TRADE MARK

CURES RHEUMATISM LUMBAGO, SCIATICA NEURALGIA and KIDNEY TROUBLE

"S-DROPS" taken internally, ride the blood of the poisonous matter and acids which are the direct causes of these diseases. Applied externally it affords almost instant relief from pain, while a permanent cure is being effected by purifying the blood, dissolving the poisonous substance and removing it from the system.

DR. S. D. BLAND
Of Brewton, Ga., writes:
"I had been a sufferer for a number of years with Lumbago and Rheumatism in my legs and feet, and tried all the remedies that I could gather from medical works, and also consulted with a number of the best physicians, but found nothing that gave the relief obtained from 'S-DROPS.' I shall prescribe it in my practice for rheumatism and kindred diseases."

FREE

If you are suffering with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble or any kindred disease, write to us for a trial bottle of "S-DROPS," and test it yourself.

"S-DROPS" can be used any length of time without acquiring a "drug habit," as it is entirely free of opium, cocaine, alcohol, laudanum, and other similar ingredients.

Weather Proverbs for August and September.

As August, so the next February. When the dew is heavy in August the weather generally remains fair. When in the beginning of August thunder storms are passing, they will generally last to the end of the month.

If the first week in August is unusually warm, the winter will be white and long. When in August the sun shines warm, moon and stars are bright, it is good for grapes, because they ripen well.

When it rains in August it rains honey and wine.

When the months of July, August, and September are unusually hot, January will be the coldest month.

As September, so the coming March. September rain is much liked by the farmer.

September rain is good for crops and vines.

Is the autumn warm, bright and clear. We may expect a fertile year.

Fair on the first of September, fair the entire month.

When a cold spell occurs in September and passes without a frost, a frost will not occur until the same time in October.

Thunder in September indicates a good crop of grain and fruit for next year.

If the storms in September clear off warm, all the storms of the following winter will be warm.

THE BLUEBEARD STORY.

It Has a Mythical Rather Than a Mythological Origin.

The fascinating story of Bluebeard has a mythical rather than a mythological origin. No one has found his prototype in the Vedas or in the old Greek or Roman authors. The story is supposed to be of French origin, and it has even been suggested that Bluebeard was no other than the much married Henry VIII. There is, however, better reason for believing that the original was Gilles de Laval, lord of Riaz, who was marshal of France early in the fifteenth century. He was a brave soldier whose exploits in the wars between England and France are recorded in history. According to Mizeray, he murdered his wives as soon as he tired of them, and was himself eventually strangled in 1440.

The story of Laval has, however, not many points of resemblance, for there is no mention of a key, and Gilles de Laval, moreover, used to entice persons of both sexes to his castle for the sake of their blood, which he wanted for certain incantations he indulged in. Nor, indeed, does the story fit in with our own Henry VIII, and we are left to believe that, whatever the origin, the key and Sister Ann were added for the sake of effect. A variant of the story of Gilles de Laval is told by Holinshed, in whose version the name is Gilles de Retz, Marquis de Laval, who lived in Brittany, and was strangled and burned for the murder of his seven wives. Dr. C. Taylor, it may be added, regarded the story simply as fiction, a satire on or type of the castle lords of the days of knight errantry.—London Globe.

OAK AND PINE.

The Value and Usefulness of These Classes of Woods.

Though generally assumed that oak is the wood capable of being put to the greatest variety of uses, it is known, as a matter of fact, that the pine is really the most used, on account of its great abundance. Nevertheless, the timber of the oak combines in itself the essential elements of strength and durability, hardness and elasticity in a degree which no other tree can boast, unrivalled as a material of shipbuilding, also superior in architecture, cabinetmaking, carving, mill work, cooperage and innumerable other purposes, while the bark is of great value as furnishing tan and yielding a bitter extract in continual demand for medicinal purposes. But of uses for the pine details would be well nigh endless. The timber is invaluable in houses and ship carpentry; common turpentine is extracted from it in vast quantities and immense supplies of tar, pitch, resin and lampblack, in the manufacture of matches, and, above all, paper pulp, thousands and tens of thousands of acres of pine forests are cut down every year, and, briefly, the timber of this tree, constituting as it does the chief material of English and American builders, may be said to be more used than all other kinds of wood put together.

Tried the Effect of a Title.

Among the neighbors who annoyed Carlyle none perhaps gave him so much trouble as the boys who played about near his house. They made no secret of their dislike of the philosopher and stood in dread of his stick when he went abroad. James Waylen, who did a great part of the research for the "Cromwell," and who was at Carlyle's house almost daily, was one morning standing on the doorstep of the house in Cheyne row waiting to be let in when one of these young urchins came up to him in a deferential manner, and, touching his cap, said: "Please, sir, would you ask Lord Carlyle to give me my top? It's tumbled down his airer." During the morning's work Carlyle and Waylen chuckled together over the conciliatory title which the lad had created for his enemy.

An Uncanny Plant.

On the shores of Lake Nicaragua is to be found an uncanny product of the vegetable kingdom known among the natives by the expressive name of "the devil's nose." Dunstan, the naturalist, discovered it while wandering on the shores of the lake. Attracted by cries of pain and terror from his dog he found the animal held by black, sticky bands, which had chafed the skin to bleeding point. These bands were branches of a newly discovered carnivorous plant, which has been aptly named the "land octopus." The branches are flexible, black, polished, without leaves, and secrete a viscid fluid.

Where Total Eclipses Are Rare.

It is a fact well known to astronomers that the average number of total and partial eclipses in any one year is four; that the maximum is seven and the minimum two. Where only two occur they are always both of the sun. There are a great many more eclipses of the sun in the course of a year or a hundred years than there are of the moon. This fact notwithstanding, however, London, the metropolis of the world, seems to be a place where such obstructions to the sun's light seldom occur.

DR. OIDS CURE CONSTIPATION.

Dr. Oids' famous Prescription permanently cures Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache. Price 25 Cents.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest of its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

FRANCESTOWN.

OLD HOME DAY.

Tuesday, old home day, the people gathered from far and near to once again renew old acquaintance and honor the town of their birth.

The Academy was beautifully trimmed with flags and bunting around and over the doors, and the words "Old Home Day" forming a half circle with the word "Welcome" enclosed within.

A bountiful dinner was served to more than two hundred and a royal good time was enjoyed by every one. Much credit is due to the ladies who successfully planned and served dinner to so many. After every one present had been served with dinner, a procession was formed and the march taken the church where the old home week celebration program was successfully carried out.

President of the association, Geo. R. Smith, presided over the meeting, and he also acted as toastmaster. Letters from absent townspeople and natives of this place were read by the secretary of the association, Rev. H. R. Hubbard. The first toast was to the clergy of Francestown and was responded to by Rev. Oscar Smith, pastor of the Congregational church; the second toast was to the ladies of Francestown, responded to by Mrs. E. W. Colburn; music was then finely rendered by the Pettee family; the last toast was to homes of Old and New England, responded to by A. J. George of Newton, Mass.

The meeting closed by singing "America," by the audience. In the evening, Fred Kendall, an entertainer from Boston, Mass., gave readings and vocal music. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social manner.

This closed the pleasures of old home week of 1906, with only discomfort of a shower to go home in in the afternoon.

You know them; they are numerous, and make their presence felt everywhere. The names of the family are Headache, Toothache, Earache, Backache, Stomach ache, Neuralgia, etc. They are sentinels that warn you of any derangement of your system. When the brain nerves become exhausted or irritated, Headache makes you miserable; if the stomach nerves are weak, indigestion results, and you double up with pain, and if the more prominent nerves are affected, Neuralgia simply makes life unendurable. are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

The Old Home.

It is safe to say that with all of us, however busy we may be, at times the reflective powers turn homeward,—to the homes of our youth; and what more pleasant memories can be recalled than where care-free we roamed the fields of our youth and attended school a few short months in the year! Occasionally it is a great pleasure to return to these scenes, and then only do we realize "How dear to our hearts are the scenes of our childhood." It is well that the Old Home spirit is being so developed in all New England,—“Old Home Day” has come to be an occasion to look forward to and also to look back upon; the pleasures of anticipation and realization are about equal in this one case.

While Antrim this year did not specially observe the day, yet there have been many pleasant old home gatherings within her borders. Some of the nearby towns that observed the day in a special manner, and their way of doing it, are briefly noted herewith.

With undiminished interest Hancock, on Tuesday last, held its 25th old-home gathering, with a very large return of absent sons and daughters. The Wachuset orchestra of Hillsboro furnished music for the several reunions held in the grove near the church. Pres. W. C. Goodhue presided at the literary exercises, which included a poem by Charles B. Pearson of Brooklyn, an oration by Rev. H. A. Coolidge of Granville, Mass., and brief addresses by George F. Weston of Providence, Charles B. Pearson of Brooklyn, David B. Hills of Columbus, F. B. Richards of Lyndeboro and Dr. W. H. Weston of New York. There were ball games in the morning and afternoon.

Henniker's old-home celebration, Tuesday last, was a complete success. The townspeople entered into the spirit of the day a little more generously than ever before, and the number of sons and daughters at home from far-away places was greater than on any previous year.

Members of Co. C., of the 16th N. H. volunteers who served in the civil war, held their 43d anniversary of the muster out of the regiment, Tuesday, in the W. R. C. hall, Wilton. The meeting was called to order by Capt. Aaron A. Clark, and routine business was disposed of during the forenoon.

The spirit of old-home week was predominant in Franconstown, Tuesday, and the best celebration since the inception of the annual event took place. Fully 200 persons were served dinner in the town hall, after which adjournment was to the church, where the old home week celebration program was successfully carried out.

The old-home spirit is on in Deering in earnest, and a goodly number of former townspeople enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. The past year's observances have done much to interest, and this year's day has eclipsed all others. The social part of the program is the most important here and beside the literary part, the hours spent in entertaining guests and visitors makes of it an occasion for all to remember.

The firing of a sunrise salute ushered in the exercises of Old Home day at Peterboro on Thursday. Two ball games were played by Peterboro and Keene, both games being won by the home team. Basket lunch was served at noon. The principal feature of the day was a fireman's reunion and

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

parade. In addition, these exercises were held in the hall: Prayer, Rev. Arthur A. Blair of Oldtown, Me.; address of welcome, President James F. Brennan; selection, grange choir, historical sketch, Col. Charles Scott; selection, grange choir; reading, "Some Important Fires of the Past in Peterborough;" selection, grange choir; remarks by Gen. Ira Cross of Nashua and Elias H. Cheney of Lebanon. The firing of a salute at sunset, band concert and fireworks closed the most successful Old Home day this town has ever enjoyed.

On Saturday evening of this week the Republican delegate caucus will be held, and a large number of the voters of the town should be present, especially in the light of recent events when so much has been said about the way things are being managed in the state. While it is impossible to make everyone believe "things are going to the dogs"—at a time when the Old Granite State is enjoying prosperity in all her affairs, not to go into matters in detail and mention her educational system, good roads movement, and various other steps in advance—it is the solemn duty of every voter to attend the primaries and select such men as they wish to represent them at the several conventions. This is important and should be attended to. The caucus is the place to do the talking, voting, kicking, etc., and afterwards get down to work. It is hoped that a large gathering will be in attendance on Saturday evening.

THE REPORTER, always claiming to be independent but not neutral, seldom states in so many words who it favors on occasions like this. However, in some respects this is an unusual time, and after looking into the matter somewhat has decided in favor of HON. CHARLES M. FLOYD of Manchester, whom it wishes to see receive the nomination for governor of New Hampshire; and hopes the delegates selected Saturday evening will consider him the best man for the position, after having satisfied themselves on all points at issue.

At a meeting of the democratic state committee in Concord last Tuesday night, it was decided to hold the state convention at Phoenix hall, Concord, Tuesday, Sept. 25; second congressional, immediately following state convention; third councillor, court house, Keene, Thursday, Sept. 27; eighth senatorial, Town hall, Antrim, Thursday, Sept. 27; Hillsborough county, City hall, Nashua, Thursday, Sept. 27.

"Jethro Pass" was a level-headed, far-seeing politician; if one has his ear to the ground a short time he will discover that there are a few of this kind still "on earth."

Thursday's Shower.

The extreme heat of a few days the first of last week was broken by showers on Thursday when lots of water fell, and considerable electricity was in the air. The shower clouds run low and lightning had great attraction to the earth; several places in this and surrounding towns were visited by bolts of lightning. In Antrim no great damage was done, altho' the house and barn of George E. Hastings in the village were struck, only slightly however; the residence of Samuel Holt on Holt hill was struck and a chimney as well as some other things were generally upset; a tree was struck near railroad station; at Deering, a farm house is reported to have been struck and burned. In Hancock the buildings of Joel Gates near the Peterboro line, were struck by lightning, and the barn and carriage house were destroyed with contents to the value of $800; the house was saved. The Silas Green buildings on Bagley hill, Sharon, were burned to the ground. The loss is placed at $1000.

Prof. Tyler, of Amherst college, said recently: "A man can live comfortably without brains; no man ever existed without a digestive system. The dyspeptic has neither faith, hope or charity." Day by day the people realize the importance of caring for their digestion; realize the need of the use of a little corrective after over-eating. A corrective like Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by Dickey of Antrim and Joslin of Bennington.

Permanent Roads.

Soon a certain section of our Main street will be torn up to allow workmen to remodel the old street into a new one, and which it is hoped in every sense will be what the word implies, a permanent road. Delay has been unavoidable, and at last the details are practically completed, in a very short time it is expected that the machinery and workmen will be on the ground ready for business. It is the intention and desire of the Selectmen and Road Agent to rush this work through as fast as possible, that no one will be inconvenienced beyond what is absolutely necessary; it is certainly hoped that the fond anticipations of many will be realized in this new piece of permanent state-town road.

A world of truth in a few words: Nearly all other cough cures are constipating, especially those containing opiates. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar moves the bowels. Contains no opiates. You can get it at Dickey's, Antrim and Joslin's, Bennington.

The editor of this paper has a warm place in his heart for the friends who bring or send in news items. It is the desire of this paper to give all the news all the time and those who lend us their assistance to that end have our unbounded gratitude.

CLINTON VILLAGE.

The annual reunion of the Dutton family was held at Greenfield Aug. 15 seventy-one being present coming from Hubbard-ton, Mass., Wilton, Nashua, Keene, Marlboro, Gilsam, Hancock, Bennington, Peterboro, Deering and Antrim. It is a day eagerly looked forward to; all hope to meet another year with no missing ones.

Two heavy thunder showers on Thursday revived vegetation.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Butterfield and Max attended the ball game at Hillsboro on Saturday.

Mrs. Geo. Butterfield and sons are visiting at Marlboro, Keene, and other places for a few days.

Mrs. Mary Sawyer and C. L. Holt and family spent Sunday with friends at Deering.

Mies May Holt is not as well.

DO THE RIGHT THING if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas common "remedies" made with mercury merely drive them out and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real cure, not a delusion. All druggists, 50c., or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

General Secretary Marion Lawrance the great leader of organized Sunday-School work in North America, will attend the convention of the New Hampshire Sunday-School Association to be held in the new Congregational church at Laconia, Oct. 30, 31, and Nov. 1. Mrs. Clara Hamilton Reed, a specialist in primary work, and Mr. W. C. King, a leader in home department work, will also address the convention. Secretary Lawrance has a world-wide reputation and his addresses and conferences will be helpful to New Hampshire workers.

SOUTH LYNDEBORO.

[Deferred from last week.]

Hot and getting very dry.

Blueberries and blackberries are still plenty.

Mr. Beals' brother and family are visiting him.

Mrs. John Hartshorn and daughter are at his father's.

The prayer meeting Sunday night was an out of doors meeting and was at Mrs. Dale's.

Prof. W. N. Donovan supplied the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday in the absence of his father, who preached at Springfield, this state. They are observing "Old Home Week." Mrs. Donovan is a native of Springfield.

Rev. Mr. Dodge has resigned the pastorate at the centre and goes to N. Y. sometime in November.

Mrs. Mary Jane Curtis met with quite a serious accident recently. She was going across the room with a mixing bowl in her hand when she slipped and fell, breaking the bowl. She put her shoulder out of joint and cut her face quite badly on the broken bowl. Her daughter, Aggie, was at home and she took hold and set the shoulder. Later they called Miss Rice of Wilton; it was found she had also broken some of her ribs. I think she is comfortable as could be expected.

In Self Defence

There is nothing so pleasant as that bright, cheerful at-peace-with-the-world feeling when you sit down to your breakfast. There is nothing so conducive to good work and good results. The healthy man with a healthy mind and body is a better fellow, a better workman, a better citizen than the man or woman who is handicapped by some disability, however slight. A slight disorder of the stomach will derange your body, your thoughts and your disposition. Get away from the morbidness and the blues. Keep your stomach in tune and both your brain and body will respond. Little indiscretions of over-eating can be easily corrected and you will be surprised to see how much better man you are. Try a little Kodol For Dyspepsia after your meals. Sold by Dickey of Antrim and Joslin of Bennington.

State Trade Report.

Reports received by Bradstreet's show that manufacturing conditions are good in all sections and nearly all manufactories complain of a shortage of help; difficulties are being had in practically all sections in securing labor of any kind and there is no reason why anyone should not be at work. Retail trade is quiet in the larger places and it is not expected it will start up until after the vacation period is over. Wholesale trade is fairly good and fall goods are being shipped in considerable quantities. At the summer resorts there is an unusually large number of guests and trains going both ways are loaded.

The mills and other industries of Nashua were never more busy at this season of the year and every indication points to a brisk fall and winter business; retail trade holds quiet and wholesale trade is only fair.

Keene reports business of every kind good and labor in demand. The resorts in this vicinity are having more guests than ever before known. Crops are coming along well.

The mills at Manchester are unable to obtain enough help, and all other industries are busy; some are working overtime to fill their orders.

Concord reports all manufactories busy, retail trade fair for the season and a demand for all kinds of labor.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Resolutions

On Death of Mrs. John A. Bryer, adopted by Hand in Hand Lodge of Rebekahs.

Whereas, the Great and Supreme Ruler of the Universe has in his infinite wisdom removed from our midst our beloved sister, Deemie E. Bryer, therefore be it

Resolved, That Hand in Hand Rebekah Lodge, No. 29, has lost an earnest charter member, and her kind deeds and smiling cordiality will be lovingly remembered.

Resolved, That in the call of our sister, we are impressed with the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death, and it behooves us to be in readiness to receive the summons as our departed sister was.

Resolved, That in obedience to the principles of Odd Fellowship, we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband in the hour of his distress, praying that God of all grace and comfort may support and sustain him.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be noted upon the records of our lodge, a copy printed in the local paper, and a copy forwarded to the husband.

GRAVEL CURED

(Philadelphia, Penn., Item.)
A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2437 North 8th St., Philadelphia, could not be found in a day's search. The fact that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.
Several years ago he began to suffer indescribable miseries from stone in the bladder. An eminent physician in Philadelphia told him that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind, he heard of

Although disheartened, he bought a bottle of it, and within a month had experienced beneficial results, and before he had finished the third bottle, the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings at an end.
Mr. Neill feels that he owes a lasting debt of gratitude to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N.Y., and for disorders of the bladder and urinary organs. He says: "It will effect a cure if one is possible."
Favorite Remedy is prescribed with unfailing success for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, and nerve troubles in which it has cured many that were considered beyond the aid of medicine. All druggists, $1.

THE ANCIENT INCAS.

They Knew Neither Idleness Nor Riches Nor Poverty.

The flocks of llamas belonged to the sun and the Inca. It was death to kill one. At certain seasons of the year they were collected from the hills and shorn. Large numbers were sent to supply food for the court and to be used at the religious festivals and sacrifices. Male llamas only were killed. The wool belonged to the Inca and was stored in the government depositories and dealt out according as the people's wants required. In this way they were provided with warm clothing. When they had worked up enough wool into clothing for themselves they were then employed in working up material for the Inca. The distribution of the wool and superintendence of its manufacture were in the hands of officers appointed for the purpose. No one was allowed to be idle. Idleness was a crime and was severely punished.

All the mines belonged to the Inca and were worked for his benefit. The various employments were usually in the hands of a few and became hereditary. What the father was, that the son became. A great part of the agricultural products was stored in granaries scattered up and down the country and was dealt out to the people as required. It will thus be seen that there was no chance for a man to become rich, neither could he become poor. The spirit of speculation had no existence there.—Chambers' Journal.

THE BLACK BALL.

A Clever Scheme That Was Spoiled in the Drawing.

Two young men in a French village were called on to draw for conscription. One only was wanted to complete the number, and of the two who were to draw one was the son of a rich farmer and the other the child of a poor widow.

The farmer ingratiated himself with the superintendent of the ballot and promised him a present if he could find means to prevent his son from going in the army. In order to accomplish this the official put into the urn two black balls instead of one white and one black ball. When the young men came, he said:

"There are two balls, one black and one white, in the urn. He who draws the black one must serve. Your turn is first," pointing to the widow's son.

The latter, suspecting that all was not fair, approached the urn and drew one of the balls, which he immediately swallowed, without looking at it.

"Why," said the superintendent, "have you done that?" How are we to know whether you have drawn a black or a white ball?"

"Oh, that's very easy to discover," was the reply. "Let the other now draw. If I have the black, he must necessarily draw the white one."
There was no help for it, and the farmer's son, putting his hand into the urn, drew the remaining ball, which, to the satisfaction of the spectators, was a black one.

Pranks of the Types.

Tom Moore wrote the line, "Had taken up in heaven his position," but the printer made it read, "Had taken up to heaven his physician." In a weekly story paper a love story contained no less than twenty ridiculous errors. Instead of falling into a river, the young lady fell into the river; "bull pup" appeared for "pull up," "nasal" for "natal" and "tombone" for "trembling." The fair heroine was awfully "hungry" instead of "angry." Her heart was filled with "et ceteras" and not "ecstasies," and when she meant to say "thine" the types made her say, "I am thin, I am wholly thin." A newspaper in telling of a cow cut into halves by a railway train said the cow was cut into calves.

A Cutting Rebuke.

In some parts of Scotland it is customary for a bride to bring a dowry to her husband, no matter how little. One couple who had experienced the strife of wedded bliss for some years were having the usual row, when the husband taunted the lady with the paucity of worldly goods with which she had endowed him.

"Awa!" said he. "When ye marrit me a' ye brought was a cask o' whisky an' the auld Bible."

"Weel, Jock," was the response, "gin ye had paid as muckle attention to the book as ye did tae the whisky, ye would hae been a meenister o' the gospel the noo."

A Better Match.

Briggs—That was a narrow escape Bildergate had, wasn't it? You know he was just about to marry a girl when he found that she spent $2,500 a year on her dresses. Griggs—Yes, but he's married all the same. Briggs—True, but he didn't marry that girl. Griggs—He didn't? Who did he marry, then? Briggs—Her dressmaker.—London Mail.

A carefully greased needle will float upon water, though, of course, the steel is much heavier than a similar bulk of water.

HENRIK IBSEN.

How the Scandinavian Dramatist Impressed an Observer.

William Archer tells how Henrik Ibsen impressed him when he met the Scandinavian dramatist in Rome in 1881: "In glided an undersized man with very broad shoulders and a large leonine head, wearing a long black frock coat with very broad lapels, on one of which a knot of red ribbon was conspicuous. I knew him at once, but was a little taken aback by his low stature. His natural height was even somewhat diminished by a habit of bending forward slightly from the waist, begotten, no doubt, of shortsightedness and the need to peer into things.

"He moved very slowly and noiselessly, with his hands behind his back—an unobtrusive personality. But there was nothing insignificant about the high and massive forehead, crowned with a mane of (then) iron gray hair, the small and pale but piercing eyes behind the gold rimmed spectacles, or the thin lipped mouth, depressed at the corners into a curve indicative of iron will and set between bushy whiskers of the same dark gray as the hair.

"The most cursory observer could not but recognize power and character in the head, yet one would scarcely have guessed it to be the power of a poet, the character of a prophet. One would rather have supposed one's self face to face with an eminent statesman or diplomatist."

THE GULF OF MEXICO.

America's Mediterranean and Its Promise for the Future.

The Gulf of Mexico is a sea 1,000 miles long from the straits of Florida to the harbor of Tampico and 800 miles wide from the mouth of the Mississippi river to the mouth of the Coatzacoalcas.

This Mediterranean of the west is surrounded by countries of extraordinary richness in the fertility of their soil, the geniality of their climates, the vastness and value of their forests and the variety and extent of their mineral endowments.

All these countries, capable of sustaining hundreds of millions of people, are inhabited by nations and races who live under republican forms of government and cherish and maintain free institutions. The northern coast line of this important sea is in the great republic of the United States of North America. The southern half is in the next greatest American republic, that of Mexico, while on the east are the important islands of the West Indies, with Cuba at their head. The region around this most important sea is destined to be far richer, more powerful and more distinguished in the history and affairs of our globe than were ever those that bordered the ancient Mediterranean of the eastern hemisphere, not even excepting Egypt, Greece and Rome.—New Orleans Picayune.

St. Alban and His Teacher.

By some strange irony St. Alban, the martyred but possibly mythical Roman soldier, whose festival falls on June 22, has quite overshadowed his probably historic instructor, St. Amphibalus, whose anniversary comes on the following day. About Amphibalus we know that he was a native of Caerleon, which the golden legend expresses by dubbing him "a prince's son of Wales in grete araye." He was buried at Redbourne, but "translated" to St. Alban's abbey, where his cup was preserved, "which they of the common sort call St. Affabelle Bolle." In former times children were frequently christened with his name, and Affabell Partridge was goldsmith to Queen Elizabeth.—Westminster Gazette.

Dunkirk's Fete of Lanterns.

One of the quaintest of the numerous yearly fetes still in honor at Dunkirk is the fete of lanterns, instituted many hundreds of years ago in honor of St. Martin, bishop of Tours, who died in 396, and who was one of the prelates by whose efforts the early inhabitants of these parts were converted to Christianity. As soon as dusk sets in the celebration commences, and all the urchins of the town congregate in the main thoroughfares. Each one bears a paper lantern, some of which are of considerable proportions, being shaped in the form of a ship or a flower. With lanterns in hand and blowing lustily on horns and trumpets, the crowd of youngsters parades the streets.—London News.

The Japanese control the Manchurian railway, and a Reuter's (English) dispatch from Tokyo says that a special discount has already been introduced on the railway for Japanese tobacco and a few other commodities. That is giving rise to serious apprehension among the foreigners interested, as they fear that by an extension of the rebate system special advantages may be afforded to Japanese goods and fair competition killed in that way and the spirit of the open door nullified.

Moving the Well.

A New England woman once had in her employ a rosy cheeked Irish maid of all work, whose blunders afforded them amusement to compensate for any trouble she might entail. One day the owner of the place stated in the girl's hearing that he intended to have a wood house built on a piece of ground which at that time inclosed a well.

"Shure, sor," said the inquiring Margaret, "will you be movin' the well to a more convenient spot whin the wood house is builded?"

As a smile crossed the face of her employer Margaret at once perceived she had made a mistake of some sort. "It's a fool I am, shure," she added hastily, bound to retrieve herself. "Of coorse whin the well was moved ivery drop of wather would run out of it!"

Elasticity of Spiders' Webs.

Did you ever watch a spider's web on a windy day? If so, you will notice how wonderfully it accommodates itself to the swaying of the twigs to which it is attached. It is in fact elastic of the very finest quality. Were it not for its elasticity the poor spider would not long survive. The first breeze would rend the silken meshes of the web to atoms and the owner's stock of new material would very soon be exhausted in repairs and renewals. Besides its elasticity, the spider's web is very sticky, a property which accounts for the ease wherewith it holds insects when once caught.

Equipped For Running.

"Isn't it awful," remarked Growells, looking over his gas bill for the last quarter: "Isn't it surprising how gas bills run up?"
"Not so surprising," replied Kidder. "Considering how many thousand feet they have."—Philadelphia Press.

His Wealth.

Magistrate—You were begging in the public streets, and yet you had fifteen shillings in your pocket. Prisoner—Yes, your worship. I may not be as industrious as some, but I'm no spendthrift.—London Express.

Time appears long only to those who don't know how to use it.

ITS MERIT IS PROVED RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

A Prominent Cincinnati Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Completely Cured Her.

The great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, and thinking people generally.

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be a remedy of great merit, otherwise it could not produce such marvelous results among sick and ailing women.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"About nine months ago I was a great sufferer with female troubles, which caused me severe pain, extreme nervousness and frequent headaches, from which the doctor failed to relieve me. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and within a short time felt better, and after taking five bottles of it I was entirely cured. I therefore heartily recommend your Compound as a splendid female tonic, and what a blessing it is to find such a remedy after so many doctors fail to help you. I am pleased to recommend it to all suffering women."
Mrs. Sara Wilson, 31 East 3d Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

If you have suppressed or painful periods, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, pelvic catarrh, nervous prostration, dizziness, faintness, "don't-care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, backache or the blues, these are sure indications of female weakness, or some derangement of the organs. In such cases there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
