The Man Who Wants to Tell You

The man who wants to tell you how
And where you ought to go,
Who teaches the conductor
The things he ought to know,
Who chatters of the daily news
In tones both loud and strong—
Say, don't you hate to board a cab
And have him come along?
He talks about the passengers
To others all about;
He swears that half the men who ride
Should really be put out;
He tells the gentle grandmamma
Just where she should get off;
He talks about consumption
To the girl who's got a cough.
He grumbles at the motorman
He grumbles at the heat,
He grumbles at the transit laws
And folks who have big feet;
Oh, how we hate that kind of man,
And what we'd like to say!
But don't you meet him, all of you,
On almost every day?

A Few Opinions Publicly Expressed of Special Interest To Our Readers

William Randolph Hearst has announced his return to the Democratic party. Something of this kind almost always happens to blast the prospects of the Democracy just when things seem to be coming their way.—Laconia Democrat.

Edward C. Niles of Concord, John E. Benton of Keene and T. W. D. Worthen of Hanover, the recently appointed public service commission, have qualified before the secretary of state. Following the taking of the oath of office the commission retired to the rooms of the judiciary committee, which will be their office and elected Mr. Benton clerk, which will entitle him to a salary of $3200. The commission will probably not undertake active investigation until September.

Bountiful Yields.

Kansas is already calling for harvest help. Everywhere there is prospect of another bountiful yield of the fruits of the soil. Trade is already feeling the impetus of its promise, and there need be no idle men who know how to work in the harvest field for some time to come.

Drop by Drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh, falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to become Chronic Bronchitis. The most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application cannot be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 50 Warren St., New York.

I. O. O. F. Notes

At the semi-annual election of officers of Waverley Lodge, No. 59, I. O. O. F., held on Saturday evening last, the following were elected for the ensuing six months:
N. G.—Edmund M. Lane
V. G.—William B. Gove
Rec. Sec'y—H. W. Eldredge
Fin. Sec'y—Morris E. Nay
Treasurer—Fred I. Burnham
Representative to Grand Lodge—Charles M. Taylor.
It is probable now that the installation of officers will take place on Saturday evening July 8.

SHOP PICNIC

The Annual Gathering Held on Saturday Last

The weather of last Saturday was ideal for a picnic and nearly 125 enjoyed the afternoon by holding an outing in the grove near the home of Arthur L. Cunningham in North Branch. The party consisted of the employees of the Apple Parer, Machine Shop, office departments and families of employees, of the Goodell Company.

Dinner was served in the grove and food in abundance was supplied for all. Music was furnished by Appleton's Orchestra.

Athletic contests were in order after dinner and the following were the results:

One hundred-yd. dash won by Frank Ongley. Prize—Fish knife.
Fifty-yd. dash won by Louis Myers. No prize.
Ladies' race won by Mrs. Harden Ford. Prize—a "Midget" Vegetable Cutter.
3-legged race won by Frank Ongley and Leo Munhall.
Sack race won by Raymond Butterfield.

Shoe race for boys under ten years of age won by Hollis Drake.

The base ball game between the Single Men and the Married Men was the big event of the day. The Single Men marched to the ball ground from the grove waving aloft the banner bearing the words: "We Could, but we Wouldn't." The theory was advanced by some that this was the reason why the men beneath this banner were single, and not married. The Married Men marched to the field carrying a large blue banner bearing in white the words: "Married Men." All who favored the Married Men were given small blue badges bearing the capital letters M. M. The Single Men held the Married Men down to the score of 15 to 4 up to the 9th inning when the Single Men lost control of the ball and eight runs were secured by their opponents, the score finally favoring the Single Men 15 to 12. There was a prize offered for the player securing the largest number of base hits. Clement, Ongley and Murray were tied for this place, each one having a total of three. The prize was a miniature base ball bat, and finally awarded to Frank Ongley.

Lane & Weeks furnished the party with orangeade and cigars. The prizes were given by Goodell Company. E. V. Goodwin gave the base balls.

As all were about to leave for home, Mr. Drake made a short speech in behalf of the committees thanking all who in any way had helped to make the day a success.

This is the second year these departments of the Goodell Company works have enjoyed such an occasion and this year was even more of a success than last year.

CLASS OF NINETEEN ELEVEN.

Antrim High School, Eight in Number, Graduated Wednesday Last

The occasion of the season is the graduation of the Antrim High school and on Wednesday last was no exception. The day was one of the best June days it is our privilege to enjoy—cool and bright—and the affair from start to finish passed off without a hitch.

The trimmings of the hall were elaborately done in class colors, crimson and gold, a large quantity of crepe paper being used for the purpose; back of the stage and in front was a solid mass of hemlock upon which at the rear was the class motto: "Nihil sine Labore"

With the class on the stage were seated the school faculty, Superintendent F. L. Kendall, Principal O. E. Gibb, Assistants Miss Grace Waterman and Miss Rocina Stockwell.

At 2:30 in the afternoon the exercises began and were carried out according to program given herewith, the essays being interspersed with music by Appleton's orchestra. It is needless to say that every number on the program was a nice thing and reflected much credit on the pupils and teachers as well; the large company present had nothing but words of praise for each graduate. The diplomas were given by Supt. Kendall.

In the evening the class was given a reception by the juniors and it was a most pleasant affair. A crowded house was present to offer congratulations and words of encouragement to the graduates. The music by Appleton's orchestra was enjoyed during the reception and afterwards promenading closed the exercises.

Surprise to G. A. R.

Ephraim Weston Post, G. A. R., were holding their regular meeting on Friday night last in their hall, and at the same time—all unbeknown to those veterans—the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps were preparing a pleasant surprise for these gentlemen, to spring upon them at the close of the meeting. The surprise was genuine and complete, consisting of a literary and musical program, together with refreshments of ice cream and cake. One of the most pleasant occasions in the history of these two kindred organizations was enjoyed at this time, and it will long be remembered for none but these grand old men and their helpers can thoroughly enter into and enjoy such pleasant evenings as these.

Minstrel Show

Members of the Antrim Grange gave a Minstrel show at their hall Tuesday evening. Warren W. Merrill was interlocutor. Harry Drake and Will P. Cuddihy end men, assisted by a grand chorus consisting of Miss Alice Cuddihy, Mrs. Esther R. Cuddihy, Mrs. Mary Temple, Mrs. Elvira Butterfield, Miss Ethel Ellinwood, Miss Anna Cuddihy, Miss Martha Whittemore, Will Simonds, Andrew Cuddihy, John Tenney and Morris Wood. Erwin Cummings presided at the piano. Proceeds for benefit of the Grange.

Children's Day Concert

The Sunday school of the Congregational church at the Centre gave a Children's Day concert in the church Sunday afternoon before a good sized audience. The program included songs, recitations, dialogues and selections by the choir—all rendered in a very pleasing manner. The concert was in charge of Mrs. J. Lillian Larrabee.

RETURNED HER HAT.

She Didn't, but He Did, and He Must Have Been a Brave Man.

The bravest man in New York made his appearance in a Broadway store one day last week. He carried an enormous handbox, which contained an enormous hat, on which the man wanted what he considered an enormous amount of money refunded. The man was pretty mad, and while looking for some one who had the authority to negotiate the transaction he talked loud enough for everybody to hear.

"My wife bought this hat," he said. "She doesn't need it. She has already bought three hats this season. She paid $35 for this one. She has never worn it. It just came home last night. I can't afford to throw all that money away, and I want you to take the hat back. She wouldn't bring it down, so I undertook the job myself."

"By the side of that man Napoleon was a cringing coward," said the young woman who had made the sale. "Imagine him bounding into a Parisian millinery shop with a hat that he didn't want Josephine to buy! He couldn't have done it. Very few men can. Once in a long while some poor New Yorker with the courage of desperation in his heart returns merchandise which he cannot afford to buy for his wife, and his audacity upsets the whole store for a month."—New York Sun.

Oath of the Turkish Doctor.

The oath which young doctors take in Turkey when they come before the medical examining board contains the following passage: "That when I am called at the same time by two different patients, the one rich and the other poor, I will accept the call of the poor without taking into consideration the money offered and will do my best for his treatment, and that I will never decline to answer any call, day or night during the reign of common diseases or of an epidemic of contagious disease."

THEY LIKE SHARP FOOD.

Lions Gobble Up Porcupines, and Camels Eat Spiny Cactus.

A note in the London Field draws attention to lions that eat porcupines. It would appear that an animal protected by such powerful spines should be quite secure from attack. Yet, if we may trust the account given, it appears to be a habit on the part of the lion and not an isolated occurrence. Captain Dumbell had been told by a native hunter that the lion was in the habit of eating porcupines. And this has been confirmed by two English sportsmen. V. Kirby, for example, has taken a porcupine's head from the stomach of a lioness. Others relate that it is not uncommon to find lions with porcupine quills sticking all over their noses, faces and paws. It seems to argue some indifference to pain on the part of the lion, as well as a fancy for porcupine's flesh.

Compare this with the case of the camel, which a distinguished traveler describes as calmly chewing up a very spiny plant with the blood dripping from its mouth! The cattle in some of the arid parts of America, again browse on that spiny cactus. And in some parts of the English coast the horses browse on the prickly sea holly while the donkey's partiality for this ties is well known. Incidentally such cases seem to show that spines in nature are not such efficient protectors as some have supposed.

Sleep and Dreams.

The brain is more active while engaged in dreaming than when not thus engaged. The only perfect sleep is that which is dreamless. The moment the sleeper begins to dream he begins to work, and the more vivid and protracted the dream the more intense, naturally, becomes the work. It is possible that at no time during the waking hours of life is the brain so active as it is in the strange business of dreaming.

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realize it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with. Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side and under the left shoulder blade, I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least exertion would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured."

MRS. C. C. GOKEY, Northfield, Vt.

If you have any of the symptoms Mrs. Gokey mentions, it is your duty to protect yourself.

It was a long and bloody battle for life that was waged by James B. Mershon, of Newark, N. J., of which he writes: "I had lost much blood from lung hemorrhages, and was very weak and run-down. For eight months I was unable to work. Death seemed close on my heels, when I began, three weeks ago, to use Dr. King's New Discovery. But it has helped me greatly. It is doing all that you claim." For weak, sore lungs, obstinate coughs, stubborn colds, hoarseness, la grippe, asthma, hay-fever or any throat or lung trouble it's supreme. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Antrim Pharmacy.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent for circulars, free.

To Edith M. Sawyer, of Bennington, in said County, under the guardianship of Allan Gerard and all others interested therein: WHEREAS said guardian has filed the account of his said guardianship in the Probate Office for said County:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at Hillsboro in said County, on the 28th day of July next, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

Said guardian is ordered to serve this citation by causing the same to be published once each week for three successive weeks in the Antrim Reporter, a newspaper printed at Antrim, in said County, the last publication to be at least seven days before said Court.

Given at Nashua, in said County, this 22nd day of June, A. D. 1911.

By order of the Court, E. J. COPP, Register.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Hillsborough.

Your petitioner, Samuel W. Holman, of Hillsborough, in said County, administrator of the estate of Ammi L. Pike, alias A. Lincoln Pike, late of Antrim, in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that the personal estate of said deceased is not sufficient to pay the demands against the same; that the said deceased at the time of his death was seized of certain real estate situate in said Antrim containing about thirty acres, three quarters and seventy rods, be the same more or less, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

First Tract. Beginning at a stake on land formerly of David Hill, Jr.; thence south, fifty-four rods, by land formerly owned by William Boyd's heirs; thence northwesterly, seventy-three rods and seven links, to a stake and stones; thence southwesterly, thirty-eight rods and fourteen links, to a large rock south of the former site of Buswell's Mills; thence northeasterly to the brook four rods below said former site of Buswell's Mills; thence northeasterly by land formerly of said Buswell on the north side of the brook to the south-east corner of land formerly of said Buswell; thence northerly by said Buswell south-east corner; thence northerly by said Buswell land to the road; thence to the north wall of the road; thence north-easterly on the road thirty-two rods to a stake and stones; thence south-easterly seventy-six rods and eleven links to a stake and stones; thence easterly to the lands or bounds first mentioned.

Second Tract. Beginning at the north-west corner of the premises at a stake and stones near the stone bridge; thence southerly by land formerly of John Gregg, twenty-six rods, to a stake and stones; thence easterly by said Gregg land, about fifty rods, to the south-west corner of land formerly of Amos Parmenter; thence north, about five rods, to the wall formerly of David Hill, Jr.; thence westerly and northerly by said wall to the road; thence westerly by the road to the bounds first mentioned. Reserving so much as was decided to Minda Holt in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-four; also reserving any rights of highway.

The above described two tracts of land are the same as were conveyed to the said A. Lincoln Pike by John Gregg and wife by deed dated March 11th, A. D. 1870, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for said County of Hillsborough, Vol. 421, page 467, and that the same may be more than sufficient for the payment of said demands, but it is so situated that a part cannot be sold without injury to the persons interested therein; Wherefore he prays that he may have license to sell at public auction, or private sale, the whole of said real estate agreeably to the laws of said State.

Dated the Twentieth day of June, A. D. 1911.

SAMUEL W. HOLMAN.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

HILLSBOROUGH SS Court of Probate.

At a Court of Probate holden at Nashua, in said County, on the 21st day of June, A. D. 1911:

It is ordered that a hearing be had on the foregoing petition at a Court of Probate, to be holden at Hillsboro Bridge in said County, on the 28th day of July next, and that the said petitioner give notice to all persons interested in said estate, by causing the said petition, and this order thereon, to be published once each week for three successive weeks in the Antrim Reporter, a newspaper printed at Antrim in said County, the last publication to be at least seven days before said day of hearing.

By order of the Court, E. J. COPP, Register.

It was a very pleasing birthday party given George Dresser recently on the 70th anniversary of his birth. A few of his friends had a nice time at his pleasant home and spent an evening long to be remembered.

It will interest his friends and acquaintances of this vicinity to learn that Rev. Chas. H. Chapin of Phillipston, Mass., since 1907, formerly an Antrim boy, has accepted a unanimous call to the Congregational pastorate at Marshfield, Vermont, where he is to begin work July 15.

An Ancient Rain Gauge.

The credit of inventing the rain gauge has always been given to Castelli, a contemporary of Galileo, who made one in 1639, but the director of the Korean meteorological observatory, Dr. Y. Wada, has shown that it is due to a Korean king. The latter, King Sejo, in the year 1442 caused an instrument of bronze to be constructed to measure the rain, and it is set out in the historical records of Korea that this was a vase fifteen inches deep and seven inches in diameter, placed upon a pillar. An example of this was placed in the observatory, and each time the rain fell the officials were instructed to measure the height and to make it known to the king. Other instruments were distributed to the provinces and cantons, and the results of the observations made were sent to court.—Knowledge.

Queer Anatomy.

Curious ideas about anatomy prevail in the press. It was stated the other day that a man was "shot in the ticket office." Another paper says a man was "shot in the suburbs." "He kissed her passionately upon her reappearance." "She whipped him upon her return." "He kissed her back." "Mr. Jones walked in upon her invitation." "She seated herself upon his entering." "We thought she sat down upon her being asked." "She fainted upon his departure."

"The Almighty Dollar."

The idea of the forceful phrase "the almighty dollar" is much older than the time of Washington Irving. Ben Jonson's "Epistle to Elizabeth, Countess of Rutland," commences thus: Whilst that for which all virtue now is sold. And almost every vice, almighty gold. —London Notes and Queries.

When Tennyson Sat Up Nights.

We have had Alfred Tennyson here; very droll and very wayward, and much sitting up of nights till 2 or 3 in the morning with pipes in our mouths, at which good hour we would get Alfred to give us some of his magic music, which he does between growling and smoking, and so to bed. —Fitzgerald's "Letters" (1838).

Cause and Effect.

"There are many delightful dishes to be made from left over food." "That's nice," responded the young bride. "There's a great deal of food left over since I began doing the cooking."—Washington Herald.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention!

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

KNEW DE QUINCEY'S WORKS.

Choate Was Better Posted on Them Than the Author Himself.

Many years ago James T. Fields, the publisher, was making a collection of the writings of De Quincey. The essays were widely scattered in various periodicals and were often hard to identify. Mr. Fields knew Rufus Choate as a devoted student of De Quincey and wrote him one day asking his opinion as to a certain article. Was it by De Quincey or not?

Mr. Choate replied that it certainly was. There could be no mistaking the style of the piece. A few weeks later Mr. Choate received through Mr. Fields a letter from De Quincey denying absolutely and somewhat indignantly the authorship of the article. But Choate was not of the stuff to yield his opinion for a trifle like that. He wrote to Mr. Fields:

"I still believe that De Quincey wrote the essay. De Quincey to the contrary notwithstanding."

Doubtless Mr. Fields read the note with a smiling comment. "That's just like Choate's confidence in his own judgment."

Months elapsed. One day there came a letter from De Quincey containing a humble apology for his previous blunder. By chance he had found in his desk the manuscript of the very article in question. Written as it had been years before, it had passed entirely from his mind, "and you may tell your young Boston lawyer," he concluded, "that he knows my style better than I know it myself."

OUT FOR THE FEES.

Corporation Directors Want Their Rights and Usually Get Them.

A large corporation held a directors' meeting a few days ago. As the meeting was coming to a close one of the directors, reputed to be worth $10,000,000, ran in all out of breath. Just as he entered the other directors were making their exit, says the Hartford Courant.

"Look here," the incoming director shouted to the chairman, "I want to know why I haven't received notice of this meeting."

"I am sure I don't know," the chairman said. "Notices were sent to all directors. You surely must have received one."

The director finished up an excited tirade by saying, "I want my rights."

Just then the secretary was brought into conference, who in turn handed the late director an envelope. He departed with a smiling countenance.

This recalls the story of a New York corporation where $20 for each director was and on the table and those who attended divided the whole pile. If half came each got $10. The members were men far advanced in years and in riches. One day it stormed violently when a meeting was to be held. The executive officers did not believe a single director would be there, but every man of them was on hand, each having figured out that nobody else would appear and that he might swipe the entire allowance.

On a Grain of Wheat.

Prayers have been written and engraved on many small objects, but only one person ever has been patient and painstaking enough to inscribe a complete prayer on a grain of wheat. One day Sir Moses Montefiore received a small tin box in the mail. On the cover of the box was written, "A prayer for Sir Moses Montefiore, by Rauch Med-eal, son of Zebi Hirsch Scheinmann of Jerusalem." The box contained a single grain of wheat, on which were inscribed in characters so small they could only be read with the aid of a powerful microscope the 380 Hebrew letters of the prayer and the date of the year (Hebrew reckoning), 5615. Sir Moses kept the prayer in his private desk until he died, and it is preserved with religious care by one of his friends.

Had Misjudged Him.

"Does your father ever kiss your mamma, Willie?" asked the lady who had once been the gentleman's sweet heart.

"Yes, every morning when he goes away to the city."

FOLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

RACE FOR A THIEF

Wild Chase Through the Streets In the Heart of London.

A DETECTIVE'S QUICK WORK.

The Police Officer Was Not Only Rapid Himself, but Compelled an Unsuspecting Bystander to Join in the Mad Flight and Capture.

In defending the London police from charges of incompetence a contributor to Blackwood's Magazine narrates an incident in which he figured a few years ago, when he accompanied his wife to a Bond street jeweler's, where she went in to watch some pearls and have some gems reset, he awaiting her on the street, where he smoked his cigar. He says:

"I noticed three well dressed men go into the shop and several women, when suddenly one of the well dressed men came out through the glass doors of the shop and pushed rapidly past me as he turned up the street. At the same moment I was seized violently by the arm by a milkman who had been arranging his cans on his handcart just in front of the shop. 'Quick, governor!' he shouted. 'After him or we lose him! Look! he's passed the bag to a pal!'

"Now, for the life of me I cannot tell you what impelled me. I'm not the kind of man that you can picture tearing up Bond street in the wake of an agitated milkman. But there was something in the grip that man took of my arm that impelled me, so that I threw away my cigar and ran after the man with the bag neck and neck with the milkman, who exhorted me to continue in my efforts by shouting: 'Throw a leg, governor! If we lose him we lose him forever!'

"We tore up Conduit street. I don't know what the passersby thought. I had no time to think of them. When we reached Regent street our quarry dived into the traffic like a frog into a mill race. We went in after him. How I missed being knocked down I don't know. The milkman took the same risks. We were across almost as soon as the man and sped after him. I don't know what streets we doubled down. I know that at this period it flashed across my mind that I was making a conspicuous ass of myself. Here I was racing down the slums of Soho at the bidding of a strange milkman, who never stopped in his exhortations to me.

"Keep it up and we'll get him!" "Our quarry doubled and tacked, but we stuck to him till just as we were pacing down the very worst looking street of the lot he suddenly slipped into a low house, of which the door was open. My milkman never lost a second. He whispered hoarsely in my ear: 'Stop here, governor, and grab the first person as comes out of that house, no matter who he is! I know the way behind!'

"In a flash he was gone. He had nipped down an alleyway and disappeared. I felt a real fool, and the whole folly of my action rushed in upon me. I had left my wife stranded in a shop in Bond street. I had lost my hat and my stick, and here I was in an almost deserted street, standing outside a door waiting with orders from a strange man to grab the first person that came out of it. In two seconds more I would have left the place and gone to the nearest hatter, a wiser and chastened man. But just at that moment a boy of about fifteen came out of the door. My milkman must have left his spell upon me, for I immediately threw my arms around him.

"Lemme go, governor!" he shouted. "I ain't done nuffin' to you!"

"He struggled hard, and the more he struggled the more I felt impelled to hold him. And then suddenly, as if by magic, two policemen appeared on the scene and seized my boy for me. My milkman, wreathed in smiles, appeared in the doorway from which the boy had just come, saying blithely and quite respectfully: 'You've done that very well, sir. We've got the other two inside. He then added, 'I'll just put my hands over this young feller!'

"He took off the boy's battered hat and out of the lining came a roll of £80 in Bank of England notes. He then went through the boy's clothes and produced out of his socks a pair of ruby and diamond earrings which, to my astonishment, I saw were the very gewgaws that my wife had taken with her to have reset. The detective, for my milkman was nothing less, then plucked the boy's ear and said: 'Where's the lady's bag?'

"In the yard, sir," he answered sulkily enough.

"The milkman retrieved it, and, sure enough, it was my wife's bag.

"But," I said to the detective, 'how did you know that I was connected with the lady who owns this bag?'

things," he said. "But if you hadn't been game to run we should have lost the lot. We were only just in time."

"We left the boy and the two men in the house in the custody of constables and took a cab back to Bond street, and here the strangest part of the story comes in. We found my wife still discussing her pearls with the jeweler, quite unconscious of the fact that her bag was gone."

Sleight of Hand Poisoning.

A very curious item in toxicological lore I chanced to light upon, wrote George Augustus Sala in one of his letters, may be called the feat of poisoning by sleight of hand. You were jealous of a lady, and you wished to kill her. Well, you asked her to lunch, and you caused a very nice peach to be served at dessert. You cut the fruit with a golden knife, one side of the blade of which was endued with a deadly poison. You presented the poisoned half of the peach to the lady, who ate it with much relish and then dropped down dead. The wholesome half you ate yourself and laughed in your sleeve and went on slicing more peaches for the ladies of whom you were jealous till you were found out and broken on the wheel. Aye, there's the rub! What high old times we might have, to be sure, but for that plaguy contingency of being found out!

Her Drawing Powers.

Pat and his little brown mare were familiar sights to the people of the town of Garry. The mare was lean, blind and lame, but by dint of much coaxing Pat kept her to the harness. One day while leading her to water he had to pass a corner where a crowd of would be sports had congregated. Thinking to have some amusement at Pat's expense, one called out: "Hello there, Pat! I'm looking for the real goods. How much is that mare of yours able to draw?" "Begorra," said Pat, "I can't say exactly, but she seems to be able to draw the attention of every fool in town."—Housekeeper.

Russia's Butterfly Belief.

Small boys and girls in Russia often do not have the joy of butterfly chasing or collecting, for the popular and pretty belief of the peasants is that these swarms of fragile, lovely insects are the earthbound souls of the dead, compelled to linger for some minor expiation of sin. As the nurses of the children of all below royalty are from the peasant class, they impress on them at an early age how wicked it would be to catch and torture a soul and thus imbue them with a superstition that lasts until they are well grown.—New York Tribune.

Merry-go-round.

Coming across the Reverse Bench ferry were two men whose antics attracted considerable attention. The younger would step around to the right side of his companion, and within a minute the older would make a corresponding shift. At last the elder became irritated.

"Say, what are you trying to do, shifting around like this?" he demanded.

"I'm deaf in my left ear and was trying to get where I'd hear well," the younger replied.

"And I'm blind in my left eye and wanted to see what was doing," said the other.—Boston Journal.
