SPAULDING Will Strengthen the Ticket

All types of Republicans are behind the Spaulding candidacy. He appeals to new voters as a liberal Republican of great business ability and unquestioned integrity.

His nomination will add strength to the Republican ticket. Strength is needed. New Hampshire has not cast its electoral vote for the Republican presidential candidate since 1908.

Remember, Spaulding will lead the Republican ticket in November, not lag dismally behind it to the disadvantage of every other Republican candidate.

A VOTE FOR SPAULDING IN THE SEPTEMBER PRIMARIES IS A VOTE FOR REPUBLICAN SUCCESS IN NOVEMBER.

Church and S. S. Picnic

Our annual church and Sunday School picnic will be held on Saturday, Sept. 4, at Taylor's grove, Lake George. Transportation will be by auto, leaving the Soldiers' Monument at or near 8 o'clock (standard time). A cordial invitation is extended to our summer guests, who may be visiting members of the three churches of the village. Games and sports will interest all. Ice cream will be on sale at picnic prices. Phosphates will be furnished gratis. A basket lunch will be the order of the day, and perfect weather will suit us all.

THE CRESCENT A. C.

Of Keene Meets Defeat on Antrim Grounds

On Saturday, August 21, the Crescent A. C. of Keene, were defeated by the Antrim A. A. on Jameson grounds by a score of 6 to 1. The lack of their regular pitcher and numerous errors at critical points proved a costly combination for the visitors. It will be of interest to local fans to know that this is the sixth straight game that Mulhall has won for Antrim since he began to pitch this season. Wednesday, Aug. 25, the team goes to Greenfield and crosses bats with the Hillsboro team. On Saturday of this week a team from Manchester, known as the "Whistlers" plays the local team on the home grounds.

"Be Careful How They Marry"

The soul abhors made laughter and forced tears. Yet, while we are not the legitimate parents of these expressions of emotion, we may determine the moral quality of these expressions by controlling the principle which responds to produce them. A study of the accompanying genealogy will help to make plain our thought.

The Laughter and Tears Family
Laughter and Tears were the children of Joy. Laughter begat Good-cheer by his first wife, Merry-heart. Tears bore Smiles to her husband, Repentance. Laughter begat Tears by his second wife, Derision. His daughter, Tears, bore Sympathy to her husband, Sorrow. Tears also bore Relief to Sorrow. Smiles married Scorn and bore Tears. Sympathy married Tears; the daughter of Scorn, and begat Encouragement.

Ye who are the guardians of these children, take note of their genealogy and be careful how they marry.
Henry A. Coolidge

FIRE IN ANTRIM

Destroys House and Barn of Frank K. Black

The alarm of fire startled our village on Friday evening last about seven o'clock, and it was learned at once that the barn of Frank K. Black, at Clinton Village, was afire. The men of the village and women too, went to the fire as soon as they could get there and rendered all the help they could. The fire company responded with promptness and rendered good service.

When the fire was first seen by the family it was burning in the hay and it is generally supposed that spontaneous combustion was the cause. The alarm was at once given and the horse and all live stock was gotten out of the barn but nothing else of consequence was saved, for very soon all the inside of the barn was ablaze. The long line of sheds connecting barn and house was soon in flames, and as nothing could be done to check their spread here every effort was made to save the house and contents.

Willing hands removed all the household goods from the downstairs tenement occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Black and most of the goods from the upstairs tenement occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Black. Swiftly the flames were advancing toward the house and although every effort was being made by the firemen and all others to retard their progress they continued advancing and burned well into the house before being checked. The brick walls seemed to furnish a sort of resistance and together with the good work of the firemen and the streams of water they were able to play upon the flames from the engine being pumped by willing hands, the fire was brought under control, but not until the most of the house had been practically destroyed. Only one or two rooms downstairs and a like number upstairs, in the corner farthest away from the fire have anything like their original appearance; the rest are burned and scorched, the walls, ceiling, etc., being ruined.

This is a great loss to the occupants of the house, as the insurance was light, and there was a small amount on barn and contents. Mr. Black tells us he must have had some thirty tons of hay in the barn and a little figuring shows the value of this one item alone. In addition, all farming tools, most of his carpenter's tools (he is also contractor and builder as well as farmer), a large number of tools used in plumbing and steam fitting, brick masonry, and general jobbing, were consumed by the flames. It is hard to place a figure of value on these

That Morning Lameness

If you are lame every morning and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on this testimony.

Frank E. Currier, Machinist, 128 S. Main St., Franklin, N. H., gave the following statement on September 7, 1908: "I had backaches all the time and the trouble was caused by too much stooping while at work. Mornings my back was so lame and sore I could hardly get out of bed. When I tried to lift anything, sharp pains seized me and I could hardly straighten up. Nothing seemed to do me any good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes removed all the backache, lameness and soreness. My kidneys now act regularly and give me no more annoyance."

RELIES ON DOAN'S

Over seven years later Mr. Currier said: "I can heartily back up my past recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills. I use them occasionally as a preventive."

The Community Chautauqua

Which has been in Antrim the past week gave its final number of the program on Friday evening. For the most part every number on the program was a good one, and with a very few exceptions everyone was pleased who attended. The entertainers were high class, and the lectures were interesting and instructive. Good crowds attended every attraction and many were present from surrounding towns, all having a good word to say for the way they were entertained. As a financial proposition we are told it was a success, the amount guaranteed overrunning about sixty dollars, which sum will be added to the funds in the treasury of the local American Legion post. An effort was made by the superintendent to secure thirty guarantors to bring the Chautauqua to Antrim next year, but the last we heard this number had not been obtained.

The Reporter, 52 weeks, $2.00.

goods, but all know they are very valuable. The families have the sympathy of all in their loss, which will very likely be in the vicinity of four thousand dollars.

At present time, Mr. Black is unable to tell just how much rebuilding he will be able to do, but gives us an idea that he will do some as soon as the insurance is adjusted and he has had time to give the matter due consideration.

Goods purchased by us for Fall sales are arriving and while the prices for goods in stock are much below those now prevailing because they were contracted for months ago, the prices on new deliveries are higher than goods are now marked in our stock because we have allowed the prices to remain as at the time of purchase.

You can now take advantage of our present prices which are for goods in stock only.

Manufacturers are still months behind in filling orders. There are not yet, nor will there be for months to come, sufficient goods to supply the demands. The law of supply and demand is still operative. There can be no general reduction in prices as long as demand is far in excess of supply.

We have full lines in most departments and early selection insures you present low prices. We want you to know that we have, so far as possible, kept up the quality in all our lines. Many stores have yielded to the temptation to get goods wherever they could be found. Many factories have skimmed both in material and labor in their output.

FRENZIED TAXATION

New Hampshire Taxes are now so high they actually constitute a menace to the well-being of the average citizen of the State.

And they are going higher! Unless a halt is called the next State Tax will be $3,000,000. It is now $1,800,000 with a special of $400,000, making an actual State Tax of $2,200,000.

At present the finances of the State are in an alarming condition. If all bills should be paid and appropriation liabilities met on the last day of August the State Treasury would face a deficit of more than $300,000.

Don't blame your local Assessors or Selectmen for high and unjust taxation. They should not be held responsible for extravagant legislatures or the arbitrary and ill-considered methods of the Tax Commission. If you want relief instruct your Representatives to fight extravagance. They should take their instructions from the people who elect them.

Arthur P. Morrill, Republican candidate for Governor, is a vigorous opponent of oppressive taxation.

He is against the reckless expenditure of money by the State.

Consequently he is opposed by a combination of powerful corporations and professional politicians. It is certain that the burden of taxation will increase unless the people elect a Governor and a Legislature pledged to economy.

Mr. Morrill is making his own campaign and has no hired workers traveling from town to town.

The newspapers of the State are almost unanimously against him.

A FEW THOUGHTS

Suggested by What Is Happening Around

All but a very few of the towns in Hillsboro county showed by the 1920 census a decided loss in population, according to the figures given out by the Census Bureau last week. Hudson made the best showing, gaining about 50 percent, but even then it was the first time in 110 years that it had equaled the population Hudson had in 1810.

Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore of New York, member of the National Republican executive committee, said in Maine one day last week: "Women are aligning themselves with the Republican party because they realize that it is the forward-looking party and that it has the interest of women more closely at heart than any other political party."

In Sunday's Boston Globe there was a good picture of Hon. George S. Peavey, of Greenfield, and a writeup of his political life. It was interesting to those who know him and many of the statements made sound very much like the genial cattle dealer that we have known so long. He is now 85 years of age but is hale and hearty and works as hard as many men fifty years his junior. In addition to his many good qualities he has the happy faculty of growing old gracefully.

The American Press in a lengthy editorial concerning the replacement in politics of the lawyer by men of the newspaper profession, states: The country press is the only means of contact between the government and the people. It is the blood of the nation. The national heart cannot function without it, and if we are to have strong, vigorous heartbeat, if we are to have a country that responds with virility to the call worth while we must have a strong and vigorous country press to spread the word. The prosperity of this nation and the prosperity of the country newspapers are linked together so closely they cannot be dissociated.

Some indication of the income derived by farmers in the State is shown by summaries of farm account books which are being tabulated by A. R. Gennug, farm management demonstrator. He finds that during the year 1919-1920 the average labor income from 29 farms in Cheshire County was $849; from 44 farms in Grafton County, $1057; from 54 farms in Sullivan County, $948. By "labor income" is meant what the farmer receives for his year's work after subtracting all farm expenses and 5 percent interest on his capital. In addition he has a house to live in and farm products used by the family. The figures for the other counties of this state have not yet been given out.

CONCERT A SUCCESS

Unity Guild Presents a Splendid Musical Program

Those who were not present at the Presbyterian church on Monday evening missed one of the finest concerts ever presented in Antrim. The large audience was enthusiastic, the music chosen with just the right balance of classic and semi classic numbers, and the artists uniformly successful.

Unity Guild, with Mrs. Robert Jameson as chief conspirator, had "imported" three of Concord's best musicians and two of the Lake George colony, as well as making sure of three of our local singers.

H. Maitland Barnes, organist at St. Mary's, Concord, played very effectively organ numbers by Guilman and Federlein, also contributing organ accompaniments for two of the songs.

Mrs. Harold Blake, also of Concord, gave great pleasure in Wildor's "Ave Maria," and in the two closing duets with Mrs. Jameson.

Harold Dearborn, another Concord singer with a brilliant tenor voice, was heard in five excellent songs, the little Scotch song and Cox's "To a Hilltop" winning the most favor.

Rupen Ecksergian, violinist, who will be remembered from former concerts, contributed a violin obligato to Mrs. Blake's "Ave Maria," and played two delightful trios with his bride and Mrs. Thompson, pianist. Mrs. Ecksergian with her cello was the source of much genuine pleasure for all the music lovers present, as she is not only very talented, but has evidently studied with the best teachers. Her solos by Sandby, Popper, Tschalkowsky and Rimsky-Korsakoff won the heartiest sort of applause.

"ON-TO-BOSTON"

Trip Will Be Pulled Off September 29th

There seems to be a slight misunderstanding among the Odd Fellows regarding the "On-to-Boston" trip in September, to attend the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and we wish to make these statements in an effort to make clear some facts that appear to be a little misunderstood. First, this will be a gathering worth the time and money to attend, for it will probably be a long time before this Sovereign body meets in the East again.

A special train has been engaged by the subordinate lodges of Hillsboro and Antrim for the accommodation of all Odd Fellows and their wives and lady friends; this train is expected to follow the morning train via Elmwood, and as we understand it the stopping places have not at this time been decided upon, but will doubtless be arranged satisfactorily to both lodges. The return trip will be made at such hour in the evening as matured plans may suggest. Price for round trip will be the same as regular fare to Boston and return.

As these lodges have an invitation from Bethesda Lodge of South Boston, whose members are planning to entertain all who come in a most pleasing manner, it is safe to say that everyone who takes this trip will be glad he (or she) did so. From the arrangements already made by the entertaining lodge and given to the Reporter map unofficially we know that great preparations are being made, and nothing will be left undone to ensure an occasion long to be remembered. If a little later it seems best to make public the order of entertainment these two lodges are to receive from the time they reach Boston till the minute of leaving, it will be given in these columns. It seems enough now to state that this will be an unusual opportunity and the cost will be comparatively small.

We personally know a few of the members of Bethesda Lodge and know others who are acquainted with many more, and it is the belief of all that every member of Valley and Waverley lodges who goes to Boston on this occasion will be royally entertained, and all the ladies who go will be glad they were included in the invitation and privileged to receive the generous hospitality which is sure to be ours on this most unusual occasion.

Protect Your Porch Floors

It's strange but true that some people think any old paint will do for porch floors.

But it won't! The porch floor gets much harder wear than any other surface around the home. That's why it should be protected with a paint that will stand that wear.

Lowe's Porch Floor Paint will stand up under severe conditions because it's made for that purpose. Come in and get a color card.
