"Fighting Fourth"
Liberty Loan begins on September 28th.
Get ready; save to buy; buy early.

There's no rest for the wicked and the Germans certainly come under that head. They and their allies are being hammered without stint or cessation on every front at once.

With such men as Hon. George H. Moses and Governor Henry W. Keyes representing New Hampshire in the U. S. Senate, and Hon. Sherman G. Burroughs and Hon. Edward H. Watson in Congress, surely our state will have every reason to feel proud of its delegation in Washington. Here's hoping the four of them, individually and collectively, get the largest vote ever given a senator or congressman in any state election.

The prevalence of grippe or influenza, and pneumonia resulting therefrom, has caused much anxiety the past week or two, necessitating some extreme measures in certain cases, to check its progress. The damp, rainy weather no doubt had much to do with the spread of the disease, and with the sunshine of the past few days, we feel sure the situation will become greatly improved and nothing more serious will come from it.

Owing to so much sickness among the people throughout this section the Hillsborough County Fair Association have deemed it advisable to postpone their fair one week and the new dates are October 9 and 10. The racing program is a good one, very much better than is usual on this track, and the agricultural exposition is planned to be a fine thing, and all the other attractions will be of the best, making a county fair that none of the people in Antrim or the surrounding towns will want to miss.

Hon. George H. Moses has been selected by the Republicans to fill the place in the United States Senate made vacant by the death of the lamented Senator J. H. Gallinger. New Hampshire is looking for a man of ability for this high and honorable position and such an one has been selected by his party, and he will no doubt receive a large vote at the November election. The accomplishments of Mr. Moses are many and it would be hard to find a man in the Granite State better fitted for this position than he is: his experience while a resident in Washington, his knowledge of men and international affairs, the experience he gained while U. S. Minister to Greece and Montenegro, have gained for him a precedence which will be worth a great deal to him and our state in the new position which he will doubtless be elected to fill.

Grange and School Fair

Considerable preparation was made for the fair last week at town hall, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, when the Antrim Grange and the High School together held a fair which was quite largely attended.

The exhibition of vegetables, fruit, fancy work, etc., was very good and proved that even if the season between frosts is very short, yet a very good display of fruits and vegetables can be made. And so far as the exhibition of all other articles go it was a fine show. Everybody admired the display of every kind and considered that not only have our farmers done a good summer's work but the women folks as well have been very busy.

The entertainment in the evening brought out a good attendance and at about eight o'clock the program was commenced. Music, both instrumental and vocal, was rendered, and readings were given, making an evening of good things. At the close an old fashioned dance was given, previous to which an auction sale of vegetables was held. As a whole the affair proved a very successful occasion.

A Patriotic Duty
To report disloyal acts, seditious talk, and any information regarding attempts to hinder the United States in the prosecution of the war to the United States Department of Justice, Bureau of Investigation, P. O. Building, Concord, N. H.

The Democrats in convention assembled on Monday, at Concord, nominated John B. Jameson, Esq., for United States Senator for the short term. Antrim feels proud of the honor bestowed upon one of her men who has grown up among us and resided in town for so many years, and all this time has been identified with our business and social interests; as a substantial and conservative business man he is a great success, and highly esteemed by all our people and wherever known. His work as chairman of the state Public Safety Committee has taken most of his time and proves the hard worker that he is, and this same effort would be put into the new position his party wants him to have if he should be elected. There are a lot of men in this section who will be glad of the opportunity to vote for a man whom they know so well.

The Health Officer of Antrim, Dr. E. G. Dearborn, caused notices to be posted last Friday, closing the schools, churches, halls and all public gathering places; in order if possible to prevent any cases of the grippe getting started in a way to endanger the lives of any of our people—either young or old. There are no serious cases among us now and none are wanted, and it is hoped this precaution will have the desired effect. One noticeable thing about this general closing was that no meeting of the Odd Fellows was allowed on Saturday evening—probably the first time in its history, since its institution in February, 1876, forty-two years ago.

The Y. W. C. A. and its Relation to War Work

In Hillsborough County and throughout the state some confusion exists as to the function of the Y. W. C. A. educational campaign now in progress, and its relation to the United War Work Campaign slated for Nov. 11-18, of which Former Governor Rolland H. Spaulding is state chairman.

The two are distinct in purpose though the present one is "ploughing the ground and sowing the seed" for the one that is to follow.

What the Y. W. C. A. seeks to do through the organization it has created and through the press and Woman's Clubs is to put the "Blue Triangle" on its justified footing in this state by building into the minds of New Hampshire people an understanding of the service it is rendering in this war through its work with women and children in the munition factories; its Hostess Houses; emergency housing; "helps" to the foreign born; and its service in assisting to solve the problem of employment for women who are thrown out of work through the discontinuing of non-essential vocations and industries.

When the United War Work Campaign swings into line in its "patriotic" drive for $170,500,000 the Y. W. C. A. will lay aside its official insignia and become one of a family amalgamating seven organizations, consecrated to a common purpose—that of raising the budget which will be divided on a percentage basis that has already been agreed upon.

Appeal for Volunteer Nurses

An urgent appeal for volunteer nurses was received in Antrim Saturday morning and before noon two names had been sent to the State Public Safety Committee at Concord. Tuesday morning Miss Helen Stanley left for Berlin and Miss Edith Wellman left for Exeter.

Many additional volunteers are needed and whether trained or untrained, any man or woman, either young or old, who is willing to help combat the situation in the state by aiding in the care of the sick is asked to make it known to the undersigned.

In many homes other work besides caring for the sick is desperately needed and a great service can be rendered in that direction. DO IT NOW.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Chaplain Arbuckle Writes to His Friends Here

"Somewhere in Europe" Aug. 28.

Safely arrived on the other side of the "Great Big Ocean" and in the best of health, physically fit, and as happy as it is possible to be.

The trip across was delightful and uneventful, made in record time on a steamer that can do the business, that is, "go some."

We certainly were delighted to see land again. It is beautiful here. The grass is green and the land well cultivated and the topography of the land rolling and charming.

One of the most interesting and touching sights when we disembarked was that of little children and mothers. Here we get our first glimpses of what the war means. None but elderly and disabled (by the war) men; women and children very crudely clad and other characteristics that disclose the sufferings that only God knows these people have gone thru. Have seen no young people, boys or girls. I presume they are all engaged in war work as soon as old and strong enough. It's a terrible thing and I am convinced already that the rank and file of Americans have not yet any conception of what this war means and the magnitude of our task as a nation. Every energy must be put into the winning of it.

Say, but it was interesting when we sat down to supper last evening to hear the men telling what they wanted to eat. The waiters and waitresses were peasants and of course do not know English and we tried to speak to them in their native tongue. We would give the pronunciation as we studied it and it was so very different from theirs, so that after some difficulty they would grasp what we were trying to say and then pronounce it properly and you could hardly recognize it. So it would always create a great deal of laughter.

About the camp many little children rather. They beg a great deal but from them we learn a great deal of their native tongue. Groups of us will get a child and they will tell us more in a few minutes than you can get out of a book in a long time. The children are very bright.

Tours, France, Sept. 4.

Have just returned from a sight seeing trip of the Great Tours Cathedral and Museum. It was a wonderful trip and before we take the train about an hour and a half from now I want to tell you something about it.

Tours is a real old city. I have not been able to learn any of the history of it, because there is nothing here written in English and we cannot speak French enough to learn very much about it.

I first went to the cathedral which, as is always the case, occupies the most prominent point of ground, overlooking the great city and river valley. The Le Boir River (La Waer).

It's a great mass of masonry of course, with all the architectural touches of beauty of the centuries past. It is called the St. Gatien Cathedral. Was 3 centuries in building, from 1170 to 1547. The towers, two in number reach 230 feet up into the air. I climbed up the north tower, 300 steps, and got a superb view of the city and surrounding country.

Spent about an hour in the Cathedral, then went to the Museum where I saw many original paintings by great French artists.

Among the relics were: a clock of purest white marble inlaid with gold, which belonged to Louis 17th; a commode; and library table used by Louis 15th; a couch and furniture used and owned by Napoleon.

This city is one center of much of our army activities. We go now toward the front.

We travel on an American train from here. They tell me it has been constructed by our engineers since we entered the war.

Our ticket detail just came in and announced that he wanted us at station an hour earlier than planned so am going to close quickly.

FORMER ANTRIM BOY

Is Doing Service on the French Battlefields

Somewhere in France, Sometime in August.

Dear Folks:
They say this is Sunday, but I really do not know. Still, today we are at a rest camp, so it seems a bit like the old army Sunday.

I must tell you first, of the great surprise I had a few days ago. Was at my work when I heard someone come up on horse back, and ask if Pt. Farrant was in the crowd, and when I turned and saw Ray sitting there—well, I didn't know what to do or say, but after I came to, we had a good half hour's chat, and yet, after he had gone I hadn't asked him one question that I'd been intending to, for months. Ray seems well, but is thin. Believe me, it was great to see him, and I hope to again, soon.

We are having a few hours off today, and are scattered around in groups in this little village, which reminds me a bit of Antrim. We are sleeping in people's attics and barns. Everybody treats us kindly. There is a young river here, so we have all had one good bath, which we sure needed. Every day we enjoy a cootie hunt, and are rewarded with finding a few old greybacks. How would you like the job? We haven't our new clothes yet, and need them badly, as ours are dirty, torn, shot up and lost. I kind of dread the winter. It will be tough, but others have stood it—and so can we.

Well folks, I know something of real war. You can just tell the world that the old 16th is doing its bit. We have heard that our division has been cited for bravery, and we have just been read a note from one of the Generals, on our good work and spirit.

Did I write you that we lost our Battery Commander, and one of our Lts. was terribly wounded? That was hard luck. We all loved our Commander and everyone of us would have followed him anywhere. It was a blow to us all, but that's war—even the best must go.

We used to get pretty tired when we were moving. On the road nights and hidden daytimes. Here today—tomorrow twenty miles away, but we all stood it pretty well, and I'm getting fatter all the time so you don't need to worry about me. We missed the chocolate and other sweets, but while on the march we could not seem to make connections with the right people to get it from. When we reach camp after a march, as soon as we tend to our horses, we flop down in any old spot. Gee, but sleep is sweet these days and I guess I'll never get caught up.

At the front I saw shells hit in all kinds of places—and some of the sights were not pretty. But a fellow gets used to it, and then we are so tired and excited that we do not think much about the awfulness of it all until after we get away from it, and then we feel that God was surely with us, or we never could have gotten thru unharmed. When a fellow learns to duck shells it's a good thing for him. The only way is to go flat. Many are slow in going, and others too quick to get up. A man may get away safe, lying flat at 20 ft. from an exploding shell, while another fellow running 150 ft. away will get a line of metal. It's a great life, I tell you. I have seen some good scraps in the air. Talk about excitement—some sport and some noise too, you bet. When a Hun machine comes over our lines and is low, every machine gun and most of the small arms open up on him. What we need is more planes. As soon as we can get the upper hand in the air, the war will soon end, I believe, so hurry them along. I wonder if our papers at home are taking up this subject as strong as they ought.

When the shells are flying, as a linesman, I am kept busy. One night one other fellow and I spliced the wires in 27 places—doesn't that look as if there was something doing—all inside of 5 hours? That night I was close enough to see the bloody Hun crawling along on the ground with his glass, watching our lines.

My! but these little cooties are biting for all they are worth. This is quite a long letter, but I don't know when I can write again, but you may be sure I will every chance I have. The good letters from you folks help

Can't Do The Work

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant, dull backache, or sudden darting pain in the small of the back. Be rid of it. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands of people recommend them.

M. A. Davis, farmer, Henniker St., Hillsboro, N. H., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on during the last five years and they have always brought the best of results. Kidney trouble in my case, I think started owing to the heavy work I did. I have had dull pains through the small of my back and it has been hard for me to bend or do my work. Doan's Kidney Pills have always given me relief when I suffered in that way."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Davis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

ANTRIM HIGH SCHOOL

Notes Furnished The Reporter by the School

Miss Ada Hill, who taught in the High School here two years ago, was a visitor in school Friday morning, and gave a musical medley of war songs at morning exercises.

Many of the pupils are taking advantage of the closing of the schools to work at harvesting. The closing at this time is rather unwelcome, however, meaning as it does shorter vacations later.

All the teachers who do not live in town went home Saturday to spend their enforced vacation: Mr. Jones to Windham, Vermont, Miss Tyler to Worcester, Mass., Miss Barrett to Brockton, Mass., and Miss Merrill to Deerfield.

The scholars had a creditable exhibit of vegetables grown in school gardens, at the Grange Fair last Wednesday. The prizes for the school were for best collections instead of individual entries for each vegetable. The winners were as follows: Primary School: 1st, Lester Hill; 2nd, Bernice Shoults; 3rd, Elizabeth Robinson. Intermediate School: 1st, Lawrence Hilton; 2nd, Ella Putnam; 3rd, Florence Mulhall. Boys' Garden Club (mostly grammar school boys): 1st, Lindsay Elliott; 2nd, George Coolidge; 3rd, Lester Putnam. High School Projects in Agriculture: 1st, Cecil Perkins; 2nd, Austin Paige; 3rd, Wilbur Tandy. Special mention of best corn exhibit, Ray Locke. In the Boys' Club and High School there were some very good exhibits which did not win prizes, especially Wendall Putnam, Dalton Brooks, and Ray Locke.

Who Is My Neighbor?

By REV. ED. F. COOK, D. D.,
Director Midway Camp, Midway Park,
Chicago, Ill.

TEXT—Who is my neighbor?—Luke 10:29.
Read Luke 10:29-37.

In the parable of the Good Samaritan, Jesus is clearly undertaking to show the universal obligation of Christian service. The question to whom this obligation is due and the measure of the obligation confronts many an honest inquirer. It is interesting to discover the meaning of the master's answer to the young man's question. He seems to say that my neighbor is the man in need, the man in need of what I have to give, and whose need arises and is made known to me at a time when I am able to give it. If this be true, how amazing and wonderful has become the world neighborhood, and how clearly is the Christian's duty to make Christ known emphasized by the universality of human suffering. Like the man on the way to Jericho, nations lie stricken, bleeding, hungry and ready to die.

Over against this appalling fact, the like of which the Christian never faced before in all the history of the world, stands Christ, God's only answer to human need. We of America know him. We have him enthroned in many an earnest heart. We have throughout the land the open Bible, God's word spoken to sinful and suffering man everywhere and in all ages, words of love, words of hope and words of comfort. How mightily it behooves us in this time of world tragedy and suffering to study the parable of the Good Samaritan and to search our own hearts to know whether or not we as individuals are rendering that ministry to the suffering which human need requires, and our knowledge of human suffering and our ability to alleviate it insistently requires.

What a reproach that in the master's parable the representatives of religion—the servants of the Temple of God—passed by the sufferer. Each knew of the case of human need. Each looked upon the torn and bleeding form. Each possessed the resources from which to help. Yet each turned away passing on the other side, deliberately walking away from this revelation of suffering and need, deaf to this cry. So proud, so self-righteous, so exclusive, were these servants of religion, and so devoted were they to the forms and ceremonies of their service, and so filled with the thought of their own importance, that there seemed to be no place in either heart for the milk of human kindness. Will we ever again permit this reproach to be laid at the door of the representatives of religion? Can it be possible that those who profess to be followers of Jesus Christ, and who are the exponents and advocates of the Christian religion, shall fail to exemplify that high and holy love wherewith the master loved men?

Shall we forget in the days to come that the master himself in answer to the doubt of John the forerunner announced as the evidence of his divinity and gave as the proof of his adequate ministry to men, that "the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good tidings preached to them."

Shall we not, as we journey toward the day of world peace, in our comfort of circumstances, in our amplitude of resources, think of the peoples who have fallen by the way? Will not Belgium and France and Roumania and Armenia and great, old, riven, torn and demoralized Russia, draw out of the Christian heart of America the ministry of healing, the ministry of money, the ministry of a Christly love? Surely the great lessons of self-denial and self-sacrifice which we are learning as a people in this great war will in God's good providence prepare us for that new-neighborhood created by the universality of suffering and the heart hunger of the world. May God in his providence preserve the faith and love of our people and protect our resources in men and money, for a world-wide campaign of evangelism after the war, and above all preserve in the heart of our nation that reality of spiritual experience that will make our world ministry as beautiful and effective as was that of the humble man of Samaria, who helped his brother in need, when that need was discovered and the humble traveler had the means at his hand to render the succor which human suffering called forth.

"The greater one's power with God in constant prayer, the greater grows one's power with men who seldom pray."

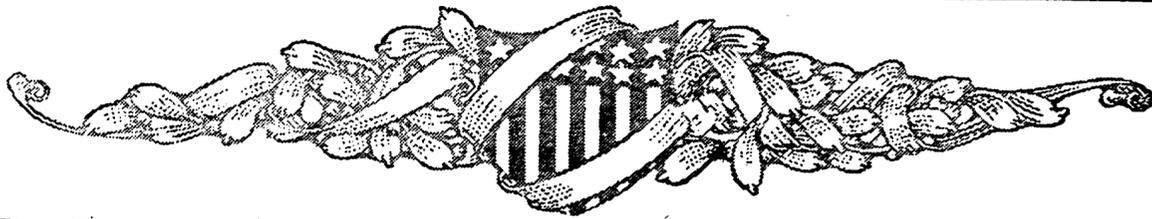

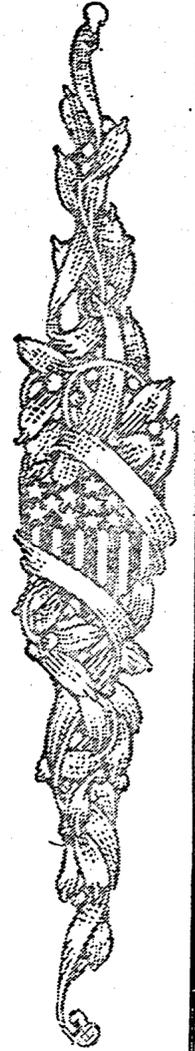

We plan and plan, then pray
That God may bless our plan.
So run our dark and doubtful way,
That scarce shall lead unto the day—
So runs the life of man!
But harken! God saith, "Pray,"
And he will show his plan,
And lead us in his shining way
That leadeth on to perfect day
Each God-surrendered man.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Again the Government comes to the people of the country with the request that they lend their money, and lend it upon a more liberal scale than ever before, in order that the great war for the rights of America and the liberation of the world may be prosecuted with ever increasing vigor to a victorious conclusion. And it makes the appeal with the greatest confidence because it knows that every day it is becoming clearer and clearer to thinking men throughout the nation that the winning of the war is an essential requirement. The money that is held back now will be of little use or value if the war is not won and the selfish masters of Germany are permitted to dictate what America may and may not do. Men in America, besides, have from the first unflinchingly dedicated both their lives and their fortunes to the vindication and maintenance of the great principles and objects for which our Government was set up. They will not fail now to show the world for what their wealth was intended.

Miles Buckmaster has been assisting in the work at Henniker railroad station, owing to the illness of P. W. Whelpley.

Just to remind you—the new dates of the Fair at Greenfield are Oct. 9 and 10, having been put forward one week, owing to so much sickness in this section.

Dr. E. G. Dearborn was confined to his home a portion of last week by illness. His brother, Dr. Tom Dearborn, of Milford, was here assisting him in his profession.

Matthew Cuddihy, who is at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., has been quite sick the past week with pneumonia, but is reported as improving. Members of the family were down to see him on Saturday.

E. D. Putnam & Son have purchased a Ford car. They have two now and will run them to Greenfield Fair next week and carry as many passengers as they are able to. See them if you want transportation.

Perhaps one of the youngest men to hold a license to drive an automobile is Wendall D. Putnam; he was 16 years old the 23d and the 26th was granted a license, after taking the required examination and demonstration.

We are told by Commissioner Hunt that the water in Campbell pond, the source of Antrim's water supply, has raised about two feet as a result of the recent heavy rains, and is higher now at this season of the year than he ever knew it to be.

October 1 the factories of the E. C. Paige Estate closed down till after the war is over. The reason the executors give for this action is the existing conditions; embargoes in shipping and difficulty of securing stock makes it next to impossible to do business.

New Hampshire's quota of the Fourth Liberty Loan is $20,289,600. Of this amount Antrim is asked to raise $32,200. The apportionments are based upon assessed valuation and banking resources. Those for neighboring towns are as follows: Bennington, $27,400; Greenfield, $14,800; Hancock, $18,800; Hillsborough $85,500. Put it over in the first week.

An interesting report came from Hillsborough on Monday noon to the effect that up to that time 90 percent of the employees of the Hillsborough Woolen mills had subscribed to bonds.

Early returns from all parts of the state indicated a sweeping victory for the Fighting Fourth.

The tank "Antrim, N. H." cleared a forest of Huns!

The U. S. S. "Keene, N. H." sank a U-Boat!

These are sample headlines that may not be fictitious six months from now. Twenty New Hampshire cities and towns are already entered in a contest, the prizes for which will be the christening with their names of 10 ships to be launched by the United States shipping board and 10 Yankee fighting tanks.

The award of these distinctions depends upon records achieved in the Fighting Fourth Liberty Loan. In two communities in each of five classes, divided according to population, which report the largest percentage of subscribers in proportion to population will be awarded the honor of christening the ships. Similarly, 10 to a which report the largest per capita subscription, that is, based on the amount of subscriptions in dollars divided by the population as of the 1910 census, will give their names to the tanks.

Local committees in the successful communities will arrange contests wherein sponsors will be determined. Completed returns both of the number and amount of subscriptions must be made to the Federal Reserve bank not later than Oct. 24. No single community will be entitled to name both a ship and a tank. Should two or more communities tie in qualification, the Liberty Loan committee will determine their claims equitably by drawing lots.

Dollars that Fight
By SENATOR HENRY CABOT LODGE

The war will be won by men and ships, by guns and airplanes. To raise armies and supply them, to build the navy and support it, and to furnish ships and transport, we must have money in large amounts. The expenditures of the Government for the ensuing year are estimated at $24,000,000,000, a sum which baffles the imagination to conceive. That vast amount must come one-third from taxes and two-thirds from loans. The success of the Fourth Loan, like those that preceded it is, therefore, absolutely necessary. We must work with the highest speed, as if the war was to end in six months. We must prepare in every direction, as if it was to last for years. Speed and preparation are both expensive.

Without the Loans we cannot have either

We are fighting to secure a just, righteous and lasting peace. For a complete peace we must have a complete victory. It must not be a peace of bargain or negotiation. No peace which satisfies Germany can ever satisfy us. No peace that leaves Germany in a position to renew the war against us will be worth having. It will be far from sufficient to gain all our objects on the Western front—Belgium, Alsace-Lorraine, Italia Irredenta. The President with wisdom and foresight and great force expressed his determination to redeem Russia. Russia must not be left in Germany's hands. That would mean another war. Poland must be free. Slav republics must be established to bar the way between Germany and the East. Serbia and Roumania must be redeemed. All these things are essential. Nothing will bring them but complete victory and a peace dictated by us and our allies. It is a conflict of ideas. It is the principle of evil arrayed against the principle of good. It is the battle of freedom and civilization against barbarism and tyranny. We must win and we shall win.

We cannot win without money, and therefore, these Loans are vital, and the country should rally in all its strength and subscribe and oversubscribe the Fourth Liberty Loan made for the appearance of Col. Theodore Roosevelt Wednesday evening, Oct. 16, at the Academy, Lowell st., Manchester, where he will speak in the interests of the Fighting Fourth Liberty loan.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

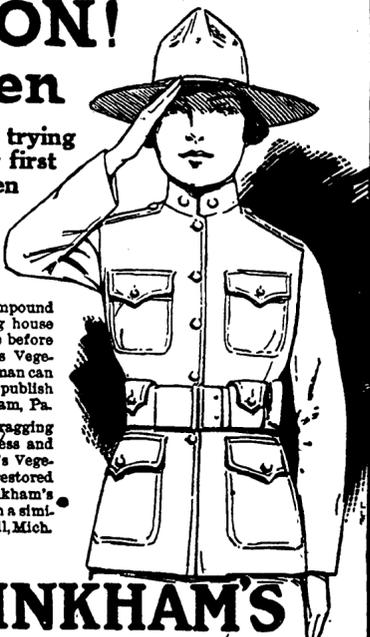

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CURRIE, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE HEIM, R. No. 4, Box 88, Lowell, Mich.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE NEWS

Chinaman Had Dead Man's Papers.
Wong Shun How, the first Chinaman to appear before the United States district court in Concord, for some years as being unlawfully in the country under the Chinese Exclusion act appeared before Commissioner Burns F. Hodgman at the federal building in Concord. Wong was arrested in one of the Chinese restaurants at Dover this state and at the time had in his possession registration papers which upon investigation proved to be those of a native born Chinaman who had died while on a visit to China. A plea of not guilty was entered by the defendant. Bail was fixed at $1,500. The case comes up for further consideration on Oct. 9.

Claremont Railway Decides to Suspend.
Officers of the Claremont Electric Railway Company announce that the road will suspend service about the middle of October because of the failure of the company to pay a dividend during 20 years of operation. They say they will sell the road as junk unless a purchaser appears.

Claremont manufacturers and selectmen met to discuss plans for maintaining the service. Four manufacturers depend on the road to haul freight to steam lines, while the company also carries passengers over the six miles of track between Claremont Junction, Claremont, and West Claremont.

The 21st convention of the New Hampshire State Firemen's association was held in Claremont over 300 delegates being in attendance. The convention officers were elected as follows: President, C. E. Sears, Claremont; first vice president, Hartley L. Brooks, Claremont; second, J. E. Smith, Nashua; third, Peter Betters, Nashua; fourth, W. E. Newman, Hillsborough; fifth, J. Casey, Milford; sixth, C. E. Porter, Goffstown; secretary, Oscar P. Stone, Manchester; treasurer, Samuel O. Elkins, Nashua; sergeant at arms, Joseph E. Stoneham, Boscawen; executive board, A. C. Gage, Manchester, C. E. Fay, Hinsdale.

Fourth Liberty Loan Quota of New Hampshire.
New Hampshire's quota of the $6,000,000,000 Fighting Fourth Liberty loan is $20,289,600. The quotas, state and local are substantially double those of the third loan. There are some exceptions to the rule, because in the making of the apportionments, one factor of the third loan problem, that of population, has been eliminated and the quotas are based upon assessed valuation and banking resources only. This change produces certain variations which might appear unaccountable. But taken by and large, the rule of the doubled quota obtains.

Seek Funds for Pastors' Pensions.
In common with other religious denominations, who have already raised large sums of money toward the support of aged and retired ministers, the Congregationalists of the country are now engaged in an attempt to raise five million dollars by voluntary subscriptions. New Hampshire's quota is $145,000. The two large Congregational churches of Manchester are expected to raise $7,500 a piece.

Manchester Boy in Palestine.
That a Manchester boy, Trooper Wilbur D. Blood, is with the British Expeditionary Forces in Palestine, sharing in the allied successes, is learned in a letter to his father, F. W. Blood, of 397 Merrimack street. An encouraging letter was written to Mr. Blood by the major adjutant of the 5th Reserve Cavalry, which says that Trooper Blood left England with the Royal Gloucester Hussars on Aug. 14.

Result Unchanged in 18th District.
A recount of the votes cast in the 18th senatorial district on the Democratic ticket was held at the state house. Both candidates were present. Ferdinand Farley appeared for Richard H. Horan, Charles J. McLaughlin had no representative. City Clerk W. J. O'Brien witnessed the proceedings. No change was made in the original figures, McLaughlin having 345 and Horan 354 votes.

In order to conserve labor and materials, the government has placed the ban on all new building projects for the duration of the war. In elaborate regulations citizens of New Hampshire are given notice of this fact, by circulars sent out by the state Public Safety committee.

To Remove Broken Screw.
When the sides of the slot of a screw are badly worn, it very often happens that a pair of gas-pippers will serve by getting a bite on the outside of the head to turn it. Sometimes, however, it is necessary to cut the slot deeper with a small, narrow-bladed chisel. When this can be done the screw-driver may be employed afterwards. If the screw head is large, a sharp tap in a tangential direction with a cold chisel, and hammer will many times start the screw so that the screw-driver will do the rest.

The National War Work Campaign.
The national war work campaign in New Hampshire scored its signal success at the conference of workers from all over New England, at the Manchester Y. M. C. A. building. According to the percentage of apportionment of the last Liberty loan quota the amount to be raised in this state in the coming merged drive of Nov. 11-13 is $722,241, but on motion of Hon. Clarence B. Carr it was placed at $750,000.

Sinclair Heads Knights Templar.
The grand commandery, Knights Templar, held its annual convocation at the asylum of Mt. Horeb commandery in Concord. The high honor conferred upon Charles Henry Sinclair, who was elected to be R. E. Grand Commander of that body, was a feature. Mr. Sinclair is one of Concord's prominent citizens and his elevation is looked upon as an honor paid to the city also.

Tea Room Profits Buy Ambulance.
As the result of the Allies' tea room conducted at Little Boar's head, Rye, the past summer by the Misses Anna L. Barrill and Gertrude Harper the sum of $2,400 has been turned over through the Portsmouth chapter of the Red Cross to purchase a field ambulance for work in France, to be known as the Rye Beach and Little Boar's Head field ambulance.

Baptist Convention Postponed this Year.
At the request of the board of health the United Baptist convention of New Hampshire, the New Hampshire Baptist Historical society and affiliated bodies, which were to meet at Newport, Oct. 1, and 2 in annual assemblies will indefinitely postpone their meetings, and they will not meet at all this year.

Murchie Heads State Democrats.
Alexander Murchie of Concord has been elected chairman of the Democratic state committee. Thos. Dwyer of Laconia treasurer, and C. J. Belanger of Manchester secretary. Wm. A. Lee of Concord was appointed a member of the committee, succeeding George E. Farrand, who retired upon his appointment as postmaster.

Sister of Denman Thompson Dead.
Mrs. Mary M. Granger a life long resident of West Swanzey, died last week aged 82 years. She was a sister of the late Denman Thompson the famous actor. She was the daughter of Rufus and Anna (Baxter) Thompson. She leaves one son, William R. Granger of Cambridge, Mass. also two grandchildren.

Boy Electrocutted.
Emil E. Dearochers, 13, of Manchester, climbed a pole in Amoskeag while at play grasped a high tension wire without knowing of his danger, and fell to the ground dead. Companions heard him cry out when the electric current passed through his body and called aid, but death had been instantaneous.

Opening of Durham Postponed.
President R. D. Hetzel of New Hampshire college Durham, notified all prospective students by special letter that, owing to the epidemic of influenza the opening of college, set for Sept. 25, will be indefinitely postponed.

Spraying Logs.
As a safety measure, logs at a Northwestern mill are given a vigorous spraying under several jets of water before going to the saw. The reason for this process is that bits of rock or gravel may become attached to the bark of the log while it is being transported to the mill, and if the swiftly revolving saw strikes one of these obstructions trouble is likely to follow. The abrupt checking of a circular saw may cause it to fly in a score of places that are buried in every direction like a burst of shrapnel.

Horses Knew Allotted Task.
In the mines of Hainault horses that travel back and forth over a certain road exactly thirty times each day go to the stables of their own accord after their last trip, and refuse to take another step. In Montaigne's Essays it is stated that the oxen employed in the royal gardens of Suse for turning the wheels to which the water pails were attached refused to make more than the hundred rounds that constituted their daily task.

Squirrel's Pathetic Search.
In moving some quilts in the cottage of Fred Hayden of Northwest Abbot, Me., five little squirrels were spilled on the floor, one of them being killed. The mother squirrel was quickly on the scene, taking one at a time and hastening upstairs with it. The fourth one she dropped at the foot of the stairs and rushed back with frantic haste, thoroughly looking over the contents of the room for the fifth one. She even climbed to the waists of the men and smelled their hands in her search for her lost baby.—Boston Globe.

WEEKLY CALL FOR AUNT MARY

Still Time to Save Children.
Thousands of Blind Deaf and Mute Children are Being Born.

She was entertaining city friends at dinner in her country home. Anxious to have the event as nearly perfect as possible, she had served dinner to her little son and his visiting cousin, Billy, in the kitchen first and then banished them to the back yard. But while she gave apparently undivided attention to her guests' conversation, she was nevertheless conscious of the very frequent opening and closing of the back door, of boys' footsteps, of little children's weeping and, finally, of Billy's distressed face peeping in at the swinging door. But she did not remember until too late, that she had carefully covered some bread dough to rise in the one place in the kitchen where the heat was just right—on the little platform under the stove. At last Billy's head bobbed far enough into the room for the company to see his disturbed look and one guest said: "Come here, little boy, to see me, won't you?" "Why," said Billy, encouraged, "I just wanted to tell Aunt Mary that one little chicken is about to get into her bread, and another one can hardly get out."

Did This Ever Happen to You?
A North side club woman, prominent in D. A. R. and other circles, went picnicking with a group of friends on the Fourth of July. In the course of the day one of the other women lost her handkerchief, and the D. A. R. member generously lent an extra one. A few days ago the handkerchief was returned by the borrower. It was a daintily embroidered square with hearts and flowers intertwined with the letter "W."

There are no "W's" in the family of the D. A. R. woman. She took it with some surprise and said, "Why, that isn't my handkerchief." "I know it isn't," was the quick reply. "But it's the one that you lent to me. I noticed it at the time."—Indianapolis News.

Next Day.
It chanced, in the days before the war, that an Englishman in Berlin became acquainted with a young German officer. One day they were lingering over a tete-a-tete luncheon. The officer got up and said, "I will give you a toast." Raising his well-filled glass, he added: "I drink to 'The Day'!" and there was a smile on his lips which hinted at some hidden jest in the words.

His companion, the Englishman, looked at him quietly. "Indeed, Herr Lieutenant!" he said: "let me follow your toast with one of my own: 'Here's to 'The Day After'!"

A New Sentry.
A lieutenant at Camp Grant was riding past a guard the other night, and at the usual command to halt he stopped his horse and stood there. However, the guard didn't say another word, and after a short time the lieutenant burst out with: "Well, what are you making me stand here for? Expect me to stay here all night?" The guard answered: "Well, I didn't know what to say next. I've only been here for a week."

Just for Two Minutes!
A burly black scrapper saw his first German in a camp of prisoners. He looked them over incredulously, with a look of great amazement on his face. "You mean to tell me them measly boneheads is German?" he demanded. "Hand me a shovel, man, and let me in there for two minutes."

A man is never in love with a woman until he begins to tell her his troubles.

WEAK KIDNEYS MEAN A WEAK BODY

When you're fifty, your body begins to break a little at the hinges. Motion is more slow and deliberate. "Not so young as I used to be" is a frequent and somewhat gloomy thought. Certain bodily functions upon which good health and good spirits so much depend, are impaired. The weak spot is generally the bladder. Painful and annoying symptoms show themselves. Urinary and other complications in other organs arise. This is particularly true with elderly people. If you only know how, this trouble can be obviated.

For over 300 years GOLD MEDAL Hairlem Oil has been relieving the inconvenience and pain due to advancing years. It is a standard, old-time home remedy, and needs no introduction. It is now put up in odorless, tasteless capsules. These are easier and more pleasant to take than the oil in bottles. Each capsule contains about one dose of five drops. Take them just like you would any pill, with a small swallow of water. They work into the system and throw off the poisons which are making you old before your time. They will quickly relieve those aching joints, the backache, the rheumatism, the neuralgia, sciatica, the above-mentioned "brick dust" etc. It is an effective remedy for all diseases of the bladder, kidney, liver, stomach and allied organs.

It's Acid-Stomach That Makes Millions Sick and Suffer

Life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman with an acid-stomach. Acid-stomach kills Hope, Ambition, Energy, Courage. It saps the strength of the strongest body—impoverishes the blood—causes untold suffering—makes millions weak, unfit and brings on premature old age. Millions of people are weak and sick, suffering all the time, in one way or another, from superacidity of acid-stomach. They feel nervous and irritable; lack power and punch, frequently have severe attacks of indigestion, splitting headaches; are weak in the face of melancholia and mental depression. And nearly always their stomachs are out of order, and they, many experience no actual stomach pain—digestion poor—never getting anywhere near the full strength from their food. So, you see, it's just this acid-stomach—that is holding so many people back—sapping up the strength they should get from their food—taking away their vigor and vitality—leaving them weak and inefficient. Get rid of the excess acid. That's the secret of good health and in the only way to obtain good digestion and satisfaction. It is the right way to be well and keep growing. Ordinary medicine won't do it; they have to take the best they can do to try to open up their appetite for awhile. A modern remedy makes it possible to remove excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is called RAYONIC. In the form of pleasant tasting tablets. Their action in the stomach is a good deal like a piece of blotting paper taking up a drop of dangerous liquid. It absorbs the mysterious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines. Begin using RAYONIC right now—today—and get on the road to bounding, vigorous, vibrant health. Thousands upon thousands of people who have used RAYONIC are enthusiastic in its praise. They say they never dreamed that anything could bring them such quick relief. RAYONIC is fully guaranteed. Your druggist will give you a big box for only 50 cents with the distinct understanding that if you are not pleased in every way, you get your 50 cents back. If you can't get RAYONIC where you live—send us your name and address; we will send you a 50 cent box and you can see for the 50c when you get it. Address: Rayonic, Sennely Co., Guntber Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Was Told He Couldn't Live Six Months

But Doan's Brought Mr. Clayton Health and Strength.

C. T. Clayton, 78 N. Broad St. Woodbury, N. J., says: "I had about the worst case of kidney complaint a man could have. My kidneys were in terrible shape. I had sharp, knife-like pains in the small of my back, and my back often gave out entirely. I couldn't stoop to lace my shoes. For two years I was in this helpless condition and didn't do a tap of work and no one thought I would ever be able to work again. In fact, I was told I couldn't live six months. But fortunately I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They made me feel better from the first and after taking several boxes, I had better strength and health than ever before. I think Doan's are worth their weight in gold, and I recommend them whenever I hear anyone complaining of their kidneys."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed, this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces. Carolyn of the Corners

BY RUTH BLEMORE ENDICOTT

CAROLYN LEARNS WHY HER UNCLE AND AMANDA PARLOW DO NOT SPEAK AS THEY PASS.

Synopsis.—Her father and mother reported lost at sea when the Dunraven, on which they had sailed for Europe, was sunk. Carolyn May Cameron—Hannah's Carolyn—is sent from New York to her bachelor uncle, Joseph Stagg, at the Corners. The reception given her by her uncle is not very enthusiastic. Carolyn is also chilled by the stern demeanor of Aunt Rose, Uncle Joe's housekeeper. Stagg is dismayed when he learns from a lawyer friend of his brother-in-law that Carolyn has been left practically penniless and consigned to his care as guardian.

"So?" said the carpenter, pushing his big spectacles up to his forehead. "I read about it. Too bad—too mighty bad! I remember Hannah Stagg," he added, winking his eyes. Carolyn May thought, a good deal as Prince did. "You look like her."

"Do I?" Carolyn May returned, drawing nearer. "I'm glad I do. And I'm glad I sleep in what used to be her bed, too. It doesn't seem so lonesome."

"So? I reckoned you'd be lonesome up there at The Corners," said the carpenter.

Mr. Parlow stripped another shaving from the edge of the board he was plumbing. Carolyn May's eager eyes followed that curling ribbon and her lips parted.

The carpenter paused before pushing the plane a second time the length of the board. "Don't you want a drink of water, little girl?" he asked.

"Oh, yes, sir—I would. And I know Prince would like a drink," she told him quickly.

"Go right around to the well in the back yard," said Mr. Parlow. "You'll find a glass there—and Mandy keeps a pan on the well curb for the dogs and cats."

"Thank you, I'll go," the little girl said.

She hoped she would see Miss Amanda Parlow, but she saw nobody. She went back to the door of the carpenter shop and found Mr. Parlow still busily at work.

"Seems to me," he said, in his dry voice, after a little while, "you aren't much like other little girls."

"Aren't I?" responded Carolyn May wonderingly.

"No. Most little girls that come here want shavings to play with," said the carpenter, quizzically eying her over his work.

"Oh!" cried Carolyn May, almost jumping. "And do you give 'em to 'em?"

"Most always," admitted Mr. Parlow.

"Oh! Can I have some?" she asked.

"All you want," said Mr. Parlow. When Tim's old hack crawled along the road from town with Aunt Rose sitting inside, enthroned amidst a multitude of bundles, Carolyn May was bedecked with a veritable wig of long, crisp curls.

"Well, child, you certainly have made a mess of yourself," said the housekeeper. "Has she been annoying you, Jeddiah Parlow?"

"She's the only Stagg that ain't annoyed me since her mother went away," said the carpenter gruffly.

Aunt Rose looked at him levelly. "I wonder," she said. "But, you see, she isn't wholly a Stagg."

This, of course, did not explain matters to Carolyn May in the least. Nor did what Aunt Rose said to her on the way home in the hot, stuffy hack help the little girl to understand the trouble between her uncle and Mr. Parlow.

"Better not let Joseph Stagg see you so friendly with Jeddiah Parlow. Let sleeping dogs lie," Mrs. Kennedy observed.

May. "Do you know, he's very lib'ral."

"Lib'ral?" repeated Mrs. Gormley. "I never heard of old Jed Parlow being accused of that before. Did you, Mrs. Maine?"

Mrs. Maine was the dressmaker; and she bit off her words when she spoke, much as she bit off her threads.

"No, I never—heard Jed Parlow—called that—no!" declared Mrs. Maine emphatically.

"Why, yes," little Carolyn May said quite eagerly, "he gives me all the shavings I want. I—I guess folks don't just understand about Mr. Parlow," she added, remembering what her uncle had first said about the carpenter. "He is real lib'ral."

"It's a wonder to me," drawled Mrs. Gormley, "that he has a thing to do with a certain party, Mrs. Maine, considerin' how his daughter feels toward that certain party's relation. What d'you think?"

"I guess—there's sumpin'—to be said—on both sides o' that controversy," responded the dressmaker.

"Meanin' that mebbe a certain party's relative feels just as cross as Mandy Parlow?" suggested Mrs. Gormley.

"Yep," agreed the other woman.

Carolyn May listened, much puzzled. She wondered just who "a certain party" could be.

Mrs. Maine was called away upon some household task and Mrs. Gormley.

"I Reckoned You'd Be Lonesome Up There at the Corners," said the Carpenter.

Carolyn May seemed to change the subject of conversation.

"Don't your uncle, Mr. Stagg, ever speak to you about Mandy Parlow?" she asked the little girl.

Carolyn May had to think about this before answering. Then she remembered.

"Oh, yes," she said brightly.

"He does? Do tell!" exclaimed Mrs. Gormley eagerly. "What does he say?"

"Why, he says her name is Miss Amanda Parlow."

Mrs. Gormley flushed rather oddly and glanced at the child with suspicion. But little Carolyn May was perfectly frank and ingenuous.

"Humph!" ejaculated Chet's mother. "He never says nothing about bein' in love with Mandy, does he? They was goin' with each other steady once."

The little girl looked puzzled.

"When folks love each other they look at each other and talk to each other, don't they?" she asked.

"Well—yes—generally," admitted Mrs. Gormley.

"Then my Uncle Joe and Miss Amanda Parlow aren't in love," announced Carolyn May with confidence. "For they don't even look at each other."

"They used to. Why Joseph Stagg and Mandy Parlow was sweethearts years and years ago! Long before your mother left these parts, child."

"That was a long time 'fore I was borned," said the little girl wonderingly.

"Oh, yes. Everybody that went to The Corners' church thought they'd be married."

"My Uncle Joe and Miss Mandy?"

"Yes."

"Then, what would have become of Aunt Rose?" queried Carolyn May.

"Oh, Mrs. Kennedy hadn't gone to keep house for Mr. Stagg then," replied Mrs. Gormley. "He tried sev'ral

Carolyn May looked at Mrs. Gormley encouragingly. She was very much interested in Uncle Joe and Miss Amanda Parlow's love affair.

"Why didn't they get married—like my papa and mamma?" she asked.

"Oh, goodness knows!" ejaculated Mrs. Gormley. "Some folks 'twas his fault and some says 'twas hers. And mebbe 'twas a third party's that I might mention at that," added Mrs. Gormley, pursing up her lips in a very knowing way.

"One day," she said, growing confidential, "it was in camp-meeting time—one day somebody seen Joe Stagg drivin' out with another girl—Charlotte Lenny, that was. She was married to a man over in Springdale long ago. Mr. Stagg took Charlotte to Faith camp meetin'."

"Then, the very next week, Mandy went with Evan Peckham to a barn dance at Crockett's, and nobody ain't ever seen your uncle—and Mandy Parlow speak since, much less ever walk together."

One particularly muddy day Prince met the returning hardware merchant at the gate with vociferous barking and a plain desire to implant a welcoming tongue on the man's cheek. He succeeded in muddying Mr. Stagg's suit with his front paws, and almost cast the angry man full length into a mud puddle.

"Drat the beast!" ejaculated Mr. Stagg. "I'd rather have an epileptic fit loose around here than him. Now, look at these clo'es! I declare, Carolyn, you've jest got to tie that mongrel up—and keep him tied!"

"All the time, Uncle Joe!" whispered the little girl.

"Yes, ma'am, all the time! If I find him loose again, I'll tie a bag of rocks to his neck and drop him in the deepest hole in the brook."

After this awful threat Prince lived a precarious existence, and his mistress was much worried for him. Aunt Rose said nothing, but she saw that both the little girl and her canine friend were very unhappy.

Mrs. Kennedy, however, had watched Mr. Joseph Stagg for years. Indeed, she had known him as a boy, long before she had closed up her own little cottage around on the other road and come to the Stagg place to save the hardware merchant from the continued reign of those "trifling creatures" of whom Mrs. Gormley had spoken.

As a bachelor Joseph Stagg had been preyed upon by certain female harpies so prevalent in a country community. Some had families whom they partly supported out of Mr. Stagg's larder; some were widows who looked upon the well-to-do merchant as a marrying proposition.

Aunt Rose Kennedy did not need the position of Mr. Stagg's housekeeper and could not be accused of assuming it from mercenary motives. Over her back fence she had seen the havoc going on in the Stagg household after Hannah Stagg went to the city and Joseph Stagg's final female relative had died and left him alone in the big house.

One day the old Quaker-like woman could stand no more. She put on her sunbonnet, came around by the road to the front door of the Stagg house, which she found open, and walked through to the rear porch on which the woman who then held the situation of housekeeper was wrapping up the best feather bed and pillows in a pair of the best homespun sheets, preparatory to their removal.

The neighbors enjoyed what followed. Aunt Rose came through the ordeal as dignified and unruined as ever; the retreating incumbent went away wrathfully, shaking the dust of the premises from her garments as a testimony against "any such actions."

When Mr. Stagg came home at supper time he found Aunt Rose at the helm and already a different air about the place.

"Goodness me, Aunt Rose," he said, biting into her biscuit ravenously, "I was a-goin' down to the mill-hands' hotel to board. I couldn't stand it no longer. If you'd stay here and do for me, I'd feel like a new man."

"You ought to be made over into a new man, Joseph Stagg," the woman said sternly. "A married man."

"No, no! Never that!" gasped the hardware dealer.

"If I came here, Joseph Stagg, it would cost you more money than you've been paying these no-account women."

"I don't care," said Mr. Stagg recklessly. "Go ahead. Do what you please. Say what you want. I'm game."

Thereby he had put himself into Aunt Rose's power. She had renovated the old kitchen and some of the other rooms. If Mr. Stagg at first trembled for his bank balance, he was made so comfortable that he had not the heart to murmur.

Of course, Carolyn May let Prince run at large when she was sure Uncle Joe was well out of sight of the house, but she was very careful to chain him up again long before her uncle was expected to return.

Prince had learned not to chase anything that wore feathers; Aunt Rose herself had to admit that he was a very intelligent dog and knew what punishment was for. But how did he know that in trying to dig out a mole he would be doing more harm than good?

WAR BULLETINS

Serbian troops have captured Kochana, about 14 miles from the Bulgarian border.

The British government is considering Bulgaria's plea for peace, but her application for an armistice was rejected by the French commander in Macedonia, who declared he would meet delegates to discuss a truce, but would not suspend hostilities.

Herbert H. Asquith warns against an inconclusive peace which would deprive the allies of the fruits of their victory—the guarantee against another outbreak of Teutonic militarism.

Bulgaria, at the time that her borders have been crossed by the allied troops, has asked for an armistice, with the hope of eventual peace being reached. The report that Bulgaria had made the request received official confirmation.

Despite the show of opposition on the part of some German and Bulgarian troops, the allied progress on the Macedonian front continues with amazing rapidity. British troops are reported to have entered Bulgaria, while French and Serbian troops have pushed on beyond Ishtib and Gradsko. Bulgarian army is cut off and threatened with annihilation at Veles.

The British have counted more than 40,000 Turkish prisoners in Palestine and are making excellent progress east of the Jordan, where, with Arab detachments, they seem to hold out promise of destroying such enemy forces as escaped the net along the sea.

The British in sharp fighting around St. Quentin repulsed several strong counter attacks and captured Selency.

WORLD CHANGE TO SAVE

Enlisted Men Evidently Had the Spontaneous Instinct Disposed to a Respectable Degree.

Difficulties of soldiers who formerly were successful business men, in paying last year's income tax on this year's pay are illustrated by a story brought to Washington by an officer serving at one of the southern cantonments.

Last February, the officer said, he explained to the men of his command that all married men would have to pay a tax on all their last year's earnings over $2,000, while unmarried men would have to pay on all incomes over $1,000.

Coming to him later one of the men, a private, said:

"I guess I won't be able to pay that income tax. I haven't any money."

"Oh, that's all right," replied the officer, "you have until June to pay it and you can save it out of your pay by that time."

"I am afraid I couldn't," responded the private, "I made $35,000 last year and I blew it all when I was called in to the army."

HIS MEMORY SOMEWHAT HAZY

Seattle Man Not Quite Certain Whether He Had Enlisted, but He Was No Quitter.

Last summer, when every young man's thoughts were on the war, a wealthy lumberman from Seattle arrived in New York on a business trip. His business having been attended to, he was a guest at a dinner given one evening by an officer in the United States marine corps. As the hours and the flowing bowl passed, speeches became more and more frequent, everybody was wrought up, and there was no man so base as to say that he would not go to the front for his country.

Early the next morning the Seattle man started back home.

A few days later the officer of marines received this telegram from him:

"Did I enlist that night? If so, instruct me when and where to report."

He was visiting in the city and went with an older relative to the city library. The relative, who wished to consult some books in the reference room, decided to leave him to be entertained in the children's room meanwhile. When she returned she asked the attendant in charge how he had got along and was told: "He's all right now, but at first I couldn't get him to look at a thing." Rather surprised, because he is generally fond of books, she turned to the youngster. "Why James, didn't you want to look at the pretty books?"

"Aw," he said gruffly, "I didn't know she just wanted me to look at them; I thought she wanted to sell me one, and I wasn't going to buy any, I'm saving my money for a soldier belt!"

Leave to Print.

"What's the objection to my printing what I like in the Congressional Record?" asked the new member of congress.

"You've got to suffer for the general good, son," replied Senator Sorghum, soothingly. "You're liable to slip something in that is so interesting there won't be white paper enough in the country to meet demands for that particular issue."

Electric Pencil.
A new electric pencil for marking or writing on any polished steel or iron surface is operated as readily as an ordinary pencil. A stepdown transformer connects it to a lighting socket, and as the point of the pencil is drawn over the steel, the resistance to the passage of the current develops great heat, etching the surface at the point of contact. A rheostat gives control of the depth of etching.

for porches, floors and walls
 DRIES HARD OVERNIGHT

There's no danger of spoiling clothes with wet paint if the chairs, swings, or other articles are coated with U. S. N. Deck Paint. Under ordinary conditions it dries hard in twelve hours and remains so. Weather conditions do not affect it, so it never becomes soft and sticky. It can also be repeatedly scrubbed with hot water and soap without injuring its surface.

Thousands of chairs on the steel pier at Atlantic City, N. J., are painted with U. S. N. Deck Paint because no other paint has been found that will stand the wear and tear as well.

Many beautiful shades to select from.

DANGER LOOMS IN EVERY ONE OF US

We Are As Full of Deadly Poisons As A Germ Laboratory.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Absolutely Prevents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain in The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rashes, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-tives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" (or Fruit Liver Tablets) will protect you against Auto-intoxication.

EAST ANTRIM

Mrs. Lillian Tenney and children spent Sunday with her father, O. M. Knapp.

Warren Coombs and E. G. Rokes are shingling the house of F. C. Henderson.

A few from this part attended the Grange Fair and were well pleased with the exhibition.

Mrs. Harvey Rogers and youngest daughter have returned home after spending several weeks in Massachusetts.

Congratulations are extended to R. F. D. Carrier, Walter Hills. We hope he will locate in town and retain his position.

Mrs. C. W. Petty and Mrs. Walter Knapp were in Boston last week, taking the trip by auto, with Leo Lowell as chauffeur.

Misses Mildred Cram, Ethel Proctor, and Alice Paige are spending a season at their homes here, as their schools are closed on account of illness.

3,000,000 BUTTONS FOR FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

Three million buttons for the "Fighting Fourth" Liberty Loan is the order of the New England Committee. This is 50% more than were used in the Third Loan, and the aim of the Organization is to see that every buyer of a bond in the Fourth Loan has a Button and wears it.

No one thing brings home to the people as a whole the fact that all members of the community are taking a share in the Loan more effectively than the general and conspicuous wearing of the button. In many communities and establishments a 100% subscription was secured more easily because of the open demonstration by the wearing of buttons that participation was reaching every person.

The new button is smaller than the earlier ones, but equally effective. On a dark blue ground is carried a flag of red with four blue stripes, the Honor Flag of the Loan, and the words "Fourth Liberty Loan."

The buttons will be distributed by Banks, bond salesmen, industrial establishments, and all places where subscriptions are taken. They will be ready in ample supply the opening day of the Loan, Sept. 28th and free and constant wearing of the buttons will be the best and most convincing proof of aid in placing the Loan.

BENNINGTON

Miss Helen Kinsman is among the sick ones this week.

Mrs. Fannie Lawrence, who has been quite sick, is improving.

Mr. Henry W. Wilson is suffering from illness and confined to the house.

Miss Betty Barr left on Monday for Newport, R. I., where she will do campaign work.

Col. A. J. Pierce and family have returned from York Harbor, where they spent the summer.

All schools, churches, and other public places in town, are closed, on account of the prevailing danger.

The Monadnock Paper Mills have been forced to close for a time, on account of the large amount of sickness.

E. G. Timme, superintendent of the Monadnock Paper Mills, has been confined to his home the past week by illness.

Miss Effie Braid, who recently graduated as a nurse, from a Boston Hospital, has been here caring for her mother, who has been very ill.

Miss Frieda Edwards has accepted a position in the office of the Queen Quality Shoe Co. at Jamaica Plains, Vt., and commenced her duties there Monday.

C. H. Philbrick, station agent, reports that the September freight receipts at the B. & M. station here, were the largest of any month during his long term of service.

Tony Cuddemi, one of the Italian residents, and esteemed by all our people, died of the influenza on Friday last and the funeral was held on Sunday. He was unmarried.

Mrs. Harry Clafin died at her home in this village on Sunday night, after an illness of about a week. Funeral was held today. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn her loss, and they have the sympathy of all in their affliction.

Bennington, one of the first towns to pass its Liberty loan goal line in the third drive, was also one of the very first to exceed its quota in the Fighting Fourth campaign. On Saturday morning, the opening day of the drive, its chairman, Arthur F. Bell, reported the quota of $27,400 raised, and enough added to it to carry the total up to $62,000, which wins two stars for the town's honor flag already, there being a star for every 50 percent of over-subscription this time. There were 105 subscribers to this first amount reported.

NORTH BRANCH

Miss Welsman has returned from Malden.

Mrs. Estey entertained company over Sunday.

Mrs. Hunt and family were at Bide-a-wee for the week end.

O. A. Sutherland has purchased the lumber on the Parker lot.

Melvin and Sutherland are cutting the lumber on the Lawrence place.

Walter Munroe of New York, visited the past week with his sister, Mrs. O. A. Sutherland.

The Circle Supper will be omitted Thursday, owing to the closing of all public gatherings in town.

Only about a month now remains in which to convert your four percent bonds into four and one-quarter. If you have any of the former, don't lose your chance to get an extra fourth percent by simple negligence.

GREENFIELD

Miss Annie Cheever, of Nashua, is a guest at Dr. N. F. Cheever's.

W. L. Hopkins is on a western trip, to attend a grain men's convention.

Charles Hopkins is home from Tilton Seminary sick with the grippe.

Lonie Bowers, of Amherst, Mass., was a recent visitor at C. H. Cragin's.

Miss Sarah Thompson, of Concord, was a visitor at J. T. Robertson's last week.

The schools at the village and East are closed on account of the prevailing distemper.

Mrs. J. Latham Warren and daughter, Miss Jeanne, of Riverside, Illinois, were visitors at Mrs. J. T. Robertson's the past week. Miss Warren enters Pine Manor at Wellesley, Mass., this week.
