The Dawn

Barely three hundred years thy annals reckon,
Yet five-score millions cherish thee,
Their home,
Fair Land: well drest thou new ages beckon
To empire grander than Imperial Rome
Italian, Greek, Arabian—all the rest—
In thee be one, each championing his fellow
In rights made equal, and no man oppressed?
Shall Art and Science, flinging far their glory
Beyond an Edison's prophetic dreams,
Dwarf present triumphs to a childhood story—
Old Ocean measured with his tribute streams?
Shall ended wars redeem both life and treasure
Now squandered on embattled land and wave?
Shall reckless wealth, now sunk in soulless pleasure,
No longer kill, but cure, uplift and save?
Still broods the Night upon us; all is hidden;
Yet not that midnight veil so closely drawn:
Look Eastward, O despairing Soul, o'er-ridden!
Behold the signs—yon ruddy signs—or Dawn!

New England Fruit Show

The management of the New England Fruit Show has just issued the premium list for the second bi-annual fruit show, one of the most attractive pamphlets of the kind that has ever come to our notice. The premiums offered are as attractive as the list itself. The exhibition is to be held in connection with the great Industrial and Educational Exposition of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. It takes place in Horticultural hall, Oct. 23-28. Tickets to this exhibition include also the section in Mechanic's hall.

At the first exhibition, held two years ago, New Hampshire was exceedingly successful in capturing prizes, including among others every prize on Baldwin apples, and the splendid Governor Draper Cup, offered for the best exhibit in the show. All fruit growers having high class fruit are urged to enter their very best at this show. Premium lists can be obtained on application to B. S. Pickett, Durham, N. H.

NASAL CATARRH, an inflammation of the delicate membrane lining the air-passages, is not cured by any mixtures taken into the stomach. Don't waste time on them. Take Ely's Cream Balm through the nostrils, so that the fevered, swollen tissues are reached at once. Never mind how long you have suffered nor how often you have been disappointed, we know Ely's Cream Balm is the remedy you should use. All drug gists, 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

In small towns particularly, where every man knows every other man and comes in daily contact with him, do we hear men cast slurs at the man who is striving to better things. In politics as well as in business is this attitude apparent. Some men who by birth or circumstances occupy prominent positions are apt to look with coldness upon any suggestion which does not come from one of their particular exclusive circle.

MIDNIGHT FIRE

At just eleven o'clock on Saturday night the alarm of fire aroused the village people and practically the whole town, for the light from the burning buildings on a high elevation disturbed everybody's rest.

The farm house, ell, sheds and barn, owned and occupied by John C. Butterfield and wife, situated in Clinton Village on the road to Gregg lake, were totally destroyed by fire, there being no way of saving them after fire had started. The fire department from Antrim village promptly responded but lack of water rendered their efforts of no avail; they assisted in saving household furniture from the burning buildings, the barn at this time being practically consumed with its contents, consisting of one horse, calf, pigs, hay, farming tools, carriages, etc.

Neighbors seeing the fire hastened to the place and assisted Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield who had retired for the night under usual conditions.

The fire was probably set by the eldest son, John A., aged 45 years, who being partially blind had always resided at home and received the tender care of his parents; of late his mind had appeared somewhat affected, although nothing had occurred to cause the parents to take unusual precaution in the matter. On Saturday night he went to his room as usual, presumably, but evidently to make preparations for the awful deed; seemingly he gathered a few of his belongings with his own money and some money belonging to his parents, together with some valuable papers, kept in a small trunk, and left the house; going to the barn he apparently took the pains to lock doors on the inside. Further than this everything is a mystery, but it appears that he set fire to the barn and perished in the flames for after the fire his body was found and taken proper care of.

The reported stories that the parents were locked into their room and could not get out till helped arrived are denied by the family, for Mr. Butterfield was first to discover the fire and gain entrance to the barn but the smoke and flames immediately drove him back.

Prayers were said over the remains of the deceased son on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. George Sweet of the Congregational church, and interment was in Maplewood cemetery.

It is indeed a dull day when one can't pick up a newspaper—the political complexion seems to matter not—and read something about New Hampshire politics. Either the governor and council are doing something or nothing; the public service commission is going to do something; the auditor's explanation don't explain; the highway situation needs expert attention; the U. S. Senatorial situation is getting more and more mixed; or when something is being done, nothing ought to be, and vice versa. Who reports these stories at so much per line; the friends of the administration? You tell!

THE REPORTER has heard a bit of criticism the past week or two for its utterances on matters of a public nature. This is what was expected; it is a part of our mission to keep our readers informed on these lines as well as on most every other. This medium will do its best to keep in touch with state, county and district affairs, and give it out from time to time as circumstances require and with such comments as is thought proper.

Did Canada have any idea that the United States wanted everything when she asked for a bite? It certainly looked that way! Well, "the world do move," and some day these modern ideas will surely drift across the line to the north of us, even if some of the non-progressives do work hard to hold things back!

EX-GOV. QUINBY APPROVES

Would Import Canadian Let-Well-Enough-Alone Spirit

The following interview with former governor Quinby will be read with interest by our subscribers:

"Apart from my own views on reciprocity, I shall never be a party to a tariff wall against the Canadian 'let-weel-enough-alone' spirit," said former Gov. H. B. Quinby of New Hampshire at the Hotel Touraine in Boston Friday night. "A free import would do us all good. Sometimes I think there's a tendency here, when times are too good, to sit down and study out how they can be made worse."

The governor has no fear for Republican prospects in his own state. He admits a certain amount of insurgentism exists, but he does not believe that it is founded upon any specific grievances. The failure of reciprocity, he believes, will clear the political situation, for it has never been popular among the country sections, who feared its effect upon prices for field and dairy produce. Ex-Gov. Bachelder of the National Grange has his home in New Hampshire, and has devoted much time and energy to speaking and writing against the measure.

Turning to non-political issues, former Governor Quinby points with pride to the foresight which New Hampshire is displaying in providing for summer visitors by building splendid motor roads and hotels. During the last two years between 100 and 200 miles of permanent public roads have been built. A big hotel is being projected at Lebanon, which will be the headquarters of automobilists bound for the White mountains and stock is being subscribed at Laconia, the former governor's own home, for another hotel which will cost $100,000. "This policy will be continued until there is no state better adapted to welcome summer visitors than the state of New Hampshire," declared the governor.

One of Antrim's Needs!

There are only a very few things that Antrim needs—she has about everything an up-to-date town can boast of—and one is a chemical fire engine. A big expense did you say? Look at it from a business standpoint, and just consider how much less one will cost than either of the two houses last burned in town, both of which could have been saved by such an apparatus. This is no day-dream. Many a town waits till she has a disastrous fire and then at once purchases a chemical—you have known such cases; Antrim should not do that, but lock the barn before the horse is stolen. This is a timely suggestion, so considered by many of our tax payers, and should be taken under advisement by our voters at an early date.

Two Hundred Twenty-one Post Cards

Were received by G. Miles Nesmith on Tuesday, it being his birthday: and if anyone thinks he don't enjoy it they haven't mentioned it to him. Two hundred twenty-one, and not near all his friends heard from. Miles wants his friends to know that their kindness is greatly appreciated, and he would be pleased to thank them all personally but he has neither time nor opportunity to do it.

A little bit of a howl is being "offered up" because of the fact that some political matter is being sent out from Concord in the form of a news letter, and all because the material appears to favor Gov. Bass. These howlers don't say a word nor would't even think of it, if every writer in the state had something detrimental to say of the present governor and his road-building matters!

Did President Taft gain or lose in the recent Canadian election? He said he "was greatly disappointed," and no doubt he was. Who is the winner in a race can only be known after the running and the result is announced by the judges.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is still a great leader and he lost his grasp in a good cause. He will be heard from again.

Held For Superior Court

L. K. Merrill was brought before Henry W. Wilson, justice of the peace, on complaint of Mrs. Minnie W. Keeser, a milliner of Bennington, for obtaining money under false pretense and was ordered to furnish bonds in the sum of $500, to appear at the next term of superior court, in default of which he was taken to jail in Manchester by Deputy Sheriff C. H. Dutton. The way he obtained the money, he represented himself as an agent for the Delineator and several other magazines. To some he sells the three for one dollar per year some for $1.50 and some for $2 a year. Mrs. Keeser was suspicious after she had subscribed for the magazines, so she wrote to the Butterick Publishing Co., asking if they had an agent by that name in this vicinity, to which they replied that they had not. Mrs. Keeser located him in Hillsboro where he was doing the same business, and an officer was sent to arrest him and he was taken to Bennington. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Auction Sale

By C. H. Dutton, Auctioneer, Hancock, N. H.

Mrs. Hattie Scott, administratrix of the estate of the late Harriett Thurston, and agent for the heirs, will sell at public auction on the premises in Mill village, Stoddard, on Monday, October 2, at one o'clock p. m., the real estate and personal property of said deceased. See posters.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Dr. J. C. Cheney pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, and acts on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials.

Gregg Pond Items

Charles E. Cross of Providence, R. I., is also at Bonnie Doon for a week.

J. P. Maxim, wife and son, of Westerly, Mass., are at Linger Longer Inn.

Charles H. Knowlton, of Blake Pump Co., of Cambridge, Mass., and wife, are at Lookoff cottage. This is Mr. Knowlton's first visit to Antrim, and he is very much pleased with the pond and his catch of fish. He has made for many years annual trips to some pond or lake in N. H. or Maine for a two weeks' stay; came here from White Horse Beach, Monument, Mass., and reports it wet and damp about the sea coast.

Stowell and Chamberlain, who were painting the buildings at the J. C. Butterfield place, lost the most of their rigging by fire. The destroying of these farm buildings will be felt greatly by occupants of the cottages about Gregg pond, as they were always sure of receiving extra nice milk and eggs from Mr. Butterfield.

One of the most interesting escapades seen about the pond was that by a Haverhill, Mass., nurse and a N. H. school marm; their entrance through a window to the Parvillon and hurrying from same when being detected. It was thought they were dancing the can-can, though the spectators may not have been qualified judges.

As after discussing at the Annual Town Meeting, the Road Agent stated that $200. would place the railing and road in good shape, from Clinton to Brown's Corner at the west of pond, and the appropriations were increased $500 for same, we are wondering has it been expended? A bad hole in the center of the wheel-way near the cottages brings same to the attention of all traveling this way. There was never time for better access to dirt to make this road good.
CHARLES R. JAMESON.

Digestion and Assimilation

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally.

Extremely Polite.

The forms of Mexican politeness to the stranger are sometimes embarrassing. Miss Mary Barton, who visited the country to paint landscapes and tells her experience in "Impressions of Mexico," says that "people seemed anxious to help me in all possible ways, from the railway conductor, who invited me to dine with him, to the very smart young man that I met in the postoffice when I had a number of invitations in my hand and who offered to lick the stamps for me."

Shutting Him Off.

The Dad—My son, I want to tell you that the secret of my success, as it must be of any man's, is hard work. I—The Son—Sh, dad! I don't care to hear other people's secrets, and I am too much of a gentleman to take advantage of information gained in that way. Say no more.—Toledo Blade.

Tasty Poison.

Customer—The poison may be excellent, but the rats won't take it. You'll have to make it more tasty. Druggist—I've tried that already, but the apprentice boys eat it.—Ellegende Blatter.

There is considerably less reason why the plural of mouse should be mice than why the plural of spouse should be spise. Any bigamist will admit as much.—Puck.

Church Items

From the Editor's Notes

Rev. Martin Kneeland, who has previously spoken to Antrim audiences, will speak here on the subject of sabbath observance in the near future.

The Fellowship Class of the Baptist church has arranged for Mr. J. L. Harbour of Boston to lecture on "Blessed be Humor", on October 11. Further announcement later.

The Presbyterian Mission Circle will hold their annual Harvest Festival Friday evening, Oct. 13. The regular meeting will occur Oct. 5, one week, earlier than the usual date. No supper will be served but there will be plenty of work.

Miss S. Josephine Wing gave vocal selections at the morning service at the Methodist church on Sunday and also sang in the Sunday school. At a union service at the Baptist church in the evening, she sang several selections and assisted in the chorus singing. On Tuesday evening at the League meeting at the Methodist church many were pleased to again hear her sing.

Rally Day will be observed by the Methodist Sunday school on Sunday, Oct. 8, by a special service in the morning and at the session of the Sunday school and a concert in the evening.

The rally idea will be continued throughout the week and on Tuesday evening following Rev. O. S. Baketel of New York, well and favorably known by most of our people, will give a lecture presumably on the "Holy Land" through which he has been traveling. This service is in charge of the Epworth League in connection with the Sunday school, and the other young people's societies of the village churches have been invited to be present.

A Boston Street.

It was one of the older conductors breaking in a new recruit who had shown that he was not particularly quick to catch an idea. The car came to Webster street, and the older conductor whispered the name to the recruit. The latter did not understand, and the conductor, losing patience, said, "Webster—Webster's dictionary." And the passengers were amazed to hear the new man bawl out, "Webster's dictionary."—Boston Post.

Touching Him.

Visitor—I saw your husband in the crowd in town today. In fact, he was so close that I could have touched him. Hostess—That's strange. At home he is so close that nobody can touch him!

True Courage.

True courage has so little to do with anger that there lies always the strongest suspicion against it where this passion is highest. True courage is cool and calm.

Cheerful.

"She's of a very cheerful disposition, isn't she?"
"Yes, indeed. She even sings while washing dishes."—Detroit Free Press.

There are few things reason can discover with so much certainty and ease as its own insufficiency.—Collier.

FROM THE TROPICS TO HEAL US

In Central America many natives are gathering the seeds of this plant, Cedron Seed, a rare medicine that has valuable curative power. But few drug stores carry this seed, owing to the high cost of the article.

This country is a large consumer of this costly seed because it enters into the famous catarrh remedy, Peruna, sold the world over.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, carrying catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realize it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with. Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my left side and under the left shoulder blade, I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least excitement would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured."

MRS. C. C. GOKEY, Northfield, Vt.
If you have any of the symptoms Mrs. Gokey mentions, it is your duty to protect yourself.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is what you need. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. Ask your druggist.

Grim Relics.

A prison sale is held annually in Paris. The articles offered for sale are the clothes of murdered people, the instruments with which the crimes have been committed and the effects which have belonged to the deceased prisoners. Articles which have been taken to the prefecture of police and have not been claimed are also sold. The proceeds go to the Paris almshouse. Unclaimed jewelry is usually bought by ordinary brokers, but the articles which have belonged to criminals, especially those who are notorious, are bought at high prices.

The Parents' Joke.

Some parents seem unable to resist the temptation to make a joke with the Christian names of their children, says the London Chronicle. The Somerset House registers testify to the existence of a Mr. Mineral Waters, a Frosty Winter and an Alfred Days Weeks. There is something to be said in favor of naming children in the order of their arrival—Primus, Secundus, etc.—but it is unfortunate for a well known Canadian named Cumber that it should have fallen to his lot to be Quintus, for his name is always appearing in the papers as Mr. Q. Cumber.

The Only Mourner.

An Unmatchable Array of Women's New Tailored Suits for Fall and Winter wear

In presenting this wonderful showing of suits we have thrown every effort into procuring the very best in every way you have ever seen at popular prices. The three cardinal points of good tailoring are conspicuous.

THE FIRST IS STYLE—The smartest models in plain tailored, slightly or elaborately trimmed effects, faithfully reflecting the cleverest ideas and innovations on which Paris justly prides herself are here.

THEN CORRECT MATERIALS—Every correct sort is shown, such as Diagonal, Cheviot, Wide Waive Serges, Lustrous Broadcloth, Rough Mixtures and Swagger Novelties, in all the proper shades.

FINALLY THE WORKMANSHIP, which is very important, for on skilled tailoring depends the wear, the fit and that undefinable chic which every fastidious woman demands. The range of sizes is very extensive from 14 misses to 41-inch bust with odd sizes for short-waisted figures that make fewer alterations necessary. We are determined, as always, to give you the smartest, best and most exclusive styles in suits at

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

TOMB IN A TOWER.

Near the well known seaport of Southampton, England, there is a remarkable edifice known as Petersen's tower. The erection is all the more singular because it marks the burying place of a certain John Petersen, a wealthy tea planter.

The man appears to have been rather an eccentric individual, and in order to prove to the world his belief in concrete as a building material set about the construction of this great tower. The building took many years to complete, but is entirely of concrete and by the time the final layers had been placed had reached an altitude of more than 300 feet. It is about forty years since the tower was erected, and its present condition is certainly a justification of the faith of the builder.

As has been indicated, Petersen left instructions that his body should be placed under the tower, and this was accordingly carried out. Another desire that the chamber at the summit should contain a light was defeated by the firm stand which Trinity House, the lighthouse authority, took on the matter. Such an illumination would have been visible for miles out to sea and would naturally have proved very misleading to sailors.—Scientific American.

PULLING THE COURT'S LEG.

A Practice the English Judge Did His Best to Discourage.

"Pachua is hereby charged with having on the 11th of January followed the court on its rising and while said court was in the act of mounting into its buggy came from behind and, seizing the court's dangling leg, the other foot being on the step, forcibly pulled back the court, frightening the horse and nearly caused an accident. The reason alleged for this by accused is that he wanted to hear the result of an application of his. The practice by petitioners of pulling the courts by the legs is one that should be discouraged. Accused only says he is a poor man, admitting the truth of the complaint. He is sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment."

Strange to relate, the lieutenant governor of the province on reading this sentence felt it necessary to intimate to the magistrate that neither the sentence itself nor the peculiar phraseology in which it was couched was calculated to meet with approval from minds running in legal grooves.

Berne and Its Bears.

Berne is surrounded by the blue green river Aare, and seven bridges cross into the picturesque suburbs; the view of the Alps is one of the finest to be had. One may walk through the streets of Berne, writes an American visitor, and find constant surprises. The odd fountains will be observed with interest. They were mostly built in the sixteenth century. There are a number of public institutions worth a visit—the historical museum, museum of industry and the museums of art and nature; several libraries and the public gardens, which contain the great bear pit so universally known, to say nothing of the quaint gates and the headquarters of the Postal union. Bears have been kept on public exhibition in Berne since 1480 in commemoration of the killing of one by the Duke of Zähringen on the site of the town.

When the Guitar Arrived.

The advent of the English guitar in the eighteenth century caused the disappearance of bandores, poliphants and similar wire strung instruments, or rather it supplanted them, for, owing to the use of fingers, the English guitar, though smaller, could be used for accompanying the voice as well as for solo performances. The instrument, which had a decorative appearance, is frequently depicted in the portraiture of the eighteenth century. It was made in various sizes, two of the smaller "to be managed by young ladies from seven to ten years of age, the other by ladies of ten and upward."

Fish Delusions.

There are two popular delusions about fish—one that they cannot live out of water and the other that they can live in any pure water, the food supply taking care of itself. As a matter of fact, there are fish in Africa which, having to exist in absolutely dry rivers for a portion of the year, have developed lungs, while in many an amateur's aquarium fish cannot live in the water provided owing to lack of food.

Suspicious.

"Very suspicious man, they say."
"Very. Bought a dictionary last week, and now he's counting the words to see if it contains as many as the publishers claim."

PETRIFIED TREES.

The "Stone Forest" One of California's Natural Wonders.

California, among many other natural wonders, contains a "stone forest." This is located in Sonoma county, only a few miles from the little resort of Callistoga Springs. This "forest" consists of a great many petrified trees, all of which are prostrate.

In respect to the great number of petrified trees and their immense size, the California "stone forest" surpasses that of Arizona. Strange to say, very little is known about these wonderful Sonoma county petrifications—so far as the general public is concerned. Many of these trees are of enormous size. The famous "Queen of the Forest" is a prehistoric redwood about eighty feet long and nearly twelve feet in diameter. It has been broken in several places, and these breaks are as clean as if cut off with a saw. A tree has grown up through one of the breaks and has attained quite a large size. Another giant tree known as the "Monarch" lies near by, which is almost ninety feet long and is without a break. This tree is a fir, and averages ten feet in diameter. Not far away is another giant son of the forest—a redwood that is about sixty feet long and nine feet in diameter. This tree is broken into many hundreds of pieces, yet it retains its shape almost perfectly. Scattered about for the area of several acres are many other pieces of petrification. So perfect has been the transmutation into stone that the grain of the wood still remains very clear, and the variety of the tree may be easily determined.—Scientific American.

A CRUSHING RETORT.

Mme. Songbird Paid Her Haughty Society Patron in Full.

Last year a prominent Boston society leader, in arranging a musical surprise at an elaborate dinner given to the town's elite, called on a singer of renown to engage her services for that event. It chanced that the singer was naturally independent. On the other hand, the caller was notoriously haughty. As a result this was what transpired between them:

After the visitor had announced the import of her coming, the singer succinctly said she would sing one number for $200, and that it would be a Wagnerian selection.

"The price we will not haggle over," said the visitor, "but instead of that grand opera selection I want you to render one of the light and popular ditties of the day."

"But, madame," expostulated the society leader, "your classical song is much more exacting on your powers, so why should you charge more for the lighter and easier song?"

"Ah," replied the independent one, "the harder song is all fun to me; the easier one all work."

So the price was fixed at $300.

Just as the haughty visitor was about to depart, she turned to the artist and said:

"Of course, I shall not expect you to mingle with my guests."

"Ah," was the biting retort, "I shall throw off $50."—Life.

Acts of Kindness.

If every one did an act of daily kindness to his neighbor and refused to do any unkindness half the sorrow of this world would be lifted and disappear.—Ian MacLaren.

THE OLD LIBERTY BELL.

History of This Relic of the Revolutionary Patriotic.

Overvigorous ringing of the old Liberty bell many years ago on the occasion of the celebration of the Declaration of Independence was what put the crack in it and forever destroyed its resonant tone. It was cast by Pax & Stow in Philadelphia and hung in the belfry of the now historic statehouse in lower Chestnut street early in June, 1753. It contains 2,080 pounds of metal.

Near the top of the bell were cast the words "Proclaim Liberty Throughout All the Land Unto All the Inhabitants Thereof." Prophecy of its destiny, this gave it the name Liberty bell.

When the British army marched on Philadelphia in 1777 the bell was taken down by patriots and carried off in the night to Allentown in order that it might not fall into the hands of the enemy. In 1781 it was returned to the tower of the statehouse.

For more than half a hundred years thereafter the bell was rung and honored on Independence day every year before the crack appeared in it. An effort was made to restore its tone by sawing the crack wider, but this proved of no avail. The bell was finally removed from the tower to a lower story of the statehouse and used only on extraordinary occasions. Subsequently it was rigged up on its original timbers in the vestibule. In 1893 it was exhibited at the Columbian exposition in Chicago.

Shakespeare as an Actor.

Shakespeare once played the ghost in his own "Hamlet." A younger brother of the dramatist in describing the event said that he wore "a long beard and appeared so weak and drooping and unable to walk that he was forced to be supported and carried by another person to a table, at which he was seated among some company."

In "As You Like It" Aron's bard assumed the role of Adam, the old servant, in whom was represented "the constant service of the antique world" and who was "not for the fashions of these times."

Famous Gretna Green.

Gretna Green, Scotland, became famous for its celebration of irregular marriages. For many years the average number was 500. The ceremony consisted only of an admission, before witness, by the couple that they were husband and wife, this being sufficient to constitute a valid marriage. After this the officiating functionary (for many years a blacksmith, together with two witnesses, signed the marriage certificate.

What He Wanted.

The doctor stood at the bedside and looked gravely down at the invalid. "I cannot hide from you the fact that you are very ill," he said. "Is there any one you would like to see?"

"Yes," said the sufferer faintly.

"Who is it?"

"Another doctor."

No Obstruction.

In the course of a trial at Waterbury, Conn., the examiner was trying to get the topography of the country and the relative situation of objects. The witness was asked, "Which way does the road run past your house?" The reply was, "Both ways, your honor, up and down."—Case and Comment.

BENNINGTON

B. F. George, who died here a short time since and about whom a very short item appeared in these columns, deserves a more extended notice and we publish the following from the Nashua Telegram:

In the death of Benjamin George passed away one of the best known railroad constructing engineers of former years in this section of New England. The late Mr. George was a member of the civil engineering staff of the Boston & Lowell railroad for many years. He was one of the engineers at the building of the old Boston & Lowell depot in Boston.

He was born in Hillsborough, April 17, 1832. He was the son of the late Ami M. George, who for years resided in this city.

Benjamin Franklin George attended school here, then at college fitted himself as a civil engineer. A few months ago his alma mater conferred upon him the degree of Bachelor of Science, the matter at the time creating more than passing notice on account of his advanced age. He was a graduate of Norwich University.

As a young man he went west and became engaged in railroad work.

He was one of the engineers in the construction of the Lexington & Arlington railroad, and when the late Theodore Woods began the building of the Manchester & Keene railroad he took the position of chief engineer on that project. The history of that road is still in the minds of old time residents of Nashua. The charter was for a line connecting Manchester with Keene. Construction was begun in Greenfield and in Keene at same time. Progress was slow, owing to lack of available funds and after this part of the road was completed grass grew between the rails and no trains were run. Mr. George, it is related, never collected anything for his services, and in fact put in a large sum from his savings to make the project a success. He was also engaged for a time on the Peterborough railroad. The Boston & Lowell company took over the Manchester & Keene road, and the Keene bound trains out of this city today run over its iron from Greenfield into Keene. When the Boston & Lowell assumed control Mr. George was made superintendent, which office he held until the company leased its line to the Boston & Maine.

The superintendency which he held being thus abolished, he was offered another position, but instead of accepting, he retired to the family homestead in Bennington, where he had lived ever since. He had served the town of Bennington as selectman and represented the town in the legislature. He was frequently called upon to do surveying and general engineering work in Bennington and all the surrounding towns.

His strict integrity, honesty, ability and sterling character made him widely respected and his personality won for him many friends.

Four years ago he was seriously injured in a fall from a mowing machine. This accident, combined with advancing age, brought about his death.

He was a member of Ancient York lodge, A. F. and A. M.

He is survived by his wife and a sister, Miss Mary E. George, who for the past 20 years has made her home with them.

Dr. Frank Whitney was called to town last week, owing to the serious illness of his father, Nathan Whitney. Mr. Whitney is reported as more comfortable at the present writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carter of Needham Heights, Mass., were guests of F. A. Taylor the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Carter were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Crassman of Needham.
