Washington is to have a National laboratory for the study of crime. Perhaps it will be able to assist Congress in deciding if Mr. Tillman's "disingenuousness" is criminal and all applicants for the Ananias club should be first subjected to its tests.

The confident claims that the revival of business only awaited the result of the election do not seem to have been verified. A great many people are sitting tight until it is proved that Mr. Taft is equal to his vicarious task of leading them to prosperity.

There are in Congress many members of the Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals. It may be imagined that it was their influence that voted the appropriation of twelve thousand of dollars for automobiles for the new President. How much more humane it will be to carry the Big President in a tough nerveless, "red Devil" than to have him ride a horse. President-elect Taft, is himself the Vice President of the American Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

There were 33,514 patents for inventions and designs issued last year by the United States Patent Office and the Patent Office has now to its credit in the Treasury nearly seven millions of dollars. It is the only government office that brings a revenue to the Nation. The Postoffice ought to bring such revenue but owing to its backwardness and lack of a Parcel Post System it is a dead expense to the United States of about seventeen millions of dollars a year. Foreign Postoffices have a much better service and more than pay their way.

Dr. Wiley, to whom the country is more indebted than to any other man for pure food, pure medicine and pure whiskey, remains at its post in spite of the opposition of the Faculty with its distinguished chemists. The Faculty says that benzoate of soda as a food preservative is not unwholesome; but now comes the State Chemists and the Pure Food Commissioners, to back Mr. Wiley. The sentiment for Pure Food, untainted, undoctored and unpreserved is growing stronger every day. Dr. Wiley is looked upon as the champion of the sincere and real stuff for the table.

Mr. Pinchot, whom the President credits with being the originator and promoter of natural Resources Conservation has just returned from a mission to Mexico and announces the hearty co operation of President Diaz in a continental effort to conserve the forests, the waters and the mineral resources of North America. Local conservation is only good as far as it goes, but when the three great divisions, Canada, the United States and Mexico shall combine in their effort to economize the great patrimonies of nature in the richest of the five continents, the good that can be accomplished will without exaggeration be infinite.

TO DEVELOP WATER POWER

Goodell Company Will Build New Electric Power Plant on North Branch River, Developing 800 Horse Power at a Big Outlay of Money

What will be without doubt the largest water privilege on the entire Contoocook river is soon to be made available by the Goodell Company of this town.

When former Governor D. H. Goodell began manufacturing in this village over 50 years ago as agent for the Antrim Shovel Company, the water power was extremely limited and very unavailable. There was a dam at the head of Great Brook which made a reservoir of Gregg Pond but on account of injury by flowage to the meadows surrounding this pond, the water had to be drawn to a certain point by May 20th of each year.

Mr. Goodell with others begun to purchase flowage rights around Gregg Pond and raise the dam; this was done several times until the limit was finally reached. When the business increased until there was not sufficient power here, he purchased a large factory and water power on the Contoocook river in Bennington and removed a part of the machinery to that town. The Goodell Company was organized in 1875 and the Bennington factory was purchased in 1879.

In 1894 the company bought another excellent water-power in Bennington and established an electric light plant there for lighting the towns of Bennington and Antrim. Soon after this the dam at the first plant was raised so as to get a larger power. In 1900 the company built a new factory in Antrim and got power to run it from their Bennington electric plant.

Some years ago flowage rights of Lake George in Bennington were purchased and a dam was built at its mouth from which water can be quickly obtained for use at the Bennington works as occasion demands.

It will be seen that Mr. Goodell has for over 50 years been continually improving the water power, but the Goodell Co., like many other manufacturing concerns throughout New England has been seriously affected by the exceptionally dry season of the past year.

About 10 years ago the Company bought a wonderfully undeveloped water-power on the North Branch River in Antrim, about 4 miles north of the factories in this village. This purchase was made with the idea in mind of securing additional power as the increasing business demanded, and that time has now come.

In an interview with former Governor Goodell who is president of the Company we learn that an engineer has already been secured and necessary surveys have been made The Company have bought a 500 K. W. dynamo and a pair of horizontal water wheels, capable of giving 800 horse power under the 80 foot head of water; arrangements have been made for a steel penstock and the contract has been made for the setting of a pole line 4 miles in length for the three phrase dynamo. The penstock will be about 1600 feet in length, for two thirds of its length the diameter will be 7 feet, and the remainder 6½ feet. The penstock will be supplied by the Dalrymple Iron Works of Fair Haven, Vt.

The contract for the 4 mile pole line has been let to a Boston contractor and already the poles are being cut ready for immediate delivery.

The dam will be built by a Mr. Caughey of Waltham, Mass, who has done considerable work for the Goodell Company at their Bennington and Antrim plants. About 80 tons of cement will be used in the construction of the dam.

As result of this large enterprise, the Goodell Company will not only have all the water power they have had heretofore but will in addition have an electric power of between 500 and 600 horse power. It is expected that the entire work will be completed and in running order by next August. In conversation with the officers of the Company we are informed that they propose to sell power to anyone who desires to do manufacturing business here.

With its excellent railroad and postoffice facilities, Antrim bids fair to experience a remarkable boom in business as the result of this large undertaking by the Goodell Company. A.

Is a New State House Needed?

Our exchanges are indulging in the fun of talking about a "million dollar state house" for Manchester. We agree with some of them, insofar as in place of putting out so much money at this time it would be a wiser policy to cut down the legislature to fit the state house than to build a state house to accommodate the present clumsy and overgrown legislative body. It seems ridiculously absurd for the old Granite State with a population less than the city of Boston to continue to maintain a legislative body the largest with but a single exception of any in the world.

Current News and Notes

Citizen's Course of Entertainments

Among the choicest of entertainment and the kind that everybody enjoys, the old as well as the young, is the one in this course booked for the 17th of February, Wednesday evening.

The Schubert Male Quartette of Boston, without doubt the best in their line in this section of the country; they are so well known it seems hardly necessary to go into detail in regard to the organization, sufficient to say that they are "way up" in every particular. Make your arrangement to attend this entertainment.

Then, too, with this quartette, comes Miss Ethel Batting, a reader of much talent and great ability; her readings are exceptionally fine and highly spoken of by all who have heard them.

The SCHUBERT QUARTETTE was the feature of the concert given by the Westerly Caledonian Society. They were enthusiastically received, and in some cases responded to three encores. The assisting artists were good, but the SCHUBERTS were the stars, and the concert was pronounced one of the finest ever given in Westerly.—Daily Sun.

The readings of Miss Batting were excellent, and she proved herself to be not only a finished reader, but also a delightful actress as well.—Franklin (Mass.) Sentinel.

Miss Ethel Batting is one of the finest monologue artists ever before the citizens of Falmouth.—Falmouth (Mass.) Enterprise.

Miss Ethel Batting made a decided hit.—Fitchburg (Mass.) Daily Sentinel.

National Finances

As an indication of the condition of the National finances, it may be observed that for the last month the receipts coming into the Treasury were a little over $1,500,000 per day and the amount paid out from the treasury was over $2,000,000 per day. The deficit at the beginning of business for February 1st, for the current fiscal year was nearly 80,000,000 of dollars. This is an illustration of the way in which we are making the money fly. An estimation of the cost of the Around the World Cruise of our battleships is about $20,000,000. The ships will be here in two weeks and it will cost five or six millions of dollars to repair them.

A Toast

Here's to you, dear Ladies,
May you live one thousand years,
To sort 'er keep things lively,
In this vale of human tears.
And here's that we may live
One thousand years, too.
Did we say "a thousand years?"
No, a thousand less a day,
For we should hate to live on earth
And learn that you had passed away.

If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter,
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter,
God help me speak the little word
And take my bit of singing
And drop it in some lonely vale,
To set the echoes ringing.

SOUTH LYNDEBORO.

The 100th anniversary of Lincoln's birth is to be observed at Citizen's hall Friday a. m.

Lafayette Artillery Co., celebrate the 22nd in much the usual manner; Dr. Chalmers of Manchester is to be the speaker.

Lillie Dolliver, who has been sick for several weeks, is not improving as much as her friends desire to see. Miss Lizzie Patterson is caring for her.

Rev. D. Donovan and housekeeper, Miss Grace Putnam of Sutton, Mass., came back from their vacation last week Tuesday. They found their house warm and supper on the table for them.

Mrs. Putnam of Hancock and her son, Herbert Lindsey, spent Sunday at D. P. Hartshorn's. They attended church and sang in the choir. Mrs. Putnam sang a solo which was much enjoyed. There was a good attendance, it being a Lincoln Memorial service, and the first Sunday after our pastor's return.

During the month of January, while our pastor was away, the inside of the meeting-house underwent a thorough renovation. The carpet was taken up and sent to Nashua to be cleaned, and afterwards repaired. The paper was taken off and the walls painted a light brown and stinciled with dark brown. The ceiling was whitened. This with the installing of a furnace in the fall, puts our meeting-house in very good shape. Most of the money required to do the work was raised by the Ladies' Sewing Circle, an orgahization which has been in active operation for most of the time over 40 years. There is still one of the original members connected with the society who is able to take an active part in the work.

Loren Richards is much improved in health, so that he gets out some.

Hexamethylenetetramine

The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medial text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities and avoid a serious malady.

Foulards To Be Worn

Among the silks that are to be introduced for general wear in the spring is that old time favorite—foulard. For a sheath fitting gown there is no more attractive material than this, for it seems to adapt itself to the figure with no effort on the part of the dressmaker, while it falls in the most graceful folds imaginable. For the modish waist that is designed to be worn in costume fashion with a matching skirt of cloth it is equally desirable. The rough weave Oriental silks are also practical and stylish for general use, and these will be worn very extensively for costume purposes. Embroideries wrought in silk on net will be a modish trimming for dressy gowns, but their cost, as well as their delicacy, preclude their more general use. Fancy galloons and braids, therefore, come in for ordinary purposes of decoration, while soutache is used whenever and wherever it is possible.—The February New Idea Woman's Magazine.

C. B Kinger, the Jeweler, 1060 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to sufferers, as it cured me after all the doctors and other remedies had failed."

We have received cards announcing the marriage of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H E. Tuttle to Mr. J. M. Doty of Pecatonica, Illinois. Mr Tuttle was the eldest son of Isaac C. Tuttle, formerly of this place; he was born here and moved to Illinois nearly 50 years ago. Also the announcement of the marriage of Miss Abbie Estelle Wallace to Rev. Henry Charles Speed. We wish them a happy, but not a rapid life—just speed enough

The Ladies' circle met with Mrs. B. F Drake last week and was one of the largest in attendance for a long time; over 50 were present. It is very pleasant to meet so many of the new comers; it is a delightful way to get acquainted. We note among them Mr and Mrs Cole, Mr. and Mrs Rokes, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, Mrs Southerland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Drake, Mr and Mrs Kidder, Mr. and Mrs. Kunker and friend, Mrs Bachus, Mr. and Mrs Kelso, [illegible] Foster. It was voted to hold the next meeting at Mr. and Mrs Chapman's, the "men folks" to furnish the supper, of which more will be said later on. A great time is anticipated.

Waists Must Match Skirts

In connection with the craze for new shades, it is important to note the ascendency of the one-tone idea for costumes. Women even dye their net or all-over lace or other trimming the shade of their material. For the separate waist and skirt the same shade, though not the same fabric is used. Such a waist combined with a coat suit constitutes the favorite 3-piece costume of present fashion. A very effective costume of this sort was of grayish brown material worn with a net waist of the same shade. The coat was not quite knee length. One button fastened it at the waistline, the fold of the long revers being carried as far down as the waist. Below the waist the outline of the coat was cutaway and pointed. —The February Designer.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer; and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Rev. Joseph A. Ticknor writes the following strong endorsement after many years' successful use of Oxydonor.

Rheumatism, Tonsilitis, Grippe.

Claremont, N. H., Feb. 11, 1901.
Dr. H. Sanche & Co., New York,
Dear Sirs:—

I rejoice to have the chance given me to answer your question. Has Oxydonor given entire satisfaction? It has!

I hold it to be one of the greatest discoveries of the 19th century. For three years I have used it with ever increasing sense of its value. At the start it wrought a permanent cure of Rheumatism in my left shoulder; next of Tonsilitis in my youngest child; and it has since easily and successfully combatted whatever ills have assailed my family. Its potency in dissipating an attack of Grippe is especially to be noted.

Wishing that every family in the land might have an Oxydonor, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
Joseph A. Ticknor,
Rector of Union Church.

Seven Years Later.

Dr. H. Sanche & Co., New York
Dear Sirs:—

It gives me great pleasure, after a further use of nearly seven years, to again testify to the worth of Oxydonor. Two of the instruments are kept on hand for family use. Having learned to apply Oxydonor at the first signs of serious trouble (without knowing oftentimes what such may indicate) we keep free from disease, and this is about all that there is to it now, so far as we are concerned.

Very sincerely yours,

Local and Personal Mention

Scott Emery was in Boston first of the week.

Mrs. G. M. Nesmith has been very sick of late, but is now more improved.

Mrs. Milan D. Cooper is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Anderson and family, at her former home in Cambridge, Mass.

Bennington defeated the Crescent A. A., Saturday evening, Feb 6, in a fast game of basket ball, by a score of 33 to 22.

Miss Edith B. Hunt and classmate, from Simmons college, Boston, were at her home a few days after taking the midyear exams.

W. E. Gibney reports the sale of the house, stable and 3 acres of land belonging to Harry McMahan and situated in Clinton village. The purchaser is Irving Lowell.

The celebrated Schubert Quartette and lady reader will appear in Antrim town hall, in the Citizen's Course, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 17. Procure tickets early for good seats.

WANTED, TO HIRE, soon, the sum of about $600 at 6 per cent; security, first mortgage and an unusual opportunity for a person with money to invest. Interested parties can learn the name of the one desiring the loan by applying at REPORTER office, Antrim.

Rheumatism Recipe

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

High School Department.

The Second Year class in the study of English have recently commenced to study John Ruskins' "Sesame and Lilies."

The girls' basket ball team played a practice game Monday evening. During the game Hazel Burnham received a bad fall which resulted in the breaking of one of her front teeth.

There will be a social promenade after the presentation of the comedy "Old Acre Folk" by the High school pupils Friday, the 26th. The scene of the play is in Old Acre, Maine, and the play is interesting and amusing from start to finish.

Beginning with last Thursday, those studies which are taken up the last half of year were commenced. The Physical Geography class are now taking up Botany; Commercial Geography class, Business Law; English History, now American History; Math Review, now Geometry.

The Third Year French class has a double recitation period every Wednesday. The recitation for this class is omitted every Thursday. The class in Physics does not recite on Wednesday but has a double recitation period Thursday. The music lesson takes up the second period in the afternoon every Thursday.

Ex Gov. D H. Goodell will speak to the pupils of the High school in the school room next Friday morning at the opening of the session. His remarks will be appropriate to the Lincoln day exercises, which were announced in this paper last week. Everybody is cordially invited to come and hear the remarks by Mr. Goodell and after the exercises are concluded, to remain and inspect the work that is being done by the pupils.

The schedule of the recitation and study periods for the last half of the year has been changed a little from the way it was during the first half. This change was caused by the half-year studies being finished and others commenced. The schedule as now arranged is as follows:

MORNING

8 45 to 9 40. French II, Latin II, Botany
9 40 to 10 15. English III, Algebra
10 15 to 10 30, Recess
10 30 to 11.10, Physics, English I
11 10 to 11 45. French III, Geometry

AFTERNOON

1 00 to 1 35, Latin III, Ancient History
1 35 to 2.10, Math. Review, English II
2.10 to 2 20, Recess
2 20 to 2 55. Zoology, French I
2 55 to 3 30, American History Business Law, Latin I

It would be just as sensible for them to prescribe Quinine in its crude form as to prescribe Cod Liver Oil in its natural state. In the oil is emulsified and made easy to take—easy to digest and easy to be absorbed in to the body—and is the most natural and useful fatty food to feed and nourish the wasted body that is known in medicine today.

PERUNA EDITORIAL NO. I.

Dr. Hartman is now offering Peruna to the public as a regular pharmaceutical product. It is just as ethical as any compound put up for the medical profession. No straining of medical ethics can find any fault with it. THE PRINCIPAL ACTIVE INGREDIENTS are prominently incorporated in the label on the bottle, that the people may know that the claims made for Peruna have a true justification.

The only departure we shall make from medical ethics in the conduct of Peruna affairs in the future, is the fact that we shall continue to advertise and sell our product TO THE PEOPLE.

If we would agree to sell to doctors only, to advertise for doctors only, then the medical fraternity would be obliged to recognize Peruna as being entirely within their approval.

BUT WE SHALL NOT DO THIS.

We shall continue to offer Peruna to the people. We shall continue to convey to the people our claims for Peruna as a household remedy. We shall continue to supply the people with free literature, teaching them how to use our medicine, teaching them how to avoid disease, teaching them many things of benefit to the home. We shall continue to do this, whether the medical profession like it or not.

We are proposing from this time on to take the public into our confidence. Notwithstanding that some imitators and substitutors will be attempting to put up something which they consider just as good as Peruna, we are going to draw aside the veil of secrecy and allow any one who chooses to know exactly OF WHAT PERUNA IS COMPOSED.

This ought to disarm all honest criticism. We expect, however, that criticism will continue. On some pretext or other those who are envious of the success of Peruna will continue to find fault. But we are determined to give such people no just complaint. PERUNA IS A GREAT MEDICINE.

People Who Object to Liquid Medicines Can Now Secure Peruna Tablets.

It has become a household word in millions of homes. Our faith in the remedy is stronger than ever. Every year we expect to establish new plants in foreign lands until the people of all the world are supplied with this valuable household remedy.

WE CLAIM PERUNA TO BE A CATARRH REMEDY. Buy a bottle and try it. If it helps you, be honest and acknowledge that it has helped you.

If you want us to we will publish your statement exactly as you furnish it to us. We will add no words, take away no words. If you wish us to we will publish your portrait in connection with it. We will not do this without your written request, without your entire consent.

Peruna has cured thousands of people of chronic catarrh, in many phases and locations. At least, that is what the people say to us, through unsolicited testimonials. Peruna will cure many thousand more, in spite of fabricated slanders to the contrary.

WE GUARANTEE EVERY BOTTLE OF PERUNA TO CONTAIN THE INGREDIENTS PRINTED ON THE LABEL.

We guarantee that every testimonial we use is absolutely true—in the exact language of the testifier.

We guarantee that every photograph published is the photograph of the person whose name it bears, that every word of every testimonial was authorized by the hand that signed it.

We are determined to beat our opponents by being fairer than they are, by dealing squarer than they dare to. We are determined to meet falsehood with truth, duplicity with candor, insincerity with sincerity.

We know that the users of Peruna will appreciate our stand. We believe that the dealers in Peruna will applaud our course. We expect even our opponents will be obliged to acknowledge finally that Peruna is not only an honest and useful remedy, but one of the GREATEST HOUSEHOLD MEDICINES ON THE CONTINENT.

"A Soldier of Fortune,"

Presented in Town hall on Friday night last, was attended by a large number of our people, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed. This is a 5-Act Comedy Drama and contains much of interest and excitement, altho' perhaps may be a trifle lenghty. The acting was good and the Grange members participating did themselves justice; had their respective parts well committed, and the different features well in hand. The principal part—the Soldier of Fortune—was taken by Warren W. Merrill who always does well and never fails to make a hit: each of the other members of the cast might be deservedly spoken of had we time and space, but sufficient to say that for amateurs it will be difficult to find a more pleasing combination. Whenever Antrim Grange announces the presentation of a drama they are almost sure of a large house. Their receipts were very satisfactory and added a good sum to the treasury.

A ONE NIGHT CONVERT.

Incident in the Temperance Career of Father Mathew.

In 1843, when Father Mathew was crusading for total abstinence in London, he created no small amusement for a large party at the hospitable mansion of an Irish nobleman by his attempts, partly playful, but also partly serious, to make a convert of Lord Brougham, who resisted good humoredly, but resolutely, the efforts of his zealous neighbor. The incident is related by Katharine Tynan in her biography of Father Mathew.

"I drink very little wine," said Brougham, "only half a glass at luncheon and two half glasses at dinner. And, though my medical adviser told me I should increase the quantity, I refused to do so."

"He was wrong, my lord, for advising you to increase the quantity, and you were wrong in taking the small quantity you do," said Father Mathew, "but I have my hopes of you."

And so, after a pleasant resistance on the part of the learned lord, Father Mathew invested his lordship with the silver medal and ribbon, the insignia and collar of the "new order of the Bath."

"Then I will keep it," said Brougham, "and take it to the house, where I shall be sure to meet old Lord —— the worse for liquor, and I will put it on him."

The announcement of this intention was received with much laughter, for the noble lord referred to was notorious for his potations.

Lord Brougham was as good as his word, for on meeting the veteran peer he said, "Lord ——, I have a present from Father Mathew for you," and passed the ribbon rapidly over his neck.

"Then I tell you what it is, Brougham. I will keep sober for this night," was the peer's unexpected response. And he kept this vow, to the amazement of his friends.

No School.

The teacher was giving an exposition on culpable homicide.

"If I went out in a small boat," he said, "and the owner knew it was leaking, and I got drowned, what would that be?"

After a few minutes' silence a little boy stood up and said:

"A holiday, sir!"

No Police In Heaven.

Small Isabel's particular friend, the policeman on the beat, contracted pneumonia and died. Isabel was greatly grieved until her mother convinced her that he had gone to heaven. Even then she was not quite reconciled. "If heaven is such a good place," remarked the little skeptic, "I don't see what God wants policemen there for."—New York Press.

The Sailor's Prayer Book.

"This is what you call the sailor's prayer book," a seaman said bitterly as he kicked a holystone out of the way. "Why is it called that? Well, in the first place, it is called that because in using it, in holystoning the deck, the sailor has to kneel down, and, in the second place, because all holystoning is done on Sunday. Don't you know the chantey—

"Six days shalt thou work and do all that thou art able
And on the seventh holystone the decks and scrape the cable.

"The stone is called holystone because the first holystones were bits of tombs stolen from cemeteries. It's got a pious, religious sound—holy and prayer book and Sunday and all that—but it is when he is using this stone that the seaman is most profane."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

It Happened Before.

A self made, self satisfied and self assertive itinerant preacher was expatiating to a college graduate on his own eloquence.

"Colleges," he declared, "ain't necessary when a preacher's got a genuine call to the ministry. I'm thankful to say the Lord opened my mouth without education."

"That's interesting," returned his hearer. "Come to think of it, something like that happened several thousand years ago in connection with Balaam, wasn't it?"—Circle Magazine.

Her Predicament.

A celebrated divine was to preach in a small village one Sunday where he had been several times. The family who entertained him had a little daughter who was usually fond of attending service. When the other members of the family were ready to go little Nellie firmly refused to go with them.

"I do not want to go to church," she declared.

"Why, what is the matter?" asked her mother, very much surprised. "Are you ill?"

"No, but I heard Parson D. before, and I do not like him," said little Nellie.

"Oh, Nellie, that is a very wicked thing to say!" replied her mother. "Tell me why."

"Well," said Nellie, rather confusedly, "he preaches so long that I cannot keep awake, and he preaches so loud I cannot go to sleep, so there"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Women Barbers.

In Gay's "Journey to Exeter," published in 1715, it is told how after passing "Morcombe's lake" the travelers reach Axminster, where they sleep. The next morning—

We rise; our beards demand the barber's art.
A female enters and performs the part.
The weighty golden chain adorns her neck;
And three gold rings her skillful hands bedeck;
Smooth o'er our chin her easy fingers move
Soft as when Venus stroked the beard of Jove.

HOW TO CAGE A BEAR.

Show Him Carrots and Bread and Lead the Way to His Den.

Escapes of animals from their cages in zoological gardens and menageries are fortunately rare. When they do occur the work of recapture is set about in a businesslike fashion, and the prison breaker is generally captured before anything is known outside.

In the periodical issued by the management of the Breslau garden an amusing story is told of an incident of this kind. Some years ago, on a fine autumn morning, just after the gates were opened there was a loud knocking at the pay window, and, in reply to the inquiry of the money taker who presented himself, a man in a state of great excitement said that as he was walking on the Oder bank he had seen through the palisading a large bear loose in the grounds. "Greatly obliged to you, sir," was the reply. "We know that already; that bear goes for a walk every morning and returns to its cage before the visitors come in."

The man went away quite satisfied. The official, who knew the real state of the case, at once ordered the gates to be closed, and the director was at once informed that the bear was loose. It was a serious matter, for the bear had killed the keeper in a traveling menagerie and for that reason was sold to the zoological garden. Moreover, when a mate had been put in with him she soon fell a victim to his bad temper. While the authorities were considering the best steps to take to recapture the bear—for they were loath to shoot such a fine animal—the keeper whose negligence in leaving a door unfastened had caused the trouble made his appearance. His only reply to the reproaches of the director for allowing the bear to escape was, "Well, we shall have to get him in again."

He went off to the storeroom, filled his apron with carrots and bread and then sought the bear. When he saw the animal he called out to attract its attention and by throwing down food enticed it to the back of the bear dens. Here the man entered through a small door by which new arrivals were put into the cages. He was closely followed by the bear, but reached the middle of the cage before it had scrambled through the small opening. Then he dropped on the floor the rest of the food he had in his apron and made his way out of the cage, which was at once securely fastened in front and at the rear. Thus the incident, which might have had serious consequences, ended happily for those on whom the responsibility rested.—London Field.

Warned In a Dream.

On the occasion of a fatal accident to a lift in a Paris hotel some years ago a lady who was just going up in it started back, saying, "Oh, there is that dreadful man again!" and tried to induce her husband to come off it, too, but he refused and was among the killed. The "dreadful man" to whom she referred she had seen in a dream, which the niece of the friend who told me the story had heard her relate a day or two before the accident. It was of a funeral drawn up at her door, so pompous as to produce a great impression on her, presided over by a big dark man in a strange sombrero hat. This man she saw, or believed she saw, in the lift, and the coincidence terrified her from going up in it.—London Notes and Queries.

Ladies and Gents.

When I was younger kids were kids in Kansas or in Cadiz. Now all the boys are gentlemen and all the girls ladies. Where are the kids who climbed the trees, the tousled young carousers who got their faces black with dirt and tore their little trousers? Where are the lads who scrapped by rounds while other lads kept tallies, the maids who made their pies of mud and danced in dirty alleys? They're making calf love somewhere now, exchanging cards and kisses. They're all fixed up in Sunday togs, and they are sirs and misses. Real kids have vanished from the world, which fact is surely hades, and all the boys are gentlemen, and all the girls are ladies.—Walt Mason in Emporia Gazette.

A Difficult Examination.

Candidates at the Royal Veterinary college, London, must pass examinations in English grammar and composition, Latin, mathematics and either Greek, a modern language or logic (horse sense?). This from the Matric: "Find the center of gravity of a uniform wire which is bent in such a way that it forms three sides of a square." Once in, the candidate for V. S. has to cover chemistry, physics, biology, botany, histology, physiology, bacteriology, materia medica, toxicology, hygiene, dietetics, clinical medicine, meat inspection and horseshoeing.—Horses, Horsemen and Stable Management.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Louisville, Ky.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has certainly done me a world of good and I cannot praise it enough. I suffered from irregularities, dizziness, nervousness, and a severe female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored me to perfect health and kept me from the operating table. I will never be without this medicine in the house."—Mrs. Sam'l Lee, 3523 Fourth St., Louisville, Ky.

Adrian, Ga.—"I suffered untold misery from female troubles, and my doctor said an operation was my only chance, and I dreaded it almost as much as death. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me without an operation."—Lena V. Henry, R. F. D. 3.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

LONDON'S ODD PRISON

Westminster Clock Tower Is the Finest Jail In England.

BUT IT IS ALWAYS EMPTY.

The Tower Is the British Parliament's House of Detention, and Charles Bradlaugh Was Its Last Occupant. The Old Prison In Former Days.

If the average sentenced criminal were allowed to select his place of confinement his choice would probably fall on the Clock Tower prison at Westminster, as that is the very finest prison in Great Britain and is able to supply comforts and luxuries quite unknown to the ordinary Bill Sikes.

But the law decides that members of parliament only may be confined in that jail, although rank outsiders could be committed to the Clock Tower for certain offenses against the rules and regulations of parliament.

The Clock Tower prison, as it exists today, was erected in connection with the house occupied by the sergeant at arms. This official is in complete charge of any member committed to the Clock Tower, and a member cannot easily make his escape, because, in order to do so, he must pass through the house of the sergeant.

Very few members of parliament are committed to the Clock Tower in these days. We have to go back many years to find a precedent. Mr. Charles Bradlaugh being the last member to occupy the cells at the Clock Tower, and he did not occupy them long. He was handed over to the custody of the sergeant at arms on June 23, 1880, committed to the Tower and released next day.

There are two sets of cells in the Clock Tower, an upper and a lower, but both suits of cells are much the same. In each there is a sitting room of very ample proportions, well carpeted and furnished and replete with most of the things which go toward making one comfortable.

In each suit there are two bedrooms—one for the use of the imprisoned M. P., the other for the convenience of the jailer, who must always be on the spot in order to see that the legislator makes no attempt to escape.

Any member of parliament sent to the Clock Tower by order of the speaker would be required to pay for his own food, and if he did not do so he could be sued in court. Any legislator incarcerated in the Clock Tower would be allowed to rise in the morning just when he pleased, and he could retire to bed when the spirit moved him. He could read to his heart's content and smoke as much as he liked, there being no restrictions over such matters; his whole punishment would lie in being prevented from joining his fellows and mixing with them.

He would be taken out to exercise, but would always have two officials beside him to guard against any attempt at escape, and his exercise would be taken on the terrace before the house sat for the day. Under no circumstances would he be allowed to hold converse with his fellow men. One way or another an imprisoned M. P. would not have a bad time of it, and he would not be kept in confinement for any lengthy period.

But if the Clock Tower is not much used nowadays, the Tower—the prison of the house of commons of a former day—was much in evidence. In olden times a passing remark, an observation obnoxious to the house, or, indeed, any trifle, was sufficient to send the culprit forthwith to the Tower, and not to the Tower only, for a member could be committed to Newgate.

Sometimes the reason for committing a member to the Tower was somewhat amusing, as witness the case of a member for Southampton who once entered the house in a drunken condition and, mistaking the speaker for an owl sitting in an ivy bush, addressed him as such. Result—the Tower. However, the member was released next day and severely reprimanded for his ridiculous behavior.

The Tower was made use of by the "long" parliament. In one day as many as eleven Presbyterian members of the house were committed to the custody of the sergeant at arms and flung into the Tower. And, to show that members were not committed for errors in speech alone, one has only to mention the case of Captain Churchill, who in 1860 was committed to the Tower for refusing to take merchant ships under the protection of his man of war unless he received a gift of £200.

In those days they had to pay stiffly for the privilege of being sent to the Tower, as witness an extract from the diary of Lord Clarendon, written the day following his committal to the tower. He says: "Mr. Ded brought me a note of the fees, which come to £150—viz, the governor, £100; gentleman porter, £20; gentleman gaoler, £10."

When a member offends in these days and requires to be "named"—always a necessity before committal—he is not sent to the Clock Tower, but is suspended from duty and is not allowed to enter the house for so long as the members decree. Pearson's Weekly.

Adages of Morocco.

In an article on the people of Morocco a writer in Paris Figaro says: "They have some queer adages and some that closely resemble ours. Thus they say, 'The camel cannot see its hump, but plainly sees the one of its neighbor;' 'He who depends on his neighbor will go to bed hungry;' 'A wise enemy is better than a stupid friend;' 'Cross the rushing stream, but beware of the quiet, noiseless one;' 'In this world there are three things not to be trusted—luck, women and horses;' 'Mounting a horse, loosing the hunting dogs and hearing carrings rattle drive dull care away.'"

What She Inherited.

"Of course I can do manicuring just as well with my left hand," said the left handed manicurist—"better, if anything. You don't know the difference if you've been born that way, if you have inherited it.

"Didn't know it was a matter of inheritance? Why, certainly it is. No, left handedness, not manicuring. My father, grandfather and great-grandfather were all left handed, and so were ten cousins of mine."—Exchange.

Two Irishmen, just landed, stopped at a private boarding house on one hot July night. Retiring early, they left the window open and the light burning brightly. The mosquitoes swarmed into the room and began biting.

Mike, awakening, called to Pat to put out the light. Pat got up and put it out and crawled back to bed again.

Pat awoke about an hour later and found the room full of fireflies and said: "It's no use, Mike. They are coming in with lanterns!"

Indigestion Ends

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of a case of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach if you will occasionally take a little Diapepsin after eating.

Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. Chronic Case Cured.

"I cannot speak to highly of your remedies and I will always tell my friends how much they have done for my husband and myself for sudden attacks of headaches, neuralgia and rheumatic pains. There is nothing equal to Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are simply splendid and give relief in fifteen or twenty minutes. I used to be subject to attacks of headache, which had become chronic, and I took a course of Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills in connection with the Anti-Pain Pills. The result is I now have very little trouble in that way. My husband has also taken these remedies and praises them very highly. We always have some of both kinds of pills in the house, and do not feel that we could get along without them.—Mrs. Kate K. Johnson, McClellandsville, Delaware.

There are many reasons why you should take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, but the best reason is that they will give you almost instant relief from headache or other pain. In cases of chronic headache, when the sufferer knows an attack is coming on, a Pain Pill will usually prevent it entirely. In cases of extreme nervous exhaustion, when the brain is too tired and the body too nervous to rest, an Anti-Pain Pill will sooth the nerves so that sleep may come. They never fail, yet contain no opiates and are non-laxative.

All druggists sell and guarantee Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They are non-laxative; contain no opiates, never sold in bulk, 25 doses, 25 cents. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

The English Royal Family

It is a singular fact, though it is perhaps not generally recognized, that for nearly 200 years the successive sovereigns of Great Britain have been more German in their nationality than English. Queen Anne died August 1, 1714. She had 17 children, all but one of whom had died in infancy, and the other when he was 12 years old; and as her brother, the son of James II, had been debarred from the succession by act of parliament, George, elector of Hanover, in Germany, the great-grandson of James I, was the next in succession to the throne, and he thus became George I, King of England. He was at that time 54 years old; his eldest son, afterwards George II, was 33 years old, and the son of the latter, Frederick Lewis, was 7 years old; so that these 3 in succession were full Germans. Frederick Lewis married a German princess; and as he died before his father, his eldest son, George III, was the next King; both his father and his mother being German. George III, married a German princess, and their sons George IV and William IV, became Kings in succession. Both of them married German princesses; but as neither of them left legitimate children, and as the second son of George III, Frederick, Duke of York had died before his brother George IV; and had left no children: the next in succession was the fourth son, Edward, Duke of Kent, who had married a German princess, and had died Jan. 23, 1820, leaving an only child, Victoria, then 8 months old, who on the death of her uncle, William IV, became Queen Victoria. She married Prince Albert, a German, so that all her children like herself, are half German.

It is generally said that the oldest son of Queen Victoria, the present King Edward VII, married the daughter of Christian, King of Denmark; and thus he seems to have departed from the general custom of the family; but at the time he married the present Queen Alexandra, her father was a German prince; and she a German princess, and it was not until 8 months after her marriage to the present King Edward VII, that her father became King of Denmark. The Prince of Wales, the son of Edward VII and Queen Alexandra, who is the present heir to the throne, married the princess Mary of Teck, who was born in England; but her mother was the daughter of a German princess, who married her father the Duke of Cambridge, a cousin of Queen Victoria, and the mother herself, married a German prince; so that the Prince of Wales has a German mother; and the Princess of Wales had a German father; and are therefore neither of them far removed from being Germans, but their children are of course all English.

WORTH KNOWING.

To remove Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all forms of Skin eruptions, is, according to a well known Physician, a very easy matter; he says that many are afflicted with some one of the above ailments, and are subject to a great deal of embarrasment on account of the unsightly appearance which they present, and recommends the following simple harmless and inexpensive treatment. Go to your druggist and get this prescription filled: Clearola one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces; mix, shake well and apply to the parts effected night and morning, allowing it to remain for at least ten minutes, then wipe off the powder from the skin. Use a soft cloth or sponge in applying the mixture and in from ten days to two weeks your face will be smooth and clear as a marriage bell. Get the Pure Clearola, which is only put up in one-half ounce packages. Ask to see it.
