Auction Sale

By W. E. Cram, Auctioneer, Antrim,

The Tenney farm, so called, located 1/2 mile from Weare Center, on the road to Clinton Grove, about 2 1/2 miles from North Weare station, 1/2 mile from post office, will be sold at public auction on Saturday, Sept. 11, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The farm contains about 100 acres, with old fashion house and shed; farm has growing timber and cord wood upon it. Good place for hen farm, for summer home, or to buy for investment. For particulars of this sale read the auction bills.

GREENFIELD FAIR

Second Exhibition a Very Successful Affair

The second annual exhibition of the Hillsboro County Fair was held last week Wednesday and Thursday and proved to be the most successful fair in every way ever held on these grounds. The weather both days was ideal and the crowds were immense, never anything like it in this section before. In addition, there were on the grounds every feature that makes the county fair attractive. From a midway with all its novelties, and a vaudeville with good actors, and plenty of music by a splendid band, to an unusually attractive list of races, it was busy times all the while. Exhibitions in the floral hall were many and much interest was taken in them, while other exhibits were equally good. The flying machine was here both days and the man in charge was a very clever individual, performing many stunts in the air that were fine and well pleasing to every one who witnessed his remarkable exhibition. The ball games both days were good ones and greatly enjoyed by every body. Antrims played in one game; report of which appears in this connection.

Those in charge of the details of the fair worked hard for its success, and it is a source of satisfaction to have their efforts so well rewarded. Everybody had a good word to say for the management and the way they conducted the show in all its details.

The Antrim baseball team played one game on Wednesday at the Hillsboro County Fair at Greenfield. Their opponents were the Pine Valley A. A., better known as the Wiltons, and as has happened before, the Wilton aggregation won by one run in a score of 6 to 5. It should be said that it was a close, fast game and the local boys made the Pine Valley lads hustle some for what they got. Antrim was scheduled to play against Hillsboro, but Hillsboro cancelled the game at a late hour, and the Klean Kuts of East Jaffrey were engaged but Wednesday morning they cancelled their engagement. By the best of luck the Wilton team was found to be available and they lost no time in getting to the grounds.

Whistlers Shut Out

The game of baseball last Saturday on Jameson grounds, between the Antrims and Manchester Whistlers, was a very one sided game, the local boys shutting out the visitors to the tune of 4 to 0.

Reopens After Vacation

Rev. George Davies will occupy his pulpit at the Methodist church on Sunday morning next, after a two weeks' vacation. In the evening he will preach at North Branch.

ON TUESDAY NEXT

Will Occur the September Biennial Primary

Before the Reporter is printed next week the Primary of September 7 will have been a thing of the past, and most of our readers will know the result. The candidates then nominated will have to prepare for the election, and generally speaking it will doubtless be one of the liveliest campaigns we have seen in years.

Of the three candidates for Governor on the Republican ticket, it will be hard to pick the best man for the job, for each one has peculiar qualifications for the position, and whichever one secures the nomination, the people of the state will have a good man to vote for. On the Democratic ticket there is no great contest and the party candidate likely to be named is a well qualified man.

In the U. S. Senatorial scramble there are good men in both parties making the tryout, and we fail to see any good and sufficient reason why a tried servant like Senator Moses should not receive the nomination of his party by a big lead. With his experience he should be sought after rather than have to seek the position. No other man—never mind his business ability—can anywhere near represent the state in Washington as can this gifted and hard working servant of the people. He is a tried and true Republican, and as within a year or two the party must enact a new tariff law, it is not safe to experiment with a new man. Let us record a large vote in Antrim for Senator Moses. And these words to the men voters of the Republican party we are also saying to the new voters among the women. You can have no better man than the present senior Senator to represent you in Washington, for he will look after your interests, now that you are voters, as no other man possibly can. He is a tireless and fearless worker and without waiting to be told knows just what moves to make. His record on every question is an open one and his interest in the Republican party and Americanism is unequalled.

Coming next to the candidate for Congress, most everyone knows that Hon. E. H. Wason is up for reelection, and his experience and hard work in years past should give him the preference over all others by a very large vote.

Next we wish to speak of the state Senatorship. Two men in this district are asking for the votes of the people. One man is a resident of Newbury and the other a resident of Concord. While we have not had a long acquaintance with either of these men we feel sure they are well qualified for the position and whichever one is nominated will be elected. This may seem a bit strange, especially as the candidate on the Democratic ticket for this office is also a candidate on the Republican ticket, and is a resident of Antrim, yet we can't help feeling that his chances are not as good as either of the other men.

The County officers should receive more than passing notice at this time. Two years ago the county went Democratic almost wholly—the first time in a long term of years—and an earnest endeavor is now being made to select men of business ability who will be a credit to the office as well as the electorate. Pick out the men you feel sure will represent you best and mark your cross against their names.

In town affairs we have to nominate a representative, moderator, and three supervisors for each party. This list is not complete on either ticket, but names can be marked in to complete the number. There are no contests for any town office, so it would appear that the names on the two tickets would be the candidates for election, and in addition there will be other candidates whose names will be written in.

It is the duty of every voter to attend the Primary and register a vote. Every woman should see to it that she is registered and then that she goes to the polls and marks her ballot. Study the qualifications of each candidate and vote as your best judgment dictates. This is an important event in the conduct of our political life and it is very essential that a large vote be cast on Tuesday, Sept. 7. Let every one see to it that he or she votes sometime during the day and if one

Don't Wait

Take Advantage of a Citizen's Experience

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; 'Till kidney troubles develop; 'Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Concord citizen's experience.

Mrs. I. A. Taylor, 37 High St., Concord, says: "I hurt my back which affected my kidneys. I had pains and a dull, steady ache just over my hips and through my kidneys. My kidneys acted very irregularly. I had known of Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time, so I used some. They surely stopped the trouble and it has been five years since I have had any occasion to take a kidney medicine."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Taylor had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SPAULDING RALLY

Had Very Little Drawing Quality in Antrim

What was announced to be a "Spaulding Rally" took place on the band stand last Thursday evening, when Rev. William Porter Niles, of Nashua, representing Mr. Spaulding, did the talking, altho' a young fellow accompanying the party worked off considerable hot air and said very little. About fifteen or eighteen men and women and no children were present; if there are a whole lot of Spaulding men and women in town they did not "rally" at this time.

At one time we heard an eminent divine say that if you can't say anything good of a man don't say anything, and a minister of the gospel of all others should be looking for the good in a man—it would seem. With this thought in mind we must say that Rev. Niles is an earnest speaker with a flow of words that keeps one listening all the time, yet at this moment while saying all he could in favor of Mr. Spaulding, which was very little, as his man has had no experience in public matters aside from being state food administrator, he laid great stress on what was only his personal opinion of a man he doesn't like a little bit.

Those few present were pleased to hear the speaker say words of praise of our late lamented and honored townsman, Ex-Gov. D. H. Goodell, also were glad to hear him say good things of another Antrim man, Hon. John B. Jameson.

But when he came to the point in his sermon (if we are privileged to so misuse the word) he could find no words mean enough to describe his disgust, his disapproval, his dislike for the senior Senator from New Hampshire. The way the thing looks to us is like this: the more of the kind of talk such as was given Antrim people at this time, the more the hearers get disgusted with the speakers, and the more votes it makes for the one they are trying to defeat.

We have no idea whatever that the thinking men and women of New Hampshire are going to retire a man of experience and ability, who has the courage of his convictions and does things as he does because he has good and sufficient reasons for doing them, and replace him by a man inexperienced in every way in state or national matters. At this time in our country's history is needed a man of Senator Moses' ability and experience—far better to have a man in the Senate to keep New Hampshire on the map as he will do it, than to have it done as someone else might do it. Just because some one man tells you to do as he says is no reason for you doing it—arrive at your decision by thinking and reasoning it out for yourself, and stick to it.

Regarding Registration

Antrim Supervisors have learned that those women on the School list already registered, do not have to appear before the Supervisors to re-register for the Primary.

or more should be found who has not exercised this privilege, do your best to see that he or she performs this sacred duty.

We have not been able to find a teacher for the East School yet. It is hoped that all parents will do the best possible to have their children attend every session of school. Attendance is one of the main features in putting our school on the approved list.

For Register of Deeds, Calvin R. Wood

Here is another instance where a man has made good and should be again restored to his former position. Mr. Wood was register of deeds for Hillsboro County ten years previous to two years ago; he was an efficient servant of the people, conducting his office in such a manner as to receive the hearty commendation of everybody who has had business with it, and will continue the high standard to which he was able to bring the office and maintain a degree of efficiency which will be greatly appreciated by all who have business with this county office. He has an announcement of his candidacy in this paper, and all voters will do well to vote for him at the primary on September 7.

"Drunk on Beef, Iron and Wine," reads a newspaper headline. Beats all, the strength there is in a patent medicine.

What a combination! Harding as President; Coolidge, Vice President; Lodge, Secretary of State; General Edwards, Chief of Staff! Can anyone think of a stronger bunch of men?

Senator Hiram W. Johnson will make a speaking tour through eastern states in behalf of the candidacy of Senator Warren Harding, and New Hampshire hopes to have an opportunity of hearing the California live wire. He says he expects to spend October in intensive work in behalf of our candidate.

In the public talk on Thursday evening last we were told a whole lot about the "White Mountain Reserve" scandal, but there were things about it that were not told. In speaking of this same thing in Meredith, Mr. Spaulding was asked concerning the investigation that was made into this matter, and here is what he admitted: The investigation never amounted to anything, that it never revealed anything tangible, anything damaging to anybody. Such talk as first mentioned only gives an opportunity for false impression.

HUNTLEY N. SPAULDING PAYS ONLY A POLL TAX IN THE GRANITE STATE

Multi-Millionaire Candidate for United States Senator Swears He Has No Taxable Property in New Hampshire

ASSESSED ON ONLY $17,000 IN BROOKLINE

Statement of Remarkable Situation by Ex-Mayor Wright of Rochester—Who Owns House Known as Huntley's?—Is He a Bona Fide Resident?

Huntley N. Spaulding of Rochester, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, reputed multi-millionaire and announced champion of New Hampshire integrity gets by without paying taxes of any description to his city or state, except a poll tax and, possibly, one on his automobile.

Incredible as this statement may seem to the average farmer wage-earner, business or professional man, thousands of whom regularly contribute their just proportion of value for payment of the expenses of their municipalities, county and state, and many of whom are financially oppressed by the burdens of necessary taxation, it is amply borne out by the statement herewith of William Wright, a lawyer of Rochester and mayor of the city in 1915, and backed by certified copies and photographic prints of the tax returns of Huntley N. Spaulding to the tax assessors of Rochester in 1919 and 1920.

Furthermore the originals of these returns are on file in the office of the assessors of Rochester where they may be examined by any interested person.

An interesting field of speculation is opened by these tax-return facts.

What Do Returns Mean?

Do they mean that Huntley N. Spaulding has no taxable property whatsoever for which he is responsible to the state that he desires to represent in the United States Senate?

Do they mean that he desires to evade the just payment of his obligations to the community?

Do they mean that he expects the farmers and wage-earners, with others, to pay the expenses of the government while he enjoys the advantages of citizenship, election to office and the emoluments thereof without paying one cent except a poll tax?

Do they mean that the "Huntley Spaulding house" in Rochester is owned by the corporation and that its cost is deducted from "excess profits," a situation which would put 80 per cent of the construction expense on the national government and free Huntley Spaulding of the payment of such an amount?

Do they mean that Huntley Spaulding is a non-resident or that he is a tax-dodger?

Do they mean that Huntley Spaulding pays only a poll tax in New Hampshire for the sake of running for office?

Do they mean that he has no bank account anywhere for the conduct of his personal business?

Bear in mind that no man is exempt from just taxation because he owns stock in one or more corporations.

These and dozens of other questions may arise on consideration of the matter but read the carefully prepared and correct statement of ex-Mayor Wright and judge for yourself. It follows:

house in North Rochester, while he and his family have had an actual residence for a number of years at the address in Brookline.

In the year 1919 it appears that he paid a personal property tax in Brookline of $32.50; this year he is taxed upon a house with a valuation of $12,000 at 1518 Beacon Street and $5,000 personal property.

In New Hampshire, he, with the exception of a poll tax, evidently pays none whatever. In an inventory sworn to by him on the 24th day of April, 1919, before Herbert F. Finegan, Justice of the Peace, he charges himself only with a poll tax and one automobile. In 1920 in an inventory sworn to by him before the same Justice he charges himself with a poll tax only, there being no record in the assessors' office in the city of Rochester. According to these sworn statements Mr. Spaulding as late as April 15, 1920, possessed no real estate in Rochester, no stock in national banks in this state, no money on hand or on deposit, no money at interest, or no money in a checking account in any bank. If Mr. Spaulding is an actual resident of Rochester it seems incredible he should, at least, not have a checking account.

Who Owns House and Land.

About a year ago a local paper published the statement that Huntley N. Spaulding and his brother Rolland had each bought real estate on Wakefield Street in this city, and later it further announced that Huntley Spaulding had begun the erection of a costly residence and that Rolland Spaulding would soon follow suit. Work on the so-called Huntley Spaulding house has been going on and the building is almost or just completed at the present writing, although nothing has been done upon the lot supposed to be Rolland's.

The assessors of this city, when they received Huntley Spaulding's sworn inventory return this spring, were surprised that he had not included his partly finished house and they promptly taxed it to him at a valuation of thirty thousand dollars. The collector sent him a bill for this and at the same time sent a bill to Rolland and the tax bill for J. Spaulding & Sons Company. Soon after he received a check for the total of the three tax bills from J. Spaulding and Sons Company, drawn on the Rochester Trust Company and signed by Rolland Spaulding.

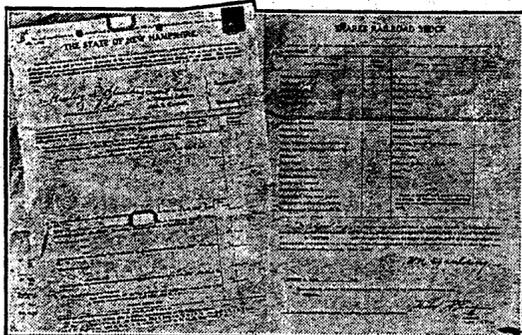

The Registry of Deeds in this county shows no property conveyed to Huntley N. Spaulding in 1919, 1920 or to July, 1920. The interesting question arises, who owns the house which has been called his, and, if he were an actual citizen of New Hampshire, would he not be likely to own his own home? And would not the above negative his intention of making Rochester his real home up to July, 1920?

Of course it may be that the house belongs to J. Spaulding & Sons Company and they properly paid the tax on it. But if this is so and the house is intended for Huntley Spaulding is it not just a subterfuge laid, whereby the Government is not receiving its proper percentage of the profits of the concern, as it would if Huntley had taken his profits from the company and had built the house himself?

The above is evidence that Huntley N. Spaulding on the first day of April last was a resident of Brookline, Mass., where his real home is, and where he lives with his wife and family, and that up to July of this year he has done nothing to establish his residence in Rochester.

Ex-Mayor Wright's Statement.

To the Editor: Before the Republicans of New Hampshire cast their ballots in the coming primary is it not well to be sure that they are casting them for one who is a bona fide resident of New Hampshire and who could not be denied admission to the United States Senate, if elected, on the ground that he is a resident and citizen of Massachusetts?

Because of the following information this question is now raised: The latest Boston Directory records Huntley N. Spaulding as having a home at Brookline, Massachusetts, where his address is 1580 Beacon Street. At the same time, he claims that for nearly twenty years he has been a citizen of New Hampshire with a residence in his brother's

GEORGE C. ROGERS

Well Known Resident of The Town
For Many Years

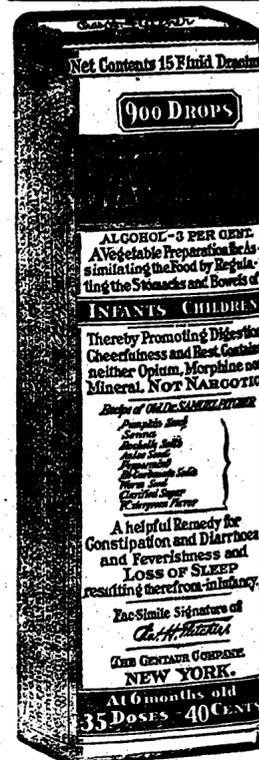

The announcement of the death of a resident of this village, George C. Rogers, after a brief illness, was somewhat of a surprise to our people; he died on Saturday.

Mr. Rogers was born at Danvers, Mass., February 29, 1860. When a young man he came to this town, and lived for many years on the Rogers farm, west of Gregg lake, now owned by George Price; later moved to Greenfield on to the old Rogers homestead. When he sold there he returned to Antrim, purchased the Chas. Whitney place and resided there for a time, and later about two years ago purchased the Murray Lawrence farm where he resided until his last sickness, about three weeks ago.

He was taken by his brother to the latter's home in East Dedham, Mass., where he was tenderly cared for till the end, the cause of death being a complication of diseases. Deceased was a man of quiet disposition, and had many friends, who will miss him, as he was always willing and ready to help in any way his health would permit.

Besides a brother, Jas. S. Rogers, he leaves other more distant relatives to mourn the loss.

The remains were brought to Antrim on Monday and the final services held and interment made.

August 28 was an ideal day for the North Branch Old School reunion, which was held at the chapel and grounds of W. K. Flint. The forenoon was quickly passed in the greeting of old friends and old home visits. The guests were also invited to the Flint place, where they were personally conducted over the grounds and home by Mr. Flint. All were unanimous in exclaiming over the beauty of the grounds, especially the flowers. One person remarked that when things begin to go wrong and look blue all he would have to do would be to close his eyes and see the beautiful flowers at Mr. Flint's grounds and the troubles would be forgotten.

At noon the Ladies' Circle announced dinner and the tables were quickly filled, covers being laid for 78. Afterward the table on the platform was again filled. After the noon hour they adjourned to the lawn in front of the chapel, where an organization was formed, with Timothy Herrick, of Staatsburg, N. Y., as president; vice presidents, Mrs. Charlotte Harvey, of Antrim, Mrs. Eva Sawyer Fearing, of Dorchester, and Henry Swain, of Antrim; with Mrs. Bell M. Wheeler, of Antrim, as Secretary and Treasurer. Remarks were made by Dr. Sawyer, Henry Swain, Walter Bryer, Fred
