John M. W. Hills died Thursday at St. Joseph's hospital, in Nashua, where he had been receiving treatment. Mr. Hills was a native of Antrim, was born here in 1843. He married Sarah Whitmore, Aug. 21, 1871, who died about 9 years ago. He is survived by one son, Morris D. Hills, and one grandson, Arthur Hills. The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Hankemeyers, from Litchfield, officiated, he being personally acquainted with the deceased.

Was born on the John C. Butterfield place, and died on his 73d birthday.

Antrim Grange, of which he was a member, attended in a body, there be a good representation present.

Interment in Maplewood cemetery.

Has Narrow Escape

While engaged at his work in the woods, Morris Underwood had a narrow escape from death, and met with a serious accident. Mr. Underwood and Will Simonds were splitting large logs using powder. When a charge failed to go off, Mr. Underwood approached the log and prepared to place another charge. Before he had time to get away, the first charge exploded, badly burning him about the legs, arms and back. The log broke into several pieces and flew about the young man, some of them striking him.

SCHOOL AND TOWN MEETINGS ARE HELD

Good Weather, Much Interest and Large Amount Business Transacted--Lower Tax Rate--Electric Lights

Doings of the School Meeting

Antrim's annual School Meeting was held on Monday; a goodly number of our people were interested in District affairs, and were in attendance to transact the necessary business. At about quarter of two o'clock in the afternoon the business of the Warrant was begun, Moderator D. W. Cooley reading the several articles. In the absence of the Clerk, W. C. Hills, Bradbury J. Wilkinson was appointed to fill his place. The check list was used in the election of all officers, and a remarkably short session was held, having completed all the business in about one hour and a half.

The following business was done:

1 To choose a Moderator for the ensuing year.

D. W. Cooley was reelected

2 To choose a Clerk for the ensuing year.

Will C. Hills was reelected

3 To choose a Treasurer for the ensuing year.

Carl H. Robinson was reelected

4 To choose a member of the School Board for three years.

Of the 96 votes cast, Harry B. Drake received 92 and was elected to succeed himself.

5 To hear the reports of Auditors, Agents, Committees, or officers heretofore chosen, and pass any vote relating thereto.

The Auditors' report was read by W. W. Merrill, 1st Auditor, which report was by vote accepted and adopted.

6 To see what compensation the District will fix for services of School Board, Truant Officer and other District Officers.

Voted to pay members of the School Board $50 each, Treasurer $25, Truant Officer and taking census $20, Clerk $2.

7 To see how much money the District will vote to raise and appropriate for the support of Schools additional to Statutory requirements.

Voted the amount required by law $1965; text books and supplies $450; flags and appurtenances and insurance $110. Additional for support of the schools $2600.

8 To see how much money the District will vote to raise and appropriate for repairs on School buildings.

Voted $250 for repairs.

9 To choose all other necessary Officers, Agents, etc., for the ensuing year.

Under this Article, Warren W. Merrill and William E. Cram were reelected Auditors.

It was voted almost unanimously to use the check list in next year's School Meeting.

Town Business Done in Annual Meeting

Very much like a spring day was Tuesday and the voters were out in good numbers to transact the necessary town business. The good thing about it was that the voters staid throughout the meeting, even to the last Article in the Warrant.

Some 254 votes were cast. The meeting was called to order by the Moderator, William E. Cram, at about 10 o'clock; the Warrant was read, and Rev. W. J. B. Cannell offered prayer. The business of the meeting begun under the first Article in the Warrant; voting was continued till 4 o'clock when the polls were closed.

1 To choose all necessary Town Officers, Agents and Trustees for the ensuing year.

2 To hear the report of the Auditors on the Treasurer's accounts and act thereon.

The report was read by Edmund M. Lane, 1st Auditor; after a few questions and explanations it was voted to accept and adopt the report.

3 To see how much money the town will appropriate for the "James A. Tuttle Library."

This matter started the flow of oratory which was continued intermittently throughout the day; the needs of the library and its patrons were discussed. Voted to appropriate $200.

4 To see how much money the town will appropriate to assist Ephraim Weston Post, No. 87, G.A.R., in properly observing Memorial Day.

Voted the sum of $50

5 To see what action the Town will take in regard to street lighting and appropriate a sum of money therefor or take any other action thereon.

It was here voted to postpone action under this Article till one o'clock, and that Article 6 be considered first. It being nearly 12 o'clock, adjournment of an hour was taken for dinner.

6 To see if the town will have the Invoice and Taxes printed for the ensuing year, with the valuation of each lot of real estate printed separately, and appropriate a sum of money therefor, or take any other action thereon.

Promptly at 1 o'clock the meeting resumed business.

Voted to have the Invoice and Taxes printed.

It was expected that under Article 5 all the flash boards would be lifted and that oratory would flow in abundance; no one was disappointed, even the balcony filled with ladies and school children were instructed in matters of economy which they had previously considered but little. However, a large amount of sound sense and good judgement was displayed, and after every one who wished had spoken their mind, final action was taken.

Voted that the sum of $1950 be appropriated, as heretofore, for street lighting the coming year.

7 To see how much money the Town will raise to repair roads and bridges for the ensuing year.

Voted to raise $4000.

8 To see if the town will vote to raise and appropriate the amount of money necessary to secure State aid for the permanent improvement of highways.

Voted to raise and appropriate the necessary money to secure State aid.

9 To see how much money the Town will vote to raise and appropriate for the extermination of the Brown Tail Moth, or take any action thereon.

Voted the sum of $300.

10 To see how much money the town will vote to raise to repair old cemeteries in town, or take any other action thereon.

Voted the sum of $50.

11 To see if the Town will vote to raise the sum of $150 for the maintenance of the State Highway in town.

Voted the sum of $150.

12 To see if the town will vote to take from the road agent's district the permanent improvement road built in 1913 and a section of the Clinton and North Branch road so-called, and instruct the Selectmen to arrange with the State Highway department to maintain said sections of road under the State patrol system, and appropriate or set aside from the amount raised for highway work, the sum of $250 for this purpose.

The following action was taken under above Article:

That the Selectmen are hereby instructed to take from the road agent's district the section of permanent improvement road built in 1913 on the Bennington road and a section of the Clinton road, so called, approximately three miles long beginning at the end of the state aid road and extending towards North Branch to such point as determined by the State Highway Department, and to accept the plan of the State Highway Department for maintaining said sections of road under the state patrol system and the sum of $250 is hereby set aside from the money raised for highway work for this purpose.

13 To see what action the Town will take in regard to building cement bridges and appropriate a sum of money therefor.

A motion to dismiss the Article was lost.

Voted, that a sufficient sum of money be appropriated to build a cement bridge near the Call house socalled in Clinton, provided the State road is built there this year.

14 To see if the town will vote to lay out and build a sidewalk on the right side of High street going up Poor's hill so-called, beginning at the Bennington road and extending to Pleasant street, or take any action thereon.

Voted that the Selectmen lay out a sidewalk as above. Also voted that the Selectmen be instructed to remove all obstructions along the proposed route of the new walk.

Resolutions

Adopted by Ephraim Weston Post, G. A. R., on the Death of Comrade Abner B. Crombie.

Whereas, the Supreme Ruler of all things has, in his infinite wisdom, removed from our ranks Comrade Abner B. Crombie and transferred him to that great army that has gone on before.

Therefore, Resolved, that while we bow to the will of the Great Commander above, we sincerely mourn his loss and will long hold in living remembrance the pleasant hours that we have spent in his company. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved widow.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family, and a copy published in the Antrim Reporter.

A Wonderful Healing Influence in Kidney Troubles

A year and a half ago I was taken with a severe attack of Kidney trouble that pained me to such an extent that morphine had to be given me. Was attended by a doctor who pronounced it as Stone in the Bladder and prescribed Lithia Water. I took Lithia Water and Tablets for some time and received no relief from them. I stopped taking medicines for some time, later having some Swamp Root in the house I decided to try it and felt much relieved. While taking the second bottle commenced to pass Gravel in urine until I had passed in all at least a half dozen or more and have not suffered the slighest since—and in all have taken one bottle and a half and feel very grateful to Swamp-Root.

Yours very truly,

COLDS

An up-to-date remedy for colds. That is what Peruna is. In successful use over 50 years.

Colds are caught in many ways: Illy ventilated rooms; rooms that have direct draughts; crowded rooms; damp houses; stuffy school rooms; offices illy heated.

A dose of Peruna at the right time, at the first symptom of cold, before the bones begin to ache, before the sore throat manifests itself, or the cough, or the discharge from the nose, just a dose or two of Peruna before these symptoms begin is generally sufficient. But after the cold is once established with the above symptoms prominent, a bottle of Peruna, or maybe two, will be necessary.

"For several years I have been troubled with colds at each change of season. I took Peruna and have not been troubled with the slightest cold this entire season." Mr. Harry Fisher, 1928 Mosher St., Baltimore, Md.

"I give the children Peruna if they have a cold, and it always relieves them." Mrs. I. D. Hayes, 1937 Druid Hill Ave., Baltimore, Md.

"When I feel a cold coming on I take a little Peruna, and it does me good." Mr. Charles S. Many, 12 Water St., Ossining, N. Y.

"No family should ever be without Peruna, for it is an unfailing cure for colds." Mrs. M. F. Jones, Burning Springs, Ky.

DEAF AS A POST

By AUGUSTUS GOODRICH SHERWIN.

"Who is he?"

"He is Dale Armstrong. He was crack football man of the Columbia college team."

"He looks it," with an admiring glance at the handsome athletic fellow who had just passed by. "Call after him and introduce me."

"It would be of no use to call."

"Why not?"

"Because he is deaf—deaf as a post."

"What a pity!"

Thus two young men on a street of Virden. Meantime the subject of their conversation went on his way. His face was smileless, his manner stern and grim. He acted as would one who had met some great disappointment or setback in life and, unable to overcome it, had resolutely set himself a hard definite task of submission.

"Deaf as a post" was Dale Armstrong, indeed! Nature was to him a closed book, for its bird and insect orchestra he no longer heard. There was something grotesque, quite terrible to him in this monotonous pantomime life. He could tell that a cheery little fellow who passed him was whistling. On the porch of a pleasant home a lad with a mandolin was warbling some mirthful tune. A young lady passed him and bowed and unconsciously she murmured some formal words of recognition, a mere mockery, almost torture to his sensitive spirit, for he could not construe their import.

As his friend had said he had been the crack man of a famous college football team. He had made the record score of the year, had covered his team with glory, but at a terrible cost. A kick on the head had stunned him. When he returned to consciousness the frightful discovery dawned upon him that he had lost his hearing.

For a week skilled physicians and surgeons worked over him. At the last they shook their heads despairingly. They bombarded his anxious friends with a torrent of technical medical phrases. In their opinion Dale would never hear again.

"Oh, That's All Right, Don't Mind Deaf Armstrong!"

It was anguish to Dale to realize that all the hopes, plans and ambitions of his young life were utterly blighted, his future blasted, the present a dead sea level of mere existence. Of course he had to abandon his college course. Music, his main forte, was forever shut out for him.

All the dreary journey home he had but one thought: how would Myrtle take it—pretty loving Myrtle Parr, his fiancee? The news of his calamity had reached Tipton, however, before he arrived and Dale soon had an added grief to endure.

Mr. Parr refused to allow Myrtle to see Dale. In fact he had sent her away to a relative, where he declined to tell. In a blunt practical business-like way he informed Dale that it would be folly to encourage his daughter to wed a man in a condition even worse than that of a cripple. In a [illegible] Dale acknowledged the [illegible] of this, for his business chances in the world would certainly be lim-

There was one ray of comfort amid his loneliness and grief, however. He received a broken-hearted note from Myrtle. She loved him still, she would love him till the end! No matter what her father might say—deaf, blind, a pauper—she would marry Dale the day he asked her, in defiance of all the world!

But that sacrifice of her youth, beauty and happiness Dale felt that he could never consent to ask of Myrtle. She remained away from Tipton at her father's mandate and Dale fell into a dreary humdrum mode of existence.

Time hung heavily on his hands.

Ordinary Colds or complications cause many deaths. If prevented would quickly double average life. A cold is a germ disease. To cure it the germs must be promptly destroyed.

DEAF AS A POST

The doctors had insisted on rest and recreation, for a few months at least. He tried fishing, he would take long strolls out into the country. While in the village, however, he made the local billiard hall a favorite haunt. He liked the game and he watched the players at the tables with interest. Thither he was bound now. They had got to designate him as "Deaf Armstrong." Often he took a cue in hand and had become quite expert with the ivory balls.

Then, without stating his purpose except to his parents and sister, Dale left the town and was gone a month. He returned to face a new sensation. Mr. Parr had been robbed, even beggared, gossip had it. A miserly, narrow-minded old man, he had bulked most of his means in some land upon the river. A colored community had bought it at an extravagant price for all cash. The money Parr had placed in a small safe in his house. The next morning he awoke from a drugged sleep to find the safe and its contents gone.

The old man had become frantic. He had sent for his daughter, he had hired all the local sleuths in the place, but they found no clue to safe or despoilers. They found no wagon tracks near the house and theorized that the burglars had carried it away bodily. They had probably dumped it in some safe hiding place, as they could not of themselves carry it far, but they had left no trace as to their identity.

Dale looked brisk and bright as he went down to the billiard hall that evening. He had reason to feel that way, for a great blessing had come to him. He smiled as he passed a group of children, and one of them narrated gravely how his mishap had come about through the "esplosion of a great big football!" It was a cold dreary evening and there were not many at the billiard hall. Dale passed into its little reading room and scanned the newspapers there.

A man, stranger, stuck his head through the doorway, frowned slightly at finding the apartment occupied and turned to the owner of the place who stood near by.

"I'd like to have a few minutes' confidential talk in there with a friend of mine who will be here in a few minutes," he said.

"Oh, that's all right. Don't mind Deaf Armstrong. He can't hear you."

Dale smiled behind his newspaper. Almost immediately a second stranger appeared. Both glanced at Dale and then began talking in low tones. Dale yawned and seemed to drowse.

"Tomorrow morning you hire an automobile and go out to the place I've described," spoke the first comer finally.

They were no sooner out of sight when Dale sprang to his feet. He made for the nearest livery stable and sought out its proprietor.

"Murray," he said, "get out a car and load in a lantern and a stout rope and chain. Then drive over to the Parr home."

Murray stared hard at Dale, mystified, but he respected his young client and proceeded to execute the order without cavil. Dale ran up the steps of the home of his fiancee a few minutes later. He rang the doorbell. Mr. Parr appeared.

"You were robbed of a safe containing a small fortune a few days since," began Dale.

"What of it?" demanded Parr, suspiciously viewing the visitor whom he had tabooed.

"I have got a trace of it," replied Dale simply.

"How? How?" cried the old man excitedly.

"I overheard the burglars telling where they hid the safe the night of the robbery."

"You—heard!" gasped Parr incredulously. "Why, aren't you deaf as a post?"

"Never mind that," retorted Dale, with a confident smile. "Come with us."

Which Parr did, to be led to the site of a burned-down farm house. There Dale uncovered an old well, descended and attached the rope to something at its bottom. The three pulled it up—the missing safe!

And its contents intact! Then the police were notified to lay in wait for the criminals.

"But—but—your deafness?" stammered the marveling old man on the way back to his home.

"Cured in the city a week ago through a successful operation," explained Dale.

"The reward," began Parr, niggardly thinking of the one thousand dollars he had offered.

Then Dale Armstrong asked for Myrtle's hand in marriage—and got it.

What's The Use?

What's the use of having a combination lock on your safe, or burglar alarm connection, and perhaps a night watchman, if your checks go unprotected to be raised by the first penman into whose hands they fall. Why pay for insurance on your property and sign your name to an unprotected check which represents exactly what you are protecting with fire insurance. Millions of dollars have been lost in the last year by the average business man all over the United States, who have taken the chance of sending out their checks unprotected. Report of Burn's International Detective Agency shows this. American banks and conservative business men use the

Why pay thirty or thirty-five dollars for other makes when you can buy the "SAFE-GUARD" for eighteen.
