Don't Live Another Winter in a
"Refrigerator"

A Round Oak Pipeless Furnace will keep your house as warm as a fire for a generation of winters. Only one register to cut in the floor—only one fire to tend—only one day's work to install. Burns any kind of fuel.

ROUND OAK PIPELESS FURNACE

But you had better look into it at once, though winter seems months away. The demand exceeds the supply of these quality furnaces and they are hard to get. The few we have left will be gone in a short while—hurry see us at once, don't you think?

ELECTION NOV. 2

League of Nations Seems the One Issue

After our people have had an opportunity of listening to the different speakers on opposite sides of the question, it is presumptuous on our part to say very much concerning the League of Nations. In every campaign it is necessary to have at least one issue, and this seems to be the all important plank in the platform to get in upon at this time. We have been told that in the Republican Campaign Text Book for 1920 there is nothing on this point to satisfy the voter; and at once one wonders what is wanted, when in looking over this book we find plenty of material on this question to satisfy the Republican voter—of course it is difficult to find much Democratic material there if that is what is desired. True it is that the "Wilson League of Nations" is different from an "Association of Nations to promote the peace and security of the world," which the Republicans favor. There really seems no reason for any Republican—male or female—to leave their party on this issue, for the party will surely have things well cared for along this line; they belong to a party that is American, and it is American to do as they suggest.

It is possible to say a great deal concerning this matter and we might publish many extracts from addresses of prominent men favoring the Republican "Association of Nations" and what it means, but it seems sufficient to state that the Republican party when it gets into power will attend to this satisfactorily.

The main thing, or one of the main things that must be done by a Republican administration, is the enactment of tariff legislation; this is very likely much more important than the League, and we hear very little concerning this. It seems to be overshadowed by the League just at this time and it may be for a purpose. Nevertheless it must and will come to the surface sooner or later. Then there are other important questions that this country must face and when the time comes they will be handled in a manner that will be a credit to ourselves and the men at the head of our nation.

The way we look at it is that it is not absolutely necessary to have the Wilson League of Nations in order to have an understanding or an agreement with the other nations of the world. Perhaps something else may be just as good; anyway we are just as well off by taking the chance.

George Stevens Dies Suddenly

For a number of years George Stevens has lived alone in the Cochrane block, also known as the market block, on Main street. He has not in late years been able to work much, yet has not been considered a sick man, but out of health as would be the case with a veteran along in years; he also was supposed to have a weak heart. On Monday he was missed upon the street where he was a constant visitor, and upon neighbors going to his room about 4.30 in the afternoon, he was found lying on his bed cold in death. It seems probable that in the morning he had arisen around six o'clock and dressed and before putting on his coat thought he would lie down again on the bed—maybe had a dizzy spell—and from all appearances he fell asleep and died without the movement of a single muscle. His age is probably around 75 years.

Mr. Stevens has a brother living in Nelson, a sister living in Manchester, and other more distant relatives.

Funeral services are held today at the Presbyterian vestry, Dr. Cameron officiating. Remains were taken to Stoddard for interment.

Native of Antrim

Mrs. Mary E. (Hadley), wife of John B. Dodwell, Fitchburg, Mass., aged 75 years, died Saturday evening last at Burbank hospital. She was born in Antrim, daughter of John and Nancy Hadley, and had lived in Fitchburg many years. Funeral was held from Sawyer chapel Tuesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

The next meeting of the Woman's Club has been postponed to Nov. 8, the regular day being election day.

POLITICAL RALLIES

Both Big Parties Heard in Antrim Town Hall

REPUBLICAN RALLY

The Reporter man has been told by those who have lived here all their lives that never to their knowledge has Antrim had the opportunity of listening to such fine speakers during a political campaign as were brought here on Thursday evening last. And most likely these statements are true, for there are few men indeed on the platform who are peers of Senator George H. Moses, of Concord, and Congressman Frederick H. Gillett, of Springfield, Mass., the former one of the leading Senators in the United States, and the latter a man of long experience as a Congressman, and who is now the present speaker of the National House of Representatives. Hon. John J. Donahue, of Manchester, Insurance Commissioner, also spoke, and his remarks were received with repeated applause. Many thought what he said was very apt and suited the occasion admirably.

A crowded house greeted these gentlemen on this occasion and their arguments were clear and convincing. Senator Moses paid his respects to the League of Nations and there is probably no other man who knows more about this matter together with the Covenant, than the senior Senator, from New Hampshire, who has made a special study of it. Our people were indeed fortunate to have the opportunity of listening to a man so well versed on this all important matter, as it has so become at this time—being practically the only issue. It may be, however, that the Administration is anxious that this one thing be made paramount to overshadow other matters that might be brought more to the surface. The Senator was interesting in his description and explanation and illustrated his talk with incidents of his own that seemed to place the facts in the minds of his hearers in such a way as to stay with them.

Congressman Gillett dealt more specifically with the Administration and its wastefulness; also paid his respects to the ones who are in charge of affairs and who are responsible for their management. What he said came from one who knew and his hearers appeared to so understand it. His experience covers a long term of years and very few are in a position to know whereof he speaks as he is. He told of knowing very intimately both candidates for President and said the Republican candidate, Senator Warren G. Harding, is the one safe man among a great many capable of being at the head of these United States. His address was particularly well received and all his hearers were glad to listen attentively to so able a legislator from our sister state of Massachusetts.

Music was furnished during the evening by Wabnetah orchestra, of Hillsboro.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS RALLY

This of course was a regular Democratic Rally, and while some have been told that this is not a political question, we can't agree with them for the leaders of the party say it is. Our people are open minded and desire to hear all sides; they can then safely be let alone to do just as they think is for the best interests of all concerned.

Some hundred and fifty and possibly a few more gathered at the town hall on Monday evening to listen to arguments in favor of the League of Nations—of course from a Democratic standpoint. The first speaker was I. G. Antoine, M. D., of Nashua, a number of years ago a physician in Antrim, and known to a large number of our people. He did not have much to say, only that he favored the League.

The second speaker was Mrs. James W. Remick, of Concord, who has been heard here before at the meetings of the Antrim Woman's Club, and was listened to with interest. She is an easy speaker, quite convincing in her talk, and gives one the impression that she is unusually sincere in her statements. Her address was not long and tiresome and was well received by all who heard it.

The principal address of the evening, judging from the length of time occupied, was given by Judge James W. Remick, of Concord. He took up

Americanism

By LEONARD WOOD

I was born an American; I will live an American; I will die an American.—Daniel Webster: Speech July 17, 1850.

HERE is as intensive a pronouncement of Americanism as ever was made. It is a tingling thing.

Webster made this speech when he was well advanced in life. He had lived long enough to know how good a thing it is to be born an American; how good a thing it is to live an American, and how good a thing it is to die an American. He had tested the life and found it good.

If the men of all countries felt toward their own lands as Webster felt toward America there would be no emigration to the United States unless it were forced by the overpopulation of the other countries of the world. The setting of the tide of emigration westward proved that men of other lands looked on the blessing of life in this country as the great statesman-organizer looked upon it. The immigrant was denied the privilege of American birth, but he was not to be denied the right of American living and ultimately the right of American dying.

One of the hardest things for men to understand today is why there should be so strong a need for the Americanization of the immigrant. The presumption always has been that the man who wants to come to this country should know enough about its institutions, its opportunities and its duties to make at least one kind of Americanization unnecessary. The people of this country, however, are confronted with the forbidding fact that a considerable number of our immigrants need to be taught not only the customs of America but the spirit of things among us, those things which alone can make real Americanism possible.

The conclusion is inevitable that a few foreigners come to this country, not for the purpose of helping to keep America what it is, but to unmake our institutions. Immigrants of this type find here some native born Americans who sympathize with their destructive intentions and give them covert, and not always covert, aid in their attempts to undermine the American edifice.

ANTRIM YOUNG MEN

Buy Job Printing and Newspaper Plant

H. Burr Eldredge and Cranston D. Eldredge are at the head of a corporation which has purchased the printing plant of the Winchendon, Mass., Courier, and will take possession the first of November. These young men are known to everyone in Antrim as sons of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Eldredge, have the printer's trade down to a nicety and know much about the newspaper end of the game, having been brought up in the business from their youth, and until they volunteered and entered the service in July, 1917, had always worked in the office of the Antrim Reporter, their father's paper.

Since their honorable discharge from the service in December, 1918, they have each had employment in larger printing offices, Burr leaving a position as assistant editor of the North Shore Breeze, at Manchester, Mass., and Cranston leaving a position as foreman of the Dartmouth Press, at Hanover, this state, to take up their new duties.

Winchendon is a town of 6000 inhabitants, known the world over as the toy town, and has other large manufacturing interests. Its newspaper, The Courier, is a long established institution with a growing circulation, and the job printing department employs a number of hands and has a well appointed office to meet the demands of the town. The business was established 62 years ago and the newspaper has been a flourishing dispenser of news for 43 years.

The corporation has received its charter from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and is legally known as The Courier Press, Inc.

The many friends of these young men wish them all kinds of success in their new undertaking and will be interested to know from time to time of their progress in their chosen profession.

The regular monthly supper of the Methodist Ladies' aid society will be held on Wednesday next, Nov. 3, at their church vestry.

Auction Sales

By W. E. Cram, Auctioneer, Antrim

Walter M. Wood, being about to go out of the farming business, will sell at his residence 1 1/2 miles from Greenfield village on the South Francoestown road, on Saturday, October 30, at one o'clock in the afternoon, a lot of carriages, wagons, sleighs, sleds, harnesses, farming implements, etc. All of these goods are in nice condition and many of the articles have never been used or used very little. For further particulars read posters.

By virtue of license from Judge of Probate for Hillsboro County, Chas. S. Abbott, administrator of the estate of the late George C. Rogers, will sell at public auction, on the premises, on Thursday, November 4, at one o'clock in the afternoon, the Anson Swett residence so called, and a lot of household goods. This real estate is centrally located, in good condition, and will be a good buy for a home or as an investment. For particulars read auction bills.

Miner-Curtis

The Presbyterian Manse was the scene of a quiet wedding Thursday evening, October 21st, when Robert A. Miner, son of Mrs. Grace E. Miner, and Miss Erla D. Curtis, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Josiah P. Curtis, of Bennington, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by the Rev. J. D. Cameron, D.D. The double ring service was used. The couple

That Morning Lameness

If you are lame every morning and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on this testimony.

Frank E. Currier, Machinist, 128 S. Main St., Franklin, N. H., gave the following statement on September 7, 1908: "I had backaches all the time and the trouble was caused by too much stooping while at work. Mornings my back was so lame and sore I could hardly get out of bed. When I tried to lift anything, sharp pains seized me and I could hardly straighten up. Nothing seemed to do me any good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes removed all the backache, lameness and soreness. My kidneys now act regularly and give me no more annoyance."

RELIES ON DOAN'S

Over seven years later Mr. Currier said: "I can heartily back up my past recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills. I use them occasionally as a preventive."

was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Penniman, of Athol, Mass. The best wishes of a host of friends are herewith extended to the happy couple.

Don't Be Fooled By Skillful Evasion of the Real Issue

The League of Nations is the issue and it has been endorsed on its merits by the following denominations:

- Presbyterian Church in its General Assembly at Philadelphia.
- Methodist Church in its last annual conference at Des Moines.
- Baptist Church in its National Association at Washington.
- Protestant Episcopal Church in its Triennial General Convention at Detroit.
- Congregational Church in its National Council at Grand Rapids.
- Unitarian Church in its General Conference at Baltimore.
- Catholic Church in the latest encyclical of Pope Benedict as follows:

"Once the League of Nations is founded on the Christian law in all that regards justice and charity, the Church will surely not refuse its valid aid. A special reason for forming this society among the nations is the need, generally recognized, of reducing, if it is not possible to abolish it entirely, the enormous military expenditure which can no longer be borne by the states, in order that in this way murderous and disastrous wars may be prevented."

The Democratic candidate for President, Governor Cox, and the Democratic candidate for Senator, Raymond B. Stevens, favor the League of Nations.

Their Republican opponents, Mr. Harding and Mr. Moses, oppose the League.

George Bildeith and family were in Ashburnham Sunday.

The Bigelows have returned to their home in Winchester, Mass.

Lincoln Hutchinson spent last week with relatives near Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Black were in Boston the first of the week.

Philip Butterfield was at home from his work in Concord over Sunday.

Henry Hutchinson is still confined to the house, but his knee is somewhat better.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Paige, from Peterboro, visited at Mort. Paige's Saturday.

The Ladies Aid Society meets Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Annie Butterfield.

Mrs. George Sawyer entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Seaver, from Marlboro Saturday.

Mrs. Nancy Harlow has returned to her home and another trained nurse has come to care for Mrs. Martha Sawyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waite and daughter, Barbara, from Peterboro, were guests the first of the week at G. H. Hutchinson's.

William Drury and family, from Medford, Mass., were guests of Mrs. Drury's parents, Mr. and Frank Black, over the week-end.

Mrs. Clara Loveren, from Hillsboro, visited Sunday with George Loveren, who with his daughter, Eunice, is keeping house in Andy Cuddy's tenement.

Paul Prentiss has returned to his work in New York, having been called here by the illness of his grandmother, Mrs. Martha Sawyer. He expects to return the last of this week.

Twenty-eight members of Antrim Grange went to Greenfield last night to visit the Grange there, and furnished the evening's entertainment. An oyster supper was served them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rawlings and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker and son, and Mrs. F. O. Little, all from Medford Hills, Mass., were week end guests at George Sawyer's. Mr. Baker went on to Hillsboro and spent Sunday with his father.

HEMPHILL EXPLAINS ORGANIZATION OF NEAR EAST RELIEF

Prominent New York Banker Says Aim Is 100% Relief of Starving Peoples.

"Just what is the Near East Relief? Is the question that many people are asking whose interests have been awakened to the terrible conditions existing in the Levant today," says Alexander J. Hemphill, President of the Guarantee Trust Company and well known New York banker and financier. "In prosaic facts, the Near East Relief is a body incorporated by act of Congress the object of which is to provide relief and to assist in the repatriation, rehabilitation and re-establishment of suffering and dependent people of the Near East and adjacent areas; to provide for the care of orphans and widows and to promote the social, economic and industrial well-fare of those who have been rendered destitute or dependent, directly or indirectly, by the vicissitudes of war, the cruelties of men or other causes beyond their control."

100 Per Cent Relief.

"The aim of the organization is 100 per cent relief, the relief which puts those aided on a self-supporting basis, which instills in them a confidence for the future, places in their hands the means with which to begin life anew, and in their hearts the courage to go on. Work, that is the prescription subscribed and provided by those loyal men and women who have journeyed into perilous places for the sake of their fellow men; to make these people independent for the future, to encourage the flickering fire of national pride.

"There are 82,291 workers employed in the industrial establishments of the Near East Relief, where wool is furnished for the women to spin and weave, and all the girls who are strong enough are washing wool, sewing beds, grinding and sifting wheat, tailoring and learning to make lace. The big problem is to make these women independent.

"About 500 American men and women Near East Relief workers, are now in the field, including 38 eminent physicians and surgeons, 76 nurses, 7 mechanics, 15 industrial experts, 16 agriculturists, 14 bacteriologists, 197 relief workers, 25 supply and transport workers, 19 teachers, 20 administrators, 34 secretaries, 7 engineers and 45 army officers.

Where Money Goes.

"Funds for relief purposes are distributed in two ways: First, the various relief centers are authorized by the Executive Committee to draw sight drafts on New York for specific amounts each month; second, by supplies purchased in America, the major portion of which are shipped to the committee warehouses at Derindje, and the remainder either to Beyrout or Batoum.

"The relief is rapidly expanding and meeting the situation, but the future depends on the continuation of American support."

According to Mr. Hemphill, the need for American help to see the destitute peoples of the Near East through the crisis of present conditions is greater now than ever before on account of the uncertainty as to the future, the truculence of the Turkish government and the danger of bolshevism from Russia, which threatens to engulf the whole of Armenia.

Who Direct the Work.

Mr. Hemphill is the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Near East Relief. Other members are Dr. James L. Barton, Secretary of the Foreign Department of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; Edwin M. Bulkeley, banker, of Spencer Trask & Co., New York; Judge Abram I. Elkus, former United States Ambassador to Turkey; Harold A. Hatch, a well known New York cotton man; Herbert Hoover; William B. Miller, one of the Secretaries of the Interchurch World Movement; Henry Morgenthau, United States Ambassador to Mexico; Edgar Rickard of the American Relief Administration; Charles Y. Vickrey, who is Secretary of the Near East Relief; and Dr. Stanley White, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

GOV'T OPERATION OUT OF POLITICS

Party Leaders Convinced by Results of National Canvass of Editors.

VINDICATES FORMER POLL.

Overwhelming Veto Like That of Year Before From Both Sides of Political Fence.

Washington.—Inner circles of both political parties here are greatly interested in the results of a national poll on the question of government operation among over 5,000 newspaper editors throughout the country. With 86 per cent of these editors, regardless of political faith, giving it as their impartial opinion that the public is more than ever opposed to the government going into business in competition with its citizens, observers here see little chance that either political party will find it a profitable campaign issue.

In the opinion of party leaders this sort of a canvass among newspaper editors is the best possible index of public opinion. They recall a similar questionnaire sent out a year ago in connection with the proposition that the government take over the railroads permanently. Replies at that time from approximately the same number of editors showed 83 per cent against the principle of government operation. They recall also that within ten days from publication of the result of the former questionnaire the sentiment for return of the railroads to their owners had definitely crystallized.

Comparison of present results in detail with those of a year ago convinces the political student not only that these editors have been accurate in their judgment, but that party considerations played no part in forming it. From Democratic and supposedly radical Texas, for example, the present questionnaire brought replies from editors of 244 papers, only three of which are Republican. Yet the percentage against government operation was 82, which is exactly the same as that given by 200 editors from Republican Michigan, among whom were representatives of only three Democratic papers. Other states that pair percentages significantly are Massachusetts and Nevada, with 100; Connecticut and South Carolina, with 97; Maine and West Virginia, with 95; Kentucky and New York, with 91; Missouri and Pennsylvania, with 89; Ohio and Oklahoma, with 87.

The result of the present poll as to government operation in each state are graphically shown by the following chart:

that go down through generations

WE are frankly proud of this store's reputation as Headquarters for time-pieces. We have literally timed the community. Our watches are ticking merrily away in homes everywhere. And what is more important still, these watches have kept correct time. They have been something more than looks.

It is just as well to keep in mind that the purchase of a watch should be made with the greatest possible care. Watches are bought, not for one-time use but for many. A time-piece should be handed down from one generation to another—from father to son—indivisible. And a good watch will give this service uncompromisingly. We have in stock all standard makes and all in all types and designs, from the highly specialized railroad time-piece to the beautiful mechanism of the wrist watch for my lady of fashion.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE NEWS

The shoe factory of W. M. McElwain Co. Nashua, employing several hundred persons, has been closed. It was announced that the shutdown would last nine days.

The Graduates of Tilden Seminary have erected a stone memorial and bronze tablet on the old seminary grounds at West Lebanon which was unveiled last week. William Dana Olcott of Boston delivered the address.

Thomas Caswell was sentenced to 60 days in jail by Judge Nason in the Municipal Court, Dover, for assaulting patrolman Harris McGone, after the latter had arrested him on complaint of some young women, who alleged that Caswell had insulted them.

Moses Libby, 96, died at the home of his son, Dr. Henry F. Libby, Wolfeboro, a retired dentist. Death was caused by physical exhaustion. Until his last illness, Mr. Libby had never been ill a day in his life and he prided himself on the fact that his doctor's bills had not exceeded $5.

In Municipal Court, Nashua, Mrs. Mary Bilkatis and Joseph Melos were each fined $25 and costs with 30 days in jail, jail sentence suspended, on charges of keeping intoxicating liquor for sale. In each place a large amount of "Jakey" was found. Mrs. Bilkatis' husband, Adam, is now serving a jail sentence for second offense on the same charge.

Rev. Arthur M. Dunstan, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church at Tilton and St. Jude's Church in Franklin, announces his connection with the churches will terminate Oct. 31. He will continue to conduct Sunday services until his successor has been elected. Rev. Mr. Dunstan has accepted the newly created office of executive secretary of the diocese of New Hampshire.

Dr. Adrian H. Hoyt, a physician and manufacturer of Concord, who died at his home in the Penacook district of the city, aged 59, was the owner of the Hoyt Electrical Instrument Works and an inventor of note, having perfected a device for measuring electrical current and a timing device for deep sea bombs which was used with success in fighting German submarines. Dr. Hoyt was a native of Magog, Province of Quebec, and a graduate of Dartmouth college.

Muskrats Prove Costly To Trapper Samuel Marston of North Hampton, a trapper, trapping out-of-season, was fined $70 and costs amounting to $75.20 for catching muskrats. He had twelve rats in his possession and was fined $5 each with a fine of $10 added.

M. Maurice Casnave, French high commissioner to the United States, has presented to Dartmouth College, on behalf of the French government, one of the 75-millimeter guns which played a prominent part in winning the world war.

Measures to Eradicate Disease in Cattle To Be Tried Out

Dr. E. A. Crossman, of Boston, in charge of cattle tuberculosis eradication in New England, conferred with Secretary of Agriculture Andrew J. Felker, at the state house, in the interest of taking up co-operative measures against tuberculosis in this state.

The Sulloway mills, Franklin, shut down on account of lack of orders and between 500 and 700 employees are idle.

The 46th annual convention of the New Hampshire Woman's Christian Temperance union, was held the Merrimack street Baptist church, Manchester, last week.

The 67th annual meeting of the New Hampshire State Teachers association was held in the Colonial theatre, Laconia, last week.

Came From Many States

Close examination of the statistics of freshmen classes for the past few years at Dartmouth college shows a marked decline in the number and in the percent of New Hampshire boys in the entering classes. Although the percentage figures run in waves, it is plain that Dartmouth is drawing its men more and more from outside the state and now has representatives from 32 different states and countries included in its enrollment.

Col. Natl Shackford, one of the best known veterans of the Civil War, in the state, died at his home, The Weirs, at the advanced age of 94 years. While the colonel has been in failing health for the past year, he has daily visited his office in the New Hampshire Veterans Headquarters building, where he has served for 43 years as secretary.

Textile Workers Urge Irish Independence

At a session of the 20th annual national convention of the United Textile Workers of America, held in Manchester, the delegates adopted resolutions favoring self-determination for Ireland and other small nations in accordance with the declaration of the league of nations, and demanding a universal 48 hour week for textile workers in the United States.

DAIRY MAKERS BAND TOGETHER

Form Organization to Secure for Themselves all Rights and Privileges of Law.

New Hampshire cider-makers met in Manchester and formed an organization to protect their interests from what they regard as unjust discrimination on the part of G. H. Whitcomb and Jonathan S. Lewis in the interpretation placed by these officials of prohibition enforcement of the federal law relating to the manufacture and sale of cider for beverage purposes.

Frederick W. Branch, of Manchester, appeared as counsel for the cider-makers.

There is no federal limitation on the amount of cider that mill owners may manufacture and sell, but it should be remembered that it is illegal to possess cider containing more than one-half of 1 per cent for beverage purposes, although a reasonable amount may be possessed from conversion into vinegar for home use.

In operating their mills the mill owners should be governed by the spirit of the law and should authorities to see that the law is not violated, as the object of all the regulation is to keep hard cider not only out of the market, but also out of the home.

The following officers were placed in nomination by a committee consisting of A. L. Curtis of Wilton; G. F. Young of Reed's Ferry and I. F. Bragg of Alstead, and unanimously elected.

President, Bryant J. Streeter, Hillsdale; vice president, Harold M. Richardson, Derry; secretary-treasurer, William Wells, Goffstown; executive committee, the foregoing officers; A. L. Curtis of Wilton, E. B. Celli, Newport; J. E. Handley, Claremont; and Jay E. Emery, Franklin.

State Dairymen Meet.

Prominent men connected with the agricultural colleges in New England speaking before the Granite State Dairymen's association in Concord gave the members in attendance much valuable information as to what could be done to further the dairy interests of New Hampshire by improvement through test work, feeding and marketing.

Before the meetings have been held in co-operation with the department of agriculture. This year the management desired to act independently and hold a one-day meeting instead of two, as has been the custom in the past. The exhibit of butter, cheese, milk and cream attracted much attention.

The officers elected were; Roy D. Munter of West Claremont, president; N. H. Sawyer of Atkinson, first vice president; George A. Hill of Concord, second vice president; J. M. Fuller of Durham, secretary; J. M. Putnam of Contoocook, treasurer; G. L. Waugh of Durham, superintendent of exhibits.

The county cup for the eight highest scoring samples of market milk and four highest of dairy butter was won by Sullivan county for the third time and now becomes the permanent property of the Sullivan county farm bureau.

Interstate Poultry Field Day.

A Poultry Day given in the interest of the Egg Laying Contests at Essex County Agricultural School, Hathorne, Mass., with the Poultry Department of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture, Durham, co-operating, will be held on October 30th from ten to four o'clock at Applecrest Farm, Hampton Falls, N. H., with Professors John S. Carver and F. L. Haanaford of Essex County Agricultural School, and Professor A. W. Richardson of Appreciated Farm is one of the largest and most successful commercial poultry plants in New England. The housing of the birds and venting of the pens is something that all poultrymen should see and the method of raising chicks is as near up-to-date as present scientific methods can make it.

Indict Two For Death in Automobile Two indictments for manslaughter in the second degree were returned by the Rockingham county superior court grand jury, at Portsmouth, Edward Arundel of Lawrence, Mass., was indicted for the killing of Edward Dwyer, also of Lawrence, at Westbrook in the early morning of Sept. 10.

This was in the so-called "Salisbury sweepstakes" race to Portsmouth, and the driver of the other machine, Donald McDougall, of Haverhill, was indicted for operating an automobile at a rate of speed.

EAST ANTRIM

NATIVE OF ANTRIM

Mrs. Mary Coombs, who was reported as critically ill last week, died at her home on Thursday, October 21. She had been in poor health for some time, but not until a few weeks ago did her friends think it was of a serious nature. She was a native of Antrim, being born on the farm now owned by Otto Bader; was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyford, and born in 1857. In 1874 she married Chas. Coombs; two sons were born to them, Warren, who survives, and Perley, who died several years ago. Everything possible was done for her comfort. The sympathy of all goes out to the son, who has always been with her; also to the only sister who resides in Milford. Funeral was held from her late home on Saturday, at 2 p.m., Rev. George Davies, of the Methodist church, officiating. The bearers were: W. H. Smith, of Hillsboro. Will Signonds, M. S. French and G. F. Trask. The many flowers bore testimony of the esteem in which deceased was held. Several nephews and nieces also survive her. Interment was in Maplewood cemetery.

Mrs. A. L. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and three children, of Warner, were calling on relatives in this place last week.

The Tuttle and Trask families recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Hubley, in New Boston, former residents of this neighborhood.

Mrs. E. G. Rokes was a Nashua visitor one day last week.

Clarence Wiley, a former resident, was calling on old friends here recently. Clarence is looking fine.

Ancient Chinese Art.

Attention has been called to a notable addition to the treasures of the British museum, in the shape of a colossal Chinese figure in wood. It is sculptured from cleverly jointed blocks, and represents a figure, in a sitting posture, five feet, eight inches in height. It is the first specimen of its kind to be added to the national collections in Great Britain; the date is thought to be from 1126 to 1270 A. D. It is to be hoped that the interest aroused will lead to further study of this branch of art. It is pointed out by a writer in the Burlington Magazine of Art that, in Cleveland, O., a competent scholar in connection with the museum is sent to China to study the art and collect suitable art treasures on its behalf.

Cultivating Edible Bamboo.

The Japanese edible bamboo has been successfully introduced into the southern portion of the United States by the department of agriculture. Several plantations are now established in Georgia and Louisiana. Popularization of the bamboo will furnish large home-grown supplies of this useful timber required by our manufacturing industries. The giant grass grows a foot a day, and its 50-foot stalk is well adapted for making frames, furniture, ladders, trellises and barrel hoops. The new sprout is a delicious vegetable and resembles asparagus in flavor and in the manner of its preparation. There is an increasing demand in America for the bamboo timber, and also for the edible bamboo shoot.

The Assistant Attorney General Explains the Proposed Amendment to the Constitution Relating to Inheritance Taxes

The following statement was given out today by the assistant attorney general for the information of the voters at the November election explaining the purpose of the proposed amendment to the constitution relating to inheritance taxes.

"Second on the list of questions concerning the amendment of the constitution which will be voted upon at the November election is one relating to the inheritance tax, as follows:

Do you approve of providing in terms that taxes on property when passing by will or inheritance may be classified, graduated and progressive, and with reasonable exemptions?

In one or more articles which have appeared in the public press the statement has been made that legacy taxes are not now constitutional and that the purpose of this proposed amendment is to make them so. This statement is incorrect and it seems to me important that the exact purpose of the amendment should be explained.

The Constitutional Convention held in 1903 proposed an amendment, which was afterwards adopted by the people, specifically authorizing inheritance taxes. An act was passed in 1905 imposing a tax upon collateral legacies and successions which, although it was limited to collaterals and strangers and exempted all other persons, was sustained by the Supreme Court.

Inheritance taxes have for the last fifteen years been an established means of raising revenue to meet public charges, the annual revenue for the last few years being nearly $200,000.

At the session of 1919 an act was passed extending the inheritance tax to direct heirs, and this law is relied upon to produce in the near future an annual income of from $400,000 to $600,000. The present law imposes a tax of one percent upon legacies not exceeding $25,000 to the direct heirs and including also the husband and wife. It provides for a progressive rate upon large legacies, applying to the excess above $25,000. It also grants an exemption of $10,000 to widows, husbands and minor children.

It has been suggested that there may be some question of the constitutionality of the $10,000 exemption to widows and minor children and also of the provisions whereby a lower rate is imposed upon small legacies than that which is imposed upon the excess above $25,000.

The purpose, and the only purpose of the amendment to the constitution which is now proposed, is to make sure of the right of the legislature to impose this lower rate on small legacies and to protect widows and orphans by a cash exemption.

The necessity of such an exemption in the levy of inheritance taxes is recognized in every state in which such laws are in force and is so obvious that no argument is needed in support of it.

Every voter who believes that this protection should be given to widows and orphans and that progressive rates should be permissible should vote 'yes' on this amendment.

some time explaining that he had always been a Republican, and why now he finds himself in the Democratic ranks,—all because he must work and vote for the Wilson League of Nations. Many of those present probably did not care particularly to hear so much about past history as to learn about the League of Nations. Considerable was said regarding the League, how it happened that it is in this country, what it is not like and why, and a whole lot of generalizing concerning the same, but what it really is and what effect it will have on our country and her people, was not made real clear to those present. All of which goes to show that perhaps there are others besides people in the country who do not know all about the workings of the League—especially before it is tried out. It is safe to predict that as a result very few votes were changed and the people of Antrim were not much wiser concerning this issue which is in the forefront of the present campaign.
