A Shocking Railroad Accident.

One of the worse railroad accidents that was ever New Hampshire's lot to bear, was thrust upon her early Sunday morning last, when a freight and passenger train collided near Canaan station, on the Boston & Maine road. Upwards of twenty-five passengers were killed, many more were injured more or less seriously, besides heavy loss of rolling stock of the road.

Such accidents are appalling wherever they occur, but when they come so near home the blow seems to strike with greater force. The cause for the accident is being thoroughly investigated, and appears to be the result of a mistake in the delivery or receipt of train-despatchers orders.

On a main line where there is so much travel it would seem that a double track was the proper thing, and if the state legislature demanded it, the requirement would not, in the end, prove a hardship to the railroad. Bitter experience has demonstrated this on many a sad occasion, says the Manchester Union. "In the present case, looking at the matter from a purely financial standpoint, leaving out of the question the grief and suffering and loss of life, the Boston & Maine could better have afforded to bear the expense of double-tracking the entire length of the old Northern railroad from Concord to White River Junction than to sustain the loss from which there is now no escape. There are side, or branch lines, of course, over which traffic is light and trains are few, upon which the old methods of railroading are still comparatively safe and may be permitted to continue, but on main lines the double track, or the block signal system, have become a necessity and should be insisted upon by state legislatures."

Prohibition Party a Winner!

To many this statement may sound strange and somewhat out of place, but many of the staunch supporters of the "third party" feel greatly encouraged over recent results throughout different sections of the country. On Tuesday our office was graced by the presence of one of the leading Prohibitionists in this state, John C. Berry, of Plymouth, and from him one can learn in a very short time many things with reference to the "third party" movement in the United States, and more particularly in our own State. During the course of his talk, he said his party had every reason to feel encouraged over the situation,—prospects were never so promising in their favor as at the present time; he really expects to see great gains come to his party in the next few years. And looking the situation squarely in the face, from his view-point, there was certainly force in his argument. Time alone is the only sure thing upon which to bank results, and after a few years the public generally will come to know these things, even it seems like a dream and is next to impossible to realize it.

Bureau of Information.

The Bureau of Information established in the Department of Commerce and Labor in connection with the Bureau of Immigration has begun to get active. The information is for the benefit of immigrants to the United States and is to show them where there is a demand for their services, what sort of workmen and laborers are required in various states and all other information that will help in distributing the tide of immigration that is now congesting our large cities. The replies to inquiries that have so far been received are mostly from the farming region of the northwest. The demand there is for north European immigrants almost altogether. There are requisitions for more Danes, Hollanders and Scandinavians than the whole amount of immigration from these countries to the United States. There have been so far few replies from the south to the requests for information and there has been little demand for Italians, Spaniards and the othersouth European nationalities that now make up the bulk of our immigrant influx. It is said that the south Europeans make desirable farm laborers for the southern states, so it might be well if the south would get busy and file a few applications with the Department of Commerce and Labor at Washington.

A new postal card has been issued from the post office department in Washington, but postmasters have been instructed to sell all their old cards before putting the new ones on sale. The new cards are of cream color, 3 1-2 x 5 1-2 inches, are printed in black, and contain a vignette profile portrait of the late President McKinley, giving also the dates of his birth and death, 1843-1901.

The Republican papers are raising the point that Dick Croker has lost his citizenship and cannot vote when he comes back to New York. This must amuse Mr. Croker who never brothered about his own vote, being entirely contented with controlling a majority of the other fellows.

Dispatches from Tromsøe announce that Walter Wellman has been forced to abandon his airship trip to the Pole for lack of wind. This is the first time on record that there has ever been a strong south breeze lacking when Walter was around.

It is said that but for the Texas investigation, Joe Bailey would be a prominent candidate for the Presidential nomination. This is one thing we have to thank the Standard Oil Company for at least.

Luther Burbank had better be advised that it is not spineless cactii that Senator Foraker is looking for to put under the Taft saddle blanket.

The Empress Dowager of China seems to have acquired the farewell tour habit almost to the same extent as a popular prima donna.

The Vertical Never Did "Fill The Bill."

There have been many fads introduced into the public schools of the land in years past, but no fad which did greater harm ever occupied the attention of superintendents and school committees in this or any other State than that of vertical writing. Our readers need go no farther than some of the pupils in our public schools to prove this, for when vertical writing had run its course and something else was substituted, many who had written either a good hand or a fairly good hand before, were forced to acknowledge that the change to the vertical and finally back again to the original, had all at once dropped them into the column of poor writers, and they remain so to-day.

And now we learn that instruction in vertical writing, which of late years has been in vogue in the Greater New York public schools, was superseded at the opening of the fall term, by instruction in the free-arm system.

While it is claimed that the modern free-arm system is widely different from that of former years, yet it remains to be seen whether it is any better. Some of the "old-time penmen" have been pained many times to observe among the pupils in our schools, not excepting the High, how little good writing there is at the present day.

The Mayhew-Ashford Wedding.

One of the pretty fall weddings was solemnized in town at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ashford, 43 Maple avenue, when his sister, Miss Hannah Ashford of Newcastle, N. B., and C. William Mayhew of Candia were united in marriage by the Rev. A. M. Markey of Woodbury Memorial M. E. church. The parlor of the home was handsomely decorated with crimson and white with evergreens and the bride and groom stood beneath a bell. The bride was becomingly gowned in pink silk and the single ring service was used. About twenty-five guests witnessed the ceremony which was immediately followed by a reception. Ice-cream, fruit and cake were served. The newly married couple left on the 3 35 o'clock train for a short wedding journey and on their return will reside in Candia. Mr. Mayhew formerly resided here where he is favorably known, and Miss Ashford has been a frequent visitor in town, where she has brothers and other relatives.

An Editor's Polite Hint.

"Mr Editor," said a patron one day to the man of types, "how is it you never call on me to pay for your paper?" "Oh, we never ask a gentleman for money." "Indeed!" the patron replied. "How do you manage to get along when they don't pay?" "Why," said Mr. Editor, "after a certain time we conclude he is not a gentleman and we ask him."—Printers' Ink.

Hon. N. C. Jameson Improving.

Dispatches in the daily press of first the week that Mr. Jameson had died at Seranac lake were untrue, and most recent statements received by the family are that he seems to be constantly but slowly improving.

Settled by Compromise.

The case of Elliot W. Baker, who was cut off in his stepmother's will, and who sued the estate, was settled Friday last by compromise, the details of which are not given out.

ANTRIM'S EARLY HISTORY

From this time on, as we have opportunity, in this column will be given some of our town's early history, being mostly extracts from Dr. Whiton's History, covering a period between the years 1744 and 1844.

Extract Number Twenty-one

OF THE REPORTER'S SPECIAL SERIES.

Individuals united with the church. In July, 1810, some of the former elders having deceased, removed, or become enfeebled by age, the church elected Samuel Yose, Josiah Duncan, John Taylor, Epps Burnham, and Tristram Sawyer, to be elders, all of whom accepted and were ordained. Soon after this event an increase of religious interest became quite visible; extended itself, without special efforts, silently and gradually, from one neighborhood to another, continued two years and a little more in which period more than fifty were added to the church. It was like a copious, refreshing morning dew.

In the three years, 1810, 1820, 1821, the church received into its fellowship twenty-eight persons. The five succeeding years, beginning with 1822, exhibit a less favorable aspect of religious feeling, giving a total number of admissions of only fifteen. In 1825, there was not a single admission. The agitations and divisions then existing in relation to the location of a meeting-house were adverse to spiritual prosperity. This year, Amos Parmenter, John Bell, Robert Duncan, and Robert Steele were added to the session. James Wallace, Jun., now a resident of Manchester, was elected with them to the office of elder, but declined to accept.

Such a blending of town and society action is found in the transactions relative to the erection of a Central church, 1826, that the civil and ecclesiastical portions of our history are, on this point, strangely commingled. To the details given in the chapter of civil history it may be added that the Centre house was dedicated Nov. 15, 1826; sermon by the pastor, from Gen. 28:17. In accordance with a previous vote of the town, the congregation held the last service in the old house in the forenoon of Dec. 3, the sermon being from John 4:20, "Our fathers worshipped in this mountain." In the intermission, the assembly repaired to the new house for the afternoon service, the sermon being from Psalm 132:8, 9. The East church was dedicated Dec. 20th; sermon by Rev. Mr. Lawton of Hillsboro. The society worshipping in this house obtained, not long after, the services of Mr. Roswell Harris, a candidate for the congregational ministry; a respectable and estimable man, who preached to them somewhat over a year.

Without any anticipation of such a blessing, or the use of any special means whatever, by far the most general and powerful revival of religion ever enjoyed in Antrim, manifested itself in 1827. It was found in May that a few persons, hitherto void of special religious impressions, were inquiring what they must do to be saved. In a few weeks the interest spread into almost every part of the town; religious meetings were crowded with thoughtful and listening hearers, and opposition stood dumb before the power of the Divine Spirit. Few were found hardy enough to deny the finger of God. The good work was at its height in August and September. In the course of sixteen months one hundred and three persons united with the Presbyterian church; the greatest number received at one time being fifty-one; the greater part of whom ever after sustained, in the judgment of charity, the christian character. It was a merciful dispensation, following a scene of protracted controversy about the location of a church; coming to strengthen the cause of religion at a critical time; and exerting a great and lasting influence on the moral state of the community. The whole number of professed converts in the town was not less than one hundred and twenty.

Oct. 25, a Congregational church of seventeen members, chiefly subjects of the existing revival, was organized by a council, in which the pastor and session of the Presbyterian church assisted, at the east meeting-house; to whom were soon added nine others, dismissed at their own request, from the Presbyterian church, and four more from other churches; making thirty in all. The sermon at the organization was by Rev. Mr. Cook, then of Acworth, from Ps. 4:3, first clause.

In 1829 and 1830 the additions to the Presbyterian church were only four. William Little and Joel Wilkins were added in the latter year to the session; John Yose was also elected an elder, but excused himself from an acceptance.

Memorable in the churches of this region is the year 1831, as the season of "protracted meetings," so called. Such meetings were holden in very many places; and through some objectionable features were discernable, the general results were in most instances decidedly good. The attention of great numbers was attracted to the truths and obligations of religion and the moral state of society was ameliorated. Such a meeting was holden here during three days the latter part of August, and was attended, with deep interest, by crowds of people from this and other towns, and by many ministers. A considerable number of hopeful conversions ensued, many of which appeared, ever after, to be genuine and abiding. Thirty-six persons were added to the church that year. It was at length found that such meetings, like other things good in themselves but liable to perversion, were not free from some ill consequences; that some placed on them an undue reliance, to the disparagement of the ordinary means of grace; that they created a taste for exciting rather than instructive preaching; that some itinerant preachers used them as a means of disseminating unsound principals, and of introducing rash innovations. When these evils became apparent, the Spirit of God ceased to set on them, as heretofore, the seal of divine approbation, and the churches wisely returned to their former re-

GRAVEL CURED

(Philadelphia, Penn., Item.)
A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2437 North 8th St., Philadelphia, could not be found in a day's search. The fact that he is still alive is a constant wonder to his friends.
Several years ago he began to suffer in describable miseries from stone in the bladder. An eminent physician in Philadelphia told him that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind, he heard of

DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Although disheartened, he bought a bottle of it, and within a month had experienced beneficial results, and before he had finished the third bottle, the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings at an end.
Mr. Neill feels that he owes a lasting debt of gratitude to Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y., and for orders of the bladder and urinary organs. He says: "It will effect a cure if one is possible."
Favorite Remedy is prescribed with un-failing success for rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation, and nerve troubles in which it has cured many that were considered beyond the aid of medicine. All druggists, $1.

The Cause of Many

Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart or The Kidneys, Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's restorative has made its fame. No other remedy ever claims to keep the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for a sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The restorative is sold by W. F. Dickey.

Pure Blood is a Defence, it means safety. A person whose blood is in an impure and impoverished condition is in the greatest danger of catching any infectious or epidemic disease. Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nerve will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve, and used altogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. Letter to J. A. Balch, Antrim, N. H.

Dear Sir: The easiest way we know to make a little money is—if you're going to paint—to paint with the paint that takes least gallons.

Take a small job; say it takes 10 gallons Devoe; two coats; that's an average house. When the job is done and the bill comes in, it is $50; the paint etc., $17.50; the rest is for labor and cartage; the labor is fixing the surface, shifting ladders scaffolds pulleys ropes and brushing on paint.

Take another job exactly like that; try another paint; it takes 12 gallons. The bill is $10 more. Take another exactly the same; another paint; it takes 20 gallons. The bill is $100.

There is only one Devoe; there's a dozen 12 gallon paints, and 100 that takes 20 gallons to cover a 10 gallon job.

The only difficulty is in finding out Devoe. After that you save work; there's less work in 10 than in 12 or 20 gallons; less paint to buy and less to brush on and less wages to pay.

If Devoe were only a little better than others, there'd be some difficulty in finding out the difference. It goes twice as far as half the paints; that ought to be easy.

It wears longer too. You'll wait a good while, if you wait to find out how long it wears; there are thousands of people who know that the least gallons paint wears longest.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co

Leo Edward Munhall of Hancock entered the 9th grade last Tuesday.

Kenneth Tewksbury is not attending High school any longer. He was a member of the class of '10.

At present the Freshman class numbers twelve pupils. This is a somewhat smaller class than last year, but it is just as fresh!

A new pupil has entered the High School lately as a member of the Freshman class. Her name is Miss Vera M. Mandigo, from Lyndeboro. She is spending the winter with her aunt, Miss Maria Sweetser.

Miss Grace E. Barnham, a member of the class of '08, is greatly missed by her classmates. We are glad to report she is gaining in health and is expected home soon. She has been quite ill for the past few weeks at Peak's Island, Me., where she was spending a portion of her vacation with relatives.

Base Ball.

The following article in the New Hampshire Gazette (Portsmouth, N. H.) will be read with interest by many of our subscribers:

For over half a century baseball has claimed the ascendancy over all other sports in this country and promises to hold its own for a long while to come, yet the history of the sport is but little known and its origin thought to be in doubt, by hundreds of its firmest devotees.

On the 19th of June, 1846, the date which has now peculiarly come to be a holiday of patriotic significance united with baseball, the first match game was played at Hoboken, New Jersey, between the Knickerbocker and New York Baseball Clubs.

The game was evolved gradually from the old English schoolboy game of "rounders," which came to be "town ball" and at last by a radical series of all-at-once changes baseball practically as it is to-day, with bases substituted for "corners" and the adoption of a hard ball instead of the rubber, yarn and leather spheres formerly hurled at the runners. The placing of men to guard the bases was also originated at the same time as was the name baseball itself. Yet for fifteen years after the introduction of the game in New York it was not destined to be played to the displacement of town ball in the city of Philadelphia only ninety miles away.

Almost the first rule adopted by the association formed to govern changes in rules, etc., was against professionalism, yet to-day the rules of professional baseball are followed by amateurs all over the country, and professionalism, in spite of the aspersions of would-be critics, has done much to maintain and popularize the sport throughout the country.

In 1866 and 1867, it is recorded free baseball games in New York were attended by from 10,000 to 30,000 people daily, yet a writer in a western paper tells of the "unquestionable decadence" of the sport. A little reference to the metropolitan sporting columns should serve to enlighten him, but perhaps he, not having been East thinks them as exaggerated as certain other sections of the Sunday editions.

That baseball as a professional and semi-professional sport can be abused is undoubted, but it is only here and there that the evil crops out and then but for a brief time, truer standards of sport, in response to the popular demand finally prevailing.

The casket was literally covered with flowers, which showed the affection and esteem of the deceased by his numerous friends; he was a very popular man in New York.

Painters, wall builders, etc., are busy on the Flint farm making extensive improvements.

The Intruder.

A Washington man was telling some one of the trials of his wife, an excellent housekeeper, with reference to the servant problem. Just about the time the mistress would get a new girl broken to the ways of the household and she would bid fair to become a model servant she would decamp or enter the service of a neighbor. One of these, a Mrs. B., had incurred the especial enmity of the first woman, for she had lately taken two servants from Mrs. Brown. One night Brown was aroused from his slumbers by queer sounds in the kitchen. "Burglars!" he hoarsely whispered in the ear of his spouse as he prepared to tumble out of bed and proceed downstairs. "Edward," calmly observed the wife, "I'd give anything to possess your optimistic nature. Always looking on the bright side. I'll wager anything it's that odious B. woman trying to get Mary away from me."

Mated.

"She made him sign the pledge when they were married."
 "I always heard that marriage affected a man's spirits."—Judge.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure.

The strongest and most grateful statements to make come from women who by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.

MISS ROSE MOORE

Changed His Motto.
A southern representative in congress is reputed to be of such a persuasive manner that, no matter what party may be in power, he outdoes his colleagues in procuring favors for his constituents.

One afternoon the statesman was met by a newspaper man. "Well, major," asked the latter, "how many appointments and appropriations have you arranged for today? We all know your way of getting everything that you go after."

"Nothing today," responded the representative rather wearily. "My experience this time reminds me of the old Confederate soldier that I knew in Tennessee. I went into this war," said he, "with the motto 'Veni, vidi, vici,' and I came out vice versa."

—St. Louis Republic.

How They Fooled the Preacher.

When our grandmothers arranged to have chicken for Sunday dinner—for the preacher—they picked out the biggest and fattest and toughest old hen on the place Saturday afternoon and had the boys and dogs "run her down." A tough old hen that is chased all over the place and frightened out of her life is as tender as a spring lamb when cooked. Fright makes any animal, bird or fowl tender, so the books say, and it appears from this that our grandmothers knew what they were about when they had the tough old hens chased before killing.—El Dorado (Kan.) Republican.

It Killed Him.

"I should fancy the laundry business was about as easy as any to start."

"What makes you think so?"

"All you have to do is to lay in a supply of starch."

"Yes."

"Well, that'll starch you all right."

Three days after there was a burial.—London Tit-Bits.

"Pa, what's the difference between the meaning of prepared and ready?"

"Well, there's many a person who may be prepared to die, but I never saw one who was ready." — Chicago Record-Herald.

Don't keep so busy making money to afford pleasure that you have no time to devote to pleasure.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A WISE BRITON.

He Half Suspected at the Start That the Feathers Weren't Edible.

A Brooklyn man who entertained an English relative tells this without the quiver of an eyelid:

"My cousin from London reached New York last summer, along with a hot wave. The crowds were deep before the soda water fountains on lower Broadway. He remarked that he did not comprehend how Americans could swallow that 'nasty slush.'

"A mere preference," I explained.

"We have many curious examples of that kind in this country. One of the most remarkable evidences of insatiable appetite for froth rather than substance is that of the American poultry lover who daily advertises in our New York papers for 1,000 feather beds. As you may well imagine, he is said to have entirely lost his taste for the flesh of the fowl."

"Oh, really!" exclaimed the Englishman in quiet surprise. Nothing more was said till nine months later, when I opened my mail one day and found a marked copy of the London Times, which he had sent to me. He called my attention to this extract in an article on mob rule and lynching in America. 'It can hardly be possible that the supply of tar and feathers in the United States will be sufficient at the rate the mobs are covering the bodies of the poor wretches who are tortured and humiliated before they are drawn and quartered or burned at the stake.'

"I fancy you will see your error after reading this," he wrote. 'It is quite plain the man wanted the beds for another purpose and not, as you believe, to eat.' — Brooklyn Eagle.

How Inconsiderate!

"Young Ruggles did a very thoughtless thing."

"What was that?"

"He wrote a poem in honor of a certain young woman who had just completed her twenty-first birthday and published it in the college paper."

"Wasn't it a good poem?"

"Very good."

"What's the criticism then?"

"Why, everybody who wants to find out can look back any time and discover how old the young woman is." — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Even the Clock.

Two ladies were being shown through the State Hospital for the Insane. As they entered a ward one turned to the other and said, "I wonder if that clock is right?"

An inmate standing near overheard her and instantly replied: "Great Scott, no! It wouldn't be here if it was!"

There is a queer little rock animal found in thousands in all parts of Cape Colony, South Africa, and called by the Dutch "daasje" (pronounced in English: "dassie"). This little creature has many other names, such as the coney, daman, rock badger and rock rabbit. It is found also in Syria and is really the "coney" of the Bible, for one of the psalms contains this verse, "The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats and the rocks for the conies," while in the book of Proverbs we read, "The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks." The South African daasje is a pretty gray, furry creature, merry and sun loving, and when taken young makes a charming pet.—Amy Sutherland in St. Nicholas.

His Mistake.

"Yes," said the musical young woman, "we spent the whole evening trying to play a new sort of polka."

"You don't say," replied Jack Potts.

"What was the limit?" — Houston Post.

Youthful Financier.

This really happened in New York the other day:

Displeased Parent—Molly, I find you have been buying three pairs of gloves without my permission. Why did you do so? Miss Molly (aged twelve)—Why, daddy, I was obliged to have some gloves; I hadn't a pair to wear!

Displeased Parent—It was wrong of you to buy the gloves without the permission either of your mamma or myself. Miss Molly—Well, never mind daddy, dear; they won't cost anything I had them charged.—New York Post.

Rear Admiral Walker, who has recently died, was a native of this village and one of our sons who had distinguished himself in the service of his country. His connection with the "White Squadron" is fresh in the memory of many of our town's-people.

Hillsboro County Pomona Grange held a special meeting with Valley Grange here Tuesday. Master H. M. Beard of Grasmere, Assistant Lecturer George P. Hadley of Goffstown, Secretary Mary A. Gove of Bedford, and Ceres Josie Beard of Grasmere were the officers present. Previous to and after dinner, important subjects were discussed, among them being "What can be done to increase the attractions of the farm home to make it the brightest and happiest place on earth?" and "Are literary exercises for benefit mainly of the Grange or the participants?" A large number participated in the discussions, making them very beneficial. This proved to be one of the best meetings ever held by Hillsboro County Pomona.
