Medical Inspection in Schools

The following article is a clipping from the Vermont Standard, published at Woodstock, Vt., and shows what medical inspection in the schools is doing for the pupils of that town.

Number of pupils inspected	327
Number of pupils without defects	53

Of the more common defects there were:

Defective teeth	187
" throats	159
" noses	25
" eyes	103
" ears	21
In the grades (not including the 7th) there are underweight	95
More than 5 pounds, there are	47

It will be remembered that the majority of defects found to exist in the American army, might have been prevented, had they been treated during childhood

What's the answer?

Is there a responsibility due these boys and girls?

Is there a responsibility due our community?

Is there a responsibility due our American nation?

To whom do these responsibilities belong?

TELL THE WORLD

Is the Title of a Few Lines of Something Appropriate

If you think your town is the best,
tell 'em so.
If you would have her lead the rest,
help her grow.
When there's anything to do let the other fellow count on you,
You will feel bully when it's through,
don't you know?

If you want to make a hit, get a name,
If the other fellow is it, who is to blame?
Spend your money in your town,
Thusly keep your prices down.
Give the fly-by-nights a frown—that's the game.

If you are used to giving knocks,
change your style,
Throw bouquets instead of rocks, for a while,
Let the other fellow roast, shun him as you would a ghost,
Meet his hammer with a boast, and smile.

When a stranger from afar comes along,
Tell him who and what you are—make it strong;
Need not flatter, for that's enough;
Join the boosters—that's the stuff.
We belong.

Miss Rose Bullard

Sunday, April 4, Miss Rose Bullard, formerly of Milford, died in Denver, Colorado. She had a short illness with pneumonia.

She was a native of Antrim, and for many years made her home in Milford, where, in partnership with Miss Knowlton, she conducted a small store.

A year and a half ago she went to Greeley, Colorado, and has made her home with her brother, Scott W. Bullard. Her death occurred at the home of Mrs. Frank E. Shepard in Denver, where funeral services were held. The body was brought to Antrim for interment in Maplewood.

Just a few hours before Miss Bullard's death Mrs. Eliza A. Clark, a sister, of Mrs. Bullard, died.

A FEW THOUGHTS

Suggested by What is Taking Place Around

Compulsory military training was rejected by the U. S. Senate in favor of a voluntary training system, by a vote of 46 to 9. By this new arrangement the government will undertake to train for four months in every year these men between the ages of 18 and 28 who volunteer for training.

"Must Save Europe or Share Her Misery" reads a newspaper headline. How strange it is that some people use startling and nerve shocking words in an effort to make other people see the thing just as they do, when in reality they themselves may be on the wrong track—only thinking they are right, that's all?

Daylight saving, if such you wish to call the plan which is now having a great run, is causing all kinds of trouble where the time is changed. It would be a simple matter for every industry so desiring to start an hour earlier without monkeying with the clocks and thus avoiding all confusion.

Antrim is thinking of doing this thing in the shops, and the stores will probably do likewise. The hour earlier will not make a whole lot of difference to the workmen when they get used to it.

Now and then a farmer speaks of the time when he could buy a bag of meal for a dollar. He could get the dollar by selling about two bushels of potatoes. Now he can get the bag of meal for one bushel of potatoes. If he paid for it with maple syrup it required a little over a gallon, or about seven or eight pounds of sugar cakes. He can still buy the grain with a little more than a gallon of syrup, but seven or eight pounds of sugar would leave a nice balance for groceries, says an exchange. The man who feels the pinch is the one who has neither potatoes nor syrup to give in exchange. The only moral is that it will be wise, if you are a farmer, to have something at the next harvest to give in exchange for the things you need.

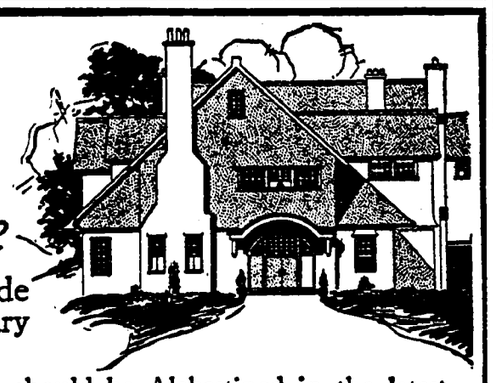
Your New Home



should be made artistic, sanitary and livable.

These walls should be Alabastined in the latest, up-to-the-minute nature color tints. Each room should reflect your own individuality and the treatment throughout be a complete perfect harmony in colors.

The walls of the old home, whether mansion or cottage, can be made just as attractive, just as sanitary, through the intelligent use of

Alabastine

Instead of kalsomine or wallpaper

How much better, when you have a new home, to start right than to have to correct errors afterward from former treatment with other materials, when you come to the use of Alabastine, as does nearly every one sooner or later.

Once your walls are Alabastined you can use any material over it should you desire, but having used Alabastine you will have no desire for any other treatment.

Alabastine is so easy to mix and apply — so lasting in its results — so absolutely sanitary — and so generally recognized as the proper decorative material in a class by itself that it is becoming difficult to manufacture fast enough to supply the demand.

Alabastine is a dry powder, put up in five-pound packages, white and beautiful tints, ready to mix and use by the addition of cold water, and with full directions on each package. Every package of genuine Alabastine has cross and circle printed in red.

Better write us for hand-made color designs and special suggestions. Give us your decorative problems and let us help you work them out.

CONDENSED CLASSICS

QUO VADIS

By HENRY SIENKIEWICZ

Condensation by Prof. William Fenwick Harris of Cambridge, Mass

Henry Sienkiewicz, so great a name in Poland that he has been coupled with Copernicus and Kosciuszko as the three Poles to whom Americans are most indebted, was born in Opreya in Russian Poland in 1846. He studied philosophy at Warsaw university and soon afterwards, in company with Helen Modjeska and other radical Poles, established a socialistic community in California. It was somewhat like the earlier Brook Farm experiment made by Hawthorne and his friends. It was no more successful and Sienkiewicz returned to Poland where he wrote a series of articles for a Warsaw newspaper about his American experiences.

Then he turned to novel writing. He wrote brilliantly and rapidly, turning with the utmost ease from realistic pictures of contemporary life to stories of romance and to historical novels. "Children of the Spil," which he called his best book, is a simple story of Polish life which won more favor with his own countrymen than it did abroad.

In the 80s he completed his tremendous trilogy, "With Fire and Sword," "The Deluge" and "Pan Michael." There was an epic quality about these historical novels that made many people in many lands hail him as a new Scott or a new Dumas.

His international reputation, however, came with "Quo Vadis," his masterpiece of ancient Roman life. It was quickly translated into English and into nearly every tongue. Then it passed to the stage, not only in America and England, but also in France and Germany. Since that success Sienkiewicz had traveled widely, visiting England, France, Italy, Spain, Greece, Africa and the Far East. He received the Nobel prize for literature in 1905. From the outbreak of the war to his death in November, 1916, he devoted himself to the relief of Polish war victims.

"I DO not know of a certainty her name even—Lygia or Callina? They call her Lygia in the house, for she comes of the Lygian nation; but she has her own barbarian name—Callina. It is a wonderful house—that of those Plautiuses. There are many people in it; but it is as quiet there as in the groves of Subiacum. For a number of days I did not know that a divinity dwelt in the house. Once about daybreak I saw her bathing in the garden fountain; and I swear to thee by that foam from which Aphrodite rose, that the rays of dawn passed right through her body. I thought that when the sun rose she would vanish before me in the light, as the twilight of morning does. Since then I have seen her twice; and since then, too, I know not what rest is, I know not what other desires are, I have no wish to know what the city can give me. I want not women, nor gold, nor Corinthian bronze, nor amber, nor pearls, nor wine, nor feasts; I want only Lygia.'"

Thus did Vinicius, young Roman patrician of the time of Nero, announce his love for Lygia, daughter of a king, beautiful hostage from her nation, forgotten in the turmoil of the world empire and brought up as a Roman girl.

Vinicius was speaking to his uncle Petronius, known to his own time as Arbiter Elegantiarum, trained in all the art and beauty of Greece, wise, witty, and learned, gayly staking his life in his daily battle of wits with Tigellinus, who provided for the grosser desires of the tyrant Nero as Petronius did for his finer and more artistic ones.

It was a time when the conflicting tides of a pagan age, sadly degenerate from the sturdy days of pristine Roman virtues, mingled with those of a new era in the world, only recently heralded from Judea. In the complicated threads of the picture of Rome, capital of the world, appear the figures of Peter and Paul on their mission of spreading the new religion of Christ; Poppaea, wife of Nero, beautiful as a dream, but wicked as a nightmare; Eunice, the charming slave of Petronius; Chilo, wily Greek who can be Christian or pagan as profit leads him; Ursus, prodigious in his strength, simple as a child in his faith in Christ and his devotion to Lygia (from whom G. B. S. may have drawn a suggestion in "Androcles and the Lion"), and many minor folk who help to make the story stand out as unusually human among the numerous tales of Greco-Roman times.

When Vinicius told his uncle Petronius of his passion for Lygia, the latter thought nothing was easier than to provide his nephew with what he regarded as a new plaything; a word to Nero, who as emperor had all hostages in his care—summon the maiden to the palace, hand her over to the young patrician as her guardian—what more could be needed to satisfy any one's desires, especially as the maiden manifestly was pleased with Vinicius? But Petronius and his nephew reckoned without a new force that had entered into this Roman world. They could not understand a girl who fled from Nero's court and all its magnificence, fled even from the lover whom she loved. But "finally he understood this, which he and Petronius had not understood, that the new religion, engrafted into the soul something unknown to that world in which he lived, and that Lygia, even if she loved him, would not sacrifice any of her Christian truths for his sake, and that, if pleasure existed for her, it was a pleasure different altogether from that which he and Petronius and Caesar's court, and all Rome were pursuing. Every other woman whom he knew might become his mistress, but that Christian would only become his victim. And when he thought of this, he felt anger and burning pain, for he felt that his anger was powerless. To carry off Lygia seemed to him possible; he was even sure that he could do so, but he was equally sure that, in view of her religion, he himself, with his bravery, was nothing, that his power was nothing, and that through it he could effect nothing. That Roman military tribune, convinced that the power of the sword and the fist, which had conquered the world, would command it forever, said for the first time in his life that beyond that power there might be something else; hence he asked himself with amazement what it was."

It is a definite and concrete way that the author has chosen to show the power of the new religion over human lives. Struggle as he would, backed by birth, by wealth and all the beauty, charm and allurements that wealth could bring, by the ingenuity and wit of Petronius, by the strong-arm methods of Croton, champion bruiser of his time, even by the force of the known world in Nero's sway, Vinicius could accomplish nothing if all he could win to himself was a mere unwilling body, while soul and spirit were beyond his grasp. And the maddening part to him was that he owed all his troubles to the teachings of a parcel of Jewish fishermen or their likes, or slaves or humble folk who had never before entered into serious consideration in the thoughts of a patrician like himself. It was a long struggle with him, and as the reader follows the various people of the story through their part in the action, he gets an admirable picture of Rome—Nero, tyrant, actor and artist, with all his magnificence and all his debaucheries; the poor and humble in their crowded quarters of the great city; the delight of all the senses in the life led by Petronius; the lawless streets of Rome by night; the pursuit of Lygia by Vinicius and his hirelings, resulting in the death of his professional bruiser Croton at the hands of the faithful Ursus, and the disaster to Vinicius which led to his nursing back to health by the Christians; his meeting with Peter and Paul; the gradual opening of his eyes, physical and spiritual; his discovery of Christians everywhere, among the people, among his own slaves, among soldiers and officers, even in the very court of Nero. And the growing worry and astonishment of Petronius:

"'Vinicius, thou art losing sense, judgment, moderation,' exclaimed Petronius.

"'I love only her in the world,' responded Vinicius.

"'What of that?'

"'This, that I wish no other love. I have no wish for your life, your feasts, your shamelessness, your crimes.'

"'What is taking place in thee? Art thou a Christian?'"

And then the great fire of Rome, set by Tigellinus that Nero might not lack the experience of Priam, who had seen Troy burn; of rescuing Lygia from the flames; the persecution of the Christians with the thought of throwing on them the rage of the people at the burning of the city; the singling out of Lygia by the hate of Poppaea because Vinicius had spurned the empress' proffered charms; the final rescue by a miracle of strength on the part of the ever-faithful Ursus, and the words of Vinicius to Peter:

"'What thou commandest I will do.'

"'Love men as thy own brothers,' answered the apostle, 'for only with love mayest thou serve Him.'"

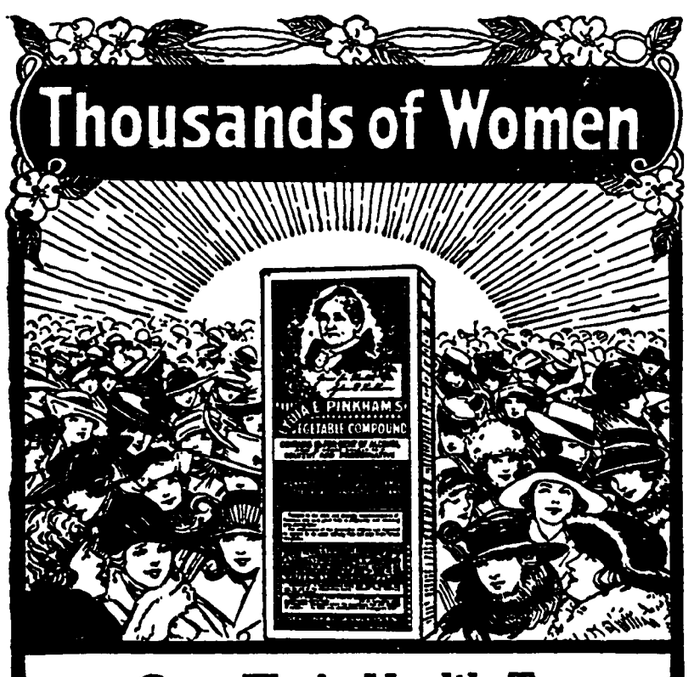
Thousands of Women



Owe Their Health To

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine. Compared with it, all other medicines for women's ills seem to be experiments.

Why is it so successful? Simply because of its sterling worth. For over forty years it has had no equal. Women for two generations have depended upon it with confidence.

Thousands of Their Letters are on our files, which prove these statements to be facts, not mere boasting.

Here Are Two Sample Letters:

Mother and Daughter Helped.

Middleburg, Pa. — "I am glad to state that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me much good when I was 35 years old. I was run down with female trouble and was not able to do anything, could not walk for a year and could not work. I had treatment from a physician but did not gain. I read in the papers and books about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. The first few bottles gave me relief and I kept on using it until I got better and was able to do my work. The Vegetable Compound also regulated my daughter when she was 15 years old. I can recommend Vegetable Compound as the best medicine I have ever used." — Mrs. W. YERGER, R. 3, Box 21, Middleburg, Pa.

Fall River, Mass. — "Three years ago I gave birth to a little girl and after she was born I did not pick up well. I doctored for two months and my condition remained the same. One day one of your little books was left at my door and my husband suggested that I try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I started it immediately and I felt better and could eat better after the first bottle, and I continued taking it for some time. Last year I gave birth to a baby boy and had a much easier time as I took the Vegetable Compound for four months before baby came. On getting up I had no pains like I had before, and no dizziness, and in two weeks felt about as well as ever." — Mrs. THOMAS WILKINSON, 363 Columbia Street, Fall River, Mass.

"SLANG" ROOT OF LANGUAGE

Idiom of Today In Correct Usage Tomorrow, Declares University Professor of English.

That the slang and idioms of today will be correct English tomorrow is the opinion of Prof H. Glicksman of the English department, University of Wisconsin.

"Our language is made up of what was once slang, idiom, colloquialism, and jargon," he said lately, and warned that the most deplorable feature about slang was its tendency to produce mental slovenliness.

Professor Glicksman then referred to the word "mob" as slang of 200 years ago and as such denounced in the Spectator by Addison.

"It is an abbreviation of the word 'mobile.' Even so the word 'pep' is vital and virile and will survive with the word 'snappy.' But to gain recognition slang must be free from vulgarity and cheapness," said Professor Glicksman.

"The term 'How do you get that way?' is condemned because it is meaningless, but the term 'he has a pull' is approved as it is the opposite of 'push,' a word that has forged ahead through its own strength."—Outlook.

LITTLE CHANGE IN PHYSIQUE

Report That Average Stature of American Men Was Affected by War Declared Untrue.

The wholesale clothing manufacturers assert that there has not been any change in the size of their garments since the war. They are manufacturing more garments, but the proportion of larger sizes is no greater now than it was three years ago. In short, their size patterns have not changed. Yet changes would be necessary if the stature of American men had been affected in any appreciable way by the year and a half or two years of military training.

Manufacturers of ready-to-wear shirts and undergarments agree with the clothing manufacturers that there has been no change in their size patterns despite the reports of numerous individuals who take "a size larger" today than they did before the war. As one manufacturer put it, the proportion of soldiers who need larger sizes in shirts or suits today than they did two years ago is so small that it has no effect on wholesalers. Salesmen naturally remember certain individual cases of increased chest development, but, taking the country by and large, there has been no appreciable change in the physique of the male portion of the population, at least as far as their clothing is concerned.

BROOMS FROM PINE NEEDLES

Said to Be an Excellent Substitute for the Bristles Now Used, and Will Last Longer.

One of the latest discoveries is a new use for pine needles. It has been found that the needles of the pine make a fair substitute for bristles in brushes and brooms. They are found in great quantities on the ground in fir forests, and, owing to the large amount of silica in them, they are hard, and do not decay rapidly.

The pine needles are dealt with in two ways. Where they are long they are simply bunched together and tied firmly, and a stick is pushed down the center as a handle.

The other plan is to insert clusters of smaller needles in holes in a thickish piece of wood. These holes are filled with hot pitch, and when this material has set hard and dry the pine needles are held firmly in place.

Elaborate tests have shown that pine needles wear well. They are not more easily broken than much of the material which has been commonly used in broom-making, and, owing to their hardness, they can withstand a great deal of friction.

Suffered for Years

Miserable From Kidney Trouble Doan's Made Mr. Barnett Strong and Well.

"I suffered untold agony with my kidneys for years," says John Barnett, 30 Virginia Place, Buffalo, N. Y. "Sometimes I felt that I would burn up with fever, but every now and then would have a severe chill. Often my clothes were wringing wet with perspiration. The kidney secretions were unnatural in color and odor and burned terribly. At night my shoes were so tight on my feet that I could hardly get them off and my hands swelled so I couldn't hold a teacup. My back! Oh, how it ached! I walked with two canes and was all bent over like an aged man. When the terrible pains shot through my kidneys my knees would give way, and many times I had to be lifted to my feet by people on the street. I didn't care whether I lived or died I was so miserable. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me of all kidney trouble. Doan's made me strong and well."

Portsmouth Is In Favor of Daylight

That the Portsmouth city government is in favor of daylight saving but is powerless to act to bring it about was brought out at the regular meeting of the city council when Capt. L. S. Adams of the industrial department of the navy yard attended the meeting and sought to bring about a uniformity of time locally to comply with the proposed timetable changes on the Boston and Maine railroad.

Mr. Levansaler said that the investigation was going smoothly and would soon be accelerated by additional men from the Boston office. The probe in Manchester has thus far taken in several of the shoe and clothing retailers but in no instance has profiteering been discovered.

Tour Granite State In Inexpensive Fashion

New Hampshire police are looking for a man and woman who are touring the state free by the simple method of hiring a stable rig in one town, driving it to the next and leaving it there, and starting again in a fresh conveyance. Their trail thus far leads from Plymouth through Laconia, East Tilton, Penacook, Concord and Suncook. They were headed toward Manchester at last accounts.

The woman gave her name here as Pearl Whittier. She engages the rigs while the man keeps out of sight. The police believe they are the couple who deserted a baby at a hotel in St. Johnsbury, Vt. last Thursday. They are supposed to be "Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler" or Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Martin.

Is Twice Arrested In Same Day for Larceny.

George W. Dool, alias James Laby, who has been sought in New Hampshire and Massachusetts on charges of Larceny and of using the mails to defraud, was arrested in Boston and held in $1000 bonds on the latter charge. After his release he was rearrested by Fitchburg officials, who said there were several charges of larceny and attempted larceny standing against him there.

New Hampshire Day May 5

The annual "New Hampshire Day" the big event of the year at New Hampshire State College, will be held Wednesday, May 5, announcement having been made by Professor Richard Whoriskey, chairman of the New Hampshire Day committee. New Hampshire Day at the college means service, a day when the entire student body dons working clothes and with rakes, picks and shovels gives a day's manual labor to the college. It is to be the fourth New Hampshire Day, now a regular college holiday, when all studies are suspended. During this day much work is accomplished, and it is a day looked forward to by the entire student body.

This year there will be an entertainment and dance the night before, an out-of-door dinner at noon and a band concert.

Gypsy Moths In State "Froze-Up".

The entomologists have discovered that the 20 to 30 below zero temperatures recorded in many places the past winter, while disagreeable at the time, mean the prevention of many thousands of dollars economic loss to New Hempshire. As a result of the mercury touching low places on the thermometers, it is estimated that millions of eggs of the gypsy moth have been destroyed thus saving hundreds of trees which would be deefoliated this spring and summer had the egg masses remained fertile.

On the other hand, the low temperatures resulted disastrously for the parasites used by the entomologists in combatting the gypsy moth menace. Notwithstanding the heavy mortality in the parasite tribe, the state and federal departments of agriculture are satisfied that the spread of the moth pest will be less the coming season than last year.

Guns and Water Hold Up Strikers.

With drawn revolvers, county sheriffs and policemen held at bay a crowd of operatives locked out of the E. W. Warren shoe factory Somersworth, while strike-breakers and "loyal" employes went to work.

One man was hurt by a brick during a riotous disturbance in which the crowd rushed the officers, in an effort to reach the strike-breakers.

The stike-breakers have been quartered at Grant's Hotel in Berwick, just across the state line, and when the operatives, 200 strong, tried to march on the hotel they were driven back by streams of water from fire department hose.

Three strike breakers were hurt in this demonstration, one so seriously he was removed to the Dover Hospital. The crowd of operatives, locked out more than a month a go when they demanded recognition and a closed shop, surrounded the hostelry shouting they wanted to get at the "breakers." Deputy sheriffs had the fire department set up three lines of hose and played the streams on the crowd, forcing them back over the state line bridge into Somersworth.

Decide to Work on Woman's Dormitory at State College

At the regular quarterly meeting of the board of trustees of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts, it was voted to construct two units of the proposed new women's dormitory with housing capacity for 65, at once. This will be built with funds left to the college by the late Mrs. Hamilton Smith.

The board canvassed at some length the matter of financial requirements of the institution for the next year and appointed a special committee to give consideration to the faculty salary adjustments.

MARTHA JANE A DIPLOMAT

Even Stern Mamma Couldn't Deny She Had Obeyed the Strict Letter of the Law.

Martha Jane's sweet tooth had been indulged so much that her mother had issued the decree, "No more candy," and the remainder of the box had been relegated to the top shelf. A few days ago it was brought down and judiciously apportioned to Martha Jane, for whom a taste spelled more, and even a second taste did not satisfy. When her mother saw her about to take a third helping she remarked, emphatically:

"Now, don't let me see you take another piece."

Presently Mrs. S—— was called from the room, and when she returned she found her four-year-old daughter in the farthest corner of the couch, hastily making way with a nice, plump chocolate cream.

"Martha Jane," said her mother, in her sternest tones, "didn't I tell you not to let me see you take another piece of candy?"

"I know you did, mother," said the little diplomat, "but I took this one while you were gone."

Total Eclipse.

"After conferring with a few class friends Senator Snortsworthy has decided not to sacrifice himself on the altar of his party."

"As a presidential candidate?"

"Yes."

"But the senator doesn't seem to be happy over his decision."

"No. According to his point of view, it is better to be a sacrificial lamb and get a great deal of publicity than it is to be quietly ignored."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"All right, if it's all the same to the children."

Ouch!

"You seem to hate that fellow Smith," said Brown. "What is the trouble between you and him?"

Penguin Cult in Paris.

The cult of the penguin has come to Paris, writes a correspondent. In many houses and in more shop windows you will now find quaint, contemplative penguins as ornaments, or in pottery and china. The penguin porcelain coffee set is the latest design. Father penguin in delicate, deftly-shaped white china makes the coffee pot, and the coffee, nicely hot in his plump body, pours out through his long, sturdy beak. Penguin junior, a little slimmer, is the milk jug, and the coffee cup, in the shape of a penguin's egg, is little penguin "thought of" but not yet born.

THE OTHER HALF!

Some Men are Interested in One Half of the Lesson Merely. Why Not Learn It All?

"Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's ——." This was the reply given by Jesus when asked concerning the payment of taxes. Of course his hearers thought only of enforced tribute to a hated king.

We, however, have gone beyond the payment of mere tribute. There is in our hearts a love of Country. As Americans we say with devotion, "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands,——" The spirit of that pledge and its working out in the life of the Nation, we call Patriotism.

But Why Stop Here? Read On!

"—And unto God the things that are God's." This is the other half of the lesson. Put the two parts together. Do we owe God any less of love and service than we owe our Country? Will not our patriotism be of a finer type if God has a share in our life? They who would best serve their Country in these trying days should range themselves on God's side.

The good men proves himself by his devotion to both God and Country.

Character Counts. Good Men and Women are an Asset in Any Community.

The New World Movement of the Northern Baptist Convention

Just Where and How Is the Money to be Spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Interchurch World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its budget under six main heads:

1 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK AT HOME. A score of items come under this head. Consider only one. Five and a half million people in the United States cannot even read and write the English language. Who is to carry forward this vast work of Americanization if the church does not?

2 FOR HOSPITALS AND HOMES. Every year thousands of men and women seriously ill are turned away from Church hospitals because of lack of room. The children's homes are compelled to turn away more children than they can receive.

3 FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. Of the 450,000 American students in institutions of higher grade, one-half are in institutions founded and supported by the Churches. Many of these institutions have had no great endowment campaigns, but their needs are just as pressing as the needs of larger schools: and you have only to read their list of alumni and alumnae to measure the value of their contribution to America.

4 FOR RELIGIOUS TRAINING. At least 12,000,000 children and young people under 25 years of age are entering American life without any religious training at all. Remembering the faith of Washington and Lincoln, do you think that America will continue to produce Washingtons and Lincolns if faith dies out of the hearts of its youth?

5 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK ABROAD. Influenza came first from the Orient thirty years ago; nearly all plagues are Oriental plagues. So long as China has only one physician to every 400,000 people the Orient will continue to be a menace. So long as one-third of the babies of India die before their second year our own babies are not safe. A Christian doctor or teacher sent abroad is working for America as truly as though he worked at home.

6 PREACHERS' SALARIES. The preacher is called the "forgotten man," and well he may be. Eight out of ten preachers are paid less than $20 a week!

Each denomination has its own detailed budget, and will administer its own funds. Your pastor has copies of the budget: examine them for yourself. In the week of April 25th-May 2nd you will be given your opportunity to help. You can do it with the full satisfaction of knowing that every dollar of your gift has its post assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for better America and a better world. When your church calls on you give—and give with your heart as well as your pocket-book.

STEPS TO JAIL STRIKE CHIEFS

Conspiracy to Interrupt Nation's Food Supply to Be Basis of Action.

A SINISTER PLOT IS SEEN.

Employees of Big Dewit Yard at Syracuse Vote to Go Back—9,000 Resume Work in Chicago Stock Yards.

Washington.—A program for dealing with the strikers was agreed upon here. High government officials believe they have authority under the Lever act to prosecute any two or more men who agree to quit work and thereby interfere with the transportation of food and other necessities of life. They also believe the strike is the result of an organized movement.

A plan of action was discussed by Attorney General Palmer, Walker D. Hines, Postmaster General Burleson, Joseph P. Tumulty, Frank P. Garvan and others. Mr. Palmer said there is no doubt in his mind that the strike is part of a conspiracy.

When action is taken it is understood that the facts submitted by the department will disclose the names and affiliations of the secret organizers of the strike and their real purpose, which is believed to be much broader than an increase in wages. A connection between I. W. W. and Bolshevist propaganda may be established.

Reports are being received from hundreds of special investigators in every city affected. While, as the attorney general stated, the investigation is not yet completed, it is known that the facts already developed point clearly to a tremendous and so far successful organization behind what has apparently been a mysterious common impulse to quit work.

Brotherhoods Deny Secret Sympathy.

Philadelphia.—Railway brotherhood officials deny vigorously that secretly they sympathize with the "outlaw" strike. W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania, gave out this message sent to the brotherhood chiefs:

"I find that the strongest propaganda that is influencing our men, particularly the younger men, is the word being passed around that this movement has the support of you gentlemen and the organization you represent, but that, in view of the fear of injunctions being served on you and your organizations, the strike is being engineered by word of mouth, that no regular orders have been issued or are to be expected."

W. S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Engineers, made a reply typical of all:

"There is no truth in the report that present strike movement has our support. Everything possible is being done to have our members remain at work and carry out their contracts. There are no secret instructions to the contrary being issued. Any such statement being circulated among the men is absolutely untrue."

Transportation in a Tangle.

New York.—Representatives of the brotherhoods in conference with railroad managers were told that unless the men returned their places would be filled.

While the outlaw strikers made some gains in their fight on the railroads serving New York, they failed completely in the big plan to isolate the commuting public from the city. Trolley men in New Jersey, on whom they counted for aid, cared for trainless commuters with extra cars.

Effects of the strike on industry in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown district are shown in the probable idleness of 300,000 miners, steel workers and men in other trades.

Appeals were made to the outlaw strikers in Cleveland, the headquarters of the brotherhoods, by Samuel Gompers and William G. Lee. To them the strikers turned deaf ears. In Jersey City, Timothy Shea, first vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, also met with failure in addressing strikers.

DOLLAR A DAY BONUS.

Excludes Officers and Privates Earning Above Regular Pay.

Washington—More than 3,000,000 United States ex-service men of the World War will receive a bonuses of $1 a day under the terms of a bill tentatively agreed to. To raise the necessary money, estimated at $1,000,000,000, a general sales tax of one-half of one per cent will be imposed upon all business men who do an annual business of $2,500.

REDS WON'T STOP AT BLOOD.

Woman Officer of Communist Party Tells of Aims.

Boston.—The Communist party is committed to revolution, bloodless if possible, but otherwise a bloody one, according to Mrs. Amy T. Colyer of Wellesley, secretary of the Massachusetts branch of that party.

She testified in the Federal court in connection with habeas corpus proceedings brought for the release of herself and eleven other persons held for deportation.

PRESIDENT NAMES RAIL LABOR BOARD

It Will Give Every One a Square Deal, Says Leader Whitney of the Trainmen.

Washington.—President Wilson took personal charge of the program of the government to control the strike situation. He held a meeting of the cabinet and nominated nine men to compose the Railroad Labor Board provided for in the Esch-Cummins transportation act.

The members are:

Representing the Public—George W. Hangar, Washington, D. C.; Henry Hunt, Cincinnati; R. M. Barton, Tennessee.

Representing the Railroads—Horace Baker, J. H. Eliot and William L. Park.

Representing the Employees—Albert Phillips, A. O. Wharton and James J. Forrester.

Mr. Hunt is appointed for one year. He is a former mayor of Cincinnati and a former member of the Ohio house of representatives. During the war he was a captain in the National Army. Since 1915 he has been on the Board of Trustees of the city owned Cincinnati Southern railway.

Mr. Hanger is assistant commissioner of the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation.

R. M. Barton is a former judge of the Tennessee Court of Appeals and is appointed for three years.

Horace Baker, who is appointed for three years, is a former general manager of the Texas and Pacific railroad and subsequently a colonel in the Transportation Corps of the A. E. F.

Mr. Park is vice president of the Chicago Great Western railroad and is appointed for one year.

Mr. Phillips is vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. He is appointed for three years.

Mr. Wharton, whose home is in Missouri, is an officer of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor and a member of the Board of Railway Wages and Working Conditions of the United States railroad administration. His term is two years.

Mr. Forrester is president of the Brotherhood of Railway Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees. His term is one year.

The appointment of the Labor Board is looked upon by railroad managers and brotherhood officials as a successful drive on the camp of the switchmen.

SOUTH GERMANY TALKS SECESSION

Bavaria, Baden, Wurttemberg and Hesse Threaten to Split Away From Prussia.

BERLIN IS LOSING INFLUENCE.

Bavarian Guards Refuse to Disarm. Defy Foch to Come and Get Rifles. "Zigzag Policy" of Government Criticized.

Berlin.—A secession movement in south Germany, centering in Munich and affecting Bavaria and neighboring states, is reported in dispatches received here to be gaining strength. The reports give out ill disguised hints that the south Germans, dissatisfied with the coalition government in Berlin, particularly because of its recent concessions to the labor unions, are pushing a separatist campaign.

The Munich Post, a Socialist newspaper, prints the details of negotiations which are said to have been carried on by Rheim, the Catholic peasant leader in Bavaria, and his assistant, Ankenbrand, with officers in the Bavarian army, looking toward a coup d'etat which would set up General Ludendorf as a dictator in the south.

Similar dissatisfaction with the Berlin administration has been expressed in the west. The Catholic newspapers in particular are restive because of what they call the government's dilatoriness in handling the Ruhr insurrection and have expressed themselves plainly in some cases in hinting a dissolution of the republic.

Thus Tremonia, the leading Catholic organ of western Germany, calls upon the government to abandon its zigzag policy in dealing with the "Reds." It says: "We must either go with the Berlin government or against it. We know those are harsh words, but the necessities of the hour justify them."

A commission representing the Reichswehr troops operating in the region of Essen and also the Socialist and Catholic labor organizations there, which is in Berlin to make representations regarding the pacification of that region, demands that the government punish the "Red" leaders immediately. It further demands that the court martials be held at the front without delay in order that the punishments may be effective.

The commission also protests against the interference of the labor unions in the government.

The newspapers here point to these demands as part of the movement in the south and west to foster secession tendencies under the slogan "Cut loose from Berlin." They assert the fact that the movement is gaining support daily is due to the slackness with which the government has dealt with the insurrectionists.

The Palatinate Peasants' Association has sent President Ebert a sharply worded note protesting against the concession of the government to the unions and threatening, if the government yields further, to call a general strike of the peasantry or to take even more extreme measures.

The mind of the public is occupied largely with internal political affairs. The Kapp adventure and subsequent developments left grave discontent in the ranks of the coalition government. The subjection of the government by the labor unions has evoked sharp criticism in both the Catholic and Democratic organs, where the view of expressed that Germany is now under a sort of soviet system through the surrender of the government to the workers.

Stuttgart.—Ministers of south German states met secretly here, Bavaria, Baden, Wurttemberg and Hesse being represented. Ostensibly the meeting was called for a discussion of commercial relations, but it is believed it concerned issues recently contributing to widening the gulf between these states and the central government, in which Bavaria has been a dominating force.

Bavaria to Retain Arms.

Munich, Bavaria.—Bavarian citizen guards will not surrender their arms, and declare if the French wish to disarm them they must come here and do it.

"We will not surrender our rifles, not even to the devil," asserted Lieutenant Colonel Woermer at a meeting of the guards here.

Other speakers, among them a lieutenant general, seconded Woermer's statement, declaring the dissolution of the citizen guards would be "equivalent to suicide."

Swedish King in England.

Newcastle-on-Tyne.—King Gustave of Sweden arrived here, and later departed for London. The King is on his way to Riveria.

CONGRESS FIXES QUITTING DAY.

Adjournment June 5 Is Now Predicted by Leader Mondell.

Washington.—After a conference with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Representative Mondell of Wyoming, Republican leader in the House, said he believed congress would adjourn June 5. All appropriation mensures will be ready for approval by May 15, he said, and other important pending legislation will be disposed off by June 1, thus releasing members from their duties.

ADMIRAL HORTHY

Chief of Austrian Navy Now Regent of Hungary.

This is the first good photograph of Admiral Horthy, regent of Hungary, to reach this country. On his election as regent he received 131 out of the 141 ballots cast. During the war he was commander in chief of the Austro-Hungarian navy. His latest utterance is to the effect that "We must begin the honest work of reconstruction. To work more and produce more is the only basis of Hungary's future."

SONORA SEIZES CUSTOM HOUSES

New Republic Takes Over Other Property Also of Federal Government.

Nogales, Sonora.—Custom houses and all property of the federal government of Mexico were formally seized in the name of the "Republic of Sonora" here.

Telegraphic dispatches from Hermosillo, capital of the state, say the Congress there has designated Governor de la Huerta as the "supreme power of the Republic of Sonora."

General Calles issued a proclamation at Hermosillo calling on all Sonora soldiers, whether federal or state, to rally to the Sonora colors against an invasion by Carranza soldiers.

Word from Sinaloa says the Congress of that state has indorsed the action of the Sonora Congress in demanding its constitutional rights against an invasion by federal forces.

Sonora state officials, headed by Governor Adolfo de la Huerta, governor of Sonora, declared that while the state had seceded it would return to the Mexican Republic upon guarantees from the national administration that there would be no infringement of the state's rights by the federal government. Any attempt of Carranza to take back the state by force would be resisted by force.

The Sinaloa state Congress, according to information received here, has indorsed the action of the Sonora Congress in demanding constitutional rights, and Lower California, according to these reports, is expectetd to do the same. Sinaloa politics are closely interwoven with Sonora's, and both states are larely controlled by General Alvaro Obregon, who is technically under arrest in Mexico City.

Governor de la Huerta's seizure of the Southern Pacific of Mexico railroad, according to reports here, has won support in Sinaloa, where vast quantities of agricultural products are awaiting shipment. In an interview the governor said the state would hold the road within the state until the railroad arbitrated or otherwise settled the strike. The governor declared neither the strikers nor the officials had the right to tie up the road and leave perishable crops to ruin.

LATEST EVENTS AT WASHINGTON

Surplus supplies of frozen beef, canned roast beef and bacon which the war department has in storage in a score of railroad centers were made available for use in relieving any serious food shortage resulting from the railroad strike.

Evidence of the activity of Industrial Workers of the World toward inciting and maintaining the unauthorized railroad strike continue to accumulate at the department of justice and officials said that they saw signs of an attempt to expand the rail strike into "one phase of a world revolution."

A tax on surplus profits and stock dividends was proposed by Representative Johnson of South Dakota to provide a soldiers bonus fund. Mr. Johnson opposed the plan to levy a sales tax, declaring that the profiteers and men who have made large fortunes thus would have the soldiers themselves pay the tax.

The Irish pickets arrested at the British embassy were held for a Federal Grand Jury by United States Commissioner Richardson on charges of violating a Federal statute making it a felony to "assault" a diplomatic representative.

RUSSIA'S TRIAL OF SOCIALISM

Ultimate Good to the World Looked for From the Practical Test Now Being Made in That Country.

By FRANK COMERFORD.

The "red flag" remedy has been demanding a trial, a test. The demand has been growing. Before its advocates can be silenced they must be shown. Out of the test of socialism in Russia is bound to come good. Whether the theory is a practical one or not, putting it to the test will answer a question, satisfy a demand, and tend to quiet unrest.

The fair-minded investigator cannot deny that there was justification and reason back of the effort to try the remedy. That the world has been suffering from poverty cannot be denied. I have found few men, even among the conservative, responsible leaders of business and governments in Europe, who did not admit that conditions in the world before the war were not right; that some change in the order of things was inevitable; that the dissatisfied elements in society were coming together and that unless men were given better lives, they were determined to fight. The working man was deteriorating physically under the strain of brutal working conditions which exacted too many units of physical energy for the number of calories of food he was getting. The haemoglobin count, the red corpuscles, were disappearing from the blood of the working people. It was not a theory; one could see it in the faces and movements of the people. Medical men recognized the fact. A walk through the poorer district of any industrial city in Europe furnished plenty of evidence of this alarming condition. Men, women and children were resorting to false stimulants to keep up. Tea, coffee and alcohol were being used in increasing amounts.

Always on Verge of Want.

Men were stretching their arms and yawning. Squalor and filth furnished the homes. Many lived in abject poverty, many more lived on the border line of the garbage alley. Few were able to accumulate even the smallest surplus. They could not by scraping and denial get a week ahead of the game. It had become a hand-to-mouth existence, a weekly, monthly fight to meet the grocery bills, buy stockings, shoes, and the scant amount of clothes to cover their bodies. It was bread and coffee for breakfast, bread with jam and tea for dinner, tea and cheese for supper. Sausage sometimes took turns with cheese. Once a week, the Sunday repast, a great stew, a few vegetables and a bone. In the Latin countries it was the same, except that diluted cheap wine was substituted for tea. The great majority of men found themselves poorer and older at the end of the week than they were at its beginning. Over the workingman's head was suspended night and day by a thin, weak thread, the dreaded sword of poverty. Men feared that the thread might break any minute. It was the thread by which they held the thing called a "job." What did they care about the rights of private property? They didn't have any private property. The socialists had willing listeners when they ranted about communism. It promised to give these people property, to give them a common ownership of everything. It wasn't hard to convince them that this was better than ownership of nothing.

The bolsheviks of Russia are entitled to the presumption of good faith in selecting the Marxian formula. It is only fair to them, and to the remedy, to examine the experiment with a mind free from prejudice. In admitting the good intentions of the bolsheviks I am not conceding that bolshevism is practicable, workable; that it has succeeded or can succeed. For the present I am trying to fairly give the whole story of the effort. It is as foolish to try to answer the bolshevik propaganda by calling the bolsheviks ugly names, as it would be stupid to accept bolshevism because its advocates are sincere.

Need for Calm Consideration.

Russia is the patient. If we are to intelligently judge the treatment called bolshevism, it is necessary to get a complete history of the patient and examine the conditions under which the experiment was tried. Any doctor who is a scientist would follow such a procedure in handling a medical case. If a doctor announced to the scientific world that he had a remedy for cancer, which at the present time is an incurable physical disease, just as poverty is a social one, the scientists would give a hearing to his theory, seek a fair test for it, keep their minds open, and judge the efficacy of the remedy by the results it produced. Communism, as a treatment, a cure for poverty, has never been put to the test on a scale and in circumstances which justify any positive judgment as to whether or not the plan is a practical one. As I have written, the Russian bolsheviks insist that if every one owns everything in common there can be no poverty. They base this statement on their faith that communism will increase production. They claim that competition shackles production. They say that the competitive system takes from the individual the inducement to work—that communism would give him an incentive to work; that it would be a stimulant; that under it men would work better and produce more. They add that the present system is bound to provoke an increasing number of strikes and that strikes stop production, cause waste, increase poverty. There is no doubt about the fact that there could be no poverty in the socialistic state if communism succeeded in stimulating men to work harder, thus greatly increasing production, because there would be more to eat, more to wear, more to use, and as the distribution would be controlled by the state, all of the people would receive an equal share of the great abundance, all would have enough. For the sake of fairness to them, I am conceding that the distribution program would be honestly and justly carried out, but a better distribution, a more equal and just division would mean nothing if the first, the fundamental promise of bolshevism—greater production—is not fulfilled. Any plan which decreases production causes a shortage of the things necessary to life. If the bolsheviks are wrong in their belief that communism will increase production, then bolshevism would make poverty general, universal, and instead of bolshevism curing the cancer on the body of civilization, it would make the entire body of civilization a cancer. If the claims of bolshevism are well founded, sound in common sense, capable of fulfillment, communism would be the greatest blessing ever conferred upon humanity. On the other hand, if the bolsheviks are wrong, and communism took from them the inducement to work, then notwithstanding the good intentions of the bolsheviks, their communism would be the greatest scourge the world has known. This is the simple issue in the case. If bolshevism is the good thing its advocates say it is, it will bring the millennium, and every human being should be in favor of it; but if it is not practical, and will not work out, then it is a danger, the red flag is its proper signal, and the world should avoid the danger signal as an engineer charged with the safety of human life would avoid running by a red light on the track ahead.

Examine Before Condemning.

Going back to the case of our friend, the doctor who honestly and sincerely believes he has a cure for cancer, let us consider what the scientific world would demand before offering a judgment as to the value of his proposed cure. First, they would free their minds of all prejudice. They would be reasonable and patient as they would be thorough in examining the proposed remedy from every possible angle. They would analyze the formula, examine it in the light of experience. Why shouldn't we follow the same sensible plan in considering bolshevism? Won't we get farther if we do? Hasn't such a course an advantage over quarreling about it? Why should some of us accept it without knowing what it is? Why should others condemn it without understanding? And why should both these groups get excited and irritated, call each other names, learn to hate, and add to the world's unrest?

I propose to follow the method of the scientist as nearly as I can in examining the patient, Russia, the world cancer, poverty, and the remedy—bolshevism.

1. A complete family history, so that we may know and understand the constitution of the patient.
2. The physical and mental condition of the patient at the time treatment was begun.
3. The formula—the remedy.
4. The theory of the cure.
5. The methods used in applying the remedy.
6. The history sheets showing the effect of the treatment upon the patient.
7. The condition of the patient after more than two years of bolshevism.

Monarchs Tire of Switzerland.

Former Emperor Charles of Austria and Empress Zita are tired of remaining in Switzerland, according to a telegram from Prague, and have applied to the Czecho-Slovak government for permission to reside in Prague. The request was refused for political reasons.

One reason given for the request is that owing to the low rate of exchange in Switzerland the former royal couple are receiving only one-tenth of their income from Vienna. Empress Zita is reported to have been forced to sell more of her jewels.

An American newspaper is understood to have offered the former emperor $500,000 for his reminiscences, but although financially embarrassed, he refused.

Child Victims of the War.

In Jugo-Slavia there are 500,000 fatherless children of whom 150,000 are absolutely destitute. Among them tuberculosis, eye and skin diseases are rife. Of these children, up to July, fewer than 2,000 had been provided for, largely because of the tremendous difficulties attending the work in an utterly disorganized community. The government at Belgrade and the great American and English relief organizations are now working in thorough harmony in their efforts to carry these children safely through the winter. They can only succeed if there is no slacking of effort on the part of the American and British publics.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callous. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callous right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!—Adv.

USES OF ASPIRIN

Bayer Company, who Introduced Aspirin 18 years ago, give advice.

Aspirin created a sensation when introduced by Bayer over eighteen years ago. Physicians at once proved its wonderful efficiency in the relief of pain. The genuine, world-famous Aspirin, in "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" is safely taken by millions for Colds, Headache, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Earache, Toothache, Aching Joints, Neuritis, and Pain generally.

Be sure the "Bayer Cross," which is the mark of true "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," is on each genuine package and each genuine tablet.

Boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents and contain proper directions. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Womens' complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Poet's Lofty Position.

Among the British men of prominence probably the one who most frequently refused money was Robert Browning, the poet. During the last twenty-five years of his life editors offered large sums for a short poem from his pen. But Browning said "No." He told his friends when they pointed out the unwisdom of this course that he was determined not to thrust his poems down the throats of people; that if they wanted to read him they could buy his books.

The Magnetism of the Cross

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER
Teacher of English Bible, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT.—And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.—John 12:32.

The world's magnet is Christ on the Cross. Wherever he is lifted up members of the race are drawn together. Let the world take notice that God's plan for the unification and peace of the world is in Christ, and the magnet which will draw the nations together is the cross.

Its Nature.

1. It purports to be the finished work of Christ in the redemption of the race, the way of life for those who are dead in trespasses and sins. The prospect of life has definite attraction for all. The universal testimony of man after being quickened by the Spirit is that gloom and despair awaited them in their natural state. As one is drawn to the remedy for ills when afflicted or pardon when under condemnation so the cross of Christ with magnetic force draws men.

2. It is an effective remedy for sin. Millions of witnesses have testified to the saving efficacy of the cross. Just as the Israelites who were bitten by the serpents were healed by looking to the brazen serpent which Moses lifted up on the pole so millions testify that by looking to Jesus uplifted they were healed of their sins.

3. It expresses a divine sympathy. Jesus voluntarily gave up his glory with the Father and took the place of sinners (Phil. 2:6-8; cf. II Cor. 5:21). He not only surrendered his reputation, but became obedient unto death. The unselfishness of the one who champions the cause of the helpless has great power to gather supporters. While Jesus did not die as a martyr, but as a substitutionary sacrifice, the unselfishness of his love finds a response in the human heart. We love him because he first loved us.

Its Method.

1. In the Incarnation God united himself to man, and on the cross Christ suffered the just penalty of God as the substitute for all who would believe on him. It is this substitutionary aspect of the cross that draws men to Christ. To the superstitious who lacerate themselves to quiet their consciences for sin it shows that the chastisement of their peace was upon him. To the poor heathen mother who casts her babe into the Ganges to appease the anger of God; to those who in the darkness of despair are by the side of their dead, hoping by noises to frighten off the spirit from ghost land, the cross comes with its magnetic power because it tells of a resurrection and immortality. To the poor Indian who believes in the transmigration of souls it appeals because it tells him that in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, the believer shall be absent from the body and present with the Lord instead of passing through millions of transmigrations.

2. The Holy Spirit, whose influence and power are secured and sent down by virtue of the cross, illumines it and draws men unto it. It is the Spirit that quickeneth. "Souls touched with a divine life persistently turn toward Jesus. The needle that has been touched with the loadstone may be shaken and agitated, but it never rests until it turns toward the pole. Thus our hearts' affections when once magnetized by the love of Christ find no rest except they turn to him."

Its Scope.

1. It embraces all nationalities. Christ was not uplifted on the cross merely for the Jews, but for all nations; he died for all. The realization of the full meaning of the cross of Christ will do away with race prejudice. In this day when men are casting about for a message for this new age, it becomes them to consider the cross, because only in Christ can the brotherhood of man be realized.

2. It extends to all classes—the rich and the poor, the educated and the uneducated. The redemption that is in Christ outside of the range of human intellect, merit or treasure. In him there are no rich and no poor; no slaves, no masters; no capitalists, no laborers, but a sympathetic, loving family.

Its Results.

The magnetic force of Christ's cross will result in a universal kingdom. The glorious age which has been anticipated by the great minds of the earth shall be turned into actuality by the cross of Christ. His cross is the keystone in the arch which spans the two eternities. What the sun is to the solar system the cross of Christ is to the moral universe.

Since salvation depends upon the lifting up of Christ, in our preaching and teaching and living let Christ be lifted up that the unsaved world may see and live; and since the time is short and the day of grace may soon end, let the sinner hasten to plunge into the fountain opened up for sin and uncleanness. "Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way."

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mallett entertained their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Norling, of Quincy, Mass., over the week end.

The diver who worked in the river last week has been doing duty at the Goodell Co. dam where repairs are being made and new construction work is being put in for the Company's new electric plant.

After another week of anxious waiting, diligent searching (though not by as many as the first week), and constant watch of the river by men in boats and on its banks, there is nothing definite to report in the mysterious disappearance case of Mrs. George Edwards. As everything possible has been and is being done to find the body, it seems now to be a question of time, and all hope that it will not be very much longer.
