ANNUAL MEETINGS HELD

The School District and Town Transact Necessary Yearly Business

In preparing a report of the Annual Town Meeting it is sometimes customary to tell what the weather was or some other thing that really has nothing whatever to do with the case, by way of introduction. We think, however, that it is enough to say that it was a real April-day—warm, foggy and damp—much unlike the usual Town Meeting day in New Hampshire, for it will be remembered that one year ago the roads were blocked with snow so that men from the east part of the town came to Town Meeting on snow shoes.

SCHOOL MEETING

The annual School Meeting was held on Monday afternoon, at Town Hall, the business of the district starting off at about quarter past two o'clock.

Prayer was offered by Rev. George Davies.

D. W. Cooley, Moderator, read the warrant and business under same was begun at once.

1—To choose a Moderator for the ensuing year.
Under this article—Dennis W. Cooley was reelected Moderator.
William C. Hills was reelected Clerk.

2—To choose a Clerk for the ensuing year.
Carl H. Robinson was reelected Treasurer.

3—To choose a Member of the School Board for three years.
The retiring member of the Board, Mrs. Mattie L. H. Proctor, received every vote cast, sixty-one, and was declared elected for three years.

4—To hear the reports of Auditors, Agents, Committees or Officers heretofore chosen, and pass any vote relating thereto.

Charles W. Prentiss, one of the auditors, read their report on the treasurer's accounts. The report was accepted by vote, to be placed on file.

5—To see what compensation the District will fix for services of School Board, Truant Officer and other District Officers.
Voted that the same price as paid these officers the past year be paid them the coming year.

6—To see what extra compensation the District will allow for services of Superintendent.

This article called for a little explanation from the School Board, and as bills are now in the Legislature which are likely to affect the matter contained in this article, it was voted to pass over it to be acted upon at an adjourned meeting.

7—To see if the District will vote to raise and appropriate $553.00 for support of the schools if the State does not make the appropriation, which will allow this amount to be paid as State Aid, or take any action thereon.

This article met the same fate as the one directly preceding it, and was voted to be referred to an adjourned meeting.

8—To see if the District will vote to raise and appropriate $852.00, the amount needed for the schools this year, not allowed by the State, or take any action thereon.

Voted that the sum of $852 be raised and appropriated for this purpose.

9—To see how much money the District will vote to raise and appropriate for the support of the Elementary Schools.

Voted that this article be postponed, to be acted upon at an adjourned meeting.

10—To see how much money the District will vote to raise and appropriate for the support of the High School.

It was voted that the sum of $3900 be raised and appropriated under this article.

11—To see if the District will vote to raise and appropriate $200.00 for repairs of School buildings.

Voted that the sum of $200 be raised and appropriated for repairs of school buildings.

12—To choose all other necessary Officers, Agents, etc., for the ensuing year.

Charles W. Prentiss and William E. Cram were reelected auditors.

13—To act upon any other business that may legally come before said meeting.

It was voted to hold an adjourned school meeting on Monday, April 4, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of completing the business under the warrant.

There was not a large gathering at the School Meeting—probably less than one hundred being present, and a majority of these were women. It took about an hour and a half to complete the business of the day and the rest will be done later.

TOWN MEETING

The meeting was called for nine o'clock in the forenoon and at precisely ten minutes past the hour the Moderator, William E. Cram, called the meeting to order and read the warrant, after which Rev. Wm. J. B. Cannell offered prayer.

FROM WASHINGTON

The Reporter Has Another Communication

THE NEW CABINET

The new Cabinet does not differ much from former selections made by new Presidents, because it contains perhaps two wise statesmen who are regarded as equal to the great tasks before them. Then there are personal friends who have been rewarded, and neither prophets nor sons of prophets can tell what their finish will be. Next in order are two or three clever, astute politicians, and the usual "dark horses." When Woodrow Wilson first picked his Cabinet the newspapers of his party printed laudatory stories which read just like those that are printed today about the Cabinet of President Harding. But a strictly candid, unbiased opinion, would have to be content with concluding that the new Cabinet gives splendid promise for the best results, with the qualification that as a whole the personnel may reveal in time, some serious flaws. Personally the men are all well known to Washington, and they will have the help and support of all officials and people of any importance.

SILVER CARTWHEELS ON WAY

The coinage of silver dollars is being resumed at the Philadelphia mint, the first that have been put into circulation since 1905. In 1918 the Pittman act fixed $1 an ounce as the price at which the purchases of silver should be made. The price of silver in the open market now is about sixty cents an ounce. Treasury officials state that about 350,000,000 silver dollars will be coined—enough so that every body will have some of them.

A Contest

Remember the super-special Unity Guild picture in the town hall, Thursday evening, March 10 at 8.15, "The Courage of Marge O'Doon."

"The Last of the Mohicans" will be given Tuesday, March 15, at 8 o'clock. James Fenimore Cooper's story of American History and Indian Life is the first picture of its kind yet shown upon the screen. The Boy Scouts should see the bow and arrow contest.

The boy and girl in our High School who writes the best composition on either James Fenimore Cooper, or The Last of the Mohicans will be given a ticket to the picture, and the composition read.

STRAY THOUGHTS

Picked Up and Put Together for Reporter Readers

A thin man naturally isn't very impressive, for he can't put up much of a front.

If talk were an indication of wisdom, a parrot would be chief justice of the supreme court.

A wise man takes all the advice that is given to him but he doesn't do anything with the most of it.

The thing that's the matter with a good many homes is that a phonograph has taken the place of the baby carriage.

If the number of "efficiency experts" keeps on increasing, it won't be long until there'll be no room in any shop for the workers.

They've invented many wonderful things, but they've never yet invented anything to make a painted face look like anything but a painted face.

Americanism

By LEONARD WOOD

We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.—The Declaration of Independence.

WHILE the Declaration of Independence says in effect that it is self-evident all men are created equal, the fact of the equality of men has been and always will be denied by those who have not the analytical ability to understand just what was meant by Jefferson when he wrote these words into the Declaration. All Americans are equal before the law and as children of liberty they are brothers of a family none of whom has exclusive rights. It is the equality before the law, equality of opportunity and the equality of liberty that was in the mind of Jefferson.

It is possible, however, that Jefferson did not think on the matter of equal opportunities for all Americans when he set forth these self-evident truths, but that Americans are created to equal opportunities; is one of the supreme facts.

Americans are not all native born. The instant that a man of foreign birth comes to this country with the determination to become an American citizen he steps upon a plane of equality with every other American, native born or naturalized. But he must become an American in something more than name, and by so doing he becomes an inheritor by right of citizenship of all that was promised by the writer of the Declaration of Independence, by the men who signed it and by the great document itself.

Politics, creed, race, whatever they may be, do not enter into the question, for Americanism is a thing apart from all three. What America asks of those who come to her from other lands is only that which she asks of those who claim her as their country by right of birth.

It has been held by some persons that there is not opportunity of equality in the United States. The commonest stories in our school books of American endeavor prove that opportunity comes to the man who asks it to be his guest and that it does not deny itself entrance into any home.

The future America depends upon its people. They are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, and among these are "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." Is there any right in the world more to be desired than that which gives to the man of proper living, liberty and that opportunity for a happiness which is the reward of his own labor?

Napoleon's Dessert Service Sold.
A French dessert dish of gilt plate, double thread and shell pattern, consisting of two sugar sifters, four spoons, a pair of sugar tongs, 24 small spoons, 24 forks and knives with porcelain handles, formerly the property of Emperor Napoleon, and bearing the imperial cipher of the bee, was sold in a London auction house not long ago. The service was the property of a nobleman whose name is not revealed.—London Times.

ANOTHER SWAY FOR THE FLY

Supreme Court of Maine Adds Its Voice to Denunciation of Almost Universal Pest.

The dog having had his day before the Supreme court in Washington, we now find the "busy, curious, thirly fly" preening his wings in the solemn precincts of the Supreme court of Maine as a co-defendant. He finds few sympathizers. For his sin he is the most unobtrusive and desirable of beasts, and the mischief he does is immeasurable. In this case the court of appeal was told that a summer boarder had engaged rooms at a hotel for two weeks and had left at the end of four days, declaring the flies intolerable. The Supreme court, by this the plaintiff in his refusal to pay for his infested accommodations.

The Journal of the American Medical Association makes the text of one of the most interesting denunciations of the fly that has been penned; but will the cure? Not a bit of it. "A fly," wrote Emerson in his despair, "is as contemptible as a hyena." Probably the wisest teaching the sage of Concord has ever said was "D— a fly!" Shakespeare would have said it if he had thought of it. As a carrier of pestilential putrescence the fly is without a peer. The help of the Supreme court of Maine is welcome in putting him down.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Tells of Web-Footed Men.

The most curious tribe, called Agmanbu, are to some extent web-footed, and the skin of their feet is "as tender as blotting paper." They live in a marsh and are so much at home in the water that they seem to stand upright in that element without any perceptible effort. They catch ducks by diving under them and catching the birds' legs.

Their diet consists chiefly of fish, water fowls, sago and the roots of water lilies. They keep pigs, swung in cradles, underneath their houses (which are in the water built on ten-foot poles), lying on their bellies with their legs stuck through the bottom, and feed them on fish and sago. The dead are buried by being tied to a stake, the body secured well above flood level.—From "Some Experiences of a New Guinea Resident Magistrate," by Capt. C. A. W. Monkton.

Dodged Seven Years' Bad Luck.

"Traffic gets held up in queer ways," said a patrolman at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue. "It was only just the other day that we had a blockade that tied things up for half an hour. I noticed a young woman pounding something against the curb. Looked funny to me and I couldn't figure out what it was. People passing by started to run, looked again, and crowded around her. I headed for the middle of the bunch and saw she had busted open her package and was breaking a lot of mirrors on the sidewalk, one by one. "What's all this about?" I asks. "Oh, mister officer," she says, "I broke a mirror a while ago, and if I don't break seven more right quick I'll have seven years' bad luck. By rights they should be broken all at once, but I could only do one at a time. And now, please, won't you help me get out of the crowd?"—From a New York Letter to the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Friends have received notice of the death of Mrs. Flora (Wesson) Palmer, who was a former resident of this neighborhood, and is well and favorably known. Much sympathy is felt for her husband, and also for the little children, who will miss a loving mother's care.

From Nashua Telegraph, March 2

Miss Mary J. Emerson, well remembered by many of the older residents of this city, where she lived the greater portion of her life on Franklin street, died at her home in Antrim on Tuesday. Miss Emerson was a cousin of the late Charles H. Chase of Main street, and one of the eight beneficiaries of his million dollar estate. She was born in Lowell, Mass., Dec. 2, 1843, the only child of Solomon D. Emerson, one of the mill overseers of the city at that time.

Several years ago she went to Antrim, to make her home in her declining years with Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm S. French, former Nashua residents. She built a modern home there. She was a quiet home woman, highly respected by friends whom she had held through years of association. The nearest relatives are cousins.

The burial will be in Edgewood cemetery Thursday.

ALMOST LOST BIG DISCOVERY

Predatory Bird Carried Off Pod Containing Precious Seed That Produced Burbank Potatoes.

Luther Burbank recently told Colorado potato men a story of his discovery of the world-famous Burbank potato, which has only recently come to light. While Burbank was experimenting with potatoes about twenty years ago he noticed in his patch one plant which held one particularly promising pod of seeds. To his practiced eye these seeds and the plant which bore them would contain the germ of a new and excellent potato. If he had thought it necessary he would have put a watchman over this one small seed ball. As it developed later, the money that would have been required for a watchman would have been but a minute drop of silver in the ocean of gold which this one pod was destined to produce.

Every morning Burbank would go to the patch to see how the pod was faring, and often during each day he would look at the plant to discover the time when the pod could be picked.

One morning he went into the patch and the pod was gone. With the help of workmen he searched for it. Finally, after hunting for hours, 20 feet away from the plant, in the midst of other plants, the pod was found.

"I think a bird must have picked it off and tried to carry it away," Mr. Burbank told the Colorado potato men. "Anyhow, there it lay, and I picked it up and planted the seeds, and that's how we have Burbank potatoes today."

REFUSED TO TAKE CHANCES

Fortune Teller's Prediction Caused Crews of Two Vessels to Desert the Boats at Quebec.

From time immemorial superstitions of sailors, with few exceptions, have naturally been associated with things of the sea, notably the belief which marks departure from port on Friday as a certain omen of bad luck. St. Elmo's fire, the bo'sun fish, whistling for the wind in a calm, the presence of a priest on board ship, all these deal with actual elements of sea life that played a great part among such legends. The Flying Dutchman legend was also born of the sea; likewise the ghostly crew coming from the wreck of a sunken ship to haunt the crew of the vessel which caused their loss.

A more annoying variety of superstition was revealed the other day by the action of the crews of two American tugs who deserted their boats at Quebec. Before these two boats left Detroit bound for New York a fortune teller predicted the doom of one of the boats before it finished its voyage. This prophecy so worked on the sensibilities of the members of the two crews that they struck on reaching Quebec. Old salts might sniff at such a prophecy as this as being of the fresh-water brand and not worthy to be enrolled in the ancient and honorable company of deep-sea superstitions, but the prophecy worked its evil upon the tug owners. The loss of their crews made a real thing of it.

ALUMINUM TO REPLACE WOOD

Increased Production of the Metal Will Relieve Drain Upon the Country's Vanishing Forests.

One of the greatest consumers of wood is the shipping box. For this purpose no fewer than 6,000,000 cords were used last year. Viewed from any standpoint, it is a gigantic draft upon our forest resources.

Unquestionably before long metal will largely take the place of wood for the making of shipping cases. Which means, of course, aluminum, or an alloy thereof. Aluminum, relatively speaking, is a cheap metal now, but it is destined to be vastly cheaper.

When one considers that aluminum constitutes more than 7 per cent of the entire crust of the earth, it seems absurd that there should be lack of it for any and all purposes useful to mankind.

The next generation may live in apartment houses built wholly of aluminum and travel in aluminum trains and steamships. But the matter of most immediate importance is the relief which cheap aluminum may give to the drain upon our vanishing forests.

Canada Admits Hindoo Woman.

The first Hindoo woman and the first Hindoo boy who ever entered Vancouver or British Columbia, Canada, to make the province their home, arrived recently on the Empress of Japan. There are thousands of Hindoos living in the province, engaged in working in the woods or in operating sawmills. Some of them have made much money. For a long time the government refused admission to Hindoo women, but recently this ban was lifted. The new arrival was the first woman to take advantage of it. Her husband went to India from Vancouver three years ago, to pay a visit to his home. He had made money and intended to remain in India, but when the ban on women was lifted he decided to return where opportunities were greater. He brought his wife, and twelve-year-old son. The father intends to send the boy to the public schools of Vancouver.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

Blower Recovers Waste Cement. The bags in which cement is shipped have a considerable return value, because of the character of the material entering into the manufacture, so that all large consumers find it necessary to see that these are gathered up and returned to the cement plant.

Heretofore it has been regarded as sufficient to turn the bag upside down and shake it as a means of emptying. But recently it has been found that this method is wasteful in the extreme, and the cement is now recovered by a blower.

By this means from one and one-half to two sacks of cement are recovered per 1,000 sacks cleaned. Two men can clean 2,000 sacks a day, besides sorting, counting and bundling them. The cement recovered makes a credit to the cost of handling of about $2.50 a day.

NEW HAMPSHIRE
LEGISLATURE

Several interesting features were staged in the House last week, the ball being set in motion when the Newton moving picture censorship bill came up for action. Miss Jessie Doe of Rollinsford, one of the two women members of the house, made her maiden speech in favor of the passage of the bill. It was the first appeal by a woman for the passage of a bill on the floor of the New Hampshire House. An hour's earnest debate followed, the opponents of the bill characterizing it as impractical and expensive. At the conclusion of the debate the bill was refused a third reading by a large majority.

The Manchester Finance Commission bill then came up for the attention of the House with two reports, one signed by Republican members and a minority report signed by two Democratic members. One motion to substitute a roll call was demanded, resulting in yes, 73, no, 142; and as there was no quorum voting, the bill went into unfinished business.

At the afternoon session the following bills were passed: An amendment to the session laws of 1895 relating to the John M. Hunt home, authorizing the Nashua Manufacturing Co. to increase and classify its stock; relating to the incorporation and management of credit unions; in relation to the sale or killing of domestic animals for breeding purposes. The Manchester Finance bill was called from the table and after a free for all debate a roll call showed a quorum was lacking, and the bill again went over, after which the house adjourned.

The 48-hour bill was staged Wednesday morning and the measure was debated for over an hour. It provides for a 48 hour week for women and minors. The bill came in with a majority report of inexpedient to legislate, and a minority report "ought to pass." The vote on the third reading of the bill was lost on a voice vote, 133 for and 194 against. A roll call was demanded and this resulted yes, 123; no, 210; and the bill went into the scrap heap.

The Manchester Finance bill came for the third time and it passed by a large majority. Governor Brown has signed the standard time bill and it has now become the law.

In the House Wednesday afternoon these bills were passed: An act relating to the laying out of highways in the city of Nashua; an act to designate the state treasurer as custodian of United States funds allotted to the forestry department; an act to establish Union School district in Bath. On motion of Representative Ahern the House adjourned out of respect to the memory of Hon. Champ Clark.

Thursday morning a big batch of committee reports came in, a good number of them with favorable reports. Among those marked as inexpedient were several railroad measures. One was for a commission to make recommendations relating to dangerous grade crossings. Another related to the titles of railroads by adverse possession, one to full crews on certain freight trains, and another relating to the operation of switching engines in yards and providing a full crew for the same.

House bill No. 106 to define the rights of trade unions came in with two reports and brought out a display of oratory and fireworks which made the session lively. Representative Cotton moved it that the minority report be substituted for the majority. Representative Barrett said the house was ready to kill the bill at once, and after discussion the minority report was voted down on a viva voce vote.

There was an animated discussion on a resolution offered by Representative Young of Merrimack. "That it is the sense of the Senate and House of Representatives of New Hampshire that it is imperative that Congress take immediate action to so amend the Transportation act as to give railroads more freedom of action as adapted to the conditions of different localities in the country, or pass such new legislation as will enable the New England railroads to continue serving the public under private ownership." The House voted to lay the resolution on the table.

The resolution relative to the discontinuance of agents at various railroad stations was laid on the table, and the House voted to hold no session town meeting day. In order to clear the decks it was voted that business in order for the afternoon session be in order at the morning session, and the following bills were passed: an act relating to the salaries of judges of municipal courts; an act relating to the limit for adjusting and paying fire losses; an act relating to the marriage of persons having certain diseases. Several bills relating to fire insurance were passed.

In the Senate a House bill giving the State Highway Commissioner authority to name highways was amended by adding a provision that no road should bear the name of a living person. It is understood that Hon. Albert W. Noone of Peterboro had a desire to have a cross-state highway named in his honor, and that in such case he has offered to erect upon it a memorial arch and a statue of himself. The amendment will have the effect of nipping the aspirations of people desiring to be thus honored at the bud.

Upon request the following resolutions, which were adopted at the last Legion meeting, were read by Commander Charles N. Robertson, of Wm. M. Myers Post:

"There has been much discussion regarding a suitable memorial to those who served in the late war, and the sentiment seems to prevail that those who served should have a voice in the matter.

"The Wm. M. Myers Post No. 50, A. L., has discussed the matter at several meetings and the opinion of the majority is in favor of a memorial tablet suitably inscribed, and placed on a common field stone, at a minimum of expense to the town:

"We would recommend that the various other suggestions should be dropped for the time being."

It was unanimously voted that the recommendations of the local American Legion be adopted; that a committee of three be selected by Wm. M. Myers Post, No. 50, to carry these recommendations into effect; that a sum of money not exceeding $1000 be raised and appropriated for this purpose, to be expended under the supervision of this committee, and any unexpended balance from this appropriation be applied on the Town debt.

Voted that a recess of ten minutes be taken.
After the recess permission was given R. C. Goodell, chairman of the Town History Committee, to make a report, which was as follows:

"In our opinion there is an urgent demand from many present and former citizens for the history and even if it seems best to postpone the printing of the book, the preparation should not be longer delayed."

Voted that the committee's report be accepted and the recommendations be adopted.

Voted that the same committee—Richard C. Goodell, Fred C. Parmenter, Morton Paige, Hayward Cochrane, and Helen R. Burnham—be appointed to attend to this matter.

Spaulding, state chairman of the European Relief Council, expresses his thanks to the general public for the splendid response which has been made to the appeal of Herbert Hoover for funds to save from starvation 3,500,000 children in Central and Eastern Europe.

Rename Boulevard for Daniel Webster
The state Senate passed the bill, previously approved by the House, changing the name of the Merrimack Valley boulevard to the Daniel Webster highway.

The new name was advocated by the New Hampshire Bar Association and Gov. Albert O. Brown a month ago, in honor of the great statesman, whose birthplace was Salisbury, near which the highway passes. The road, a trunk line from the Massachusetts border, follows the Merrimack river to its source in Franklin and thence into northern New Hampshire.

Hill, a Bad Town for Motor Speeders
The annual report of the Hill Municipal Court for 1920 shows that the town did a big court business, the receipts from bonds, fines and costs amounting to more than $1700. There were 220 cases, mostly of overspeeding, before the court during the year. Justice Frank R. Woodward and George W. Revere, chief of police, say:

"Hill is supposed to have a population of some few more than 500 law-abiding citizens. There is probably not another town in the State through which so many people who have no regard for the law when it interferes with their plans and pleasure pass."

State Distributes Jack Rabbits
One hundred jack rabbits from East Orland, Me., consigned to the Pointe Fish and Game Club arrived in Manchester and were taken to rabbit swamps near Manchester and liberated. The rabbits were purchased by the State of New Hampshire at $2.50 per pair.

The Amoskeag Textile club received 100 "jacks" and the Manchester Fish and Game Protective Association got a shipment of still another 100, so that the rabbit covers in that vicinity have been stocked with 300 breeding rabbits, from which enterprise rabbit hunting around Manchester should be greatly boosted next winter. As now is a closed season on rabbit hunting, the "jacks" distributed are not likely to be exterminated by lawless and irresponsible hunters.

The caucus in town hall on Monday evening was fairly well attended, by both men and women. The women had a candidate for selectman and loyally stuck to her, but she declined to have her name on the ballot, so the men received all the nominations. It being the ladies' first caucus, it proved an interesting novelty, and the town meeting opened our eyes to the difference in people when viewed from another angle.

A. F. Bell was elected clerk and treasurer; James H. Balch, selectman for 1 year, James J. Griswold, selectman for 2 years, Harry W. Brown, selectman for 3 years; Herbert E. Wilson, road agent; Arthur J. Pierce trustee of trust funds; Gust Dodge, janitor.

of pride from the fact that the state has named the state road up the Merrimack Valley to the White Mountains for the illustrious Daniel Webster who was born on Franklin soil and maintained a farm for many years before his death in that city on the line of this state road. One of the best stretches of roadway on the whole route of the Daniel Webster Highway passed through land which Webster owned afterward.

Why Eye Shades Are Used
The purpose of the eye shade is to shield the eye from harmful brilliancies in the field of view. In lighting from poorly concealed sources these brilliancies are, in many cases, 600, 800 to 800,000 times as great as the brightness of the printed page. Their images, falling on the dark adapted and highly sensitized peripheral retina, cause great discomfort and interfere profoundly with the muscular adjustment of the eye needed for clear seeing.

HUMOR OF BOYS
"MY next door neighbor has a boy who is going to get into trouble if he doesn't reform," said the retired merchant. "He's always playing idiotic tricks on me, and I'm getting tired of it. This morning, as I was leaving home, I found my front gate nailed shut, and I had to climb over it, and nearly broke my back doing it."

"I wouldn't give three cents for a boy who didn't play tricks," replied the hotel-keeper. "I expect you were as giddy as the rest of them when you were young. Whenever a boy puts up a job on me, and I feel myself getting mad, I recall some of my own exploits when I was a lad, and that enables me to forget my troubles."

ADVANTAGE NOW WITH WOMEN
Modern Feminine Garments Such That They No Longer Need "Take All Day to Dress."

No longer does it "take her all day to dress." Quietly and steadily woman has got rid of many checks upon rapidity of dressing; has consolidated garments, abolished buttons, done away with hooks and eyes, abandoned very often even corsets and the "fixing" of her hair, while man is quite as slow a dresser, now as when Uncle C. Dewey repeated his first story.

Not, of course, if woman garbs herself for purposes strictly social. This means one-tenth dressing and nine-tenths preparation of an armament that no stupid League of Nations would ever hope to curb. Very different is the morning method of feminine executives, of girls intent on business, study or art, of stump-speaking ladies when in transit.

Brother dazed himself with speed when first he fastened trousers with a belt, though buttons still remain for the "weskit" and the coat and that weary round of pearl and gold buttons for the shirt. But sister takes her one-piece suit at a single hurdle and snaps a single "snapper" at the waist.

Long ago man hopped into his congress gaiters. Now he ties his oxford. His wife, however, steps into her pumps. "Making her hair" once impeded mother's toilet. Fathers having hair to part must part it still. But daughter, being "bobbed," gives her hair one shake to "do" it.

"Nowadays," says an expert, "a girl can easily dress in ten minutes. Then she adds 20 for making up her face."

mad and disgusted over it she wanted to pack her trunk and go back home. Mother saw me rolling around in the yard all doubled up with unholly mirth, and she realized at once, by deductive reasoning, that I was responsible, and the licking I got that evening took the edge of my sense of humor for three weeks.

"Another time, Uncle James was visiting us. He used to sit in a rustic chair under an apple tree and doze after dinner. He had a bald head, and his hat always slid off after he sneaked up behind him with a feather and began tickling his head. He'd slap his dome of thought, and cuss a little, and then doze again, when I would get busy with the feather. That went on for quite a while, and I was having the time of my life. I never heard any language more highly colored than Uncle James put up."

"My mother heard him saying things, and came to the door and asked him what was the matter, and he said a ding-donged lopsided fly was chewing his scalp off. He had chased it away three million times, but it always came back. I got another licking that night, and my mind was occupied with serious things for a month."

Archeologists Believed on Verge of Great Discoveries in Districts of Central America.

Important medical and economical discoveries that will be of great value to the modern life of the peoples of the world are on the verge of being made at the present time in several districts of Central America by American archeologists.

This prophecy was made by Prof. William Gates, president of the Maya society, in an address delivered at the meeting, at Johns Hopkins university, of the Archeological Institute of America, the Philological association and the Maya society.

Prof. Gates brought forth in his talk the fact that in Central America there has recently been discovered the evidences of an ancient race of people, with a civilization as old and as cultured as that of the ancient Egyptians.

The plans of an eminent group of American archeologists for further exploration of the remains of this ancient race were dwelt on by the speaker. These workers, he declared, hold forth the promise to the American people of a new region, rich with archeological material, the surface of which has yet only been scratched.

Among the most important discoveries expected to be made there are the unearthing of further native medical works, some of which are already in the hands of the Maya society, that will add valuable specific pharmacopoeia and medical knowledge to that society in this country.
