The Antrim base ball team went to Wilton last Saturday and played the team of that town, with the result that they came home defeated by a score of five to three. When it is known that the entire five runs were made in one inning, the result of a combination of errors, it is seen that the most of the game was a good exhibition of ball playing.

Captain Philip Gray of Chicago to teach at Colby Academy

Captain Philip M. Gray, son of Rev. Dr. James M. Gray, Dean of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Illinois, has been engaged as a member of the teaching staff at Colby Academy, for the school year beginning September 13. Captain Gray will be at the head of the History Department, and will have general supervision of the boys' dormitories. The family is well known in New England and has passed many summers in New London, which is a noted summer resort.

The staff is further supplemented by the re-engagement of James P.
Kelley, long time teacher in Greenwich Academy, Connecticut. Mr. Kelley is a graduate of Colby Academy and Brown University, and taught several years in Colby Academy before his Connecticut engagement.

Don't stick with the prunes

MY DAD'S favorite yarn.
WAS THE one about
THE OLD storekeeper.
WHO WAS playing checkers.
IN THE back of the store.
AMONG THE coal oil.
AND THE prunes.
WHEN THE sheriff.
WHO HAD just jumped his king.
SAID "Si there's a customer.
WAITIN' OUT front."
AND SI said "Sh-h-h!
IF YOU'LL keep quiet.
MEBBE HE'LL go away."
NOW HERE'S the big idea.
WHEN A good thing.
HAPPENS ALONG.
DON'T LEAVE it to George.
TO GRAB the gravy.
FRINSTANCE IF.

YOU HEAR of a smoke,
OR READ about a smoke,
THAT REALLY does more.
THAN PLEASE the taste,
THERE ARE no hooks on you.
THERE'S NO law against
YOUR STEPPING UP.
WITH THE other live ones.
AND SAYING right out.
IN A loud, clear voice.
"GIMME A pack of
THOSE CIGARETTES
THAT SATISFY."

YOU'LL say you never tasted such flavor, such mild but full-bodied tobacco goodness.
You're right, too, because they don't make other cigarettes like Chesterfields. The Chesterfield blend can't be copied.

POOR TYPE OF LEGISLATORS

Some Reasons Assigned for the Assertion That Lawyers Do Not Make Good Lawmakers.

Lawyers, as a class, should of course be represented in any legislature, but their enormous over-representation in congress involves disastrous consequences, according to "Great American Issues," by John Hays Hammond and Jeremiah Jenks.
Observation of lawmaking bodies in many countries leads to the conclusion that lawyers make a most unsatisfactory type of legislators. It is not that they lack intelligence but that the whole course of their professional training and practice tends to unfit them to play an important part in constructive enterprises of any kind.
Throughout his career a lawyer is occupied, not with the realities of things but with the appearance they may be made to bear in legal argument; not with the consequences which flow from an action, but with the legitimacy of its origin. He is always concerned with the past as a source of precedent rather than with the future as a field for achievement. Pending legislation is often to the lawyer something which will later be discussed and interpreted by lawyers, instead of an instrument designed to effect a definite practical aim. It is largely due to the lawyer's attitude toward legislation and to the influence it has exerted upon the form and texture of enactments that so many laws passed for the purpose of removing abuses in our economic and industrial system have, until recently resulted in many lawsuits and little reform.

Princess Buys Watches.

The Begum (princess) of Bhopal, India, who bought 4,000 silver watches to take back to her people in the central Indian state when she visited Switzerland in 1911, has just sent for another lot of 2,500 timepieces. She wants her subjects to be punctual and not rely on the sun for the time of day.

She probably is the only woman ruler of a state in India and is also called sultan. The throne of Bhopal has descended in a distaff line for more than 75 years, and many of the begums have displayed modern tendencies in looking after the welfare of their subjects, who number 665,000. The Sultan Jahan Begum succeeded to the throne in 1901. Bhopal is the principal province of central India and its capital, the city of Bhopal, has about 75,000 inhabitants.—Japan Advertiser.

New Source of SILK.

Discovery has been made of a process by which the muscular tissue of horses and cattle can be converted into silk—a use being thus found for condemned cows and horses killed because of accident or old age.
The flesh is softened by saturating it in a liquid, which separates the muscle fibers by dissolving the substance that holds them together. Then it is soaked in another liquid, which strengthens the fibers and gives them a silky character.
A Silk thus obtained can be rubberized and made water proof by soaking it for some hours in a bath of rubber.

An automobile owned by Antrim parties and left standing in the square while the occupant went into a store, suddenly started down hill toward the post office, running into Charles Thompson who was just crossing the street and did not see the car coming. Mr. Thompson was knocked down and badly shaken up and it was fortunate that there are no internal injuries.

The remains of Private Percival Bailey, who died in France Oct. 9, 1918, arrived recently at Hoboken, N. J., and were brought to his home here last Wednesday. Comrades from the Legion escorted the body from the train to G. A. R. hall, where it laid in state until the funeral services the same afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Legion and its auxiliary turned out in large numbers. At the grave the firing squad fired a volley and taps were sounded as the young soldier was laid at rest. Burial was at Maplewood cemetery, Lower Village.

HANCOCK

Charles L. Otis met with a very serious accident while loading hay from the scaffold of a barn. He jumped from the scaffold to the load, breaking the pitch fork handle and sending a piece of it into his abdomen almost three inches. His son-in-law, Dr. B. A. Talbot of Milford, was called, and it is not considered the accident will prove fatal, although very painful for a time.

The electrical storms of Thursday last played a few magic stunts here, striking in several places, some of which were Thomas Lavoies, knocking the plastering off in one room and at the same time striking Leslie J. Carr's and setting fire to the house in the cellar, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

George W. Goodhue, while crossing from a barn to W. D. Fogg's store across the yard, was knocked to the ground by lightning, but not seriously hurt.

Dwight Lakin Warner and Maude Marguerite Ware were last week married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. L. Ware, by Rev. F. Pearson, the double ring service being used. The bride was attended by her nieces, Miss Cynthia Bell Upton as ring-bearer, and Misses Elinor Laura Upton, Alice May Upton and Margery Gladys Upton as flower girls. Among the guests from out of town were Miss Beulah Morse of Dorchester, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cook of Newport News, Va. The wedding trip is being made by motor.

GREENFIELD

W. E. Hopkins has sold his home place on Main street to Francis Delano, of West Townsend, Mass.

Frank Gage, the station agent, and Mrs. Blanche Conant, of Contoocook, were married Saturday, July 23.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Brooks have been entertaining Mrs. John Holt and daughters, Adelaide and Elizabeth, of North Adams, Mass.

Last Wednesday 17 girl scouts hiked to Francess town. They enjoyed their lunch and games in the grove. Misses Ruth Weston and Marion Dooley acted as their leaders.

Mrs. Donald Hopkins and Miss Celia Hopkins, together with Albert Ober, of West Medford, and Sumner and Charles Hopkins motored to Maine one day recently. Among the places visited were Auburn, Casco Bay, Portland, Brunswick, and Belgrade lake. Mrs. Hopkins remained in Auburn for a two weeks' visit with her parents, the rest of the party returning a couple days later.

Everything for QUALITY

—nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

Georgia publishers are becoming "hard boiled." Editor Otto Middleton, publisher of the Hazelhurst News, says: "Two or three business men of Hazelhurst are sending their printing to large cities. When they are 'laid to rest' the bereaved ones will expect us to sympathize with 'em, but darned if we do it." While editor H. W. Garrett, publisher of the Doern's Courier, says: "To be plain, we have quit saying sweet things about people who borrow a paper to see if the great stunts they do are headlined." Messrs. Middleton and Garrett may have spoken harshly, but there is a great deal of sound judgment in their frank statements.

NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE NEWS

Gypsies Must "Move On."
A band of gypsies, numbering about 50, including three men, three women and a number of children were ordered out of Nashua by the police.

Surplus Goes to Red Cross
Over $248 that remained from the funds of the Fourth of July celebration at Nashua will be turned over to the Red Cross, according to the vote taken at the final meeting of the committees.

Visited by Thieves
The Whitcomb Pharmacy at Ashland was broken into again and more than $200 worth of watches, fountain pens and other articles stolen. The store was entered and more than $1000 worth of goods stolen a few weeks ago.

Military Census to be Taken Orders have been issued by Adj. Gen. Charles W. Howard for a military census to be taken in Nashua in order that he may complete his files of the military strength of the state. A general census of the state has just been ordered by the government.

The Wild Berry Crop
The drought earlier in the season did not materially affect the wild berry crop in the vicinity of Keene as there is an abundance of nearly every kind of berry. Large quantities of raspberries and blueberries are being picked at the present time and the bushes are loaded with green blackberries.

Major Knox Heads Commission
At a meeting of the Governor and Council held at Concord the members of the New Hampshire Publicity Commission created to advertise the resources of the state through available mediums was appointed. The commission is headed by Major Frank Knox of Manchester and includes Warden A. Curtis of Ashland and Karl P. Abbott of Franconia.

Colonel's Checks Bad
The Concord police are seeking to serve a warrant on a man who calls himself "Lieut. Col. Charles W. F. Scott," and claims to have been a British American aviator overseas, during the World War.

The man arrived at Hampton Beach with an automobile and chauffeur and introduced himself to Robert S. Fogg of Concord, the aviator at the beach. "Scott" gave Fogg two checks, one for $100 and one for $25 on the State Street Trust Company of Boston, which reports that no such man has an account there.

Governor at Plymouth
Gov. Albert O. Brown attended the exercises at Plymouth, Mass., Monday, when President Warren G. Harding attended the performance of the pageant commemorating the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers 300 years ago. Governor Brown was accompanied to Plymouth by members of his military staff.

An array of notables, including distinguished visitors from Great Britain and the Netherlands, members of the President's official family and other notables in national and state life were present, Monday being observed as President's day.

May Try One-Man Cars
It is probable that one-man cars may be used in Keene if the plans of T. J. Robinson, the manager of the Keene Electric Railway Company are carried out. Mr. Robinson is trying to effect a reorganization of the company and secure $20,000 with which to make repairs, alterations and add new equipment.

The railway company has asked for an abatement of taxes for the year 1920 and a hearing was held before the Public Service commission at Concord. The books of the company for the year 1920 showed a deficit and it was on this ground that a company sought the abatement of $1,500 in taxes for that year.

Tuck Art Collection
The city of Paris, it is said, will receive the famous Tuck art gallery, which the city of Concord had once hoped to acquire and which was to have been housed in a building adjoining the million dollar historical building, a gift to this city by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tuck of Paris.

A cablegram from France indicates that Mr. and Mrs. Tuck have willed their collection of art and antiques to the city of Paris, together with a million francs which will be utilized to install the collection in the Petit Palais after death.

An effort had been made to have the Tuck collection brought to this country, but a French law prohibited the removal of the valuable art treasures to this country.

Mexico Seeks Advice
Mayor D. N. Whittaker, of Franklin, has received a request from a Mexican counsel at New York asking for facts concerning the local city government. When the Franklin city charter was adopted twenty-seven years ago the boat was made that it was the ideal city government of New England. It was not surprising to some of the city lads that citizens from far away Mexico had heard of it and perhaps wanted to use the charter as a model for new city governments in the new progressive Mexico.

Expert to Lecture
A special from Durham says: More offerings of under-nourished children for demonstration purposes from devoted mothers in the state than can be accommodated have followed the announcement that during Farmers' and Home-Makers' week by Dr. William R. P. Emerson, the noted expert on mal-nutrition of children. His lecture will be given on the evening of Aug. 18 at the close of Health day.

Manchester Country Club
The new Manchester Country Club is practically assured. At a meeting of more than 200 men and women, all enthusiastic followers of golf, and which was virtually an open meeting of the finance and membership committees of the Gold Club it was announced that the total amount pledged to date in the campaign for funds with which to start the development of the country club property has reached the $32,800 mark. When $90,000 is raised, say officials who have the campaign in hand, work can be started.

Succumbed After Saving Boys
Irving E. Lull of Concord who was drowned at Westport, Mass., was a victim of heart disease brought on by his efforts to save his two nephews from drowning. A party consisting of John and Bradley Baker of Concord and William Crawford of Westport were in bathing with Mr. Lull and were caught in the undertow. Mr. Lull made a strenuous attempt to save them which he did, but was so exhausted from his efforts that he succumbed shortly after leaving the water. Mr. Lull was a member of the Masonic fraternity of the local Y. M. C. A., First Baptist Church, The Chamber of Commerce and the Wonalancet Club. He is survived by a wife, father and one sister.

Large Demand For Teachers
The demand for teachers in this state is large, according to Principal Wallace E. Mason of the Keene Normal school and the many superintendents who are visiting the summer session of the school to pick teachers for their districts.

The demand for rural and junior high teachers is the greatest. The teachers are offered from $15 per week to $1000 per year. The teachers for the junior high schools are to receive about $1200. Miss Hilda Hayward of Keene, one of the graduates of the normal school in 1911 has been offered a position as supervisor in music and drawing in the Franklin schools at a salary of $1350. This is the largest amount offered to any member of the 1921 graduating class.

Forestry Association Meeting
The annual meeting of the Sunapee branch of the New Hampshire Forestry Association was held at "Fernwood," the summer home of Howard Cooney, July 26th. Herbert Welch of Philadelphia, president of the Association, presiding. The meeting was addressed by Allen Chamberlain, assistant editor of the Boston Transcript, and L. E. Newman, federal agent for the control of white pine blisters in New Hampshire. Encouraging reports of the work of the Association were given.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Herbert Welch, Philadelphia; vice president, George T. Dewey, Worcester, Mass.; second vice president, Howard Cooney, Boston; secretary and treasurer, Sarah B. Hopkins, Worcester, Mass.

To Determine City Boundaries
At the direction of the board of assessors, the Manchester engineering department has started a survey of approximately 3,500 acres of land on the outskirts of the city to determine its exact ownership.

For many years a difference of opinion has existed as to whether these parcels of land belong to the city of Manchester or to the neighboring towns of Hooksett, Goffstown, Bedford and Londonderry.

The board of assessors has annually made a request to the board of mayor and aldermen for additional funds to undertake the survey. The request has been repeatedly ignored so this year the assessors decided to start the work using their regular funds, and will perform part of the work each year for the next three years when it is expected the whole surveying job will be finished.

The present area of the city of Manchester, exclusive of the 3,500 square acres in question, is 21,700 square acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Patton, of Lowell, Mass., have been guests for a week at Mrs. Lewis Knight's.

Sunday evening service at the Congregational church will be discontinued through the month of August.

There will be a social at the chapel on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock for the Sunday School, the older pupils having charge of it.

Mrs. Frank Byles and children, of Schenectady, N. Y., are summer guests of Mrs. Byles' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cady.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanclette, of Worcester, Mass., are guests of relatives in town. Mrs. Vanclette sang a solo at the Congregational church on Sunday morning.

"This year comes the Dante celebration"—so we heard from the pulpit on Sunday. Please let us know if that is why so many of his countrymen are here making excavations, and after so much inferno do we get a little paradise bye and bye?

An automobile hearse, owned by L. G. Hard of Sanford, Maine, and bearing the body of a woman from that town to Pinegrove, cemetery, Lynn, Mass., was wrecked on Federal St., Salem, when the operator drove the machine into a tree in an effort to avoid striking a boy on a bicycle.

Puzzled Expert.
As two friends were conversing an old college professor passed them in the street.

"The professor is a wonderful man," one of them remarked. "He's a great mathematician and boasts that he can figure out any problem."

"Not any more," returned his friend. "The landlord boosted his rent and has him sitting up nights trying to solve the housing problem."—Toledo Blade.

Uncle Walt's Story

Walt Mason

THE FIRST TIME

"I CONFESS that the thought of death always raises gooseflesh on me," said the melancholy boarder. "The only comfort is that a man dies but once."

"That's what makes it so unpleasant," observed the star boarder. "If a man died at regular intervals, say once a year, he'd soon get used to it, and regard it as part of the day's work. A man dies and that's the end of him, so far as this world is concerned. He has no chance to come back and bore his friends with a long story about it. If he had that chance it would make a great difference. The ordinary citizen will undergo anything, if he can sit around and talk about it afterward."

"The first time we are up against anything disagreeable always is the worst. We can get used to anything, and enjoy anything, if we have enough of it. We are born optimists, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, always looking around for a grain of comfort, and manufacturing one if there is none in sight."

"I'll never forget the first time I went to see the dentist on professional business. I had been entertaining a rip-snorting toothache for several days. The agony was so great that it would take the pen of a Dante to do justice to it. Yet I couldn't muster up enough courage to go to the dentist's. I had heard so many stories of the atrocious suffering one undergoes at his hands that my warlike spirit faltered. But finally the man who occupied the room next to mine came to my apartment, armed with a large iron poker, and said that I had kept him awake for three nights, and the limit had been reached. If I didn't chase myself out of the house and let him have a night's rest he would proceed to make a few dents in my skull."

"Thus turned adrift into the tempest, the first man I met was a dentist, and he simply forced me to his parlor. He was a friend of the family and wouldn't take 'no' for an answer."

"He had to carry me up the stairway to his office. I had become so weak in the legs. I supposed he would rend me limb from limb, but he really was a painless dentist. In three or, perhaps, four shakes he was holding before my eyes the tooth which had caused all the anguish, and I was enjoying solid comfort once more."

"Since that experience I look upon the modern dentist as a public benefactor, and my one regret is that I can't drop into his office every day or two and have a few teeth pulled. But all my original teeth were extracted by the painless process long ago, and the signum vitæ teeth I am now wearing are strangers to aches and pains.

"The first time a man is married he is so excited that he forgets the wedding ring or the fee for the preacher, or some other essential. For days before the event he is in such a fever that his friends have trouble holding him down; and when at last the fateful hour arrives he doesn't seem like a responsible human being. I always feel sorry for a young bridegroom, he looks so rattled, and he has such a strong resemblance to a total loss."

"But the next time he gets married he is as cool and happy as though he made a practice of acquiring a bride before tea every day, and if he goes to the altar three or four times in the course of his useful career, marriage seems to him no more interesting than receiving an automobile catalogue by mail."

"And this is true of everything, Mrs. Jiggers. A man even gets used to a family boarding house, where collections are made strictly in advance, and, this being admitted, no further argument is necessary."

Birthday.
Little Robert D., two and one-half years old, of Franklin, has a two-year-old cousin, Gordon, who to his baby mind, is the hero in all that takes place, and whatever Gordie says or does is all right. Robert's mother had been telling him about Christmas, and why it was celebrated.

One evening after a strenuous day of play with the big cousin, when mother put Robert to bed, she said: "And why do we have Christmas, Robert? Whose birthday is it?"

"Santa and Gordie's," promptly replied the youngster. — Indianapolis News.

Mule Attends Church.
For the last six months, says a Los Angeles correspondent, Billy Sunday, a mule, has attended church regularly on Sundays and Wednesdays. On Sunday mornings and Wednesday evenings he departs straight for Elder Henry's church in South Canal street. He goes to the rear of the church and gets as close to the pulpit as possible in order that he may hear the discourse, and he stands there with bowed head and resists all efforts to lead him away until services are over. He always returns after the services of his own accord and never shows any trouble unless an attempt is made to restrain him when services at Elder Henry's church are going on. So far the church going of the mule has not interfered with his business duties at the plant but the officers of the box factory are certain that when a revival starts at the Union church and services are held daily, that "Billy Sunday" will insist on attending them all.

War Veterans Good Students.
In a report made by the dean of the Wisconsin university, special mention is made of the excellent progress made by the 234 disabled soldiers who are known as federal board students. Owing to their physical condition it was anticipated that they might prove indifferent students, but such has not been the case. In this instance it is said that their progress compared very favorably in every way with that of the regular students. The total number of these students has been increasing.
