ANTRIM'S EARLY HISTORY

From this time on, as we have opportunity, in this column will be given some of our town's early history, being mostly extracts from Dr. Whiton's History, covering a period between the years 1744 and 1844.

BAKER DID NOT SHARE IN WILL.

A Hearing is Held at the Antrim House Before the Commissioner.

A hearing of unusual interest was held at the Antrim House on the 20th inst. before Stillman H. Baker, Commissioner of the estate of Addie P. Baker. The plaintiff, E. W. Baker, Esq., was represented by Attorney Kirk D. Pierce of Hillsboro; and the defendant, D. H. Goodell, executor of the estate, was represented by Attorneys W. H. Sawyer of Concord and S. W. Holman of Hillsboro. The hearing was opened by Attorney Pierce who briefly outlined the case, in which Mr. Baker, step-son of the testatrix, makes a claim against the estate of Addie P. Baker for the sum of $8000, the action being brought for the purpose of enforcing a verbal agreement made between himself and Mrs. Addie P. Baker now dead.

In 1870 the plaintiff purchased a home in Antrim and with his step mother moved here. began house-keeping living together until his marriage in 1878. Soon after his marriage it was agreed between himself and Mrs. Addie P. Baker that he should furnish her a home, support, and maintenance and upon her death her property should go to him; this agreement was often referred to in the subsequent years. She lived in his family on these conditions for about twenty years.

In September, 1898, Mrs. Baker made a will in which her stepson and his family were not mentioned. In the first part of the will, before making any bequests she directed her executor to pay all her just debts. Mr. E. W. Baker thinks that support and maintenance for about twenty years a just debt and should be paid. Attorney Pierce in opening put particular stress upon this clause of the will. The witnesses presented by the plaintiff were Lieutenant Albert A. Baker, U. S. N., Julia V. Baker, wife of the plaintiff, and a deposition of Mrs. Arabella S. Hunt, who acted as nurse upon the birth of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Baker. The witnesses all corroborated the verbal agreement claimed by the plaintiff. At the conclusion of the testimony of these witnesses the plaintiff's attorney rested the case.

The defense not being prepared at that time to go on with the case, a continuance was asked for and it was continued until the 18th of May next. The case was handled by Attorney Pierce with shrewdness and ability.

New Use For a Linen Cuff.

"Look here," said a well known man the other day, "this is a letter from a friend who is now in Pittsburg." The speaker produced a soiled cuff on which a message had been written. The cuff bore the stamp of the Pittsburg postoffice, as well as a canceled postage stamp. The message read: "I haven't any paper at hand, but Uncle Sam will transmit this cuff, for which I have no further use. Linen is of no use to a man who is dead flat busted. Send me $100.—Philadelphia Record.

Father and Mother Die within a Short Time of Each Other.

Harry Deacon has been called to pass through a trying circumstance during the past week. The death of his mother occurred at her home in Pawtucket, R. I., after a short illness, following the death of his father by some four or more weeks. Mr. Deacon's family have the sympathy of this community.

On the 4th of the coming month of May, according to the appointment of Governor Floyd and Council, the citizens of the Granite State are requested to observe as Arbor day.

Warrant for Special Town Meeting.

You are hereby notified to meet in the Town Hall, in said Town, on the SIXTH DAY OF MAY NEXT, at two o'clock in the afternoon, to act upon the following subjects:—

ARTICLE 1—To see what instructions the Town will give the Committee appointed to build the James A. Tuttle Library.

ARTICLE 2—To see what action the Town will take in relation to building a Sidewalk from the Concrete walk by W. R. Cochrane's house to the Corner by C. L. Eaton's house on east side of road, provided the land owners will pay one-half the expense for a Wooden walk three feet wide, or take any action thereon.

ARTICLE 3—To see what action the Town will take in relation to building a Sidewalk on West Street, connecting at Main Street and running to west side of Maria Sweetser's house-lot, to be laid on north side of the street, provided the land owners will pay one-half the expense for a Wooden walk three feet wide, or take any action thereon.

ARTICLE 4—To see what action the Town will take in relation to building a Sidewalk on Highland Avenue, connecting at Summer Street and running to Pleasant Street, said walk to be laid on east side of street to south-west corner of Milton Tenney's lot, then on west side to Pleasant Street, provided the land owners will pay one-half the expense for a Wooden walk three feet wide, or take any action thereon.

ARTICLE 5—To see what action the Town will take in regard to re-appraising the Real Estate the present season, and to elect three men for that purpose, and the expense of these three men shall not exceed four hundred dollars.

The following is a statement made by the Committee in charge of the new James A. Tuttle Library building:

"On account of the advance in price of labor and of various materials that enter into the construction of such a building, the proposals for the erection of the James A. Tuttle Library received by the Building Committee were so much in excess of what they expected, and they had planned to use for the building, that they were compelled to reject them all. Mr. Clark, the architect, has submitted a new plan, giving about the same accommodations, but so constructed as to greatly reduce the expense of building. The Committee wish to bring the matter before the voters of the town for further instructions before proceeding with the work, therefore they have asked the Selectmen to call a meeting to consider the matter."

By the warrant in this issue of REPORTER it will be seen that a special Town Meeting is to be held on Monday, May 6, to take action on several subjects, but the principal one is to "Instruct the Committee appointed to build the James A. Tuttle Library."

And indeed this is an important matter just at this time. As near as can be learned, all bids for building the library according to architect's plans and specifications accepted by the Town in November, 1906, (and which the Town were assured could be built and furnished complete for a sum not exceeding $12,000,) are thousands of dollars in addition to this amount. This is where the seriousness of the matter comes in. In the opinion of many the $12,000 sum was a much larger one than the town really needed to put into a library building: what is wanted and needed, and doubtless was the intention of the donor is a suitable building adapted to the needs of the town for years to come, and not a structure suitable for a small city. It would seem also that it would be the donor's wish that enough money be left after the building is complete to sufficiently run the library on the interest of the fund. This would be Mr. Tuttle's manner of doing business, for in the will was placed these words: "the balance shall be kept intact by said Town, and the income of the same expended annually in the purchase of books and the care and maintenance of said library."

Now that new plans have been submitted and new instructions desired, it is the duty of all our citizens to attend this meeting, express their views, and vote accordingly. To properly keep the library in books and pay the running expenses, will doubtless require the annual income of at least $10,000; if it can be accurately estimated what the entire bequest amounts to it would seem an easy matter to know about how much money should be put into the building. And such a building would certainly be a credit to the town and the name it will bear; and with ample accommodations for years and years to come.

Extract Number Twelve

from Cornish to Amherst, passing through the north-east portion of the town, was completed, and a line of stages put on it; the first that ever visited Antrim. For near thirty years, a vast amount of travel from Canada, Vermont, and western New-Hampshire, passed over this road to Boston; great quantities of merchandise were transported on it. It was not very judiciously located, passing over too many hard hills for the accommodation of persons who aided in its construction. The tolls were high and burdensome to the travelling public; at the same time, the benefits derived from it were undeniable. A large, three-story tavern house was built on the road in Antrim, by Wm. Barnes, from Hillsboro; it was occupied by different inn-keepers, and was a place of public resort for many years, till it was burnt, and a two-story brick house, now Elijah Gould's, took its place. As other and easier roads to market were constructed, the travel on the old turnpike diminished; some years ago the gates were taken down, and the road became free, being relinquished by the corporation and left to the care of the respective towns through which it passed.

Oct. 4th, 1804, is the date of the dismission, at his own request, by the Presbytery of Londonderry, of Rev. Walter Fullerton; (his name having been changed from Little to Fullerton, by act of the Legislature.) Happily the event excited no division among the people, as it accorded with their wishes. Mr. Fullerton possessed respectable talents, but his manners were not the most conciliatory, and he hence became unpopular.

A snow storm of remarkable severity happened this year, Oct. 7, and covered the earth to the depth of almost a foot. The greater part of the potatoes and apples were buried under the snow. In the open fields it gradually melted and disappeared, but in some cold spots, secluded from the sun, the drifts lay till the next spring.

The particulars of the ordination, in 1808, as the town's minister, of the writer of this sketch, and the present Pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will be given in another place. Ministers were then considered as settled for life, unless some special reason should require a dissolution of the relation. Ordinations were then rare occurrences, and drew from neighboring towns crowds of people. It was customary for the people of the place to provide for the gratuitous entertainment of all the strangers in attendance, however numerous. On this occasion the people of Antrim displayed a hospitality almost unbounded; making a provision far exceeding the demands of the guests, though hundreds of strangers were in town. Times are since changed.

Near the close of the year, John Moor, a respectable citizen, was mortally wounded in the woods by the fall of a limb of a tree, which fractured the skull.

Jan. 19th, 1810, is memorable for severity of cold, rendered almost intolerable by a driving wind, and was long referred to as the COLD FRIDAY; the two succeeding days were memorably cold. No snow was on the ground, and none fell till about the 20th of February. On the cold Friday, several persons in New-Hampshire perished. The population of the town by the census of this year was 1277; giving an increase of about twenty per cent for the preceding ten years. The summer following, an unusual number of children died, some of dysentery, and some of whooping cough.

The winter of 1811-12 was rigorous, and its snow-falls numerous and heavy. William McClary was frozen to death, on the evening of Christmas, 1811, and found dead next day by a great rock. In January, 1812, the dwelling house of Hon. John Duncan was burnt in the day time. He was alone in the house, reading, and the flames had made such progress before he discovered them; that he barely escaped. The citizens contributed generously to repair his losses.

This year, Feb. 7, that singular and fatal epidemic, the spotted fever, appeared in Antrim, and spread with such rapidity that in the course of two months there were two hundred cases and forty deaths. Many cases were mild; others very malignant, terminating in death sometimes in a single day; the victims being of all ages from five to sixty years. No persons over sixty were attacked. One of the victims was Daniel Nichols, Esq., one of the most respectable citizens of the town. The physicians were at first at a loss as to the proper treatment: there was a popular impression that warm steam and copious sweating were essential parts of the curative process. To such an extreme, in the alarm of the time, was this treatment carried by steam and hot blocks of wood, that some sufferers were doubtless hurried to the grave by well-meant, but ill-judged efforts for their relief. Families in health, at bed-time, dared not retire to rest without all the preparations in their power to commence the sweating process, should the disease attack them in the night. Experience soon dispelled this illusion, and introduced a more rational treatment. It was often difficult to find well persons enough to minister to the sick, and break roads through the deep snows for the burial of the dead. There were instances of three funerals a day, one instance of four; the dead being brought to the meeting-house, March 26, for the funeral service, at an appointed hour. The late Gov. Pierce once remarked that he passed through the town in this time of distress at the midnight hour, and saw lights gleaming from many of the houses; making on his mind

THE MOON'S VOLCANOES.

Causes of the Gigantic Craters and Great Fissure Eruptions. It is evident to any one who glances upward at the moon that its volcanoes are on an immensely larger scale than those which stud our globe. One explanation, now abandoned, is that the force of gravitation being there only one-sixth that of the earth the matter expelled from a crater would be spread far more widely, and eruptions would be generally on a far more magnificent scale. Professor Pickering quotes this theory only to refute it in some comparisons which he made between the great volcanic region of Hawaii and one of the smaller craters of the moon. The facts seem to him to be that the larger craters on the moon came into existence when the thin solid crust covering the molten interior was owing to the solidification and contraction of the crust, much too small to contain the liquid material. The craters were therefore formed by the lava bursting through the crust and so relieving the pressure. Later, after this rafter had been found and the crust had thickened, the interior regions by cooling shrank away from the solid shell, which was now too large and being insufficiently supported, caved in, permitting the great fissure eruptions which produced the so called lunar seas. These extensive outflows of lava dissolved the original solid shell wherever they came into contact with it, much as they do in the present day in Hawaii. Had the moon been much smaller these eruptions might not have occurred at all, and if the moon had been much larger their relative size would have been greater. Most probably on the earth similar outbursts were greater, and our original gigantic craters were destroyed by the outflow of the earlier archaic rocks which completely submerged and dissolved them.—London Post.

THE ESKIMO BABY.

How the Little One is Carried and Cared For by the Mother.

The arrival in the world of the youthful Eskimo is not greeted by the orthodox cradle and swaddling clothes. Practically till he can shift for himself he lives absolutely naked inside his mother's sealskin blouse, skin to skin keeping him warm.

This arrangement allows the mother to go about her work almost immediately, and she can also travel and hunt without a perambulator and without having to leave any one at home to "mind" the baby. The mother's dress is almost exactly like the father's, except that it has a long sort of tail reaching nearly to the ground, embryo, no doubt, of the modern "train."

Spared the miseries of soap and water and early weaned to the readily swallowed diet of blubber and raw seal meat, the infant rapidly develops that invaluable layer of subcutaneous fat which, while it enhances the "jolly" appearance of the lads and the shapeliness of the maidens, assists materially in economy in clothing.

Thus in their frigid clime, once in their skin tent, the whole family will divest themselves of every stitch of clothing, embarrassed by the fact that so many families share the tent with them. Sociability is early developed when one's next door neighbor on each side is only separated by an imaginary line between the deerskin you sleep on and the one he uses. The water deerskin serves as bed and bolster at night and as parlor furniture during the day. Community of goals is almost imperative under this arrangement. Thus when one kills a seal all are fed, and likewise when he doesn't all go hungry together.—American Missionary.

A Live Wire

Every nerve is a live wire connecting some part of the body with the brain. They are so numerous that if you penetrate the skin with the point of a needle you will touch a nerve and receive a shock—pain it is called. Aches and pains come from a pressure, strain or injury to a nerve; the more prominent the nerve the greater the pain. When the pain comes from a large nerve it is called Neuralgia.

whether it be the facial nerves or the heart, stomach, sciatic or other prominent nerve branch. To stop pain, then, you must relieve the strain or pressure upon the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this.

"I suffered intense pain caused by neuralgia. I doctored and used various medicines without getting relief until I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They never fail to cure my headaches, and their use never leaves any bad after-effects."

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Sloop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others should insist on having Dr. Sloop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Sloop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it's said to be by those who know it best, a truly remarkable remedy for a cough. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Sloop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Sloop's package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Sloop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by W. F. Dickey.

Summer Session at the Plymouth Normal.

The Trustees of the State Normal School have arranged for a Summer Session of the School for 1907, opening July 9 and closing August 30. Credit for one fourth of a year's regular work at the Normal School will be given in such a way that teachers may in four sessions of the Summer School acquire the regular diploma of the teachers' course. Arrangements will also be made such that the regular two years' course may be shortened for those attending the Summer Sessions. The session of the coming summer will cover one-half of the work of the first term. The Summer Institute will also be held as usual, extending from August 12 to August 24, inclusive, thus offering an opportunity for the combined advantages of the Summer School and Institute. The complete prospectus will be issued later.

Gen. Leonard Wood will probably replace Gen. Fred Grant at Governors Island, the retirement of Gen. Grant being attributable to his recent speech criticizing the President. This promotes Mr. Grant to the "Dear Bellamy" and Putney Bigelow class.

Richard Mansfield, the actor, is very ill as a result of the great nervous strain of playing Peer Gynt. If the play was as hard on Mansfield as it was on those who saw it, there is small wonder that he has barely escaped with his life.

The Birmingham News gravely asks, "Can women appreciate clubs?" Many men have asked the same question about hearts, but no one needs to ask if they can appreciate diamonds.

Women And Their Work.

At Montrose, Colo., Mrs. Amanda S. McKee has been elected to succeed herself as city treasurer. She was the candidate of both Republicans and Democrats.

Twenty-six women have just been graduated from the law school of the University of New York.

Women physicians are employed in the State Hospitals at Toledo, Cleveland, Dayton and the institution for epileptics at Gallipolis, Ohio. These appointments are made by the Governor.

Women suffragists of Illinois had legislative hearings at Springfield, March 26th, on three important measures. In the evening they were given a reception by Governor and Mrs. Deneen at the Executive Mansion.

At the woman suffrage meeting held in Exeter Hall, London, the night following the defeat of the suffrage bill, a collection was taken which amounted to $1100. The "suffragettes" are evidently acquainted with the American maxim that "money talks."

A petition for equal suffrage, signed by 142,128 women has been presented to the Swedish Parliament.

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the strongest Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

This is the best medicine for the blood, and the best for the liver, and the best for the bowels. For the best possible results, you should take five or six doses of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, taking the Sarsaparilla. The liver will quickly respond, and so will the bowels.

Retail Trade Holds Up Well.

Reports received by Bradstreet's show that manufacturing concerns are generally busy. This is the dull season with the shoe manufacturers, but prospects are said to be bright for a good summer's run. Retail trade has held up well all through the week in spite of the unfavorable weather and going. The maple sugar crop, which at one time looked to be a failure, has turned to be the best crop for years. Wholesale trade is good but collections are only fair.

At Pittsfield the shoe factories, cotton mill lumber concerns, are very busy, with retail trade fully up to any previous year at this season. At Concord the industries at the Penacook end of the city are all very busy and concerns in the city proper are fully employed; the granite men are working full time rushing out orders for delivery before May 30. Newmarket reports all industries well employed and increasing. The paper mill at Bristol which has been shut down over a year is being extensively repaired by its new owners and will be started up as soon as possible. The cotton mills, wood working and machine shops are busy but the shoe concerns are rather quiet. At Exeter business is dull with the shoe factories but the cotton mill is fully employed. The paper and lumber mills at Berlin are fully employed, and retail trade is very brisk as the woodsmen are coming out of the woods from their winter's work. At Manchester the shoe manufacturers are rather quiet but all other manufacturing concerns are very busy. Considerable is being done in building lines but most of it tenement property. Millford reports every manufacturing concern busy and the manufacture of postoffice fixtures is rushed. Granite trade is improving and most concerns in this trade are busy.

THE WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION for May appears with a number of its illustrations, exquisitely printed in color. This is a radical departure for monthly magazines of the size of the WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION, in fact it is the first time in the history of similar magazine publication that color work in illustrations has been attempted. The result is exceedingly attractive, especially as shown in Ellis Parker Butler's humorous story "The Chiropractic Ghosts of Thomas," and in Herbert D. Ward's short story "The Wall of the Word." The cover of the May number is a reproduction of an extremely clever water color by Fanny X. Cory.

What Women Want In Men.

It is so recently that women have been allowed to think, or expected to think, that it is not strange that they have not expressed themselves upon the question of what they want in men. They have been brought up on the philosophy, "Be good and you'll be married," and it has not been a question of what they like in men, but what men like in them that counted or was important.

There are many women, otherwise fairly sensible, who openly say they could not love a man who did not rule them. To say that every man, by virtue of his sex, is meant to be the master of some woman is utter folly. The need for a master is not a question of sex, but a question of the lack of moral or mental stamina in the individual.

What do women want in men? There are women who prefer a man with the ability to earn a fortune rather than one who has inherited it. Being a good provider will sometimes cover a multitude of petty faults in the eyes of women obliged to account for every penny spent. Nor is generosity with money the only generosity. Women want from men what every normal human being craves—commendation and approval.

Woman, normal and healthy, does not want or need a master. Outside of truthfulness, honor, and courage in him, what she prizes above all things from him are kindness, generosity and sympathy—Belle Squire in the May Delineator.

Outdoor Athletics.

With Spring come thoughts of baseball, golf, tennis and other outdoor sports which help to make this season the best of the year.

The sporting department of The Boston Journal is handled in a bright, interesting way which has won for it many followers among lovers of clean sport. It covers every field of athletics, and offers a valuable opportunity for reference on all matters pertaining to the outdoor world.

Rob Dunbar's column is a feature of every issue, and his snappy items and clear answers to questions from readers are recognized as authoritative.

Arthur McPherson, whose trip with the base ball team has given him a line on the new material and the prospects of a successful season, will cover the baseball games, and his writeups will be watched by eager fans wherever the national game is played.

Careful attention is paid to other branches of summer sport, and devotees of golf, tennis, rowing and all forms of outdoor activities may find here interesting accounts of events, made doubly attractive by carefully prepared photographs.

At the same time the other features of The Boston Journal, such as the women's page, the financial columns and the editorials, continue to exercise that influence which is building up The Journal its reputation as New England's home newspaper.

Every woman appreciates a beautiful complexion, so much desired by men. Such complexions come to all who use Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets.

If you don't take it you ought to—THE ANTRIM REPORTER!

NEW SHORT STORIES

The President as a Cowboy.
A New York business man who was once a rauchman in the west tells this story about President Roosevelt:
"Several cowboys, of whom I was one, were camping near the trail one day in the early eighties when we saw a man coming along on horseback. We did not know him, but from his new and elaborate trappings we at once decided that he was a tenderfoot. This being the case, we felt that it would be appropriate and interesting to give him a cowboy reception.
"Partly hidden among the bushes, we awaited his coming. Suddenly when he was almost among us on the trail we sprang to our feet and gave vent to wild and blood curdling yells, at the same time emptying our six shooters. The bullets flew around the young man on the horse. Being rather careless as to where we shot in those days, it was a wonder that at least the horse was not hit. The ordinary tenderfoot would have ridden for his life out of range. But this one sat straight as an arrow and never changed his half amused expression during the fusillade of yells and bullets. More than this, he held his horse down to a walk, and when he got a few paces beyond us he turned in his saddle and made us a low, sarcastic bow. We had no idea who he was, but we at once decided that this particular tenderfoot was all right. The next day at a round-up I saw him in a corral roping calves, a dangerous pastime for any but an old hand.

"Who's that chap with the get up of a stage cowboy, but the nerve of the real article?" I asked.
"Why," somebody answered, "that's young Roosevelt, a New York swell, fresh from college."
"Well," I replied, "even with them things against him I reckon he's about as good as anybody in the outfit."—Success.

National Distinctions.
The late General William R. Shafter developed during his residence in California a dislike of the Chinese.

Some time ago at a dinner in San Francisco General Shafter pointed to a fly in a glass and said:

"Watch a man when a fly gets in his glass of beer and you can tell his nationality."

"An American will pay, laugh and order a fresh glass."

"A Spaniard will pay, but quietly walk off without drinking the beer."

"A Frenchman will pay and go, but make a tremendous fuss."

"An Englishman will throw away the beer and demand a fresh glass for nothing."

"A German will carefully remove the fly with his finger and then drink the beer."

"A Russian will toss off fly, beer and all."

"A Chinaman will first rescue the fly and eat it and then drink the beer to the last drop."

One on Wanamaker.
John Wanamaker superintends, as all the world knows, one of the largest Sunday schools in the world—Bethany Sunday school in Philadelphia. It is said of Mr. Wanamaker that one Sunday he delivered before the infant class of Bethany a brief but eloquent address on the lesson. At the end he said:

"And now is there any question that any little boy or girl would like to ask me?"

A girl of eight or nine years rose.
"Well, Martha, what is it?" said the superintendent, smiling on the tot in kindly fashion.

"Please, Mr. Wanamaker," said the little girl, "what is the price of those large wax dolls in your window?"

She—And do you believe that a woman always turns to the last page first when she picks up a book?

He—Well, I have no reason to doubt it. I know it is the nature of the fair sex to want the last word.—Detroit Tribune.

An interesting story as told by Harry A. Glazier, a prominent Fireman of Malden, Mass.: "Last winter I had a severe cold and it settled on my kidneys, causing the most excruciating pain almost every time I attempted to move; I had tried everything imaginable to get relief, with no success, until I was advised to try 'Bloodine,' which, to my great surprise, gave me relief almost from the first dose, and before I had taken one bottle I was completely cured." "Bloodine" is a wonderful vitalizing tonic. If the blood is impure, complexion bad, appetite lost, strength gone and the whole system is upset by an accumulation of humors, it is time to try "Bloodine" today. Bloodine, large bottles 50c. ## NOTICE!

To the Depositors of the Hillsboro Bridge Guaranty Savings Bank of Hillsboro Bridge, N. H.

The law of this state provides that,
"It shall be the duty of every depositor in any savings bank, and of every shareholder of any building and loan association, to present his book for verification with books of the bank, or association, when notified so to do, at the time fixed by the bank commissioners."

Bank commissioners have selected the period between April 15 and June 1st this year as the time for such verifications. I have been appointed to examine the de-positors' books and compare them with the books of the bank, with the object of correcting any errors that may exist, and for that purpose I shall be at the Hillsboro Bridge Guaranty Savings Bank between the hours of 9 and 12 and 1 and 3 each day the bank is open during the above named period, unless the work is sooner completed.

You are requested to present your deposit book, or to forward the same, by mail or otherwise, to me at the bank, at as early a day as convenient, if possible during the first two weeks, and so avoid having a personal request sent to you.
The book will be immediately returned to you after comparison with your account as kept by the bank.
