THE CONSTITUTIONAL

Convention Is Now Doing Business in Its Third Week

The second week of the N. H. Constitutional convention has closed and the third week is in evidence. Not so very much has as yet been done, although a large amount of talk of various kinds has been unloaded upon a long-suffering and forgiving membership. It is absolutely necessary that these men talk; and the sooner they relieve themselves in this manner the better for the state as a whole. It is not difficult for the delegates to sift out from the many hours' talk the best and what in their judgement would be the thing to submit to the people for their ratification or rejection; they are agents working for the best interests of their employers—the people—and what the delegates want most to do is to present as few amendments as possible in the most comprehensive manner that the people may know at a glance just what they are asked to vote upon, then they will vote on each amendment and vote intelligently.

This is an age when the government is largely in the hands of the people and in a few years will be more so; and we are not sure but that Constitutional conventions ought to be done away with and all amendments as fast as they arise be referred directly to the people. This would seem to simplify matters and be a large saving in money to the state. The people eventually must vote on these questions and they might just as well vote directly without a convention as to wait and be told what they may vote for. Possibly the thousands of voters throughout the state would vote in favor of the "Initiative and Referendum", or some other measure even if the convention sitting in a committee of the whole had turned it down.

Whether it is best or not, the trend of the times is to put into the hands of the people many matters which have not heretofore been their privilege to enjoy. In some cases, as in the direct primary, it will prove beneficial; in some, it may not; but ours being a government "of the people, for the people and by the people," it is wise and best that they have a large say in its affairs.

Lieut Gov. Robert Luce is quite right in declaring that if the direct primary is not better than the old convention system then the fault is with democracy itself, says the Boston Globe. The primary gives the voters a chance to do the right thing and if they deliberately decide to do the wrong thing, then it is at least comforting to know that they make their own mistakes and the bosses are not to blame.

The primary has the advantage of inviting a participation in public affairs by every partisan voter. If the voter decides not to attend them he can only blame himself if an unworthy candidate is nominated for office by his party. Perhaps, having had a disagreeable experience once, he will awake to his responsibility. At best a primary is but an indication of public opinion on a person's fitness to office. Without it we go back to the rule of cliques and rings that almost invariably act on/ from selfish motives.

The latest type of direct primary, that seen in the election of delegates to the National conventions, is not free from various defects of form, but it can hardly be maintained that it is not a better means of indicating popular opinion than the convention-chosen delegates who are left to guess at local opinion, or worse still act in defiance of known public sentiment.

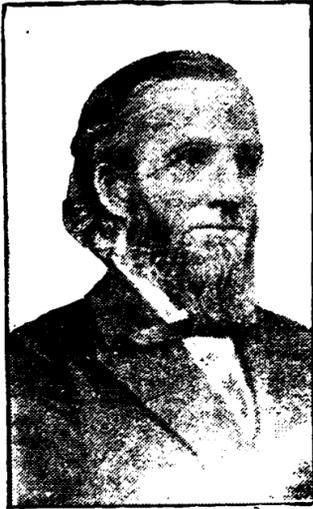

It certainly had the appearance that Col. Roosevelt had the Taft forces on the run a portion of last week, especially about the time he took his departure for Chicago. A man of so much personality must necessarily inject a portion of it into those with whom he associates. The "steam roller" is said to be doing business but it surely hits something when it strikes the "big stick." Some of the most startling things this country has ever known will doubtless come from the Chicago convention during the present week. Who is there among us with the least bit of sporting blood in his veins but would like to be in the "windy city" for a while just to "watch the procession on parade!"

REV. WARREN R. COCHRANE, D.D.,

Is Called From Earth After a Long and Useful Life in the Ministry

The removal of Dr. Cochrane from our midst takes one of the ablest and best posted ministers of his denomination in this section of the state,—a man who was held in high esteem and greatly respected by everyone who knew him. For months he has been failing in health and had the constant and faithful care of a wife and son who have done everything possible for the doctor's comfort and who have the sympathy of all in their affliction. Dr. Cochrane was appealed to ever and anon when a man with a literary turn of mind was needed. He could render valuable assistance always and was one of the few whose information was thoroughly reliable. The historical data in his possession will become more valuable as time goes on. It is a pleasant thought to the friends left behind that the deceased did good service among mankind and that many a life was made better by his coming in contact with it, and that he has now entered into his reward; he will be greatly missed, for it was his province always to do good.

We had known him for nearly twenty years and yet we do not feel competent to write a fitting obituary of a man who has so long been a christian minister. These few words will convey the impression that we desire to leave with our readers that a good and able man has departed this life to enjoy a higher one.—one where there is no sorrow, no suffering, and where he will remain with his Saviour which he so much delighted to preach.

Rev. Warren R. Cochrane, D. D., was the son of Robert B. and Elizabeth (Warren) Cochrane of New Boston, where he was born August 25, 1835. His early education was obtained in the schools of his native town, and he prepared for college at Francestown academy. He was graduated with high honors from Dartmouth college in the class of 1859; was twice elected tutor at Dartmouth, filling the position with credit until failing health compelled him to resign his position. For some years he was a successful teacher in towns of southern New Hampshire, and in the spring of 1868 was licensed to preach by the Derry and Manchester association. He was at once invited to serve the church at Harrisville, and for two summers he preached in that town as his health permitted.

January 1, 1868, he accepted a call to the Presbyterian church of Antrim and assumed his duties as pastor of the society, and the following year was ordained; for two score years he labored with this people very faithfully and gave general satisfaction. During his long term of service the venerable pastor had strengthened and built up the society till to day it is numbered among the important churches of the denomination in New Hampshire. July 8, 1894, the present beautiful house of worship was dedicated free of debt, and in the accomplishment of this Dr. Cochrane rendered valuable assistance.

Dr. Cochrane was well known throughout New Hampshire as one of the most able preachers of the Presbyterian denomination, and was also recognized as an author of unusual ability. In connection with his pastoral duties, he had been a frequent contributor of interesting and instructive articles to magazines, besides having written and compiled several town histories, among them being Antrim and Francestown. Throughout this section of New Hampshire where he was best known, Dr. Cochrane enjoyed the esteem and friendship of countless men and women whom he had been the means of helping to a higher and more useful life.

During the last forty years Dr. Cochrane had married 401 couples; officiated at 859 funerals, 548 in town and 311 in other towns; called to officiate at funerals in 31 different towns and cities. Had preached 4013 times; and lost only two sabbaths by illness during the entire 40 years.

The funeral services will be held from the Presbyterian church, Thursday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock.

I. O. O. F. Memorial Sermon

On Sunday last, the day appointed for the observance of Odd Fellows Memorial Day, Waverley Lodge, No. 59, assisted by Haad in Haad Rebekah Lodge, took proper notice of the occasion by gathering in their hall in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and holding services.

Rev. William Weston of Greenfield and Dea. Charles Kimball of Bennington, honored and respected brothers of Waverley Lodge, made appropriate remarks, and selections of vocal and instrumental music were rendered. This being in charge of a special committee.

A committee from the lodge visited Maplewood and other cemeteries in this and adjoining towns and erected markers at the graves of deceased brothers.

CLASS ODE

Tune: My Old New Hampshire Home
 Ida M. Hudson

A. H. S. 'mong the hills of old New Hampshire
 Holds a tender place within our hearts to-day,
 And the hours in the school-room spent together,
 It was there we learned our lessons day by day;
 But now we are to part from it forever,
 And sadly do we linger by the door,
 May the tie that binds us there be never broken
 As we wend our way along life's rugged path.

Chorus:—Now our footsteps linger there,
 As we're standing on the stair
 That we climbed so many times with jocund steps;
 As we end our school career,
 Each one sheds a silent tear
 For the school in our old New Hampshire home.

And now as we're standing on the threshold,
 With our minds fixed on the brightest hopes of life,
 Oh may we always push our standard onward,
 And then at last be victors in the strife;
 But when our simple work of life is over,
 And each one hears the Master bid us come,
 As we answer may we all be reunited
 In the glory of our bright Eternal Home.

Chorus.

The exercises in the afternoon were of the usual high order and well attended. The reception in the evening was attended by a large concourse of people, many being present from out of town. These closing exercises of the school year were a success in every way.

The decorations and trimming of the hall should be mentioned, they being done in a neat artistic and pleasing manner.

The flower bearers were Kenneth Butterfield and Vinal Goodwin. Diplomas were given the members of the graduating class by the Superintendent of Schools, Frederick L. Kendall. The musical numbers of the program which included the singing of "Tis Morn" and "The Rosary" by the High School chorus and the "Class Ode" by the graduates were well received.

Mrs. Clara McLane visited at Brookside farm recently.

Miss Ethel Nylander is at the old homestead for a time.

Mail Carrier French is taking his annual vacation; his substitute, Mrs. French, is handling the mail.

Mr. Percy Kendall and wife of Milford, visited at Brookside farm on Sunday.

Martin Haefeli and Miss Mary Bryer were married at St. Mary's church, Hillsboro, on Tuesday of last week. Martin was attended by his brother Ferdinand and Marie his sister was bridesmaid. It was the bride's birthday, she was dressed in blue and carried orange blossoms. They took dinner with their parents at Hazleburst farm where they were visited by Father LeClare and Father Delbert. They will reside with the bride's parents. Martin has many friends in East Antrim who will wish them much happiness.

Gregg Pond Notes

Eugene Richardson of the Navy, who is on a two weeks' vacation, has been spending a portion of same between the Shamrock and Still-belle cottages; he has finished a course in the electric department and has had an increase in pay. He has two brothers in the Navy.

Leon Cutter and family have moved from Stoddard to the George Brown farm and will manage same for John B. Jameson. Alvin Wheeler, who also moved from Stoddard to the Call house below Clinton, is at work on this farm for the next three months. There are about 1200 acres to this farm; the largest in acres of any in town.

Mrs. Lovell and sister made a visit to Stowell's during the past week. She formerly lived on the farm now owned by Mr. George Craig and kept a household of boarders during the summer, at that time there averaged to be at least 200 boarders in town during July and August, outside of South Antrim.

George Price from Peabody, Mass., with his aunt, has been spending a few days at Whitefield Cottage and Miss Elia Robinson's.

Depty Sheriff Frank Gay with his wife and some friends were an automobile party to visit the Pond Sunday.

This item appeared in a daily paper: "A movement is on foot to get the roads in the mountains in good shape for the summer season earlier than usual this year, as hitherto the work on the roads has been started too late to have them in condition for tourists who quickly pass the word back to others that they should steer clear of this locality for a time. This would help the mountain season materially and put dollars in the pockets of the hotel men as well as make it more pleasant for residents."

The following appeared in the Hillsboro Messenger of July 16th, 1874, which shows we have little to complain of in excessive rains, in fact they have been very temperate as a whole: "Rains began to fall Friday afternoon in copious showers and continued until Monday night. During the greater part of the day, Sunday, rain fell in torrents. Great damage was done in adjoining towns. Gardens and corn fields were completely submerged on Cook Plains. G. A. Cochran of Antrim had about seven acres of his best hay down at the time and many farmers in this town had commenced haying."

CLINTON VILLAGE

Mrs. Brown of Milford was a guest of Mrs. Martha Sawyer and other friends here last week.

Mr. Bragg of Hodge is a visitor at Fred Whittemore's.

John Tenney and J. M. W. Hills were at Pelham to attend the Church convention this week.

The frost Saturday morning was not as severe here as in some places.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Whittemore are for a few days with their daughter at Keene.

SWEET COLLEGIANS PROMISE DOMESTIC REVOLUTION.

New Method of Dish-Washing May Be Only the Beginning of Better Things
—Vast Field for Her Ingenuity Is Before Her.

"There's something new under the sun, after all," remarked the troubled tourist. "Here's a woman college graduate who says the college woman can devise new methods of washing the dishes."

"If that's the case, then she's got the helpful husband beaten a mile, for up to the time of this new discovery he has had the record for new methods of dish-washing by the simple expedient of turning the hose on them. It was a quick and fairly efficacious way of disposing of a whole tubful of dishes at one fell swoop and bade fair to revolutionize house-keeping methods. It was invented, I think, by a man whose wife left him to tend the flat while she took a two weeks' vacation. Now, however, if the college woman is out inventing new dish-washing methods, mere man will have to sidestep. His occupation's gone. I don't know what these new dish-washing methods may be, but my advice to bachelors is to put in their applications at once to all senior classes in women's colleges and try to get a wife and a new dish-washing method at one and the same time. As a dish juggler the sweet girl graduate ought to lead the world."

"It seems to me that the college woman of today is going in the domestic field. It looks like a soft thing for her husband. He won't have to settle a single dispute. All he'll settle will be the bills. The high cost of living needn't worry him in the least. Let his college wife settle that. All he'll have to do is to worry if he is laid up and can't attend to his job. She'll go down to the office and settle the business for him. She'll probably settle the blonde stenographer first, and attend to the details later."

I see that up in York state a mail carrier was unable to deliver his letters and his wife went out and covered his district for him. There you have it. That's just what the new dish-washing college graduate wife is going to do—because she can settle everything.

"If she has any doubt along about election time that he isn't going to vote the right way, she can promptly lock him up and go out and vote for him. If she thinks he's not up to his usual form at cards she can keep him at home and go take his place at the club Saturday night."

"If there's to be any sitting up with a sick friend she can do it for him, and spare him the long visit. I painted this happy future to a cynical bachelor friend of mine and the only comment I could get him to make was 'Wake up, you're in Boston.'—Houston Press.

Saw Point of Resemblance.
Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, whom every one in Indianapolis knows and loves, and who is now bishop of the diocese of Louisville, is as fond of telling a joke on himself as he is of springing one on some one else.

The bishop is nearly bald and when he is traveling and desires to remove his headgear he usually pulls on a silk skull cap. The bishop's friends tell of a little train incident that happened to him while traveling between Indianapolis and Chicago.

Just behind the bishop sat a traveling man who appeared to be deeply interested in his reverence. However, he did not speak to the bishop until the train began to slow up at a small station. The traveler was to alight at this station. Gathering his grips he started for the door. Then he turned back and stopped at Bishop O'Donoghue's seat.

"Pardon me," he said, with an anxious countenance, "but aren't you Bill Nye?"

Bishop O'Donoghue, who was always an admirer of the famous humorist, thought the joke was too good to keep and promptly told it on himself.

New Yorker's Design Accepted.

The Perry Memorial commission has approved the design of J. H. Friedlander of New York for a permanent memorial at Put-in-Bay, O., to commemorate the centennial of Perry's victory at Lake Erie, which will be celebrated in 1913. Mr. Friedlander received highest honors in a competition in which fifty-four designs were received, and the award carries with it a contract to supervise the erection of the memorial, upon which $600,000 will be expended. The memorial will be in the form of a Doric column, 320 feet high, with a spectators' gallery and light at the top. It will stand on a plaza, at one end of which will be a historical museum, while at the other end will be erected a building to symbolize the 100 years of peace which have prevailed between the United States and England.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous to life, so deceiving in its nature, so sudden in its onset, and so fatal in its results, that it has caused the death of many a man, woman and child. It is called "Bright's Disease," and is the cause of many of the sudden deaths which occur. It is a disease of the kidneys, and is characterized by a swelling of the face, a pain in the back, a headache, a loss of appetite, and a general weakness. If it is not treated at once, it will lead to a permanent and incurable condition. It is a disease which can be cured, but only if it is treated at once. The best remedy for it is Scott's Emulsion, which is a pure cod liver oil emulsion, and is the only one which is guaranteed to cure it.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and also your Anti-Pain Pills, on myself, with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Pain Pill and get immediate relief in every case."

CONSTIPATION

relieves quickly and gently under the soothing influence of
JERICHO LEAVES

Nature's wonderful gift—a perfect laxative. The most remarkable of all natural phenomena is this Shrub Leaf from the Holy Land. Scientists of today, with the accumulated knowledge of 4,000 years to guide them, have not been able to manufacture a harmless laxative which relieves, stimulates and cures as Jericho Leaves do. More effective than drugs or manufactured nostrums, Jericho Leaves are palatable, pure and harmless as ripe fruit. They cleanse the system thoroughly and in the gentlest way possible. Instead of irritating the delicate intestinal membranes as drugs are apt to do, they soothe these delicate tissues and stimulate all the life-giving organs.
This wonderful nature remedy was introduced into the Holy Land by Arabian physicians more than a thousand years ago and is in universal use in that historic country today. To those of these leaves as a laxative and regulator is due the extreme age of those ancient people. They grow only in the Holy Land adjacent to the River Jordan, on shrubs, are carefully gathered, sun dried and reach you in the natural, or purely vegetable state. Taste good. Act good. Plain cloth sack delivered, (no receipt of 50 cents coin, stamps or money order). Money back if not satisfactory. Obtainable in the U.S. by mail only. Mention this paper and order now. Base Ball

Antrim went to Henniker Saturday and was defeated in a close contest, 8 to 1. For the first six innings neither side scored. In the 7th inning Crampton crossed the plate and it looked like Antrim's game. But two costly errors, combined with slow playing, enabled Henniker to get three scores in the 8th inning, which practically finished the game.

The Antrims found the ball for ten hits, while Whitney allowed but six hits.

Utilizing the Castle.

One of the young men attached to the American embassy at London brought back with him a story that has to do with a feature of the Dufferin estate, near Belfast—a historic ruin in the shape of a castle that had been a stronghold of the O'Neills.

It appears that one day Lord Dufferin visited it with his steward, one Mulligan, and that he drew a line with his walking-stick round it, at the same time instructing the steward to build a protecting wall on that line. Then Dufferin went to the continent, feeling quite anxious as to the preservation of the historic feature. Upon his return to Ireland he visited the estate. The castle was gone. He rubbed his eyes and looked again. Then he sent for Mulligan. "Where's the castle?" he asked.

"The castle, me lord? Sure, I pulled it down to build the wall with."

HOW GIRLS MAY AVOID PERIODIC PAINS

The Experience of Two Girls Here Related For The Benefit of Others.

Rochester, N. Y.—I have a daughter 12 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month. I had that I would have to keep her home from school and I put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I am a mother of five children and I want every good mother to know what a wonderful medicine this is for my child." Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 311 Exchange St. Rochester, N. Y.

Stoughton, Mass.—I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years.

I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had taken other medicines but did not find relief. Miss CORA B. FOSNAUGH, Stoughton, Ohio, R.F.D., No. 1. Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for their daughters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

MIRACLE OF SLUMBER

BEST OF ALL MEDICINES, AS WELL AS CHEAPEST.

American Nervousness, So Prevalent a Complaint, is Charged to the Habit of Doing Without Sufficient Natural Rest.

The railroad man who had been 36 hours without sleep was good natured about it, though it was evident that he was verging on a nervous condition that might well render him incompetent. There is an occasional person who can dispense with sleep in an astonishing manner, the New York Mail observes. Yet it is not certain that such persons really do escape the penalty. It has been asserted that Napoleon's later failures of judgment were the result of an unerving that followed his earlier "four hours enough" sleep, which he boasted and practiced.

It is being said by medical observers that the "American nervousness" is not a little attributable to the social day demand, the hours after business, directly cut down from the sleep segment of the 24 hour day. It is probably true that no other country is so exacting on the full business day. That we insist on it must begin promptly and early. But the social demand is quite as imperative. Shall not a man go out with his wife in the evening, after she has been left alone all day?

She is quite ready. She took a nap after lunch, at the very hour he was busiest downtown. The church is run by the evening meetings. So is politics. And it may be said that we spend our money mostly in the evening, except what the women spend in the shops. Can a man take time for sleep when he is spending his money? No more than when he is earning it. The result is that there is always a lack of sleep.

There is no medicine like sleep. There is such a miracle wrought by sleep, changing our fears into hopes, our thickheadedness into clear vision, that it is shameful to put sleep aside. The wine of longest vintage cannot illumine the soul like a full night's sleep and the wine is so costly and the sleep so cheap! The high cost of living has touched about everything, but it has not raised the price of sleep.

We have all made so many blunders by decisions when the windows of the mind were darkened by fatigue that we should learn the lesson. It is sleep that wipes away the mists. Teach the children the value of sleep. Insist on "early to bed." Get back to the Puritan habit, which certainly made giants. There is too much going on evenings for the children. It is very largely the cause of the "social unrest" of which we complain—too little sleep twenty years ago and since.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Hill

Mrs. William H. Hill passed away at her home here on Friday last, after a decline in health of several months. She was one of the towns oldest and most highly esteemed women. She was the daughter of the late Harold and Harriet (Noyes) Kelsea and was born in Antrim May 1, 1833. In 1859 she was united in marriage with William H. Hill of this town, and for many years resided here, later moving to Manchester and Goshen, then removing to Antrim where they have since resided.

Mrs. Hill has been a member of Woodbury Memorial Methodist church for many years, and has been prominently identified with the work of the society for a long time. She was of a loving disposition, and made and kept many friends. Mrs. Hill is survived by her widower, two daughters, Mrs. Stella Austin of Concord and Mrs. Grace Young of this town, also one brother, Joseph N. Kelsea of Charlton, Mass. The shock is severe on Mr. Hill who is in poor health. The sympathy of the community goes out to the family in their bereavement.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon from her late home on Main street and were largely attended. Rev. W. J. Atkinson was the officiating clergyman. Interment was in Maplewood.

There is one medicine that every family should be provided with and especially during the summer months: viz. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. It costs but a quarter. Can you afford to be without it? Sold by all druggists.

The demand for our goods is increasing.

The interest in New England fruits and farming is growing.

Inexperienced men are making over $20 a week, while our experienced men go as high as $40.

Our line is the most complete, our goods the highest quality, and our treatment of customers and salesmen the most liberal.

Let us write you about it at once.

FROM THOSE THAT KNEW HER

Mrs. Mulcahey Had References That Could Leave No Doubt as to Their Genuineness.

Bridget had successfully measured up to all the other theoretical requirements of Mrs. Honeymoon, and that good little lady was on the point of engaging her as cook and general houseworker, when the thought of the woman's references flashed across the young housekeeper's mind.

"I like your looks," she said, "and everything you say about your abilities, Bridget, fits in with the exact requirements of Mr. Honeymoon and myself. The wages you ask seem reasonable, and we are perfectly willing to pay them, but, of course, I must have something in the nature of a reference before finally deciding. I suppose you have something of that kind?"

"Oh, yis, mum," replied the candidate; "sure and Oi wouldn't t'ink of askin' anybody to taak me witout me riference."

She dived deep down into the pocket of her dress, and after considerable fumbling about therein managed to fish up a much-worn old envelope, from which she extracted a piece of paper. This she handed to Mrs. Honeymoon.

With some difficulty Mrs. Honeymoon deciphered the slightly scrawly epistle to whom it might concern, as follows:

"This is to certify that Bridget Mulcahey has served us The undersigned as Cook and ginerill houseworker for the last tree year, and We hav found her allways kind and obhliging, sober, onnest, and inndustrous, we cheartfully recommend her to annybody wanting sutch a person around as she is.

(Signed) "nora Mulcahey, "Anny mulcahey, "pattsey mulcahey."

Mrs. Honeymoon coughed slightly as she finished reading this document.

"Well," she said, a trifle embarrassed, "that certainly is a good reference, but I—I don't know who these people are who signed it—"

"Oh, they're arl roight," smiled Mrs. Mulcahey. "They're me own childer, mum. Uf's them Oi do bin worrukin' for liver since we landed from th'ould country."

Blame "Bunty" for This One.

Ever since "Bunty" came to town to pull a few strings Scotch stories have been in the air hereabouts, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times Star. This is told by John Dunsmore, who has a Highland ancestry as well as a Highland name. "It was a hot Sunday afternoon in Edmbro," said Dunsmore. "The kirk was full of men and women as the preacher thundered. But by and by they all dropped off to sleep except one simple-minded boy seated in the organ loft."

"A stiff-necked and pervaise generation," shouted the minister. "Ye'er feet ha ta'en hold on the road that leads doon to hell. Ye'er eyes are blinded and ye'er ears are deaf, and ye'er flesh is e'en gien over to the Evil One, for there is not one of you all in this house of worship that is not asleep, exceptin' for the bit ladie in the organ loft."

"Ye're richt, parson," said that individual in reply, "and I'd be asleep myself if I were not datt."

What Caused the Cheering.

Secretary Knox's experience with the Central American crowd was not as he supposed, cheering for him, but applauding a local idol in his party, recalls the story told by a sportsman who went fishing last summer on the Pecos river.

Leaving the train at Giorietta, he took a wagon for Windsor's ranch. It was a long, hard pull for 27 miles, and the sportsman looked eagerly for the resort long before it came into view. Finally the wagon rounded a point and Windsor's ranch was revealed below. Almost as soon as it appeared the wagon in turn was discovered from the ranch. Some 15 or 20 met boiled out of the cabins, and a tremendous cheer arose in the valley.

The sportsman was at once puzzled and flattered.

"Great Scott!" he exclaimed. "Is that for me?"

The driver clapped on the brakes and reared back on the lines.

"For you?" he laughed. "Not of your life. I'm bringin' the boys ten gallons of whisky!"—St. Louis Post Dispatch

The Aftermath.

The great ball had been given, and Mrs. Noovo was running over the bills with her husband. When it was found that they totaled $10,000 Mr. Noovo winced.

"By ginger, Maria!" he ejaculated, "ten thousand dollars is a pile o' money."

"We have to do it, Silas, to get into society," replied Mrs. Noovo.

"Well," said the old man, scratching his head, "judgin' from results it don't seem to me that we're gettin' into society quite so much as society is gettin' into us."—Harper's Weekly.

BLUE LIGHT AN ANESTHETIC

Eastern Scientist Has Demonstrated the Fact in a Thorough Series of Experiments.

"One of the most remarkable actions of light has recently come to our attention," says the editor of the Journal of Surgery. "In an address before the Boston Physio-Therapeutic society Dr. E. C. Titus has demonstrated that blue light possessed remarkable anesthetic power.

"In his experiments he used a series of slender glass rods about one-eighth of an inch in thickness, placed side by side and tied together so as to form a kind of flexible mat which will adapt itself to various parts of the body. The glass must be of cobalt blue and transmit no red rays, this being a very important point. The rods are to be placed upon the area to be anesthetized, and some form of white light, preferably a tungsten lamp, brought as closely as possible without causing discomfort.

"Strange to relate, in twenty minutes the part becomes insensitive, so that superficial and even deep incisions or punctures are no longer felt. This anesthesia lasts for one-half hour or more, and has occurred so constantly that there is no reason to believe that it is the result of suggestion or accident. Minor surgical operations have been performed under this method and without the least pain or discomfort, and there seems to be enough in it to merit attention.

"More than thirty years ago there prevailed what was afterwards termed the blue glass craze. All sorts of ailments were thought to be amenable to the action of blue light, and the newspapers were filled with glowing accounts of cures. Enthusiasm ran riot for a time and then the matter dropped out of sight.

"Some time later there was a revival of interest in phototherapy when Finagen demonstrated the curative properties of the ultra-violet ray in various affections, especially lupus. Since then the physiological action of light has been carefully investigated and although much remains to be learned, there can be no doubt that we are nearer to an appreciation of its possibilities in the treatment of disease."

Our Life's Story.

Very often the success which attended our early efforts turns its back upon us in later years, and while for a time we may try to continue in detail the story of our alternate hopes and fears, our victories and our defeats, we soon realize that the record is a sorry one, and we feel ashamed to continue its recital. We forget the early promises we made to be sincere in the matter of making up our record, and because the story is not one of unalloyed success and prosperity we grow disloyal to our better selves and believe that by making no further entries in our diaries we bring them to a close. Just as we recall to memory in later years, however, the small volumes of our early youth, with their interrupted stories, we are prone also to look deeply into the record we have written in the real diary of life. It was Barrie who said that "the life of every man is a diary in which he means to write one story and writes another, and his humblest hour is when he compares the volume as it is with what he vowed to make it."

We cannot release ourselves from the obligation of writing the diary of our lives. We make the records whether we are willing or not, and for each hour and day of the year of life given to us here on earth there is a faithful entry made.—Charleston News and Courier.

British Island Reclaimed by Dutch.

Canvey Island, which is again coming into prominence in connection with the proposal to establish a great wharf there, is one of the pieces of England which were reclaimed for us by the Dutch. At one period the island was covered with water at high tide, but early in the seventeenth century Cornelius Vermuyden, the famous Dutch engineer, who was afterward knighted by Charles I, reclaimed several thousand acres by the construction of a system of seawalls. The walls are still there, but where are the Dutchmen who made them? Cornelius Vermuyden brought over workmen from Holland and many are known to have stayed here, but now their names have disappeared entirely, from Canvey at least.—Westminster Gazette.

Boy Got the Penny.

At a country school in the Midlands the head master said: "Now, boys, I will give a penny to the first lad who can ask me a question which I cannot answer."

Several tried unsuccessfully, until one boy asked him: "Please, sir, if you stood up to your neck in soft mud and I threw a stone at your head, would you duck?"

The question remained unanswered.—Ideas.

Rich, But—

Wilbur Wright, at a tea in Dayton, was talking about a daredevil French airman.

"Is he very successful?" a banker's daughter asked.

Mr. Wright smiled his faint, sardonic smile as he replied:

"Very successful? Indeed he is very successful! Why, his false arm is crusted with diamonds, his artificial skull is made of platinum—platinum is fourteen times dearer than gold, you know—and both his wooden legs are gold-mounted and full-jeweled."

What It Wouldn't Cure.

On returning to his office from a round of calls a New York physician found waiting for him the servant of a patient. She was the bearer of a bottle and a note to the effect that the remedy contained in the bottle had been recommended by a woman, and the query, "Do you think I might try it for my cold?"

In reply the doctor wrote: "I have not examined what you sent to me and can offer no suggestion, nor do I know what ailed your friend when it 'cured' her. But I do know that if hers was an attack of virulent impertinence she is still uncured."
