What of the Future?

In many sections is heard this query, now that the hand of the lamented Henry M. Putney has been released from the shaping of things political in the state. All have to admit that his personality in guiding things was a rare one and of great influence and will not soon be forgotten; however, his desire to continue in very lucrative political office apparently came very near at times endangering the success of the Republican party of the old Granite state. All organizations, societies, and corporations must have a head or guiding hand, else their life is not only short but very uncertain, and for this reason if no other it is well to consider seriously the question, "What of the future?" Those who have known of the workings of this particular organization in the past of course realize the situation and know best who is the proper party for the place, but will the new man be the one who will have the wisdom, patience and ability to guide the bark through the treacherous waters which are sure to rear at times. Be it known that we do not lose sleep over this matter nor do we fear greatly for the future, but facing the conditions as they exist always sets one to thinking, and more so at the present time when matters of state seem uncertain and constantly changing and are more liable to change in the years that are to come than they have in the years that are past.

Cured Hay Fever & Summer Cold

A. S. Nausbaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success."

Were the Antrim Boys at Contoocook Saturday last

What proved to be a return game in more ways than one, was that on Saturday last when the Antrim nine went to Contoocook for a game of base ball. Our boys must have had an off day; for when the Contoocooks played here June 12th the two teams ran neck and neck, it needing ten innings to settle the case. This latter game, however, was decidedly in favor of the Contoocooks.

The detailed score follows:

"Down in Maine."

The Antrim Grange will present in town hall, Antrim, on Wednesday evening, August 18, the four-act drama, "Down in Maine." This is a domestic drama of some fame and will be put upon our stage in a realistic manner, our townsman, Mr. W. W. Merrill, who is an actor of considerable ability, taking the leading part and practically has the whole thing in charge. After the entertainment promenading will be enjoyed till 12 o'clock. Appleton's orchestra will furnish music. Admission, 25 and 15c; reserved seats 35c. General admission tickets are on sale by members of the Grange and reserved seat tickets go on sale at Antrim Pharmacy today. For particulars read posters.

New R. R. Commissioner

Judge Oscar L. Young of Laconia has received the appointment of a member on the State railroad commission; A. G. Whittemore of Dover being advanced to chairman of the commission. The selection of Judge Young is considered to be a wise one, as he is known to be a man of unusual common sense and sterling ability.

Law Offers Much Leniency

The efforts which Harry Thaw, murderer of Sanford White is making to secure release from the insane asylum to which he was committed on the ground that he was not mentally responsible when he shot the New York architect, strongly suggest the superiority of the English law to our own. Under English law, if we are correctly informed, no individual who escapes punishment for murder on the ground of insanity can ever escape from the asylum to which he or she is committed as the result of such acquittal. It is argued under the British system that when an individual has at any time been so insane as to take human life the safety of society demands the permanent incarceration of him who has been a murderer in fact. Either the individual so acquitted is liable, despite intervening periods of apparent sanity, to suffer recurrence of the homicidal mania, or else the acquittal on the ground of insanity was a miscarriage of justice which can be at least in part corrected by incarceration for life. Whichever alternative may be accepted by the friends of the acquitted, no substantial injustice can come of permanent incarceration. As a result, there are far fewer defenses against the charge of murder on the plea of insanity. Few sane men, even if they be guilty, care to run the risk of confinement in an insane asylum for life. And on the other hand, when such a plea is entered and acquittal follows, society is protected from any possibility of the results of a recurrence of the affliction. Opinion in the case of Thaw may, and doubtless does, vary as to his sanity or the reverse, but healthy opinion can hardly vary as to the justice of kindly but effective imprisonment for the remainder of his worse than useless life.

Concert

Those who did not attend the concert at town hall on Wednesday evening last missed a rare treat, for it was one of the best given here for a long time. The program consisted of piano solos by Miss Nectar M. Eksergian and Master Carolus Levon Eksergian; violin solos by Mr. Rupen Eksergian; vocal solos by Miss Grace Wilson; readings by Miss Gladys Rodge. The selections were fine and the rendition of the several numbers was of a high order; all present expressed themselves as more than pleased with the evening's entertainment.

The Uncanoonic Mountains

A day's or a week's outing cannot be passed to any better advantage than by taking a trolley ride up the Uncanoonic Mountains. A new summer resort has recently been opened to the public and together with the magnificent scenery of four states and the ocean; the cool, balmy mountain air; the large summer hotel, and the ride up the wonderful Inclined Railway that climbs the steep and rocky mountain side, makes this the most popular recreation place north of Boston. The hotel accommodations are first class and rates moderate. Music and free dancing.

REVIVAL

Of Business Confirmed. Iron and Steel Progress Steadily

Dun's Review of Trade has this to say:

Every important development of the week confirms the revival of trade, which set in even with the tariff under discussion and which has no vital obstruction to oppose it, now that the tariff bill has passed both houses of Congress and has become a law. The remarkable recovery in the iron and steel trade is of a steadily progressive character, reports at all points being extremely favorable. Grain crop news could scarcely be better, the outlook for spring wheat and for corn being most encouraging. While the August statement for cotton indicated a low condition, yet in value the crop may bear comparison with former larger yields, although notwithstanding the government's report prices have declined.

The dry goods trade continues to broaden and basic conditions are excellent, and it would seem it is bound to improve now that tariff uncertainties are at an end. Dry goods jobbing trade is expanding, and among large western distributors collections are excellent and credit conditions sound. The primary cotton goods and cotton yarn markets have been unsettled by the fluctuating values in the raw cotton market, following a low condition report by the government and the bulk of the light trading has been in spot or nearby goods, which are offered at lower figures than mills will quote on contracts.

Editor to be Census Supervisor

There is good reason to believe that Frank A. Musgrove, editor of the Hanover Gazette, will receive the appointment of census enumerator for the state of New Hampshire; this appointment will be made by President Taft in due time, notwithstanding that there appears to be some opposition in certain circles to his appointment. Mr. Musgrove is a strong Taft man, a reformer of the right type, and a man of much ability—just such a one as the president would be hunting for to do this work. He has the endorsement of men of influence who believe him to be one of the leading young men of the state and all his actions and work far above reproach.

'Twas A Glorious Victory

There's rejoicing in Fedora, Tenn., A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town for curing C. V. Pepper of deadly lung hemorrhages. "I could not work nor get about," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but, after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhages, hay fever, grippe, asthma or any bronchial affection it stands unrivaled. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Sold and guaranteed by Lane & Weeks.

Notice.

Again we give warning to those who allow their subscription to the REPORTER to run behind over one year. The post-office department obliges us to cut off all such from our list if not paid at once. We have no alternative, and you will have no one to blame but yourselves, and will understand the reason if your paper is discontinued. We have sent bills for the Reporter to all those in arrears, and have waited a sufficient time. If settlement is not made at once, we shall be obliged to discontinue your paper according to government law.

The discovery of the so-called "joker" in the shoe and leather schedule of the tariff bill by those western Senators who have so vigorously opposed free hides, serves above all to demonstrate the almost criminal indifference and inattention of the majority of the national law makers to what is going on in Congress. The action of the conferees in restricting the lower duties on boots, shoes, saddlery, etc., to such articles when made of cattle hides was not a "joker."

Washington's Plague Spots

Lie in the low, marshy bottoms of the Potomac, the breeding grounds of malaria germs. These germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility and bring suffering or death to thousands yearly. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "They are the best all round tonic and cure for malaria I ever used," writes R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. They cure stomach, liver, kidney and blood troubles and will prevent typhoid. Try them, 50c. Guaranteed by Lane & Weeks.

Philosophy of Sunburn.

Don't stay out in the broiling sun in the effort to get yourself burned. It may be fine to be brown in the summer, but it's very ugly to be YELLOW IN THE AUTUMN, and that is what you will be if you get deeply sunburned now.

Water at Meals In Hot Weather.

Do not drink water or other liquids when you have food in your mouth, for one part of the danger of drinking at meals is that the fluid may wash down into the stomach particles of food which have not been thoroughly masticated and impregnated by the digestive juices in the mouth.

The second danger, especially in summer, is that your drink may be too cold, like ice water, which so many foolish persons indulge in too much.

When you swallow ice water at mealtimes the water simply paralyzes the walls of the stomach for a time and stops the flow of gastric juices until the body warmth has overcome the chill and allows the juices to flow once more. But if you chew your food well and DO NOT DRINK VERY COLD FLUIDS there is no danger.

It gives immediate relief and a day or two's treatment will put a stop to a cold which might, if not checked, become chronic and run into a bad case of catarrh.

THE DIAMOND CUTTER.

His Skill Has Much to Do With the Brilliancy of the Gem.

When the expert looks at a diamond he can tell you in a moment where it came from and even whether it was cut lately or some years ago. He knows by its color whence it comes, for the color of the Brazilian diamond differs from that of the South African, and even in South Africa different colors are found in different mines.

In the rough the diamond has little brilliancy, for there is a crust that must be cut away before it can properly refract the light, and it is this power of refraction which makes the brilliancy of a diamond and has everything to do with its value in the market. The skill of the diamond cutter has much to do with bringing out this brilliancy. He must do the most he can with the rough stone before him—and lose as little as possible of the precious weight in the stone.

Diamonds are found in all kinds of queer shapes, for the carbon may be in any position while being crystallized, and the act of crystallization may affect only parts of that carbon. When the expert cutter has a rough diamond before him he judges almost instantly how it will cut to the greatest advantage. If it inclines to the pear shape he will make a pear shaped diamond of it. If it be square or round the cutting will follow the natural lines as closely as possible, so that the loss may be reduced to a minimum.

To make the stone as brilliant as possible the diamond cutter cuts many facets so as to refract the light from as many points as he can. A full cut brilliant has at least forty-eight facets, and so expert are the cutters that they often cut diamonds so small that it requires a hundred to weigh a carat. Each has forty-eight facets.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SARATOGA'S SPRINGS.

The Water Was First Used by the Indians as a "Cure."

The Saratoga Springs "cure" antedated the settlement of this community by the white man, when the High Rock spring was only a bubbling springlet, drunk at first by the Indians as a fresh water spring. Finding that their health was improved by the water, they bequeathed them that it must have medicinal qualities, and from that time all sick Indians were brought to High Rock spring for the healing of their ills. The "outward and visible sign" that impressed the red men was the deposit of the salts of the water about the spring in the form of a cone, called tufa, which still exists and from which it received its name and through and over which the water bubbles to this day.

In 1800 the Congress spring was discovered and became renowned the world over as a saline cathartic. This, combined with the sulphurous iron water of the Putnam spring, made Saratoga Springs famous as the leading health resort of the United States. The remainder of the thirty-five mineral springs were discovered from time to time, and all have a wide therapeutic application in the treatment of almost all chronic diseases and are divided into four groups according to their component parts. These groups are: First, sodic, muriatic, alkaline, saline, cathartic; second, sodic, calcic, muriatic, alkaline saline; third, chalybeate; fourth, sulphur.—National Magazine.

Living Over Catacombs.

Paris, in many of its districts, is built over the catacombs, says Harper's Weekly. These vast subterranean chambers and galleries produce that peculiar cavernous sound which is heard in the Luxembourg, Montparnasse, Vaugirard, Montrouge and Montsouris quarters when heavy carts pass rapidly along the coarsely metalled roads. The streets are then like monstrous drums beating funeral marches to the grave over that vast common grave of ten centuries of Parisians with its millions of skeleton dead. That quaint little Gothic house at the corner of the Boulevard Raspail, which many an American artist must remember from his student days, actually has a private staircase leading to the catacombs from beneath a hermetically closed stone slab just in front of the doorstep.

Lincoln as He Knew Him.

Asked under the civil service rules to write what he knew about Abraham Lincoln, an applicant for the police force of New York wrote:

"Abraham Lincoln was born in Kentucky at a very early age. His father moved the family to Ohio, floating down the Mississippi. If he had not been killed by a murderer he might be living today. He was an intelligent man and could easily have been president of New York city."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Amateurish.

"Am I the first girl you ever kissed?" "You are—I swear it!" "I accept your apology."—Cleveland Leader.

Footwear In Summer.

Summer shoes and stockings should be of the lightest weight. Brown shoes are always cooler than black, being more porous, and white canvas shoes are delightful for summer wear. BLACK STOCKINGS SHOULD BE TABOOED IN HOT WEATHER. The dye is bad for the feet, sometimes really injurious. White stockings, of course, are the best of all, but tan or gray may be worn to great advantage.

Drink Plenty of Pure Water.

Dr. George H. Fox, the distinguished authority on skin diseases, says that such troubles in summer are caused almost invariably by WRONG DIET and that they as well as many other disorders of the system may often be cured by simply exercising more and eating less.

He lays great stress upon the value of pure water as a remedy. "Drink it freely," he says, "EXCEPT DURING MEALS and the hour preceding and following."

He dwells with emphasis upon the value of a change of diet when one is not well. He says it is often worth more than a change of air.

Couldn't Turn It.

The eye of little Willie's teacher was sad and sorry, for, notwithstanding that he was her favorite pupil, he stood before her convicted of the heinous charge of a theft of candy from a fellow pupil. It was a first offense, however, and she did not desire to inflict corporal punishment. A moral lecture, she thought, would fit the case.

"Bear in mind, Willie," she concluded, "that these temptations can be resisted if determination is used. Always turn a deaf ear to temptation."

Little Willie's lip trembled. "But, teacher," he answered, "I ain't got a deaf ear."

Making Hubby Appreciative.

A doctor tells of a note he received from a woman saying that her husband, who was about to make him a professional call, found constant fault with the dinner she prepared for him. She appealed to the physician for aid. The doctor examined his patient, who had a slight attack of indigestion, and told him to cut out luncheons, to eat nothing but a slice of toast and a cup of tea. The scheme worked excellently. Of course hubby returns home in the evening, eats everything in sight and votes his wife's cooking even better than mother used to make.—Boston Record.

Thrifty.

A Scotsman and his wife were traveling from Leith to London by boat. When off the Yorkshire coast a great storm arose, and the vessel had several narrow escapes from foundering. "Oh, Sandy," moaned his wife, "I'm na afeard o' deelin', but I dinna care to dee at sea."

"Dinna think o' deelin' yet," answered Sandy; "but when ye do, ye'd better be drowned at sea than anywhere else."

"An' why, Sandy?" asked his wife. "Why?" exclaimed Sandy. "Because ye wouldna cost sae muckle to bury."

Good Advice.

"Young man," said the boss, "come hither and listen." He approached. "When you've made a mistake forget it and go on to the next job. Don't bother around all day adding a lot of finishing touches."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

There never was a day that did not bring its own opportunity for doing good that never could have been done before and never can be again.—W. H. Burleigh.

Used Airing.

"What's the matter with you?" demanded Borem hotly. "I've got a right to air my opinions, haven't I?" "Oh, of course," replied Brightly. "They're so stale and musty they certainly need something of that sort."—Philadelphia Press.

Suspended.

"I have decided to suspend your sentence," the judge began.

"For the Lord's sake, judge, you don't mean to say lifting a few chickens is a hanging matter!"—New York Herald.

Rare Exception.

"I rather pride myself on one thing," said the young father. "Although I have the brightest, smartest, cutest, best youngster I ever saw, I never brag about him."—Kansas City Times.

ANTRIM'S EARLY HISTORY

Extract Number Thirty

where he was afterwards well-known as Col. Holmes. Another William Holmes, a wheelwright, not known to be a relative of the first William, came about the same time to the place at present owned by Hopkins Griffin, lived there for some half dozen years, and removed to Peterboro'.

JOHN MOORE, a descendant of an early emigrant from Ireland to Londonderry, began to subdivide the Bartlett Wallace farm, 1788, perhaps a year earlier; was mortally wounded by the fall of a limb of a tree, 1808. His widow, Abigail, daughter of Hon. John Duncan, died, 1848, very aged, being the last survivor of the original members of the Presbyterian church, with which she had been connected sixty years.

ISAAC PATTERSON came here, 1786, lived a few years in the west part of the town, then left the place. Little is known of him.

JOHN ALEXANDER, from Londonderry or vicinity, was the first settler on the farm now Daniel Holt's, 1787, afterwards removed to Branch Village, was a respected citizen and elder of the Presbyterian church, died, 1812.

PETER AND ABIAH BARKER, brothers, were from Atkinson; the latter came here, 1787, settled on a farm now owned in separate parts by his sons, Abijah and John; died, about 1847, aged 84. The former came three or four years later than his brother, began the farm inherited from him by his son, Capt. Moody Barker; died, 1829. Both were revolutionary soldiers, and useful citizens.

JOHNATHAN LADD was the first occupant, 1787, of the farm now Capt. James Wilson's, lived there five or six years, and emigrated to Tunbridge, Vt.

WILLIAM PARKER, from Dracut, began, in 1787, the farm east of Bartlett Wallace's, resided in this town more than thirty years, then removed to Anson, Maine. His aged father, William, came with him, and died here almost sixty years ago.

WILLIAM CARR, from Goffstown, began, 1787, to subdivide his farm, the one which has recently become Mr. White's, died, 1840, aged 81. His son, the late Wm. Carr, Esq., was often employed in town business, was representative and justice of the peace; died, 1850, aged 49.

JOHN BROWN, son of an emigrant from Ireland, removed his family from Franconstown to this place, 1788, lived on the place at the corner of roads, a little north of Dea. Bell's; died, 1808, very aged. His son, Thomas, lived on the place now his nephew's, the present Thomas Brown's; was a revolutionary soldier, and stationed for a time at West Point; used to relate that the soldiers were often driven by hunger to seize the sheep of the neighboring Dutch farmers; was at West Point at the time of the detection of Gen. Arnold's treachery, and had opportunity to witness the execution of Maj. Andre, but his feelings revolted from the sight; died, 1847, aged 86. Francis, another son of John, lived many years in Antrim, part of the time on the Blanchard farm, and removed, 1818, to New-York. Margaret, daughter of John, married Dea. John Bell, and is the mother of Rev. Hiram Bell, pastor of a church in Killingworth, Conn.

JACOB PUFFER, from Weare, was the first settler on the Artemas Brown farm, 1788, was a blacksmith, and after a residence of near ten years, removed to the vicinity of Glenn's Falls, on Hudson river.

SAMUEL CHRISTIE came here from New-Boston, 1788, built a large two story house a fourth of a mile north of the first meeting-house, which he occupied as a tavern for many years; died, 1818, aged 54. One son, Josiah W. Christie, remains here. Another son, Daniel M., is a distinguished member of the bar at Dover. A daughter, Mary, married Rev. Levi Spaulding, missionary at Ceylon, and has resided in India, engaged in useful efforts for the spread of christian knowledge among a benighted people, more than thirty years. In this period, she has made one visit to America.

NATHAN HAWES built a house, 1788, on the old Butman farm, and resided there about three years. He came from Goffstown, and removed to Hooksett.

THOMAS DUNLAP, a native of Windham, son of James, an emigrant from Ireland, became a resident of Antrim, 1788, and subdivided the farm now his grandson's, the present Thomas Dunlap; died, 1815, very aged; esteemed as a religious, respectable man. He was a soldier in the second French war, and was one of the garrison of Fort William Henry, which, in 1756, was surrendered to the French, under a pledge of protection from the fury of the Indians. The French perfidiously violated the engagement, permitting the Indians, after the garrison had given up their arms and marched out of the Fort, to massacre many of them. Out of a New-Hampshire regiment of 200 men, 80 were thus slaughtered! A savage pursued Mr. Dunlap, caught him by the queue, and tore out a large portion of the hair of his head. He escaped from the Indian and fled back to the fort, where the French gave him protection. His son, James, married a McNeil, of Hillsboro', and died, 1846, aged 80. There is a tradition in the family of Mrs. Dunlap, first wife of James, that the first McNeil who came to America was a refugee from Ireland, under the following circumstances: he visited a friend, who gave him a stick to make into a scythe-snath. On his return home he met the lord of the manor, who charged him with stealing it from his forest, and on his denial, called him liar, and struck him with his whip; on which McNeil struck him a powerful blow with the stick, and without waiting to see whether the wound proved mortal, fled to America.

SAMUEL CALDWELL, a revolutionary soldier, came to this place from Weare, 1788, lived some years on the Edward L. Vose farm, afterwards on the place recently purchased by Mr. Starrett; died, 1834, aged 79. None of his descendants reside here. In common with the revolutionary soldiers, he idolized Washington, and used to call him "That beloved man."

SAMUEL VOSE, afterwards Dea. Vose, was the fifth in descent from Robert, an emigrant from Lancashire, England, to Dorchester, Ms., 1633; came from Bedford to Antrim, 1788, began the farm now Capt. Rodney Sawyer's; worked on his land a few years prior to his marriage, during which time a bear once broke into his camp during his absence and made quite too free with his provisions; was a man of strict integrity and firm religious principle; died, 1830, aged 71. So exemplary was his observance of the sabbath, that if a man spoke to him that day on secular business, he has been known to show his disapprobation by turning away from him without giving any reply. One son, Edward L., resides here; another, Samuel, is a physician in Maine; still another, Deacon John Vose, resides in Peterboro'.

WILLIAM BODWELL was from Haverhill, Ms., came here, 1789, settled on the place at present owned by Reuben Robinson, Sen., and after a residence of some years, went to Ohio, or some other portion of the West.

CHARLES WOODS, from Methuen, became a resident of this town, 1789, brought under cultivation the farm recently bought by Mr. Wilson, died, 1848, aged 78. His constitution was remarkably susceptible of fever; a disease which, either of the bilious or typhoid type, he had in the course of his life from thirty to forty times. His two sons, Samuel and James, live in town.

ALEXANDER WITHERSPOON, from Chester, came hither 1789, began the Samuel Tuttle farm, afterwards removed to the Artemas Brown place, died, 1848, aged 87. His son, Joseph S. Witherspoon, who changed his name to Atherton, a man of much promise, universally esteemed for his piety and integrity, died, 1845, in the meridian of life.

HUGH ORR, a brother of Hon. John Orr, of Bedford, removed from that town to this, 1790, and lived in a house a little south of Mr. Temple's, which was then thought to be in Antrim, but, on the final adjustment of the town line, fell just within the limits of Hancock. He was a man of information and integrity; to the regret of the citizens, he emigrated about 1795, first to Rockingham, Vt., and thence to Homer, N. Y. His numerous descendants are scattered through the Western States.

JOEL REED became an inhabitant of Antrim, 1790; built a house between Jeremiah Hill's and Daniel Holt's, lived there about twelve years, and removed to Washington, N. H.

JOHN WOODCOCK came from Peterboro', 1790, lived on the Chandler Boutell farm, removed to Hillsboro' about 1804, where he resided many years, and changed his name to Bertram. Afterwards removed to Newport. Had a son who became a physician of much promise, and established himself in medical practice at Townsend, Ms. Dr. Bertram acquired a large practice, but died in early life, much regretted.

WILLIAM HEUSTON, a mason by trade, was a native of Bedford, emigrated to Antrim about 1790, lived where Miles Tuttle now does, died, 1830.

ROBERT VOSE, brother of Dea. Samuel Vose, came from Bedford or Goffstown, 1790, and struck the first blow on the land constituting the former Gates place. After a stay of some years, he removed to Vermont.

JAMES PIERCE was from Hudson, became a resident of this town 1791, built a house on the hill west of Capt. Worthley's, and after two or three years removed to Swansey.

SAMUEL EDDES, a native of Dedham, Ms., took up his abode here, 1791, lived a little east of Mr. Dinsmoor's, buried his wife in Antrim, and about 1801 removed to Peterboro', where he died at the great age of 93.

DANIEL BUSWELL, from Bedford, Ms., settled in Antrim, 1791, is still living in comfortable health, in his 90th year, being the oldest man in town, having resided in it sixty-one years. He was a revolutionary soldier; in an action near Fort Washington, on the Hudson, he had discharged his musket once at the enemy and was reloading, when a bullet struck and bent his bayonet, and a fragment of the ball inflicted a painful wound in the eye.

JOHN WORTHLEY, grandson of Timothy, an emigrant from England, who lived in Weare to the great age of 100 years,

ANY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and indigestion is the result.

Peruna is not a nerve nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear. Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant street, Watonsville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with my stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again.

"I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike, heart depressants, and should not be used. The nerves would be all right, if the digestion were good. Peruna corrects the digestion.

AFTER FOUR YEARS OF MISERY

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Baltimore, Md.—"For four years my life was a misery to me. I suffered from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 1938 Lansdowne St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

How to Fight the Flies.

Flies are responsible for the spread of contagious and infectious diseases. They adhere to window panes, dishes and other perpendicular surfaces by means of minute globules of oil, and often their oily footprints are GERM LADEN. Flies should be excluded from sickrooms. They carry filth germs in, and they carry disease germs out. Food supplies should be particularly guarded. The same flies that are attracted to the food on the table and are so especially fond of milk likewise delight in filth, even of the most dangerous kinds, which they are sure to carry around with them on their feet. Fly maggots live and grow in manure and filth, and mature flies—never about the same material to lay their eggs and seek bits of food. Cleanliness about the kitchen and back yard, screen doors, window screens, fly paper and fly poisons are the housekeepers' principal weapons in warfare against flies.

ONE OYSTER ENOUGH.

He Swallowed It Alive and Had to Kill It After It Was Down.

A farm laborer from the interior on his first visit to London dropped into a small oyster shop where a number of men were eating raw oysters. The extreme satisfaction displayed on the faces of those about him created longings of a gustatory nature in the new arrival, who edged his way up to the counter in anticipation of eating a real live, juicy oyster.

It was the first time he had seen an oyster, and he became at once interested, and when the shellfish had been finally uncased he proceeded to balance it on the end of his fork, then, with a look of extreme satisfaction, gulped it down.

"Great Scott!" shouted a man standing near him. "You haven't swallowed the oyster alive, have you?"

There was a horrible pause.

"That critter will eat right through you!" shouted another.

By this time the poor countryman was shaking with fear and horror. He commenced to have terrible pains in his abdomen and was soon doubled up in his agony. He begged some one to go for a doctor to get the thing out.

He continued to grow worse, when some one suggested that he take a dose of tabasco sauce, which it was claimed would kill the object that was creating such terrible commotion in his internal arrangement.

He grasped the bottle with avidity and took a draft. His condition, which before had been alarming to the victim, now assumed a serious phase to the perpetrators of the hoax.

The man gasped and choked. He became black in the face, and tears were running down his face, when some one thrust a bottle of oil into his mouth, and he was forced to drink copious drafts.

The effect was magical. The oyster was, evidently "dead." He became more composed, and when he finally recovered his breath he said:

"We killed it. But when that darned stuff got into my stomach that oyster rushed around as if a shark was after it."—London Scraps.

Spoiling the Show.

Showman—I don't know as we can give any kind of a show this afternoon. Assistant—What's the matter? Showman—That fresh kid's been in the cage of the man eating lion having a romp, and the critter is as playful as a kitten, the farmer we rented the sacred cow from India from says the money ain't payin' him for the loss of his milk route, and the wild man of Borneo says he's got to have a day off to register and see the police parade.—Baltimore American.

Convincing His Chum.

Johnny (in the garden)—Father, father, look out of the window! Father (putting out his head)—What a nuisance you children are! What do you want now? Johnny (with a triumphant glance at his playfellow)—Tommy Brooks wouldn't believe you'd got no hair on the top of your head.—London Tit-Bits.

Only Lunch.

"Have luncheon today?" "Nope." "Thought I saw you going out." "You did, but I had lunch, not luncheon. I only had 15 cents to spend."—Exchange.

Let us not talk ill of our enemies. They only never deceive us.—Hous-saye.

Defiant of Fashion.

"Those people don't seem to care what the world thinks of them," said the fashionable woman. "How do you know?" "They still play progressive euchre and croquet."—Washington Star.
