REGARDING THE "FADS"

Which in Reality Do Not Exist in the Antrim High School

Editor of the Reporter:

Always being greatly interested in our schools and knowing that they were considered by the authorities as being well up with the average in the state, I was somewhat surprised to read in recent issues of your paper the communications from "Tax Payer" and also from "Citizen;" and I read too the timely correction from the pen of Mr. Hastings.

True it is that Antrim spends more for the support of schools than she did formerly. As I view the situation, it is the upward trend of everything that makes such a condition necessary, and not the introduction or presence of "fads" as some would have us believe. Doubtless what might be considered as "fads" are the new courses of domestic arts and sciences and manual training, and perhaps in this might be included music, drawing, and possibly the supervisory system. I don't think this latter should be thought of in this connection for a single moment, as it seems to be working out in a most satisfactory and beneficial manner, and of use to the schools, the teachers and the officials. Regarding music and drawing, I think for the money invested the scholars are receiving a great deal of good, and ought to have at least this much of these two branches. Antrim should do something for her youth along this line. Regarding the more recent course to include domestic science and manual training, there is apparent need of vocational education, and this is a step in the right direction. This however should not be condemned till given a reasonable trial. Already there have been instances where good has come from this new arrangement, and I believe in time it will prove one of the wise things that Antrim has done.

As I view the matter, after making a little inquiry, I am satisfied that the schools are upon their usual high level and progressing nicely, and that the matter of "fads" existing in our schools is a misrepresentation and thus places things in the wrong light. It is up to the voters of Antrim to take such action in the School and Town meetings as will continue to keep our schools in the front rank in order to make such progress as the exigencies of the situation demands.

ANOTHER TAX PAYER.

16—To see if the Town will instruct the Selectmen to lay out and build a highway beginning on the north side of Gregg pond, thence on the west side of Gregg pond following the low level as far as practical to the Hancock line so as to meet a highway commencing near the corner east of the Mulhall Bros.' farm buildings or any part of same, and appropriate money for same, or take any other action thereon.

17—To see if the Town will instruct the Selectmen to lay out and build a highway from near the second culvert on the Keene road west of W. C. Hills barn to the old High Range road and by the same to the corner near the former W. R. Carr buildings, thence down the valley to the highway on the north side of Gregg pond, or any part of same, and appropriate money for same, or take any other action thereon.

18—To see if the Town will vote to instruct the Selectmen to appoint an expert highway agent according to session laws of 1913, Chapter 14, Sect. 3, or take any action thereon.

19—To see if the Town will accept a bequest of two hundred dollars from Miss Sarah E. Wallace, the income to be used in the perpetual care of the John Wallace plat in North Branch cemetery.

20—To see if the Town will vote to accept a bequest of one hundred dollars from Mrs. M. E. Bass, the income to be used in the perpetual care of her plat in Maplewood cemetery.

21—To see if the Town will vote to raise the sum of $125 for the maintenance of the State Highway in town.

22—To see if the Town will vote a certain per cent. on the valuation to defray Town charges, pay existing debts, and cover all appropriations made by the Town and School District, and carry the above articles into effect, or leave it with the Selectmen to fix the rate according to the appropriations.

23—To see how much money the Town will raise to pay Town charges the year ensuing, or take any other action thereon.

MODERN DRAMA

Entrance of Immigrants into the U. S.

The entrance of immigrants at the Ellis Island Immigration Station, New York Harbor, will be reproduced at the Vestry of the Presbyterian church, in Antrim, on Wednesday evening, March 4. The immigrant characters are to be taken by local men and women, who will wear the costumes worn by immigrants when they land in the United States.

The various examining officers at Ellis Island will be presented and the "immigrants" one by one will walk between the railings, passing each officer in turn. The first medical officer looks for obvious physical defects, the second medical officer examines the eyes for the dreaded disease, trachoma. The next examiner is the matron who pays particular attention to women. The matron is sometimes called the "moral wicket" by the missionary societies which do work at Ellis Island. The last officer is the important inspector who, with the ship's manifest before, asks the questions prescribed by law.

Some of the "immigrants" will be admitted, others will be temporarily detained awaiting the arrival of friends and still others will be held for the Board of Special Inquiry and will probably be deported.

In connection with the representation of Ellis Island there will be an education exhibit of charts, and statistical tables provided by the Missionary Education Movement of New York. The platform where the demonstration will be given will be decorated with flags of all nations and the American flag dominating the whole scene.

Two immigrants enter the United States every minute, day and night. They come in steadily all the year round, men, women and children, from Italy, Hungary, Poland, Greece, Russia, Sweden, England, Germany, and other lands at the rate of one hundred and twenty an hour, or 2,880 a day. This endless procession of nations will be represented in the reproduction of Ellis Island.

Admission 15c.

Notice

All milk producers shipping milk from Bennington, Antrim, West Deering and Holton stations, are requested to meet at Selectmen's Room, at Antrim, Feb. 23, at 2 p. m. to consider matters of importance. It is very essential that all should be present. Don't sit back and say "Let George do it," and then expect to share the fruits of his labor. It will make dollars difference to you.

F. I. Graves, Pres.

Go-to-Church Sunday

Was observed in town last Sunday, and the response of the town's people to the special efforts of the various committees was very gratifying. At the different churches throughout the town the increase in attendance was very noticeable, especially at the morning services, the per cent of increase varying from 40 to 60 per cent. At each of the churches the pastors spoke on the value of the christian church to the community.

For purposes of added publicity a cloth sign about ten feet long and fifteen inches wide bearing the words "Go to Church Sunday" was flung across the street the past week between the post office and the Maplehurst Inn. The sign was easily seen from a considerable distance up and down the street and painted on both sides with the same wording. This was done by the advertising department of the "Go to Church Sunday" committees from the various churches in the village.

If You are Subject to Colds
This Editorial will Interest You.

A Great Majority of People Get One or More Colds Every Season and It is of Vital Interest to All to Learn How to Avoid and Believe Colds Quickly, Since Colds are Said to be Contagious.

Some people think colds are only caught through exposure. This in return is contradicted by the fact that Arctic explorers are peculiarly free from colds. It is more generally accepted that colds are the result of civilized life, due to super-heated rooms and a very rapid change in temperature which causes the nerve centers to be depressed, and still more largely due to contagion—one member of a family imparting a cold to another by sneezing or coughing.

A cold means nothing if relieved quickly. That such a purpose may be accomplished, a quick aid to a cold is an essential. A remedy especially devised to relieve colds quickly is PERUNA.

PERUNA contains such ingredients that have an especially beneficial influence upon the inflamed mucous membranes and the quicker these mucous membranes are given the benefit of a remedy like PERUNA, the quicker the relief and the less contagion.

A neglected cold may become a serious menace to one's own life, and far worse, may endanger one's family.

We insure our homes against fire, our lives against death. Why should we not insure ourselves against colds if possible by having a medicine in the family chest that can be used at once?

PERUNA is a reliable household remedy for colds and should be in every home, for there should be a desire to combat a cold as quickly as possible. This is enlightened hygiene.

People who are feeble and run down are more subject to colds than persons in normal health. Such persons need outdoor life and PERUNA to help build up a strong constitution. If you have a poor appetite that is often a warning that you probably need a tonic like Peruna for Peruna aids the digestive organs. When your appetite is fair and work and exercise do not quickly tire you, your susceptibility to colds diminishes very much.

Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain PERUNA TABLETS.

"The Battle of Gettysburg"

Are you a Son or Daughter of a Veteran? Did you ever hear father tell of the times of '61 and '65 when you were a kid, how for the time he forgot his years and the gray hair was again red? as he told of the hardships and trials that he was in and the different battles of which Gettysburg was the greatest? I have, many times, and it was news at each telling.

You have often read and studied about '61 and possibly have seen the great painting of "The Battle of Gettysburg" on exhibition a few years ago, but have you ever seen the portrayal in Motion Picture? Don't miss it, now that opportunity presents itself, because it is instructive and interesting every minute, and if you doubt its portrayal, ask any of the "Boys in Blue" who were the actors in this great drama. SON OF A VETERAN.

"The Battle of Gettysburg" in five reels, at town hall, Antrim, on Friday evening, and at town hall, Bennington, Saturday evening. For particulars read adv. on eighth page.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

LEAVES THE KIDNEYS IN WEAKENED CONDITION

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost all victims complain of lame backs and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince anyone who may be in need of it. Regular size bottles 50c, and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper. adv.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.
2. CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 16 Winona St., Charlotte, N. C.
3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.
4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LUCIA A. GRISWOLD, 2300 Blk. East William Street, Decatur, Ill.
5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Av., Cleveland, O.

DAPHNE'S HOPE BOX

A Feminine Conceit and Joke That Led to Much Pleasant Gossip.

By SELINA LILLIAN HIGGINS.
"How very nice of Nellie," said Mary Lincoln, as she and her best friend Daphne Willis, parted at the village post office after receiving and opening two boxes, exactly alike. "The lace is exquisite," spoke Daphne, glancing with taste and pleasure over the neck collar neatly done up in tissue paper with a dainty sachet bag beside it. "Nellie is very thoughtful."
They had been great friends, those three. All through Nellie's engagement Mary and Daphne had been closest to her of her many acquaintances. She had promised not to forget them when she reached the city on her wedding tour. Now Nellie had redeemed her promise.
"I shall wear the collar at the regular club party next week," said Mary. "You will be there, Daphne?"
"I think not. My aunt is not very well, you know, and needs me most of the time. Besides," and Daphne gave a nervous laugh, "I fear I am getting past the party age, Mary."
"Nonsense!" cried her devoted friend. "Twenty-three, and you look like sixteen. It's just the breaking up of our old circle that gives you the blues. Now you wear that handsome collar—lace always becomes you. Don't go giving it away, as you usually do everything that anybody asks you for."

"Oh, I shall not do that," declared Daphne. "It will always be a tender reminder of our dear Nellie. I shall put it away in my 'hope box.'"

Just here Mary made a pretense of catching her pretty pink and white fists and grinding her pearly teeth in a feat of the most dreadful rage.

"Daphne Willis," she scolded severely, "if even I happen across that 'hope box' of yours, I'll stamp on it; yes, I will! The idea! you keeping a 'hope box,' as if you were some fading old maid with yellow teeth and wrinkled cheeks and scrawny neck when everybody says you grow more and more beautiful."

"That's enough!" retorted Daphne, closing the cherry lips of her staunch champion with a kiss—"I know I am beginning to feel very old, and I think it a duty to be prepared if any likely old bachelor—why, yes, even some respectable widower—should happen along, you know!"

It was all a joke, Daphne's "hope box," a feminine conceit that appealed to Daphne because it led to pleasant quip and gossip among her bright girl friends. In her own mind Daphne felt pretty well convinced that she would never marry. She had a pleasant, permanent home with her aunt. She felt that she was past the frivolous age. Daphne had encountered some ideals during the years, but they had turned out selfish and prosaic. None of them had ever come up to her standard of a real man.

Her "hope box" was a satin-lined cedar chest, given to her by a dear girl friend on her birthday. Daphne had accumulated a store of both pretty and useful things. It pleased her aunt to look over not only her presents but the exquisite needlework of Daphne herself, while her industrious niece experienced a certain pride in having pretty trifles to exhibit to her girl visitors.

It was nearly a year after the wedding of Nellie that Daphne received a letter from a cousin who lived at Mer ton. She had been in correspondence regularly with this relative, and several times Miss Dalby had referred to a neighbor, a Mr. Paul Barnes.

DAPHNE'S HOPE BOX

"I have great news for you, Daphne," this last letter ran. "I have often told you what a fine young man Mr. Barnes was. His parents left him quite an estate, and I suppose he got lonely in the old homestead. At any rate, he is about to marry, and what do you think? he has picked out the poorest girl in the village. It is one Lina Temple. She is a wild, headstrong girl, and the whole family are a worthless lot. It seems that her father once risked his life for Paul's father, and the young fellow has a generous nature that never forgets. I am pretty sure he has no genuine love for Lina. In fact, it is pretty well known that some Quixotic idea of lifting the girl from poverty to comfort and making a true woman of her is his idea. She is so poor her folks cannot afford any kind of an outfit, and very quietly some friends and myself are helping her out. If you have any little trifles to contribute, I shall be glad."

Good-hearted Daphne had something of a struggle with herself. Then her generous soul impelled a sacrifice.

"I shall never marry," she said to herself. "I shall be making some one happy," and the "hope box" went to Miss Dalby.

Two months later Daphne's aunt died. It was natural that Miss Dalby should ask her to make her home with her. This she did, and Daphne found herself installed at Merton.

"I have often thought of the wedding you wrote me about," observed Daphne, the first evening of her arrival.

"Oh, did I never write you!" exclaimed Miss Dalby. "The match was broken off. We got up quite a handsome outfit for Lina Temple. She never used it, for she eloped with a circus performer two days before the date for the wedding."

"And Mr. Barnes?" inquired Daphne. "I think, secretly, he was relieved, for the girl was not of his class—headstrong, capricious, all for tinsel and glitter. He acted the man completely, however. He followed the elopers, made sure that the new husband would be good to the wild, untutored girl, and, they say, even started him in a new business."

Of course, Daphne met Paul Barnes, and there seemed to spring up a mutual interest between them. One evening as he stood at the garden gate, the tender influences of the sweet June night seemed to bind him lingeringly to the spot.

"You are a good friend, Miss Willis," he said. "I never told you, but I have heard of your kind thought to make happy the young lady I at one time thought to make my wife."

"And you are a good man, Mr. Barnes," replied Daphne with genuine impulse, although she flushed a trifle consciously. "It was a noble thought to strive to guide her untutored steps aright."

"Shall we walk to the lake and back? It is such a beautiful evening," he suggested, and there was a strange, wistful tremor in his voice.

The moonlight shadows lengthening on the long, dewy grass, the holy stars shining down through the lace-like mistiness of the enraptured night, Daphne listened to words that rang so true their echo thrilled and lingered, even as she came back to the house, her heart beating with the joy of a new-found happiness, her face radiant with telltale blushes.

She went up to where Miss Dalby sat and put her arms around her, and hid her conscious face on her shoulder.

"Dear cousin," she whispered, "you told me you had stored my old 'hope box' in the garret."

"Yes, dear," replied Miss Dalby, smiling wisely.

"I should like to have it back again, if you please," said sweet Daphne Willis.

WILD DOGS PEST OF AFRICA

Hunting in Packs, They Do Incalculable Damage to Sheep and Other Live Stock of Farmers.

There is no wild animal in Africa which deals out such wholesale destruction to certain kinds of game as the hunting dog. Leopards have been known to be chased up trees; hyenas have been found in process of being mobbed to death; the lion himself, when found solitary, is sometimes pursued by a pack.

Bush pirate and Ishmael as he is, strangely enough toward man the hunting dog seems to betray little or no aggressive tendency.

Wandering about in bands over huge areas of wild country, and seldom remaining more than a few days in any one locality, the hunting dog is probably less frequently encountered than any other kind of carnivore, and therefore in less degree than any other has he the experience of man and his ways. There is at least no doubt that when this experience has been acquired few creatures show more haste in escaping from man's presence or display more intelligence in doing so. But if there is little ground of complaint against him as regards man personally, it is a very different matter where the latter's flocks and herds are concerned.

When the farmer first begins to graze his sheep in a wild country, one of his enemies is the hunting dog. Sweeping down upon a flock, a pack of these animals will in a very few minutes entirely annihilate it, killing and rending apparently for the mere pleasure of doing so, and then, having completed the slaughter, will probably be miles away wreaking the same destruction elsewhere, ere the irate owner and his friends have time to arrive upon the scene.

A long crusade against them in Cape Colony resulted at length in their virtual extinction in the settled parts, but in all the wilder corners of South Africa the same thing still goes on, and raids upon small herds of native goats and sheep are everywhere, where these pests exist.—Blackwood's Magazine.

SALE OF WASHINGTON RELICS

Hair Seems to Be Declining in Price, But Letter Commands a High Figure.

Coincidentally, from London and New York, there came to light two curious items of Americana, both concerning souvenirs of George Washington's administration as first president of the United States. It appears that the famous general's hair is declining in price, while one of his letters is selling at a high figure.

The hair, a lock which is asserted upon oath to be one clipped from the head of Washington by one of the pallbearers at his funeral, and which sold last year at auction for $380, was disposed of at a sale of Americana here recently for $100.

At the same time in London a letter written by Washington on the day after his election as the first president of this country was sold for $900. The letter is one to Samuel Powell, dated February 5, 1789.

The letter was never published. In it Washington refers to George III.'s first attack of madness, saying, "Be the cause of the British king's insanity what it may, his situation (if alive) merits commiseration."

FAMOUS LAFAYETTE STATUE

An equestrian statue of Lafayette was given by the school children of America to France a few years ago. This stands before the Louvre, the palace adjoining the Tuilleries, where Louis XVI. was taken prisoner.

George Washington.

Literary reactions in the estimate of George Washington at once suggest his greatness and emphasize the truth that greatness is an indefinable quality. He has been exalted beyond the topmost heights of heroism and depressed below the level of ordinary justice. Criticism has undulated from untimely panegyrics into captions and hypercritical censure. Biography in one mood has made Washington little lower than the angels, and in another has hardly given his substance outside school copybooks. It is this mysterious element in his character, which so many historians have tried to penetrate, that testifies Washington's greatness. His claim stands not in some sublime oddity or wonderful stroke. It is rather that of a well poised and thoroughly balanced nature.—Philadelphia Press.

Enjoy Popular Dances

To enjoy the popular dances the feet must be free from pain. Many men and women realize the comfort to be enjoyed by using Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes before dancing. Since dancing has become so popular, Allen's Foot Ease is in demand everywhere because it rests the feet and makes dancing a delight. For Free Sample, Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y. adv.

We Promise You Relief from All Stomach Troubles Or Your Money Back

We honestly believe we have the best remedy in the world for indigestion and dyspepsia. We urge you to try it at our risk. If it doesn't relieve you—as we feel sure it will—we'll give back your money without a word. You know us—your family druggist. You know we wouldn't dare recommend anything we didn't know about, nor dare to break a promise. Therefore, when we recommend any remedy it is because we believe it to be better than any other to relieve the ailment for which it is made, and when we prove our faith in it and our sincerity toward you by promising to give back your money if it doesn't relieve you and in every way satisfy you, you have no possible excuse for doubt or hesitation.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets

are, we honestly believe, the best remedy made for Indigestion, Dyspepsia and all other Stomach Ills

We Know They're Good

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Delays Are Dangerous

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

You Risk No Money

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. We always sell them this way, and it is because we know that they have greatly benefited scores of sufferers to whom we have sold them. There's no red tape about our guarantee. It means just what it says. We'll ask you no questions. You needn't sign anything. Your word is enough for us. We know that when they help you you will consider it money well spent even if they had cost you ten times as much. If they don't help you, the money you paid for them is yours, and we want you to have it.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores. In convenient boxes—three sizes: 25c, 50c, $1.00

The Immigration problem is no new one. Benjamin Franklin wrote from Philadelphia, May 9th, 1733, as follows: "These who come hither are generally the most stupid of their own nation. . . Not being used to liberty they know not how to make modest use of it. . . In short, unless the stream of importation could be turned from this to other colonies, they will soon outnumber us. . . and even our government will become precarious."

Window Shades

Just a bit early to be talking Shades perhaps, but not too early to tell you a few things about our Shade department, and Shades are coming in now in such quantities we want you to know about them

EXTRA QUALITY—We never buy Seconds in any grade; we do buy the very best in every grade; our Shades are therefore better price for price than others give you; they look better and wear longer, and do not fade; in short they give you satisfaction.

WARRANTED ROLLS—Every Shade is mounted on warranted rolls, the cheapest as well as the best; a new roll if the one delivered does not work in perfect fashion; perhaps you have had experience with unsatisfactory rolls; you therefore know how annoying it is.

SPECIAL SIZES—When you want Shades you want them quick; it takes a lot of time to get special sizes from factory; we have added to our stock a good assortment of extra large sizes in the best sellers; buying of us saves a lot of money, express and time.

HUNG IN YOUR WINDOW—We can arrange to hang Shades in place and adjust the springs; saves you a lot of annoyance and costs you a good deal less than to hire a carpenter to do it.

LET US GIVE YOU ESTIMATE of cost; we can price you Shades, or Shades hung just as you like; it costs you nothing to get you our prices; it cannot fail to save you money. If you cannot call, send for samples.

PRICES—We give you a warranted Shade, first-class in every respect, for 25c, better for 35c, 50c, 60c, 70c, 80c, 85c; if you wish the Shade green outside, white inside, we have them ready to hang.
