Imogene, or the Witch's Secret

This realistic drama, in four acts, will be presented in town hall, Antrim, on Friday evening, Sept. 10, under the auspices of the Antrim Military Brass Band. It will be given by a cast of the best local talent, managed and headed by the professional actress, Rose Ethel; everyone will want to see this play, as it will surely be a good thing. Appleton's orchestra will furnish music. Promisingly ending till 12 o'clock. For further particulars read posters.

In addition let it be said, that many dramas have been put upon the Antrim stage and have been nicely presented by local talent, but this one promises to surpass all in its presentation; and besides this being a benefit for our local band, which is an organization the town is proud of, it will doubtless attract a large number.

Accident to R. F. D. Carrier

Charles D. Sawyer, mail carrier on Route No 1, met with quite an accident on Wednesday last, when he fractured his shoulder and broke two ribs. A part of the harness broke and while Mr. Sawyer was repairing the same the horse accidentally hit his master, causing the painful accident. This happened near the residence of Chester Cogg, where he was taken and made comfortable till the arrival of a physician; after a day or two he was removed to his home in Clinton Village, where he is getting along nicely.

During the regular carrier's enforced vacation, the route is being covered by the substitute, Everett N. Davis.

Greenfield Fair

The annual exhibition of the New Oak Park Fair, Greenfield, this year was very largely attended and reported by many as a very successful show. Many of the exhibits were good and the show of cattle was far better than usual; the races were good as was also the vaudeville. As usual, the fakirs and catch-peony schemes abounded. As a whole, this year's fair was a record breaker in several ways.

End-of-Season Sale

A grand reduction sale of seasonable goods is being conducted at the dry goods store of Harry Deacon, beginning Saturday, Sept. 4, and continuing till Thursday, Sept. 30. This end-of season sale is a rare opportunity for our people to obtain seasonable goods at a discount, and while the assortment is unbroken you should make your selection.

Go With a Rush

The demand for that wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney cure, Dr. King's New Life Pills, is astonishing. Lane & Weeks of Antrim Pharmacy say they never saw the like. Its because they never fail to cure Sour Stomach, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilioussness, Jaundice, Sick Headache, Chills and Malaria. Only 25c.

Uncanoonuc Mountain

The public is beginning to realize the beauties of the Uncanoonuc and there is an exceptionally heavy daily travel. The pleasing appearance of this resort, the usually clear atmosphere, and the many changes and improvements being made attract large crowds to the mountain top.

LABOR DAY

Was Appropriately Observed in Town This Year

For a few weeks past the committee in charge has been making and completing arrangements for an appropriate observance of Labor Day; their efforts were crowned with success, for one of the quietest, neatest and most satisfactory celebrations was passed out to our people that it has ever been Antrim's good fortune to enjoy. The most excellent fall weather and a perfectly lovely day was a great help and enjoyed by everyone.

Most of the sports of the day was on Main street, opposite the town hall, while a few of the contests were on the ball grounds and the greased pole was over the water by the dam opposite the Summer street market.

The crowd gathered early and almost every event was pulled off on scheduled time. About in the order as they occurred, we give below the sports, contests and exhibitions of the day: with the names of winners, as far as we have been able to get them:

Best appearing pair of work horses, for a prize of $4.00; won by B. K. Bryer, who also had the blue ribbon. As second prize S. M. Thompson took the red ribbon; third prize, Frank E. Bass took the yellow ribbon.

Best appearing pair of driving horses, prize of $4.00 and blue ribbon. D. H. Goodell, first; 2d, red ribbon, Frank E. Bass; 3d, yellow ribbon, N. C. Jameson.

Best appearing lady's driving horse, $2.00 and blue ribbon, Miss Edith Duncan, first, driving Harry Richardson's horse; Miss Marjorie Anderson, 2d, red ribbon, driving E. W. Baker's horse; Miss Eva Thompson, 3d, yellow ribbon, driving her pretty chestnut.

Best appearing gent's driving horse, $2.00 and blue ribbon, Will E. Cram, 1st; Lester Perkins, 2d and red ribbon; 3d and yellow ribbon, Herbert Rogers.

Following the above exhibition of fine horse-flesh and good turn-outs, the morning ball game was announced to be on at the grounds on West street, and all interested wended their way ball-ground-ward. The account of this game will be found in another column.

After the noon-hour, the sports were again started; first was a wet-hose contest, entered into by six members of the Hook and Ladder Company and six from the Hose Company; prize being awarded to the Hook and Ladder Company. 100 feet of hose was run out from two different hydrants, the idea being to get the nozzle on and stream going in the quickest possible time. The exact time made was 1 minute and 10 1/2 seconds.

100-yard dash, Howard Deacon, 1st; Willoughby Crampton, 2d; Kenneth Tewksbury, 3d.

Sack race, Carl Crampton, 1st; Raymond Butterfield, 2d; Harold Stearns, 3d.

Doughnut race, John Whitney, 1st; Howard Farrant, 2d; Richard Brooks, 3d.

Public Meeting!

The citizens of Antrim are invited to meet at the Town hall, Sept. 13, at 7:30 o'clock, to consider the propriety of publicly celebrating the starting of the Electric Light and Power Plant now nearing completion at North Branch, and appoint a committee to take the matter in hand, or take any other action which may seem advisable. Let every one interested be present.

The afternoon ball game was next in order, the account of which appears elsewhere.

The greased pole created great merriment for the on-lookers and the two contestants, Charlie Brooks and Paul Colby, seemed also to enjoy the fun. Prize was awarded to Charlie Brooks.

Shot-put, Kenneth Tewksbury, 1st; Paul Paige, 2d; Raymond Farrant, 3d.

Potato race, ———Kepple, 1st; Harry Crampton 2d.

Throwing base ball, Richard Harrington, 1st; Harry Crampton, 2d; Lawrence Cuddihy, 3d.

Running broad jump, Howard Deacon, 1st; Harold Stearns, 2d; Lawrence Cuddihy, 3d.

At seven in the evening the Antrim Band gave a very pleasing open air concert on the band stand.

For the success of the occasion great credit is due the committee for the thought and pains-taking work put into it. The general public appreciate these efforts.

Labor Day on the Mountain

The biggest and most successful day ever known in the history of the Uncanoonuc has come and gone. The great crowds were handled to perfection on the Trolley and Inclined Railway lines while the Hotel was amply prepared to cater to the immense throngs.

The weather and the atmospheric conditions were perfect, and the visitors viewed with wonder and amazement, the magnificent panorama spread before them.

Favorable comments were heard on all sides regarding the management and the pleasing appearance of this resort while all the visitors on departing, openly vowed they would soon take another pleasant day's outing on the Uncanoonuc and invite their friends to come with them.

Business in New Hampshire

Reports to Bradstreet's show that the recent heavy rain was of incalculable value to growing crops, and will undoubtedly make crop conditions good throughout the state, the ground was so dry, however, that it absorbed nearly all that fell, and it did not raise streams or lakes to any extent, and a considerable number of manufacturing plants are resorting to their auxiliary power. Manufacturing conditions are generally good and prospects are said to be very bright for a busy fall and winter. Retail trade is slow, except in summer resort towns, but it is expected to pick up during this month.

WON TWO!

Antrim Gets Both Games From Keene Labor Day

The many who enjoy seeing a good game of base ball certainly had that opportunity on Monday forenoon, for the morning game of Labor Day between the local nine and the Keene Independents was one of the best ever witnessed on the home grounds, the score being one to nothing in favor of the Antrim boys. A large number of people were present and excitement ran high, from the minute the first ball was pitched till the game was at an end. The result of each inning was hailed with great rejoicing.

It seems hardly possible that the same teams can play so much different in the same day, but the afternoon game, though witnessed by a larger number than was present in the morning, was hardly interesting enough to keep the crowd good natured; it surely was a slow game, with the score 27 to 11, favoring Antrim, in a seven-inning game. Below is given the detailed scores:

The Goodell Electric Light and Power Plant at North Branch

Is nearly completed. It is expected that some 600 to 800 Horse Power will be developed and made available for use in this village. It may not be generally known that this is two or three times as much as all the water power utilized in the town at present. When completed this plant will be up-to-date in every respect and must mean much for the growth and prosperity of the town and particularly the future of this village. The people of Antrim are to be congratulated and it seems appropriate that when this plant is put in operation some public demonstration should be made which will not only call the attention of our own citizens to their good fortune but possibly that of the outside world to the possibilities open to those looking for business opportunities, hence, the call for a public meeting to be held next Monday evening in the town hall, which appears in this issue.

Woman's Home Companion

A big section of unusually big number is devoted to fashions. Experts in Paris and famous tailors and milliners in the United States have, with Grace Margaret Gould's knowledge of the American woman's tastes, make the issue one that women will preserve for many months. Not only gowns, coats, hats and waists, but the important little things, shoes, hosiery, fabrics, trimmings, coiffures—all are exhaustively handled.

There are plenty of good stories in the issue for these hot days. William H. McElroy contributes a number of stories about Edward Everett Hale that have the charm, humor and sweetness that pervade everything connected with Doctor Hale.

The children's department is even bigger than usual. There are many pages devoted to embroidery and other hand work. Fannie Merritt Farmer's cooking pages are full of new ideas, and all the other regular departments are as good as they always are.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contains Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous membrane. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

September American Boy

How firmly rooted in the hearts of Young America is baseball is eloquently portrayed in the picture on the front cover of the September AMERICAN BOY. The contents of this issue cannot fail to interest and delight every reader. This is the beginning of a two-part serial, The Senior and the Signals, a story of college baseball. Among the short stories are some excellent productions. The regular departments are filled with the information specially desired by boys who love to do things. In addition there are 75 illustrations, $1.00 a year. The Sprague Publishing Co., Detroit, Mich.

Lane & Weeks, Antrim Pharmacy.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

RUSSIA AND ROYALTY

A Shadow That Darkens the Path of the Czars.

THE FEAR OF ASSASSINATION

Plots That Were Woven Around Alexander II. and the Bomb That Shattered His Body—An Infernal Machine That Failed to Kill Alexander III.

The shadow that falls across the path of the czars may extend the world round. Wherever the ruler of all the Russias may happen to be, there the shadow of fear lies.

Once in Paris, once in the palace gardens, Alexander II. was fired at. Again in the Winter Palace square one Solovieff, wearing the uniform of an official, passed the guards one day, and again the czar was fired upon. Alexander ran for the palace. Solovieff followed him and fired three times. The czar ran in zigzags, however, and so escaped. Not long afterward two mines were laid to blow up the imperial train. One did not explode, but the second wrecked the train. Once more the czar escaped. Watching eyes had saved him, their owners having persuaded the ruler to take another train.

Later Alexander II. owed his life to the fact that he came late to a function at the palace. A bomb blew clean out a large portion of the imperial residence, but the czar was not present.

But of all the attempts on the lives of Russia's rulers two stand out most clearly for their amazing ingenuity. One tells the story of a little unpretentious shop in Malaja Sadovaja street. Kobozoff, then unknown to the police, took the shop and set out to impress the police, who were always making sudden inspections of premises along the thoroughfares through which Alexander II. passed, that he was nothing but a provision dealer. Nearly every one in that street was a paid spy, but Kobozoff joked with his customers, pleased his purveyors and was most affable and apparently harmless.

The dealer inspired confidence, and his custom increased gradually. No wonder, for most of the parcels that his customers were carrying away by day contained nothing but earth—earth that during the night hours had been scraped by the man and his wife from beneath the street! It was by such ingenious method that a tunnel was hollowed and cleared under the thoroughfare and a mine laid beneath the way the czar often passed, an innocent couch upon which the housewife slept covering the entry to the tunnel.

Yet all the work was useless. On the day the scheme was to be carried out the czar upset all the arrangements by going off to lunch with the Grand Duchess Catherine Michaelovna.

Among those who were watching on behalf of the terrorists was a beautiful girl—a countess, too—named Perovskaya. It was she who, seeing the altered arrangements, gave warning. The czar would return to the palace another way. Along this route four men carrying bombs were stationed. One threw his. Men and horses were killed all around, but the czar stepped from his coach unscathed. A second man holding a bomb came forward and threw it. "This time the effect was awful," says Waclaw Gasiorowski, who describes the incident in his book, "Tragic Russia." "The czar fell as if cut by a scythe. His legs were shattered to pieces." So died the czar who had escaped as by a miracle many times.

Alexander III. followed, and there were attempts upon his life. The fourth was one of the most sensational in the entire list of nihilist plots.

On a bright autumn day the imperial train traveled at full speed on the track well guarded by soldiers. It was toward noon. The imperial family were in the dining car, where lunch was about to be served. The cook and his help were making the last preparations for it when an assistant was taken ill.

The court physician attended the man and, having stated that he had fever, with symptoms of some inexplicable ailment, decided that the man could not remain in the imperial train, and he was left at the next station.

The train moved forward toward Borki, traveling at the speed of eighty kilometers an hour. Then the electrical bell notified the cook that the imperial family were ready for luncheon. A few seconds after the bell sounded a terrific noise was heard, and a violent explosion changed in the twinkling of an eye the luxurious imperial train into a heap of broken iron, of wrecked cars, of mutilated corpses, enveloped in smoke and made all the more harrowing by the moaning and cries for help of the wounded. Yet the czar escaped! The dining room car that the nihilists had intended should be a grave for the czar his family and his suit saved him, for although its roof and floor were wrecked its sides were preserved. They inclined toward the center, propped each other like two cards and remained in that position, protecting those who were there from being crushed. The cook who had been put off the train had worked the whole thing. He had placed an infernal machine in a cone of sugar and had faked his illness, thus getting clear away.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A MARRIAGE NOTICE.

The Modern One Sounded Quite Grand to the Old Lady.

Old Lady Goodyear laid down the paper with a sigh and looked over her spectacles at Grandfather Goodyear. "I feel quite ashamed when I remember our humble marriage notice," she said.

"Married, in the First Congregational church of Harborville, Abel Goodyear to Mury Lawton," chanted Grandfather Goodyear. "It read well, to my thinking."

"Yes, for those days, but not for present times," said his old wife. "You know, Anastasia Cumming's daughter Laura married a Toby, and their daughter has just married Sophy Leavitt's grandson. His mother, Sophy's child, married a Wilson."

"Well, what of all that?" inquired Grandfather Goodyear, rubbing his forehead in great confusion of mind.

"It's the fashion to keep all the family names," said Old Lady Goodyear, severely. "You hear how grand it sounds:

"Married, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frederick Cummings-Toby, by Rev. Harold Lowden Kirkbright, Edith Smythe Cummings to George Broune Leavitt-Wilson."

"Now, there's something for old Grandpa Broune and Grandma Smythe to be proud of—if they were alive."

"M'm!" said Grandfather Goodyear.—Youth's Companion.

His Condolence.

An English lord used to tell a story of a sheriff substitute he once knew slightly.

Although he was a very religious man, the sheriff had his faults, and one of these was that he had a habit of using strong language without realizing what his words implied. The sheriff's best friend was the minister of the parish, and a great misfortune befell the reverend gentleman by the death of his wife.

The sheriff wished to express his sympathy, but he found himself quite at a loss to know what to say. He sat for a long time scratching his head and puzzling himself to know what he could say to the minister. At last he blurted out, "Well, minister, this is a d—l of a business."—London Express.

Moon Worship in China.

The fete of the moon is celebrated in China in the eighth month of the year, and this lasts six days. Presents are then made on which the figure of the moon is apparent, and a large pagoda is illuminated. Firecrackers and music and family reunions prevail. A midnight banquet on the last night terminates the feast, and then the descent of the goddess of the moon, which we call the man in the moon, is awaited. She is supposed to visit the earth at this time to grant the wishes of mortals. The moon with the Chinese is the patroness of poetry, and autumn is the poet's favorite season.

ADVERTISING, When Properly Employed, When Truthfully Done and placed in the Right Medium—THE NEWSPAPER—carries a man more safely and more certainly to the heaven of wealth than commercial genius.

Genius without advertising is apt to limp about on crutches in this age of enterprise if it should attempt to eschew printers' ink and well-written advertising copy.

No man can exist without food—no business can survive to any noticeable extent without publicity.

The little store of ten years ago, that did not advertise in some form, is the little store of to-day—doing business in the same crude way, making no progress.

The little store of ten years ago, that did advertise is not the little store of to-day—it is a great establishment, growing, throbbing with life and activity—doing business in the modern way, keeping time with enterprising ideas and constantly forging ahead.

A business that does not grow is going backward. For the backward business there is but one safe and sane remedy—advertising done in the right way in the home newspaper, whether its circulation be large or small.

The very fact that a newspaper exists is proof that it is read by somebody, and these somebodies will read advertisements if they are in the paper.—Newspaperdom.

The Designer

Everybody writes nowadays and each month the magazines present studies of life from points of view hitherto seldom revealed to the public. In THE DESIGNER for September appears an article, "I Married a Society Man," by the Wife of One, and there are other features of unusual interest in this progressive magazine. The fiction for September is choice indeed. Of course, The Designer offers the best possible advice concerning the fall fashions.

The Road to Success

has many obstructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success today demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, and tones and invigorates the whole system. Vigorous body and keen brain follow their use. You can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run-down or sickly. Only 50 cents.

Lane & Weeks, Antrim Pharmacy.

Everyone interested in good reading, combined with practical information on all things connected with the household, should get the September number of THE LADIES' WORLD. The fashion pages of this issue show an unusual variety of pretty autumn and winter models, and there are besides articles on Dressmaking and on the new fabrics and trimmings, and others of equal importance. In fiction there are a number of good stories all finely illustrated. In the household department proper there are numbers of tested recipes, including some dishes made without eggs.—[New York; Fifty Cents a Year.]

ANY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves. The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and indigestion is the result.

Peruna is not a nerve nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear. Mrs. J. J. Jamison, 61 Marchant street, Watsonville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with my stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors. They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again.

"I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike,—heart depressants, and should not be used. The nerves would be all right, if the digestion were good. Peruna corrects the digestion.

OWES HER LIFE TO

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vienna, W. Va. — "I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Eleven years ago I was a walking shadow. I had been under the doctor's care but got no relief. My husband persuaded me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like a charm. It relieved all my pains and misery. I advise all suffering women to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. EMMA WHEATON, Vienna, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

TOWER OF LONDON.

The Perfect System by Which Its Treasures Are Guarded.

The Tower of London has the most perfect system of burglar alarms that has yet been devised.

From Scotland Yard, from the governor's headquarters and from other places known only to a few responsible officials the whole Tower can be closed electrically within a few seconds. Even the ponderous gates at the middle tower, which weigh some tons and through which visitors pass, swing to automatically, and the escape of every one within is instantly barred. At the same time an alarm bell rings to warn wardens, police and soldiers.

In particular the precautions in the apartment containing the crown jewels are of a most scientifically elaborate kind. One of the beefeaters on duty in the room has merely to press a button, whereupon the heavy door closes, the alarm bell below rings, the other gates slam to and lock, and every person within the tower is instantly cut off from the outer world.

"The man who can get away with any of the crown jewels deserves them," observed a Tower official. "From where I am standing I could close every important door and gate in the Tower in as short a time as it takes to utter these words."

It was mainly to insure the safety of the crown jewels that the system was installed.

No order had been issued for the closing of the Tower on a recent Saturday when, greatly to their alarm, the visitors found doors locked, bolted and barred against them for about ten minutes, preventing any one leaving the Tower.

"The Tower simply closed—that is all," remarked an official. "Who caused it to do so we do not know. It might have been Scotland Yard, where the pressing of a button would imprison every soul within the Tower until the police gave the signal for their release, or it might have been the governor, anxious to learn whether we were all at our posts. At any rate, it was none of the minor officials."

"In fact, who closed the Tower and why is a secret known only to the highest authorities. There was no alarm, no attempt to seize the crown jewels."—London Mail.

Clever Tactics When William Quit Using Tobacco.

An excerpt from Doris' letter: "And, oh, Will, if you weren't the dearest boy! You often told me that you would do anything in the world for me, and now you write for my sake you've quit smoking. I'll have to wait until I see you to tell you what a dear I think you are."

From Janis: "You write that out of consideration for me, you have stopped smoking for good. That was just lovely of you, William, and you may depend that I greatly appreciate it."

From Phyllis: "Billy, boy, it's just ripping! You're the dandy kid! Just to think that you would swear off using the weed just for me! It was mighty dear of you, Billy, and it makes me all the more keen for you."

From Marjorie: "To think that you've quit smoking, William! I was so surprised! Of course I always knew that you care for me, but to think that, as you say, you've made this sacrifice on my account—why, it's positively noble of you!"

From his mother: "Will, my son, this proves your love for me. Father is inclosing a check to show that he appreciates the fact that you think enough of your parents to give up smoking for them."

From his doctor: "Your letter advising me that you have obeyed my orders and stopped the use of tobacco is at hand. As I said, your compliance * * *"—Puck.

Back Numbers.

"William," said Mrs. Van Gelder to the man of all work. "I want you to clean out that large closet in the hall just outside the parlor. Burn all the old newspapers, waste paper and any other rubbish you may find there."

After a short time she met William in the hall carrying in his arms a huge pile of sheet music, the property of her eldest daughter.

"What are you going to do with Ma-bel's music?" she asked.

"Why, burn it, sure, as you told me to. It was in the closet there with the other rubbish."

"But I didn't mean the music. Put it back at once."

Noting his mistress' displeasure, William inquired in surprise:

"Why, hasn't she played it all?"

Wouldn't Hang the Jury.

An old negro named Ephraim, having been sworn on the jury in a murder trial, for some time resisted a verdict of guilty for no other apparent reason than his strong aversion to capital punishment in general. Finally the foreman explained to him that it was a question either of hanging the prisoner or hanging the jury and that it all depended on him. "Fo' gracious, sah," replied Uncle Ephraim, "on dem reasonments de pris'ner am sho' guilty."

Miss May Halliwell is on the sick list.

The Misses Angie and Myrtle Conn returned this week to their schools in South Lyndebro and East Sullivan.

Miss Edna Cutter is employed at Maplehurst Inn for a few weeks.

Miss Nora Conn has returned from North Branch where she has passed the summer and is now in Sullivan.

Mrs. Scott Ellenwood of Deering was at the home of her parents, Geo. Liblin and wife, over Sunday.

Harlan Young of Clinton spent Tuesday at C. A. Conn's.

Apple Crop Light

The apple crop in this section of Hillsboro county is reported as being much less than the average yield although the apple growers in Antrim, Hancock and Bennington have not suffered so much as many in other towns from the prolonged drought earlier in the season. The fruit will probably bring a higher market price this fall than last year.

Notice.

Again we give warning to those who allow their subscription to the REPORTER to run behind over one year. The post-office department obliges us to cut off all such from our list if not paid at once. We have no alternative, and you will have no one to blame but yourselves, and will understand the reason if your paper is discontinued. We have sent bills for the Reporter to all those in arrears, and have waited a sufficient time. If settlement is not made at once, we shall be obliged to discontinue your paper according to government law.

MANY SUFFERERS from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray is a remedy that relieves at once. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., New York.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

HILLSBOROUGH SS. Court of Probate
To the heirs at law of the estate of John A. Balch late of Antrim, in said County deceased, intestate, and to all others interested therein:

Whereas Lena L. Balch, administratrix of the estate of said deceased, has filed in the Probate Office for said County, the account of her administration of said estate:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Manchester in said County, on the 21st day of September next, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

Said administratrix is ordered to serve this citation by causing the same to be published once each week for three successive weeks in the Antrim Reporter, a newspaper printed at Antrim in said County, the last publication to be at least seven days before said Court.

Given at Nashua in said County, this 23rd day of August, A. D. 1909.
By order of the Court,
E. J. COPP, Register.

... Bed Couches ...

A Complete Assortment of Metallic Bed Couches with Separate Mattress and Bolster.

Some patterns that separate into two different Cots with Mattresses for each, and others that are made whole and work with a motion of the foot.

MERRIMAC COUCH BED at $18.50. Has a warranted frame and mattress; we have specially made for us, in order to have a better than ordinary grade. Makes two separate beds if desired; it beats the whole market.

CLIMAX, much advertised, regular price is $17.50 we sell it at $16.50; works with a motion of the foot.

One of our best sellers, price $15.00; it has a very superior mattress and no break in the spring in the middle; note the head and foot to each piece to keep the mattress in place.

Our Prices are from $9.50 to $16.50, and every couch we sell is fully warranted; if it gives out we replace it.

Couch Covers, Price from $1.50 to $7.50

Large enough to cover the Bed Couches in good shape, and strongly and durably woven.

Our Rug Covers in Oriental designs will wear like a good rug on the floor and keep color just as well.

Steam, Hot Water or Furnace, Which?

Now is the time to take this matter up and decide how you are going to heat your house the coming winter. The work can be done at less expense before the rush begins. If you start now, you can have it all completed and ready to use the first cold days. If you have steam or hot water you unquestionably want one of the

Walker & Pratt Crawford Boilers

We have put in over fifty in this vicinity and it will be very easy for you to consult with some of your neighbors who have used them, and find out what grand results they are getting.

If you will drop us a postal we will send you a list of names where you can see these boilers we have put in.

FURNACES. You may prefer a furnace, in which case we are confident we can save you more money than anyone in this vicinity.

We cordially invite you to come in our store and look over these boilers and furnaces, and let us give you what information we can. Or, if not convenient to call, drop us a postal, and we will be pleased to call and give you estimates and suggestions as to the best way of heating your house, and this will cost you nothing.

About Advertising

It costs money to advertise in a paper of circulation and influence in the community. Every business man who seeks to enlarge his trade, recognizes the fact that advertising is a legitimate expense so it is not the cheapest advertising that pays the best. Sometimes it is the highest priced newspaper that brings the largest net profit to the advertiser.
