High School Department.

Waldo Robb, who attended High school in Hillsboro last year, is now attending Antrim High.

New apparatus for the study of Physics has been purchased for the High school and is expected to be here soon ready for use.

The school bell is rung a little differently this year than last year. The bell is rung for a minute or two and then is tolled for a minute; the toll striking about every two seconds.

The High school will close in the afternoon at 3.15 o'clock as was done last year, but the nine lower grades will close at 3.45 instead of 3.15. This arrangement gives the grades a half hour more school each day than heretofore.

There is a special study period from 3.15 to 3.45 o'clock in the afternoon for those who do not get their lessons satisfactorily, or for those who desire help in any of their studies. The teachers will assist any that stay for this period in the different studies.

The members of the class of 1908, A. H. S., held their first class meeting on Monday night, Sept. 9. At this meeting the following officers were elected:—President, Ben R. Clement; vice president, Miss Bernice Emery; secretary, Miss Carrie Kimball; treasurer, Miss Grace Wilson.

The Dublin Association

The annual convention of the Dublin association of Baptist churches was called to order in Peterboro Wednesday by Rev. Joseph Walther of Keene, moderator. Nine different churches were represented. The annual sermon was delivered by Rev. Robert Bakeman of East Jaffrey. The speakers of the afternoon were Rev. O. C. Sargent, Miss Julia Shinn and Rev. W. B. Boggs, a returned missionary from India.

In the evening Rev. C. H. Spaulding of Boston spoke on "The Parable of the Sparrow" and Rev. Arthur St. James of Sayville, Mass., on "The Lord in Need." Prof. J. H. Wellman of Colby academy, New London, also spoke.

Thursday's program opened at about 10 o'clock with a devotional service led by Rev. R. A. Burroughs of East Westmoreland. This was followed by a business meeting and the reading of reports by various committees. Open parliament was then held, the subject for discussion being "The State of Religion in Our Churches."

In the afternoon the Sunday school convention opened with a praise service led by the president, Rev. J. H. Firmin of Fitzwilliam, followed by a talk by Rev. D. L. Cleveland, state colporter. An address by Rev. O. C. Sargent was then listened to together with reports from various schools. Election of officers was as follows:—

President, Julius H. Firmin, Fitzwilliam.

Vice president, Rev. O. W. Kimball, Fitzwilliam.

Secretary and Treasurer, Flora J. Tubbs of Peterborough.

After election of officers open parliament was held, the principal speaker being J. L. Harbour of Dorchester, Mass. The convention closed with a short session in the evening.

Names of guests at Hillside Farm: Mr. and Mrs. Carter and daughter, Miss Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder, Boston, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Dorchester, Mass.; Mrs. and Miss Lenane, Lawrence, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Tewksbury and two children, Winthrop, Mass.; Miss Chisholm, Roxbury, Mass.; Mr. Veite, Arlington, Mass.

POCAHONTAS' DESCENDANTS.

The Famous Bolling Family—Deaf and Blind Exhibit.

Among the many interesting exhibits in Social Economy hall at the Jamestown exposition is the group of historical pictures from the Virginia school for the deaf and blind at Staunton, Va. The group includes the likenesses of the members of the famous Bolling family and represents the first attempt in America at educating the deaf. There are pictures of John and Thomas Bolling, Jr., sixth in direct line of descent from Pocahontas, the daughter of Powhatan. Both were deaf and were sent by their father, Major Thomas Bolling, in 1775, to the Braidwood school at Edinburgh, Scotland. Of the latter the Richmond Enquirer of Feb. 18, 1830, in an obituary notice, says of Thomas Bolling, Jr.: "Placed at an early age under the tuition of the celebrated Braidwood of Edinburgh, his naturally fine understanding was rapidly developed. He read with pleasure, composed and wrote in a peculiar yet clear and graphic style. Polished and graceful in manner, he was the admiration and wonder of strangers and the delight of an extensive connection and friends."

His hearing brother, Colonel William Bolling, in a letter dated Dec. 10, 1841, thus alludes to his brother's speech: "Thomas' acquirements were most extraordinary. His articulation was so perfect that his family, his friends and the servants understood him in conversation or in reading aloud as well as they could any person, and he possessed the faculty of modulating his voice from a low whisper to a loud call."

Another picture is that of Colonel William, who had two children who were deaf, and he employed a Mr. Braidwood, grandson of the founder of the Edenburg school, to come to America to instruct the two children at Bolling hall, Goochland county, Va. This was in 1812, and these two children of William Bolling were the first deaf persons to be educated in America.

Other pictures of the group are of Bolling hall and Cobbs hall, near Petersburg, where the instruction of the deaf was carried on from 1815 to 1817.

This same exhibit includes a $250 doll house, a clever reproduction of the Beverly mansion. Near by are exhibits from New York, Philadelphia, Maryland and Ohio deaf and dumb displays. The Social Economy building also includes the American tuberculosis exhibition and other exhibits having to do with the health and happiness of the people.

Jamestown Exposition Notes.

Comprehensive exhibits are made by the department of agriculture, the bureau of fisheries of the department of commerce and labor and the geological survey.

In the Machinery and Transportation building may be seen, among other interesting exhibits, the first solid steel railway car ever constructed, not one inch of wood being used, thereby making it impossible to meet death in an accident by fire or the splintering of the car.

The fireproof Historic Arts palace contains priceless relics, manuscripts, publications and paintings illustrative of the nation's progress for the period of three centuries.

In the Palace of Manufactures and Liberal Arts may be seen in actual operation miniature factories, turning out various products manufactured in this country. No one should fall to visit the Mines and Metallurgy building, where there are exhibits from many states; the Pure Foods building, the Palace of Education and the buildings of the Latin-American countries.

Dickens describes in his novel "Bleak House" the woes of those who were involved in suits in the chancery court and the delays to which they were subjected before the English judicial procedure was reformed. Tradition says that an artist once represented the same idea in much less space. Two suitors in chancery, being reconciled to each other after a very tedious and expensive suit, applied to him to paint a device in commemoration of their return to peace and amity. He gave them entire satisfaction by painting them in the act of shaking hands—one clad in his shirt, the other without even that.

One of the Worse Ever.

Possibly a newspaper office is a very good place to get a line on the telegraph strike, and the indications from that viewpoint are that neither the companies nor the strikers are in as good condition as they profess to be. The operators are confessedly nervous, even those still at work on the leased wires. They feel that the strike has been mismanaged and badly handled, even admitting that it ever was justified. President Small of the Telegraphers' Union admitted defeat at hands of the companies when he went to New York to jauntily dictate terms of peace. The companies would have no traffic with him, and he is preparing to scuttle back to Chicago. On the other hand, the companies are not running smoothly. They declare the strike is all over so far as they are concerned. But the service of both the Postal and the Western Union on press matter is several times worse than it ever was, and that was none too good. It now takes from 12 to 24 hours to order and receive a telegraph story that before the strike could have been secured in three hours. The companies may be handling ordinary commercial work with reasonable dispatch, as they claim they are doing, but it is not likely in view of their slowness on Press service. It is a complicated senseless fight, one of the worst that organized labor and organized capital have ever indulged in, and the best thing for the public would be if the President would take the two contestants, knock their heads together and order them to attend to the public's work and settle their differences outside of office hours.

An enterprising editor in the state of Missouri recently published this item: "The business man of this city who is in the habit of hugging his typewriter had better quit, or we will publish his name." The next day twenty-seven business men called at the office, paid up their subscriptions and left behind them twenty-seven columns of advertisements, and told the editor not to pay any attention to foolish stories.

An Oklahoma paper declares that the weather is so hot there that popcorn is popping on the stalk. This is evidently meant as a companion piece to the Kansas story that the watermelon vines grew so fast that they wore the melons out dragging them over the ground.

Richard Caufield, the king of gamblers, is selling out his palatial club in Saratoga. This is a sure sign that the people are getting either poorer or wiser than they were. Or is it that the laws against gambling are better enforced?

Your home paper comes to you as an old friend and neighbor, telling you all the home news while the large city daily enters your house as a stranger. A local newspaper is absolutely necessary for local news.

Every one is interested in an item of local news. If you know of any local happening that is not generally known communicate the fact to this office.

France intimates that if Germany will just let her alone, she will have Morocco thoroughly Algecairased in a very short time.

John D. Rockefeller says he works for the public. All right enough except the "for".

BASE BALL IN ANTRIM

During the Season Just Closed Has Proved Interesting and Has Been Well Patronized.

By C. H. BOUTELLE.

In behalf of the members of the Antrim Base Ball Team, I wish to thank the people of Antrim for their liberal patronage which has made it possible to put into the field the best Ball Team Antrim has had for years, and a team that was composed largely of local players. I believe we have in town to-day the best purely local Base Ball Team that Antrim ever had,—a team that is a credit to the town on the field or off.

The battery work of the Cuddihy brothers was good all through the season. Jim, as back-stop, played his strongest game this year; while Dick, although this being his first season in the box, has pitched good, winning ball all the season, such as a pitcher of longer experience might well be proud of. The support of the team behind him in most of the games has been good.

The management was very fortunate in securing Mr. Hobart to cover third-sack, this being the hardest position on the team to fill; and "Hobe" was there, with his good throws to first-base that retired many a base-runner.

Antrim played 20 games; won 13, lost 7. Peterboro, the fastest team that Antrim played this season, lost 6 games, and three of those games Antrim took, winning the series three out of five.

While the business men of some of the surrounding towns help out their ball team better than they do in this town, our games are better patronized than the most of them; and the people always turn out in large numbers whenever we have put on a play or a minstrel show for the benefit of the team, with which we are better satisfied than to pass around a paper.

It is our purpose to put on a play this fall and a minstrel show this winter for the benefit of the team the coming season. There will have to be new suits purchased or parts of suits, and something done to fix up the in-field; (Andy don't mind the rocks in left field).

Of the 20 games played, returns are for but 18; in the two missing games, scores were kept by outside parties and being incomplete could not be made up.

Below is the batting and fielding averages of the team, which few if any team can equal in this part of the state:

GRAVEL CURED

(Philadelphia, Penn., Item.)
A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2437 North 8th St., Philadelphia, could not be found in a day's search. The fact that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.
Several years ago he began to suffer indescribable miseries from stone in the bladder. An eminent physician in Philadelphia told him that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind, he heard of

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Although disheartened, he bought a bottle of it, and within a month had experienced beneficial results, and before he had finished the third bottle, the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings at an end.
Mr. Neill feels that he owes a lasting debt of gratitude to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N.Y., and for disorders of the bladder and urinary organs. He says: "It will effect a cure if one is honest."
Favorite Remedy is prescribed with unflinching success for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, and nerve troubles in which it has cured many that were considered beyond the aid of medicine. All druggists, $1.

Senator Bailey's Generosity.
Not long ago a man appeared at the capitol and had his cart taken in to Senator Bailey. The senator did not recognize the name, but, in accordance with his usual courtesy, came out to where the stranger was waiting, says the Philadelphia Record.

It took only a few minutes' conversation to develop the fact that the individual simply desired to make a "touch." It was the regulation "Been unfortunate, sah, and desire to get back to my own country, sah."

"What is your business, colonel?" the senator inquired. "The rusty frock coat and black hat seemed to warrant the title."

"Why, I am a gentleman, senator," the stranger replied pompously.
"Oh, I see!" the senator said pleasantly. "Have you instituted bankruptcy proceedings yet?"

"Deduction is the thing," declared the law student. "For instance, yonder in our yard is a pile of ashes. That is evidence that we have had fires this winter."

"And, by the way, John," broke in his father, "you might go out and sift that evidence." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Dr. Shoop has closely matched Old Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor and taste, yet it has not a single grain of real coffee in it. I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys, Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's restorative has made its fame. No other remedy ever claims to keep the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for a sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The restorative is sold by W. F. Dickey.

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nerve will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve, and used altogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."
H. C. CUNNINGHAM,
 108 Ellsworth Ave., Allegheny, Pa.
 Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend Letter to G. Duncan, Antrim, N. H.

Dear Sir: You've got 200 cows; how much will you take for calves and milk of 100 of 'em next year—you pick out the 100?

How much for the other 100?

The point is: cows are not all alike, and you know which is which. It is so with paint. You've got one best cow in that herd. There are 200 different paints in the United States; and one best. You know your best cow; we know the best paint.

The best cow is the one that gives the best calves and milk. The best paint is the one that covers most surface and stays there longest—neither paint nor cow goes by color—nobody asks whether Holstein or Jersey is better to look-at.

10 gallons Devoe will cover your barn and wear 10 years; it'll take 15 of another paint, and that paint'll wear 5 years.

Reckon costs. Devoe: 10 gallons $1.75, $17.50; about 10 days' work $3, $30; the job, $47.50 for ten years; $4.75 a year. The other: 15 gallons $1.60, $24; about 15 days' work $3, $45; the job, $69 for five years; $13.80 a year. Devoe $4.75 a year; the other $13.80 a year. Difference $9 a year.

That's how to reckon cows and paint.

Yours truly,

JAMESTOWN EXHIBITS

They Are Comprehensive, Well Arranged and Very Interesting.

THE WAR AND NAVY DISPLAY.

Every Type of Fighting Machine From Giant Cannon to Pocket Pistol—Negro Building, Power and Alcohol Building and Other Truly Remarkable Structures.

There may not be such a variety of exhibit buildings at the Jamestown exposition as has been known to other like enterprises, but the buildings at this exposition are undoubtedly the most practical structures of the kind ever designed, and the exhibits in them are the most comprehensive and are better arranged, the result of past experience.

The largest structure on the grounds is the States Exhibit Palace, and this is the building which attracts the greatest amount of general interest. Here may be seen agricultural, horticultural and in some cases industrial exhibits from many states of the Union, north, south, east and west.

The decorations fixed here are almost entirely of natural products—tobacco, cereals, grains and grasses. Virginia's exhibit is possibly the most complete of any, with tobacco predominating and with an excellent natural history exhibit.

In the Louisiana space may be found one of the most comprehensive exhibits ever made by this or any other state. An excellent display of all the products for which the state is famous is made with particular attention given to rice and sugar, together with their by-products. The mining industry of the state is emphasized by a pyramid of sulphur and a block of rock salt, and there is a case of the famous New Orleans pottery.

Maryland's exhibit is exclusively agricultural and horticultural, with particular attention given to fresh and canned fruits.

The state of California made no appropriation, but the city and county of Los Angeles have provided an exhibit which for beauty surpasses anything in the building, fruits, wines and goods being the leading articles displayed.

North and South Carolina have given much attention to their textiles and cotton. Missouri's exhibit is horticultural and agricultural. New Jersey's is a school and normal library exhibit. Kentucky's is of agriculture, horticulture and forestry, the donation of the people of the state, the lecture having made no appropriation. Georgia has here an extensive agricultural and horticultural exhibit. Connecticut's display comes from its fields and schools. Oklahoma, the infant, offers excellent examples of its horticultural and agricultural products. New Hampshire's display is particularly interesting from an industrial standpoint. Vermont's exhibit is largely educational. Ohio has an agricultural and horticultural exhibit second to none. In addition to the states, a number of railway lines, including the Southern, Norfolk and Southern, Norfolk and Western, Atlantic Coast Line and Chesapeake and Ohio, have on display the leading products of the territory adjacent to their respective lines.

The government, in common with states and individuals, has profited by past exposition experience and has sent to the Jamestown exposition that which the commission considers the best display it has ever collected. The government exhibits are distributed throughout four different structures, with additional exhibits in the Negro building, building of the Bureau of American Republics and in the Power and Alcohol building, and the Columbian canal commission has contributed a relief map of part of the isthmus of Panama and surrounding territory.

One of the main buildings houses the exhibit of the war and navy departments and the state department. In the exhibit of the war department may be found every conceivable example of the fighting machine, from the giant sixteen inch cannon to the pocket Colt and bayonet. The most interesting part of the navy's exhibit is models of vessels and dry docks and miniature submarine mines, with a practical demonstration of their workings.

Building A contains the exhibits of the treasury department and the interior department, including machines and other working exhibits being in operation.

The Smithsonian Institution exhibit is unique in that American history is here condensed into a single room, the progress of 300 years being demonstrated with groups of figures, portraits, models and relics.

The postoffice department's exhibit is intended as a practical illustration of the workings of the various branches of the postal service, a model postoffice being in operation and a mail car standing alongside the building.

There are exhibits from the smallest piece of watch mechanism to the largest locomotives in the world, the strange things, the curious things and the beautiful things of manufacture, commerce, agriculture and what not. There are complete shoe factories, candy factories, cigarette factories, wonderful scientific and educational exhibits of divers kinds and thousands of rare and beautiful displays delightfully instructive to the beholder.

The Historic Relic building has the most elaborate and priceless collection of historic relics and heirlooms ever assembled. In the Manufactures building there stands, as a part of a foundry exhibit, the old soup kettle from Belle Isle prison, from which thousands of Union soldiers received their sustenance while prisoners at this island fortress in the James river at Richmond. In the Transportation building are two historic vehicles, one the vehicle in which the Marquis de Lafayette made his tour of state upon the occasion of his visit to this country in 1824, the other the landau which conveyed President Lincoln to Ford's theater on the night of his assassination, April 14, 1865. These carriages are the property of the Studebaker Bros. Manufacturing company of South Bend, Ind., and comprise the historical features of this firm's fine exhibit at the Tercentennial.

Government Piers at Jamestown.
The crowning feature of the exposition, the magnificent piers erected by the United States government, late as they are in completion, now stand forth as the grandest artistic realization of the age. Towering columns and magnificent archways studded with millions of lights and decorations form an adjunct to the Tercentennial Court of Honor more elaborate than that which graced the courts of any previous exposition. The Jamestown Tercentennial has emerged from the chaos of the early days and is now the beauty spot of America toward which the tide of humanity is surging with ever increasing intensity.

BATTLE OF SAN JACINTO.

The Desperate Fight That Heralded the Dawn of Texan Freedom.

On the morning of the 21st of April, 1836, the day chosen for the battle which was to decide the fate of Texas, Houston's first words had been, "The sun of Austerlitz has risen again." He had then called a council of war and asked the opinion of his six field officers as to whether they should attack the enemy or wait for the attack to come from them.

The four senior officers strangely counseled delay, but their arguments did not convince Houston, who declared that the hour for action had arrived and plainly announced the intention on his own responsibility to risk a general engagement. He then dispatched Dear Smith, his most trusted scout, to cut down the bridge which offered the only means of escape to either army.

"Make the best of your way," he had said in his habitual tone of kindly friendship, "to Vince's bridge, cut it down and burn it up and come back like eagles or you will be too late for the day." And just as the first charge was starting a horseman flecked with foam from his panting charger had dashed along the lines of the patriot army, as Houston had arranged that he should do, calling out clearly that all might hear, this deathknell to all hopes of possible escape: "I have cut down Vince's bridge! Now, fight for your lives and remember the Alamo!"

The Texan army, with Houston riding at the front of the center column, had then dashed forward against the Mexican breastworks, behind which stood the army of Santa Anna, drawn up in perfect order and calmly reserving its fire for short range. Their first volley, however, by the grace of a divine Providence, as the Texans declared, went too high. Houston's leg was shattered at the ankle and his horse severely wounded, but his column still advanced uninjured.

Then came the answering volley, "poured into the very bosoms" of the astonished Mexicans—unable to reload and without bayonets for the charge. The Texans had "clubbed their muskets" and dealt desperate blows, and finally, when they had thus battered their way into the very center of the Mexican army, they had drawn their murderous bowie knives and "literally cut their way through dense masses of living flesh."

The battle had lasted only twenty minutes, but in that time a new nation had been born into the world. "From the battle of San Jacinto," said Webster in 1842, "the war was at an end."—Metropolitan Magazine.

Jamestown's Accessibility.
Within a twenty-four hour radius of the exposition there live some 40,000,000 people, or nearly half the population of the entire United States. Eight or ten railroads and as many steamship lines center in Norfolk and Newport News, making it possible to bring all of these people to the exposition during the period of the celebration, and all who enter the gates of the Colonial City by the Sea will find entertainment in the highest sense of the word.

An Inflammable Nose.
A man with an inflammable nose recently created excitement on the Boulevard St. Michel, Paris. He was lighting a cigarette when his nose became suddenly ignited, and it and his beard were soon on fire. The man jumped about in great pain and was carried through a horrified crowd to a druggist's shop, where the blaze was extinguished. It was then found that he had a celluloid nose. The real nasal organ had gone under in a street fight, and he went to a flesh patcher for an artificial nose. He had been supplied with one of celluloid instead of horn; hence his mishap.

A traveler putting up at a fifth class hotel brought the "boots" up with his hazy stonking.
"Want your room changed, sir?"
"What's the matter, sir?"
"The room's all right," fumed the guest scorchingly; "it's the fleas I object to, that's all."
"Mrs. Blooms," bawled the "boots" in an unpermitted sort of voice, "the gent in No. 6 is satisfied with his room, but he wants the fleas changed."—Illustrated Bits.

a pretty face, a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired.

Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be happy or popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible.

The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Miss Emma Runtzler, of 631 State St., Schenectady, N. Y., writes:—"For a long time I was troubled with a weakness which seemed to drain all my strength away. I had dull headaches, was nervous, irritable, and all worn out. Chancing to read one of your advertisements of a case similar to mine cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it and I cannot express my gratitude for the benefit received. I am entirely well and feel like a new person."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all forms of Female Complaints, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and is invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the Change of Life.

flux of American capital, as in the case of the Micmac mine, which was until recently operated with the most primitive appliances and which has now installed a fifty ton cyanidé plant, the possibilities of the country as a gold producing center are limitless.

The coal fields of Nova Scotia contain one of the largest coilleries in the world, and one of the largest seams of bituminous coal—forty-two feet—is located there.

There are also extensive deposits of copper and other economic minerals. Tin was recently discovered at Lake Ramsey, about thirty miles from Bridgewater. Indications point to a rapid advancement along these lines in the next few years.

Mining in Nova Scotia is now being conducted as an industry. The labor and climatic conditions of the country are ideal. All of the properties are available by deep water navigation or railroad, and there are innumerable streams which furnish excellent water power.

As an inducement to Nova Scotia to make this exhibit the Jamestown exposition management made no charge for the 3,000 feet of space utilized. It would seem that the opportunity is at hand for the province to interest American capital and show the world the immensity of her resources.

Avenue of the President.

The beginning of Sixteenth street directly faces the White House, and if there were not a small park or square in the way it would begin directly in front of it. Standing on Scott circle, at the head of the hill, one can look directly down Sixteenth street to the holy of holies.

One sad thing about the situation which somewhat jars the fashionables on "the Avenue of the President" is that the president never uses it. When he goes out, he goes along either Pennsylvania avenue or the far less fashionable Seventeenth street.

A Poor Artist.

Patience—Do you know Jules, the artist?
Patrice—Yes, but I don't like him.
"Why not?"
"Oh, I like a man who can look you in the eye."
"Can't he?"
"Why, he can't even paint a picture of a person who can look you in the eye!"—Yonkers Statesman.

3,000 square miles and extends from Yarmouth to the strait of Canso. The government reports over $20,000,000 worth of gold bullion removed from the properties since 1862, and eminent authorities agree that a like amount has been taken out in that period by tributaries and prospectors which was not returned to the mines office and of which there is no record. In fact, Nova Scotia has without doubt produced more gold bullion than any other district in the United States of similar area, taking into consideration the amount of money expended—this in face of the fact that until recently the system of mining was anything but scientific.

Now that use is being made of the water power, which that country possesses in such an abundance, for electrical development and scientific principles are being adopted with the

WEALTH OF NOVA SCOTIA.

Valuable Mineral Exhibit by This Canadian Province at Jamestown.

The ways adopted for the dissemination of knowledge are many. However, the most practical way known to the present day for distributing among the people a knowledge of the world at large or any particular country is by means of international exhibitions.

Through this medium the government of Nova Scotia is imparting to the world a knowledge of her vast undeveloped mineral resources, of which the masses here upon the same continent are densely ignorant.

It is common knowledge that there is probably no country in the world with a greater wealth of mineral fuel than the Dominion of Canada and that there are extensive coal measures in Nova Scotia, but that this province is rich in deposits of the precious metals scarcely a lay citizen of the United States is aware.

Realizing this and believing the undeveloped condition of her mining regions to be due to this fact, Nova Scotia has recently installed in the Palace of Mines and Metallurgy at the Jamestown exposition an exhibit calculated to infuse new life into the production of both the precious and economic metals of the country.

As far back as 1860 valuable gold deposits were discovered in Nova Scotia, and every farm hand who could annex a pick and shovel started in to get rich, but the discovery was overlooked by experienced capital. Partly accountable for this was the fact that at that period the section was not so well provided with railroad facilities as at the present time. Primarily responsible, however, for the failure of foreign capital to enter the field was the fact that Nova Scotia made no effort to advertise her great discovery or to interest outside capital.

A certain amount of American and English capital has in recent years become interested in certain districts, but more capital is desired, and, with this object in view, the Nova Scotian authorities were induced to authorize the display which has been made at Virginia's great world's fair. As a result this province possesses the distinction of having contributed the only exhibit made at the exposition from the Dominion, with the exception of the beautiful building erected there by the Grand Trunk railway system.

The exhibit is accompanied by Mr. Harry Platt, curator of the Provincial museum. It is so valuable that the governor of Virginia has appointed as a special guard three ex-Confederate soldiers from the Soldiers' home at Richmond, who have reported to the commandant of the exposition's constabulary and are on duty.

A large number of mineral specimens from the Provincial museum have been utilized. In the exhibit are some beautiful specimens of gold from the Boston-Richardson properties at Goldboro, where extensive and profitable operations are being conducted, and some nicely arranged specimens of antimony and gold from the properties of the Dominion Antimony company.

That part of the exhibit, however, which attracts the greatest amount of attention is a display of facsimile blocks representing a half ton of gold bullion turned out by the Micmac Gold Mining company from its mine in Lunenburg county. Among the literature distributed at the Nova Scotia booth is a report of the government which states that extensive and profitable operations have been carried on by the Micmac Gold Mining company, and the vein is pronounced a true fissure vein and practically inexhaustible. The gold area of Nova Scotia covers
