BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD

Notice Concerning Change in Milk Rates

The Boston and Maine Railroad, subject to the approval of the public Authorities, plans to revise its charges for transporting milk. Some points have rates only by passenger train service, others only by freight service, and some points by both. Where a freight rate exists, it is three-fourths of the passenger train rate. There are also variations in the rates at different points similarly situated.

The result of all this is to give much lower rates from Maine and Northern New Hampshire than from Vermont on shipments to Boston. For example, Foxcroft, Maine, 256 miles from Boston, has a leased car freight rate of $37 a day, while a similar shipment from Vergennes, Vermont, 213 miles from Boston, pays a passenger rate of $63.96 a day.

The management of the Railroad believes the freight rate should be abolished, and that the passenger rates should be rearranged to give the same rate to localities similarly situated. With that end in view it has prepared a new tariff lowering rates in some cases, raising them in some others, and doing away with the freight rates in all.

IN CONSIDERING THE NEW RATES REMEMBER

1. The new rates are lower than those charged by other railroads entering Boston, and lower than those into New York or any other large city which obtains its milk from a distance.

2. No carload rate to any point within 165 miles of Boston is increased. Those between 75 and 150 miles are reduced to make the basis uniform.

3. The largest increase at any one point on the can rate to Boston, in baggage car service, is two cents for an eight and one-half quart can; less than a quarter of a cent a quart.

4. The longest journey of any leased car to-day is 284 miles. The largest increase to Boston on the leased car rate of the large shippers is less than one-third of a cent a quart. This is for a distance of 300 miles. For shorter distances this increase is smaller.

Cream retails at from three to six times the price of milk, this price being fixed on the amount of butter fat it contains. Cream is now carried at the milk rate. If it is damaged or spilled, the railroad must pay the owner the cream price. Because of this the new rate for cream has been made one and one-half times the milk rate.

THE REPORTER'S COMMENTS

On Matters of Current News, Given our Readers in a Condensed Manner

Henry Ford's new machine for the farmer is worth being interested in.

Kluebel, the German aviator who invented the invisible aeroplane, has been killed at Meunster while testing a new machine.

Sixty-seven girls have entered for the swim in the eleventh annual race for girls, for the swimming championship of New England. The race takes place in the Charles River basin.

The United States Public Health Service has just received confirmation to the report that a case of true bubonic plague had been discovered in New Orleans. Orders were issued for the strictest precautions to prevent its spread.

Flag Island, in Casco bay, has been reported as favorable for a main aeronautical station for the aerial Coast Patrol. A patrol of fifty miles in each direction along the coast would extend to Portsmouth and to the mouth of the Penobscot river.

William Jennings Bryan has testified as to his willingness to go to Europe in an attempt to bring about peace.

Dr. Forgo, the publisher of Brooklyn "Forgo Guides," heads a movement to have Mr. Bryan try to stop the war.

Dr. Madison C. Peters of New York, at the Clarendon Street Baptist church, Boston, spoke forcefully on "Advertising" for the churches. "Don't move your churches," he advised. "Just keep your churches where they are. What you want to change are your methods. The best ally of the church is the modern newspaper. Get every paper interested in your church."

Uncle Sam's free land is given in the annual report of the general land office as 279,544,400 acres of land unappropriated and unreserved, of which 172,987,912 acres are surveyed and the rest unsurveyed. More than 11,200,000 acres of land were eliminated from the public domain during the last fiscal year by homestead and other entries and sales to individuals.

All good Republicans will agree with National Committeeman Estabrook, of Nashua, at Hillsboro County Republican club meeting, when he said: "I have no object in politics except to do what I can to get the best type of men for the offices, from the lowest to the highest. This is one of the most critical times the world has ever seen, not only in the European countries but here in our own country. It is the duty of every man to interest himself in politics."

F company of the second infantry, Dover, repeated the victory of its toy team by winning the company team match from a field of twenty-four in the National Guard shoot. The winners aggregate at 200 and 300 yards rapid fire, and 600 yards slow was 634. L company second infantry, Houlton, was second with 593. B company, Rumford, third with 582. The Mayo, Southard and Preason trophies were awarded to company F of Dover, company H of Waterville and company B of Rumford.

The manufacturing processes of the United States Cartridge Company's factories at Lowell is badly crippled by the 2,000 strikers who are now out. The prospect of the 3,000 remaining on a strike, the huge war orders calling for specific deliveries will force the company to listen to the strikers. The new wireless station on the grounds of the Chelsea Naval Hospital, the second most powerful radio station in the country, has just been opened by the government without formalities. Gunner G. A. Dunner established communications with the Chicago station, more than 1,000 miles away. The most powerful Arlington station at Washington received communications, also the Colon station, Panama, over 2,100 miles away. The station towers three hundred feet in the air and is guarded by marines from the Navy yard.

It is quite a relief to notice the slow rate of speed autoists have been practicing the past few days. A number of them have been officially notified that they have been driving too fast, especially around curves and near bridges, particularly the Bennington covered bridge, and have not used sufficient care in sounding a horn or whistle upon reaching the dangerous places. In addition, they are registered by law to slow down in meeting and passing other vehicles on the road—which too many do not take the trouble to do. Close watch on the part of the authorities will do a whole lot of good; for most of auto drivers had rather use a little care—if they have to—than be held up and relieved of a certain amount of the coin of the realm, and perhaps have something in addition passed up to them. With so many automobiles on the road, additional care on the part of the drivers is required; proper exercise of this care will prevent many an accident—and we think make autoing an added pleasure.

Mothers—Watch Irritable Children

That fever, paleness, grinding of teeth while asleep, and coated tongue are indications that your child has worms in its system. Kickapoo Worm Killer quickly gets rid of these parasites. It is perfectly safe for even the most delicate children. It is pleasant to take and has three effective medicinal qualities:—acts as a laxative, expels the worms, and tones up the system. Begin the treatment today and eliminate the cause of irritability. 25c. adv.

Here are the changes in time that go into effect on this branch of the B. & M. railroad on Sunday next: trains arrive at Antrim station at 7.24, 8.06, 10.29 and 11.52 in the forenoon, and at 1.53, 3.44, 4.17 and 6.48 in the afternoon.

Comforting Words

Many an Antrim Household Will Find them So

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary troubles is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting to hundreds of Antrim readers.

Mrs. W. A. Brown, Henniker, N. H., says: "My feet and ankles swelled very badly and often I found it very difficult to walk around the house. I also had severe pains through my loins and my back ached intensely. Doan's Kidney Pills greatly benefited me. I have used this medicine since and it has never failed to give me relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Brown had. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. adv.

THE BEAUTIFUL LAND

Rest, dear mother rest,
Thy earthly pain is o'er.
Thou art gone to meet the loved ones

On the other shore,
Thou hast lived a long and useful life

Of four score years and more,
Now God has called thee home
Upon the other shore.

But oh, how we shall miss you,
As we see the vacant chair,
And know that thy dear presence
Will never more be there.

Methinks I see the dear ones
With smiles and outstretched hands
Waiting to receive you
As the boatman nears the strand.

So now farewell dear mother
And when God calls us home
Hand in hand in the beautiful land
Of paradise we'll roam.

—Composed by Mrs. Lois D. Hart, the deceased.

NEWS OF THE GRANITE STATE

Probable Murder of Farm Hand at Peterboro

BODY FOUND IN HOTEL

Twelve-Year-Old Girl Has Thrilling Two-Mile Drive—Fire Mystery Solved—Value of Grasshoppers.

Peterboro—The body of Miss Phillips, a farm hand, was found at his room in the Central House Thursday morning with a bullet through the heart. On a bureau, six feet from the bed, was a 38-calibre revolver with one chamber empty. It is claimed that Phillips could not have placed the revolver on the bureau and then walked to the bed after the shooting, and for this reason it is supposed that he was shot as he lay there. He had spent the previous day in the company of two men who have been in town a few weeks employed as well diggers, and it is said the three had been drinking heavily. But little is known of any of the men. The two who were with Phillips the night before he was shot have been arrested and detectives are at work upon the case. The suspects were later released and it was conceded to be a case of suicide.

Thrilling Two-Mile Ride. Portsmouth—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Alchel and daughter Victoria, 12 years old, drove to their cottage at Wallis Sands, Rye, one day last week and while there, with only the little girl in the carriage, the horse bolted and ran. Mrs. Alchel attempted to stop the animal as it started, but was swept aside and knocked over. Mr. Alchel telephoned to Lang's Corner, two miles distant, and when a party of men attempted to stop it, the animal swerved aside and dashed the carriage against a telephone pole. The girl was hurled into the road and when taken up was rushed to this city in an auto. An examination showed that she was unharmed with the exception of a few cuts about the face and head.

Fire Mystery Solved. Manchester—The mystery surrounding the burning of a set of farm buildings just across the line in Litchfield Tuesday night of last week appears to be cleared up by the arrest of John H. Wiggin, a man over 70 years old. Wiggin is feeble minded, and had been seen about the buildings several times. The police say that Wiggin went into the buildings and after lighting the cigar threw the match down. It started a fire and Wiggin went outside and saw the buildings burn. They were owned by Peter J. Connelly of this city, and the loss is about $3,500.

Arrested for Passing Forged Checks. Plymouth—The police were notified Thursday that William T. West, who is wanted here for passing forged checks, had been arrested in Chicago. He has been a resident here four years, and left on Sunday of last week for Chicago. Later it was discovered that two checks for $75 each and one for $200 which he had passed here were forgeries. He gave one of the $75 checks to G. L. Rand in payment for 75 cents worth of goods, receiving $74.25 in currency. The telegram states he will return with Grafton county officers without protest.

He Should Get What is Coming to Him. Nashua—James Valade came home Friday afternoon and telling his wife he was through with her packed a couple of grips and left the house. His wife followed him and when she remonstrated regarding his action he dropped the suit cases and knocked her down. He then started for Hudson and his wife followed him to the Center about two miles and had him arrested by Hudson officers. He was taken back to this city with his suit case, and had the pleasure of pleading to a charge of assault in municipal court.

Grasshoppers Worth More than Hay Crop. Orford—Joseph Saladino, who lives on what is known as the Houghton stock farm here, says the grasshoppers were so thick on his farm the past summer that he only cut one load of hay from the 150 acres of tillage land. His oat crop was damaged to such an extent that it was not worth threshing. Mr. Saladino rigged a machine for catching grasshoppers, capturing 26 1-2 bushels, on which he received a bounty of $65, or twice as much as his hay crop was worth.

Feeble Minded Girl Chokes Baby Sister. Nashua—Mr. and Mrs. Eilhenias Argyfou went away on Wednesday evening of last week leaving their 8-months-old daughter asleep in a crib in care of a 10-year-old daughter who is said to be feeble minded. When the parents returned they found the baby had been choked until it was black in the face, and they at once hurried it to a hospital where death ensued a few hours later. Steps are being taken by the police to have the girl taken to a state institution.

Judge Clark Hands Down a Sentence With Strings on It.

Concord—On Friday A. M. Ingersoll of Henniker, while driving an automobile in an intoxicated condition narrowly escaped running down City Marshall George A. S. Kimball, and refused to stop when the marshal ordered him to do so. Kimball had Ingersoll arrested, and when arraigned before Judge Clark in municipal court entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs and suspending a sentence of three months in jail, on condition that Ingersoll promise, on his honor, to go to a drunk cure retreat, take the pledge for life and report once a month to the local police court until further notice. Violation of any of the promises will cause the mittimus to issue automatically. The judge further announced that in all similar cases in future a sentence to jail or house of correction would be enforced.

Better Facilities for Crystal. West Milan—Crystal is a flag station about half way between this place and Percy, on the Grand Trunk railroad, and has had no agent in charge. Upon a petition to the public service commission an order has been issued that the road provide suitable accommodation there, including a room for passengers, lighted, heated and cared for, with provisions for supplying tickets and checking baggage, and also a room for freight with not less than 250 feet of floor space. The improvements must be installed not later than December 31, 1915.

Changes in New Hampshire Diocese. Manchester—Bishop Guertin announced Saturday the following changes in clergy in the New Hampshire diocese: Rev. Henry E. Lennon, pastor of St. Matthew's church, Whitefield, transferred to St. Patrick's church, Milford, succeeding Rev. G. F. Marshall, transferred to Walpole; Rev. John A. Casey, pastor of St. Agnes' church, Ashland, appointed pastor of All Saints church, Lancaster; Rev. Peter J. McDonough, administrator of St. Mary's parish, Dover, named for the pastorate of St. Agnes' church in Ashland.

Buildings are Total Loss. Pembroke—The dwelling house of Bert Holt near the Concord line was discovered to be on fire about 7 o'clock Friday morning. A telephone call was sent to Concord for help, but by the time the chemical arrived the buildings were a total loss. The fire had made such headway when discovered that but little of the contents could be saved. The loss is about $2000 with an insurance of $750. The origin of the fire is unknown.

More Students at Durham. Durham—The largest freshman class in the history of the New Hampshire college is now registered here, numbering 236. The total registration thus far is 548 as against 429 for the corresponding period last year. The new dormitories will not be completed for some three weeks, and students are finding trouble in getting proper accommodations.

Struck with Baby in Arms. Nashua—While walking in front of her house with a year-old baby in her arms Friday evening, Mrs. Louis Thivierge was struck by a bicyclist. She was knocked down and received a fractured skull and several bruises. The baby escaped without injury. The bicyclist did not want to see what damage he had done, and efforts to locate him were fruitless.

There Are Probably Others. Lacombe—Appostolos Sobliros, a candy merchant, was in municipal court Friday charged with selling cigarettes to minors. He was sentenced to pay a fine and costs amounting to $15.29. Upon payment of costs the fine was placed on file subject to the call of the city marshal.

Others Might Do Likewise. Concord—The will of David N. Morgan of Bow Mills, lately presented for probate, contains more than $10,000 in public bequests. The Margaret Pillsbury hospital gets $5000, Methodist Episcopal church of Bow Mills $2500, and the New Hampshire Orphans' Home $2000.

Sisters 99 and 93. Chester—Mrs. Emeline Morse observed her 93rd birthday anniversary Thursday. She does her own work and assists her daughter with whom she lives. Her sister, Mrs. Sarah S. Wheeler of Ayer Village, Mass., recently passed her 99th birthday.

Loses Tip of Thumb. Derry—Dr. Alexander B. Wark, a local dentist, met with a peculiar accident one evening last week. In cranking his auto he struck the end of his thumb against a piece of tin which protruded from the machine and shaved the end of it off.

Bad Fire at Dover. Dover—A fire in the residence of Herbert E. Towle Saturday resulted the efforts of the firemen for two hours before it was under control. During its progress three firemen were overcome by smoke and had to be carried from the building. They were resuscitated by a physician. Neighbors carried the piano and other goods from the building. The loss is covered by insurance and is estimated at $1800.

A very queer freak of lightning was that in last week's shower, when it struck a large spruce tree in the John Tenney lot on the mountain at the rear of George Craig's house. The bolt followed the tree down from the top and instead of going through the knots took a course around each one to the bottom.

We were favored recently in having the privilege of looking over a lot of original drawings by Miss Dora Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Craig. For a young lady of her age this work is very commendable, and her talent along this line should be developed; we feel sure that with training Miss Craig would be able to do some first class work.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn. — “I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do.” — Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is neither an inflammation nor an infection of the mucous membrane. We will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who can cure a case of Deafness cured by our Catarrh Cure, sent for free. F. J. CHERNEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, etc. This is the only safe and reliable method.

HANDICRAFT FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

A. NEELY HALL and DOROTHY PERKINS

(Copyright, by A. Neely Hall)

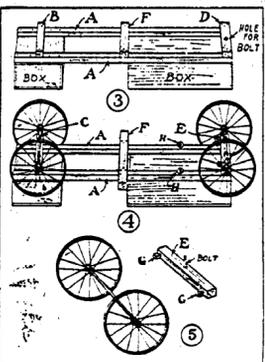

A HOMEMADE PUSHMOBILE.

In building a pushmobile, the wheels are of first importance. Fig. 3 shows the body framework. The side rails A should be 2 by 2's or 3 by 4's. Cut them to whatever length you wish. Upon these rails are mounted two grocery boxes, a long box on the bow end, and a box as long as this one is wide, on the stern end. Fasten the rails to the bottom of these boxes (Fig. 3). The crosspieces B and D, provide for the mounting of the wheels. Nail one to rails A at the bow end, and the other so it will come under the center of the stern box. Crosspiece F forms a foot-bar.

The front iron axle must be attached to a pivotal wooden axle (E, Figs. 4 and 5). This must have a hole bored through the center of its length for a 1/2-inch carriage bolt. Screw a pair of screw-eyes into one end (G, Fig. 5). Fasten the iron axle to the wooden axle with iron staples, or with bent-over nails. Bore a hole through the center of cross-piece D (Figs. 3 and 7) for the carriage bolt to run through. Then, in mounting the axles upon the framework, slip an iron washer over the carriage bolt so it will come between axle E and crosspiece D. The rear axle must be fastened to a similar wooden axle (C, Fig. 4). Nail this wooden axle to crosspiece B.

The steering-gear should be made next. A sewing machine wheel is best for the steering-wheel, but a wagon-wheel will do. Cut a broom handle for the shaft (I, Fig. 6), and mount the wheel on one end. Then cut a crosspiece (J), and a square block (K), bore a hole of the diameter of the broom handle through the center of each, and nail K to J. Slip this crosspiece over the end of the shaft, and fasten it 12 inches above the end with screws driven through the edges of J and K, as shown. Cut a hole through the bottom of the bow box for the end of the shaft to run through, and another hole one-half inch deep in the center of the edge of the crosspiece D (Fig. 7) for a socket for it to turn in. Screw a screw-eye into the end of crosspiece J (L, Fig. 6), and one into the under side of each side rail A (H, Figs. 4 and 5); then tie a four-foot length of rope at its center to screw-eye L, and run the ends through screw-eyes H, and tie to screw-eyes G in axle E (Figs. 4 and 5). Figs. 1 and 2 show how the hood of the pushmobile is completed by fastening a pair of triangular pieces upon the top of the bow box, nailing boards across them, and tacking screen wire over the front of the box for the radiator front; also how the seat is made.

THE GAMES OF JACK-STICKS AND RING-TOSS.

No doubt you are familiar with the game of Jack-straws, in which a pile of tiny sticks in the forms of hammers, saws, shovels, picks, etc., are placed in the center of a table, and then in turn each player tries to remove by means of a small hooked stick as many of the "straws" as possible, without disturbing any other "straws" in the pile.

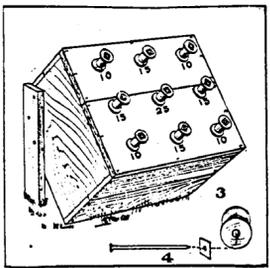

The only difference between the "straw" game and our "stick" game is in the substitution of real hammers, saws, etc., for the small ones. Figure 1 shows the large assortment of articles that may be used—brooms, umbrellas, coat hangers, pans, pot covers, palls, dustpans, etc. Throw these articles in a heap, crossed and recrossed as in the illustration. For the hooked stick for removing the articles from the pile take a broom handle and drive a long nail into it near one end, as shown in Fig. 2.

Taking turns, each player should try to remove one at a time as many "sticks" from the pile as she can without disturbing anything else. The turn passes to the next player the instant she disturbs other than the article she is trying to remove. The player securing the largest number of articles is winner.

The game of ring-toss requires an easily made target (Fig. 3). The target requires a grocery box, two stick uprights to support the box, nine thread spools for pins, and nine nails. The spool pins should be placed 4 or 4 1/2 inches apart. The heads of the nails for fastening them will likely be smaller than the holes in the spools, and in that case, in order to make the nails hold, it will be necessary to cut small squares of cardboard and run these over the nails as far as the heads (Figs. 3 and 4). After nailing the spools in their proper positions, number them with black paint, ink or pencil, as indicated in Fig. 3. Each number represents the score of the spool pin above it.

The tossing rings have a hole through their centers, and are filled with beans, like beanbags (Fig. 5). Cut two pieces of cloth eight or nine inches square for each (Fig. 6). Fold each piece in half diagonally, so as to bring corners A together (Figs. 6 and 7); then fold corner B over on to corner C (Figs. 7 and 8), and fold corner C over on to corner C (Figs. 8 and 9). Cut off corners C and D as indicated by dotted lines in Fig. 9 (Fig. 10), and, unfolded, the piece will have the form shown in Fig. 11. Sew the pair of cloth rings together, both around the outer and inner edges, leaving but a small opening between the outer edges. Fill the bag solid with beans, through the opening, then sew up the opening.

There should be three rings, so each player may have three tosses each turn. The distance from which the rings are tossed may be ten, fifteen or twenty feet away from the target.

PREVENT HOG CHOLERA

Disease is Greatest Menace to Successful Swine Raising.

By Far Most Contagious and Fatal of Any of Allments of Animals—Infection Carried to Healthy Herds in Many Ways.

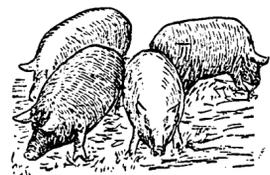

(By J. KASTLE and R. GRAHAM.)

Hog cholera is the greatest menace to successful hog raising. It is by far the most contagious and fatal of any of the diseases of swine. The disease is due to an ultra-microscopic virus which is present in the blood, the excreta and in the carcasses of all infected animals. The infection may be carried from infected to healthy herds by a number of agencies, such as running water, birds, dogs, new stock from infected sources, and also on the shoes of persons who have walked over infected areas. We can only hope to control, and ultimately eradicate hog cholera by honest, conscientious and painstaking efforts on the part of all farmers and hog raisers looking to the effective isolation of all animals having the disease, scrupulous cleanliness in the handling and care of hogs, disinfection of infected premises, the burning of all carcasses of hogs that have died of this disease, proper care in the selection of fresh stock and the careful and intelligent use of hog cholera serum.

Hogs should be fed a balanced ration consisting of such materials as corn and various corn products, bran, wheat middlings, oil meal, tankage and distillers' dried grains and, whenever possible, they should be supplied with forage crops, such as green alfalfa or alfalfa hay. Hogs should be supplied with an abundance of pure, clean water, plenty of shade in hot weather, dry bedding, and airy, light, well ventilated hog houses.

Great care should be exercised in the purchase of new stock in order to secure healthy, vigorous animals, free from disease. In this connection, it is well to bear in mind that hog cholera has an incubation period lasting from 5 to 20 days, during which time the animal may appear normal to all intents and purposes. Separate quarters should be provided for the isolation of all newly-purchased animals, where they may be kept from the rest of the herd for a period of three weeks, and kept under observation for any symptom of the disease that may appear.

Following an outbreak of hog cholera in a herd, a thorough cleaning up and disinfection of hog lots and quarters must be resorted to. Fire and fresh air-slaked lime are the most efficient agents for the destruction of hog cholera virus. Scatter fresh air-slaked lime abundantly about the hog lots or disinfest with a 3 per cent solution of cresol compound and white-wash the hog houses and fences.

Sick hogs should not be sold; neither should they be driven along public highways or transported in cars from place to place, or placed in public stock yards or pens. In other words, the only way to properly control this disease is to isolate it, and though it may work a temporary hardship on the individual owner to do this, it is certainly, ultimately, to his interest and to the interest of the great body of hog raisers, to do all in his power to establish and maintain a rigid and effective quarantine with respect to this disease.

SOME ECONOMIES IN HARVEST

Considerable Portion of Grain Crop Lost in Field by Help Neglecting to Pick Up Scatterings.

(By A. D. WILSON.) It is possible for careless help to leave a considerable portion of the grain crop in the field by neglecting to gather up scatterings, loose bundles, etc., and by hauling grain on open-bottom racks.

From a few pounds to a few bushels of grain may be saved every day, during stacking, by using a tight-bottom rack, or a canvas over the rack that will catch all of the grain that is shattered out of the heads.

In seasons when the grain shatters badly, a surprisingly large amount of grain can be saved in this way.

Value of Coal Ashes. Coal ashes, it is believed by many because of their favorable effect on many soils, possess considerable fertilizing value. As a matter of fact coal ashes contain only traces of fertilizing constituents. The good results from their use is due to their loosening or lightening effect on heavy or clay soils.

Studies Feed and Land. The dairy farmer not only studies how to feed his cow but how to feed his land. He is not a soil robber, as he realizes that the farmer who reduces the fertility of his land robs without reason, since he steals from himself.

CAREFUL WRAPPING PAPER

Pieces of Thick Wrapping Paper Over Top With Bit Oil in Center Will Prove Effective.

A trap which has been known to catch the rodents by the dozens is called the barrel trap. Procure a watertight barrel, put a rock in the bottom that will reach up about a foot high and pour in sufficient water to nearly cover the rock, leaving just the upper point sticking out, and it should be about large enough to hold a single rat.

In place of the upper head, stretch a piece of very thick wrapping paper over the top of the barrel and fasten it securely by means of the top hoop or a cord.

Dampen the paper slightly with a moist sponge, and it will become tight when dry. Feed the rats on this paper head, with cheese-parings and other things that they like, for several nights in succession, so as to get the rats accustomed to coming without fear or suspicion.

After you have gained their confidence, cut a cross slit in the middle of the paper and spread the feed as before.

The first rat that comes will drop through into the water and get on the rock; the next one drops through and there is a fight for a foothold, and they argue the point with such squeals that all the rats in the neighborhood hasten in to find out what the trouble is.

EARLY CORN BEST FOR SEED

More Apt to Be Well Cured Before Hard Freezes—Irrregular Kernels Should Always Be Rejected.

After the seed corn is husked, it should be dried before hard freezes, though early corn is apt to be well cured in the shock if the shock has stood up well. No seed should be saved from down shocks, even when the ears look good on the outside. The germ is next the cob. We have learned from experience that grains with dark points may sprout in the tester, but they send up weak sprouts and are not reliable.

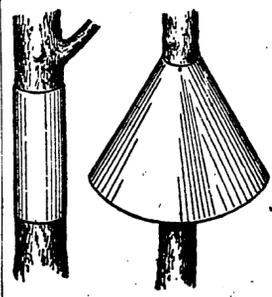

A simple way of drying and storing seed corn for home use is to fill coarse burlap sacks and suspend them in the barn by a single wire. Mice will sometimes descend a double wire and take the germs from your best kernels. Of course, corn should not be sacked when at all damp and less than a bushel should not be placed in a sack, says a writer in an exchange. This method would seem tedious to seed corn growers, no doubt, but it will be of use to many small farmers.

The final selection of corn for seed should be made next spring when the sacks of ears are opened and the ears shelled. Some defects will likely appear then which were not noticed this fall. Irregular kernels should then be rejected as they may lodge in the planter and cause a poor stand. For this reason tips and butts should be rejected and all doubtful ears should be tested.

GUARDS PROTECT THE BIRDS

Obstructions Placed Around Trees in Which Nests Have Been Built to Keep Away All Marauders.

In order to increase the number of birds in any area, they must be protected, not only against every form of persecution by human kind, but we must defend them from various natural foes. Guards should be placed about the trees or poles which contain the birds' nests. These guards should be placed six feet or more above the ground, and they should be made of sheet metal. This will prevent cats and all such marauders from climbing to the nests.

Man With Inside Track. In these days of high-priced land the call is for "high-pressure" operations, and the man that gets his horses to work for him the earliest, without darning them, is the one who has the inside track.

Damage to Milk. Much of the damage that is done to milk in this country is due to careless handling of the sterilis in which the milk is kept.

A Chance Investment

By Walter Joseph Delaney

(Copyright, 1915, by W. G. Chapman.)

"I do not wish you to become alarmed or change your plans," wrote the father of Eleanor Gwynne to his only daughter, two thousand miles away from home. "I tell you of the possible trouble in my business only because you might hear of it through other sources. I may be able to weather through. If not, it means our living on a more moderate scale, that is all. You still have the income from your mother's estate, so we cannot exactly starve."

"Poor, dear papa! and always thinking of my comfort and happiness!" mused Eleanor with some agitation. "Of course I shall not remain here—with him alone with his trouble. No, there is a stage Monday and it will see me homeward bound."

How different this, her second visit from the first she had made to the pine-laden breezes and exquisite solitude of an Arizona health resort! The year previous at exactly this same season of the year she and her father had spent three weeks together at this romantic spot. Only then everything was prospering, there were no cares of business to annoy. Eleanor folded the letter, when she noticed some additional lines, comprising a postscript, on the reverse side of the sheet.

"By the way," it ran, "it is a forlorn hope, but I mention it—that scamp, Warren Brill! I don't know if you remember him, but he is that likely looking young fellow who acted as our guide for a time. I never told you, but I was so taken with his manliness and energy that I was induced by him to trust him with five thousand dollars to buy a mine. He asked a year in which to develop it and make us both rich. I have never heard from him since, but a few months ago I wrote to some people at Croftutt Pass about him. They could tell me nothing about Brill, but said that the mine he purchased, or pretended to purchase, was abandoned because it was flooded and absolutely worthless. It is a vain quest, I imagine, but you might make some inquiries and let me know the result."

The Squaw Produced a Keen-Bladed Knife.

That five thousand dollars would pretty nearly mean my business salvation just now."

There was a certain animation in the eyes of the pretty girl as she read these lines. These were not needed to at once invoke a remembrance of the person they named. Eleanor retained a vivid memory of the bright, gentlemanly young fellow who had been her companion for nearly a week. He was musical, educated, in harmony with their ideas of courtesy and refinement and had left a distinctly pleasing impression on the mind of Eleanor.

She was astounded at the implication of dishonesty made by her father. She had regarded Brill as the soul of honor. More than once in gay frivolous social circles she had compared her flirtatious admirers with this model young westerner, and not to his disadvantage.

That evening Eleanor made inquiries at a tourist hotel as to Brill. He was remembered, but had dropped out of sight months since, she was informed.

"There was a great friend of his named Savage," advised the landlady. "I think he is a clerk or something at the mail station."

There Eleanor went the next morning. It was to locate this Savage, a young man, a cripple, whose eyes brightened and whose face glowed at the mention of a name evidently cherished.

"You should not attempt it, unprotected," she warned Eleanor. "The country is wild and infested with vicious half-breeds and ever outlaws," but Eleanor was fearless and willful. She equipped herself in stanch walking trim, and quitted her home passing down a lonely mountain gully and recognizing marks in the landscape described to her which indicated that she was nearing Croftutt Pass. Suddenly, turning past a dense thicket, she recoiled with a start as a tawny-skinned woman darted directly in front of her.

The stranger, a half-breed squaw, was slowly, half-intoxicated and vicious looking. Her eyes glowed as she made out the small netted handbag suspended from the belt that Eleanor wore. She thrust out her hand, seized it and tore it loose. Eleanor put out a detaining hand, for the bag contained some money and valuable jewelry.

The squaw produced a keen-bladed knife and showed her teeth. Then she quickly uncoiled a stout lariar from her waist. Eleanor read her purpose, to bind her hand and foot and leave her helpless while she fled safely with her spoils.

Eleanor sought to defend herself. She stooped suddenly, seized a heavy stick lying in the path, swung it around and swept her despoiler off her feet. With an angry snarl the squaw regained her feet, but Eleanor fled precipitately. She fancied she heard a masculine voice shouting out after her, but she feared an accomplice of the squaw and terror lent fleetness to her actions.

Eleanor deviated from the gully, seeking shelter in rushing up a side path. At the top she paused breathless. A view of the spot where she had been robbed was now shut out from her view. Eleanor made out a cabin, its door open. She rushed through the aperture and sank to a chair in a rudely furnished room, nearly at the point of fainting.

Her eyes opened wide as, wandering about the room, they fell upon a picture on a stand. It was her own. Near to it was a tiny vase and in this, as if replaced fresh every morning was a mountain daisy, her favorite flower.

She recalled having her picture taken the year before in this very district by a traveling photographer. Was this one printed from the same negative? Lost in anger, half-guessing the truth, she started up as a stalwart form crossed the threshold. It was "that scamp," Warren Brill!

He greeted her with manifest repression and respect. She wondered if Fate was in all this, as he told of witnessing the robbery, of recovering the booty from the squaw.

"I found this on the ground," he explained, and he handed Eleanor with the handbag the letter she had received from her father the day previous. There was a queer twinkle in his eye. She flushed deeply.

"It is just a year lacking three days since your father loaned me the money to purchase the old mine, Miss Wynne," he said. "It turned out a heartless swindle, but my defeat urged me up to new efforts to make amends to my generous backer. I struck a new rich prospect. See," and he exhibited receipts from the branch mint for over fifty thousand dollars.

Brill saw her safely back to town. He saw her, too, every day after that during her stay. Then, the last evening but one, he told his love.

"Dear papa," spoke Eleanor, home returned a week later, after her greetings were over, "you asked me to find 'that scamp,' Warren Brill, for you."

"Yes, Eleanor." "Well, I have brought him with me to explain all about his terrible duplicity!" And Eleanor went into the hallway and beckoned to Warren Brill, and led into the presence of her amazed sire her future husband.

All the Day's Work. In a town of Maryland one Bill Morton appeared before the postmaster one morning and the following colloquy occurred:

"Morning, Mr. Postmaster." "Morning, Bill."

"Has Tom Moore been in for his mail yet?"

"No."

"Will you be here when he comes?"

"I guess so."

"Well, when he comes in will you tell him that on his way from the cheese factory I wish he'd stop and get that pig of Herman Stutz's and take it down to Henry Parker's, and tell Henry I said he could have it for the single harness even up, if he'll fix that bridle and throw in them russet lines instead of the old black ones; and if he won't trade, tell Tom to bring the pig down to my place and put it in the extra pen, and be sure and shut that door to the hen house, or all the chickens will get out. Sure there ain't no mail? Morning, Mr. Postmaster."

"Morning, Bill."

He Didn't Know. "Well, how are you today?" asked the doctor.

"I don't feel a bit better, doctor," said the patient.

"Did you take the medicine as I directed?"

"What medicine?"

"Why, that prescription I gave you yesterday. Didn't you get it filled?"

"You mean that piece of paper you gave me when I went out?"

"Yes. That was a prescription."

"Oh. I thought it was a receipt for the two dollars."

Yams Lost. To one can of yams fish add two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, one teaspoonful of chopped green peppers, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper. Mold into loaf and bake in moderate oven one-half hour. Garnish with parsley and sliced stuffed olives. Serve hot with the following sauce: Melt two teaspoonfuls of butter and add two teaspoonfuls of flour, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of paprika. When smooth add gradually one cupful of hot water. When thoroughly cooked add two tablespoonfuls of butter, a little at a time. Beat until thoroughly mixed and add two hard-cooked eggs chopped fine. Serve this very hot on the tuna loaf.

Apple Tea Cake. One pint flour, one-half teaspoonful salt, three teaspoonfuls baking powder, few grains cinnamon, two tablespoonfuls sugar, one tablespoonful butter, one egg, seat cupful of milk, five apples; mix and sift dry ingredients, work in butter, add milk gradually and egg (well beaten); spread in well-buttered baking pan; cut apples in eighths or sixteenths and stick in dough, sprinkle sugar and cinnamon over top, serve with butter.

Convenient Clothespin Bag. This bag is made from a square bag just wide enough to have a clothes hanger sewed to the top. A slit is made down the middle to within four inches of each end, so that the pins may be put in and taken out easily. The advantage of this bag is that it can be hooked on the line and slid along as the clothes are hung up.

Lemon Pie With Raisins. One cupful sugar, one heaping tablespoonful flour, one and one-half cupfuls molasses, one cupful water, juice and grated rind of two lemons, one cupful seeded raisins. Stir the flour into the sugar; then add the other ingredients in the order named. Bake between two crusts, slashing the upper one.

Dainty Dessert. Add one-half cupful chopped walnuts, one-half cupful maraschino cherries cut fine, one-half cupful marshmallows cut fine, one-half cupful sliced pineapple cut fine, to one pint of stiffly beaten cream. Do not sweeten cream and be sure to have cream very stiff. Enough to serve eight persons, with sponge or angel cake.

DEMAND FOR MARMALADE.

So great is the demand for marmalade in England that Spanish shippers are still sending bitter oranges, which have just arrived on the English market. It is, of course, abnormally late for the fruit, and the oranges are not good either in quality or condition. Nevertheless, the market price stands at 13c to 14c ($3.16 to $3.41) a half chest, which contains about eighty pounds of sound fruit (4 to 4 1/2 cents per pound). This works out at fully three times the ordinary value, and there is keen competition amongst jam makers for late arrivals of bitter oranges.
