REPUBLICANS SWEEP THE COUNTRY

New Hampshire Elects Winant, Republican Governor, and County Is Safely Republican

As Goes Antrim So Goes the State and Nation, that is to say, the whole thing is Republican, while some get there with large majorities others have to be satisfied with somewhat smaller votes, but they will do just as good service for the party. The State and County are back in the Republican column again, owing principally to the heavy vote cast. Senator Keyes is re-elected to the U. S. Senate, and Representative Wason is re-elected to Congress in the 2d District; Fletcher Hale is elected to Congress in the 1st District. The Governor's Council, Senate and House will be strongly Republican, and a harmonious administration is the forecast of Governor Winant's term.

The majorities all over the country are most satisfactory to the Republican party, and it is the general feeling now that business conditions will not be disturbed as they otherwise would have been.

The polls in Antrim were opened at a little past 10 o'clock, following the reading of the warrant by Moderator Johnson and prayer by Rev. William Thompson. 486 ballots were cast out of a total of 613 on the check list. At four o'clock the polls were closed; counting ceased at about seven o'clock, when the Moderator announced the result of the vote, which will be found elsewhere in connection with this article.

The straight Republican ballots totaled 208, and one of the strange things about the election was that in addition 65 otherwise straight Republican ballots had a vote for the Democratic candidate; yet with other "splitts" the Republican candidate for Representative was elected. The Australian ballot is a remarkable thing, and again proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that the voter knows absolutely how to vote.

We will not be bothered again for seven years regarding the calling of a Constitutional Convention, for the vote on Tuesday was overwhelmingly against this proposition.

Native of Antrim Marries

A very pretty wedding took place in New Haven, Conn., the 17th of September, at the First Methodist church, when Miss Blanche Congreve, daughter of William Congreve, and Charles Thomas, son of Richard L. Thomas, of Philadelphia, were married by Rev. Franklin Kennedy. Miss Congreve was a charming bride in white crepe and Spanish lace with coronet veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and swansonias. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Congreve, as bridesmaid, in fawn color romaine crepe, with head dress of rosebuds; she carried Coolidge roses. Harold Congreve, brother of the bride, was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. The out of town guests were R. L. Thomas of Philadelphia, Mrs. Jennie Meyer of Ramsey, New Jersey, and Miss Irene Willard of Leominster, Mass. After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left on their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., and the White Mountains. The bride traveled in a midnight blue satin crepe gown, with a Harding blue panne velvet hat and taupe colored wrap.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a white gold wrist watch, and the gift to the best man was a gold fountain pen and pencil.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas on their return took their residence at 122 Read street, New Haven, Conn.

Three Cents' Worth

At the Faculty club at Indiana university a few nights ago the older professors were discussing how they saved the pennies when they were young professors. The story that took the prize was told by the head of a department. He said he ordered three cents' worth of meat from the butcher for his cat. The meat was delivered at his house, but before it came the cat had caught a mouse, so the professor called the butcher and asked whether he would come and get the meat and take it back—refunding, of course, the amount paid for it.

It was reported that the butcher took the meat back—Indianapolis News.

Captain Sheldon Is Star Player

Photograph shows James Sheldon, captain and end of the Brown university team of Providence, R. I. Sheldon is strong on defense, fast down the field, a hard tackler and not easily drawn in or put out of the play. He weighs 108, and is red headed, which may account for his fighting qualities.

Reason for Donie Bush's Success With Indians

The reason for Donie Bush's success with the Indianapolis team this year is easily explained—a manager that has the confidence of his players, observed Ed Walker in the Minneapolis Journal. Before a recent crucial game with St. Paul, Donie, not to shift responsibility from his shoulders, but in an effort to let his players get into the game with the greatest confidence, permitted them to decide on the pitcher.

"I'm not trying to shift any blame that might result off my shoulders, boys," said Bush. "I'm willing to carry the load, but today's game is a very important one. You fellows have fought to the best of your ability all season. You have been successful and you have made me so. I want you to select the pitcher."

Jess Petty, hurling ace, was the first to speak. "I believe that Durwell is the man for the job," said Jess. Durwell was finally selected. He lost, but it can be said he fought hard. Such was the spirit of the team.

French Promoter Would Sign Champion Dempsey

Desiring to stage a fight between Jack Dempsey and Ezequiel Paolino, Spanish fighter, the proprietor of the bull ring at Bayonne, recently got in touch with Dempsey's manager, Jack Kearns, says the Petit Parisien. The manager, according to the paper, accepted the offer on condition that Dempsey received a fixed sum, the amount of which is not named, in addition to a percentage of the gate receipts.

The proprietor, the paper adds, now is reflecting and apparently the conditions laid down by Kearns "give ample food for reflection."

Not Worth While

It isn't what it's cracked up to be, according to members of the champion Waterbury team of the Eastern league. When the season was over the team played three games with the Baltimore champions and two with Richmond of the Virginia league, and for these efforts they were rewarded to the magnificent extent of slightly more than $100 apiece. The attendance at the Baltimore games was a disappointment and in Richmond they made just about their expenses.

BUCKY HARRIS WAS STARTED BY ERROR

Youthful Manager of Nationals Answered Telegram Sent Brother.

Fate has shaped much of the career of Stanley Harris, youthful manager of Washington's first pennant winner. A prank of fate gave him his start. Ever since, fate has watched over him, always in a most favorable manner.

Nine years ago Stanley Harris was playing second base for the Pittston (Pa.) team. Today he is the most talked-about figure in baseball.

Harris is more than a miracle man, he's the "miracle kid."

The story goes that Frank Brower of the Cleveland Indians gave Harris his start. Incidentally it was a brother of Stanley's that Brower had in mind.

Back in 1918 Brower was playing first base for Reading, Pa., in the International league. The club needed a second baseman badly.

Brower informed the club manager that he had played with a fellow by the name of Harris in the South and he looked like a good man.

It also happened that Brower did not remember the first name of the said Mr. Harris. The Reading club decided to take a chance and sent the following wire:

"Harris, Baseball Player, Pittston, Pa.: Can you report at once? Need a second baseman badly."

Now it happens the telegram was intended for Merle Harris, who at the time was playing in the West. The wire was received by his brother, Stanley.

Harris took the first train for Reading. Imagine Brower's surprise when he found Mr. Harris reported!

When acquainted with the facts in the case by the youthful Stanley, Brower decided it would be best to go through with it, although he had no confidence in the ability of Harris to make good his recommendation.

In the first game Harris fielded perfectly and in four trips to the plate he made a single, two doubles and scored the winning run.

Later Harris was traded to the Buffalo club of the same league. The Washington club was tipped off that he was a good prospect. Griffith scouts reported favorably.

Not satisfied Griffith looked Harris over himself. The owner of the Nationals liked his style. After the game he learned that for several weeks Harris had been playing with a broken finger.

"That fact caused Griffith to buy him. He liked the spirit. It is the spirit of Harris that has made Washington a pennant winner.

Fate and a fighting spirit have shaped the career of Stanley Harris—very successfully, too.

Sporting Squibs

Twelve years is said to cover the career of the average baseball player.

The first baseball team to win a championship was the New Yorks, in 1858.

Bobby Jones, amateur golf champion, is the finest shot-maker in the game.

The first shut-out game in the annals of baseball took place at Dexter park, Chicago, July 23, 1870.

Wagner led the National league in batting for eight years. Cobb led the American league for twelve years.

Prior to 1858 it was customary in baseball to have two umpires—one chosen by each club—and a referee.

Chicago Nationals have purchased Al Niehaus, first baseman, from Chattanooga of the Southern association.

Several of the cities in the Southern league circuit passed well beyond the 200,000 mark in attendance this year.

Norman (Kid) Elberfeld has signed a contract to manage the Mobile, Southern association baseball team, for next year.

Chick Evans has volunteered to teach the President how to play. This seems like a political play to get some of Mr. Davis' golf votes.

Athletics in the United States hold 35 of the 50 world's records for track and field events. Great Britain is next with 25 and Finland is third with 12.

In the recent Grand American trapshooting tournament at Dayton, Ohio, a total of 404,645 targets were used, a record number for the trapshooting classic.

Baltimore won its sixth consecutive pennant in the International league this season. No other club in the history of organized baseball has won six flags in a row.

According to Tom Gibbons, the American boxer, our English boxers don't fight enough. The trouble is that some American boxers stop them.—London Punch.

Jack Dempsey is the joint owner, with Jack Kearns, his manager, of two de luxe apartment hotels in Los Angeles. The hotels are said to be worth over $1,000,000.

Jack Dempsey will defend his title of world's heavyweight champion in Madison Square Garden, New York city, this winter, and Tom Gibbons will most likely be his opponent.

The only thing that everybody agrees upon in this baseball scandal is that Cozy Dolan wasn't offering his own $500. One might as well expect a player piano to lay a dozen eggs.

J. Yamada of Japan, a brother of Koji Yamada, former billiard champion of Japan, is in this country on a visit. He says Koji may participate in bakline championship matches next year.

R. H. McGarity, Washington, D. C., established a new world's record recently when he ran up a string of 120 consecutive bull's-eyes on the 220-yard, small bore range with a .32-caliber rifle at prone position in a match at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Daddy Vance says he will never forget his defeat by Chicago, in which he allowed only four hits, but three of them happened to be home runs. There is plenty of dynamite in Vance's feet ball when the batsman properly times it.

Hornsby Is the Logical Successor to H. Wagner

Rogers Hornsby is wearing the mantle that Hans Wagner tossed aside in the National league when he retired several years ago, writes H. G. Salsinger, in the Detroit News. Hornsby is the logical successor to Wagner.

Gradually the playing value of Hornsby is becoming established. He has been a star for several years, but because of his hitting, his fielding was overlooked.

At the end of Hughie Jennings' first year with the Giants after he left the American league for the National, he said of Hornsby:

"He is the most under-rated man in baseball, the least appreciated. Hornsby is one of the best fielders the game has produced. He doesn't get credit for it. One reason is his style, another his hitting. A man that hits as well as Hornsby is regarded so highly as a hitter that people overlook his work in the field. They watch him closely only at bat."

Bogue Is at Auburn

Frankie Bogue, for the last three years prominent in the athletics of Spring Hill college, has entered the Alabama Polytechnic institute as a student of electricity. Though by conference ruling Bogue is ineligible this year for any team, he will be a candidate well worth watching next year when the whistle blows for training. Bogue is light for football, but will be a great help to the baseball and basketball teams. As well as being a splendid athlete he is a popular fellow.

The Self-Possessed Prince

Bernard Shaw, as everyone knows, is self-possessed to the verge of being inhuman. In a letter to a friend he once illustrated the fact that he never cried over split milk by likening himself to an Indian prince whose favorite wife, when banqueting with him, caught fire and was burnt to ashes before she could be extinguished. The Indian prince took in the situation at once and faced it in a thoroughly Shavian manner. "Sweep up your missus," he said to his weeping staff, "and bring in the roast pheasant!"—Passing Show (London).

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness are oftentimes symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing, be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Autos in the Desert

The Arabian sheik no longer gallops across the desert on a thoroughbred steed—he uses an auto. So says Lord Thomson, British air minister, who has returned from Iraq, according to the New York Post. The gasoline supply has been organized by Englishmen, with a filling station along the desert road. The gasoline is kept in concrete subterranean chambers.

His "Catch"

"Hello, where have you been?" asked Binks.

He was on his way home from the office and had overruken Jinks, who looked wet and muddy and was burdened with fishing tackle.

"Been fishing," replied Jinks solemnly.

"Catch much?" was the next question.

"Oh, yes; too much," Jinks laughed mirthfully. "Too much for me."

"What did you catch?" inquired Binks eagerly.

"First train there, last train back," Jinks told him bitterly. "Caught in a shower, caught a cold and expect I shall catch it when I get home."

Why America Must Have More Paved Highways

Permanent roads are a good investment—not an expense.

Almost every section of the United States is confronted by a traffic problem.

Month by month this problem is becoming more and more serious.

Hundreds of cars pass a given point every hour on many of our state and county roads. Down-town city streets are jammed with traffic.

Think, too, how narrow many of our roads are, and how comparatively few paved highways there are in proportion to the steadily increasing number of cars.

If the motor vehicle is to continue giving the economic service of which it is capable, we must have more concrete highways and widen those near large centers of population.

Every citizen should discuss highway needs of his community with his local authorities.

Your highway officials will do their part if given your support.

Why postpone meeting this pressing need?

An early start means early relief.

Silage Gases Dangerous
According to the United States Department of Agriculture the poisonous gases formed in a silo overnight while the silo is in process of being filled are deadly to persons. Freshly cut silage in the partially filled silo is the cause. When there is no air circulation the gases remain in considerable volume; immediate death may result from entering such a silo. To avert this danger, says the department, run the ensilage cutter for a few minutes before anyone enters the silo. Air currents stirred up by the blower will either dilute the gases or drive them from the silo.—Exchange.

Next in Course

For the second number in the entertainment course, the committee will bring to Antrim on Friday evening, Nov. 14, at 8 o'clock, the Royal Holland Bell Ringers, a really wonderful entertainment—educational, entertaining, entirely different. There is a versatile program of many rare and artistic novelties, interspersed with folk songs and dances of the picturesque Netherlands. Appearing in costume, they introduce many novel musical instruments; they even get music out of ordinary farm bells. There are six members in this popular family organization, and their program will satisfy the most particular audiences.

REPORTER RAMBLINGS

How to increase the pay of its employees and reduce the fares charged the public is more of a problem than the Boston Elevated road can solve. They have done the obvious thing and raised the fares.

We read that Governor Bryan is not making speeches because the Democratic national committee will not furnish a special train. This points to a trait of cleverness on the part of the Democratic committee on strategy.

Connecticut has a plan for taxing billboards and using the proceeds in setting out shade trees and beautifying the roadsides. This seems to be entirely feasible. Those who deface the countryside should pay for improving it.

America's tax burden was $775,000,000 heavier in 1923 than in 1922, and in ten years the load has grown more than $5,500,000,000. It is not surprising that tax reduction is the most popular plank in any political platform. The difficulty is in paying the national bills without the aid of taxes.

Manufacturers say that in silk stockings black is the most popular now and fully 25% of the sales are black hosiery. White is only 3% and fancy colors supply the remainder. Our "man about town" has not furnished the office with the result of his observations so for the present we are accepting the statements of the manufacturers.

The Columbia Record remarks that "Women are probably the weaker sex, but they display more backbone than we men do, according to the pictures we see." Well, the movies seem to be in a flourishing condition, so that probably it will be sometime before male backbones are called from retirement.

Now that we have the big dirigible what are we going to do with it?

Straws show which way the wind blows, but at present the political wind does not seem to be blowing very briskly.

Thousands and thousands of football devotees are enjoying the early Fall contests, showing that the pigskin retains its popularity for the short season accorded it.

President Hustis of the Boston and Maine railroad has issued a statement containing the good tidings that the road may soon be on a paying basis and the red ink figures eliminated. Improved business conditions benefit the railroads as well as the automobile business.

The great scarcity of helium gas in the United States is shown by the fact that there is not enough to keep the Shenandoah and her sister ship ZR-3 in the air at the same time. Why not try to use some of the superabundance of political gas now enveloping the country?

The gloomy pessimists who so freely predicted a few years ago that gasoline would soon soar to $1 per gallon have not been broadcasting the past few weeks while the price of gas was steadily declining, reaching low levels which bring joy to the hearts of the motoring public.

The Boston Transcript sounds a note of caution in saying that "Easy-going Republicans are reminded that October predictions may not gibe with November results." Fortunately for the entire country this is true. Can anyone imagine what a mix-up we would be in if all the pre-election forecasts were correct?

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knight were invited out in the country to spend the evening at a pop corn party. At 7.30 friends called for them; a spin was taken around the square, then they were landed at the Burnham House, where they were welcomed. Suspended from an arch was a silver bell, with silver and white streamers, held by Miss Helen Muzzy and Miss Alice Mulhall. The surprised Mr. and Mrs. Knight began to think something, and wished to go home and dress up. While Mrs. "Al" Genier played the wedding march, the surprised couple were escorted in, placed beneath an arch of green and silver and white chrysanthemums. Realizing now it was their 25th wedding anniversary and that brothers and sisters, nieces and nephews had prepared this occasion for them, a musical program was rendered and an original poem was read by Mrs. Philbrick. A beautiful floor lamp was presented Mr. and Mrs. Knight. A pretty cake frosted in pale yellow inscribed in silver "99-24" was on the table, and refreshments of sandwiches, coffee, cake and ice cream were served.

Ladies' Mission Circle Holds Successful Annual

The Presbyterian ladies' mission circle held its annual harvest supper and entertainment at their church on Friday evening last, and an unusually large number of people attended, many being present from out of town. Supper was served from six to eight o'clock and it is safe to say that nearly 300 partook of the most excellent spread that was furnished; baked beans, boiled dish and all the fixings, with pies, cakes, coffee, etc., made a most satisfying menu. During the supper hour, the Dearborn orchestra discoursed most acceptable music to the enjoyment of everybody.

The entertainment followed the supper and consisted of a pleasing farce entitled "Oysters," reading, vocal duets and orchestral music, in all making a very entertaining program.

It being "Hallow'en night" the decorations of vestry and ladies parlor were in harmony with that occasion, and witches, black cats, and pumpkins were much in evidence.

The fruit and vegetables had been attractively arranged; were quickly sold at auction at the close of the evening by Harry Bigelow, whose magnetic personality and voice made it impossible for the purchasers to lag.

The committee in charge has every reason to feel pleased with the success of its efforts. Including the sale of fancy articles, the receipts of the evening were very satisfactory and netted a good sum for the ladies' treasury.

William M. Myers Post, No. 50, American Legion, will observe Armistice Day with a Concert and Ball, as will be seen by their advertisement on first page of this paper. A fine time is being arranged and you'll want to be there to enjoy it.

According to figures announced at the state headquarters, a total of $34,745.69 has been spent in tuberculosis work in New Hampshire so far this year. The largest single expenditure was for housing service, including case finding, investigations, home visiting for supervision and health educational programs.

A total of $3,253.30 went for administration, salaries, stationery, postage, office supplies, rent, telephone and incidentals. The educational program, bulletins, pamphlets, literature, exhibits, modern health crusade and supplies cost $2,079.38. Travel on administrative work, investigations, survey, etc., cost $1,352.03. The total is brought to the $34,745.69 figure by the cost of the Christmas Seal sale and the five per cent of the receipts which goes to the national association.

The state association has a balance of $4,374.50 in the bank to carry on the work until after Christmas when the receipts from the seal sale come in.

Predict Extinction of Chestnut Tree

There is no hope for the chestnut tree, in the opinion of experts of the state forestry department. The trees are rapidly disappearing in the vicinity of Concord and throughout New Hampshire the situation is about the same. The chestnut blight is to blame and this is one tree disease for which no one has yet found a remedy.

What is happening here is apparently fated to happen all over the country. The forestry department has received a federal bulletin stating that "the chestnut blight is now found throughout the Southern Appalachian region and is spreading much more rapidly than originally predicted. Within ten years large amounts of chestnuts heretofore unharmed will be killed. Owners of chestnut stumps, therefore, should sell their timber as rapidly as suitable markets can be found for it."

Good progress has been made this year in New Hampshire in combating the blight. Owners of chestnut and gooseberry bushes are becoming more and more convinced that these shrubs are a menace and are consenting to their destruction, while the wild bushes have been rooted out over wide areas.

Orders People Out of State

Sheriff John T. O'Dowd of Hillsborough county, accompanied by E. S. Kennedy and Stanley Flagg, selectmen of Mason, visited a farm house on the road between Mason and the Massachusetts line and ordered the four occupants of the place to leave the state immediately, according to the officials.

It is reported that the quartet obeyed the order and together with their furniture and dogs, were seen to depart in the direction of the Bay State.

To Meet in Concord

The Twelfth Conference of the New England State Tax Officials' Association will be held in the Senate Chamber at the State House, Concord, Thursday and Friday, November 20, and 21, 1924.

A general invitation is extended to the Chief Executives and tax officials of the New England States, professors of economics, representatives of chambers of commerce and business men's associations, members of the legal profession and other persons active in the field of taxation and public finance.

State Is Closed to Hunters

The increasing seriousness of the forest fire situation has made necessary the closing of woods in Coos county, as well as in the rest of the state, according to an announcement made by State Forester John H. Foster.

Under the state-wide ban now in effect, no one, not even land owners, are allowed to hunt in the woods of the state.

The only persons allowed in woods at all, are land owners, their agents, or employes, who are engaged in legitimate business.

Durham Girl Artist Wins Fame in Paris

Miss Louise Janin, daughter of New Hampshire, is being recognized in Paris art circles as the leader of a new school in modern art. Her picture "Dragon au-dessus Kwen Lun," has been purchased by the Luxembourg and has called forth storms of criticism from those "modernists" who feared Miss Janin's school might become the vogue, a criticism which in itself shows that the young artist has "arrived."

Miss Janin was born in Durham, but has lived much in San Francisco and China.

Son Arrested by Father, Can't Pay and Goes to Jail

A father and his son came to police headquarters in Franklin. The father was Night Officer George Burres.

The son was Charles Burres, whom the father charged with drunkenness. Father had discovered son making a commotion on the Main street and had interfered.

Finally he placed him under arrest. He was fined $10 for drunkenness. The father had nothing to say about the son's lack of funds and the son was committed to the House of Correction for a stay of 30 days.

Round Trip Rates for State Grange

Round trip railroad rates to Nashua at the time of the 51st annual meeting of the State Grange have been procured from all ticket selling stations on the Boston & Maine and the Maine Central railroads at one and one-half fares, on the certificate plan. Tickets will be good going from Dec. 5 to 11, inclusive and returning not later than Dec. 17, 1924. Members will do well to ascertain if their ticket agents have an abundant supply of certificates, on or before Dec. 1, to enable them to purchase these tickets. The secretary of the State Grange will seasonably provide each subordinate and Pomona grange secretary with certificates to secure the return rates at discount rate.

Electricity and Agriculture

An investigation of what electricity can mean to agriculture is to be made on representative New Hampshire farms for the next three years, as a result of a conference of the State Committee on the Relation of Electricity to Agriculture, held here at the University of New Hampshire. The plan was approved by Dr. E. A. White, chairman of the national committee on this subject, who was present at the conference, and by representatives of state power companies as well as by agricultural and educational leaders. It will be the first study of this type undertaken in New England.

The investigation, which will be under the immediate direction of the University Agricultural Experiment Station, will involve a detailed study of the maximum amount of electricity which could be economically used on representative dairy, poultry, fruit and general farms. In connection with the study a survey of some 500 farms will be made of the present use of electrical power.

It is believed that the proposed study will throw light on the problem as it affects conditions throughout New England; and the New England aspects will be borne in mind throughout the study. Electric service is at present installed on ten per cent of the farms of New England according to the last census; but there is reason to believe that it has not been used even on those farms to the extent that is practicable, because of the lack of machinery adaptable to its use; nor has it been extended to many farms within the range of such service, nor its possibilities for community enterprise developed.

MAKING GOOD IN A SMALL TOWN

Real Stories About Real Girls

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN

(C. 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE HURRY-CALL HOUSE-KEEPER

THE home-maker-by-the-day has a big opportunity in a small town. There, the average woman cannot afford to keep a housekeeper habitually, but emergencies do arise in which a housekeeper who may be hastily summoned is extremely handy. So says one woman, a widow, who is by no means young and who doesn't care about a permanent position; she has hit on the "emergency housekeeper" idea and is making a great success of it.

"I'm not a fancy cook, and I don't pretend to be," she explained, "but I do say for myself that I can manage a house harmoniously and I can cook plain foods well. The main thing the housekeeper-by-the-day should remember is that, inasmuch as she is usually summoned in case of sickness, accident or some other emergency, the quality that will most endear her to the household is an ability to keep things running smoothly. It is not necessary for her to do fancy sewing or cooking; rather, she should be practical, and should be able to turn her hand to whatever there is to be done."

For the woman whose special forte is managing a house, but who does not care to have all of her time engaged, this woman's experience is a suggestion. It means well-paying, congenial work, for which she will need no capital, no office, no equipment.

She might make a special point of applying to women who run boarding houses, for the work of substituting for them while they take summer vacations. Women who cater to "mealers" do often become tired out and need a rest, and they would welcome the opportunity of shifting the responsibility to some capable person for a few weeks every year. Of course, the successful substitute would keep down grocery bills, and keep up the boarders' enthusiasm for the place.

Another possibility for the women with the same natural qualifications would be the work of "keeping up" the apartments or houses of women in business. Such women would pay well for an hour or two of maid service. If the size and character of the town warrants it, she might even rent an office after her business got a little start, and hire other women to fill some of her appointments to "clean up" for business women.

BASKET BOARDERS

"BASKET boarders" are the most satisfactory kind anyone can "take in."

They are not exacting; they don't tire of the boarder-lady's cooking and they don't even require a dining-hall. Travelers who go through on the train are the principal "basket boarders" of the woman who told me all this. She lives in a little railroad center.

"Most of the trains only stop here a couple of minutes, and the folks who are going through don't have time to run across the street to the restaurant," she explained. "So I put up my basket lunches and hire a little boy to take them over and sell them. I sell several baskets of lunch that way every day."

Say, for instance, that it is a college town. The boarder-lady can easily make a profitable venture of selling her baskets of food, suitable for spreads and between-meal snacks, to the college girls, who are notoriously always hungry.

Then, the girl who lives in a town where there are numerous offices should center her attention on the "white collar" trade—the business men who won't carry lunches from home, but who hate to take time to go to a restaurant.

She should, of course, vary her lunches with the seasons. She should try to include some food that is piping hot, especially in the winter time. Twenty-five cent lunches might contain one sandwich, wrapped in waxed paper, one piece of fried chicken, also wrapped, and a piece of fresh fruit. Fifteen cent lunches might include sandwiches, home-made cake and fruit. Specialties for the picnic lunches should be sandwiches, salads and baked beans. The sandwiches may be made of left-overs. All the lunches should be either boxed or wrapped in paraffin paper; and the scrupulous woman will always enclose paper napkins. She may serve hot drinks, even to the railroad passengers, if she has the co-operation of the newsboy on the train. Through him, the travelers may order their drinks, as well as the food that is to go in their baskets. The newsboy may telegraph the orders from the next station and assume the responsibility for the cups, delivering them back to the cook.

The boarder-lady's market is everywhere, for folks must eat. Almost everybody is a prospective "basket boarder."

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

British Conservatives Win Big Victory—Laborites and Liberals Beaten.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

RAMSAY MACDONALD and his Labor government went down to defeat in the British parliamentary elections, and the Conservatives won a great victory. They have a decisive majority in the house of commons, and at this writing it is presumed that Stanley Baldwin, leader of the party will return to the office of prime minister. Mr. MacDonald was re-elected, however, and it is said he and his cabinet may carry on until the Conservatives defeat them in the house.

The Liberals were badly beaten, losing a lot of seats, and it is believed they will go out of existence as a separate party. Former Prime Minister Lloyd George was easily victorious over his Labor opponent, but Mrs. Asquith, leader of the other wing of the Liberals, was beaten by Mitchell, Laborite. In Paisley, which constituency broke its Liberal record of 92 years. This was a severe blow to the party and likely will result in driving its left wing into the ranks of Laborites. Other prominent men who won seats were Winston Churchill, Austen Chamberlain, C. P. Trevelyan, Attorney General Hastings, Philip Snowden, Sir J. A. R. Marriott and Sir Hamar Greenwood. Of the fourteen women candidates only four were elected—Lady Astor, Conservative; Miss Wilkinson, Labor; Mrs. Phillips and the duchess of Athol. The gains by the Conservatives were general throughout the country and even where they failed to elect their candidates they largely increased their vote.

On this side of the Atlantic, the Canadians were especially interested in the result of the British elections, and the victory of the Conservatives caused them to rejoice. This is because they expect a return of the McKenna duties by which Canada benefited greatly, and also because they think a policy of imperial preferences will be adopted, which will help the Dominion.

If the Laborites' defeat can be laid to any one thing, it is the fact that they had been showing too much favor to Soviet Russia.

SENATOR BORAH and his committee went right along probing into campaign contributions and expenditures, despite the fact that the campaign was closing. It is difficult to write about that investigation without voicing disgust at the trivialities on which time is wasted and at the pettifogging tactics of many of those taking part in the "exposures." Part of the committee returned to Chicago and there heard, among others, W. V. Hodges of Denver, treasurer of the Republican national committee. Being questioned about his connection with a sugar company and his advocacy of the present sugar tariff, he reiterated his belief that the tariff is all right, and produced letters to prove that this view was shared by Senators Ladd and Frazier of North Dakota and Senator Wheeler of Montana, third party men. Mr. Hodges said that to date the national committee had received $2,750,000 and had collected $750,000 additional, which had been returned to the states.

Before the Washington part of the committee Attorney Frank Walsh brought out various charges of bribery, coercion and the hiring of labor men to speak for Coolidge and Dawes, but showed nothing of special importance except that L. K. Liggett, self-styled fiscal agent of the Republican party in Massachusetts, had written a letter to several chairmen stating there should be no limit to the size of contributions as "large contributions will be so divided as to meet the full observance of the statutes." The witness admitted the wording of the letter was unfortunate and that if he had known it would cause such a commotion he would not have sent it as written. He stated the plan was to accept large contributions, keep only $1,000, as limited by law, for the state campaign and turn the rest over to the national committee.

About the only result expected from the investigation is a report from the committee recommending that congress pass legislation putting a limit to national campaign funds, the maximum sum probably being fixed at $1,000,000 for any one party.

WITH General Feng Yu-shiang in control of Peking, General Chang, his present ally, advancing toward that city from the north, and General Wu Pei-fu moving a considerable army against them along the road to Tientsin, the prospects for a great battle in the neighborhood of the capital were excellent. President Tsao Kun, seemingly, has neither resigned nor fled, but probably is helpless. The Manchurians scored by capturing the town of Lanchow and reported they had trapped the Chihli troops that Wu had left at Shunhalkwan. The British in Peking, however, received word that Wu's army at the great wall was intact. In one recent engagement it used poison gas for the first time, but the Manchurians had gas masks ready. One correspondent sends a story that General Feng—he is the so-called "Christian general"—has been promised soviet support against Tsao Kun and has received $3,000,000 from Russian sources. Gen. W. D. Connor, U. S. A., became senior commander of foreign forces in Tientsin when General Yoshioka of Japan developed a convenient illness. Therefore it was up to the American to see that there was no violation of the treaty obligation that there be no Chinese soldiers in that city.

NEITHER Great Britain nor Turkey was pleased with the decision of the League of Nations council in the Mosul dispute. The council ordered that the status quo be maintained pending a final settlement of the question next spring, when the rich oil territory will be permanently allocated.

OUR government is indignant because only one of the murderers of Maj. Robert Imbrie, American vice consul in Telicran, has been executed, and has sent to the Persian government a protest that is tantamount to an ultimatum, threatening that other measures will be taken unless the known assassins are executed.

PUBLICATION of income tax lists in various newspapers, which has aroused a storm of protests, will be carried to court by the Department of Justice, according to an announcement by Attorney General Stone. He has avoided giving a definite opinion as to the legality of such publication, but says it seems to be the duty of the department to obtain a judicial determination of the question. Whether a single paper will be singled out for the test, and where the case will be brought is not known at this writing.

Officials of the internal revenue bureau doubt the legality of the publication in newspapers of the lists. The new law provides for public inspection of the lists and of the amounts paid, but congress also re-enacted the section of the old law making it a criminal offense to print or publish in any manner not provided by law any part of an income tax return.

FRANK O. LOWDEN of Illinois is being urged upon President Coolidge for the position of secretary of agriculture, made vacant by the death of Secretary Wallace. For the present Assistant Secretary Gore is acting secretary. He was the Republican nominee for governor of West Virginia but dropped all his campaign work to take care of his duties in Washington.

THE week's death list contained several notable names. Among them were James B. Forgan, dean of Chicago bankers and known throughout the world as an authority on finance; Percy D. Haughton, the famous football coach; Gen. W. B. Haldeman, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans; Edward Bell, American charge d'affaires in Peking, whose death was attributed to mental strain caused by the conditions in China; Frances Hodgson Burnett, noted author and playwright; Laura Jean Libbey, novelist; W. E. Lewis, publisher of the New York Telegraph; Albert H. Loeb, Chicago capitalist; Thomas C. Hurbaugh, writer of the "Nick Carter" tales, and Lew Dockstader, one of the most famous of American minstrels.

FRANCE has at last granted full recognition to the government of Russia, and the United States is now the only great power holding out against the soviets. Jean Herbetie becomes French ambassador to Moscow and M. Rakovsky accepts the post of Russian ambassador to Paris, being transferred from London. It is believed either Krassin, Kamenef or Litvinoff will be sent to England. Premier Herriot issued an order sequestering all Russian government real property in Paris to be held awaiting a settlement. This includes the palatial Russian embassy with its store of art treasures which has been in the possession of Kerensky and his followers for seven years; and also stocks, bonds, consulates and other properties that have been held in the name of the former czar and of the Russian state.

RUSSIA is still furiously angry with Great Britain because of the publication of the alleged letter from Zinoviev telling English communists to prepare for a revolution. The letter is declared by Moscow to be a forgery and the soviet government has sent to London several notes demanding immediate apologies. The whole affair was closely connected with the politics of the British election, and it is likely it will put an end to the plans for an Anglo-Russian treaty. Another statement by Zinoviev, whose authenticity is not questioned, is a prediction that a proletarian revolution in Germany is approaching, "despite all the Dawses, Eberts and Noskes."

ECONOMIC evacuation of the Ruhr and Rhineland by France has been completed, every public building and public service has been turned over to the Germans and some 30,000 expelled German railway workers have returned to their jobs. The reparations commission declared that the last part of the Dawes program had been fulfilled. Financial experts of the allied countries began preparing for the conference to partition the reparations payments, and on America's request, her claims for the cost of the United States army of occupation were placed first on the agenda. Owen D. Young formally turned over to Seymour Parker Gilbert the office of joint general of reparations.

J. Pierpont Morgan and the French government signed an agreement for the floating of a French loan on the American market, the amount being understood to be $150,000,000. From this the Morgan banking house will be repaid the $100,000,000 credit extended by it for market operations to strengthen the French currency exchange value.

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE

HOOPER has called a conference on street and highway safety to meet in Washington December 15. Representatives from all parts of the country will take part. In a statement explaining the purpose of the conference Mr. Hoover declared that the death of 22,600 persons, injury to 678,000 persons and property damage amounting to $600,000,000 from traffic accidents in 1923 represent a national loss of so appalling a character as to warrant thorough consideration of the entire problem.

THERE are signs of hard times ahead for three of the "big men" of foreign lands—President Kemal of Turkey, Dictator Mussolini of Italy and Dictator Primo de Rivera of Spain. A powerful revolt against Kemal's leadership has started and its chiefs are the most influential diplomats and army and navy officers of the country. Many Spaniards have enlisted in a movement to destroy the dictatorship of De Rivera, and scores of prominent men were arrested in Madrid when the police broke up a great meeting of protest against his regime. Mussolini's position is not so weakened as those of the others, but that his power is waning was indicated by the relatively small numbers of Fascist who turned out on the anniversary of the society to take the oath of loyalty to the king.
