Two Gold Medals—Highest Award at The Panama Exposition, 1915

Glenwood Coal Ranges, Gas Ranges, Furnaces and Heaters, awarded Two Gold Medals, at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, Cal., 1915.

Glenwood Ranges are the product of New England's largest and best known foundry. They are designed by makers of life-long experience. They weigh more, are put together better and burn less fuel than most ranges. The castings are wonderfully smooth and easy to keep clean. They are handsome, convenient and mechanically right—no modern feature lacking. Smooth cast, Colonial design, plain finish, compact structure, big roomy ovens, easy working grates and countless other features. Owing to their sturdy construction and fine workmanship, they will stand hard usage, do better work and last much longer than the ordinary kind. They certainly do "Make Cooking and Baking Easy". Get one and make housekeeping drudgeless.

Real News

A well-chosen newspaper is a necessity in every home and should be chosen for its educational value as well as for its present news value. The paper should be edited, not merely to attract the casual reader, but also to satisfy the reader who makes his newspaper a part of his life. The Boston Evening Transcript fulfills all requirements. In the Transcript will be found the daily news as it comes from all parts of the world, and in these days of wild rumors and sensational headlines, it is little wonder the public appreciates the Transcript's policy of always adhering to its high standard of news-service. Many new readers have been added to the Transcript's circulation because they appreciate the way the real facts of the war are presented. Articles by experts, on all live topics, supplemented by many regular features, make the Boston Transcript a complete summary of every phase of human activity. The publishers, at Boston, Mass., will be pleased to send specimen copies to anyone on request. adv.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will hold their next meeting Wednesday, October 6. Supper served as usual.

THE REPORTER'S COMMENTS

On Matters of Current News, Given our Readers in a Condensed Manner

Professor Unokichi Hatton, of Japan has arrived at Harvard. He is to be the first man ever to teach the doctrines of Confucius in an American University.

Mexico seeks a huge loan from the United States to finance her and pay the damage claims of the nations of the world. The various estimates of money needed run from 500 millions to a billion dollars.

Thomas A. Edison's new storage battery for submarines, tried out at an official government test at the New York Navy Yard, has proved beyond doubt a success. Mr. Edison's invention overcomes the deadly chlorine gas peril.

Harvard graduates choose business life. The law claims sixty-five men and medicine thirty-nine. One member of the class expects to teach if he returns from his service in the present war in Europe. Another man is to embrace a theatrical career. Five have chosen farming and one is to make a reputation as a painter. Eighty are undecided as yet.

Former Secretary of State William J. Bryan in an interview on the proposed billion dollar loan, said that it is not wise for our people to gamble in European war by buying risks on either side. It gives to the purchaser of bonds of belligerent countries a pecuniary interest in the results of the war which tends to make more difficult that attitude of neutrality which the President has asked this country to observe.

The First Meeting

Of the Antrim Woman's Club will be held at the club-room, Monday, October 4th, at 8 o'clock.

Following the business this program, in charge of the Art and Travel Dept., will be given:

Small cash prizes will be awarded for best exhibits. An interesting program will be given to which the public is invited.

Heavy Winds

A very heavy wind was that which visited us Sunday and during the night. Trees and branches of trees littered the streets Monday morning; and the electric light service was out of commission a part of the time. Very little rain accompanied the wind. Many barrels of apples were blown to the ground.

Recital

On the coming Friday evening, October the first, at eight o'clock, in the town hall, a recital will be given by the pupils of Miss Gertrude Jameson. The people of Antrim and vicinity are invited to attend, and also to join in singing "Old Songs," which feature will conclude the evening's program.

Mothers—Watch Irritable Children

That fever, paleness, grinding of teeth while asleep, and coated tongue are indications that your child has worms in its system. Kickapoo Worm Killer quickly gets rid of these parasites. It is perfectly safe for even the most delicate children. It is pleasant to take and has three effective medicinal qualities—acts as a laxative, expels the worms, and tones up the system. Begin the treatment today and eliminate the cause of irritability. 25c. adv.

NEWS OF THE GRANITE STATE

Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias at Laconia TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING. Hampton Beach Fire Swept, Entailing Loss of 250,000—Grand Trunk Paid $40,000 for Right of Way.

Laconia.—An event of considerable interest in Pythian circles will be the annual meeting of the grand lodge in this city next week, and also the meeting of the grand temple Pythian sisters. On Monday evening the first rank will be conferred upon large class of candidates by Mt. Belknap lodge assisted by the Lakeport lodge. Following this the play of "Friendship" will be given, and this will be followed by a reception to Hon. John J. Brown, supreme vice chancellor, and other invited guests. After this there will be a ball which all members of both orders are privileged to attend.

The grand lodge convention will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday and the grand temple of the Pythian sisters will also be in session the same day. At noon there is to be a banquet for members of the order and speeches will be made by many notable guests. It is expected that 1000 visitors will come here for the various events.

Brilliant Wedding at Pike. Haverhill.—Miss Katherine Pike, only daughter of Mrs. Edwin B. Pike of Pike, and W. V. M. Robertson, Jr. of Birmingham, Ala., were married Saturday evening in the Congregational church here, where for three generations the bride's family have worshipped. The church was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies and autumn foliage. The affair was very elaborately carried out, and was attended by a large and fashionable audience. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Barstow of Wethersfield, Conn. The bride is a sister of E. Bertram Pike, well known in business and political circles.

They Likewise Got Some Experience. Concord.—According to a San Francisco paper two young men from a village in the north part of the state who went there to attend the Panama exposition, called at police headquarters on the week of their arrival where one reported that he had lost $350 and the other $170 in some sort of a bunco game. They made the acquaintance of two men and a woman on the train going out, one of the men representing himself to be the manager of the Hotel Oakland, and before the young men were parted from their new acquaintances they found themselves separated from the money.

Air Chamber of Tub Bursts. Portsmouth.—The Eureka firemen of this city went to Amesbury Saturday to take part in a firemen's muster. While the machine was playing the air chamber burst, throwing several of the firemen violently to the ground. W. B. Dutton of Northampton, leader of the drum corps that accompanied the Portsmouth company, was struck by one of the brakes of the hand tub. He suffered a scalp wound that required four stitches, lost several teeth and his tongue was lacerated. He also had a sprained and bruised right elbow and hip.

Woman of 85 Has No Use for Horses. Hill. Mrs. Sarah Bush, 85 years old, who lives with her son, Byron Bush, does all of her traveling with an ox team. Her husband, the late Albert Bush, set the example, and never rode behind a horse or horse. The oxen are the only live stock kept on the farm, and when Mrs. Bush wishes to go to either store or church the oxen are yoked up and she rides behind them. Each Sunday the ox team makes a trip to the Church of the Holy Spirit at Danbury, six miles away.

Grand Trunk Paid $40,000. Concord.—The investigation by the Public Service commission into the expenditures of railroads operating in this state to influence legislation was adjourned Thursday until Tuesday of this week. The expenditures of the Boston & Maine have been partially investigated, and the closing day was devoted to those of the Grand Trunk. That road reported having paid a little more than $40,000 to various parties to secure a right of way for the Grand Trunk through New Hampshire.

Teams Must Regard the Traffic Laws. Franklin.—The first cases of drivers who have disregarded the new traffic laws came up in municipal court Saturday before Judge Towne. George E. Dorman and Walter Dow, both pleaded guilty to turning to the left instead of driving around the post at the center of intersecting streets. They were fined $5 and costs each, the fines being suspended upon payment of costs.

War may be necessary—but there's no sane reason why people should try to change seats while in rowboats. Near-Publicity. The nearest some men ever come to getting their pictures into the papers is when a cross (X) is shown on the half-tone to indicate where the innocent bystander stood when it happened. Daily Thought. Even in ordinary life the unselfish people are the happiest—those who work to make others happy and who forget themselves. The dissatisfied people are those who are seeking happiness for themselves.—Besant.

Hampton Beach Fire Swept. Hampton Beach.—Children playing with matches near a dry goods box filled with rubbish Thursday started a conflagration which made a large section of the beach a scene of desolation. The fire started in the Seymour cottage owned by James E. Garland of Manchester, and a strong south wind carried the flames for half a mile up the beach in a swath a quarter of a mile wide. The local fire department was utterly powerless to cope with the flames, and help was summoned from Portsmouth and Exeter. Many buildings were dynamited to check the flames, and a fortunate shift of the wind from the south to west gave the fire fighters a chance to get it under control. The burned buildings include five hotels, two theatres, St. Peter's church and 40 cottages. Among the burned hotels was the Ashworth, one of the best at the beach, and which was built two years ago to replace one burned at an expense of some $60,000. The loss is partly covered by insurance, but the proprietor says he will not rebuild again. The loss is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars, and it is seldom that any community has been visited by so destructive a conflagration. The insurance upon the property burned is in the vicinity of $100,000.

Was Too Heavy for the Drop. Manchester.—Alexander Gaudette, 67 years old, and weighing 200 pounds, found himself locked out of his room Saturday. He went to the rear window of the hallway and tried to climb from that into the window of his room. In doing so he fell into the back street, a distance of 20 feet, and sustained a fracture of the right leg.

West Pleads Guilty. Plymouth.—William T. West, whose arrest in Chicago on a charge of passing worthless checks was noted last week, was arraigned in municipal court Thursday and entered a plea of guilty to one of the charges. He was held in $1500 for the grand jury, and in default of the sureties was committed to jail at Woodsville.

Cobbler Commits Suicide. Derry.—Eugene Hamel, a cobbler, who lived alone in a little house in this village, committed suicide by shooting himself through the right temple with a .32-caliber revolver one night last week. Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

HANDICRAFT FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

By A. NEELY HALL and DOROTHY PERKINS

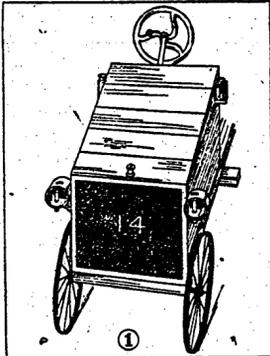

(Copyright by A. Neely Hall.)

HOMEMADE LAMPS FOR THE PUSHMOBILE.

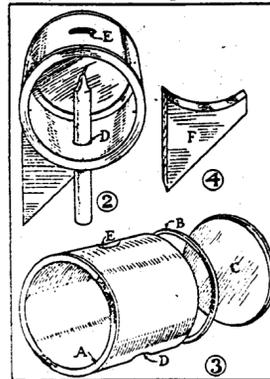

There should be two headlights and two sidelights (Fig. 1); also a tail-light.

The headlight shown in Fig. 2 is made from a syrup can, the kind having a flanged cover that fits inside of the rim. The bottom will be the front of the lamp; therefore it must have all but a rim of the tin removed (A, Fig. 3). Cut the tin with a can opener.

If you can find an old alarm clock of the right size, the glass from it will be just the thing for the front of the lamp. Use a measurement that will make the glass fit snug in the end of the can. To get the glass inside of the can, it is necessary to remove the rim on the top, which can be done by holding the can over a flame for a few seconds, and then knocking off the rim (B, Fig. 3). When the glass has been slipped into the can, replace rim B. Cover C, fitting inside of rim B, will be left removable for the purpose of lighting the lamp. Fasten the glass close against the front of the can by means of short nails driven through holes punched through the side of the can, just inside of the glass (Fig. 2).

With a can opener cut a hole a trifle smaller than a candle through the side of the can (D, Figs. 2 and 3) for the candle to stick through, and another directly opposite it (E) for a chinney.

Cut a bracket block with its upper edge curved to fit the can (F, Fig. 4), nail the can to the curved edge, and then nail the block to the side of the pushmobile (Fig. 1).

The lamp shown in Fig. 5 is made out of a pint or half-pint varnish can. Remove the bottom, and cut away all but a narrow rim of one side for the glass front (Fig. 6). Cut a piece of glass to slip in back of the opening, and fasten it in place by means of two pieces of wire run around it and the outside of the can as shown at A (Fig. 6).

Cut the block (Fig. 7) enough smaller than the can so the can will set down over it, bore a 1/4-inch hole through its center, and nail to a block a trifle larger (C, Fig. 7). The candle sets in the hole in block B. The can sets down over block B on to block C, and is pinned to B by two short nails D slipped through holes made in opposite sides of the can and block B (Figs. 6 and 7).

GARDEN HANDICRAFT.

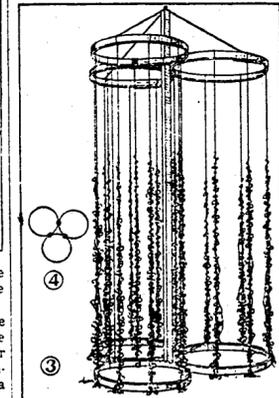

Probably every one of you girls has had experience in growing vines, but I wonder if any of you have used the simple method shown in Fig. 1 for putting up the strings. Place the stakes from three to four feet apart, instead of using one for each vine, then drive a "double-pointed" tack (Fig. 2), or nail, into the top of each, connect the tacks or nails with wire or heavy cord, and tie the strings to it at the required distances apart. These strings will fasten to a row of nails overhead, possibly in the top of a fence (Fig. 1). You will need no ladder once the nails have been put up, if you use the unique scheme shown in Fig. 1 for attaching the strings. Screw a screw-eye into the end of a stick, thread the screw-eye with the twine just as you would thread a needle, then use the stick to hook the string over the nails.

As the diagram must show the construction of the framework, it is impossible to give you a good idea of what a beautiful bower the barrel-hoop rack shown in Fig. 3 becomes when thickly covered with vines.

The diagram shows the use of six hoops, but if you cannot get this many, the three bottom hoops may be omitted and stakes driven into the ground to tie the lower ends of the strings to. Fig. 4 shows how each set of hoops should be arranged, and how each hoop should be bound with cord to the adjoining two. When the hoops have been connected, it is only necessary to get a clothespole for a support, to complete the rack. Drive a nail into the upper end of the pole, and connect the nail and each hoop with strong cord; then place ground, with the center over a hole made for the end of the pole support, and set the support in this hole. Fig. 3 shows how the strings connect the upper and lower set of hoops, and how they are spaced. You can tie the strings to the upper hoops before the pole is set in position, if you like. When the rack has been put up, plant your vines at its base, so there will be one for each string.

A box with a board nailed across it as shown in Fig. 5, makes a splendid the other set of hoops upon the weeding stool and weed receptacle. And two boxes like it, one enough smaller so when stood on end (Fig. 6) it will fit inside of the other box, between the end and the seat board (Fig. 7), will make a handy set of garden tows.

CARING FOR THE RAM

Should Be Given Every Opportunity to Keep Strong and Healthy Before Breeding Season Begins—Give Abundance of Water.

Usually, the ram which heads the average farm flock receives very little care from the time he is turned out to pasture in the spring until the advent of the breeding season in the fall. Then, about the only thing which is done is to turn him in with the ewes and allow mating to occur at random. Perhaps this is the sort of care and management which results in many barren ewes and weak lambs.

The mating season is naturally one of severe strain on the ram and he should be given every possible opportunity to keep strong and healthy. This means that he ought to have the proper kind of care, even before the breeding season begins. Of course, if the pasture is plentiful, there is not any need of feeding anything else during the early part of the grazing season. However, as the hot weather comes and the grass becomes less abundant and less succulent, it may be advisable to feed other roughage or perhaps a little grain.

Especially during the month just preceding the mating season should the ram get the best of feed and care, for experience has shown that the ram

First Prize Winner Hampshire Ram, which is gaining in condition at the opening of the breeding season will get more, and stronger lambs than the ram which is in poor flesh. Oats is one of the best grains for use at this time.

In addition to providing plenty of pasture, and a small amount of grain during the late summer, the ram should have an abundance of water. The usual practice in pasturing the ram during the summer months is to place him in a small paddock or an orchard, where there is no natural water supply. Under such conditions it is necessary to supply water by artificial means. And when the water is supplied a little salt may be given once each week.

USES FOR MANURE SPREADER

Time and Labor Saved by Distributing Fertilizer—Vehicle Can be Used as a Common Wagon.

Using the manure spreader for distributing fertilizer is another of those cases of saving time and labor over the old method of hand scattering. A spreader can be as quickly and easily loaded as a common wagon while the time required to unload is about one-fourth that of unloading by hand. Besides, the driver has a chance to rest while unloading the spreader, consequently he can load the spreader again quicker and easier than where he tires himself in unloading by hand. This saving in time and work enables one to do from two to three times more hauling, which of course reduces the cost accordingly.

But the greatest profit in connection with the work of the spreader is that of economy in the use of the manure. When distributed by the spreader it will cover two or three times as much land as when scattered by hand, for all lumps and hard pieces will be torn into fine particles and distributed evenly over the ground.

PROPER FEED FOR THE COLT

Fresh Pasture Grass is Excellent—Supplement With Oil Meal, Bran, Corn, Oats and Alfalfa.

Some farmers believe that a colt will make up as a horse the growth that it does not make as a colt. As a matter of fact a colt or any other young animal that is kept growing is very likely never to become as large and strong as it would have been had it thrived while young. The colt should receive the proper kind of feed and be fed liberally. The feed should be nutritious and palatable. Among the best colt feeds is fresh pasture grass. This should be supplemented with oil meal, corn, oats, bran and alfalfa or clover hay.

Where it is possible to do so the colts should be kept in the stable away from flies during the day, given all the alfalfa or clover hay they will eat and one pound of the following grain mixture to each 100 pounds of colts: Six pounds of oats or corn, three pounds of bran and one pound of oil meal.—Ohio Bulletin.

TREATING HOGS WITH SERUM

Produce Immunity of Sufferers—Dietation to Allow Ample Time for Clearing Up the Yards.

(By J. B. GREGORY, Missouri Expert, Station.)

The veterinary department of the Missouri agricultural experiment station has been recommending and using the serum alone treatment. The question is often heard, "Why the serum alone treatment?" The serum alone treatment properly administered has for its object the control and eventually the absolute eradication of hog cholera. It makes it possible in a large measure to do away with vaccination and its attending cost and trouble. The serum alone treatment is a safe method to use and is simple. It can be handled with good results by the careful inexperienced man. There are none of the bad after results such as sometimes follow other treatments.

Serum alone can neither start new outbreaks of cholera nor bring the infection on your noninfected farm. When administered under proper conditions it produces an immunity of sufficient duration to allow ample time for cleaning up and disinfecting the yards and in this way destroying the infection before the hogs outgrow the immunity. Under ordinary conditions this is of far greater importance than simply protecting hogs from the cholera for a varying period of time and not making any attempt to avoid harboring the germs. The germs, whether in the litter about the pens or in the virus of the double treatment, will cause the disease to develop. If cholera is to be controlled it is necessary to destroy the germs. The use of the serum alone is to protect the hogs until the germs can be destroyed by cleaning up, burning and disinfecting.

PROTECT STOCK FROM FLIES

Fine Spray of Kerosene Oil Is Effective in Keeping Insects Off Animals—Other Remedies.

Sometimes a fine spray of pure kerosene is very effective in knocking off flies. This spray should not be heavy enough to penetrate the hair, or it will blister the skin. Another spray is made by the use of ordinary coal tar dip or creosote two parts, mineral oil four parts, water ten parts. This is usually put on with a brush or a sponge.

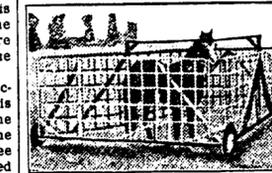

Of the mixtures classed as "repellents" the following is supposed to be very good: One gallon fish or whale oil; one pint coal oil; two ounces crude carbolic acid. A little melted resin is supposed to make these mixtures stick to the hair a little better. Another remedy suggested is ten parts lard or axle grease to one part of pine tar. Such mixtures are usually disagreeable to apply, and the bad odor is generally a greater nuisance than the presence of the flies.

The principal advantage of light sprays is that they drive the flies away during milking time. These have to be applied every day and do not keep the flies off very long. The repellent mixtures are usually applied twice a week, and will keep flies off from two to four days.

PASTURE FENCE ON WHEELS

Interesting Solution Offered by Illinois Farmer to Problem of Caring for Spirited Horses.

BALANCED RATION FOR EGGS

Satisfactory Feed is Made of Corn, Wheat, Oats, Alfalfa, Beef Scraps and Linseed Meal.

The following ration is fairly well balanced for egg production: One hundred and fifty pounds each of cracked corn and cracked wheat, 20 pounds each of whole bran, middlings, cornmeal, ground oats and gluten meal, 30 pounds beef scraps, five pounds each of alfalfa meal and oil process linseed-oil meal.

For hens having free range of the farm, a very simple ration is made of equal parts cracked corn and cracked wheat, and a dish of beef scraps to which they can help themselves.

Good Land Wasted.

Get after the old briars and weeds along the line fence. Why not use the old mower that has been superseded by a new one. It would be interesting to know just what proportion of good land in this country is allowed to go to waste, along line fences.

The KITCHEN CABINET

If you cannot get to meter all the music of your soul. Then let its heavenly harmony pour its daily life control. Until from out the discord of life's bitterness and pain Sweet symphonies shall rise—nor your life-song be in vain.

SOME QUICK DESSERTS.

Toast crackers and put a spoonful of jelly or jam on each. Whip cream, flavor with vanilla and heap on the jelly. Sprinkle with grated coconut or chopped nuts if whipped cream is not available.

Cracker Shortcake. — Open a can of peaches or any canned fruit, pour off the sirup and boil it up with sugar to make a rich sauce. Butter crackers, place the peaches on them, sprinkle with sugar and put another cracker on top. Put into the oven long enough to heat through and serve with hot fruit sauce.

Jelly Pancakes. — Make a batter of a cupful of milk, a cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Beat an egg, add the milk and flour, beating well, try on a hot greased griddle. Spread with jelly, roll up and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Raspberry Trifle. — Line a glass dish with thin slices of sponge cake. Pour over it raspberry juice to soften it, then lay over it a layer of whole berries. On this place another layer of cake and another layer of raspberries. Pour over all whipped sweetened cream.

Banana Dessert. — Slice bananas and sprinkle them with powdered sugar, chopped nut meats and the juice of half a lemon. Surround with seeded raisins and serve with cream.

A few cooked prunes stirred into sweetened and flavored whipped cream and served on squares or strips of cake makes a most tasty dessert. Any kind of fruit may be served in the same way, pineapple is especially good.

Cooked rice served with a hard sauce, flavored with crushed, fresh fruit, is another good dessert.

Marmalade, cream cheese, dates, figs and nuts in combination may be used for sweet sandwich filling.

Maple sugar with chopped salted almonds is one that is always liked. Moisten the sugar with thick cream, then add the chopped nuts. The browned almonds make a most appetizing flavor with the maple sugar.

The flush of youth soon passes from the face. The spells of fancy, from the mind depart. The form may lose its symmetry, its grace. But time can claim no victory o'er the heart.

THE EMERGENCY SHELF.

This is a subject which has been treated at length several times, but one which is so important that it needs to come often before us. The housewife who has a well-stocked emergency shelf may be assured that no sudden inroad of unexpected company will cause her any inconvenience.

Here are some of the many things which will be useful, although each housewife will find additions and changes to make, suitable to her needs.

First, have a few cans of good soup. This, with some crisp crackers, makes a fine beginning to any hurried meal and may be prepared almost as quickly as it takes to write it. One may add milk or cream to extend the amount of these soups and usually it improves them.

On this shelf have a few cans of fish, such as tunny or tuna, salmon and crab or lobster; these may be used in various ways as salads, hot dishes or chowders if so desired. Cutlets, using a can of salmon, adding white sauce, rolling in crumbs and frying in deep fat, will go further than a can of salmon served plain.

A box of codfish, jars of pickles, canned corn beef and dried beef, olives, canned fruit, nuts and dates are other helpful furnishings to the shelf. Even lemon pie filling comes canned now to use in an emergency. These foods are expensive for everyday use, but to have some of these things on the shelf even if used but once a year, will prove worth the investment.

A few quickly prepared menus should be at hand, so that in the hurry one need only glance at them to choose a good meal.

There is a shady side of life. And a sunny side as well. And 'tis for every one to say On which he'd choose to dwell; For every one into himself Committed a grievous sin, Who turns the blessed sunshine out, And sits the shadows in.

MORE ABOUT EMERGENCY SHELF.

There are many quickly prepared cheese dishes, so there should always be a jar of grated cheese. A piece of cheese keeps well, tightly covered, if it is sprinkled generously with salt. Cans of spaghetti and tomato deviled chicken, cans of veal and ham, which can be heated, are items for the emergency shelf. Naturally some of these things will spoil if kept too long, so they may be used and replaced from time to time. The cost of replacing articles will not be great. It is well to remember when buying any kind of canned goods to see that the ends of the cans are flat. If they bulge, reject them for this denotes the presence of gas and they are not fit for food. Never leave any food in a tin can; empty it at once when opened.

Pie crust may be prepared all but the water; put in a glass jar and is ready to use on the instant.

Even bread, the Boston brown variety, is found in cans and may be a most welcome addition to the shelf.

"When one is seven miles from a lemon," the emergency shelf is an absolute life saver.

Boiled dressings may be made which will keep for weeks in the cellar or ice chest. In fact many housekeepers always keep a bowl of salad dressing on hand, or one may make a salad out of almost anything.

Salted wafers, small cakes, fruit cookies and fruit cake, will keep for weeks if kept from the air, and so one may feel at ease, even though company drops in without warning.

Hot Potatoes. When removing hot potatoes from the oven pull over your hands little bags that sugar comes in. Anybody is apt to burn hands or arms in turning potatoes or taking them from the oven, and these little bags are convenient to have for protectors.

Instruction From the Press. In a polite age almost every person becomes a reader, and receives more instruction from the press than the pulpit.—Goldsmith.

FEEDING TABLE FOR POULTRY

Platform Arranged on Which Food and Hoppers are Placed—Nests Are Placed Underneath.

I use in my henhouse a table or platform on which the drinking vessels and the food and other hoppers are placed. This table is in the middle of the house and is two and one-half feet high. Both sides of it are fitted with nest boxes that can be pulled out and closed. The boxes are a foot square and ten inches deep. The back part of the box is boarded up three inches, which leaves an opening for the hen to enter the nest from beneath the table.

Over each nest a door is cut through the top of the table and hinged in place, thus making it convenient to gather the eggs without pulling out the box. The advantages of such an arrangement are: The eggs can be gathered without stooping, the nests are dark, no floor space is utilized, the food and drinking water are kept clean, the nests can be taken out and cleaned with little trouble.

CARE FOR INCUBATOR HATCH

Some Judgment Should Be Exercised in Testing Eggs—Remove Inferior Eggs When Found.

In caring for a hatch with an incubator some judgment should be exercised when testing the eggs. Some people do not even try to test the eggs, fearing they will throw out some that are fertile. Now this is all nonsense, for if the eggs do not keep together in appearance you may be sure that some of them are no good. The majority of the eggs will show a daily advance. Some who are expert at the business commence testing the eggs on the sixth day, but one who is unaccustomed to the business cannot tell with certainty which are fertile and which are not until the ninth or tenth day.

Now and then a chick will die when a week or ten days along, and will get offensive to the olfactory nerves if allowed to remain in the incubator. In fact an egg becomes so foul as to interfere with the hatch. All such eggs should be removed, as soon as discovered.

Clear eggs should be taken out just as soon as you discover them to be infertile, and these can be cooked and given to the young chicks to eat. The removal of those which keep the eggs down to the ones containing the live chicks and will make the work of caring for them less and give you a better chance to study the remaining eggs.

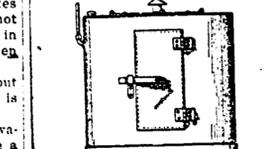

LATEST MAKE OF INCUBATOR

Series of Trays Supported One Over the Other Around Central Vertical Metal Tube.

The Scientific American in describing an improvement on an incubator, the invention of C. H. Osborn of St. Joseph, Mo., says:

In carrying out this improvement the invention supports a series of trays or pans one over the other around a central vertical metal tube which serves as an elongated chimney for a lamp employed as a heating medium. The egg trays are supported upon flanges secured to the inner wall of the body or casing of the incubator, and may be rotated thereon to facilitate the introduction of eggs through a door provided for this casing or body.

Improved Incubator.

Winter Feed for Hens. Plan to bury or otherwise store as much cabbage and as many turnips, beets, rutabagas, pumpkins, etc., as possible, for winter feed for the hens. Properly buried, a little later in the season, any of these will keep perfectly all winter. A plentiful supply of such things will aid materially in keeping the hens in good laying condition—vigorous, alert, full of pep and on the job all the time.

Bad Place for Eggs.

Never keep eggs in a damp place.

Assist Your Stomach

To Get Rid of the Poisonous Gases and Fermenting Food

A good long fast will do this sometimes. A trip to the mountains. Tramping. Roughing it. Yes, very good remedies. But are you going to "swallow yourself" of either one of these remedies. No? Then the next best thing is to try a bottle of Ferrus. Take it according to directions. You will "have a natural appetite. All gas and fermentation in the stomach will disappear.

Recall what Mrs. Emma Bell, Box 204, Fort Pierce, Florida, says: "I was taken, suddenly with swelling of the stomach and bowels, and great distress. Very painful. These doctors gave me no relief. Could not eat anything. Everything soured. I was starving to death. I began taking Ferrus and was soon strong enough to do work. After taking five bottles I can truthfully say I am well. I gained twenty pounds."

ORIGIN OF JUNE WEDDINGS

Ancient Romans Held the Belief That Alliances Contracted in That Month Were Fated to Be Happy.

The first people to adopt the month of June as sacred to Hymen, the god of marriage, were the ancient Romans, who considered June the most propitious season of the year for entering upon matrimonial relations. The Romans held that June weddings were likely to be happier than alliances contracted in any other month of the year, especially if the day chosen were that of the full moon or the conjunction of the sun and moon. They also held that of all months May was to be most avoided, as in that month, new-weds would come under the influence of spirits adverse to happy households. These ancient marriage superstitions were retained by the Christians in the middle ages, and even today June is considered by many to be pre-eminently the month of marriages. The word "wedding" is derived from the ancient Anglo-Saxon "wed" custom. The "wed" consisted of gifts, including a ring, given by the bridegroom to the bride. At the marriage ceremonies in those times the father of the bride presented his son-in-law with one of his daughter's shoes as a token of the transfer of authority, and the bride was struck sharply on the head with the shoe by her new spouse as a reminder that he was henceforth her "boss."

PLAYGROUNDS.

I do not know of any better way to teach a boy to be honorable and straight than to give him a chance to play with his comrades. In the playground he learns without any suggestion of rebellion against instruction and precept and preaching. He learns it because he does not want anybody else to cheat him, and is "down" on the boy that does not play fair. And in the long run, because he is "down" on the boy that will not play fair, he will establish standards of conduct which we must maintain in the community and particularly in our great cities. If there is one thing that we need more than another it is the constant emphasis among our citizens of that spirit of fair play, that willingness to give and take, that generosity in defeat and that lack of assertiveness in victory which we identify with true sport, and which is learned best of all in childhood upon the playground.—Justice Charles E. Hughes, United States Supreme Court.

ANTAGONISTS ESSENTIAL.

"I suppose a man in politics wants to make the right kind of friends."
"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "and the right kind of enemies."

VALUABLE HELPMATE.

"Do you admire the clinging vine type of woman, or the self-reliant kind?"

"That depends on the circumstances," answered Mr. Blobbins. "It is pleasant sometimes to play the role of protector to helpless femininity, but when I see the businesslike manner in which my wife takes off a punctured tire and puts on a new one, scornful all assistance from me, I realize that I couldn't get along without her."

INSUPPORTABLE.

"Why have they separated? Can't he support her?"
"If you mean support in the sense of endure, no."

BACK TO FLINT AND TINDER

Soldiers in the Trenches in Europe Use Ancient Methods for Producing Necessary Fire.

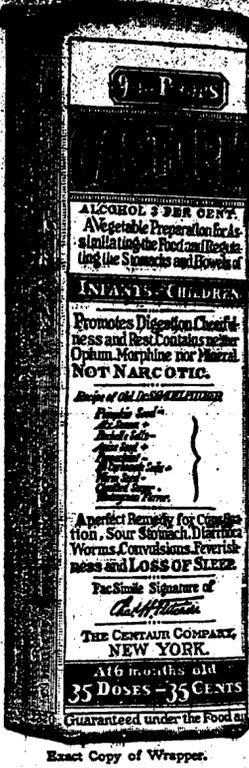

There are many ways in which old and almost forgotten methods of warfare have been adapted to modern use in the trenches, the hand grenade, the catapult, and even armor having been found efficacious in many instances.

Soldiers in the trenches, who have the very newest inventions in their equipment, are very glad to go back to the old flint and tinder boxes, because they can't use the matches, for they suffer so much from the damp in the trenches that they are soon rendered useless. To meet this difficulty the old flint and tinder boxes are being supplied to the soldiers and the sailors. Another good thing about the tinder box is that it does not blow out in the wind as a match does, and does not show a flame to attract the enemy's attention.

A specially planned tinder box is being prepared for use in the British army and navy. It is small and compact, only half an inch deep, and contains a 7½-inch fuse, or length of prepared tinder, a shaped section of flint, and a hard steel. Inside the lid of the box are printed instructions for getting a light.

DEMAND FOR MARMALADE.

So great is the demand for marmalade in England that Spanish shippers are still sending bitter oranges, which have just arrived on the English market. It is, of course, abnormally late for the fruit, and the oranges are not good, either in quality or condition. Nevertheless, the market price stands at 13c to 14c ($3.16 to $3.41) a half chest, which contains about eighty pounds of sound fruit (4 to 4½ cents per pound). This works out at fully three times the ordinary value, and there is keen competition amongst jam makers for late arrivals of bitter oranges.
