Oil Stoves

Are you thinking of a new Oil Stove this Summer? We have a good assortment of the leading makes. The Florence people have a new model this year with a new oversized Triple Power 15 inch Florence Burner, which gives all the heat needed for the new model Oven with the Door on the end; has an inside capacity as great as that of an ordinary Two-burner Oven, but occupies much less space on the Stove. We also have the One-burner Florence Hot Water Heater, with the new Florence 15 inch Burner; it is wickless and valveless and altogether dependable.

We also have a good line of Stoves, Enameled ware, Galvanized ware, Tin ware, Aluminum ware, Crockery, Copper Boilers, and other goods too numerous to mention.

YOU SHOULD HAVE A FLOWER GARDEN

A Townsman Who Knows What He Is Talking About Tells Why Flowers Should Be More Generally Grown

Installation No. 21
In one way it is not easy to make a selection of varieties among roses. Like many other subjects, personal taste often decides for us, even against the wisdom of good judges.

However, if you do not happen to have formed your own opinions in the matter, I am going to suggest the following varieties among the hybrid perpetual class: Frau Karl Druschki, a strong growing pure white flower, perfect in form, and very free flowering; George Arends, a rose colored form of the preceding, very free flowering and very fragrant; General Jacquemont, brilliant crimson-scarlet, a beautiful flower, an old favorite and does well practically everywhere. Clio is a delightful satiny-flesh with a deep centre; the flowers are large, globular, and borne on long stems. Another, a soft pink of beautiful form, very fragrant and free flowering is Mrs. John Laing. Hugh Dickson is brilliant crimson, very fragrant, and J. B. Clark an intense scarlet. A list of this class would not be complete without Paul Neyron, dark rose; Mrs. R. G. Sharon-Crawford, very deep rosy-pink; and Candeur Lyonais, large white tinted yellow.

Among the climbers, let me recommend American Pillar, bearing great masses of single flowers 3 to 4 inches across, each flower a most lovely shade of pink with a clear white eye, and yellow stamens. Excelsa, intense crimson-maroon, and Paul's Scarlet Climber, incomparable in brilliancy of color, a vivid scarlet, semi-double, are hard to beat among the reds. Dorothy Perkins, soft shell pink, very fragrant and lasting, is still very much admired. There are many other fine roses in this class, which is constantly growing.

Among the different classes, there is one not so generally planted as it should be. I refer to the hardy little polyantha, or Baby Rambler roses. They make compact little bushes about a foot and a half high, bearing quantities of bloom from early season until hard freezing weather. Colors range from white and pink and salmon-orange, through the shades of red to scarlet and vermillion. They give a wealth of bloom with a minimum of attention.

The largest and most popular class of all, the Hybrid Teas, I am mentioning last, for the very good reason that it would take a whole book to tell only a small part of its history. A study of varieties listed in the better catalogs is a whole education in itself, will give one an immense amount of information and will help in the selection of varieties much better than I am able to do in this limited space. Therefore I am going to recommend that those who are really interested in the rose, obtain such catalogs as those of Henry A. Dreer, Inc., Philadelphia, Bobbink & Atkins, Rutherford, N. J., The Conard & Pyle Co., West Grove, Pa., and George H. Peterson, Fairlawn, N. J. Some of these catalogs will also interest the devotees of the Peony, and at this season should be especially helpful to them.

HAROLD L. BROWN.

REGARDING MATTERS OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Some of Local Importance, but All Have News Value Which Our Readers Will Peruse With Pleasure

The gasoline road toll put $85,902 in the State treasury for the month of June, an increase of $7140 over June, 1925.

The preliminary annual report of Arthur E. Dole, State Bank Commissioner, shows an increase during the year ending June 30, 1926, of $9,243,302 in the deposits of the savings banks of New Hampshire. The 53 savings banks and 12 savings departments of trust companies in the State report their total deposits as $184,456,643.

While reading about the train robbery at Salisbury, Mass., last week, the thought that naturally darted through the mind was that if the B. & M. should sell a few of their expensive busses and provide officers with guns for their trains carrying large sums of money it would improve the service considerably,—if that is what it wants to do.

This week Friday and Saturday there will be some of the finest horse racing at Hillsboro County Fair Grounds, in Greenfield, that was ever pulled off on this track,—and much good racing has been witnessed here. Racing starts at 1.30 o'clock. At 10 o'clock in the forenoon of each day there will be a good ball game, and music will be furnished by a big band! Here is a chance to make the occasion a real Old Home Day. Read adv. on first page of this paper, and plan to attend.

The following item of news, taken from Sunday's Boston Globe, will be read with interest by our Bennington and Antrim people, as it doubtless refers to the saleswoman who recently worked this territory:

A traveling vender of cosmetics got into a New Hampshire police court recently through an informality in making change. One result was that one of her preparations, a "face balm" was sent to the State laboratory for analysis. There it was found by the State chemist to consist almost entirely of chalk and water, representing an outlay of five cents a bottle, while its selling price, at which the vender was said to have been doing a thriving business, was $5 a bottle.

We are indebted to Senator George H. Moses for copies of the following documents: Declaration of Independence and United States Constitution. The origin and evolution of the United States Flag. George Washington's will. World War Compensation, Insurance, and Vocational Training Acts as amended to date.

The Senator says he has a limited number of copies of these documents for distribution and as long as the supply lasts, upon request, he will be glad to send them to readers of the Reporter.

By the unanimous vote of 500 townspeople, the Gov. John B. Smith mansion, offered to the town of Hillsboro as a community building and a library by Norman B. Smith of Brookline, Mass., son of the Governor, has been accepted. A special meeting was called to take action on the matter last Friday. A sum around $26,000 has been subscribed by Hillsboro people to remodel the buildings to suit their needs, which alterations will soon begin, and a sum around $3000 annually will be needed for its maintenance which the town will provide for.

The contract for the building of the remaining and connecting piece of road to the Hillsboro town line, being about 1.6 miles, having been let out to bids and same being closed, the lowest bidder who naturally gets the job is a construction company of Fitchburg, Mass. We don't know how soon work will begin, but hope no delay will be allowed, for it is important that this piece of road as well as the one now being worked, should be rapidly pushed forward to completion. Nothing else that we know of disturbs our people more than after a large sum of money has been appropriated for the improvement of a certain section of road to have its construction hang along in a manner that shows very little interest in its completion. Action is what is wanted on this road from now till it is finished.

The net receipts of the affair were very gratifying to the committee in charge.

Fitting Memorial

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Conkey have presented to the Antrim Boy Scouts a tract of land on the south shore of Gregg Lake for a permanent camp. The gift is a memorial to their son, Byron W. Conkey, who was a charter member of Troop No. 2, of Antrim. The Troop Committee of the Boy Scouts will benefit from the gift, but the Girl Scouts will benefit from it equally with the boys. Mr. Conkey has erected a cottage on the land 16x16 feet, with a screened-in porch on the front which commands a beautiful view of the lake. It will be known as the Byron W. Conkey Memorial Camp. Twelve scouts, with the scoutmaster, are occupying it this week, with Fred Miles, of Bennington, as cook.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL IN THE 4th DISTRICT From the New Hampshire Labor Review

By reason of a custom long established in the 4th council district, it has been conceded that once in two years a councillor shall be elected from the cities and for the following biennial term from the towns.

In the present campaign there are four contenders for the Republican nomination to this billet, viz: Albert H. Hunt and Ovid Winslow, both of Nashua, Senator Perham Parker of Bedford, and Senator Charles Tobey of Temple. Four years ago the honor went to Keene with Hon. Phillip Faulkner receiving the election. Two years ago Milford sent Samuel A. Lovjoy to the council and this year, following the ancient custom, Nashua should be recognized. Therefore, Mr. Tobey and Mr. Parker appear to be eliminated as not entitled to the position. That this time-honored recognition will be accorded Nashua is admitted by the Republicans of the district.

No talent attaches to the personal character or business reputation of Mr. Winslow. He is generally considered a most estimable citizen, but a large portion of the straight thinking electorate do not favor saddling a bond issue of $10,000,000 upon the state at this time for highway construction, and as Mr. Winslow is, together with State Highway Commissioner Everett, one of the most ardent champions of this huge bonding proposition, he is a persona non grata to the Granges and other heavily burdened tax payers in the 4th council district.

At this writing, Mr. Albert H. Hunt, Nashua clothing merchant and one-time member of the aldermanic board, seems to have a clear lead over his opponents. He is making an aggressive campaign, he is generously supported by the press of the district, and even the friends of the other candidates concede his chances of winning to be exceedingly bright.

The "Hillsboro Messenger" and allied papers, have the following to say about Mr. Hunt:

"To be a successful Governor one must be a good business man, therefore, in order to act in an advisory capacity to the Governor, we must select men of worth; in that they must be proven to be of good ability, and of good general character."

"Mr. Hunt makes a strong stand upon the 'Pay as you go' method of doing business, and he will apply this method when elected to the Councilorship. It is assured he will be an asset to our incoming State Government."

The "Keene Sentinel" writing editorially upon the situation in the 4th council district declares:

"It would seem like transcending the proprieties, to say the least, for a member of the council to be called upon to pass upon the bid of his own concern with competitors likely to ask whether or not prejudice might enter into the transaction. There is no doubt about the relationship between Mr. Winslow and the state in the past for the road building firm of Winslow & Cummings during the past eight years has received from the state approximately $275,000. It is not to be assumed that Mr. Winslow intends to withdraw from the business of such a lucrative enterprise as building state roads and for that reason it is hardly consistent for him to seek a position which would not only place him but his colleagues on the council in a decidedly peculiar position."

"The Sentinel many weeks ago went on record as being highly sat-

Rebekahs Entertain

As a change from the usual programs furnished by Hand in Hand Rebekah Lodge, in their literary presentations, the committee, Mrs. C. W. Perkins, Mrs. Roscoe Lang, Mrs. J. R. Ashford, had prepared something special for last Wednesday evening, which was given after the regular meeting, and the members were privileged to invite friends to attend with them and enjoy the several numbers on the program.

Mrs. Emma Manning Walker, reader Mr. George Curtis, soloist Miss Elizabeth Tandy Mrs. Vera Butterfield Mrs. Gertrude Thornton Mrs. Bernice Whittemore Miss Arleen Paige, violin and a group of "Northfield Girls" and their friends sang.

A goodly number were present, even though the night was warm, and seemingly enjoyed every number given; participants were also pleased for they responded well with encores. The evening's entertainment was a good one and the committee's efforts were crowned with success.

Charles W. Tobey, president of the Senate and acting governor in the absence of Gov. Winant, has announced that he will be a candidate for Governor in 1928. But maybe Gov. Winant will think he should again be nominated, and wouldn't such a situation complicate matters?

ified with the announcement of Mr. Hunt that he would be a candidate for the council and we hope that his nomination may come without such animosities as will be engendered if Mr. Winslow insists on contesting with him for the honor.

"It is conceded that Mr. Winslow is a very successful builder of highways and it is to be expected that such success will lead him to continue in this line of business but he ought to be, like Caesar's spouse, above criticism and that he may not be placed in a compromising position he ought to forego any ambition to serve in the council. He could hardly be expected to serve two masters—the state and his own interests."

We wish to announce the completion of a contract with the Hudson Motor Car Co., of Detroit, Michigan, for the sale of

and now stand ready to demonstrate the quality of these cars including the Closed Car Comforts, Masterful Performance and Low Cost, which claims are well supported by thousands of owners, who take great pride in their ownership.

The economy of ownership starts with extraordinary low first price, and continues with very infrequent service expense. If the necessity should arise to purchase a replacement part, the owner of these cars will find that parts are obtainable at a moderate figure corresponding to that of the car itself, which means universal service wherever and whenever needed.

If you intend to purchase a Motor Car you should by all means check on the ability and value of these cars, first by driving the car in a demonstration, and secondly by an inquiry among owners of Hudson-Essex Cars. We shall be glad to stand on the results of such a test. You will find that they are easy to steer, the power range so great that gear shifting is lessened, the riding action so well arranged that long hours at the wheel are not tiring but instead a comfort together with the distinctive smoothness of motor, power, speed and reliability throughout.

Last but not least, we want you to consider the low price which has been brought about by the enormous production of these cars, also note that the prices include the delivery at your door with nothing else to pay and with complete equipment not to be found on the majority of other makes of motor cars, and back of all this we stand ready and at your service with one of the best if not the best equipped Garage in the State of New Hampshire and would be glad to have you call and inspect our equipment and see for yourself that our statements are correct.

A telephone call at our expense will bring a salesman to your door to demonstrate a Hudson or Essex Car—Call us and tell us your wants, and we will guarantee full satisfaction.

Arthur McGrath, Bennington LOCAL SALESMAN REPRESENTATIVE

All prices include freight, tax and the following equipment: front and rear Bumpers, automatic Windshield Cleaner, rear view Mirror, Transmission Lock (built in), Radiator Shutters, Motometer, Combination Stop and Tail Light.

BASS or MOSES

Senator Moses' Campaign Committee announced a few weeks ago that it had received contributions to Senator Moses' Campaign Fund totalling $6,800 and that of this amount $5,550 had come from persons who are residents of states other than New Hampshire.

Why are New York, Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania men interested in the Election of a United States Senator from New Hampshire?

Contributors to MOSES' Fund Include:

B. A. ECKHART of CHICAGO MR. ECKHART is a DIRECTOR in ARMOUR and COMPANY, one of the biggest Packing Companies in the Country. Moses Voted Against the Packer Control Bill.

GEO. M. REYNOLDS of CHICAGO Mr. Reynolds is director in the UNION CARBIDE and CARBON CORP., which controls the UNION CARBIDE CO. This Company was a bidder for Muscle Shoals.

PHILIP DE RONDE of NEW YORK Mr. De Ronde of P. De Ronde & Company, Inc., in 1920 lost considerable money in a sugar transaction. He applied to the Equalization Board for reimbursement and was denied the same. The loss was estimated to be $1,700,000. He had a bill introduced in Congress approving reimbursement. The bill passed by a narrow margin. Mr. Moses voted for the bill.

RALPH B. STRASSBURGER of PENNSYLVANIA Mr. Strassburger gave $16,806 through the Strassburger Modification League, to the candidacy of William S. Vare, wet candidate for the Senate in the notorious Pennsylvania primary fight. Mr. Strassburger was the largest contributor to the Moses' Campaign Fund.

DOES THIS RAISE A NEW AND HIGHLY IMPORTANT ISSUE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE POLITICS?

All Contributors to the BASS Fund are Members of His Family

These facts were mailed to the New Hampshire daily newspapers in a letter by John R. McLane of Manchester July 26th. Up to July 26th most of the papers had not printed the letter. The voters are entitled to the information. One insertion of this advertisement giving the facts, in the papers of the state will cost about $650.00.

SHOULD EXPERIENCE DISQUALIFY?

Governor Winant's announcement of candidacy for Governor, published December 4, 1925

In order that this administration might continue throughout the last legislative session with only the public interest in mind, problems involving the political fortunes of future candidates for public office were relegated to the background. Nor has this practice been disturbed while your executive department has been endeavoring to catch up with legislative enactment. Whether this policy has been politically wise the people will decide. It has been of benefit to the state.

Politics is a means not an end. Its purpose is to effectively serve the community. It has to do with the management of the people's business. No branch of government is more concerned with the details of public administration than your state executive. The functions of state government today cover a wide field of services. These activities are various, sometimes technical, and often complicated. No man could long hold office as chief executive without being humbled by the need of knowledge that is necessary to perform efficiently the duties that are a part of the daily routine. Public service does not simply confer honorary position, it presents a difficult task.

Practice and experience have qualified the doctor whom you call in sickness, the railroad manager who controls your transportation system and the lawyer who tries your case. I cannot believe that experience should disqualify your chief executive who shares responsibility for efficient management of the state health department, who is concerned with all state public utilities and who names your law enforcement officers and the judges of your courts.

The time has come when men and women who view political life seriously are anxious to know that the policies and principles for which they have contended are to be represented by candidates who have consistently and sincerely supported such policies and principles. Among these I would consider the right of the people to nominate and elect their own public servants as of primary importance.

I have tried, hard to do the day's work. I shall keep on doing the day's work. If the people of the state themselves reflect me to office, I shall appreciate the opportunity for continued service, but if on the other hand, they select some other man, I shall always be grateful for the honor that has already been conferred upon me.

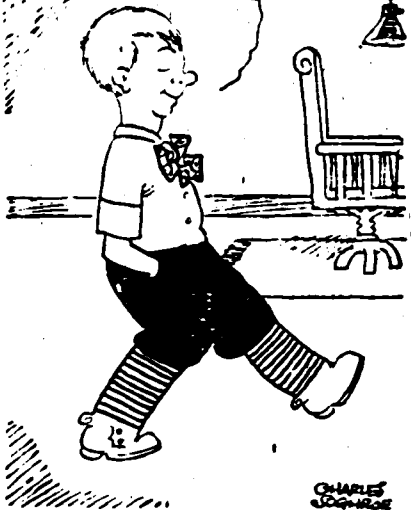

JOHN G. WINANT.

Antrim Locals

Rev. and Mrs. William Thompson spent a portion of last week with relatives in Portsmouth.

Leola Davies is in town for a season. He formerly resided here, son of Rev. and Mrs. George Davies.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Madden are entertaining their son, Rexford, and bride, from Washington, D. C., and their son, Donald, from the same city.

Misses Rose and Marion Wilkinson, Mrs. Robert Tolman and Miss Roana Robinson took a four days' and a trip through Vermont and New York state last week.

Editor and Mrs. H. Burr Eldredge, of Winchendon, Mass., and Miss Isabel Wilbur, of Red Bank, N. J., were guests the past week at the former's paternal home in this place.

Mrs. Emma Burnham, Mrs. Harold Clough and daughter, Isabelle, from Manchester, were calling on friends in this place last Friday. They came to attend the ladies' aid fair at the hall.

By a new adv. in the Reporter this week, Dr. Frank L. McDowell, dentist, of Hillsboro, is announcing to the people of this section that he is located in Central Square, where he invites any who desire work in his line.

Guy A. Hulet presented the Editor's family with two baskets of cherries last week of his own raising which were greatly enjoyed, the receipt of which is hereby gratefully acknowledged. Mr. Hulet is much interested in fruit raising, particularly apples, and we regret to announce that his nice orchards were damaged considerably by the recent winds and hail storm, amounting most likely to around three or four hundred dollars in trees damaged and fruit spoiled.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hodges, of Depot street, entertained Mr. Hodges' father and brother, Alfred Hodges of Mansfield, Mass., and brother Richmond Hodges, of Washington, D. C., over the week end. Richmond is a government employee and as such is leaving Washington this week for Hawaii.

Carl Hansli and Earl Gale, of Woodville, visited the former's mother, Mrs. Lena Hansli, one day recently.

Albert Brown is making improvements on his house on Depot street.

Phoenician Language

Similar to Hebrew

The stone of Moab, King of Moab, which was found at Dibban in 1868, and is more popularly known as the Moabite stone, belonging to the Ninth century, B. C. This contains one of the earliest inscriptions in the Phoenician alphabet, and its language, according to the new Standard Dictionary, differs only dialectically from the Hebrew. By studying the fragments of this stone, Clermont Gamess was able to publish the text, and the first translation; and the decipherment of the entire stone, which is now complete, was the result of researches by French, German and English scholars.

Yet another, the code of ethics of Hammurabi, king of Babylon from 2300 to 2185 B. C., which was discovered in 1902, is in cuneiform characters. The cuneiforms are said to have been invented by the primitive Assyrians of Mesopotamia about 6,000 years ago, and were impressed or engraved by the ancient Babylonians, Assyrians and others on bronze, glass, iron, stone, clay and other substances.

English as Spoken

An Englishman and an American were having the usual argument as to which country had the queerest dialect. The Englishman was positive he was the winner of the argument.

"Why, say, old cork," he said, "you use the queerest bally expressions I ever heard, blame. The other afternoon I serviced a colored person and asked him if he thought it would rain, and do you know what he said? He said, 'Little dogs it will, and little dogs it won't!'"

The American was puzzled and the next afternoon met the same negro with whom the Englishman had conversed. The negro scratched his woolly head and then said: "That ain't what Ah said. Ah just tol' the man that 'pups it would rain, and 'pups it wouldn't!"

'AMERICAN YOUTH'

Elizabeth ("Betty") Clark, 11, of Cedar, Delaware, is one of that state's girl candidates for the American Youth Award, established by the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, to be held at Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1 in observance of 150 years of American independence. If "Betty" is finally chosen to represent Delaware she will be given a week's trip to the Exposition and to Washington and the White House, where she will receive a medal from the hands of President Coolidge.

AID TO BEAUTY

Under this young woman's skillful hands the front of the Administration Building of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition Association quickly takes on a delightful aspect. She directs gardeners where to place the small trees and shrubs about the great stucco building. She is doing her share to make the big celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence a success.

1ST AMERICAN YOUTH ENTRY

Edith May Adams, eighteen-year-old Farrington, N. J. girl, presenting her entry blank to Mayor Kendrick in his office at City Hall, Philadelphia. The American Youth and Teacher Award was established as a tribute to American youth and teachers by the Board of Directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, through which the people of the United States and the world at large will celebrate the 150th anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence. The exposition will run from June 1 to December 1. Miss Adams' entry blank cited her for heroism displayed recently when she remained inside a burning building helping doctors render first aid to injured firemen. She is a candidate for the Golden Eagle, the highest gift within the hands of the Girl Scouts. Each state will elect a girl and boy and one teacher to represent them and the successful candidates will be the guest of the Sesqui officials from June 23 to July 5 at the exposition. This will also include a trip to Washington where they will be received by President Coolidge and presented with medals.

THE VOICE OF THE LIBERTY BELL

This is one of the two new official posters of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, opening in Philadelphia June 1 to celebrate 150 years of American independence. The Exposition will continue to December 1. Dan Smith, the artist, has symbolized the epoch in history which the tolling of the Liberty Bell in Independence Hall, July 4, 1776, marked and has depicted the growth of the United States from the original thirteen states, represented by the thirteen stars which emerge from the mouth of the Liberty Bell.

New York's Old Guard Coming to Sesqui

At an imposing ceremony before their headquarters in New York City the famous Old Guard of New York under the command of Major E. Havemeyer Snyder, commandant of the organization, received the invitation from the officials of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, opening in Philadelphia June 1 and continuing to December 1, to celebrate 150 years of American Independence, to attend the Flag Day exercises on June 14, when all the historic military commands of the thirteen original colonies will assemble for a big military display and parade headed by General Pershing, Captain James A. B. Francis, of the Old Guard State Fencibles, of the Sesqui city, is presenting the invitation to Major Snyder. At Major Snyder's left stand the commanding officers of the Philadelphia organizations, while the members of the two famous commands are grouped about their leaders in their striking dress uniforms.

William de Leftwich Dodge, famous mural artist, in his studio at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition grounds in Philadelphia, where the 150th anniversary of signing the Declaration of Independence will be celebrated from June, to December, of this year, giving instructions to a group of young artists who are creating the "Rainbow City." Mr. Dodge is the color expert for the exposition, and every bit of color work done must be approved by him.
