A Financial Loss

The English stockholders of the Frank Jones Brewing company of Portsmouth are reported much dissatisfied with the showing made at the annual meeting just held in London, and a request for the resignation of the directors was barely escaped. A committee of stockholders was appointed to take up the situation with the board. A financial loss of $60,000 during the year 1908-09, as against a net profit of $29,000 during the year 1907, was attributed to the recent prohibition campaigns, the business depression and the high price of raw material. The preferred interest of the company is in arrears $370,000, the last distribution having been 4 per cent in 1906-07, on the ordinary stock, nothing has been paid since the 5 per cent distribution in 1906-07.

One reads the signs of the times and marvels, yet we are told that such reading amounts to but very little. How strange! Those of us who are about here at the close of another decade will see remarkable strides ahead along this same line. The conservative people having awakened to their opportunity and by asserting their independence have accomplished much, and in coming years will prove to the world that the prevailing thoughts in their minds are for the betterment of their kind and the getting rid of that which is degrading.

A Boom Under Way

It is a gratification to observe that the month of July has been highly congenial for the harvesting of the winter wheat crop and for the maturing of the great cereal crops generally throughout the West, irrespective of the sweltering of Congress at Washington, observes an exchange. Patten, the Wheat King, has thrown up any further conceit of cornering the market, and July wheat dropped 12 cents a bushel. Patten says that the assurance of the new crop is now too certain and the yield too bountiful to permit any bolstering of prices and this foundation of prosperity is securely laid to all appearances. Plentiful rains over the southwest have removed all anxiety for the big Texas cotton crop and with a continuance of fair weather, there will be a full supply for our home market and a heavy surplus for export. With the land yielding big harvests, a boom throughout the country is unquestionably assured.

Washington's Plague Spots

Lie in the low, marshy bottoms of the Potomac, the breeding grounds of malaria germs. These germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness, and general debility and bring suffering or death to thousands yearly. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "They are the best all-round tonic and cure for malaria I ever used," writes R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. They cure stomach, liver, kidney and blood troubles and will prevent typhoid. Try them, 50c. Guaranteed by Lane & Weeks.

More State Road

Antrim has a piece of state road and while some have not many words of praise for it, yet it is without doubt the best piece of road in town, notwithstanding the fact that since it was first put in not a dollar has been laid out on it in any way. If all our town roads had been used this way every dollar of the town debt might have been paid off.

However, as a town, Antrim is in favor of state roads and votes for them whenever she has an opportunity. Recently the state authorities have been here and surveyed for the making of more state road in our village. The plan is to begin where the macadam now ends in front of Jameson block, run up Main street to Elm street and down Concord street to Elm street, this will give a nice stretch of state road and prove very beneficial to the town.

In talking with one of the selectmen in regard to the new road, he assures us that it will be thoroughly built, properly drained and a credit to the town. It is quite likely that the road will be let out and built by contract and an inspector will constantly be looking after the work, thus insuring it to be up to the standard all the time and at every stage of construction.

Wonderful Undertaking

Dr. Cochrane has been up to see the improvements made by Mr. Goodell at the Branch and thinks the whole thing is a wonderful undertaking. Here is an iron penstock nearly one quarter of a mile in length and 7 feet in diameter and some of the way its bed was blasted through solid rock. The head will be 80 feet and it will develop 800 horse power. The one item of teaming cost $1000. A new dam of cement and stone is being made across the stream, which will necessarily flow back nearly to North Branch village. A new building of cement blocks is to be built over the wheel and dynamo. Altogether, this is probably the greatest improvement made in New Hampshire for a half-century. The whole power is to be transferred to the South Village by wires already set. When this great work is completed the town ought to celebrate the event as it will be for the permanent benefit of the whole town.

A Salesman's Game

A traveling salesman is going the rounds of Antrim, Hillsboro and Hancock selling ladies' silk dresses, giving, it is said, goods of a cheap material, and claiming that if they are not what he says they are, they can be returned to certain city stores where the purchaser's money would be refunded. The man hired a team in Wilton and went from there to Greenfield. The manager of a general store in that town became suspicious of him and communicated with one of the city stores whereupon the deputy sheriffs of these towns were notified to be on the lookout for the man, and when he is caught he will be prosecuted.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Observed by Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hill at Woodbury Memorial Church at Antrim

William H. Hill and wife observed the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday evening of last week or at least their friends took the liberty to assist them in doing it. The occasion was made a public one and was held in the Woodbury Memorial M. E. church, at which gathering about one hundred and fifty guests were present. At eight o'clock a march was played and Mr. and Mrs. Hill took their places in front of the chancel where they received and were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Balch and Mr. and Mrs. George Whitney. After congratulations, prayer was offered by Rev. William Hurlin, aged ninety-five; remarks by Rev. O. E. Kendall, and an original poem was read by its author, Rev. W. R. Cochrane, D. D., the same appearing herewith:

How glad we should be when the good live on
In their prime and their strength unabated!
When we think of the many that now are gone
And the few that were scorned and hated!
These twain have been blest with the years and the changes
God's kindly bestowments along on the way,
That hand which our life, and our life-work arranges
Has been gentle with them, as they witness today.

They met at the Branch in their youthful days,
Just "William the worker" and "Judith the fair,"
They have made the life journey in quietest ways
No boasting, no show, as a part of their care!
They have seen all the progress and honors and changes
That have come in this place in the course of the years,
In their calm, gentle life, with no strife that estranges
And crowds us so often with burdens and fears!

We honor them both for their churchly relation,
For the stand they have taken for truth and for right
Expecting some growth at each coming life-station
As they move to the end of the journey, at night!
And we bid them "God-speed" till the "Master's appearing"
To call them "up higher" in triumph at last,
For the home and the "beautiful shore" they are "nearing"
And the rest, when the duties of life are all past.

Be it ours to cling and to wait and to labor
Like them in devotion each lingering day,
Like them to each pilgrim a helper and "neighbor"
Till the service is ended and "passes away!"
Till we meet them again in the "regions of glory"
For the rest and the joy that are "promised above,"
When recalling the steps of "life's wonderful story,"
And drinking the pleasures of Infinite Love.

We know even now where these dear ones are going
Fond souls we have walked with full many a year,
The seed on the way they've been constantly sowing
And the harvest of honor is now "drawing near!"
For never too much of the joy that awaits them
Can be told to these Dear Ones we honor today,
No language, no mortal, no dream overstates them,
God's gifts to his children that suffer and pray.

An original poem was also read by William Weston of Greenfield, who formerly resided in Antrim.

Following the reading of the poems, some very fitting remarks were made by Rev. A. M. Markey, and in closing, on behalf of friends presented Mr. and Mrs. Hill a nice large wedding cake, prettily frosted and marked 1859-1909, also a decorated plate on which were $50 in gold—eight fives and four two and a halfs. To this most happy feature Mr. Hill found a few words of thankfulness in response, although he said his words came slow and he could not find them sufficiently to express the grateful feeling in his heart to his kind friends for their kindness and thoughtfulness; and what he said for himself was also true in regard to his wife.

Refreshments of punch and cake were served during the social hour that followed, and at an early hour good nights were said, and all present joined in the wish that Mr. and Mrs. Hill might remain with us for many more years to come.

The decorations were bouquets of cut flowers and potted plants, very neatly arranged; the whole arrangement showed the painstaking manner in which the committee had performed their task. To them is due the credit for the success of the occasion.

With the exception of a few years, this most estimable couple has lived in Antrim all their life and are known as among the best people here: they have two daughters, Mrs. Grace Young, who lives at home and Mrs. Annie E. Austin of Concord. They are members of the Methodist church and Mr. Hill is a trustee and also treasurer of the stewards; he is a past-grand in Waverley Lodge of Odd Fellows and a member of the Masonic fraternity. Their general health is good, and prospects fair for yet quite a number of more years of wedded life together.

Antrim Will Celebrate Labor Day

At a meeting of the directors of the Antrim Base Ball association and others interested held at the selectmen's room on Tuesday evening, plans for a celebration on Labor day were talked up to some extent; much interest was manifested, and it is sure a fitting observance will be had. A general committee of five was appointed, with power to appoint sub-committees, who will at once come together and make such definite plans as seem necessary to the committee, composed of E. M. Lane, W. W. Merrill, H. C. Muzzey, W. A. N. Scott, C. P. Davis. Further particulars will be given later.

YE OLDE DAYS

21 YEARS AGO
—Fred H. Culby kills a black snake 5 feet 2 inches.

—A basket picnic in honor of the 100th anniversary of the Presbyterian church organization held.

—Walter Atwood chosen a member of the democratic town committee —Work began on remodeling Waverley hall into a public school building.

—Four weddings took place in Antrim in the first six days of August, twenty-one years ago.

Charles C. Phillips

The news of the death of a former Antrim resident reached here Saturday night last. Mr. Phillips was many years employed of the Goodell company, being foreman in the packing room, and was well and favorably known by all our people as an upright, conscientious man; after leaving town he has resided in Elkins this state and was employed as salesman for the Goodell Co. For some time he has been failing in health and a short time ago was compelled to take his bed; the end however came much sooner than was anticipated. The cause of death was probably due to a heart affection from which he had suffered some. His widow has the sympathy of all friends here in her affliction.

August American Boy

The delightful sports and pastimes of a summer outing thrown in the front cover picture of the American Boy are in pleasing accord with the contents of the magazine. Of the many fine short stories and good articles there seems no end. Some Camp Furniture will help the boys in preparing for their outing, and Learning to Swim gives good advice to those learning the art. The various department editors seem to have made extra efforts in this issue as there is something for every boy with a hobby. In addition there are over 93 illustrations. $1 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Michigan.

Death of Henry M. Putney

Henry M. Putney, since 1886 chairman of the board of railroad commissioners of New Hampshire, and for thirty-six years the political editor of the Manchester Mirror and American, died at his home in Manchester Friday afternoon last, having suffered a stroke of apoplexy early that morning. His age was 69 years. Thus is removed one of the most prominent figures in state newspaper circles as well as in state politics.

Dates For Greenfield Fair

George D. Gould, secretary of the New Oak Park Fair association of Greenfield, announces that the coming eleventh annual fair of that association will take place at the New Oak Park fair grounds on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 1, 2, 3. Arrangements are being made for one of the largest fairs to be held in this section the coming season.

The family of Morris Burnham are spending the week at the Goodwin cottage on the south shore of Gregg pond.

How to Cure Insomnia In Summer.

Insomnia is more prevalent in summer than at any other period of the year. The excessive heat causes restlessness, and the HEART AND BRAIN ARE PROMPTED INTO INCREASED ACTIVITY.

A well known New York physician recommends the following method of inducing sleep in the torrid months:

"A bath of moderate duration in lukewarm water just before retiring will be found to be an encourager of sleep.

"But the person should take care not to dry himself thoroughly nor rub himself with a rough towel so that the circulation is stimulated.

"The idea is that by merely wiping off the body so that it is yet damp at the end of the bath the body retains the soothing and quieting effects of the warm water. The stimulus supplied by brisk rubbing would overcome those effects, as would water of extremes of temperature."

A Pointer on Mosquitoes.

A few drops of oil of eucalyptus poured on the pillow will keep away flies and mosquitoes, and mosquito bites rubbed with peroxide will soon cease to sting.

The worst part of any trouble is waiting for it.

ELY'S CREAM BALM has been tried and found not wanting in thousands of homes all over the country. It has won a place in the family medicine closet among the reliable household remedies, where it is kept at hand for instant use in treating cold in the head just as soon as some member of the household begins the preliminary sneezing or snuffing. It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak, or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—unless you do you will be disappointed.

Decreasing Weight In Summer.

To the many persons who desire to reduce their avoirdupois the good old summer time offers a ready and simple solution to their problem.

The surest way to reduce flesh without adopting means that will strain or weaken the body or system is to WEAR A WOOLEN SWEATER on warm days and take walks or other moderate exercise. Jockeys, prizefighters and other athletes to whom weight is a vital matter follow this plan.

The discomfort of the heavy garment in warm weather decreases as the person becomes accustomed to the procedure, and—the burden becomes less onerous day by day.

Of course if a person will wear the sweater and perform some violent forms of exercise his weight will decrease all the more rapidly.

THE SAFFRON PLANT.

It is Among the Very Oldest of the Vegetable Products.

The particular species of crocus that has from time immemorial been cultivated for its dried stigmas, a product known under the name of saffron, is Crocus sativus, which is wild from Italy to Kurdistan. Saffron may be reckoned among the very oldest of vegetable products, being alluded to in the Song of Solomon among other species of Lebanon. The name crocus is Chaldean or Greek and was first used by Theophrastus of Eresus about 350 B. C., and that it was a well known and admired flower in Greece soon afterward is shown by Sophocles, who mentions the "crocus of golden beam" in his "Cedipus at Colonus."

The word saffron seems to be a corruption of the Arabic name "al zatnafra," and the product itself was first imported into England as a spice or condiment, being also used as a color or dye for silks and other fabrics of the eastern looms.

At a later date, exactly when is not known, the plant itself was cultivated in England, more especially in Essex, in which county the name of Saffron Walden remains in evidence of the fact. Again, we have in London Saffron hill, which formerly was a site included in the bishop of Ely's garden at Holborn, once famous for its saffron beds as well as for its strawberries. Today, however, saffron is but little used.—London Chronicle.

A MONSTER SKULL.

One That Was Said to Be Bigger Than a Bushel Basket.

One of the most remarkable finds of gigantic human remains of which we have any record was that said to have been made at Palermo, Sicily, in the year 1516, when an entire skeleton of unheard of proportions was unearthed by some marble quarry men. These mammoth remains measured exactly thirty-four feet from head to foot and nine feet seven inches from point to point of the shoulders.

A stone ax buried with this old time giant may still be seen at Palermo in section "Z" of the St. Isorent museum. It is made of a bluish looking, fine grained bowlder, and appears to be about two feet eight inches long by one foot broad and nine inches through in the thickest place. A musty, rusty looking tag attached to the relic informs the visitor that it weighs fifty-two pounds, but the general verdict is that it could not weigh over thirty or thirty-five pounds.

The skeleton was burned by a mob in the year 1662 during the prevalence of the black death at Palermo, the ignorant, superstitious people believing that it was connected in some mysterious way with the death dealing disease. The skull of this giant, according to Abbe Ferregus, "was largely excessive of the baskets said to hold the bushel, being fitted above and below with teeth to the number of sixty-four, the each of which would have weighed two ounces."

Cavalier Scroy claimed to have found a skull on Tenerife that had sixty teeth.—Westminster Gazette.

Animal Mimicry.

Observers of nature are frequently struck with the singular resemblances of insects to leaves, dried sticks, etc., and these likenesses are supposed to have grown out of the necessity of protection against or concealment from enemies. An interesting example of this kind of resemblance was brought to the attention of the Entomological society in London by a naturalist, who exhibited a spider found inhabiting some rocks near Cannes, on which were also fastened the cases of a species of moth. When at rest, the spider exhibited almost precisely the same form and color as the moth cases surrounding it.

AFTER THE BATTLE.

An Incident That Seemed to Explain Joshua's Miracle.

There was an incident in our life at Brandy, connected with Gettysburg, which is worth relating. Batchelder, whose map of the battlefield of Gettysburg is authority and whom we had fallen in with while we were there, asked to join our mess at Brandy when he came to the army to verify the positions of the various commands. One night we had just sat down to dinner when he entered our big hospital tent, quite tired.

"Well," he announced after taking his place at the table, "I have been down in the Second corps today, and I believe I have discovered how Joshua made the sun stand still. I first went to — regiment and had the officers mark on the map the hour of their position at a certain point. Then I went to — regiment in the same brigade. They declared positively it was one or two hours earlier or later than that given by the other. So it went on, no two regiments or brigades agreeing, and if I hinted that some of them must certainly be mistaken they would set me down by saying with severe dignity, 'We were there. Batchelder, and we ought to know, I guess,' and I made up my mind that it would take a day of at least twenty hours instead of thirteen at Gettysburg to satisfy their accounts. So when Joshua's captives got around him after the fight and they began to talk it over the only way under the heavens that he could ever harmonize their statements was to make the sun stand still and give them all a chance."

Any one who has ever tried to establish the exact position or hour when anything took place in an engagement will confirm Batchelder's experience and possibly, if not too orthodox, accept his explanation of Joshua's feat. Morris Schaff in Atlantic.

THE SAWMILL'S BOOKS.

They Needed Not an Auditor, but a Mathematical Carpenter.

Biffins froze me with a stare. "I remember," he went on, calmly ignoring my interruption, "one time when I was hired to keep books for a sawmill way up north. 'Twas six days by log wagon from ever' place exceptin' the infernal regions, the same bein' a quarter of a mile away, straight down. The durned simpleton they sent down to Nigger Wool settlement after me had so much business with a roulette dealer that he forgot to tell me to get some office supplies, so when we got to camp I found that the principal equipment of my palatial 6 by 8 business apartment consisted of three lumber crayons, slightly worn, and a last year's almanac. I got some smooth pine boards and kept my books on them with chalk."

"How did it work?" I asked, interested in spite of myself.

"Like a charm," grinned Biffins. "Until the foreman of gang I got on a drunk one night an' slept in the office an' used up fourteen pages of the general ledger fer kindlin' wood the next mornin'. The company sent up an auditor to check over my books, but he went back plumb disgusted. Told 'em they didn't need an auditor—what they wanted was a carpenter who was handy at fitters. An' that reminds me"—Bookkeeper.

Can't Beat 'Em.

As usual, he was monopolizing the newspaper.

"Please let me have the woman's page," she said.

He carefully tore off a page and handed it to her.

It was a full page advertisement of a millinery opening, and he chuckled at his own little joke.

Still, she was revenged. She went to the opening, and he paid the bill.—Chicago Post.

An Ample Test.

The Insurance Agent—Sure your heart isn't weak? The Insured One—Oh, yes, yes. The Agent—Ever test it? The Insured—Yes, indeed. I watched a fifteen inning ball game with the score 1 to 1.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Open Confession.

Aunty—Tommy, I put three pies in here yesterday, and now there is only one. How is that? Tommy—Please, it was so dark, aunty, I didn't see that one!—London Punch.

The Reason.

Discontented Wife—Several of the men whom I refused when I married you are richer than you are now.

The Husband—That's why.—Illustrated Bits.

He is the noblest who has raised himself by his own exertions to a higher station.—Cicero.

Too Pressing.

"And did you enjoy your African trip, major? How did you like the savages?"

"Oh, they were extremely kind hearted! They wanted to keep me there for dinner!"—London Opinion.

State Trade Report

Manufacturing business is generally good, and in the shoe line is rushing. Several large concerns are building additions to their plants and the prospects are good for future business. All the cotton mills are busy and the industry is as well employed as it ever was. Other manufacturing concerns are fairly busy. The hay crop in the state is about half cut, and so far has been secured in good shape; the crop varies in different sections but will not be as good as was looked for earlier in the year. Other crops, while backward, are coming along well, and the rain of the past week did an immense amount of good. Trade in retail lines is good in the country sections but has slowed up in the cities as usual. Trains have been very heavy the past week and the resorts are well filled; this is especially so at the seashore and lakes, and another week will see the mountain resorts full. So far the season has been up to the average.

The Telephone Girl

The telephone girl sits still in her chair and listens to voices from everywhere. She hears all the gossip, she hears all the news, she knows who is happy and who has the blues, she knows all our sorrows, and knows all our joys; she knows every girl who is chasing the boys; she knows of our troubles, she knows of our strife: she knows every man who is mean to his wife: she knows every time we are out with the boys, she hears the excuses each fellow employs; she knows every man who's inclined to be fast: in fact there's a secret 'neath each saucy curl, of the quiet, demure looking telephone girl. If the telephone girl would tell all she knows, it would turn half our friends into bitterest foes: she would sow a small wind that would soon be a gale, engulf us in trouble and land us in jail: she could let go a story (which gaining in force) would cause half our wives to sue for divorce; she could get all the churches mixed up in a fight and turn all our days into sorrowing night: in fact she could keep the whole town in a stew, if she told one-tenth part of the things that she knew. Now doesn't it make your devoted head whirl when you think what you owe to the telephone girl?—Exchange.

Cured Hay Fever & Summer Cold

A. S. Nauhaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success."

A NY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

"I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike,—heart depressants, and should not be used. The nerves would be all right, if the digestion were good. Peruna corrects the digestion.

Base Ball.

The game of ball last Saturday on the local diamond between Antrim and Concord resulted in the usual victory for Antrim, 11 to 8. It was a day when both pitchers were hit at will and the fielders were kept busy throughout the game. Pitcher Cudihy made the first and only home run on the grounds this season, putting the ball to deep right field. The hitting and playing of Gilroy and Bickford were up to their usual high standard. The weakness of the visiting club was entirely unexpected as the spectators expected to see a much better aggregation, their only play of note being a double in the fourth inning. Score by innings:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Antrim	3	1	0	0	2	1	4	0
Concord	0	2	0	0	0	0	1	0

Suggestion For a Day's Food.

Kate Upson Clark gives the following menu for a hot summer day:

If you want breakfast, dry toast or a crusty roll, with whatever beverage, preferably cocoa, you like, may suffice. Fruit or eggs may be added, and some feel that they cannot get along without a chop or a bit of steak.

For luncheon cold meat, salad with little or no oil and iced tea or lemonade are generally enough.

For dinner a light soup, with fish, lamb, beef or game, green vegetables, salad, and fruit, either stewed or raw, should serve.

If coffee is desired it is best without milk.

SUGAR AND CANDY.

Satisfy the Cravings of the Children For Sweets.

Children may eat too much sugar, and they may also stay too long in their bathtub, or in the creek when they go in swimming, or get tanned or a headache from playing too long in the sun, or chilled by staying too long in the open air, but is that any sound reason why they should be deprived of sweets, sunlight, baths and fresh air or discouraged from indulging in them?

All that is needed, says Dr. Woods Hutchinson in Success Magazine, is a little common sense regulation and judicious supervision, not prohibition or denunciation. Most of the extraordinary craving for pure sugar and candy, which is supposed to lead the average child to inevitably "founder himself" if left to his own sweet will and a box of candy, is due to a state of artificial and abnormal sugar starvation, produced by an insufficient amount of this invaluable food in its regular diet.

Children who are given plenty of sugar on their mush, bread and butter and puddings, a regular allowance of cake and plenty of sweet fruits are almost free from this craze for candy. This tendency to gorge themselves to surfeit, and can usually be trusted with both the candy box and the sugar bowl.

Parker House Rolls.

Materials.—Three tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of lukewarm water, one yeast cake, two cupfuls of new milk, one tablespoonful of sugar, two egg whites and six cupfuls of flour.

Way of Preparing.—Scald the milk and add to it the sugar, salt and butter. Let stand until lukewarm, then add three cupfuls of flour and beat for five minutes. Add the dissolved yeast and let stand until it is a very light, frothy mass, then add the egg whites, beaten to a stiff froth, and the remaining flour. Let rise again until it is twice its original bulk, place on your molding board, knead lightly and then roll into a sheet half an inch thick. Take a large biscuit cutter and cut the dough into rounds. Brush with melted butter, fold over and press the edges together. Place in a buttered pan one inch apart. Let rise until very light and bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes.—National Food Magazine.

A Duck of a Man.

Ellen Terry and Mr. Balfour met for the first time at the table of Henry W. Lucy in London. During the ensuing conversation Miss Terry remained strangely silent. Presently the Unionist leader had to leave for the house of commons, and Ellen Terry at last found her tongue. Her host was relieved to find that she had not been bored. Bringing her closed hand down on the table, she exclaimed with a glance toward the door through which Mr. Balfour had passed, "I think that's a duck of a man!"

Advantages.
"I suppose you are glad to be free again?"

The ex-convict sidestepped a trolley car, dodged an auto and looked nervously toward a clanging ambulance.

"Oh, of course, of course," he said. "But let me tell you a man in prison feels mighty safe."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Drawback.
"Your ocean trip was pretty nice, I suppose?"

"Oh, yes."

"Saw icebergs and such things, eh?"

"Yes, but I missed the billboards. I can tell you."—Washington Herald.

Caution Extraordinary.

"You have a night key?"

"Of course," answered Mr. Meekton.

"only I'm so careless that Benito it keeps it locked up in the safety deposit so that I won't lose it."—Washington Star.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Camden, N.J.—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimonial to your already long list—hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of this valuable medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from terrible headaches, pain in my back and right side, was tired and nervous, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health and made me feel like a new person, and it shall always have my praise."

Mrs. W. P. VALENTINE, 902 Lincoln Avenue, Camden, N.J.

Gardiner, Me.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."

Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner Me.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

A Summer Danger Signal.

In summer time the moment you cease to perspire and have a tight feeling about the neck and head LOOSEN ALL YOUR CLOTHING; then take a sponge bath and a drink of cool, not cold, water.

If the feeling grows worse, send for the doctor.

Remember that the more baths the greater comfort. Borax makes an excellent powder to use in the bath. A little alcohol in the bathing water makes the bath twice as refreshing.

FLOATING STORES.

Merchandise Steamers of the Muskoka Lake Country in Ontario.

Among the interesting features of life in the Muskoka lake country, in Ontario, are the floating stores. A good sized steam vessel fitted out with every imaginable item of merchandise that might be required makes a tour of an assigned chain of lakes once each week. On a certain hour of a certain day the boat is expected at the different resorts and summer homes, and enough merchandise must be bought at each to tide over until the next trip of the floating store.

Upon stepping on board the store boat, says a writer in Popular Mechanics, the purchaser approaches a counter with scales and cash drawer, as in any other kind of store. Behind the counter are shelves, on which are displayed such articles as may tempt the eye. Behind these shelves is the entrance to the storeroom and hold, in which more merchandise is stored. Each article has its place, and the storekeeper can find it in a moment.

Sometimes isolated farms on the lakes are not worth stopping at every trip, so a flag is flown when stores are desired. The store vessel drops anchor when the signal flag is flown, and some member of the family rows out and makes the purchases.

Engraved Gems of the Ancients.

Engraved gems are among the most interesting objects of art inherited by us from the ancients. Though many of the cameos and intaglios were engraved on precious stones over 2,000 years ago, they are still as clear and fine as if they were cut yesterday. The designs engraved on these stones indicate that the old Greeks and Romans regarded them as charms against accident or misfortune. This superstition generally took the form of a fondness for representation of certain animals. Sailors affected the dolphin because it was believed to be the mariner's friend. Women, so far as dishes were concerned, preferred the representation of the prolific arluga of the Adriatic, which was a symbol of fruitfulness because of the great number of its eggs. The ant was worn as an emblem of industry. By the frog was indicated the idea of resurrection, because that interesting batrachian renews its youth each spring by shedding its old skin.

Pertaining to Fish.

Blessings on thee, little man! Go a-fishing when you can. Never mind the teacher's rule not to run away from school. Take your bait and alder pole and then hunt the deepest hole where the wary troutlets hide by the canyon streamlet's side. You'll get licked at home, of course, and you'll suffer great remorse, but when daddy sees your string he'll gasp and say, "By jing!" And his rod and reel he'll snatch and start out to make catch when your jacket he doth tan. Blessings on you, little man!—Los Angeles Express.

Clothes and the Man.

Man is in some sort a slave to his clothes, and there are many men who dislike wearing the same clothes on two consecutive days, more particularly the necktie. For the first two or three things you look at when you meet a man are his eyes and his necktie. And there is a sort of underlying consciousness as you face the morning world that your tie must be straight and clean and new. But to this end you must buy the cheap tie and throw it away with your sins before going to bed.—London Chronicle.

A Curiosity.

"What in the world have you got that bill framed up there for?" we asked.

"Oh, that," said the millionaire, "is the only dollar I ever earned."

We understood.—Puck.

All Had Been Used.

"So Pinckerville's exposition is off?" "Yep."

"And why?"

"We couldn't think up no new name for a midway."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Most people live poor to die rich. It is much wiser to live rich and to die poor.—Housgaya.

95th BIRTHDAY

Observed By Rev. William Hurlin
Last Saturday

Rev. William Hurlin, who is without doubt the oldest active minister in New England and possibly in the United States, observed the 95th anniversary of his birth on Saturday last at his pleasant home on North Main street. A large number of neighbors and friends called to see him during the afternoon and evening. He was assisted on this occasion by his daughters and son. A birthday cake from the Antrim Baptist church and congregation with the figures 1814-1909 in the centrepiece, and which was cut and distributed to the guests, was received.

Mr. Hurlin is a very active man for his years and quite often now preaches in this and adjoining towns; his sermons are sound and contain many thoughts of unusual interest, besides being very instructive to listen to. His eyesight is remarkable, not using glasses at all, and almost every day may be seen taking his daily walk to the postoffice. The health of the reverend gentleman is good, and he bids fair to see many more returns of the day, which his friends everywhere hope will be his to enjoy.

Mr. Hurlin received 18 letters and 20 picture postals from all parts of the country, containing birthday congratulations. Among the letters received was one from the Baptist church and congregation in Plaistow, where he was pastor four years, 1873-1877, who on Sunday, July 25, passed a unanimous vote of congratulations and best wishes to Mr. Hurlin.

EAST ANTRIM.

H. B. Tuttle was unfortunate in losing a valuable cow.

NORTH BRANCH

The Flint family went to Boston by auto last Saturday.

Foster Kendall and family will occupy the Little house from now on; Mr. Kendall is to have charge of the electric plant.

Henry S. Lawrence went to Togus, Maine, to be a member of the Soldier's home, the first of the week. His health is poor.

M. S. Bennett and family returned home last week, after an enjoyable two weeks stay with the Crombie's.

Mr. Dalyrimple carried a party to Antrim Sunday to attend church. He also went to the Center and brought Rev. Osborn to the chapel here in the afternoon.

Hardin Ford was in Boston Sunday.

The 33d annual encampment of the New Hampshire Veteran's Association will be held at Camp E. E. Sturtevant, at The Weirs, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 24-27, 1909.

HENNIKER

The body of Geo. Frank Drew, of Malden, Mass., who once made Henniker his home for several years, was brought here for burial Friday. The funeral was held in Malden Thursday afternoon. The local lodge Knights of Pythias took charge of the funeral.

Miss Susie Whitney is passing a few weeks in Franklin, the guest of her daughter.

Miss Florence J. Walker of Pembroke, a former high school teacher, has been visiting in Deering.

The Methodist society held a very successful lawn party last Thursday evening on the church common.
