God's Way is Best

Don't blame the world because the thorns are found among the roses; The day that breaks in storm may be all sunshine when it closes.
We cannot hope to always meet with fortune's fond caressing,
And that which seems most hard to bear, may bring with it a blessing.
The buried seed must rot in earth ere it produce the flower,
And the weak plant to fructify must have both sun and shower;
So man, to gain development, must struggle with life's crosses,
And view with calm philosophy his trials and his losses.
A deadly, poisonous weed may yield a salve of surest healing,
The sweetest bloom may poisonous be, although its bane concealing.
Things are not always what they seem, but still 'twas Heaven designed them,
And we should class them all as good and take them as we find them
Little we know of this brief life, we cannot see its sequel;
Then let us take in humble trust all that may seem unequal.
God's ways are not our ways, and he should certainly be trusted;
All that is wrong in his good time will be adjusted.—Exchange.

Who Wants to be Senator?

If there is any good citizen who thinks he has the qualification for holding down a seat in the United States Senate from New Hampshire the time is nearly ripe to make known his desire for said seat, says the Littleton Courier. The roster is by no means complete, although there are some entries already filed. You can usually count on Rosecrans W. Pillsbury, editor of the Manchester Union, to be a candidate for anything in sight, and you can be equally as certain that he will be among the "also rans" after it is all over. Mr. Pillsbury will never be senator, so no one need to worry about that. Ex-Gov. Henry B. Quinby has also let it be known that he is available, which is more like a real candidate. The governor has a good record behind him, which will make him a good many votes, and he is more of a statesman than many people give him credit for. Then there is the present governor to be reckoned with. Gov. Bass is just at present giving his exclusive attention to the job to which he was elected last fall, believing in the old adage, "One thing at a time and that well done." The people will support him in this idea and will remember him later when it comes to choosing a senator. Congressman Currier is also said to be willing, although he is keeping his own counsel in the matter. As an astute politician he can't be beaten, but when it comes to results the congressman hasn't a great deal to show for his several terms in Congress. He knows the political game well enough, however, to make a hard fight if he goes into the race. This quartet makes a mixture out of which a dark horse might be produced. Senator Burnham, although a possible candidate, will not be taken seriously, as he has done nothing to warrant his return.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md.

He Didn't Want Much

A Western editor received the following letter:
"Please send me a few copies of the paper which had the obituary and verses about the death of my child a week or so ago. Also publish the enclosed clipping about my niece's marriage. And I wish you would mention in your local columns, if it don't cost anything, that I have two bull calves to sell. Send me a couple of extra copies of the paper this week. As my subscription is out, please stop my paper. Times is too hard to waste money on newspapers."

LABOR DAY PICNIC

At Cunningham Grove Was a Success in Many Ways and Well Attended

THE picnic at Cunningham grove, North Branch, held on Monday, Labor Day, was attended by a large number of the townspeople, and a good time reported. A fine ride from the village to the grove, many sporting events, dinner, ball game and a ride home in the cool of the evening, completed the program of an eventful day's enjoyment. The general committee having the picnic in charge were Harry Drake, Ernest Martin, Ed. George, Frank DelRosso, Arthur Cunningham, and all their arrangements were well carried out for the entire day.

In the forenoon and early part of the afternoon, were held the various athletic events, a summary of which follows:

100-yd. dash won by Louis Myers, Frank DelRosso 2d.

8-legged race won by Louis Myers and Frank Ongley, Ben Clement and Fred Raleigh 2d.

Wheelbarrow race won by J. McDonald and Rob Crosbie, Alfred Myers and Carl Brooks 2d.

Sack race won by Raymond Butterfield, Carl Crampton 2d.

50 yd. dash won by Louis Myers, Ben Clement 2d.

Foremen's race, 50-yd. dash, won by Frank DelRosso, Harry Drake 2d.

25-yd. dash for women won by Mrs. Harden Ford, Miss Sadie MacMullin 2d.

Race for blindfolded boys won by Ellis Raleigh, Arthur Fluri 2d.

Stocking race won by Carl Crampton, Arthur Fluri 2d.

A championship series of quoits was won by Vermont against New Hampshire, Alfred Myers and Louis Myers representing Vermont.

1.4 mile race won by Fred Raleigh, V. Lynch 2d.

Shot put won by Crosbie, Myers 2d. Distance 31 feet, 8 inches.

Standing broad jump won by Arthur Cunningham, Carl Brooks 2d.

8 standing broad jumps won by Clinton Davis, Cunningham 2d.

Hop, skip and jump won by Davis, Leonard Merrill 2d.

A ladies' championship game of quoits was won by North Branch against the Village, Mrs. Harden Ford and Miss Alice Crosbie representing North Branch.

In the afternoon was played the ball game, to which all had looked forward. The "Farmers" who secured a reputation for fast ball playing on Old Home Day, were again in evidence and were lined up against the "Shop Team." A most interesting game was the result, the "Farmers" holding the "Shop Team" to the score of 7 to 3 in favor of the "Shop Team" for three entire innings during which neither side scored a point, when the "Farmers" scored three runs and nearly tied the score. The excitement was intense in the 5th inning and both teams were retired with a 0! In the final inning the "Shop Team" came to bat strong and ran in four scores, putting the victory beyond the reach of their opponents. The battery honors were very evenly divided, as, by a singular coincidence, Lynch and Davis each struck out 11. The summary of the ball game follows:

Score by Innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Shop Team	3	1	3	0	0	0	0	0	4-11
Farmers	0	0	3	0	0	0	3	0	0-6

Runs were made: Ongley 2, Lynch 2, L. Myers 2, Clement, Drake, George, Cunningham, A. Myers, W. Merrill 2, Raleigh 2, Butterfield, Davis

Batteries: Shop Team—Lynch and Ongley; Farmers—Davis and Butterfield.

If the machinery of the Republican party in New Hampshire is being operated by a gang of political jobbers for their personal aggrandizement it is just as certain to result in Democratic victory as the sun is to rise tomorrow morning.—Newport Champion.

Our good brother, Editor Chase, appears a bit disturbed over existing conditions; the only difference we can see is that it happens now to be a different company of men handling things, while the way of doing it is exactly the same. This decision we have arrived at after watching the boiling of the political pot in this state for about twenty years.

The Funeral of Mrs. Emeline Lakin

Was held at 12.30 o'clock last Thursday at Methodist church; the officiating clergymen were Rev. W. F. Whitney of Hillsboro and Rev. Leon Morse of Milford, assisted by Rev. W. J. Atkinson the local pastor. The Methodist choir sang, and the floral tributes were many and handsome. Interment was in Maplewood.

Mrs. Lakin was born in Peterboro 78 years ago. For some years till very recently she had made her home in Milford, where she was well and favorably known. During her last illness she was tenderly cared for by her daughter, Mrs. B. L. Brooks.

Methodist Social Union

The thirty-second session of the Contoocook Valley Methodist Social Union was held last Friday at Woodbury Memorial Methodist church, with a fair attendance from the several towns forming the union. A nice program was given throughout the day and some fine addresses were listened to; also some special musical numbers were rendered. As a whole it was a profitable gathering. The next meeting will be held in Winchester about the first week in November.

Not a few of our people were disappointed last week in not being able to get a sufficient number of extra copies of the REPORTER containing the extended report of Old Home Day. The demand was so great that we again put the forms on the press and printed extra copies: orders were filled. If those who desire extra copies of the REPORTER of any special date would pass their order into our office early enough we could print a larger number with the regulars, it would assure them of all they need and be very pleasing to the publisher. It is too expensive to carry from week to week a large number of papers for which we do not know of a ready sale, hence a shortage when there is something special. Our people will surely remember this in the future.

It looks as though there would be a sharp contest over the republican candidate for president. It has been generally conceded that Mr. Taft was to be his own successor. The insurgent republicans are now understood to have practically united on Senator LaFollette. If this is the case the opportunity of the democratic party is at hand and only by an egregious blunder can that party avoid electing its president. It remains to be seen if the tactics of the past will prevail or if wiser counsels will be sought and followed.—Franklin Transcript.

Let's see, history repeats itself in about how many years? It is not the party that elects the president, it is the voter; and if after weighing evidence according to his own idea, he votes different than he did the time before, who has the right to say he did wrong?

Cape Cod cranberries are ripe but the Vermont turkey will not be picked until later and then will be shipped from Texas.

Now, Brother Towne of the Franklin Transcript would not for one moment have a Cape Codder believe that "Cape Cod cranberries" came from New Jersey or some other section of the country.

Milford Industrial Carnival

An Exhibition of Milford Made Goods and Three Days of Sports and Fun Free

Milford is showing a progressive spirit in planning a carnival for October 4, 5 and 6, a unique feature of which is that everything is absolutely free. No admission will be charged for concerts, exhibitions, ball games or any other of the many features, and no penny-catching devices, fakir or shows will be permitted.

On the other hand it is planned to spend three days in showing Milford to the home people and to visitors and in giving them a grand good time free of charge. The different industries will make exhibition of their products and the factories, mills and quarries will be open to visitors and guides furnished to show them about. Prominent in this feature are the furniture mill, the post-office manufactory, the basket mill, the celluloid novelty mill and others as well as the many extensive quarries and stone sheds where are made the finest monumental and structural pieces. Milford's farms will make an imposing exhibit of fruit and vegetables under the auspices of the Grange, and in other halls will be on exhibition collections of rare and beautiful things, articles of historic interest, and of Milford handicraft. Also a pine tree nursery exhibit. Nothing will be for sale. In addition all of the seven churches will be ready to welcome the guests and every club, lodge and society, of which there are many, will keep open house.

Amusements are well taken care of consisting among other things, of two free ball games between strong teams, tennis matches with fast players, frequent concerts by Milford's military band, organ and vocal music by talented artists, firemen's drill and play-out, evening displays and illuminations, and other features, all calculated to please young and old and all free.

The object of the carnival is two-fold. First to educate Milford citizens to the advantages and industries of their own home town, and second to show others what Milford has to offer. The idea was first advanced at a Board of Trade meeting, but it quickly outgrew that organization and is now absorbing the interest of all the citizens.

Milford invites everyone to be her guests on October 4, 5 and 6, and no guest will be under any expense for any of the good times planned. Reduced railroad rates are expected.

ESKIMO SEALERS.

A Battle of Alertness Between the Hunter and His Prey.

The Eskimo method of hunting seals shows a primitive calling improved to a fine art. When a seal is discovered the direction of the wind is at once noted. Then the hunter, keeping himself to the leeward of the seal, walks up to within about a quarter of a mile of it. Beyond this he begins to crouch and advances only when the seal's head is down.

Now, as the seal is one of the most wideawake of animals and has the habit of throwing up its head quickly every few seconds to guard against danger, it follows that the Eskimo has to be extremely alert if he would get his seal. When the seal's head is down upon the ice its eyes are shut, and it is said that in these brief intervals it takes its sleep.

The hunter by carefully watching the seal's movements is able without much difficulty to get within about 200 yards of it, but at closer quarters he is obliged to employ other tactics. He lies down at full length on the ice. Then the real sport begins.

When the seal's head is down the hunter, who keeps a keen eye on his prey, is able to approach still nearer by dragging himself forward on his elbows. This maneuvering continues for some time until the distance between man and beast has been reduced to a few yards.

When near enough to make a sure shot the Eskimo takes his bow and arrow from his side and sends a swift shaft through the head of his outwitted companion. Sometimes instead of the bow and arrow a harpoon is used with equal effect.—Harper's Weekly.

The Parents' Joke.

Some parents seem unable to resist the temptation to make a joke with the Christian names of their children, says the London Chronicle. The Somerset House registers testify to the existence of a Mr. Mineral Waters, a Frosty Winter and an Alfred Days Weeks. There is something to be said in favor of naming children in the order of their arrival—Primus, Secundus, etc.—but it is unfortunate for a well known Canadian named Cumber that it should have fallen to his lot to be Quintus, for his name is always appearing in the papers as Mr. Q. Cumber.

A Boston Street.

It was one of the older conductors breaking in a new recruit who had shown that he was not particularly quick to catch an idea. The car came to Webster street, and the older conductor whispered the name to the recruit. The latter did not understand, and the conductor, losing patience, said, "Webster—Webster's dictionary." And the passengers were amazed to hear the new man bawl out, "Webster's dictionary."—Boston Post.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

George Appleton and family with their niece and nephews from Haverhill, Mass., the Websters and Butterick, are at Kamp Kill Kare.

Miss Helen Little of Medford, Mass., and Miss Monie Ellis of Everett, Mass., who are stopping at George Sawyer's at Clinton, were callers at Lookoff Cottage, Labor Day.

Parties from Mass. are considering a lot on the North Side and Mason Butterfield has some idea he may build another Spring; his family has been to the Beach for the past two years, but it was quite damp there this year.

Mason C. Butterfield, Mrs. Butterfield, Max and Marjory Butterfield of Concord, and R. B. Parish of Everett, Mass., occupied the Peterwaugh from Saturday over Labor Day. Mr. Butterfield was clerk at the Peterwaugh 21 years ago.

Mrs. Fannie Hill of Hartford, Conn., Miss Barbara Brown of Rocky Hill, Conn., Miss Dorothy Richardson of Antrim, with the Talbots, were guests at Bonnie Doon over Sunday and Monday; and Charles S. Whiting of Boston and Milton Tenney of Antrim on Sunday.

Many fishermen on the Pond Labor Day, but a poor catch, as it has been for the past week because of the heavy rains. The Duncans caught a pretty string of 14 bass. During the past week Robert Abbott secured two perch which would weigh at least one pound each, and the Swains 10 lbs. of black bass in a short time.

The sign from the Stillbelle has been removed and a new one will appear later on that building, which was formerly the Gregg Pond House.—a good name and one which the late Ira Cochran, father of G. A. Cochran, who took good interest in the Pond, though a resident of the east part of the town, wished to have the Peterwaugh called, but it had been named by R. P. Saltmarsh before.

John D. Hutchinson, Civ. Eng., with the assistance of C. R. Jameson, has been surveying the distance west of the pond. It is 2 miles from the Peterwaugh to Kamp Kill Kare, owned by E. V. Goodwin, and about 2 miles nearer by the old Butman road and wood road from the depot to Linger Longer Inn, than via the north end of pond where teams are now obliged to go. That is Linger Longer Inn and Peterwaugh Cottages are about the same distance from Depot. $200 will place the Butman road in as good condition as 25 miles of roads now used in town; the Butman hill and three-quarters of the distance is in as good condition as the road on the south side of Holt's hill.

Often The Kidneys Are

Weakened by Over-work. Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Danger Signs

Of Kidney and Liver Disorders—Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy The Best Treatment.

Your health and life depend upon the Kidneys and Liver working properly. When out of order you have pains in the back, brick dust deposits, scalding pains, swelling around eyes, constipated bowels, drowsiness, fever, rheumatic pains, skin and blood troubles. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy removes the uric acid from the system, the cause of most Kidney, Liver and Blood troubles. No better remedy. 35 years successful. Write Dr. David Kennedy Co., Rondout, N. Y., U. S. A., for free sample. All druggists, $1.00 a bottle.

Good News for Everybody

George Ade is Going to Write 10 New Fables in Slang for the Boston Sunday Globe—Every One of Them is Up to Date—The First One About the Automobile Crank is a Gale of Fun.

The Boston Sunday Globe, after much negotiation, is enabled to announce that, beginning last Sunday, it will publish 10 new "Fables in Slang" by George Ade. Considering Mr. Ade's fame as a writer for the stage and his income therefrom, you can imagine that a handsome pecuniary compensation was necessary to induce him to step aside from the dramatic field to till again the soil on which his first prolific crops of mirth were grown. Yet it would be unjust to Mr. Ade to intimate that money alone was the moving power which led him to come back to his first audience. On the contrary, his natural love of the newspaper world and newspaper audiences was so strong and his gratitude toward those who first encouraged him with their generous applause so intense, that he could not resist the temptation to come back and have a new series of laughs with them. As far as New England is concerned these will appear exclusively in the Boston Sunday Globe.

Don't forget to tell all your friends that George Ade is going to write a series of new fables in slang for the Boston Sunday Globe beginning Sunday, Sept. 3.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Cures Urinary Troubles and Constipation

TWO FORTUNES

Both Came Suddenly to the Same Person and One Was Many Millions

By DAVID WALTER CHURCH

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Why should we read fairy stories with marvelous happenings when there are such occurring in real life? The imagination is not capable of creating the possibilities that occasionally occur among persons who are made of flesh and blood and have souls. What imagination a century ago in a long striping Illinoisian could detect the leader of the greatest political crisis the world has ever known? And in the acquisition of wealth, what more wonderful development in fancy than the story of a real Mexican peon who came into an income of $10,000,000 a year?

In a town of northern Mexico, in an adobe house lived an old man, Pedro Alvarado by name, a peon, who, with his Indian wife, worked and saved till he had accumulated $100. With the money the couple bought a piece of land on the top of a rocky hill near by the town in which they lived.

Why they put their hard earned savings in this barren and not very accessible summit and continued to save and to pay $40 a year taxes on it when they needed the very necessities of life is not known. It is possible that the wife, having been an Indian, had heard a tradition handed down from her forefathers that there was a treasure buried there.

Be this as it may, there must have been some reason for the old couple putting all their money in a barren rock, and this view is borne out by the fact that old Alvarado, having willed his purchase to his son and three nephews, called upon the former to swear that he would never part with his interest in it. When we remember that this legacy bequeathed to young Pedro was supposed to be worth but $25 we cannot but assume that his father must have had an inkling that its value was much greater.

After the old couple died the summit of the barren rock was not divided among the heirs, but kept as one property. Then came men who believed that there might be silver under the rock. They had plenty of money and were ready to risk it in an investigation. They offered the heirs a large sum for the property, and Pedro's cousins were willing and anxious to sell. But Pedro, true to his oath, refused to part with his share. In vain the others begged him not to stand in their way of taking advantage of the offer. Pedro stood firm. But after awhile a friend loaned him the money to buy out his cousins' interest and make the investigation as to what the property contained.

One day men began to work on the top of the hill with pick and shovel. A month passed and nothing but ordinary earth and rock was displaced. The cousins came to see and jeered at Pedro for a fool. But Pedro had been loaned sufficient money to pursue his investigations to the end and worked on. Another month passed and yet another with the same result. Then one day in a twinkling all was changed. A vein was struck indicating that the Palmilla mine, as it was called, was the richest silver mine that had ever been opened.

And now this story takes on a wonderful change. Pedro Alvarado, son of a Mexican peon father and an Indian mother, heir to a beggarly estate supposed to be worth but $25, suddenly springs into an income of $30,000 a day. The fairy waves her wand and the adobe hut in which Pedro was born is changed into a sumptuous palace furnished from the manufactories of the old world. Money without limit is given away, thrown away. Whatever the silver king fancies he buys. Those in his employ are loaded with luxuries.

It seems to be the desire of all men to live in a palace, for all men who acquire immense fortunes build such structures to live in. Nevertheless their abodes are typical of their origin. Pedro built his palace, and when he got it finished and furnished it was wonderful to behold, especially in the latter respect. The furniture all came from abroad. The most costly bedsteads, chairs and cabinets were shipped from Paris; rugs came from the orient, and Pedro, instead of walking on the wooden floor—or, more likely, the dirt floor—to which he had been accustomed, sank in the soft substances manufactured by Persian workmen.

But the most curious freak of this suddenly enriched man was a mania for horses. His palace was filled with them. They, too, came from those factories where the most skilled workmen were employed in their building, and their mechanism was encased in the most costly woods, often beautifully inlaid. They were in his parlors, in his living rooms, bedrooms—anywhere, everywhere where there was room for them, and room in Pedro's palace was abundant.

Singularly enough but one selfish motive guided this suddenly enriched man. The rest are all altruistic. He is besieged by persons eager to buy his mine, or if they cannot do that at least a part of it. By selling and permitting educated business men to work it the income could be greatly increased. But no argument, no amount of cajoling, could move the man who had sworn he would not sell.

Then it was represented to him that by certain simple business reforms he might himself make his mine pay more largely. All the ore taken from it was carried down the hill on mules. Why not build a little railroad for the purpose, which could be operated at much less expense? "But what would those do who now make their living by driving the mules?" asked Pedro. The simple business scheme is refused. Wastefulness continues. The owner's employees draw immense salaries, and how much they steal besides does not appear, except in the opulent manner in which they live.

Will the mine always stand this waste, this drain? Will there not come a day when the vein will run out? And then? Well, then the silver king and those who are sucking his wealth will collapse.

Among them all there is one who foresees such a result. Pedro's wife had dugged as a peon until the mine was opened. She remembered that part of her life and had no desire to return to it. Why not from this river of wealth on which they were floating turn aside something to support them in case the fountain should dry up?

And so she did. Instead of putting away a few copper coins at a time as her father-in-law had done with which to buy his rock, she took $1,000 bills and hid them. For years she stored away these bills. No one knew that they were being hidden, no one knew their hiding place. The waste, the extravagance, the money sucking by employees, relations, dependents continued, but every now and again the former peon woman hid away a thousand dollar bill.

True enough, what Senora Alvarado foresaw at last came about. The earth taken out of the mine became less rich. Instead of producing $30,000 a day it produced but a few hundred dollars to the ton. All it was worth must be paid to those who carried it from the mine into the valley and for getting the silver out of it. Pedro had seen his fortune loom up almost in a night; now he saw it sinking rapidly away. Then to crown his loss water appeared in his mine.

Water is the great danger, the great trouble when it comes, in mining. Tunnels must be built, expensive pumps must be put in, either one or both. Pedro had but one business idea in his head. That was to hold on to his property. But now even that idea had ceased to be practicable. His mine was no longer valuable unless worked on business principles, and Pedro was not a business man.

Since there had been nothing put away, so there was nothing when the end came. The man who had given away and wasted millions now found himself unable to give or waste any longer. It was the old story of the fairy who had raised palaces and other luxuries for the pauper, by muttering another incantation caused them to vanish.

Then Senora Alvarado, who had been tucking away thousand dollar bills very conveniently, died. In distributing her effects a maid who had been a long while in her service was asked if there was anything that had belonged to her mistress she would like to have. She said there was an old quilt the senora had always used which it would gratify her to possess. The beloved woman had slept under it for many years and would never let it go out of her own keeping. Surely this would be a treasured souvenir.

But Pedro remonstrated against the faithful servant having nothing but an old quilt much worn and not over clean. He urged the maid to name something of greater value. She, however, clung to the quilt and would not be comforted without this article so intimately associated with her mistress.

Now, Pedro was aware that his wife had not sympathized with him in his extravagance; indeed, she had repeatedly warned him that he would come to grief by it. Knowing this he wondered if the good woman had not put something away for a rainy day. The eagerness of the maid to possess the quilt caused him to suspect that something might be hidden in it. Instead of giving it he began to rip it. Out came a thousand dollar bill. Ripping on he found another, and so, as Pedro had grown fabulously rich overnight in finding silver under a rock; he now gained a fortune in an old quilt. He took out 800 thousand dollar bills—quite enough to soothe him for the running out of his mine and to enable him to live handsomely for the rest of his days.

Pedro Alvarado yielding to the inevitable turned over his mine to others. Some Americans are the new owners and are working it on modern principles. Meanwhile the owner lives on the income of the 800 one-thousand-dollar bills that were successively saved up by his more farseeing wife in the old quilt through a long term of years.

There is an unexplained feature in this story that, appealing as it does to the curiosity, is the most important part of it. Why did the senior Alvarado put all the little money he had in the rock that covered the mine, and why did he pledge his son under oath not to sell it? The only possible solution seems to be that some Spaniards years ago prospected in the region and from the trend of veins of silver found suspected that the top of the hill in question contained the same metal. This may have been known to the Indians and been handed down from one generation to another. That the hill contained the immense treasure that Pedro junior discovered no one could have known. This must of necessity be one of the remarkable freaks of fate.

NAPOLEON'S TAILOR.

One Man Who Dared to Disobey His Imperial Master.

The diary of Pommes de la Siboutie (born 1780, died in 1803), recently translated into English, has something about Napoleon, that remarkable man who continues to be the most interesting figure in European history. Here is one about Napoleon's carelessness in dress and what came of it:

In 1810, when Napoleon went to Compiègne to receive Marie Louise, his sister, the Princess Borghese said to him: "Your clothes are badly cut and do not fit you. You are so obstinate about not wearing braces—your trousers always look as if they were falling off!" "Well," answered the emperor, "what do you advise me to do about it? Can you recommend another tailor?"

"Have a talk with Constant." Constant, the emperor's valet, was sent for and named one Leger, who was tailor to Murat, Prince Eugene, Joseph and Jerome Bonaparte. A messenger was sent to summon him, and he arrived at Compiègne the next day. From that moment he made everything Napoleon wore. He consistently ignored his imperial patron's suggestions concerning his clothes. For instance, the emperor wished the skirts of his tunics to be turned back, like those of Frederick the Great. "I should not think of allowing such a thing, sire! You would look absurd, and my reputation would be lost. The eyes of the whole world are upon your majesty, and if you were seen wearing such a uniform as you propose it would be a disadvantage to you, and I should have to bear the blame. I would not make you such a tunic if you offered me the whole of your empire."

Grim Relics.
A prison sale is held annually in Paris. The articles offered for sale are the clothes of murdered people, the instruments with which the crimes have been committed and the effects which have belonged to the deceased prisoners. Articles which have been taken to the prefecture of police and have not been claimed are also sold. The proceeds go to the Paris almshouse. Unclaimed jewelry is usually bought by ordinary brokers, but the articles which have belonged to criminals, especially those who are notorious, are bought at high prices.
