GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT

Local Chapter, D. A. R.,
Have Pleasant Time

The Molly Alken Chapter, D. A. R., of this village, treated a large gathering to an entertainment of more than ordinary interest and value last Friday evening, at the Methodist church. A fine program of music was arranged by the board of managers, with Mrs. Ethel Brooks Nichols as chairman. Mr. Fred W. French, of Bedford, delightfully entertained the audience by his rendition of a number of choice solos. Messrs Hill and Rummell of Hillsboro, with fute and violin respectively, and Mrs. Gladys Brooks Lowell at the piano, constituted the orchestra. Their fine work was very much appreciated.

The speaker of the evening was Chancellor C. S. McGown of the American International College of Springfield, Mass. His subject was "The Idiosyncrasies of the American Gentleman." The address was of special interest and brim full of facts concerning Americanization. He related many things that were done for the foreigner and also suggested other things that might be done. He presented facts of interest and value and handled his subject in a masterful manner.

The American International College is doing a great work among the foreigners of that city and surrounding places. The faculty numbers seventeen and the aim of the curriculum is to give the foreign born youth, as well as home born, the same degree of culture obtained in New England colleges and high schools.

After the address Mrs. Vera McClure Butterfield rendered "An Apostrophe to the Flag," by Miss Maria Sanford. This proved a delightful complement to the address of Chancellor McGown.

The hostesses of the evening were Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. R. C. Goodell, Mrs. Peaslee, Mrs. Ashford, Mrs. Colburn, Miss Robertson, Miss Marion Wilkinson and Miss Tandy.

A social hour was enjoyed after the program, during which ice cream, cake and coffee were served. The board of managers and the hostesses deserve great credit for the success of the evening's entertainment.

Auction Sales

By W. E. Cram, Auctioneer, Antrim

Charles S. Abbott, administrator of the estate of Charles F. Whitney, will sell a lot of personal property at public auction on Saturday, October 22, at 12.30 o'clock p. m., at the Whitney barn, about 1 1/2 miles from Antrim village, on road leading past the Goodell farm to Antrim Center. Also at same time and place will be sold the 17 acre field, with barn and shed thereon; also on this acreage are a lot of grafted apple trees, 25,000 lumber and 100 cords wood. Other particulars on auction bills.

Can't Be Done—Legally

In view of the fact that some people in our state are being deceived as to the status of intoxicating liquor in the homes, we are asked by Jonathan S. Lewis, Commissioner of Law Enforcement, to publish the following extract from a statement by R. A. Haynes, Prohibition Commissioner of the United States:

"There is no legislative provision anywhere for manufacturing either intoxicating wine, cereal beverages, so-called home brew or distilled spirits in the home or elsewhere for beverage purposes."

New Officers W. C. T. U.

At the annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. Ida B. Robb
Vice Presidents—Mrs. Bertha Colby, Mrs. Fannie Hutchinson, Mrs. Mary J. Wilkinson, Mrs. Mary Reed
Secretary and Treasurer—Mrs. Elizabeth Paige

Supt. of Lumberman's Work—Mrs. Myrtle Rogers
Supt. of Relief Work—Mrs. Amy C. Goodell

Delegate to State Convention at Dover Oct. 19, 20, 21—Mrs. Emma S. Goodell

A FEW THOUGHTS

Suggested by What Is Happening Around

To honor Marshal Foch and other distinguished visitors, a squadron of six mail airplanes will fly from Washington to Kansas City during the American Legion national convention there this month, by order of Postmaster General Hays.

The big league games and the world's series are now history and the numerous accounts doubtless have all been squared. At a time when the money market was said to be a bit tight, it did not in the least appear to effect this line of business.

President Harding was commended for calling the international conference on limitation of armaments and American delegates to the meeting were urged to use every effort to make disarmament a fact in resolutions adopted by the Oklahoma department of the American Legion in state convention.

That the National automobile shows next winter in New York and Chicago will be larger than ever was evidenced by the unusual interest shown and by the large number of car manufacturers who drew for exhibition space at the offices of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. No less than 94 different makes of cars will be displayed at the Grand Central Palace, New York, from January 7 to 14, while 80 makes will be shown in the Coliseum and Armory, Chicago, January 28 to February 4. This is a record number of exhibitors. First to draw for space was the Buick Motor Company.

There are only 18,000 unemployed in New Hampshire, according to Labor Commissioner John S. B. Davies, who has secured information on the subject from all employers in the state. This compares with 34,000 who were out of work in the summer. The showing at present is due to the remarkable recovery in the textile and shoe manufacturing lines and is regarded as a better situation than exists in any other state. There is only one labor trouble of any consequence, that of the International Paper Company, which has mills at Franklin, Berlin and North Walpole, and this trouble is not giving anyone great anxiety.

October 30 is the date set for the commencement of the big railroad strike; each day thereafter additional units will be called out till on November 2 the tieup will be complete, and some two millions will be involved. This announcement was made after a wage reduction was being considered by the Association of Railway Executives. This sounds bad and it is hoped conditions may change somewhat or the leaders of the movement be instrumental in affecting a compromise in some way, to prevent any such catastrophe as this, would certainly prove to be. A general strike of this kind at this time may be beneficial to the laboring man, but to an onlooker it would appear that this is not an opportune time for such action.

Annual Harvest Supper

The annual Harvest Supper and Fair of the Presbyterian Church will be held Friday evening of this week in the vestry. The first tables will be ready at 5.30 and continue until all are served. There will be a sale of fancy articles, aprons, children's garments and home made candy. These articles will be placed on sale before the supper so that all may have an opportunity to purchase.

The entertainment for the evening will consist of moving pictures in the town hall at 8.15. The picture will be "The Magic Cap" by Constance Binney. Admission to supper and pictures 35c, and 25c will be the price of admission to pictures alone, or to those who do not attend the supper. Tickets will be secured at the church.

Miss Hattie Merrill, who has been confined to her room for two weeks by mumps, has again resumed her teaching duties in the village schools.

THE GRAND LODGE

Of Odd Fellows Elect Officers for the Year

The 74th annual session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of New Hampshire, closed at Odd Fellows' building, Nashua, Wednesday evening, with the presentation of the Past Grand Master's jewel to retiring Grand Master Ernest C. Dudley, of Concord. It followed the installation of the new officers. The session has been one of the most successful and largely attended of recent years. It was voted to have the next session at Bethlehem next October.

In the evening the members of Granite, Pennichuck and Olive Branch Rebekah lodges gave a reception to the new grand master, Dr. Forrest A. Garland, of Nashua, which was largely attended. Col. George E. Danforth was chairman of the committee in charge. There was a short musical program and entertainment.

The Grand Lodge officers elected were:

Forrest A. Garland, Nashua, Grand Master
Rev. William Weston, Marlboro, Deputy Grand Master
William A. Lewis, Lancaster, Grand Warden
Frank L. Way, Manchester, Grand Secretary
Frank W. Cilley, Exeter, Grand Treasurer
Ernest C. Dudley, Concord, Grand Representative for one year.
Arthur A. Moore, Wilton, Grand Conductor
Rev. Henry G. Megathlin, Walpole, Grand Chaplain
Philip W. Sherburne, Pittsfield, Grand Guardian
Edson D. Smith, Manchester, Grand Herald

The annual report of the grand treasurer showed 104 lodges in the state with 16,732 members, a gain of 461 members. There were 13,200 weeks of relief paid, 798 less than the year before. The total paid for relief during the year was 46,035.32, a decrease of $2765.69. Paid for watching, $2904.20.

Current expenses for the year were $83,034.49, an increase for the year of $4665.06. The total receipts of the subordinate lodges for the year were $163,759.08, an increase of revenue of $4,686.14. The cash on hand and investments are $338,684.64, an increase for the year of $48,713.40. The assets of the order, per member, are $47.74, and the cost per member, to pay sick benefits, $1.69.

The 25th annual Assembly of the New Hampshire Rebekahs was held in the same city and at the same time as the Grand Lodge. There was a large attendance at the meetings and much interest was manifest in the business of the sessions.

At the election of officers the following were selected and installed:

Mrs. Maria E. Way, Manchester, President
Miss Avis E. Trenholm, Nashua, Vice President
Mrs. Lillian M. Trombley, Dover, Grand Warden
Mrs. Martha L. Sargent, Woodsville, Grand Secretary
Mrs. Clara S. Farmer, Manchester, Grand Treasurer

Entertainment Course Opens

The first entertainment in the citizen's course was given in the town hall on Tuesday evening last, when the Plymouth Male Quartet appeared in one of their pleasing programs. They proved to be all that our people had expected and gave a most pleasing entertainment.

The next number in the course is November 11 and the entertainer is Thompson Blood.

State Needs the Money

Beginning January 1 next, weight and not horse-power will be the standard by which license fees will be levied on motor vehicles in New Hampshire. Under the existing law the owner of a motorcycle pays a fee of $2 annually into the city or state treasury, but under the new law, soon to become operative, he will pay $5 with an additional levy of $3 for a side car, making a 400 percent increase in the license fee levied upon this style of locomotion. Registration of motor vehicles in New Hampshire this year surpassed all other years, the total number registered exceeding 41,000. Had the law, which becomes effective next January, been in operation this year, the receipts from motor vehicle licenses would have exceeded by more than $300,000 the amount derived from this source this year. The increased revenue from this source is expected to materially help out in the matter of state finances during 1922, particularly in the matter of road construction and upkeep.

Nudgin' Elbows

When a feller nudges elbows, as you know a feller will that's a doin' his very durndest to scramble up life's hill, I never stop to jaw him, or to envy him his speed, or disturb a feller-feelin' that we both are sure to need—so we keep a-nudgin' elbows, as in friendliness we trudge—each one a-feelin' better'n if the other didn't budge.

It never hurts my feelin's, nor affects my mortal pride to have a feller-traveller sorter nudge me in the side; when my corns has got rebellious, or my breath's a gettin' short—the little nudge reminds me that I've got to be a sport: I'll leave it to a court house full of solemn circuit judges if it don't improve a feller's nerve to spur it up with nudges.

MADE IN MILFORD

Perhaps you are aware that Milford has the most up-to-date furniture factory in New England, with the reputation well earned of making the highest grade of goods. Buy in the town where it is made. It means

Better Designs—The Milford factory has always led in the designing of snappy furniture, and maintains its reputation now when people consider more than ever the design of their purchase.

Better Construction—It means a lot to you whether the drawers in your dresser or chiffonier run smoothly and whether the whole piece keeps in shape for a long term of service; Milford construction is not beat anywhere.

Better Finish—The finish on any piece may look all right when you make your purchase but you are concerned to have it look right after ten or twenty or more years of service. The Milford finish will "stand up."

Better Goods—Design, Construction, Material and Finish make the furniture or break it. When you buy Milford-made you are assured all of these features are right and will stay right.

Better Prices—The quality should be your first consideration but price also helps to determine your purchase. Buy where the goods are made and save your money; save also the straining and marring which are inseparable from long distance transportation.

We have always featured Milford-made. Buy at the source. It means a lot to you in every way. Let us show you. Write if you cannot call.

Reports from Mrs. Arzbie Nay, who is at a hospital in Manchester, where she had an operation, are very favorable and she is on the road to recovery.

Frank E. Wheeler, John E. Lovgren, Arthur B. Howard and H. W. Eldredge attended a meeting on Friday last of Woods Chapter, R. A. M., at Henniker.

The Grand Junior Warden, Hurd J. Steeves, of Dover, made an official visitation to Mt. Crocheted Encampment of this place on Monday evening of this week. After the business of the regular meeting, refreshments were served.

Andrew D. White showed us on Saturday a sweet potato which he had raised on his farm this year; this was one of quite a number. He also experimented to some extent with sugar cane and got results. Last year he tried broom corn in a small way with success, and this year he has raised more than he did a year ago. Brooms made from Mr. White's broom corn ought to be a great deal better than any others.

The auto of J. E. Perkins and the stage horses of C. W. Perkins were in collision last Saturday night opposite the Jameson business block. In the mix-up one of the horses received a broken leg and had to be shot. Mr. Perkins left his auto to assist, when the car kept on going till it struck a large tree in front of E. N. Davis' residence and considerable damage was done to the front of the machine. It was all done so quickly that onlookers hardly realized what was taking place.

ONE BRAND- ONE QUALITY- One Size Package

All our skill, facilities, and lifelong knowledge of the finest tobaccos are concentrated on this one cigarette—CAMEL.

Into this ONE BRAND, we put the utmost quality. Nothing is too good for Camels. They are as good as it's possible to make a cigarette.

Camel QUALITY is always maintained at the same high, exclusive standard. You can always depend on the same mellow-mild refreshing smoothness—the taste and rich flavor of choicest tobaccos—and entire freedom from cigarettey aftertaste.

And remember this! Camels come in one size package only—20 cigarettes—just the right size to make the greatest saving in production and packing. This saving goes straight into Camel Quality. That's one reason why you can get Camel Quality at so moderate a price.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And their added cost must go onto the price or come out of the quality.

One thing, and only one, is responsible for Camels great and growing popularity—that is CAMEL QUALITY.

PAINTS

Bill Smith owned a house of wood, and wished to sell it if he could, but no matter how he'd try, he couldn't find a man to buy. After many months had past, and hopes of sales were going fast, a neighbor met him on the walk and stepped to have a little talk.

"I see your house is still unsold, no doubt because it looks so old. If you will spend a little cash and paint the house from roof to sash, you'll find it looks so very well that it will not be hard to sell."

So Bill he took this good advice, and after painting raised the price, and ere a week had taken flight the house was sold to Bill's delight.

Israel Whiton Found To Be A Veteran Of Revolution

This bit of news was taken from the Winchendon, Mass., Courier, and Israel Whiton was the father of Rev. John M. Whiton, pastor of the Antrim Presbyterian church, beginning 1808.

Information was received the past week by Rev. G. W. Jones, commander of Gilman C. Parker post, G. A. R., to the effect that the late Dr. Israel Whiton, whose remains have been buried in the cemetery at Old Centre for over 100 years, was a member of the Continental Army and was in active service during the Revolutionary War.

Commander Jones placed a marker and flag on the grave Saturday and has made arrangements for having the grave properly decorated at each future Memorial Day.

The late Dr. Whiton was a practicing physician in Winchendon for nearly half a century. The epitaph on his stone reads as follows:

Sacred to the Memory of Israel Whiton
Born at Ashford, Ct., 1754
Died May 21st, 1819, in the 65th
Year of His Age
A Practising Physician in this place for 42 years. A member of the Christian Church. A friend of the Gospel, and a lover of Good Men.
Reader, wherever thou art, prepare to meet thy God.

N. H. Record of Sales Unusually Good

The sales contest of Government Savings securities between the postmasters of New Hampshire and Colorado begins to show that the Granite State is capable of doing in the way of thrift and savings. Although figures for but one month of the campaign have been received by F. C. Ayres, Government Director, Savings Division, First Federal Reserve District, it is apparent that New Hampshire is forging to the front. During the month of August Colorado increased its per capita standing by two cents while New Hampshire enjoyed an advance of three cents per capita.

The reports for Colorado for the month of September have not yet been received but it is evident that those Western postmasters will have to go some if they are to compete with our own good state, for the per capita average for New Hampshire increased four cents during September, making the sales about one-third larger than they were in August.

Among the notable sales made in September may be mentioned those of Postmaster George E. Farrand at Concord, Postmaster J. R. Killkelly at Wilton, Postmaster George E. Danforth at Nashua, Postmaster E. M. Ware at Peterboro, Postmaster H. B. Heath at Plymouth and Postmaster A. W. Eaton at Wolfboro.

Had Jolly Time

Members of the W. R. C., of which Mrs. Jane Bass is a charter member, gave her a reception at the home of Mrs. Robb, on the afternoon of Oct. 12. A very social, jolly time was enjoyed by all present. Coffees, cake and fancy cookies were served and as a matter of respect and sympathy for her in having the misfortune, several weeks ago, to break her wrist, thus disabling her for her usual active work, a pound party was connected with the social, and all members, whether present at the gathering or not, wish her good health and good cheer for the future.

OLD PILOT HAPPY

Nick Durand Has Big Store of Pleasant Memories.

His Recollections Cover Thirty-Three Years of Splendid Service on the Ohio River Ferries.

With the snubby-nosed old ferry tied up to await its doom, the planks of the rotting wharf drifting wearily out with the current, Nick Durand, aid to eloping couples and for thirty-three years on one after another of the Ohio river craft, is left once more without a vessel.

At the time he shipped on the Shallcross in 1888, the river surged with steamboats, bound for Cincinnati with Mississippi molasses or noising their way downstream to Vicksburg, loaded with butter and candle wicks. That was the time when the ferry boat piled to and fro with white decks and the tops of the wheelhouses painted blue, carrying every one from fuzzy-whiskered farmers to nurse girls in plaid-dotted sunbonnets—for there was no bridge and the only crossing to be had was by way of the dock-apron and the gangplank.

Names of vessels scarcely remembered along the river slip from the pilot's tongue as he recounts tales gathered from thousands of trips he has made.

The Rainbow, the Gray Eagle, the Druehand—in all that time, he boasts, although he has beaten his way back and forth through wind and fog and ice-clogged water, no serious accident has occurred.

With a chuckle, he tells of the couples that have made their way down the river from hand in hand and often coming aboard oblivious of passengers and starting deckhands—forgetting to pay their fare as they passed the little counter at the dock.

"Lor, yes, there's been a plenty of them," he smiles, wagging his chin. "You can tell 'em every time. They come down all eyes for each other, and none for anybody else. Usually they get off and get it over with as soon as possible, and when they come back they are more loving than ever, then they stand over in a corner unrolling the certificate to look at. How many? I couldn't tell—I expect some of them are famous by now, but I could never keep track of any."

During the years that Nick Durand has shipped on Ohio steamers, he has seen the river change from a heavily traveled thoroughfare to a mere alley way where an occasional paddle is seen. Before the building of the Big Four bridge at Louisville, the ferries came bobbing daintily across at 15-minute intervals but after its construction the farmers and nurse girls drifted away, and for a time the ferry, stanch of hull, but frowny of rigging came hobbling by like a ragged old woman, shaggy-browed and with skirts tucked in.

But Durand will not be long without a boat; he has already been engaged as pilot of the Pilgrim, which was retained by the owners, and is now being fitted out for slow, lingering sapphire days up the river.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

New Housing Idea in Rome.
Rome will become a city of odd appearance if the plans for the solution of the housing problem proposed by some Italian engineers are put in operation. The proposal is to build on the flat roofs of most of the buildings in Rome light houses of three and four stories.

The engineers have placed their ideas before Henry Coit MacCleave, United States commercial attaché to the American embassy. They have asked that American capital become interested in the project. The material for the whole of the scheme, according to the engineers' suggestions, would come from America because of the adaptability of American light construction methods in the choice of materials and means of assembling.

Mr. MacCleave has succeeded in interesting several American business men in the project and other projects along the line of building construction in Rome.

Worse and Worse.
Two Scotchmen who, though good friends, were poles apart on politics, were discussing the doings of their local representative. Said one: "He sent me a brace of fine birds before election last year."
"Man," replied the other; "that was bribery."
"But," said the first speaker, "we could-na eat them; they were see high we just had to throw them awa."
"Worse and worse," quoth his friend, "that was bribery and corruption."—Boston Transcript.

No Solitude.
"How pleasant it must be to dwell in the wilderness, far, far from the maddening crowds," we rhapsodically exclaimed.
"That is what I expected it would be before I came," solemnly replied the hermit. "But soon after I got located a rumor started that I was making a pretty fair article of home brew in my cave here, and ever since I have had more callers than a prizefight champion. Kindly sign your name in the visitors' book, and go on your way."—Kansas City Star.

Rents Only to Families Having Five Children, in Manchester

The idea landlord has been found. He is Hugh O'Dowd, and a bachelor at that. O'Dowd in his advertisements of property to rent, says he will not let tenements to families with less than five children, and he controls 21 tenements. It is expected he will be swamped with applications.

Lands Plant Worth About $2000

Sheriff Chrysler received the surprise of his life when he raised this place run by Mario Bucheri on the Lawrence road, Hollis. He found two stills, each with a capacity of 150 gallons and 44 barrels of mash. There was enough apparatus, the members of the raiding party stated, to equip a real distillery. The "moonshine" plant had been installed recently and Bucheri says it cost him at least $2000.

Boston Opinion of Poison Case

C. E. Holton, acting chief of the Boston station of the food and drug inspection, in a letter to State Chemist, Charles D. Howard, suggests that the arsenate of lead which poisoned the family of Nathaniel Mudgett of West street, Concord, may have been placed in the bag after the flour was purchased. A complete investigation in Boston reveals no sign of arsenate of lead in the flour manufacturers' store house or in the trucks which move the flour, writes the Boston inspector.

Half Century As B. & M. Worker

Ira B. Simonds of Bethlehem has an unusual record to his credit, that of continuous work for 50 years for one company. When nearly 16 years of age he began work for the Boston and Maine railroad as section hand on the branch between Wink Road and Bethlehem Junction. After 13 years of work he was appointed section foreman a position he still holds, and with the exception of two years when he was on the Whitefield branch he has walked the same line through winter's storms and summer's heat and kept faithfully at his work for half a century.

May Replace Aliens With Service Men

American Legion posts have started investigation of charges that war veterans are victims of discrimination in Manchester in obtaining employment. Sweeney post sent out questionnaires to local employers and idle service men were registered as to their qualifications for certain positions. The post committee is attempting to bring unemployed and employers into touch. Foreign born residents who are holding down good jobs as the result of exemptions during the war, because they were not Americans, are expected to be replaced by former service men.

Sexton Hangs Self in Church-Belfry

John Gatherum, 30, for the last 3 years sexton of the South Congregational church, Concord, committed suicide in the belfry of the church using the bell rope to end his life. He had climbed the ladder to the belfry, tied the big rope around his neck and jumped off the platform. He was employed at the office of Stratton & Co. and went to his home at noon, apparently in good spirits. He ate his dinner and left the house supposedly to return to his work.

Effects of Shading Horticultural Plants

Results of an investigation into the effects of shading some horticultural plants—a problem of particular interest to fruit growers because of its bearing upon pruning—have just been published by the New Hampshire Agricultural Experiment Station in its series of technical bulletins (Tech Bull. No. 12). The work was conducted by J. H. Gourley and G. T. Nightingale.

In order to determine the effect of withdrawing sunlight, cloth screens of two different thicknesses were constructed over apple and peach trees, and careful comparisons made between these trees and others growing in the open. Shading observations were made with gages, measuring, back wheat, lettuce, aster, tomato, nasturtium and egg plant. In proportion as the plants were shaded it was found that in general the leaves increased in size and decrease in thickness. The green color of the foliage was intensified and the surface became distinctly glossier. The leaves dropped earlier from the shaded trees than from the check trees. Of particular importance was the effect upon flowering which was modified by shading and in some cases entirely suppressed. The fruit trees failed to develop flower buds as freely under the shade. In a majority of species studied the shading resulted in a delay in flowering of from a few days to more than a month.

The report is a preliminary one and certain phases of the investigation are still under way at the Experiment Station as a part of the long time Adams project in Fruit Bud Formation.

City Left Out of Shoe Study

The Haverhill shoe controversy which has attracted the attention of Manchester shoe manufacturers and shoe workers, owing to the fact that the arbitration board was considering a visit to Manchester to look over the local situation under the impression that the Queen City was a competitive shoe center, has resulted in the arbitrators excluding Manchester from their deliberations owing to the fact, as the Haverhill board reports, that Manchester is not an organized center, although there is competition.

Patrick G. Hogan and Henry G. Wells, a majority of the arbitrators, in their findings say "Neither Manchester nor Manchester shall be considered in establishing a competitive basis for price fixing in the local shoe industry, following the final ruling of the arbitration board on this point of contention. After careful analysis of evidence and personal investigation, the board has ruled that no real competition exists between Haverhill and Brookline and that therefore prices are excluded from consideration. In the case of Manchester, the board finds as in their decision of May 1, that there is competition between Haverhill and Manchester, but that the city is not an organized shoe center, and that therefore prices are excluded from consideration."

Dr. Garland, Nashua, Heads Odd Fellows

The 78th annual session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. of New Hampshire was held at Odd Fellows' Bldg., Nashua, with presentation of the Past Grand Master's badge to retiring Grand Master Ernest C. Duffley of Concord. It followed the installation of the new officers. The session has been one of the most successful and largely attended of recent years. It was voted to have the next session at Bethlehem next October. Foremost A. Garland, of Nashua, was elected Grand Master.

The annual report of the grand treasurer showed 104 lodges in the State with 16,732 members, a gain for the year of 461 members. There were 12,200 weeks of relief paid, 788 less than the year before. The total paid for relief during the year was $44,025.22, a decrease of $2765.63. Paid for watching the year $2304.26.

Rockingham County Apple Crop Said to be Under Average

The Rockingham county apple crop or the average is smaller this year, although in some sections of the county there is an abundant yield, this being particularly true near the coast where late late May frosts and the hail storm of June did not strike with such damaging force. Many of the apples in this section show the marks of the hail, they being flattened and mis-shaped. The apple growers are now in the midst of their harvest, and they report what fruit there is to be of a fair size and quality, with plenty of windfall.

MARRYING A FAMILY

"I'M GLAD Jim Shaffer and Sophie Gherkin are married," said the druggist. "They are well suited to each other and should live happily ever after. Sophie is a fine young woman. Of course, she has a good many punk relatives, but Jim didn't marry the family."

"The afraid he did," remarked the village patriarch. "A man can't marry a girl like Sophie without leaving the family throws in. She may be determined to keep her sisters and cousins and aunts at a distance, but such people won't take a hint. In order to keep them off the premises, Sophie will have to stand at the front gate with a double-barreled shotgun, and that would interfere with her housework."

"If a man marries a woman who has a string of undesirable relatives, he should at once take his bride away from them. Let him board a fast train and travel as far as the rails go, and then marry into the brush, and perhaps he'll escape the wrath to come. If he camps down in the old home town, where those relatives are hanging out, he is sure to have trouble."

"My third wife was gifted with many uncles and cousins and brothers and sisters of the bargain counter kind. Any six of them would have been dear at 60 cents. Before we were married, I explained to Maria that I wouldn't stand for those relatives, and she said she wouldn't expect me to. She gave me her word of honor that she wouldn't have anything to do with them, or let them have anything to do with her, and she meant every word she said."

"In those days I was poor, and I realized that it would keep me bustling to keep the wolf away from the door, without having to provide for any cousins or aunts. About a month after we were married, I went home unexpectedly in the middle of the afternoon one day, and found my wife filling a basket with pieces of fried chicken, and jars of jam, and oranges, and various expensive things adapted to the life of the rich."

"I asked her what she was going to do, and she colored up and stammered around, and finally explained that her Aunt Rachel was dangerously sick and she thought it would be a real kindness to take her a few delicacies. 'Of course,' Maria said, 'I haven't forgotten my promise, and I don't intend to have anything more to do with my folks than I can help, but in a case of sickness the rules should be suspended.'"

"I am willing to suspend them to the extent of a slice of buttered toast and a hard-boiled egg," I said, "but you have four dollars' worth of victuals in that basket, and that's rubbing it in your Aunt Rachel's little toe strong!"

"So she unloaded most of the things she had put in the basket and said I had no heart, and went away weeping. Up to that moment our married life had been like a sunny morning, but

RED CROSS RESCUED 600 FROM DEATH

Spent $1,200,000 for Relief of Famine Sufferers in China Last Year.

To help overcome conditions of acute distress in five famine stricken provinces of Northern China, where millions of persons were affected by an unprecedented shortage of food, the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year spent more than $1,200,000, $1,000,000 of which was contributed directly by National Headquarters and the remainder by various groups interested in the welfare of China.

Through the wide relief operations thus made possible it is estimated that more than 600,000 famine sufferers were saved from starvation.

To the end that similar preventable measures by the organization may always be possible the Red Cross is soliciting continued support by the American people by national renewal of membership at the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 24.

The method of relief employed by the American Red Cross in its operations in China was particularly effective, for in addition to saving hundreds of thousands of lives it provided China with more than 800 miles of permanent roads that are surely needed to prevent a recurrence of famine. At one time the Red Cross employed 74,000 Chinese workmen, paying them in food for themselves and dependents, this food being brought in from Manchuria and elsewhere.

RED CROSS WORKING FOR HEALTHIER U. S.

Thousands Aided by Instruction in Care of the Sick, Food Selection and First Aid.

How the American Red Cross guides thousands of persons to health is shown in a summary of the society's activities in the health field based upon the annual report for the last fiscal year. Through its Nursing Service, its Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses, nutrition classes, First Aid classes, Life-Saving classes and Health Centers and in numerous other ways designed to acquire masses of citizens with proper methods of living, the Red Cross carried its message of health into all parts of the country.

The work of the Red Cross during the war in its traditional field of nursing, furnishing the military and naval establishments of the nation with 18,577 nurses, is well known. And there are today 27,737 nurses registered with the American Red Cross and subject to call in emergency. During the fiscal year, 1,551 Red Cross nurses were accepted for assignment to Government service, 308 by the Army and Navy and 1,243 by the United States Public Health Service.

In addition to the nurses enrolled by the Red Cross for Government service, the Red Cross itself employed a total of 1,245 public health nurses in the United States and Europe. By far the greatest number was employed in the United States, 1,227, while 18 were in foreign service.

Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes, giving thorough instruction in the proper care of the sick in instances where the illness is not so serious as to require professional nursing care, during the fiscal year numbered 5,178. A statistical picture of the Red Cross operations in this field follows:

Nursing classes during year.....	5,178
Classes completed during year.....	6,290
New students enrolled.....	161,068
Students completing course.....	73,422

What the Red Cross accomplished in giving proper instruction through its Nutrition Service is indicated by the following table:

New classes started during year.....	142
Classes completed during year.....	126
New students enrolled.....	2,341
Students completing course.....	2,013

In addition to the above, a total of 22,000 children were given instruction in the proper selection and preparation of foods.

Through its 200 Health Centers, the Red Cross reached 30,232 persons. In these Health Centers, 4,615 health lectures were given and 789 health exhibits held.

In the United States last year, 75,482 persons were killed and 1,300,000 injured in industrial accidents. To prevent this enormous waste the Red Cross held 5,100 first aid classes with a total of 104,000 students enrolled.

Up-to-Date Surplus.

It is a far cry from the Erie canal to the present large canal of New York state, and just as far from the male-banded canal boat to the latest type of self-propelled barges which were recently built to run on the Erie canal. These barges, five in number, were built in Duluth, and will be propelled by 140-horsepower direct reversible Diesel engines. They are 250 feet long, 35-foot beam, 10-foot draft with a displacement of 2,129 tons each. Besides being self-propelled they are all thoroughly equipped with electric auxiliaries, having electric hydraulic steering gear, electric anchor windlasses, and electric capstans. They are all electrically lighted, the electricity for the various purposes for which it is used being provided on each barge by three 10-kilowatt generators, driven by a 15-horsepower Diesel engine. The cargo capacities range from 1,500 to 1,750 tons each, which, to any one who remembers the old canal boats, will give an idea of the type of traffic to be expected on the canal.

Somewhat Over-Particular.

Some of the British miners' families were very particular during the coal strike. In a certain mining village of North Yorkshire, where the strikers' children were being fed by the subscriptions which their parents extracted from the rest of the community, it was found that at the midday meal about 70 per cent of the children refused to take the soup which was offered to them, saying that they preferred bread or tea. The authorities, realizing that they were catering for a very exacting clientele, knew better than to take offense at this refusal and announced that tea would be served at 5 o'clock, whereupon one starving child exclaimed: "That's me girl the me: me mastic kumon's at five!"

Sure Enough.

"We'll have to assess your copper stock."

"But I thought I was to be in on the ground floor."

"You are. And that's the point where we start digging."

RED CROSS RESCUED 600 FROM DEATH

Spent $1,200,000 for Relief of Famine Sufferers in China Last Year.

To help overcome conditions of acute distress in five famine stricken provinces of Northern China, where millions of persons were affected by an unprecedented shortage of food, the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year spent more than $1,200,000, $1,000,000 of which was contributed directly by National Headquarters and the remainder by various groups interested in the welfare of China.

Through the wide relief operations thus made possible it is estimated that more than 600,000 famine sufferers were saved from starvation.

To the end that similar preventable measures by the organization may always be possible the Red Cross is soliciting continued support by the American people by national renewal of membership at the Annual Red Cross Roll Call, November 11 to 24.

The method of relief employed by the American Red Cross in its operations in China was particularly effective, for in addition to saving hundreds of thousands of lives it provided China with more than 800 miles of permanent roads that are surely needed to prevent a recurrence of famine. At one time the Red Cross employed 74,000 Chinese workmen, paying them in food for themselves and dependents, this food being brought in from Manchuria and elsewhere.

It is a far cry from the Erie canal to the present large canal of New York state, and just as far from the male-banded canal boat to the latest type of self-propelled barges which were recently built to run on the Erie canal. These barges, five in number, were built in Duluth, and will be propelled by 140-horsepower direct reversible Diesel engines. They are 250 feet long, 35-foot beam, 10-foot draft with a displacement of 2,129 tons each. Besides being self-propelled they are all thoroughly equipped with electric auxiliaries, having electric hydraulic steering gear, electric anchor windlasses, and electric capstans. They are all electrically lighted, the electricity for the various purposes for which it is used being provided on each barge by three 10-kilowatt generators, driven by a 15-horsepower Diesel engine. The cargo capacities range from 1,500 to 1,750 tons each, which, to any one who remembers the old canal boats, will give an idea of the type of traffic to be expected on the canal.
