ANNUAL FAIR

Of The Ladies' Aid Society Of The Methodist Church

Much preparation had been made for the occasion of the annual fair and entertainment by the ladies connected with the Woodbury Memorial M. E. church of Antrim. It was held on Wednesday afternoon and evening of last week, and in every way was a success.

The tables about the hall was very prettily decorated and neatly arranged, and were presided over by the respective committees, while the fancy work and apron tables were under the charge of the directresses. The several donations for the different tables were gladly and thankfully received by the committees and the ladies' aid society as a whole are indeed grateful.

In the evening for entertainment, the young people of the society presented "The Country Postoffice," with a full cast of characters. This was given in a realistic manner, in true country style, and those present very much enjoyed the representation of the different characters, from postmistress down to the street urchins who occasionally ran in to see what was "doing." The old stove was there around which the "loafers" sat and "spun their yarns." Many amusing incidents might be related which would doubtless interest our readers, but it is sufficient to say that the several parts were well taken.

The net proceeds of the fair and entertainment were $114.50.

New Rails for B. & M.

The Boston & Maine railroad has placed orders for 21,000 tons of steel rails, which, with freight, will amount to about $600,000. The order includes 5000 tons of open hearth rails from the Bethlehem company and 16,000 tons of Bessemer rails equally proportioned between the Lackawanna, Pennsylvania and Maryland companies. The delivery of the rails will begin at once, and it is expected to have all laid by Nov. 1. The price of the Bessemer rails is $28 per ton, while a premium of $2 is charged for the open hearth product. The railroad purposes to try the open hearth rails on the Fitchburg division, where the heavy traffic and sharp curves prove a great strain upon the rails. Six thousand tons of the Bessemer rails will go to the Maine Central.

Everyone would be benefitted by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. It sweetens the stomach and breath, gently stimulates the liver and regulates the bowels and is much superior to pills and ordinary laxatives. Why not try Foley's Orino Laxative today? Lane & Weeks

A Pittsburg Hen Wonder

Pittsburg, Pa., is handing out something besides dark spots on the cheek of mother nature. A police janitor there, one Edward O. Sturtevant, set a hen on 16 eggs and hatched out 21 chicks, a feat which the Pittsburgers say is rare and worthy of attention. In fact, Pittsburg papers are doing quite a bit of crowing over it. To New Hampshire farmers, used to the peculiar ways of the hen, no doubt this biddy's performance looks like going some, but the fact of the matter is, it is quite a common occurrence. Her owner is trying to work off the double yolk theory, and while that may go in Pittsburg, where it is hard to see anything mysterious, it won't go in this state. Mr. Sturtevant's hen has either helped herself or has had an accessory before the fact. It is very safe to presume that during her busy period her neighbor, M-s. Hen, was a daily caller for five days, said caller having a matter of importance to lay before her. When said matter was laid, said caller departed, while said setting hen rolled said matter under her and in due course of time hatched said matter out. Easy; "cawdaw-cut!"

The Uncanoonuc Mountains

A day's or a week's outing cannot be passed to any better advantage than by taking a trolley ride up the Uncanoonuc mountains. A new summer resort has recently been opened to the public and together with the magnificent scenery of four states and the ocean; the cool, balmy air; the large summer hotel, and the ride up the wonderful inclined railway that climbs the steep and rocky mountain side, makes this the most sought for and most popular recreation place north of Boston. The hotel accommodations are first-class and rates moderate. Music and free dancing.

Chicken Homiletic

A country minister in the course of his dining out on the circuit came to a house where roast chicken was served for dinner. He had previously encountered a series of rib corned beef dinners, and chicken looked good to him.

"Well," he facetiously remarked, "here's where that chicken enters the ministry."

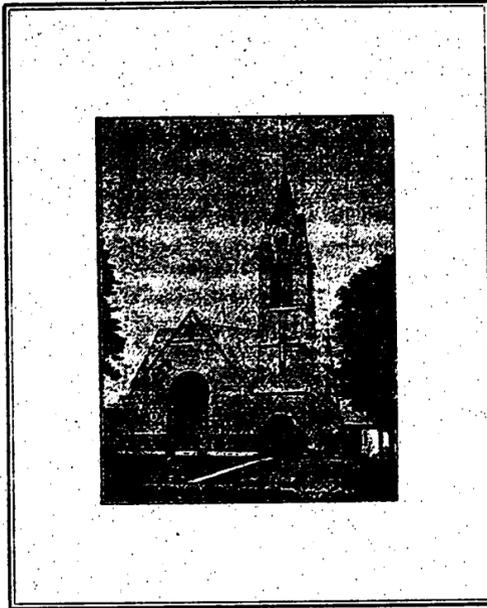

"Hope it does better there than in lay work," rejoined the small boy of the family.

If people with symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble could realize the danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Pills. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. Lane & Weeks.

REPAIRS COMPLETED

New Frescoing, Lighting Arrangement and Carpet at the First Presbyterian Church

For several weeks past the interior of the First Presbyterian church in Antrim has been undergoing repairs, and the committees in charge have been busy doing efficient and faithful work. These frescoing anew of the walls throughout the auditorium and lecture room; the timbers and all woodwork to the roof were made to look like new, and the new arrangement of lighting fixtures repairs were completed last week and on Sunday the auditorium was used for preaching services.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, ANTRIM

The church was erected in the winter of 1902-3, being occupied in January of the latter year and dedicated in the summer of that year, since which time but very little repairing has been done, beyond outside painting and occasionally cleaning and renovating as needed. All admit that the first work was very well done and thorough to have lasted so long; leaking of gutters had damaged the walls; carpets had worn out; lighting arrangement needed changing, and a general overhauling should be done.

Necessary repairs have been made to the roof and competent workmen were employed in the along the overhead rafters make a very nice appearance. The shades of frescoing blend very harmoniously, are of tints easy to the eye, and of good wearing color; there seems no reason to doubt but that this work will be as durable as was the first. The new carpet is a beauty, of a special shade of green, and was made to order, requiring about 350 yards for the job.

The entire cost of repairs is said to be something like $800, all of which has been very promptly paid.

The society and congregation are to be congratulated on the fine appearance of their church edifice and the pleasure they will take in the enjoyment of it; may fortune continue to smile on them.

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God, our Supreme Commander, to transfer our esteemed comrade and brother, Reuben Boutelle, from the scenes of earthly service to the Higher Life, therefore

Resolved, that we bow to the Divine will and submit to God's decree; we miss our honored comrade from our ranks and cherish the memory of his faithful life to the Post.

Resolved, that we extend to the afflicted family our heartfelt sympathy and pray God to sanctify to them this experience of sorrow and give them comfort and blessing.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the afflicted family. GEO. D. DRESSER, Adj. and Committee of Ephraim Weston Post, 87, G. A. R.

The Delineator for August.

The Delineator for August contains an article by Gertrude Atherton, in which the writer says many startling things on the subject of "The Present Unrest Among Women." Mabel Potter Daggett describes the reaction of sentiment on the subject of the Continental Sabbath; lovers of good pictures will find Lulu Merrick's article of interest. Fiction articles by George Hibbard, Juliet Wilbor Tompkins, the new serial by Grace Cooke and "Stradella" by F. Marion Crawford appear in this number.

The Journal has secured the co-operation of the clergy and the good people at large. Flowers will be received on Monday morning. Thousands upon thousands of blossoms are needed for the work and the green of the fields will thrill and marvel at the beauty and fragrance that will pour into the stuffy and unclean streets of the Boston slums on Monday.

Home Companion for August

Edward Everett Hale's Reminiscences are appearing exclusively in Woman's Home Companion. Mr. Hale's death is a peculiar loss to this magazine, to which he has contributed so constantly during the past few years. This issue has none of the poverty of many summer magazines. There are eight stories in it—each good and novel. The matter of diet in summer is one fraught with many difficulties. In the Woman's Home Companion for August Dr. Woods Hutchinson claims that we are apt to starve ourselves in summer. Says that we suffer from the heat because of bad physical condition and that we would feel the heat less if we ate three good meals a day.

The children's and fashion departments are both good. The embroidery pages are full of summer ideas, and Fannie Merritt Farmer supplies enough ideas for novel cool drinks to last the whole summer.

The New Hampshire College has just issued a new and attractive circular describing the two year course in Agriculture. This course is becoming more and more popular every year and the number of students taking it is rapidly increasing. The circular contains complete information in regard to the course and will be sent anyone upon request. A copy of it ought to be in the hands of every young farm boy in the state. MATHEMATICAL SIGNS.

Origin of Plus, Minus, Multiplication and Division Symbols.

The sign of addition is derived from the initial letter of the word "plus." In making the capital letter it was made more and more carelessly until the top part of the "p" was finally placed near the center; hence the plus sign as we know it was gradually reached.

The sign of subtraction was derived from the word "minus." The word was first contracted in m. n. s., with a horizontal line above to indicate that some of the letters had been left out. At last the letters were omitted altogether, leaving only the short line.

The multiplication sign was obtained by changing the plus sign into the letter "x." This was done because multiplication is but a shorter form of addition.

Division was formerly indicated by placing the dividend above a horizontal line and the divisor below. In order to save space in printing, the dividend was placed to the left and the divisor to the right. After years of "evolution" the two "d's" were omitted altogether and simple dots set in the place of each. As with the others, the radical sign was derived from the initial letter of the word "radix."

The sign of equality was first used in the year 1557 by a sharp mathematician, who substituted it to avoid frequently repeating the words "equal to."—St. James' Gazette.

UNCLE SAM.

The Way Our Nickname is Said to Have Originated.

This familiar nickname for the United States is said to have come about in the following manner:

During the war of 1812 the United States government entered into a contract with Elbert Anderson to furnish supplies to the army. Whenever the United States buys anything from a contractor it appoints an inspector to see that the goods are up to the specifications. In this case the government appointed a man by the name of Samuel Wilson. He was a jolly, whole souled man and was familiarly known as Uncle Sam.

It was his duty to inspect every box and cask that came from Elbert Anderson, the contractor, and if the contents were all right the cargo was marked with the letters "E. A.—U. S.," the initials of the contractor and of the United States.

The man whose duty it was to do this marking was something of a joker, and when somebody asked him one day what these letters stood for he said that they meant Elbert Anderson and Uncle Sam.

Everybody, including Uncle Sam himself, thought this a very good joke, and by and by it got into print, and before the end of the war it was known all over the country, and that is how the United States received the name of Uncle Sam.—Des Moines Register and Leader.

Worshipping a Turtle.

At a place called Kotron, on the French Ivory Coast, the natives believe that to eat or destroy a turtle would mean death to the guilty one or sickness among the family. The fetish-men, of which there are plenty, declare that years ago a man went to sea fishing, in the night his canoe was thrown upon the beach empty. Three days afterward a turtle came ashore at the same place with the man on its back alive and well. Since that time they have never eaten or destroyed one of that species, although they enjoy other species.

If one happens now to be washed ashore there is a great commotion in the town. First the women sit down and start singing and beating sticks; next a small piece of white cloth (color must be white) is placed on the turtle's back. Food is then prepared and placed on the cloth, generally plantains, rice and palm oil. Then, and let more singing, dancing and antics of the fetish people. It is carried back into the sea and goes on its way rejoicing.

Too Much Expense.

"Yes," said Mr. Tyte-Phist, "I was just stepping on the car when the conductor gave the motorman the signal to go ahead, and the car started. My foot went out from under me, and I sat down on the muddy crossing, ruining a twenty-two dollar suit of clothes."

"Then you sat there, swore like a trooper and gnashed your teeth in rage, I suppose," remarked the sympathizing listener.

"No," said Mr. Tyte-Phist. "I may have sworn a little, but I didn't do any gnashing. My teeth are new and cost me $30."—Chicago Tribune.

Waked Them Up.

Dr. Hans Richter, the famous conductor, while supervising a rehearsal in a London theater once was much annoyed at the clamor way the players were taking the Impassioned music.

"Gentlemen, gentlemen," said he, suddenly stopping short, "you're all playing like married men, not like lovers."—Westminster Gazette.

Not His Fault.

Howell—A good deal depends on the formation of early habits. Powell—I know it. When I was a baby my mother hired a woman to wheel me about, and I have been pushed for money ever since.—London Mail.

On Time.

"Does he ever do anything on time?" "Oh, yes. He quits work."—Detroit Free Press.

When you sell an article by weight, remember that other people have scales.—Atchison Globe.

Highly Esteemed.

"Do you think that most people nowadays worship money?" "No; I won't go as far as that," answered the home grown philosopher, "but I will say that the love of money is seldom platonic."—Washington Herald.

Well Posted.

"What was that musty old explorer talking about?" inquired the languid lady.

"Progressive Patagonia."

"And how do you play it?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Defiant of Fashion.

"Those people don't seem to care what the world thinks of them," said the fashionable woman.

"How do you know?"

"They still play progressive euchre and croquet."—Washington Star.

Do You Get Up With a Lame Back?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everyone knows of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because of its remarkable health restoring properties. Swamp-Root fulfills almost every wish in overcoming rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble, it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been thoroughly tested in private practice, and has proved so successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all druggists. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure "Digests what you eat."

Love's Language.

It was the morning of that fearsome, uncertain day on which the bonds were to be made fast, where a tiny path yet leads back, when each tries to peer into the future and wonders and doubts and hesitates.

They were alone, and she drew near him, aware and watchful. "Harold, dearest, in a few hours it will all be over. Can you grasp it all? But did you dream of me last night?"

"Yes, ownest. I saw you as a black, marvelous swan, drifting placidly all alone on a mirrored lake, with here and there a flat, floating leaf. And then I, a humble, joyous swan, top, began to float out to you. And my soul took fire, dearest, and I thrilled all over as you swung superbly around, and I wished to be a poet, with a living, passionate pen, and I wished myself an earth-god and that a raging wind would swoop down upon you that I might seize you in my arms and defy the storm god. And I could smell sweet incense and hear the tinkling of innumerable bells and could feel the delirium of a burning heart, and again I wished to be a poet that I might sing."

"But, Harold, do you really love me?" He paused, breathed deep and poured out his soul. "Yes, dearest, I think you are it."

And then she held up her vibrant lips, confident, satisfied.—Puck.

AIM TO SUCCEED.

The Self Improvement Habit as a Business Asset.

The very reputation of having an ambition to amount to something in the world, of having a grand life aim, is worth everything, says a writer in Success Magazine. The moment your associates find that you are dead in earnest, that you mean business, that they cannot shake you from your determination to get on in the world or rob you of your time or persuade you to waste it in frivolous things you will not only be an inspiring example to them, but the very people who are throwing away their time will also admire your stand, respect it and profit by it, and you will thus be able to protect yourself from a thousand annoyances and time wasters and experiences which would only hinder you.

In other words, there is everything in declaring yourself, in taking a stand and thereby announcing to the world that you do not propose to be a failure or an ignoramus; that you are going to prepare yourself for something out of the ordinary, away beyond mediocrity, something large and grand.

The moment you do this you stand out in strong contrast from the great mass of people who are throwing away their opportunities and have not grit and stamina enough to do anything worth while or to make any great effort to be somebody in the world.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

What is the Earliest Event in Life You Can Remember?

"I can remember back to my fourth year," said a physician. "I was four during the Philadelphia Centennial of 1876, and I remember two Centennial scenes well. One was a great room full of brass band instruments—horns so big and yellow and shiny that they delighted me. I remember, too, a Turkish coffee room. My father took me into this room. Turks in native dress served the coffee. I liked the place at first; then I saw that it was noisy. The native waiters shouted horribly. I was frightened. I was on the point of tears, but whether I cried or not I can't tell you."

"I can remember back to the time when I was three," said a lawyer. "At the age of three my family took me to Cape May. I saw my father out in the water. He laughed and held out his arms to me, and, all dressed, I ran into the sea to him."

"All of us," said a psychologist, "can remember back to our fourth year. Some of us can even remember back to the second year. It would make an interesting article, a compilation of the earliest memories of a lot of people. The trouble, as a rule, is to fix the date of these memories, so as to be sure of our age at the time."—Pittsburg Press.

How We Change.

"Did you notice that woman's expression just then?" queried a traveler on an elevated train, and he pointed to a handsomely gowned woman whom the exigencies of transportation had placed directly opposite an aged and not too clean man. The old man was about to conceal a big red handkerchief.

"That old fellow," continued the traveler, "just took a pinch of snuff, and took it vigorously, and the operation appeared to give the woman nausea. Disgust was written all over her face. Think of it! A habit condemned universally by refinement today and once the habit of king, courtier and social exquisite. The jeweled snuff-box—what a treasure it was! And now—well, we do change, don't we?"—New York Globe.

BILL LANGE'S FEAT.

One of the Famous Old Outfielder's Sensational Catches.

The greatest individual feat ever performed was one by which Bill Lange saved a game for Chicago and $200 for himself in Washington in 1895. There is an odd story connected with the play. Lange had missed a train in Boston two days before, failed to reach New York in time to play there, and Anson had fined him $100. Thereupon he missed a train to Washington—arrived on the grounds after the teams had practiced and just in time to play, and for that Anson fined him another $100. The game that afternoon went eleven innings, Chicago scoring one run in the eleventh. There were two men out and a runner on the bases when "Kip" Selbach, then one of the hardest hitters in the business, smote the ball a terrific blow and sent it flying over Lange's head toward the center field fence. The hit seemed a sure home run, but Lange, a man weighing 225 pounds, turned and without looking sprinted desperately straight out toward the fence, racing with the flying ball. At the last instant, as the ball was going over his head, Lange leaped, stuck up both hands, turned a somersault and crashed against the fence. The boards splintered, one entire panel crashed outward, and out of the wreckage crawled Lange, holding the ball in his hand, and the crowd went mad. Lange came limping in, with the crowd standing on seats shouting, and he said to Anson, "Lines go, cap?" "Nope," said Anson, and the catch had saved the big fielder $200.—Hugh S. Fullerton in American Magazine.

THE FIRST ALMANACS.

They Attempted to Foretell Men's Destiny From the Stars.

The almanac, properly so called in its origin, is not merely a device for keeping people in mind of the progress of the year. It is an attempt to show what destiny has in store for us as indicated by the position of the stars in any particular year, and as, according to astrological lore, the destinies of men are ruled by the different aspects of the planets, so also the human body is subject to the influence of the constellations through which the sun appears to pass in his yearly course. A French almanac of 1610 gives a diagram of the human body surrounded by all the signs of the zodiac and indicates the various organs and members over which these signs have power, and this for a guide pour les saignes, or to show at what period blood may be let with safety. But the same almanac also gives directions sensible enough for the avoidance of the plague which would not be found fault with by a modern fashionable physician:

Who would keep his body in health And resist the infection of the plague. Let him seek joy and sadness fly. Avoid places where infections abound And cherish joyous company.

A few examples exist of almanacs of this character before the invention of printing, although none, it is believed, earlier than the twelfth century. But some of the earliest specimens of printing are black printed German sheet almanacs, which are chiefly concerned about blood letting.—Westminster Gazette.

Wasted Time.

Mrs. Newrich was growing accustomed to power. She enjoyed it and was irritated when any one presumed to differ from her in opinion. When the sailing party of which she had been a member landed on the shores of the lake rain soaked and frightened, Mrs. Newrich was the only one who cared to talk.

"It could all have been avoided if that captain had done as I told him," she said between the chattering of her teeth as the party stood huddled under a small shelter.

"When I saw that cloud coming from that corner of the lake I said to him, 'I think you'd better make straight for home and not spend any more time tacking,' but he paid no more attention than as if I hadn't spoken!"—Youth's Companion.

He Didn't Bet.

"A man in my county," said a Kansas congressman, "was always anxious to bet on his game of checkers. One time he was about to play a game for $10 with a fellow called Three Fingers Jack. Suddenly one of his friends exclaimed:

"Don't bet, Charlie. Don't you know that fellow wore off two fingers playing checkers? That's why he's called Three Fingers Jack."

"That settled it. The bet was never made. A man who had worn off two fingers by brushing them up and down the checkerboard was too much for my friend."—Kansas City Journal.

Practical.

"I send you 10,000 kisses," he wrote. "Bah!" she exclaimed, tossing his letter aside. "Why doesn't he come and look over his terminal facilities in person?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 28, 1909

ALONG THE BANKS OF THE Contoocook River

Charles Latuch, the husband of Hattie Small Latuch, formerly of Jaffrey, called upon old acquaintances the first of last week, after an absence of twenty years from town.

Early Friday morning of last week, fire destroyed a large barn and out-buildings on the farm of Mrs. Mary Morrison, a wealthy resident of Peterboro, and 22 head of cattle, four horses, six calves and 150 hens perished. The loss is $8000, partly insured.

Joseph Bourveno, Jr., 14, was drowned at South Peterboro, near Noone's woolen mill. He had gone in swimming after supper and was seized with cramps. Some women near heard his cries and gave the alarm. His body was brought to the shore by James Golden.

Miss Alice P. Adams of Okayma, Japan, after a years sojourn in this country, left Jaffrey, July 20, when she began her return trip.

A peculiar accident happened in Peterboro last Friday morning. Between 5 and 6 o'clock, dogs were heard barking near the barn of W. D. Barker, teamster, and upon investigation a buck deer was found in the driveway between two stores, laying on the ground. It was taken into the barn where it died in a few minutes. Commissioner Wentworth was notified, who reported at noon and investigated the case, found the deer came down over the sand bank in the rear of the buildings and, as men came from the barn suddenly on to it, it jumped, striking the side of the building, breaking its neck.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS FOR BACKACHE, KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

Two Ways of Seeing It!

The Hillsboro Messenger goes out of its way to unjustly criticize the Reporter for what it considers "digs at umpires" in our report of recent ball games. We presume the writer of this brotherly criticism was at the ball games and knows what he is talking about, but if he was not the thing falls flat. But how nice and consoling is this little clipping appearing in the same column of the Messenger with the slap at us, which the editor would have his readers believe was original, there being no quotation marks or credit given:

We wasn't born to be alike,
We ain't alike, not we;
Look round the world and you won't strike
Another chap like me.
Ef you was born to be like me,
An' I like you, I snum,
The Lord would hed no need,
you see,
To ever made but one.

HILLSBORO BRIDGE

Miss Mary Abbot Holman, daughter of Judge and Mrs. S. W. Holman, became the bride of Everett Arthur Vaubon, Wednesday evening, July 14, the wedding taking place at the bride's home. The bride's father officiated and only the members of the immediate families being present. Candles that were burned at the wedding of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Eastman, were again used. The bride was gowned in an embroidered white silk dress. She is a native of this place and attended St. Mary's Episcopal school at Concord. Mr. Vaubon is the son of a Everett, Mass, retired-sea captain, but has recently bought a farm in town.

Many people with chronic and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar as it cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. L. M. Ruggles, Reasnor, Iowa, writes, "the doctors said I had consumption, and I got no better until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It stopped the hemorrhages and pain in my lungs and they are now as sound as a bullet." The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Refuse substitutes. Lane & Weeks.

In the August number of The Ladies' World, there is a very interesting installment of the aerial story, The Fairy's Janet, besides several short stories. In special articles there is an interesting one on Oliver Wendell Holmes, whose centenary occurs next month; one on Summer Work for Women; one on Nursing at home. The household department contains Sensible Summer Living; Summer Drinks and how to make them; Household Information; Family Problems; Fancy work, children's stories, health and good looks, ways of society, etc. —[New York, 50c a year].

The Designer for August

"What we women of the world find out," by Gabrielle Stewart Mulliner, a New York lawyer, is an article which readers of The Designer for August will find extremely interesting, for the writer does not hesitate to criticize the weakness of her sister women. "The etique of the white house," by Mrs. Helen Corinne Hambridge, will be found most illuminating by those who have never had occasion to call on the president. Other features of the month include: "Your Boy and the Y. M. C. A."

The fiction of the month is of a delightful quality. There is a new serial "The House on the Hill," by Theodosia Garrison; and "Polly of the Circus" by Margaret Mayo goes merrily on. Two short stories will also be enjoyed.

ONLY A LITTLE COLD in the head may be the beginning of an obstinate case of nasal catarrh. Drive out the invader with Ely's Cream Balm applied straight to the inflamed stuffed up air passages. Price 50c. If you prefer to use an atomizer, ask for Liquid Cream Balm. It has all the good qualities of the solid form of this remedy and will rid you of catarrh or hay fever. No cocaine to breed a dreadful habit. No mercury to dry out the secretion. Price 75c., with spraying tube. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 38 Warren Street, New York.

Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops chronic coughs that weaken the constitution and develop into consumption, but heals and strengthens the lungs. It affords comfort and relief in the worst cases of chronic bronchitis, asthma, hay fever and lung trouble. Lane & Weeks.

While engaged in unloading hay at the Goodell barn last Friday afternoon, Hiram Allen, in attempting to step over a rapidly moving hay rope, was caught in its coils and rapidly lifted to the rafters where he fell heavily to the barn floor, sustaining injuries which confined him to the house for a day or two.

with a peculiar spasmodic affection of the throat. It would seize me suddenly and for a few minutes I would be unable to speak audibly, and my breath would be greatly interfered with. I would be obliged to gasp for breath. "I finally concluded that it was some catarrhal affection which probably excited the spasm. It interfered with my vocation as a preacher, attacking me occasionally in the pulpit. "I had heard so much about Peruna as a catarrh remedy that I determined to try it. After taking two bottles, my trouble has disappeared. I feel sure that Peruna has greatly benefited me." Rev. P. E. Swanstrom, Swedish Baptist Pastor, Box 228, Grantsburg, Wis., writes that from the use of Peruna he is perfectly well, entirely cured of chronic diarrhea and catarrh.

Peruna in Tablet Form.

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna Tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peruna.

I was cured of a bad case of catarrh when nothing else that I tried had any effect. My wife was cured from a severe case of la grippe, and we feel that the least we can do is to gratefully acknowledge the merit of Peruna. "My wife joins me in sending best wishes for your success."

Hits the Nail Right on the Head

HON. NORMAN E. MACK,
 Buffalo, N. Y.

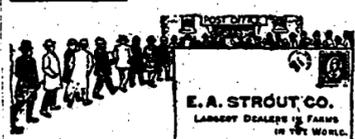

Dear Sir:—I herewith enclose you my check and ask my name to be enrolled as a regular subscriber to your National Monthly. I have just finished examining the first number. It is a publication of stupendous merit, and it will exert a great influence for good in our country. It ranks with the best magazines that are printed in all respects, and its genuine Democracy gives it distinctive superiority. It will succeed for the Democracy is not dead, but very much alive. It will help save the country from capitalistic greed on the one hand and from the dangers of socialism and anarchism on the other. I am heart and soul with you in your new enterprise. Yours truly,

FOLEY'S ORINOGENATIVE
 FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

Chinese Dramatic Crudities.
 Here is a sample of one of the naive bits of Chinese stage craft. Hom Ling, leading tragedian, playing the part of the younger son, renders a solo which means that the widow and orphans are going to the temple to celebrate funeral rites. The property man sets on the stage a little box for an altar and throws over the widow's head a white veil, symbol of mourning. Then Hom Ling, as the younger son, waves his hands and kicks his foot like a man punting a football. This signifies that the rest of the family is out of his sphere of action. The scene has officially changed from a house to a temple. So, while the rest of the family kneels before the altar, Hom Ling strolls over and chats with one of the musicians who happens to be resting. —Everybody's Magazine.

What Forty Poles Make.
 A good story is told about a certain professor whose business it was to lecture to a number of students on surveying. During one of the lectures the professor said that in his opinion the pole was of little or no value. To the astonishment of those present a Polish gentleman arose and after accusing the professor of insulting his countrymen demanded an apology.

The professor thereupon explained that the pole to which he referred was merely a term of measurement. The Polish gentleman, seeing his mistake, asked the professor to forgive his apparent rudeness. To this the professor smartly replied:
 "You could not be rude, sir, even if you tried, for it takes forty poles to make one rood!"—London Mail.

The Amazon River.
 Although not the largest or longest river, the Amazon is the most wonderful river in the world, with a mouth 150 miles in width and with a force of water that repels or at least over-lays the ocean to a distance of more than fifty leagues. Yet in spite of the weight of the river the tide makes its influence felt for 500 miles from the coast. The easterly trade winds blow almost invariably upward, so as to be ready to help the vessel against the adverse currents.

In Disguise.
 "Do you mean to say that you flirted with your wife all the evening at the masked ball and didn't know her?"
 "That's right. But she was so deuced agreeable how was I to know her?"—Exchange.

Ready Replies.
 One of Lord Carmarthen's future constituents once asked the youthful candidate his opinion upon some abstruse question of which he knew nothing. "Let him alone!" cried another derisively. "Don't you see he's nothing but a baby?" "What do you think?" reiterated his inquirer, heedless of the interruption and determined to have an answer. "I think," said Lord Carmarthen, with ready wit, "that it is high time for all babies to be in bed," and so saying he gathered up his papers and disappeared from the platform.

Again—and this last anecdote is so well known as to have become well nigh historical—at a crowded meeting just before his election, he was interrupted by the question, "Does your mother know you're out?" "Yes, she does," was the instant retort, "and by Tuesday night she will know I'm in." His prophecy proved correct, and he headed the poll by a large majority.

A Batch of Bulls.
 An Irishman excused himself from going to church by saying he had such an excellent telescope that with it he could bring the church so near he could hear the organ playing.

It was Pat who observed, after watching two men shoot at an eagle and kill it, that they might have saved the powder and shot, as the fall alone would have killed the bird.

And it was Pat again who, telling a story as original and being informed by one of his auditors that he had read it in the translation of a Latin work, cried out: "Confound these ancients! They are always stealing one's good thoughts."

"Rather, do men descend from monkeys?" asked an inquisitive lad.

"Yes, my boy."
 "And what do monkeys descend from?"
 "The monkeys descend—ah—from the trees!"—London Telegraph.

Not Guilty.
 It is said that within 400 years gold aggregating $2,000,000,000 has disappeared from circulation, and the government would like to know who has it. We learn that the members of the newspaper fraternity are not suspected. —St. Louis Republic.

Handicapped.
 "You ought to save money for your family."
 "Yes, but"—
 "But what?"
 "My family won't let me."—Cleveland Leader.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA
 Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

TUMOR OF FOUR YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindley, Ind. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed a cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They said that only an operation could help me. I am very glad that I followed a friend's advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it has made me a strong and well woman, and I shall recommend it as long as I live."—Mrs. MAY FRAY, Lindley, Ind.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

A PERILOUS PERCH.

Two Nights on a Lodge of a Lofly Peak in the Tyrol.

In the northeastern corner of the Tyrol is the best skie ground in Europe, writes W. A. Baillie-Grohman in "Tyrol." The region has many lofty peaks, which make mountain climbing of interest. The author gives one of his adventures on a peak near the village of Kitzbuhel.

On one of these peaks occurred to me many years ago a little adventure which gave me an opportunity of admiring the grand view rather longer than was pleasant.

I was out stalking chamois, and, having some unoccupied hours in the middle of the day, when stalking is practically useless, as the beasts are resting, I thought I would ascend one of those pinnacles upon which at that time few human beings, I suppose, had ever set foot.

The very last bit was a smooth faced rock not more than twelve feet high, but absolutely unclimbable if unaided by rope or another man upon whose shoulders one could get and so obtain a hand grip of the top and thus draw oneself up. As I was alone I had recourse to a short length of rope I had in my rucksack. Making a slip noose, I threw it upward till it gripped some projection. Then I drew myself up.

While looking about me an unfortunate movement of my legs, which were dangling over the brink as I sat, caused the rope to slip and fall down to the small ledge on which I had stood when flinging it upward. This ledge or band of rock was uncomfortably narrow, not wider than thirty inches, and the abyss below was a perpendicular wall of snow or five church steeples in depth.

At first it did not seem such a serious fix to be in. By letting myself drop to the ledge, my extended arms gripping the top, the distance between the soles of my feet and the ledge was not more than four feet or so—nothing to speak of if that yawning gulf had not been there and I had had boots on my feet. But, having taken these off and left them below, together with my coat and rifle, I should have to drop on to sharp rocks barefooted and hence would be very apt to lose my balance.

The more I considered the position the more I funked that drop, and, to make a long story short, I stayed on that pinnacle two nights, until the morning of the third day, before hunger drove me to risk the drop, which I did in safety.

How I got down the remainder of that descent, "shinning" down chimneys and creeping along narrow edges, was a mystery to me afterward, for I was faint with hunger and my knees trembled and shook under me. When I reached the first habitation where I happened to be known the peasant woman at the door hardly recognized me.

A BUSINESS EXTENDER.

The Kind of Man For Whom There is a Big Demand.

"I am looking for a clerk, a man with a personality, a man who can do things and increase my business. Money is no item. I will not take salary into consideration. I will pay $100, $125 or whatever he is worth. I want the man." That is what a successful merchant said some days ago.

Let us pay our respects to the merchant who is looking for a clerk of this kind. A good clerk deserves a good salary and usually gets it. This matter of good pay for good services is the basic principle of the relations between employer and employee. While all merchants are not willing to pay enough salary to their clerks, there are more merchants who are glad to pay all a clerk is worth than there are clerks who are glad to be worth all they are paid.

Every village, town and city is looking for the man who can "increase business." The man who will work for the interests of his employer is wanted the world over. The world of business is crying out for such men, for men whom it can trust and in whom it can place confidence that a thing will be done when the "boss" back is turned. This man is wanted in every store, factory, at every post and in every great business in the land.

If you are attempting to avoid responsibility and as much work as possible you will, unless by great mistake, escape promotion or increase in salary. There are two kinds of clerks, and only two kinds. One the entire business world is anxiously searching for, and the other the entire business world is anxiously waiting to get rid of.—Twin City Commercial Bulletin.

Lincoln on Proof.

I suggest to him (Judge Douglas) that it will not avail him at all that he swells himself up, takes on dignity and calls people liars. . . . If you have ever studied geometry you remember that by a course of reasoning Euclid proves that all the angles in a triangle are equal to two right angles. Euclid has shown you how to work it out. Now, if you undertake to disprove that proposition and to show that it is erroneous would you prove it to be false by calling Euclid a liar?

It is rarely the privilege of our citizens to listen to an entertainment of such high order. Every number was thoroughly enjoyed. The readings given by Miss Bodge were most pleasing and made a charming variety with the very fine musical numbers.

A Thrilling Rescue

How Bert R. Lean, of Cheny, Wash., was saved from a frightful death is a story to thrill the world. "A hard cold," he writes, "brought on a desperate lung trouble that baffled an expert doctor here. Then I paid $10 to $15 a visit to a lung specialist in Spokane, who did not help me. Then I went to California, but without benefit. At last I used Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me and now I am well as ever." For Colds, Lung Trouble, Bronchitis, Coughs and Asthma, Croup and Whooping cough its supreme.
