State Trade Report

Reports to Bradstreet's show that the past week was the beginning of the fall season, and with the general return of people to their homes business in retail lines is expected to improve at once. The season at the beach resorts is at an end, and taken as a whole was fairly good. There are still many people at the lake and mountain resorts and September promises to have as good a business in some places as did August. Crop conditions are below the average; the dry weather of July and August gave them a set-back which recent rains will not be able to overcome; so far as can be seen the apple crop promises to be a very light one. Manufacturing conditions are good and are improving steadily and everything points to a brisk fall and winter business.

A Singular Case

The suit brought by Henry A. Emerson of Henniker against the Boston & Maine road, to compel the issuance of a pass to him to permit of his attending the annual meeting of the stock-holders of the Concord & Montreal road in Concord on Oct. 12, has been filed with the supreme court, and a decision is expected at the October sitting in season to allow the corporation to know its rights before the meeting, as there will be no contest by either party.

This condition is brought about by the fact that the terms of the lease of the Concord & Montreal road, the Boston & Maine is under contract to transport stock-holders to and from the place of annual meeting free of charge. On the other hand, the anti-pass law does not permit of issuing such transportation, and the road has selected to stand under the law. The decision of the court must settle the matter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lakin

Who for twenty-seven years had made her home with Eugene Muzzey and wife, in Greenfield, died Thursday last, of old age, having reached the advanced age of 91 years, 3 months, 13 days. She was ill only three days and passed peacefully on as if in a restful sleep. During the years she had resided with the Muzzey family she was tenderly cared for, and in her advancing years was made most comfortable. She leaves a son and grand-daughter in Los Angeles, California. Funeral services were held from the home on Friday, the 17th, and burial was in the family lot in Greenfield cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, attesting the universal respect in which deceased was held by those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

THE CLOSE

Of the Base Ball Season in the Town of Antrim

The Antrim base ball association closed the season on Labor Day, it having been one of the most successful seasons for base ball Antrim has had for several years. The team has done its best to give the patrons of the game good clean sport, having played some very close and interesting games. Fifteen games have been played altogether, nine at home and six away; winning ten and losing four, and one a tie game; they have won every game played on home grounds this season. In this connection the management desires to thank the business men and all others who contributed so liberally at the beginning of the season, also the patrons of the games for their support. Following is the financial report for the season of 1909:

State Exams.

Examinations for State Teachers' Certificates will be held Friday and Saturday, October 29 and 30, at Concord.

This examination is appointed solely for the convenience of those who wish to complete examinations previously begun, and it will be impossible to arrange for classes of candidates elsewhere than at Concord.

The next general examination will be held the latter part of June, 1910.

Teachers who have not completed the examinations and desire to do so in October, will notify the Department.

Go With a Rush

The demand for that wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney cure, Dr. King's New Life Pills, is astonishing. Lane & Weeks of Antrim Pharmacy say they never saw the like. Its because they never fail to cure Sour Stomach, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilioussness, Jaundice, Sick Headache, Chills and Malaria. Only 25c.

The fee for the registration of mail will be increased from 8 to 10 cents after Nov. 1, 1909, according to an order signed by Postmaster General Hitchcock. There are just a few things left that haven't yet been increased, from which we shall hear later.

Carisbrook Castle

When William, duke of Normandy, conquered England in the eleventh century, and assumed the title of King William I, he divided most of the land among his followers, giving to some of them large portions of it, and all the people who lived on the land in their various grades and conditions were understood to be subject to and bound to render service to the man who was called owner. These nobles were each and all subject to the King, and were bound to render him service in his wars and otherwise with the men under their control when called upon to do so. But while all thus subject to the King, they were often in opposition and at war with each other, hence they built strong places called castles, where they lived and kept in some cases hundreds of retainers, and in case of attack might defend themselves against those who came against them. A few of these castles are kept partially in repair and are still inhabited by their owners; though under very different circumstances than formerly; but most of them are in ruins. I have visited several of these castles, and among them the one whose name is at the head of this article.

The Isle of Wight is in the English Channel just off the south coast of England, from which it is divided by a strait called the Solent. Carisbrook castle is about one mile from the town of Newport, the capital of the island. It is built on an artificial mound rising abruptly from a beautiful green valley to a height of two hundred and thirty-nine feet above the sea. Parts of the walls of this castle are to be traced all around, and they are thickly covered with ivy. Ascending the hill you reach the outer gate, and you then cross a stone bridge over the moat which surrounded the whole of the wall, and used to be kept filled with water, but it is now dry and covered with grass. You then come to the Gate House, a massive building which still has its ponderous gates, and the grooves for two portcullises. On each side of this gate and connected with it there is a tall circular tower.

The castle area contains about 23 acres, and on this are a number of buildings mostly in ruins. Among them is that in which Charles I was imprisoned for a time and from which he made two unsuccessful attempts to escape. Then there is a ruined chapel and adjoining this the State apartments. Another building covers the well, which is said to be 300 feet deep. The water is drawn from this well by a donkey who treads a wheel, and he is always set to work when visitors are there. I tasted the water and found it very sweet.

The Keep is a very strong tower built on a mound; and was intended for a refuge in case the other parts of the castle were captured by an enemy. I climbed seventy-four steep and dilapidated steps leading to the entrance, a somewhat hazardous enterprise. At the top was the gateway grooved for a portcullis. Then another flight of steps inside led to a large room sixty feet broad. As is usual, there was a very deep well in this Keep, but water cannot now be obtained from it, as it is partly choked up with rubbish. It is many years since I was at Carisbrook; but I always think of my visits there with interest; and am thankful that I live at a time when such places are not used.

CREAMERY

Vote to Incorporate, at a Meeting Held Saturday Evening

For several weeks past a number of men have been working up the matter of organizing a creamery company in Antrim, erecting a building, and going into the manufacture of butter on somewhat of an extensive plan.

It has been ascertained that in all probability a sufficient number of cows can be relied upon within a required territory to make certain the success of the venture; and from the fact that many of the town's prominent farmers are interested and have subscribed for stock, makes it doubly sure that it will not only prove a good thing for the town but will in time prove well for the investor.

Saturday evening last, a meeting of the stock-holders and interested parties was held at the Grange hall, a goodly number were present and much interest was manifest. After appropriate remarks it was voted unanimously to organize a creamery company. It was also voted to incorporate under the laws of New Hampshire with capital stock of $5,000; the committee of incorporation being Warren W. Merrill, Frank E. Bass, Harlan E. Young.

The next business in order after incorporation is the election of officers, after which the location for building will be determined. These preliminaries out of the way, further developments will be forth-coming, and in the not far distant future we shall doubtless have something quite definite to report with reference to permanent organization and building.

Entertained

Last Wednesday evening witnessed a very enjoyable gathering in the vestry of the Presbyterian church when about 40 of the young men of the town between the ages of 18 and 30 assembled at the invitation of the pastor, Mr. Salmond. An excellent banquet was served by the ladies of the church, after which the following took part in an interesting entertainment: Rev. D. Salmond, Mrs. D. Salmond, Morris Nay, C. W. Prentiss, J. Brewster Munson, W. A. N. Scott, and Miss Charlotte E. Balch. Clinton Davis acted as toast master. After the festivities the "boys" were loath to leave for home, so they gathered around the piano, and for an hour indulged in all the old time favorite melodies.

Grange Fair

Antrim Grange, No. 98, will hold its first annual Fair and Harvest Supper at the Grange hall, at the Centre, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 29; first table being served at seven o'clock. By consulting posters the particulars concerning prizes, admission, music, promenading, etc., may be learned.

Notice to Dealers in Oysters

The addition of water to shucked oysters, by both packer and retailer, is a practice that has long been recognized as of rather common occurrence. A still more frequent practice is to be found in the shipment to the retailer of oysters refrigerated in the shipping package by the direct addition of ice.

In their proper character shucked oysters consist principally of the solid (unloaded) meat, and the proportion of liquid should be small. It is obvious that the addition of either water or ice must result in a dilution necessarily involving a lowering of the quality. The first is solely for the purposes of fraud, while the second not only materially inflates the volume of the product but is unsanitary, as well as wholly unnecessary.

Ice packed around the container holding the oysters, in shipping cans made for that purpose and which are largely used in many localities, secures the necessary refrigeration.

At a regular meeting of the State Board of Health, the following resolution was therefore adopted:

Whereas: Since the addition of water or ice to shucked oysters has the effect of lowering, depreciating and injuriously affecting their strength, quality and purity, therefore be it

Resolved: That as such condition constitutes an adulteration under the Statutes of the State, the sale of oysters so adulterated be prohibited.

Dealers are hereby instructed not to accept oysters to which water or ice has been added, and they are cautioned not to add ice to oysters nor to dilute them with water.

Per order,
Irving A. Watson, Secretary.
Concord, N. H., Sept. 15, 1909.

A Splendid Chance

Everybody who is weak, delicate or sickly wants to get well. Dr. Greene of 84 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence. The wisest thing all suffering people can do is to write Dr. Greene, stating every symptom of feel, mentioning and he will answer the letter, explaining each symptom and describing the case so thoroughly that patients understand their complaint as well as though they had talked with the doctor. It saves a journey to the city and doctor's fees, and costs nothing. Dr. Greene is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervous blood and nerve remedy. Thousands are being cured through his perfect system of letter correspondence.

Write today for FREE bottle of Dr. Greene's Laxura for all stomach, liver and bowel trouble.

Many people delude themselves by saying "It will wear away," when they notice symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. This is a mistake. Take Foley's Kidney Pills, and they will drain on the vitality. They cure backache, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, and make every trace of pain, weakness, and urinary troubles disappear.

Lane & Weeks, Antrim Pharmacy.

Card of Thanks

The Antrim Military Band wishes to thank all those who contributed in any way to the success of the recent Band play, and especially to thank Mrs. A. J. Lapoint for her untiring labors, and perseverance in bringing it to a successful conclusion.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

As Old, Steady Going Farmer Was Customed to Ride to the Market Town upon a Rather Bad Tempered Horse.

One day his man Bob brought the animal, which was especially vicious that morning, to the door, the horse trying to bite and kick and giving a good deal of trouble.

The farmer mounted the horse with some difficulty and began to walk it out of the yard when Bob, who still entertained ill feeling against the animal, picked up a stone and flung it at him with all his force; but, alas, his aim was erratic, and the missile struck his master on the head.

Half dazed for a moment, the farmer turned slowly in his saddle, and, not suspecting the real cause of the blow, he measured with his eye the horse's hind hoofs and his own head and, settling himself in the saddle again, started off with the remark, "Well, he allus was an okard beggar."—London Scraps.

Tall and Short.

First Detective—What was the description of that absconding bank cashier we were told to look out for? Second Detective—He was six feet tall and $50,000 short.—Philadelphia Record.

A "Mite."

The difficulties experienced by our forefathers in trying to reckon money in very small proportions appear in the various values given to a "mite" in the sixteenth and seventeenth century books of commercial arithmetic. The original "mite" seems to have been a third of a Flemish penny, but the use of the word for the widow's coin of the New Testament made its regular English meaning half a farthing, and some old people may remember applying the name to the short lived nineteenth century coins of that value. In those old arithmetic books "mite" stands for various values not represented by actual coins, but obviously used in reckoning. A work of 1795 makes it one-twelfth of a penny, two sixteenth century books one-sixth of a farthing, and in 1674 Jeake's arithmetic made it as little as one sixty-fourth of a penny.—London Chronicle.

Heroic Treatment.

In Guiana if a child is slow in its movements the parents apply an ant to the child instead of a whip to make it move faster. This little ant bites more cruelly than a mosquito, and its bite is apt to be troublesome afterward. As you can imagine, this treatment does not make the child kind to others, and the children of Guiana are said to be particularly cruel to animals. The little boys in Guiana do not reckon their age by years, but by their ability to endure pain. Until he gets to the point where he can let the Hucu ant bite him without wincing he is considered merely a baby.

Sympathy.

He—It was a frightful moment when I received your letter telling me of the insuperable obstacle to our marriage. I would have shot myself, but I had no money to buy a revolver. She—Dearest, if only you had let me know.—Simplicissimus.

A Mean Friend.

"All the dust flies up my nose."
"Well, Cholly, maybe the city will pay you to parade the streets. Perhaps, instead of sweeping, it would be better to clean them by a vacuum process."—Kansas City Journal.

All the Difference.

"My wife is very bad," said a man at the Bloomsbury county court.
"You mean she is very ill. I hope she is not bad," replied the magistrate sympathetically.—London Telegraph.

A Dandy of 1770.

From an English newspaper printed in the year 1777 is the following description of a dandy: "A few days ago a macaroni made his appearance in the assembly rooms at Whitehaven, dressed in a mixed silk coat, pink satin waistcoat and breeches covered with an elegant silk net, white silk stockings with pink clocks, pink satin shoes and large pearl buttons, a mushroom colored stock covered with fine point lace, hair dressed remarkably high and stuck full of pearl pins."

Much Married.

The following, taken from "Evelyn's Diary," refers to a Dutchwoman who lived in the seventeenth century: "Towards the end of August I returned to Haarlem. They showed us a cottage where, they told us, dwelt a woman who had been married to her twenty-fifth husband and, being now a widow, was prohibited to marry in the future, yet it could not be proved that she had ever made away with any of her husbands, though the suspicion had brought her divers times into trouble."

He Knew.

Mrs.—Oh, Jack! Dolly told me the most exciting secret, and made me swear never to tell a living soul! Mr.—Well, hurry up with it. I'm late to the office now.—Cleveland Leader.

Had Forty Homes.

Villon, the painter, was a unique personage even among the odd characters of Paris. While he was essentially a bohemian, there were times when even his patience was taxed to the utmost, and to obviate the necessity of meeting unwelcome people he conceived the idea of multiplying his lodging places. At the time of his death he owned no less than forty homes, all in apartment houses, situated in all the out of the way corners of Paris, plainly furnished and with just enough accommodation for himself. He changed from one to the other all the time in order to escape importunate acquaintances and to take refuge from his friends. It was in order to throw them all off the scent that he engaged rooms all over the city. He finally died in the Rue de Dunkerque, where he had as many as three different apartments, all within a stone's throw of one another.

The Stone Houses of Easter Island.

The remarkable stone houses of Easter Island are built against a terrace of earth or rock, which in some cases forms the back wall of the dwelling. They are built of small slabs of stratified basaltic rock piled together without cement. No regularity of plan is shown in the construction of a majority of them. The average measurement is as follows: Height from floor to ceiling, 4 feet 6 inches; thickness of walls, 4 feet to 10 inches; width of rooms, 4 feet 6 inches; length of rooms, 12 feet 9 inches; average size of doorways—height, 20 inches; width, 19 inches.

Some Eathroom Mottoes.

It is very odd that while mottoes have been made, invented and borrowed for every other room in the house, the bathroom should be mottoless. Verses appropriate to the guest room come prettily framed, the dining room walls sometimes show a mural decoration of good cheer, an appropriate verse is carved into the library mantel, while smoking room, den and living room each boasts a special incentive to smoke, loaf or indulge in cheery chatter in painted, pyrographed or stenciled verse or prose. Only the bathroom remains mottoless.

Surely, with so vast a field for invention or imitation, there should be no dearth of mottoes for the bathroom. For example, take Bacon's "Cleanliness of body was ever esteemed to proceed from a due reverence to God."

And here's one from sixteenth century's John Heywood:

The loss of wealth is loss of dirt,
As sages at all time assert.
The happy man's without a shirt.

Or Pope's scornful prod, "A heap of dust alone remains of thee." "Aye, there's the rub!" might be carved into the towel rack, while let into or over the tub Byrop's "Once more upon the waters, yet once more."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Why the Indian Wanted a Desk.

A story is told of Quannah Parker, one of the old Comanche chiefs. Parker had been extremely valuable in bringing the Comanches into friendly relations with the whites. He found himself getting on in years, but without any property, and his white neighbors thought it would be a good idea to collect money to build him a house. They did this, and when the house was ready they told him, and he went to see it.

"There is no furniture here," he said.
"What do you want?" they asked.
He replied he wanted this and that and added, "I want a big desk—a great big desk."

"What do you want that for?"
"Well," he said, "I want to go in there and sit back in my chair and put my feet up on that desk, and some one will come in and knock at the door and say, 'Is this Mr. Parker?' 'Yes.' 'I want to speak to you.' And I will say, 'Oh, go away; I'm busy today.'"—Delineator.

Where Women May Not Pray.

In some parts of the world the women are not even allowed to pray. Certain Hindoo congregations deny their women this privilege, and among the Alnus women can pray only in very rare cases as the deputies of their husbands. The natives of Madagascar, however, stretch a point and permit their women to intercede with the powers of evil, but prayer to their supreme being is strictly a masculine prerogative.

Expensive.

"Yes," said the young wife proudly, "father always gives something expensive when he makes presents."
"So I discovered when he gave you away," rejoined the young husband.—Exchange.

Inquisitive.

Small Boy—Papa, where does leather come from? Papa—From animals, my boy, their skins being tanned. Small Boy—And does sole leather come from their souls, papa?—Chicago News.

Difference of Opinion.

Kitty—Mrs. Carleigh thinks her son Harry is the salt of the earth. Janet—Well, I can't see why. I think he is about the freshest thing I ever met.—Lippincott's.

ADVERTISING. When Properly Employed. When Truthfully Done and placed in the Right Medium—THE NEWSPAPER—carries a man more safely and more certainly to the heaven of wealth than commercial genius.

Genius without advertising is apt to limp about on crutches in this age of enterprise if it should attempt to eschew printers' ink and well-written advertising copy.

No man can exist without food—no business can survive to any noticeable extent without publicity.

The little store of ten years ago, that did not advertise in some form, is the little store of to-day—doing business in the same crude way, making no progress.

The little store of ten years ago, that did advertise is not the little store of to-day—it is a great establishment, growing, throbbing with life and activity—doing business in the modern way, keeping time with enterprising ideas and constantly forging ahead.

A business that does not grow is going backward. For the backward business there is but one safe and sane remedy—advertising done in the right way in the home newspaper, whether its circulation be large or small.

The very fact that a newspaper exists is proof that it is read by somebody, and these somebodies will read advertisements if they are in the paper.—Newspaperdom.

ANY remedy that benefits digestion strengthens the nerves.

The nerve centers require nutrition. If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and indigestion is the result.

Peruna is not a nerve nor a stimulant. It benefits the nerves by benefiting digestion.

Peruna frees the stomach of catarrhal congestions and normal digestion is the result.

In other words, Peruna goes to the bottom of the whole difficulty, when the disagreeable symptoms disappear.

Mrs. J. C. Jamison, 61 Marchant street, Watsonville, Cal., writes:

"I was troubled with my stomach for six years. I tried many kinds of medicine, also was treated by three doctors.

"They said that I had nervous dyspepsia. I was put on a liquid diet for three months.

"I improved under the treatment, but as soon as I stopped taking the medicine, I got bad again.

"I took the medicine for two years, then I got sick again and gave up all hopes of getting cured.

"I saw a testimonial of a man whose case was similar to mine being cured by Peruna, so I thought I would give it a trial.

"I procured a bottle at once and commenced taking it. I have taken several bottles and am entirely cured.

"I have gained in strength and feel like a different person. I believe Peruna is all that is claimed for it."

Nervines, such as coal tar preparations, are doing a great deal of harm. Sleep medicines and headache powders are all alike,—heart depressants, and should not be used. The nerves would be all right, if the digestion were good. Peruna corrects the digestion.

National Monthly

A Democratic Magazine for Men and Women

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

NORMAN E. MACK, Editor and Publisher, Buffalo, N. Y.

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

ONE of the largest and handsomest illustrated magazines published in the United States. Each issue contains a mass of valuable information for Democrats in every locality, and articles by well known leading Democrats throughout the country. The NATIONAL MONTHLY will keep every Democrat thoroughly posted upon all the leading issues of the day. It will also contain a mass of Democratic news and current comment from the leading Democratic newspapers throughout the United States. In addition to the political features above mentioned every issue contains a large amount of interesting fiction and good reading for the entire family, thus making it a doubly welcome visitor in every home.

One of the thousands of letters received commending the NATIONAL MONTHLY:

Hits the Nail Right on the Head

HON. NORMAN E. MACK,
Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—I herewith enclose you my check and ask my name to be enrolled as a regular subscriber to your National Monthly. I have just finished examining the first number. It is a publication of stupendous merit, and it will exert a great influence for good in our country. It ranks with the best magazines that are printed in all respects, and its genuine Democracy gives it distinctive superiority. It will succeed for the Democracy is not dead, but very much alive. It will help save the country from capitalistic greed on the one hand and from the dangers of socialism and anarchism on the other. I am heart and soul with you in your new enterprise. Yours truly,

FRED J. KERN,
Mayor of the City of Belleville, Ill.

PURVEYORS TO ROYALTY.

Their Signs Constitute One of the Sights of London.

The American in London, on his first visit to that marvelous city, is struck by the number of signs over shops with the royal arms painted thereon and announcing that the tradesman is a purveyor to their majesties. Yet, when the matter is sifted, the number is not so large.

Officially, according to the London News, there are about 200 tradesmen in London who hold the royal warrant and are entitled to use the royal arms as a shop sign, with the accompanying words, "By royal appointment." The royal warrant has to be received, signed and sealed in due form; otherwise, if a tradesman styles himself a purveyor to a member of the royal family without this formal permission, he is guilty of an offense which is punishable by a fine not exceeding £20. Moreover, he is liable to a similar fine if he uses arms so nearly resembling the royal arms as to lead people to believe that he is carrying on his business under the authority of royalty. Several instances have occurred of the enforcement of these penalties.

The warrants are exhibited in the shop windows, headed by the royal arms and bearing the signature of the lord chamberlain, the comptroller of the royal household, the treasurer of the latter, or of the master of the horse, etc., according to the circumstances.

SMOKING A PIPE.

It is Said to Give the Face a Square Jawed Effect.

"There is one question I always ask a man who wants a job," remarked the business man who has to hire several hundred men for different positions each year.

"The question I always ask them is, 'Do you smoke a pipe much?' Of course the answers are various. Some of them smoke a pipe a great deal and others not at all.

"Why do I ask about the pipe? Well, not that I have the least interest in their habits or that I have any prejudice one way or another in the matter. The reason is that I want to know whether the formation of their lower jaws is natural or acquired.

"A man with a thin lower jaw is always a man of parts and of will. I say 'always'—anyway, most always. If he does not smoke a pipe his square jaw, back near where it hinges on to the upper one, is natural. If he is a pipe smoker the looks are deceiving, and I have to judge his caliber some other way.

"Pipe smokers always have strong muscles back on the face about the place a man stops when he makes the first stroke downward in shaving. These are the muscles that hold the jaws together. They often give a square jawed effect to a man who hasn't any square jaw characteristics. My men think I ask funny questions, but there's a reason."—New York Times.

British and German Physique.

Ten millions of our people inhabit dwellings inferior to the kennels provided for the hounds in a well managed hunt. The results of living in dwellings unfit for human habitation and the prevalence of a dietary scale from which English meat, bread and milk are excluded are fatal to successful rivalry with a virile and healthy race where agriculture is fostered for strategical reasons.

Having spent hours in watching the arrival of the early morning trains in Berlin and Hamburg, I am appalled with the contrast between the vigorous and well set up, broad chested and healthy looking clerks, brawny shopmen and stalwart laborers on the other side of the North sea and the champagne shouldered, cow hocked, pigeon chested, lack luster trainfuls of men of the same classes landed at Liverpool street, Victoria and Charing Cross. —Arnold White in London World.

He Studied It.

H. Rider Haggard in "A Winter Pilgrimage" tells this anecdote:

"When I was a 'soaring human boy' my father took me up the Rhine by boat with the hope and expectation that my mind would be improved by contemplating its lovely and historic banks. Wearing of this feat very soon, I slipped down to the cabin to enjoy one more congenial, that of 'Robinson Crusoe.' But some family traitor betrayed me, and, protesting even with tears that I hated views, I was dragged to the deck again. 'I have paid 6 thalers,' shouted my justly indignant parent as he hauled me up the steamer stairs, 'for you to study the Rhine scenery, and, whether you like it or not, young man, study it you shall.'"

AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. EMMA INSE, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

A DOGS' CLUB.

London's Luxurious Resort For Aristocratic Canine Pets.

London is the only city in the world boasting a dogs' club. The club is in a pleasant suit of rooms near the Trocadero and close to Regent street. Handsome rugs cover the floors, the windows are veiled in lace and silk, and luxurious sofas are ranged against the walls, while a profusion of soft pillows are scattered about for the comfort of aristocratic dogs who prefer the floor for a nap. Dainty satin lined wicker baskets are provided for the smaller pets. The membership fee is half a sovereign, but this does not include meals, baths or tips to the attendants.

Ladies going shopping or to the theater leave their pugs and poodles at the club and give the attendant in charge at the time a few shillings for looking after it, but if the dog is fed half a crown is charged. This pays for a nut-ton chop and milk. A whole crown provides the little animal with minced chicken. For a half-sovereign Fido is bathed, brushed and perfumed, and if he is a French poodle his hair is carefully curled. A veterinary is attached to the club to see that only dogs in perfect health are admitted, all sick members being quarantined in a separate room. Blankets, boots, collars, harness, soaps and brushes and all the accessories of a fashionable dog's toilet as well as dog medicines are sold at the club.—New York Press.

Scottish Impartiality.

Color sergeant of highland company (in which were one or two English) calling the roll:

"Angus Mackay?" No reply. (Loudly.) "Angus Mackay?" Still no reply. (Sotto voce.) "I ken ye're there. Ye're aye at yer footy, decent mon, but ye're ower modest to speak before sae mony folk. I see ye fine." (Marks him down in the roll.)

"John Jones?"

Squeaky voice replies, "Ere." Sergeant—Ow, aye, ye're here or say ye're here, but ye're sic a muckle leear I canna believe a word that comes oot o' yer mouth, sae I'll jist mark ye door as absent!—London Answers.

Much Like Demosthenes.

"Woman," he said, "really ought to be a better orator than man."

"Why so?" she asked.

"Because," he replied, "to a certain extent at least she follows the methods of that famed orator Demosthenes."

"In what way?" she inquired, still busy with the finishing touches of her toilet.

"You remember," he answered, "that Demosthenes used to practice talking with his mouth full of pebbles."

She hastily took the pins out of her mouth and informed him that he was a mean old thing anyway.—New York Times.

And So He Left Them.

With a heart full of good intentions and a bag full of uplift tracts he approached the cottage in the bucolic wilds.

"Madam, may I leave some tracts with you?"

"You may, kind sir, but leave the heel marks of them pointing directly toward these steps."—New York Times.

The hours we pass with happy prospects in view are more pleasing than those crowned with fruition.—Goldsmith.

A Candid Critic.

"A criticism that has helped me a great deal in my work came from a man to whom I took a picture to be framed," said a young woman who spends much of her time copying in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. "As the picture progressed my friends told me it was fine. Some of the other copyists said it had value, character, good coloring and all those things, and even one of the guards in the gallery got real friendly one day and remarked that it was the best copy of that picture he had seen. I began to think that maybe, after all, my several years of study were beginning to bear fruit. At the framer's I picked out a nice frame, and the framer began to figure on the cost. 'I'll tell you, miss,' he said, 'that frame will come to $3.98. If I were you I'd get something cheaper for that picture.'—New York Sun.

Hazarding a Guess.

"Know anything about golf?"
"Not much. Why?"
"What's a bunker? Do you know?"
"I suppose it's one of those cranks that simply live and sleep on the links."—Philadelphia Press.

Rebuked.

Small Tommy (after the slipper scene)—Mamma, I'm glad I'm not a girl. Mamma—Why, Tommy? Small Tommy—'Cause I'd be ashamed to grow up and become a child beater.—Chicago News.

Her Choice.

"Can he sing well?"
"Well, I'll tell you. He offered to sing the baby to sleep the other night, and his wife said, 'No; let her keep on crying.'—Cleveland Leader.

BENNINGTON

Three of our young ladies are attending High school this year in Antrim.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young of Marlow were in town on Monday last.

Mrs. Edna McDade of Philadelphia is stopping with Mrs. Apphia Eaton.

Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Dunlap are spending their vacation at Northwood, Mass.

Nathaniel George, late of California, was visiting relatives in town the past week.

Few of our people attended a special meeting of the Pomona Grange in Antrim on Tuesday of this week.

George O. Joslin and wife, R. S. Cram, J. E. Venio and Charles E. Dutton are spending a few days at York Beach.

George Rowe has broken up house-keeping and left town for Hyde Park, Mass.; his family are visiting relatives in Hillsboro.

Mr. Eksbergian and family have closed their cottage on shores of Lake George, and returned to their home in Somerville, Mass. A nice talented family; we hope to have them return to our town early next season.

Some of our fanciers are getting their birds in readiness for the poultry show in Antrim the coming winter; good time now to pick out the best ones, groom them properly and have them look their prettiest when the winter shows come on. It will surprise you to see how much a bird will improve with a little extra care.

Testifies After Four Years

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Burhans, writes: "About forty years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you.

A Hurry Up Call

Quick! Mr. Druggist—Quick!—A box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve—Here's a quarter—For the love of Moses, hurry! Baby's burnt himself, terribly—Johnnie cut his foot with the axe—Mamie's scalded—Pa can't walk from piles—Billy has boils—and my corns ache. She got it and soon cured all the family. It's the greatest healer on earth.

NORTH BRANCH

The work on the Goodell Company electric plant at this end is practically completed; the pond of 35 acres is flowed, and the water let into and filled the penstock on Monday of this week.

Mr. Dalrymple, the contractor who put in the great penstock, is now engaged putting in one for Mr. Grimes at Hillsboro Lower Village.

James H. Ford and daughter went overland to Westmoreland, Mass., the past week.

The Flint family returned Thursday from their long Auto ride to Quebec and intermediate points, safe and sound.

John W. Flint and family of Bel-lows Falls, Vt. were guests of the Crombies recently.

Mr Dalrymple took the Kendall family to Manchester the first of the week.

Mr. Plummer, wife and son of Mel-rose, Mass., were at Col. Drake's over Sunday.

George H. Thayer and wife returned to their home in Arlington, Mass., last Saturday.

J. S. Doolittle and wife visited in Keene recently.

Stray cattle destroyed the garden of Hardin Ford recently. Mr. Ford had worked hard to have some "garden eggs," but it is all up now!

Mr. Chapman returned from Massachusetts Saturday; rumor says he is soon to move away. Sorry! wish he would stay.

Mr. Flint has bargained for the old Tan Yard, which will make his grounds complete to the river.

High School Department.

Below is the schedule of studies as used in the High school. Visitors are always welcome and by referring to the schedule one may see when the various recitations are held:

Morning

1st period—Latin II. Phys. Geography, French II.

2nd period—English III. Algebra. Recess

3rd period—Geometry, Arithmetic, Physics.

4th period—English History, Math. Review.

Afternoon

1st period—Latin III and IV, English I and II.

2nd period—French I, Zoology. Recess

3rd period—Geology, Greek History.

4th period—Medieval and Modern History, Latin I.

The above schedule is followed every day but Thursday, when a double period in Physics is devoted to experiments.

New additions to school give us a membership of 43, distributed among the classes as follows: 13 Freshmen, 13 Sophomores, 8 Juniors and 9 Seniors. Ten pupils are from other towns, from Hancock are Jessie Tenney, Jessie Willson, Eleanor Stearns, Ralph Eaves, Bert Eaves and Harold Stearns; from Bennington, Grace Taylor, Ruth Knowles, Susie Curtis and Marjorie Barberich.

The Sophomores held a class meeting on Monday afternoon of this week and elected the following officials to conduct the class business for the ensuing year: President, Byron Butterfield; Vice President, Jessie Willson; Secretary, Ida Hudson; Treasurer, Hazel Burnham; Executive Committee—Chairman, Carl Hansie, Ruth Paige, Mildred Cram.

Since the present Seniors have already studied American History, they are left with one optional subject; most of them are taking Arithmetic and Book-keeping.

English III is at present the study of Macaulay's "Essay on Addison," while the Sophomores are reading Matthew Arnold's "Sobrah and Ratum."

Evidently there are those in school who would appreciate the introduction of a few couches or reclining chairs.

This year Miss Helen Daggett will again act as instructor of music throughout the schools.

I wish to announce to the public that I am in the

Parlor Stoves

No section of country is so exacting in its demands regarding Heating Stoves as is New England. We confidently invite inspection to our new line. We have gotten together the best that are to be had, selected with reference first to their heating capacity, next to economy of fuel, then of appearance and ease of management; when you look the line over you will think we paid particular attention to each feature as indeed we did.

COAL BURNERS

With indirect draft heating the very bottom underneath the stove as well as the top, it saves a lot of fuel, and heats down next the floor which means a lot specially with a child in the room.

WOOD BURNERS

That keep a fire all night in good shape and are easy to feed and regulate. Safe to leave and do not deposit ashes on the floor, at the same time of such design that they are an ornament to the room.

PRICES are much lower with us than others get for same quality, do not confound our durable, satisfactory, well-fitted Stoves with the clap-trap affairs put out with price the only consideration,—they are expensive at any price

About Advertising

It costs money to advertise in a paper of circulation and influence in the community. Every business man who seeks to enlarge his trade, recognizes the fact that advertising is a legitimate expense. It is not the cheapest advertising that pays the best. Sometimes it is the highest priced newspaper that brings the largest net profit to the advertiser.
