The Dreamer

He dreamed of proud achievements that were to be his own;
He had the splendid visions that to the great are shown;
He looked far in the future, beholding wonders there
That to the world were hidden; his gift was rare and fair.
He dreamed of great advances that men should bring about;
He dreamed of peace triumphant, and of war's final rout;
He dreamed of labor's triumph, of want and wrong and greed,
With sin and sickness banished; the world from sorrow freed.
He had such dreams as poets and conquerors have dreamed;
But on his brow no chaplet, no wealth of laurel gleamed;
To him there came no honors, no triumph made him glad;
He had his splendid visions—but they were all he had.

—S. E. Kiser.

Maine Remains Dry!

The article on 2d page was prepared and printed from the published reports of Tuesday; the reports of to-day however are encouraging and state that while the vote is too close for comfort, Maine is still a prohibition, state and her voters do not want the amendment repealed.

I. O. O. F. Notes

A new stove for the Lodge room has been purchased and will soon be put into position.

As fall of the year and cooler weather approaches, the Lodge members take on renewed vigor and are preparing for a season's work.

A few changes are soon to be made in Odd Fellows block; the room formerly used as a barber shop will be used as a paraffin room and will be connected with the upper floor by a flight of stairs.

During the vacation season, just closed, several absent members have been at home as well as a few visitors, and their presence in the Lodge room quite frequently has been very pleasing and helpful. Keeping up the social side of life goes a long way towards making men what they should be.

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Antrimville, Md.

A DISASTROUS FIRE

Visited Antrim Centre Monday Morning and Removed one of Her Nice Summer Homes

Our people were disturbed while taking their morning nap on Monday of this week, for at about 4.30 the ringing of the fire bell brought everybody out, and many of them, particularly the fire boys, went to the scene of the fire which it was at once learned to be "Bigelow Bungalow" at the Centre, some two miles from Antrim village.

When first seen by Miss I. Mae Lord, who lives next door, it was between barn and ell; she gave the alarm by telephone, and soon a company of men were on the ground and in a short time the village men were present, but the fire had such a start and there being no considerable amount of water near, it was impossible to save the house and barn, which together with the ell were entirely consumed in a short space of time. Most of the contents were also burned, although many articles of household furniture were removed to a place of safety. Three small out buildings were saved, they being the garage, woodshed and ice house.

This place was owned by E. A. Bigelow of Winchester, Mass., treasurer of the E. Howard Clock Co., of Boston, New York and Chicago, who with his family have occupied it all summer, only leaving for their Massachusetts home by auto Sunday afternoon a little after 2 o'clock. This was formerly the Newman place and was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow some three years since who one year ago purchased the Holman place adjoining; they have remodeled the house at considerable expense, added new piazzas, had the grounds nicely laid out, and had everything nearly to their liking. It was an ideal summer home, most beautifully located, nearly 1200 feet above sea level, overlooking the surrounding country with its hills and mountains, and was greatly enjoyed by the Bigelow family, who have the sympathy of all in their misfortune.

It is not definitely known just how the fire started, as there was no fire in the house when the family left it Sunday. Mr. Bigelow's loss is estimated at about $5,000, with a small amount of insurance.

Mr. Bigelow is undecided as yet about rebuilding.

SUFFERERS WHO SAY they have tried everything without benefit are the people we are looking for. We want them to know from glad experience that Ely's Cream Balm will conquer Cold in the Head, Hay Fever, and obstinate forms of Nasal Catarrh. This remedy acts directly on the inflamed, sensitive membranes. Cleansing, soothing and healing. One trial will convince you of its healing power. Price 50c. All druggists, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., New York.

"They say there are as many microbes on a dollar bill as on a fly."
"Gee, but I'd like to get near enough to swat a few of 'em."
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Red or Blue, Which?

When the decorating was being done for our recent "Old Home Day," and in fact almost every time when bunting is used, the question in the minds of a few arises which color shall be at the top: red or blue? Of course there are as many opinions as there are people and all alike seem equally sure of their ground in the matter; however, to satisfy herself, a certain young lady in Antrim—member of the W. R. C. and much interested in matters patriotic—corresponded with parties in Washington, D. C., and New York City, getting expert opinion from headquarters, and the following are extracts from a letter which she received. By the reading of which it will be seen at once just what to do and will doubtless settle the matter with our people for all time:

"It is for the private citizen to determine when he will display the flag, although patriotism would promote its display on all patriotic occasions. It is merely a matter of taste as to the form in which the flag or bunting should be displayed, although of course the stars should always be at the top, and nothing should be done to discredit or dishonor the flag."

Business is Better

Better tone is noted in general trade at the jobbing centers, not only of the east, but also of the west and south, says the Boston Globe. The market signs are propitious for the autumn months. Particularly pleasing are the good reports concerning two of New England's greatest industries. There is a larger demand for cotton goods and more activity in footwear. When the fabric mills and the shoe factories get busy it generally follows, as day the night, that business is prosperous in other lines.

Red Cross Seal Campaign Opens

National Office in Washington—Plan to sell 100,000,000—Over $300,000 realized last year.

If expectations for the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals this year, as announced by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today, are realized, 100,000,000 of holiday stickers or a million dollars worth, will be sold.

The National Tuberculosis Association will this year for the first time be National Agent for the American Red Cross in handling the sale of seals. A new National office has been opened in Washington and an initial order has been placed for 50,000,000 seals, although it is expected that double that number will be sold. The charge to local agents is 12 1/2% of the net proceeds, the national agent furnishing the seals and advertising material, and taking back all unsold stamps at the end of the season. Postmaster General Hitchcock has approved the design of the seal. Owing to the fact that many people last year used Red Cross Seals for postage, the Post Office Department has issued orders that letters or packages bearing seals on the face will not be carried through the mails.

This will be the third year that the seals have been sold on a National basis. In 1908 over $135,000 was realized from the sale; in 1909 nearly $225,000; and in 1910 nearly $310,000. The slogan for this year is "A Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Seals."

New York State led the sale last year with 5,955,872 seals, Ohio coming next with 3,743,427, and Wisconsin third with 2,770,112. In addition to these, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, California and Rhode Island sold over a million each. Nashville, Tenn., selling 200,000 was the only city receiving over 100,000 seals which sold every one of them.

The New Hampshire Branch of the Red Cross will sell these stamps this year. A large sale is hoped for.

Digestion and Assimilation

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally.

FIRE SALE SATURDAY

An Unfortunate Speculation Leads to a Fortune

The men who write the popular songs of the day are constantly on the alert to catch new ideas or mould old odd sayings and phrases into songs. Thus, when Al. Bryan, one of the staff of Jerome H. Remick & Co., lost a little fortune in Wall Street the other day and bemoaned his loss to the head of the firm, embodying in the same a little hint that some advance royalty would be welcome, Mr. Remick replied, saying, "What's the use, Bryan? You'll do the same thing over again." To Bryan this was worth more than all he had lost, for inside of twenty-four hours he had written the words and Al. Gumble the music, the new song entitled "YOU'LL DO THE SAME THING OVER." It has some eight or nine verses, with a different chorus for each verse. We quote the first verse and chorus:

You're never happy until you are wed;
Soon you get married, but when
The honeymoon is over, you'll wish you were single again.

Wife goes back to her mother in Maine,
You gently murmur, "Boys, never again.
Once, you know, is enough for me;
Gee, ain't I glad I am free!"—but

CHORUS
You'll do the same thing over, over again, over again,
You'll do the same thing over, over and over again.

You will meet with some nice little girlie,
She'll smile at you sweetly, and then,
You'll go buy the ring, and you'll do the same thing
Over and over again.

The Maine Verdict

America's pioneer prohibition state has voted to abandon that policy, presumably to follow the recent example of New Hampshire and of Vermont in permitting some measure of local option, says the Boston Herald. While the lawmakers will have to take affirmative action to get such a measure on the statute books, it may be assumed that they will regard this as their manifest duty in view of the deliberate mandate of the electorate. Maine has discussed prohibition at nearly every election for thirty years. It has figured as an issue in repeated campaigns. Only last autumn the political control of the state was completely overturned in order to give expression to the demand for a change.

As was expected, the cities were large in their vote for repeal. However, a hope remains that the legislature will be made up in a manner to keep things about as they now are.

"Why do they call these dentists' offices dental parlors?" asked Smith of his friend.

"Why, parlor is the old-fashioned name for drawing room."—Presbyterian Standard.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY PILLS

FOR BACKACHE, KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

HUNTED BY A WALRUS.

The Big, But Get Quite Sober Before He Was Done For. In George Borup's "A Tenderfoot With Peary" appears an exciting incident of walrus hunting. During a raid upon a herd of fifty walrus asleep on a pau "it was blowing some, and the choppy waves made the shooting look as if the guns had spiral barrels." The ineffective target practice produced these hair raising developments a few seconds later: "Suddenly a giant bull rose out of the water just along side of Westarkoupa. He threw his harpoon, but as the barb came off he might as well have heaved a lead pencil. The walrus gave a derisive grunt, dived, and a second later shot out of the water on the other side, deluged us with liquid and came down slap bang on the gunwale of the boat opposite me."

"By this time Westarkoupa was high in the air and out for an altitude record. Instead of throwing his harpoon he threw his soul into his yells and just spat in the brute's face. The other huskies were trying to back water or hit him over the head with the oars, nearly sideswiping me and incidentally short circuiting their cussing at Westarkoupa, the walrus and everything is general.

"All this time the walrus was sitting alongside of me, asking if there were any more at home like Westarkoupa. It was easier to pull his whiskers or smash his mug with a fist than shoot. If I held the gun on my shoulder the muzzle would strike his forehead, so, firing from the hip, I gave him the entente cordiale."

Johnnie Knew.

A teacher in an uptown school was giving her small charges a lesson in politeness the other day.

"Now, when," said she, "should you say 'Excuse me, please?'"

There was a moment's silence, then a very small boy put up his hand.

"Well, Johnnie?"
"Please, ma'am, you should say 'Excuse me, please,' when you sneeze at the table and don't turn away your head quick enough."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fish and Brain.

The saying that fish is the best brain food comes of an old long tongue windbag years ago saying: "Thought is impossible without phosphorus." So a Swiss chemist, knowing that fish contained phosphorus, put two and two together, and brought forth a saying that will never die.

She Knew All Right.

"You don't know what that's a picture of, Johnny?" said Mrs. Laspling in a tone of reproof. "You ought to read your ancient history more. That is the temple of Dinah at Emphasis."—Chicago Tribune.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or back effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

State News

The Peterboro Transcript was very unfortunate last Wednesday night by being burned out, losing their entire plant but saving subscription list, book accounts and valuable papers.

Announcement is made of the appointment of Rev. T. Ross Hicks of the Arlington Street M. E. church at Nashua to become pastor of the Claremont church to succeed the late Rev. George M. Curl. Mr. Hicks expects to take up the work in Claremont, Oct. 1.

Chief of Police James Ryan of Milford, was murderously assaulted at 1 a. m. last week Monday. It is not known whether it was the work of yeggmen who were about to break into the postoffice near at hand, or local toughs who were trying to "get back" at the chief. He received two crushing blows on the head, which rendered him partly unconscious. He was able, however, to see that there were three men in the group, and that as he fell they fled in the darkness. He was also able to call for help over the telephone from the police station near by.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Gentle Reminder

It seems almost needless but conditions warrant us mentioning the fact that for several years past, at the top of the date line on fourth page of the REPORTER, has been inserted each week two lines stating that "Notices of Concerts, Lectures, Entertainments, etc., to which an admission fee is charged, or from which a revenue is derived, must be paid for as advertisements by the line." This of course applies where we do no job printing in connection with such entertainment, in which case a short reading notice is inserted free. As this is a matter of business from our point of view as well as from the view point of the committee in charge, our position will be very readily understood.

Woman's Danger Periods Made Safe

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Here is proof:

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the Change of Life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I had a tumor.

"I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Nathan B. Groaton, 51 No. Main St., Natick, Mass.

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Cornwallville, N. Y.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time for Change of Life, nervousness, and a fibroid growth.

"Two doctors advised me to go to the hospital, but one day while I was away visiting, I met a woman who told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and I know it helped me wonderfully. I am very thankful that I was told to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. Boughton, Cornwallville, N. Y., Greene Co.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

AN OLD GOLD BRICK

Used For Fleecing the Innocents a Generation Ago.

THE PATENT SAFE SWINDLE.

It Was a Plausible Trick That Generally Caught the Coin and Sent the Bewildered Victim Out of Town in a Hurry For Fear of Arrest.

Although the essentials of imposture remain unchanged from generation to generation, so that the rogue of today would have no trouble in recognizing his counterpart of the seventeenth century, nevertheless there are fashions in thievery, as in everything else. Old tricks are cast off like threadbare coats in favor of newer ones, and these in turn are discarded when publicity has rendered them familiar and therefore less effective, but plausibility and address are the indispensable qualities of the gentry who live by their wits.

The newest type of confidence man is the get-rich-quick individual who breathes of money and wouldn't turn his hand to a small "job." He angles for victims with new corporations and great business ventures for bait, but he is the same man who a generation ago raked in the shekels by means of the patent safe game. This game is now an outworn fashion. But it had its points.

Let us suppose a countryman, carrying in hand, to have alighted at the union station and set out to see the sights. Although his name is conveniently printed on the outside of his bag or set down in a legible hand on the hotel register, he is amazed to find himself hospitably greeted by an utter stranger, who knows his name and the town from which he hails. The stranger is an old friend whom the countryman is ashamed to think he cannot remember—place is the word. But the stranger is very affable and lays himself out to entertain the newcomer. They stroll about town in company, visit a bar or two, exchange reminiscences and at the end of a few hours are bosom companions. The stranger invariably pays the score, has a lordly disdain of money; good fellowship is its own reward.

The two stroll by devious ways until finally while they are walking arm in arm down a quiet bystreet the stranger's eye is caught by a curious object lying on the pavement. He pauses to examine it. It is a miniature globe about the size of a billiard ball. The stranger turns it over curiously in his fingers and finally sees that it is fitted with a small plug, which comes out under pressure. Continuing his explorations, he then unscrews the top of the plug, takes out a piece of crumpled paper, shows his dupe the empty box and throws the paper on the ground. There is a similar bit of paper in the small chamber at the end of the plug, but this the countryman does not see. The two then stroll on, discussing the mysterious ball.

Presently they come upon a worried looking man, who is studying the ground with a face the pattern of despair. The roper observes him and wants to know whether he has lost something.

"Lost something, indeed!" says the man. "Why, I've lost an invention of mine that I wouldn't have taken $10,000 for. It was a patent fire safe which would save hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of papers and valuables every year. I was just on my way to Blank & Blank's, the safe manufacturers, to get one made, and here I have lost the model."

The roper is evidently much touched by the inventor's distress. He produces the wooden globe and is immediately overwhelmed with expressions of gratitude.

"But what good is that invention of yours?" asks the roper.

"Well," says the inventor with pride, "you see, it is set on props. When there is a fire all you have to do is to knock out the props and the safe rolls down an incline right out of the building as neat as you please. There's a box inside to hold the papers. There is a paper in this box right now."

At that the roper winks slyly at the farmer and whispers in his ear, "I'll make him a bet on that piece of paper."

"Come," says the roper, "that's a pretty tall yarn. I don't believe there's any paper in that ball. I'll bet there isn't a scrap of paper in it."

"I'll bet you $1,000 there's a paper in it," says the inventor, much incensed.

"I haven't that much with me," says the roper, "but I'll just bet you a hundred on it." With that he takes out a number of bills, say $50 or so, and a bank check for the other $50. To his friend the farmer he says, "Will you just lend me $50 on this check until I can get to my hotel?"

The farmer sees that his friend is sure to win. He advances the $50, when, behold, the inventor draws out the plug, removes the concealed paper from its small chamber and collects the bet. The roper is decidedly crestfallen, but while he is still lamenting his folly a policeman rushes up, charges him with gambling and makes a grab for him. Roper flees, but the farmer is caught. After protesting his innocence the farmer is allowed to depart. Still fearful of arrest, he flees the city. When he presents his check he discovers that roper, inventor and policeman are all confidence men who have enriched themselves at his expense.—Chicago Record Herald.

GETTING THE FACTS.

His Second Story Probably Differed From the First One.

Long experience as a consulting attorney has given Mr. Mooney a judicial habit of mind. He never accepts the facts at par value, but always leads those facts into the rear office and drops acid in their eyes. The other day a friend rushed in, warm and red.

"Mooney," said the friend excitedly, "I've been insulted. Hinks just met me and called me all sorts of names. We've had trouble over that partition matter, you know. He said I was a pettifogger and a thief and a scoundrel and a perjurer and a wire haired thug."

"Um!" said Mr. Mooney, sitting farther down in his chair and looking at the speaker over his glasses. "Um! And what do you propose to do about it?"

"What do I propose to do about it? Why, I was so astounded at the moment that I could make no reply at all. But, now that I have somewhat recovered myself, I have determined to go down to Hinks' office and knock his block off. I'll beat him to a quivering froth."

"Um!" said Mr. Mooney, slipping down a notch. "Um! So would I if any one called me the names that Hinks called you. But before you go suppose you sit down with me for a moment."

The indignant friend took a chair. "Now," said Mooney, dangling his eyeglasses, "what are the facts in the case?"—Cincinnati Times-Star.

No Caste in Snores.

The cause and cure of snoring concern all classes, says the London Chronicle. We have record that both the house of lords and the workhouse have suffered from it. There was a former Duke of Norfolk who fell into the habit of sleeping audibly in the lords, and it happened that he was hard at it on one occasion when a bill concerning the parish of Great Snoring, in Norfolk, came before the house. The roar of laughter with which the bill's title was greeted awakened the duke and relieved his fellow peers. At the other end of the social scale we have the poor law commission minority's commendation of the ingenious workhouse master who divided the old men at night so that the snorers and the deaf men slept in one ward and the rest in another.

Yearned For Excitement. "Yes, the great society leader is absolutely ennuied."

"Tired of everything, eh?" "Positively." The last time I saw her she was faintly wondering in a bewildered way whether she'd better take up aviation or get a divorce."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HILLSBORO

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Putnam Russell, when their daughter, Georgia E., was united in marriage to George W. Boynton of Hillsborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boynton. The ceremony was performed just at noon by the Rev. Walter F. Whitney, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of the parents of the bride and groom. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Gladys Pike, a cousin of the bride, who also acted as the bride's attendant. The decorations were unusually beautiful. The bride was beautifully gowned in white messaline and carried pink roses. The double ring service was used. After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served. The happy couple started immediately in an automobile for a wedding trip, with the good wishes of their friends. The bride is organist and the groom the choir leader of the local Methodist church. They have lived in this town since their childhood and have many friends. On their return they will be at home after Oct. 1 at their home on School street.
