In other words, the members of these stocks refuse to eat their totems, the zebra, the leopard and the elephant, from which they take their names.

The survival of antipathy to certain foods was found among people as early civilized as the Egyptians, the Greeks and the Romans, quite a list of animals whose flesh was forbidden them has been up. For example, in ancient times sheep could not be eaten in Thebes, nor the goat in Mendes, nor the cat in Bubastis, nor the crocodile in Ombos, nor the rat, which was sacred to Ra, the sun god. However, the records of our people had no scruples about eating the forbidden food of antiquity, and this often led to religious diseases and bad blood.

Among the vegetables tabooed as food by the Egyptians may be mentioned the onion, the garlic and the leek. Lucian says that the inhabitants of Pelusium adored the onion. According to Pliny, the Egyptians used to swear by the leek and the onion. Juvenal pokes fun at those who thought it a sin to eat them. He exclaims, "Surely a very religious nation and a blessed peace where every garden is overrun with gods!"

The survivals of totemism among the ancient Greeks are very interesting. Families named after animals and plants were not uncommon. One Athenian genus, the Ioxidae, had for its ancestral plant the asparagus. We may be sure that this plant was tabooed as food to every man, woman and child of the Ioxidae.—New York Post.

According to the Letter.
 There are some literal minded persons who are never satisfied with the spirit of the law, but who consider it necessary to enter into compromises with the letter. Of such was an old citizen of Hopkinton, N. H., a good many years ago, and his juggling with his conscience is recorded by Mr. Lord in the records of the town.

The old man used to boast that he never went back on his exact word, but had no compunctions in going round it. Once he wished to buy a certain tract of land, and when the owner named the price he exclaimed:

"I won't give it! I tell you I will never give it!"

The owner did not yield nevertheless. A few days afterward the old man called again. He said nothing about the land, but stepped into the owner's barn and picked up a flail.

"What's that?" he asked.

"That? Oh, that's a flail."

"So you call that a flail, do you?"

"Well, what would you take for it?"

The owner named a very small sum.

"Now, I'll tell you what I'll do," continued the old man. "I'll give you the price you mentioned for your land and this flail. And you mustn't forget the flail. It must be included in the deed."

So the legal instrument was duly made out, signed and delivered, recording the purchase of a certain tract of land situated thus and so and bounded as follows, and also a certain flail."

Order.
 Order is a lovely nymph, the child of beauty and wisdom; her attendants are comfort, neatness and activity; her abode is the valley of happiness; she is always to be found when sought for, and never appears so lovely as when compared with her opponent, disorder.
 —Johnson.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Hillsborough.

Your petitioner, Charles H. Kimball of Bennington, in said County, administrator with will annexed of Abby E. Gould, late of Bennington, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that in and by said will it appears to have been the intention of said testator that her executor should sell and dispose of her real estate for the purpose of paying the legacies and bequests named and expressed in said will, but that the words used are deemed insufficient for that purpose. Wherefore he prays that he may have license to sell the following described real estate of said deceased, situated in Bennington, for the purpose and in the manner intended by said testator agreeably to the laws of said State:

A certain tract of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Bennington, bounded and described as follows: Commencing on the west side of the road leading to Hancock opposite Goodell Company's shop, at the northeast corner of the premises at land of Frederick Newton, thence running westerly by said Newton's land to land of Mrs. Sarah Rogers, thence southerly by said Rogers' land to land of Charles Favor, thence easterly by said Favor's land to said highway, thence northerly by said highway to first mentioned bounds, being one-half acre more or less.

Dated the 8th day of June, A.D. 1906.
 CHARLES H. KIMBALL,
 Administrator with will annexed.

Hillsborough, ss. Court of Probate.
 At a Court of Probate holden at Nashua in said County, on the 8th day of June, A.D. 1906.

It is ordered, that a hearing be had on the foregoing petition at a Court of Probate to be holden at Manchester, in said County, on the 17th day of July next, and that the said petitioner give notice to all persons interested in said estate, by causing the said petition and the order thereon, to be published once each week for three successive weeks, in the Antrim Reporter, a newspaper printed at Antrim, in said County, the last publication to be at least seven days before said day of hearing.

By order of the Court,
 E. J. COPP, Register.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Hillsborough, ss. Court of Probate.
 To the heirs at law of the estate of Mary C. Eaton, late of Bennington in said County, deceased, intestate and to all others interested therein:

Whereas Martha J. Baldwin, administratrix of the estate of said deceased, has filed in the Probate office for said County the account of her administration of said estate: You are hereby cited to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Hillsborough in said County, on the 25th day of July next, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

Said administratrix is ordered to serve this citation by causing the same to be published once each week for three successive weeks in the ANTRIM REPORTER a newspaper printed at Antrim in said County, the last publication to be at least seven days before said Court.

Given at Nashua, in said County, this 25th day of June, A.D. 1906.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp Root, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

There is no need worrying along in discomfort because of a disordered digestion. Get a bottle of Kodol for Dyspepsia, and see what it will do for you. Kodol not only digests what you eat and gives that tired stomach a rest, but is a corrective of the greatest efficiency. Kodol relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, flatulence, and sour stomach. Kodol will make your stomach young and healthy again. You will worry just in the proportion that your stomach worries you. Worry means the loss of ability to do your best. Worry is to be avoided at all times. Kodol will take the worry out of your stomach. Sold by Dickey of Antrim and Joslin of Bennington.

An Alarming Situation

frequently results from neglect of clogged bowels and torpid liver, until constipation becomes chronic. This condition is unknown to those who use Dr. King's New Life Pills; the best and gentlest regulators of Stomach and Bowels. Guaranteed by Dickey the druggist. Price 25c.

Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flutters, palpitates, skips beats; and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress, such as smothering spells, short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure makes a heart strong and vigorous by strengthening these nerves and muscles.

"I had palpitation and pain around my heart, and the doctors said it was incurable. I don't believe it now, for after taking six bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, three bottles of the Nervine and three boxes of the Nerve and Liver Pills I am entirely cured, and feel better than I have for five years, and it is all due to these remedies. I want you to know that your medicines cured me. It relieved me from the first dose, and I kept right on till the pain in my chest was gone, and I kept on feeling better even after I quit taking it." JOHN H. SHERMAN, Belding, Mich.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

Mr. Addicks may be politically dead, for he continues to make a noise like a defeated candidate.

Some of the trusts are now wondering if they could have fared much worse had some other candidate been elected president.

John D. Rockefeller claims to have left the Standard Oil Company twelve years ago, but there is still a remarkable similarity in the thumb-marks.

It is reported from Pass Christian that an angler has landed a sea-bass 8 feet 2 1/2 inches long. How realistic that half inch sounds in the measurement.

Senator Bailey says that the next anti-trust law will have iron teeth, which merely indicates that the corporations will provide themselves with chrome-steel trousers.

A dispatch stated that the Norfolk & Western has reduced the rate on coal. In keeping with this, the proper time to learn of a reduction of the rate on ice would be about next December.

The children of a Kentucky man complain that a medium with the aid of alleged spirits, dictated their father's will. This seems perfectly in keeping as he was the owner of a distillery.

And now there is complaint because Mr. Hearst is refusing to take part in the Bryan reception. It is a little hard to expect a man to soap his own doorstep and pay for the soap at the same time.

As has been previously stated, now that the government has decided to shoulder the cost of meat inspection, the packers will first deduct it from the cost of the cattle and then add it to the price of steaks.

Library of Vacation Literature Sent For Postage

In this busy period of the world's progress, when commercial enterprise and business of all kinds require the attention and energy from day to day of the people who go to make up the population of a large city, it is absolutely necessary that a week or two each year should be devoted to recuperation and rest. The Boston & Maine R. R. acts as the guide, advance agent, director and selector in the vacation business. The Railroad has a comprehensive bureau of summer literature. It comprises eleven descriptive booklets, beautifully illustrated, which tell in detail the attractions of all Northern New England. They include:

Lakes and Streams.
Among the Mountains.
All Along Shore.
Vacation Days in Southern N. H.
Merrimac Valley.
Fish and Game Country.
Valley of the Connecticut and No. Vermont.
Lake Memphemagog and About There.
Lake Sunapee.
Central Massachusetts.
The Hoosac Country and Deerfield Valley.

Two cents in stamps for any one of the above booklets.

Resorts for the Vacationist Illustrated.

Excursion Rates and Tours 1906.

Both the above books sent free upon receipt of address.

Bird's Eye View of Lake Winnepesaukee.

Bird's Eye View of the White Mountains.

Either one of the above books sent upon receipt of six cents in stamps and six beautiful portfolios, with half tone reproductions, size six by four, sent upon receipt of thirty-six cents in stamps, six cents for each book entitled as follows:

Lakes of New England.
Rivers of New England.
Seashores of New England.
Mountains of New England.
Picturesque New England.
The Charles River to the Hudson.
General Passenger Department.

A Novel Athletic Contest.

The 220 yard Straightaway race is a standard at all athletic meets. But a 220 yard straightaway run throughout under the roof of a single building is something new in sports. Such a race has just been decided at the Remington Typewriter factory at Ilion in connection with the annual athletic sports of Remington factory employees. The race was for a gold medal presented by one of the officers of the company and was run in heats in the centre aisle of the fourth floor of the Main Building of the factory. As this building is 800 feet long there was plenty of room for the 220 yard straightaway course with more room to spare.

The final heat was won by Paul J. Risedorf—time 24 seconds. This race will hereafter be an annual feature and each year a gold medal will be presented to the victor.

It is reported that Mrs. Mention has sold her interest in the Chamberlain place to Mr. Winters, a son-in-law of Charles Wilson.

The Swinton silver wedding was a great success as well as a very enjoyable occasion. There were many nice gifts, including a chamber set, two easy chairs and two rugs from Lyndeboro friends; $25.00 from her father, E. C. Curtis; book case from Wilton friends and many individual gifts.

IN HIGH LATITUDES.

Where You Can Read Late at Night Without Artificial Light.

I have, on the Limford, in Denmark, latitude 57 degrees, read the newspaper in my bedroom at 10:30 p. m. without the aid of a candle. While I read the villagers played skittles in the alley under my window, and beyond the hoary chestnut trees of the garden, with clots of starlings on their bare top boughs, the sky was still crimson and gold in the west, with the long, woolly lines of vapor only just beginning to swathe the land like a blanket. On the other side of the inn the traffic was as vigorous then as at noonday. Carriers' carts creaked up to the door, and dray loads of squeaking pigs made other music than the lark's. Double chaises, with cushions of red or green velvet and half a dozen happy villagers to each (the men all with great china bowled pipes in their mouths), swung lazily by, raising a dust, and the lowing of troubled cows and calves came as much from the road as from the illimitable meadow beyond attached to the historical old manor house (now a mere dairy farm), whose buildings were quite concealed by the tall trees that girdle them.

The inn damsels, sewing girls, kitchen maids, the daughters of the house and a friend or two had now set aside all the cares of the day and were rolling each other about on the dewy grass under the chestnut trees like so many lambskins, and the landlady with the immeasurable waist, who by day held all the maids leashed to their respective tasks with inflexible yet not unkind severity, stood in the doorway, with her rat beringed fingers in her yielding sides and disturbed the starlings periodically with her stentorian peals of laughter at the antics of her dependents. Yet at 5 o'clock the next morning, with her own rhadamanthine hand, she will pull the bellows that shall waken each lass, and by 6 the establishment will be again in a normal state of activity. As for the worthy landlady, he is haying until 11 p. m., and it will be odd if he is not up before his dame wakes every soul in the house with her call bell.—Cornhill Magazine.

A GOOD ACTOR.

How a Famous French Advocate Won a Hopeless Murder Case.

Maitre Lachand, the famous advocate, was perhaps the greatest master of comedy in France, and not a few eminent actors envied him his marvelous powers of mimicry. He was once employed to defend a murderer, against whom the facts were hopelessly clear.

When his pathetic appeals and his tears—which were always at call when he pleaded before a country jury—failed to touch his stolid audience, he resorted to the most impudent piece of trickery. Thrusting his moistened white handkerchief into his pocket, he demanded if the jurors were men, if they had human hearts, if they could bring themselves to condemn a fellow man like the accused, whom he had credited with all sorts of chivalrous if not saintly merits.

His eloquence was not merely fruitless, but the jury responded to it at first with uneasy shuffling, then with biting lips, and finally with loud and uncontrolled bursts of laughter. Lachand, while flinching about his hands, had intentionally dipped his fingers into the great inkpot in front of him, and as he drew his right hand across his forehead, as if in agony of despair at the certain fate of the accused, he left upon his brow an enormous black mark like a crescent moon and drew two other black traces down his cheeks as he put his fingers to his eyes to dash away the tears.

Feeling high moral indignation at their conduct, he continued: "You are about to decide whether one of your fellow men shall be thrust by you out of the ranks of the living, and you choose such a moment for indulging in cruel and thoughtless laughter. Is this extravagant mirth a fitting mood in which to decide whether a man shall or shall not die?"

The argument actually told upon the jury. The man was acquitted.—Paris Journal.

About the Latest Styles in Decorating, Painting and Paper Hanging.

He has certainly had the opportunity, as he has traveled about all over the United States in the past three years, and has worked in some of the largest Hotels of Florida, Fine Residences and Apartments in Washington, New York, and other cities East and West. It seems to be the prevailing style to use flat or dead coats for all inside painting, except for kitchens and walls where a great amount of wear comes; Varnish flared Paints are used and they wear well and clean well. For hardwood finishing, everything is rubbed to a dead finish for best work. In Washington and New York about every room is papered. MOIRE is the most popular Ceiling Paper and it is made in shades to match all papers. The two-thirds effect seems to lead for Dining Rooms, Living Rooms, Libraries and Chambers, with Picture Moulding in angles or dropped ceilings, chair rail, plate rail or photo rail. There is no end of variety in Wall Papers this year. Call and see samples, or we will bring them to your home if you will send a postal card. Don't buy Borders by the yard, a roll of Border costs you no more than a roll of Paper. Don't let anybody put anything but lime on your whitewashed ceilings. Don't let anyone paint your walls without stippling them. If you are discouraged with your Varnished Floors, try waxing them. We will be pleased to estimate and give you bottom prices for Painting Your House, Your Carriages, Your Signs, or Your Furniture.

We shall hang Wall Paper, trim both edges, butted or catch-lapped for 15 cents roll, ceiling or side wall; one edge trimmed, 12½ cents roll. PLANETARY VITALITY.

Earthquakes Can Take Place Only on Living Globes.

A moonquake is now unthinkable, because the moon is as dead as a door-nail. Our satellite is "ever foreshadowing our own ultimate doom, like the mummy at Egyptian banquets," but in the meantime, if the Edinburgh Review has correctly conceived the teachings of seismology, the inhabitants of earth may console themselves for the havoc wrought through earthquakes by reflecting that they demonstrate the vitality of our planet. In that distant past when the moon actually quaked there may—some scientists declare there must—have been forms of animation upon its surface. "Though the moon, by reason of its smaller size, was bound to lose its atmosphere, it must have taken millions of years to do so, and there may have been time for the cycle of life, from the primeval germ up to sentient beings and down again to the hardiest lingering plant cells, to run its full circle." The writer in the Edinburgh Review continues to develop his line of thought:

"Earthquakes are a sign of planetary vitality. They would seem to be characteristic of the terrestrial phase of development. Effete globes like the moon can scarcely be subject to the stress to which they are due, nor can they be very suitably constituted for the propagation of elastic waves. Inchoate worlds, such as Jupiter and Saturn, are still less likely to be the scenes of reverberating concussions. Their materials have not yet acquired the necessary cohesion. They are pasty or fluid, if not partially vaporous. On the earth the seismic epoch presumably opened when, exterior solidification having commenced, the geological ages began to run. It will last so long as peaks crumble and rivers carry sediment, so long as the areal distribution of loads fluctuates and strains evoke forces adequate for their catastrophic relief.

"Our globe is by its elasticity kept habitable. The separation of sea from dry land is thus and not otherwise maintained. The alternations of elevation and subsidence manifest the continual activity of this reserve of energy. The dimensions of the globe we inhabit depend upon the balance of pressure and expansiveness. Relaxation or enhancement of either instantly occasions a heaving inward or an arching outward of the crust. Just by these sensitive reactions the planet itself shows itself to be alive, and seismic thrillings are the breaths it draws."—Current Literature.

Early and Late Easters.

Easter Sunday cannot happen earlier than March 22 or later than April 25, but between these two dates it has a range of thirty-five days. At the time of the council of Nice, 325 A. D., it was agreed by the representatives present that from that time forward Easter should fall on the first Sunday after the full moon occurring on or next after March 21, or, in other words, "on the first Sunday after the first full moon after the sun crosses the line." Since the above arrangement was adopted by the great ecclesiastical council referred to Easter has fallen on March 22 and on every date between that and April 25, but it is only after long intervals of time that it occurs on its extreme dates. In 1880 Easter fell on April 25, its latest possible date, an event which will not again occur until the spring of 1943. The last time Easter fell on its earliest date was in 1818. This will not happen again until after this century.

Failure.

"Very frequently," says a New York lawyer, "there is an element of unconscious humor in the findings of a jury. To my mind, the best I ever heard in this connection was the verdict brought in by a coroner's jury in Michigan, who were called upon to pass upon the case of the sudden death of a merchant in Lansing.

"The finding was as follows: 'We, the jury, find from the physician's statement that the deceased came to his death from heart failure, superinduced by business failure, which was caused by speculation failure, which was the result of failure to see far enough ahead.'"—Harper's Weekly.

The Thermometer Habit.

The clinical thermometer habit has taken such a hold on many persons that one physician has forbidden his patients to have them on pain of refusing to treat them if they disobey. The clinical thermometer fiend is a person who keeps one of these medical registers in the house and the instant that he, more often she, has a headache, real or imaginary, thrusts the tube under her tongue and takes her temperature. Finding it varying one millionth part of a degree from normal, she thinks she is about to have some deadly illness, packs off to bed and sends for the doctor.

Good Temper.

Good temper is the most contented, the most comfortable, state of the soul; the greatest happiness both for those who possess it and for those who feel its influence. With gentleness in his own character, comfort in his home and good temper in his wife the earthly felicity of man is complete.—Anon.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Color Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1638 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Col., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham: For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope. I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size. The Compound continued to build up my general health, and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

Special Notice!

All firing of crackers or high explosives during the Parade on the morning of July 4th is strictly forbidden. Per order, Arrow Shields.

The other day I saw a little, modern book, in a green cover, on a table in a drawing room. I picked it up. It was about the early French in Canada, and my eye fell on a copy of a drawing by their leader, Champlain, or Champlain. The scene represented was an attack by the native allies of the French, the Algonquians on a fort held by Iroquois. The Algonquians advanced through showers of arrows under shields nearly as tall as themselves, like doors with rounded tops. Now, you may see exactly the same sort of shields in a picture of a lion hunt, inlaid in gold and silver, on the bronze blade of a dagger found by Dr. Schliemann in "the grave of Agamemnon." These monstrous Mycenaean shields caused much discussion among the learned. Why were they so huge? The Algonquians used the very same shields, hung from their necks, and the reason was the same—their battles were battles of archers, and nobody can parry a shower of arrows with a smaller shield. Shields grew small in Greece as bow and arrow went out and sword and spear came in.—London Illustrated News.

The Fiddle Drill.

The "fiddle drill" is one of the oldest stonecutting tools in existence. It is said to antedate Greek sculpture and is in use today in about the same form as it was 2,000 years ago. As its name implies, its action resembles a fiddle. The drill is of two pieces. In one hand a carver holds the drill stock, which is like a carpenter's brace, except that it is straight instead of having a crank. In the other hand he holds the "bow," which is strung with a brass wire and which is given a turn around the drill stock. To use the drill the carver places the drill stock against his breast, holding it with his left hand, and with his right he draws the bow back and forth, fiddle fashion. This imparts a rotary motion to the drill stock, and the drill is ground to cut in either way it turns. The fiddle drill is used in the finest work, in crevices where the sculptor could not reach with his chisel and hammer without endangering the carving.

The New Red Cross.

The recent annual meeting of the reorganized American National Red Cross calls attention anew to this important and worthy association for the relief of suffering caused by calamity. By an act of congress approved Jan. 5, 1905, the old society built up by Clara Barton was newly organized and incorporated and brought under government supervision. The special purposes of the organization are:

To furnish volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of armies in time of war, in accordance with the spirit and conditions of the Geneva convention.

To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great national calamities.

The term Red Cross societies applies to all societies for assisting the wounded in time of war, many nations having established such as a result of an international convention held at Geneva in 1863. At present the United States appears to be very near the bottom of the list in point of equipment, activity and interest, and other nations, like Austro-Hungary, Germany, Japan and even Russia, count their enrolled nurses by thousands where ours may be reckoned in hundreds if not in scores. In most countries membership in a Red Cross society is deemed an honor. In this country it costs but $1 a year, and a life membership may be had for $25. The accounts of the society under the new charter are audited by an officer of the war department.

The Answer.

"Why should we cast our bread on the waters?" asked the Sabbath school teacher.

"Because dey'll arrest yonse for 'trowin' scraps in de street," was the knowing response of little Mickey Flynn.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Principle of the Hinge.

The principle of the hinge is seen in almost every joint in the animal kingdom. No animal is without a hinge joint somewhere or other in its anatomy.

The Morning Star.

The morning star, an iron ball studded with spikes and fastened by means of a chain to a short handle, was much used in mediaeval times as a military weapon. It was exceedingly formidable, for when thrown it could not easily be avoided or dodged, the chain permitting it to curve around the arm or over the shield. It was confessedly modeled after a common cactus which grows in every part of Italy.

An Unusual Event.

"Yes, I sent my uncle a telegram on Wednesday to say I was coming. I wonder if he received it." "I reckon he didn't, cos I seen him this mornin', an' he didn't brag about no telegram."—Brooklyn Life.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

The importance of knowing just what to do when one has kidney disease or urinary troubles, is best answered by the following letter which was recently published in the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., News-Press: MILLERSON, Dutchess Co., N. Y.

"Dr. David Kennedy, Dear Sir:—For more than eighteen months I was so badly afflicted with kidney trouble I could scarcely walk a quarter of a mile without almost fainting. I did not gain any until I began to use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. After using the first bottle I noticed a decided improvement which continued, and I know that saved my life, for I was in a miserable condition up to the time I began to take it—my friends thought I never would be better. My sister also has been very sick with bladder trouble for over a year, so bad that quantities of blood would come from her. She suffered at times most frightful pain, and nothing seemed to help her until she began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. She is now using her third bottle, and is like a different person."

MRS. THOMAS DYE.
