State Trade Report

Bradstreet's returns show that there is a perceptibly better feeling in manufacturing circles, and while as yet there is not much change in the hours and number of hands employed, orders are coming in and more inquiries for goods are seen. Retail merchants have been very slow in placing orders, and where they have purchased it has been in very much smaller quantities than usual. Now with spring trade in sight and already a better demand for goods, many merchants find they have underbought, and as there are no surplus goods in the market it is believed it will cause a demand that cannot readily be supplied. This is already noticed in footwear, and manufacturers report more reorders coming in than was anticipated and factories are already doing more business. Spring trade is starting in slowly but every warm day brings out more shoppers. The roads are in a generally bad condition which stops all kinds of business in the country sections. Lumbermen are practically over their rush and while the cut is less than usual it has been secured only with difficulty on account of the short season. Farmers are busy in many sections on the maple syrup crop and while as yet no great amount of new syrup is seen in the market, it is believed a fair crop will be secured.

Milford reports all industries running full time and the prospect for business in the granite lines is much better than expected, retail trade is fair.

Conditions at Nashua in manufacturing lines show practically no change; retail trade is picking up somewhat although it is much slower than usual.

At Concord conditions in manufacturing circles are very quiet and there is considerable idle help. There is a much better outlook in granite circles than was anticipated; retail trade is very quiet.

At Claremont most industries are on short time and retail trade is quiet. The roads in this section are in very poor condition, which holds back all country trade.

Manchester industries, taken as a whole, are well employed. The mills are on full time but with somewhat shortened help. The shoe factories with two exceptions, are working full time and crews, and the harness manufactory is busy. Retail trade holds quiet but is improving, although it is not expected to reach last year's business.

Cause of Advance in Beef

The present advance in beef prices is said to be due to a shortage of beef cattle in the Chicago market, says the N. H. Gazette, published at Portsmouth. It is claimed that during the past ten days the receipt of cattle has been one-half the usual amount, forcing a general rise in prices.

According to local wholesale dealers the advance in dressed beef during the past ten days has been $1.50 per hundred weight. This is reported to have been a gradual rise, no single increase being more than 50 cents per hundred weight, or one-half cent a pound.

Retailers have also been compelled to advance prices, explaining that the increase has been due to the shortage and the consequent advance on the part of the wholesalers. They assert that the advance has been gradual; that it has not advanced altogether to quite 2 cents a pound. It is said that there has been a greater advance in pork prices than in those of beef.

Our Foolish Holiday

Much has been written and spoken in regard to the advisability of abolishing Fast Day in the old Granite State, but to date nothing of importance has been done relating to it. The N. H. Gazette, dated April 1, had the following very timely article on the subject:

Not to-day, April 1, dear reader, though this is indeed the Holiday of Fools, is New Hampshire's foolish holiday. That to which we now allude will fall, it is said, on a very appropriate date, April 23. Efforts to cut out the never observed, ill-natured Fast Day have so far proved unavailing yet there was a fair promise of success at the time of the sitting of the last legislature. Undoubtedly a holiday is popularly demanded and probably needed at about this date, but Fast Day inspires no feelings of patriotism and is a butt for those who make a mockery of religion. Plenty of good substitutions are offered. Why, if the English and Edwin D. Mead do not object, can we not celebrate Bunker Hill Day, which comes at about this time, and which is a holiday in the Bay State? New Hampshire had more men at Bunker Hill than did Massachusetts. And last but not least, business interests require a consolidation of the April holiday in New Hampshire, Maine and Massachusetts.

Weather Proverbs about Clouds, No. 2

Anvil shaped clouds are very likely to be followed by a gale of wind.

Hard edged, oily appearing clouds, indicate wind.

A dark gloomy blue sky, indicates wind.

If clouds form high in the air in their white trains like locks of wool, portend wind and probably rain.

If there be a cloudy sky and dark clouds driving fast under higher clouds, expect violent gusts of wind.

If it blows in the day it generally hushes toward evening.

Generally the softer the clouds the less wind.

A curdly sky will not be twenty-four hours dry.

Evening red and morning gray, Will set the traveler on his way;

But evening gray and morning red, Will bring down rain upon his head.

If long strips of clouds drive at a slim rate high in the air and gradually become larger, the sky having been previously clear, expect rain.

If clouds float at different heights and rates, but generally in opposite directions, expect heavy rains.

Dusky or tarnish silver clouds indicate hail.

Generally, any deep unusual hue of clouds indicate rain and wind, while the more quiet and moderate tints indicate fair weather.

Clouds being soft, undefined, and feathery, the weather will be fair.

If clouds be bright It will clear to-night

When the clouds hang on the mountain side after a rain, and the sun shines on the top of the mountain, the storm is over.

If a layer of thin clouds drive up from the northwest, and under other clouds moving more to the south, expect fine weather.

If at sunrise many clouds are seen in the west and disappear, expect fine weather for a short time.

If the woolly fleeces strew the heavenly way, Be sure no rain will disturb the summer day.

When streamers point upward, the clouds are falling and rain is at hand. When streamers point downward, the clouds are ascending and drought is at hand.

If after rain, the wind goes to the south or southwest better weather will follow.

Mackerel sky, mackerel sky Never long wet, never long dry.

A Delightful Pudding Dessert

No matter how many recipes you may have of your own you should try at once the Chocolate or Lemon Tapioca flavor of D-Zerta Quick Pudding. Each 10 cent package contains enough to serve a large family and it is impossible to produce a more delicious pudding. Prepared instantly. Sold by all grocers. Order today and insist upon getting D-Zerta, the original Pudding dessert. Substitutes are numerous but worthless.

The postal authorities say the R. F. D. has helped the receipts more than the extra cost of the routes, and that they are not responsible for any of the deficit. Good for the R. F. D.

Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children. Its mild action and pleasant taste makes it preferable to violent purgatives, such as pills, tablets, etc. Cures constipation. W. F. Dickey

The Work of Congress.

There is very little agreement among members of the House and Senate as to what will be accomplished in the way of legislation during the possible two months' continuance of the present session of Congress. Two weeks ago it was thought that Congress would adjourn before the middle of May. Now it is believed that the earliest day of adjournment will be the first of June. The Republican majority had not intended to do much more than pass the appropriation bills, but the country has been heard from in an emphatic and urgent way and the President, reflecting the demands of the country, has presented several messages to Congress. His admonitions, seconded by those of the Democratic leader of the House are evidently having their influence on what Hon. John Sharp Williams calls the "passivity" of the Republican majority. It is believed that Congress is getting busy with the intention of doing all that can be done before adjournment. The bills that will, in all probability be passed are: first, a bill prohibiting child labor in the District of Columbia with possible amendments affecting the general question of child labor. Then, it is probable that a bill appointing a tariff commission will become a law. But, if it is not reached this session, it will surely pass at the next session of the Sixtieth Congress. All shades of political opinion are in agreement that the improvement of the tariff schedules is such a stupendous task that it cannot be accomplished in one session. Hence the wisdom of a commission of experts to classify and tabulate the various articles subject to the tariff.

It is expected that a wise and sane amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law will be passed before adjournment. With reference to Democratic support, the leader of the Democratic minority in the House says: "Insofar as the things urged by the President are good things, I would like the country to know that all he has to do is to deliver twenty or twenty-five Republican votes in favor of them. These conjoined with the solid Democratic votes, will put them through."

Printed by Request

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive Kidneys overcoming Backache, Bladder weakness and Urinary trouble of all kinds if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, October of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

Wall Street and Elections

All have heard more or less said continually of a presidential year being a detriment to business, and while many know from experience that business is sometimes quiet at such periods, yet it is only in the years of a panic when we experience the like of the present condition of things. The last that history recorded was in 1804—not a presidential year, altho' some would have us believe it was an outcome of such. Going farther back than this, it is simply found that history repeats itself. Regarding the present condition of things, the Concord Patriot has the following interesting article on the subject:

In an address delivered at a bankers' banquet in Springfield, Mass., a few evenings since, the editor of the Wall Street Journal said:

"With the volume of business twenty-five per cent. under normal, with heavy reductions in railroad earnings, with the depressed markets, and with one million people out of work, and the wages of many others reduced, what effect will this state of things have upon the vote to be taken next November?"

It depends entirely upon who is to blame for the condition as viewed by the many.

If the representatives of the rich succeed in convincing the millions that Roosevelt is to blame, then the Republican party will be beaten at the poll, but it does not necessarily follow that because the Republican party is defeated, that the principles for which Mr. Roosevelt is contending will be defeated.

There was a time when Wall Street not only determined who would be elected president, but for what he would stand. That is not true to-day. Things have changed mightily, and if Wall Street would influence elections in the immediate future, it will not be done by taking the public into its confidence, but rather by concealing its motives, plans and practices.

To-day, the general belief is that Roosevelt is not to blame, and that Bryan is not to blame for the paralyzed industry of the nation, but the people forget easily, and they forget quickly, and especially so when they permit partisanship to creep in and steal away their brains.

All that glitters may not be gold, but the glittering thing is a wonderful power to the thoughtless and disinterested.

Special Committee's Report

The special committee appointed at the last session of the legislature to investigate the administration of county affairs, consisting of Representatives Robert L. Manning of Manchester, chairman, Alvin J. Lucier of Nashua, George A. Worcester of Milford, Andrew J. Walbridge of Peterboro, and Robert E. McKean of Manchester, made its report the 26th ult.; this report was filed with Mr. Worcester, who is clerk of the Hillsborough county legislative delegation.

The committee held several hearings and made an exhaustive examination of the jail, the county farm, the new hospital at Grasmere, and the commissioners' department, and has a balance on hand of $46.57 of the $250 appropriated for the expense of the investigation. The members of the committee charged nothing for their services.

It was found that under present arrangements the business of the county in its various departments has changed somewhat and is improved; and while in the opinion of this committee they would have conducted business somewhat differently and possibly saved money thereby, they had but very few recommendations to make that would materially change matters. Their statement with regard to public officials doubtless is more nearly correct than most people would desire, that "the county business, as is so often the case with public officials, has not been as shrewdly managed as private business would be; probably it is impossible to expect that it can be."

New Tax Law

The new law relating to the collection of taxes within the state of Maine goes into effect this year and if carried out will swell the town reports considerably. This law says that:

"All municipal officers of cities and towns in making out their yearly reports shall cause to be printed in said report the names and amounts of all delinquent tax payers which have been committed to the treasurer or collector for collection. Failure to do this is punished by a fine of from five to twenty-five dollars."

This would not be a bad law for other states to adopt; then those who pay their taxes could see who does not.

About Advertising

It costs money to advertise in a paper of circulation and influence in the community. Every business man who seeks to enlarge his trade, recognizes the fact that advertising is a legitimate expense. It is not the cheapest advertising that pays the best. Sometimes it is the highest priced newspaper that brings the largest net profit to the advertiser.

(Philadelphia, Penn. Item.)
 A healthier, heartier, happier man than John J. Neill, of 2137 North 8th St., Philadelphia, could not be found. Research shows that he is still alive to a constant voice to his friends.
 Several years ago he began to suffer in describable miseries from stone in the bladder. An eminent physician in Philadelphia told him that a surgical operation was necessary. So much did he dread the result, for if unsuccessful it meant death, that he put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind, he heard of Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle

HER NEWSPAPER DAD.

He isn't Always Cross; Sometimes He is Positively Jubilant.

Newspaper daddies are funny. I think mine's one. He's funniest at breakfast, only it isn't breakfast, 'cause it's lunch, and that's another funny thing about it.

"Where's 'smornin's paper?" he asks mamma the first thing when he comes downstairs. And then when she looks sort of childishly at him 'cause he's a little gruff he hurries up and says, "Good morning, everybody," just as though he felt kinda 'shamed of himself.

And then he won't talk when he gets his old paper. He just sticks his nose into it and looks at one page after another just as fast as he can, and then he begins all over again and does it slower and keeps still for quite awhile.

Then mamma and I wait for an explosion.

Then he goes chasing from one page to another as fast as ever he can, talking to himself, and when he's got real mad he shouts at mamma: "They buried it! See. They buried it back there—way back there, of course, and it's the best story in the paper!"

Then mamma says, quiet, like a calm after a storm, "Come, dear, your coffee 'll get cold."

But he's more like a bear than a dear, and he doesn't come, but he keeps on growling at the old paper. I guess he finally gets tired of himself, too, and then he jumps up, throws the paper on the chair and tries to dodge mamma's funny smile.

Mamma's awfully patient, I think, and she never gets mad, but just smiles and smiles at daddy when he gets cross at things. Sometimes she asks him why he wants to keep on being a newspaper man if it's so awful. One time he answered and said it was because if he kept on working sixteen hours a day maybe the office would some time give him as much as the stereotyper gets for working eight hours a day. Mamma said that was sarcasm. I guess he thinks sarcasm must be a good thing for the office, 'cause he most always talks that way about it.

But newspaper daddies aren't always cross. Sometimes mine hurries downstairs a whole lot earlier, and then when he grabs the paper he smiles all over and shouts at mamma:

"See that story? That's a clean scoop, and a bully one! That's worth living for! And, say, won't the fellows on the old Bugle feel sore, though!"

"I tell you," he says then, "one day like that is worth a bicycle of Cathay," whatever that is.

And then mamma looks at me and smiles, 'cause we both think he's funny sometimes.—Des Moines (Ia.) Register.

A Great Lawyer's Method.

Writing of "Civilian Leaders of the Confederacy" in the Louisville Courier-Journal, John Goode says of Judah P. Benjamin:

"No music sounds so sweet as your own

cussed the practice of law, and in the course of the conversation he asked me what we considered a good fee in my part of the country, to which I replied that we considered $500 a very respectable fee. He smiled and said: "When I practiced law in New Orleans if a man employed me I charged him a retainer. If he came about the office much I charged him a reminder, when I had done some work in the case I charged him a refresher, and when it was all over I charged him a finisher."

Test For Hydrochloric Acid.

A curious mishap gave us a very delicate test for hydrochloric acid in the atmosphere. In a north of England locality many houses have curtains of the cream color produced by metanil yellow, popularly known as "dolly" cream dye and to science as "the sodium salt of meta-amido-benzine sulphonic acid-azo-diphenyl-amine." Some of these cream colored curtains suddenly changed to heliotrope. Investigation showed that an accidental escape of hydrochloric acid from a neighboring alkali plant had discolored the curtains, and the dye became a most useful test.

An Episode In Court.

"I know it, judge. But I wouldn't do such a thing, hungry and broke as I am."

"Too conscientious, I suppose?"

"No. I don't pretend that. But why should I snatch a woman's pocketbook? What would I want with a couple of car tickets, a powder rag, a piece of chewing gum and a dressmaker's address?"

Why He Was Suspicious.

"There is something suspicious about that," remarked the young man named Brown as he hung up the telephone receiver.

"About what?"

"Why, I just called up the home of a girl who has led me to believe that I am the warm favorite and that there are no others on her list. She wasn't at home, so the party who answered the ring said, but it gave me a jar when she added, 'Shall I tell her you called, Mr. White?'"—New York Press.

Beyond the Earth.

"Bliggins thinks he knows more than anybody else on earth."

"You state it mildly," answered Miss Cayenne. "Since the assertion that Mars is inhabited he goes further than that."—Washington Star.

Exercising the Dog.

"Justin," said Mrs. Wyss.

"Yes," replied Mr. Wyss.

"Will you speak a kind word to Fido and make him wag his tail? He hasn't had one bit of exercise all day."—Lippincott.

Mrs. Mary A. Sheldon,

Wife of David P. Sheldon, passed quietly and peacefully away at her home on Central street in Hudson, this state, on Wednesday morning, after an illness of nine days. She had been in her usual health until Sunday, March 29, when an attack of acute indigestion was followed by apoplexy on Monday. Her physicians from the first did not give much encouragement as to her recovery and she gradually failed and was unconscious most of the time until the end. She was a member of the Congregational church and her strong Christian character, generous impulses, nobility of character and correct life was an example worthy of imitation.

She was born in Phillipston, Mass., 74 years ago, her birthday being March 9. She was married 52 years ago and is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Nettie Pitcher, wife of Dr. H. F. Pitcher of Haverhill, Mass., Mrs. Grace Sheldon Burnham, wife of John Burnham of Antrim and Mrs. Annie Sheldon Daniels, wife of Postmaster Chas. A. Daniels of Hudson, and one son, Frank Everett Sheldon of Athol, Mass., also by five grandchildren, Karl Pitcher, May Myrtle Sheldon, J. Sheldon Burnham and Raymond and Lorraine Daniels; two brothers, Lewis Knights of Athol, Mass., and Ira Knights of Minooki, Ill., and three sisters, Miss Harriett Bigelow, Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Roxie Bartlett, South Royalston, Mass., Mrs. Sarah Howe, Leominster, Mass. She had made her home in Hudson 16 years, going there with her husband from Stoddard, this state, where their children were born.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 1.30. Many gathered to pay loving tribute to a dear departed friend and one who was respected by everyone. Rev. F. O. Tyler officiated, assisted by Rev. E. F. Blanchard and Rev. F. P. Chapin. Favorite selections were sung by the Cummings quartet. The bearers were relatives. Many and beautiful were the floral offerings from the family and friends, completely covering the grave. Interment was in Sunnyside cemetery by the side of her two daughters.

Important Decision

It is important that you should decide to take Foley's Honey and Tar when you have a cough or cold as it will cure the most obstinate racking cough and expel the cold from your system. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no harmful drugs. Insist upon having it

Too Low or Not?

There is a strong opinion in military circles that the Senate Committee of which Senator Hale of Maine is chairman has not made a creditable record in its recent investigation of the claim that the armor belt on our warships is too low for adequate defence. Senator Hale promised the inquiry should go deep into every phase of the question, but it is evident he is prejudiced and favors the Bureau of the Navy Department and is more disposed to listen to the old naval officers there than to the younger, more recently and better educated men who have had more recent experience with ships at sea and more recent opportunity for the examination of the best vessels of foreign powers. The dignity and equanimity of Senator Hale's committee has been somewhat shaken by learning that Admiral Evans after hearing from the young and progressive officers of his fleet, is of opinion that the criticism with reference to the armor belt, are just. Of course it is not agreeable to hear after having spent hundreds of millions of dollars on these new ships, that they are defective in the most important particular and that many millions more will have to be expended in order to improve them, but it is surely much better to have found this out now than to learn it after it is too late.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Hillsborough.

Your petitioner Allan Gerrard of Bennington in said County of Hillsboro, respectfully represents that he is guardian of Edith M. Sawyer, decreed to be an insane person by the appointment of the Judge of Probate for said County of Hillsboro; that his said ward is seized of one undivided third part of the following described premises: A certain tract of land situated in Bennington in said county and state and bounded and described as follows to wit; it being a part of the William Darrah farm. Beginning at the south-west corner of the premises on the north side of the road leading from Bennington Village to farm formerly owned by Zenas Davis, thence northerly by a stone wall and a straight line to the river about one hundred and twenty rods, thence easterly to the river to Newton land, thence southerly by Newton and Archibald Winn land to the afore-mentioned road near dwelling formerly owned by Morris Willis, thence westerly by the road to the south side of the river, containing twenty six acres more or less and that it is necessary for the support of his said ward Edith M. Sawyer, and will be conducive to her interest, to have the premises sold. Wherefore he prays that he may have license to sell the same at public auction or private sale, agreeably to the laws of said State.

ALLAN GERRARD, Guardian.

HILLSBOROUGH SS. Court of Probate
At a Court of Probate holden at Nashua in said County, on the 2nd day of April A. D. 1908.

It is ORDERED, that a hearing be had on the foregoing petition at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Nashua, in said County, on the 28th day of April, 1908; and that the said petitioner give notice to all persons interested in said estate, by causing the said petition, and this order thereon, to be published once each week for three successive weeks, in The Antrim Reporter, a newspaper printed at Antrim, in said County, the last publication to be at least seven days before said day of hearing.

By order of the Court,
E. J. COPP, Register.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

HILLSBOROUGH SS. Court of Probate

To the heirs at law of the estate of Jennie M. Nesmith, late of Antrim, in said county, deceased, intestate, and to all others interested therein:

Whereas, D. Parker Bryer, administrator of the estate of said deceased, has filed in the Probate Office for said County the account of his administration of said estate:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Nashua, in said County, on the 28th day of April next, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

Said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by causing the same to be published once each week for three successive weeks in the Antrim Reporter, a newspaper printed at Antrim in said County, the last publication to be at least seven days before said Court.

Given at Nashua in said County, this 30th day of March, A. D. 1908.

By order of the Court,
E. J. COPP, Register.

Administrator's Notice.

The subscriber gives notice that he has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Bill C. Butterfield, late of Antrim, in the County of Hillsborough, deceased.

All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make payment, and all having claims to present them for adjustment.

Considerable excitement was caused last Friday night by the burning of a poultry house at Hillside farm. The fire alarm was rung in and the department called when a telephone message from W. C. Hills notified the men that the flames were under control. The fire originated from one of the lamps in a brooder which became overheated and set fire to the building; large number of young chickens and several hundred of eggs nearly hatched were completely destroyed. The loss to Mr. Hills was quite heavy.

A Common Mistake

Many women mistake kidney and bladder troubles for some irregularity peculiar to the sex. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects irregularities and makes women well. Miss Carrie Harden, Bowling Green, Ky., writes: "I suffered much pain from bladder and kidney trouble until I started to use Foley's Kidney Remedy. The first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely well."

Half a Loaf.
 The negro's love of titles of whatever sort is amusingly illustrated by a story told by the governor of a southern state.

It appears that the congregation of a colored church in Georgia conceived the notion that it would add greatly to their dignity if the pastor of the church were enabled to add the initials D. D. to his name. A member, hearing of an institution in the north which would, for value received, confer such a degree, entered into correspondence with that end in view. Reply came to the effect that the sum of $75 would obtain the desired dignity.

A difficulty arose, however, in that the congregation were unable to raise more than $30. Finally, after much confabulation, the congregation delegated one of their number to see the thing out. The following message was sent to the institution mentioned:
 "Kindly forward our pastor one D., we being unable to afford the other at this time."—Harper's Weekly.

"Pelorus Jack."
 Near the mouth of Pelorus sound, on the Nelson side of Cook strait, is the home of a remarkable sea animal known throughout New Zealand as "Pelorus Jack." He is gray in color, about fourteen feet in length, and his pastime is to wait for coastal steamers and to escort them for several miles on their journey. As a boat approaches "Jack" may be seen heading toward her to take up his accustomed position beside or in front of the bow of the vessel. There, sometimes for twenty minutes, he hovers round, rushing so quickly from side to side that the eye can scarcely follow his movements. When he considers he has gone far enough, with a last sudden plunge he dives once more and for the last time, disappearing in a whirl of foam, to be seen no more that trip.—Sydney News.

Kilts as Targets.
 Admiral Lambton at a certain highland society dinner told the following tale: When the Gordon highlanders were in Ladysmith the order came that officers were not to wear their swords. This order was soon supplemented by another, by which all highland regiments were commanded to cover their kilts up, as it was thought that they served too well as targets for the enemy. Sir George White knew that such an order would not be popular. At last he thought of a way out of the difficulty. "Let them cover the fronts of the kilts up," he said. "The enemy will never see the other side."—London Opinion.

A Distinction Without a Difference.
 Five-year-old Deborah had been invited to take luncheon at a restaurant with Miss K.

"Do you like cocoa?" she was asked. When the answer was "Yes," the beverage was duly brought, but remained untasted.

At last Miss K. said, "Why don't you drink your cocoa, Deborah, when you said you wanted it?"

"I didn't say I wanted it," replied the child politely. "I only said that I liked it."—Woman's Home Companion.

SOUTH LYNDEBORO.

[Deferred from last week.]

Myrtle Richards is to teach the school in the west district; Mary Putnam at Perham Corner; Miss Tuttle at the Center, and Miss Stevens at the south.

Bessie Dolliver and Ethel Hadley have been home on a vacation. Clintie Emery was obliged to remain at Winthrop, during her vacation, owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Putnam brought their oldest son Donald here for burial last Wednesday. He had never been a well child. He died in convulsions. The funeral was at their home in Wilton, attended by Rev. R. S. Hubbard, who has just closed his pastorate with the Congregational church in that town.

We have a new doctor in town by the name of Bradford. He is the son of the pastor of the Congregational church at the Center of the town. He has had quite a good deal of practice since he came and is well spoken of by those who have employed him.

Rev. W. G. Riggs, Baptist State Evangelist, closed a very helpful series of meetings here Sunday, the 29th. He was with us two weeks and was the means of doing much good. Christians were revived and a large number of the young people and some of the older ones took a stand for Christ. His presentation of the truth is earnest and forcible and lacked the sensational element that some Evangelists have. He was accompanied by his wife, who was a great help in the meetings by singing and testimony. Each afternoon except Saturday he gave a Bible reading which were very interesting and calculated to set people to studying their bibles more. We consider any church fortunate who can secure their help.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

DOG INTELLIGENCE.

The Eskimo begins to train his dog for sledge work before he is a year old. One of the most interesting features of Eskimo villages are puppies tied to the pole of a tent. They pull on the rope with all their puppy strength in the effort to break away and join in the frolics of their elders. Not until a dog bred for mail service is one year old is it put in training for the trail. It begins by running ten miles with the team; then it is dropped out. Next day it runs the same distance. Gradually the distance is increased until it reaches its fifteenth month of life, when it becomes part of the regular service. The life of a mail dog is from three to four years. No greater punishment can be inflicted than to lay a dog off from service. When unruly they are often threatened with a lay-off, and with almost human intelligence they seem to understand the disgrace it implies in the eyes of their fellow workers on the trail. All fight to be leaders. A constant spur to an unambitious dog is the "outsider," who will quickly take away the leadership not only in the mail service, but in teams maintained chiefly for the pleasure of the sport. The intelligence of the malamute is remarkable, its scent wonderful, its instinct, as a rule, unerring.

Some dogs are better trail followers than others, as some are better leaders. In a blizzard the best of them lose the trail, but invariably find it. When on the trail they never eat but once a day, then at the end of a journey. After feeding, like weary children, they fall asleep and are never quarrelsome. It takes on an average twenty pounds of food a day for a team of eleven dogs on a hard route.—Lida Rose McCabe in St. Nicholas.

Helping Him Out. Borrows—I say, old man, I wish you would help me out today. Busman—Haven't time to do it myself, but I'll call the porter. John, open the door and help the gentleman out.—Chicago News.

UNFINISHED BOOKS.

Authors Who Died Leaving Stories Partly Written.

Many writers, including the famous Ouida, have died leaving behind them unfinished books. One of the best known is, of course, Dickens' "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," a remarkably clever story, and one showing no signs of diminishing vitality, although he was actually at work upon it up to within a few hours of his death.

Dickens' great rival, Thackeray, again, left behind him not one only, but two unfinished stories. One of these, "Denis Duval," promised to rank with his best work. Unfortunately, however, he had completed only seven chapters when he was stricken down.

Scott, too, left a tale unended—"The Siege of Malta"—written while he was on his last futile journey in search of health. This work has never been published, although more than two-thirds of it was completed at the time of his death.

Then there was "St. Ives," left unfinished by R. L. Stevenson, as was "Zeph," by Helen Jackson, and "Blind Love," by Willie Collins. Buckle never completed his "History of Civilization," although he toiled at it for twenty years.

Among famous poems that were never completed mention may be made of Byron's "Don Juan," Keats' "Hyperion," Coleridge's "Christabel" and Gray's "Agrippina." Spenser's "Faerie Queene," too, is no more than a fragment, although a colossal one.

Lastly, there ought to be included Ben Jonson's beautiful unfinished pastoral, "The Sad Shepherd," found by his literary executors among his papers after his death and published in its incompleteness.—Pearson's Weekly.

No Use For It.

Uncle Zebulon was on a visit to his nephew in the big city, and the two had gone to a restaurant for dinner.

They had given their order and were waiting for it to be filled when the younger man, who had been glancing at a paper that lay on the table, said: "By the way, uncle, did you ever have cerebro-spinal meningitis?"

"No," replied Uncle Zebulon after a few moments' mental struggle with the question, "and I don't want any. I'd rather have fried liver and bacon any day."
