USO Drive Starts Next Week; Quota $400.00

Antrim people will have an opportunity to contribute to the support of the U. S. O. next week, when, beginning on June 8th, the chairman, Hugh Graham, will have a corps of solicitors who will endeavor to contact every individual in an effort to raise Antrim's quota of $400.00.

With an increase of forty-seven USO clubhouses since April 1, a total of 473 clubhouses are now operated by USO according to Ray Johns, Director of Field Operations, who said yesterday that there were approximately 8,000 dances held every month by USO for the soldiers, sailors, and marines with a total attendance of 900,000.

Mr. Johns also reported an increase of 26 USO units, other than clubs, during the last two months, thus bringing the total for all of USO recreation centers to 699.

The figures of the Director of Field Operations were disclosed as USO was in the third week of its national war fund appeal for $32,000,000.

"Entertainments of one kind or another at the various clubhouses," Mr. Johns pointed out, "total at least eight hundred every week and we are handling nine hundred weekly programs of sports and athletics as well. Furthermore there are many informal group diversions and games which, though important parts of our recreational program, cannot be accurately counted or even estimated."

USO snack bars in 161 clubs, the director of field operations added, had grossed $100,000 in February, the last month for which such figures are available. These snack bars operate at cost and include numerous food items and confections to supplement the regular fare of the service man.

"The steady increase of all our operations," Mr. Johns said, "shows that our national defenders are relying more and more on USO during their off-duty hours. By giving 'lift' to the routine of camp life USO has long since been recognized as vital to efficiency, esprit de corps, and the nation's ultimate victory."

Snuff Still Used
Contrary to popular belief, the use of snuff is not dying out. Production increased from a little less than 4,000,000 pounds in 1880 to more than 41,000,000 pounds in 1929. Last year 38,000,000 pounds was produced according to official figures.

Funeral Services Held For Miss Charlotte E. Balch

Largely attended funeral services were held Sunday, May 31, at the Balch farm home for Charlotte Elizabeth Balch, 70, daughter of the late Charles F. and Ellen (Fleming) Balch.

Stricken with illness about a month ago, Miss Balch had been under the care of trained nurses at her home and was making a slow recovery, when she sustained a second, shock last week, from which she failed to recover.

Born Oct. 7, 1871, in what was formerly known as the Carter House on Depot street, Antrim, Charlotte attended the public schools of this town. At an early age the Balch family moved to the farm home which has been in their family since 1811. She was graduated from Lowell Training school and her entire life since that time had been devoted to teaching. At the age of 16 Miss Balch started her teaching career in the old Conn district school in the North Branch section of the town. For nearly 40 years she had taught in the village schools, and her "boys and girls" received basic training under her direction that has lasted through the years and it was a great source of gratification to Miss Balch to have former pupils return to her to talk over old school days.

Always identified with the Methodist church, Lottie found time along with her school duties to sing in the church choir, and following the resignation of the late Miss Nellie Jackson, she was organist for a great many years. Although the Balch farm was a considerable distance from the church, it was indeed a rare occasion when the family was not well represented at every church service, both on Sunday and the various activities during the weekdays. It was not until quite recently that the automobile was introduced as a means of travel to and from the Balch farm, and it meant a real devotion to duty for the family to attend church services.

Rev. William Weston, a life long friend of the family, officiated at the funeral service on Sunday afternoon, and paid a glowing and richly deserved tribute to the memory of Miss Balch, dwelling particularly on her associations with the church she loved so well and to which she gave so freely of her talents. A duet composed of Mrs. Kenneth Roeder and Mrs. Byron Butterfield, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Albert Thornton, gave two selections.

Surviving Miss Balch is her brother Harvey, who for many years has carried on the farm. Interment was in the family lot at Bennington, with former pupils acting as bearers: John Whitney, Dalton Brooks, Byron Butterfield, Dewey Elliott, William Congreves, Jr., and Austin Paige.

Weekly Letter by George Proctor Fish and Game Conservation Officer

I am sorry I could not fill all the orders for dogs I had last week. It seems everyone wanted a dog. Watch dogs mostly wanted. What have you to offer?

Did your Victory Garden get drowned last week?

Same old question as of many weeks back. The common pigeons are not protected and can be shot if they are doing your garden harm. Be sure you are not shooting a homer which is protected both by State and Federal Govt.

Many private water holes are being built in my district for fire protection. They are well worth the effort.

Have you seen the new manual of the Forest Fire Service? I got my copy last week and it's a very instructive book of 124 pages.

The past week has been a very bad one for the homing pigeon fanciers and worst for the pigeons themselves. Many a pigeon has been reported in to me as being found and most of these I find were from Andover, Mass. If you find a pigeon feed and keep till he is rested and then take him a few miles from your home and let him go. He will get his bearings and go back home. Don't keep a homer confined only long enough for him to get back to health.

Speaking of horses you should see the 1800 pound stallion at the Ralph Wheeler farm in Temple. He also has a beautiful black mare and a colt two years old. Best three horses I have seen since the Eastern States Exposition. Worth going miles to see.

A small fly catcher got killed in the garden of Dr. Cutler at Peterboro and he sent it down to me to see if it could be added to the collection.

Don't let them take our guns away under the pretense of defense. That's how they fooled France. It can happen here but let's not let them do it. Seven million sportsmen over the age limit can be put into the field in short order. Every man knows how to handle a gun. We may need you fellows yet.

Judge Cheever of the local police court has been spending a few days with his daughters in Iowa. I got a card from him the other day and he got a big kick in seeing an albino robin while out there. He got several pictures of the bird.

Here is a fellow who wants to know if he can buy and possess a ferret. He wants to hunt rats so he says. Sorry but there is a heavy fine for having a ferret in your possession.

A nice big box of tinfol from Mrs. Lewis H. Scott of Winchendon.

Here is one old time fisherman that I always like to welcome back to town and that's Ray Brown the celebrated artist from N. Y. City. I met Mr. Brown the other day and he had a nice mess of trout. He is an ardent trout fisherman and a firm believer in the fly—and he knows his flies.

This is the time of the year when people pick up young wild animals and birds which they think are deserted by their parents. Nine times out of ten the mother is close by. All these wild animals and birds are protected and there is a heavy fine for having any of these in your possession without a permit from the Director. Report at once to the nearest Game Warden any wild bird or animal so taken or possessed.

1000 more beautiful legal sized rainbow trout were planted in my streams one day last week. Ernest Rockwell of Bristol brought them from the hatchery at New Hampton.

We have had three cases the past week of pollution of streams with will and rubbish. All the cases were settled by the Police Dept. of my towns without a court case. "Vet" that she is as represented.

Speaking of raccoon Mrs. Frank Muzzy of Greenfield has 12 young raccoon this year and they are very cute. This year I only have two young raccoon, no doubt owing to war conditions.

Never have I seen so many snakes flattened out on the trunk roads as I have seen the past two weeks. They seem to be the adder type and about 2 to 3 feet in length. Why are they traveling the highways?

No you don't very often fool the town clerks but once in a while they put one over on them. Last year in one of my towns a man registered two spayed females with the usual $2 fee. Later in the season he found that both of them had had litters. This year he is hard boiled and demands a blank from a registrar.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Plans are being formed for the interdenominational church summer school, which will be conducted, free of charge, for all children in town between the ages of six and twelve years inclusive through the months of July and August.

A trained instructor will be in charge of the program, which will include training in Christian living, supervised play and field trips, crafts and music. All children in this age group are cordially invited to avail themselves of this opportunity.

No provisions can be made for transportation.

Origin of Roman Numerals
The origin of the Roman numerals V and X is not definitely known. It has been suggested that V or 5 represents the open hand with the fingers, except the thumb, held together. X or 10 is possibly double V.

Prominent Antrim Citizen, Benjamin F. Tenney, Dies

Benjamin F. Tenney, prominent Antrim citizen, passed away at his home on Wednesday, June 3, after a second shock. He was born in Antrim on August 30, 1881, the son of John Franklin and Julia L. Richardson Tenney. He has resided at his present farm location ever since he was a year old. Mr. Tenney was twice selectman and held other town offices, such as auditor and committeeman.

He was a member of the Baptist church, the Antrim grange, was past vice president of the Hillsborough County farm association and director of the cemetery association. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Tandy about ten years ago after the death of his first wife, Martha May Gilchrist, in 1930.

Survivors are his wife; two sons, Dr. Forrest T. Tenney, veterinarian, at Peterboro, and Stanley B. Tenney of Mt. Hermon school at Northfield, Mass.; a sister, Miss Amy T. Tenney of Keene; and also one granddaughter, Martha A. Tenney of Peterboro.

Funeral services will be held from his late home on Saturday, June 6th, at 2 p. m. Friends invited to attend.

MRS. MARY ELLEN WHITNEY

Mrs. Mary Ellen Whitney passed away at her home on Depot street on Thursday morning, June 4, aged 77. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. William Call of Bennington, Miss Pauline Whitney of Hampton and Mrs. Rokes of Antrim; three sons, John Whitney of Antrim, Harry Whitney of Meriden, Conn., and Fred Whitney of Anburndale, Mass.

TOM THUMB WEDDING

Have you ever seen a "Tom Thumb Wedding"? No? Well, you don't know what you have missed! There is the dignified minister with glasses, cap and gown and Book. There is Ma and Pa of the bride, all decked out in royal array. There is the sweet bride and solemn groom; his best man and her maid of honor and four bridesmaids; the tiny flower girls; the ushers and guests. Beautiful color in costumes and flowers; wondrous decorations with a bride so fair in bridal white. The ceremony is a parody, of course, but none the less a ceremony.

Well, if you haven't seen all this you should come and see it at the Grange Hall on Tuesday night, June 9th. It is Children's Night and the doors of the Grange Hall will be open to the public shortly before 8 P. M. so that all who want to have an evening of fun and beauty may come and witness this performance.

The characters in this Tom Thumb Wedding are as follows: bride, Elaine Davy; groom, Dana Favor; maid of honor, Katherine Cody; groom's man, Nelson Holland; bridesmaids, Gertrude Parker, Olwen Favor, Alice Powers and Myrna Borelan; flower girls, Cynthia Cashion and Margaret Powers; ushers, Kenneth Clymer and Stephen Chase; bride's father and mother, Dorothy Haas and Francis McGrath; and the minister, George Spaulding, Jr.

The children are to be given a supper at 6 P. M. The regular Grange meeting will take place at 7:30 P. M. and then open house at 8 P. M. Mrs. Minnie Cady is chairman of the committee.

There is absolutely no charge for this open meeting; it is simply a Grange meeting program thrown open to the public.

BENNINGTON MEMORIAL DAY

According to the consensus of opinion concerning the Memorial Day program, it was conceded that this year's program was outstanding. The message delivered by Father Keannelly was clear and definite, and all together good. Each school child did his or her part very well indeed. The music was all enjoyed. The Hancock Girl Scout Drum Corp improves each time heard and seen. The day was beautiful and the parade very impressive. Our small New England town certainly knows how to do things.

ANTRIM SCHOOL NEWS

The second grade has a health corner and are making posters relative to their health project.

Professors Hartwell and Hardy from the University of New Hampshire were here Wednesday to give an enlightening lecture on the part Physics plays in World War II.

The Baccalaureate Service will be held in the Presbyterian Church at 7:30. Mr. Packard will preach the sermon.

Many of the school children participated in the Memorial Day parade.

AN APPRECIATION

Hearty thanks are extended to the Bennington fire department for its alacrity and speed in arriving at our place when we had the small fire Saturday night, May 30.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The power of the greatest Navy in the world, our own two-ocean fleet, rests in large measure on its backbone—the Battleships of the Line. They displace approximately 35,000 tons and cost up to $70,000,000. We have something like a score of these huge ships in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Eight huge battleships are under construction and more are contemplated. To finance these modern goliaths of the sea it is necessary for every American everywhere to buy more and more War Bonds. We can do it if everybody does his share. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day to help your county go over its Bond Quota. U. S. Treasury Department

GRAND ENTERTAINMENT FOR BENNINGTON SCOUTS

A fine evening's program to promote the Scout "drive" for funds for the Daniel Webster Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be given in Bennington, on this coming Wednesday, June 10. Miss Anne Lindsay, with her popular group of entertainers, will be in charge. The Grange players will present a sketch, "An Interrupted Card Party." Mrs. J. Prentiss Weston will give readings. Charles Firman of Manchester will conduct a demonstration of old fashioned dancing, with the aid of the Bennington high school group. The master of ceremonies will be the local Boy Scout Troop chairman, Rev. George Hibbert Driver.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S.-British War Strategy Meeting
Forecasts Opening of Second Front;
Job Freeze Ends. Pirating Practice;
Mexico and Brazil Fight Axis Subs

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

For outstanding service to the nation, two of the navy's current heroes were honored by Secretary Frank Knox (center). Lieut. John D. Bulkeley (right) received the Navy Cross, in addition to the Army Distinguished Service Cross he held previously. Lieut. Comm. Richard E. Hawes was awarded a gold star to accompany Navy Cross he had already received.

U. S. AIR MISSION: Bad News for Reich

First body blows by the United States against Nazi Germany will be delivered from the air, it was forecast when Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, head of the U. S. army air forces and Rear Adm. John H. Towers, chief of naval aeronautics, arrived in London to "consult with British officials on details of Anglo-American military co-operation."

Air raids of a magnitude and destructiveness such as the world has never before seen will eventually be the sequel to plans perfected at the conferences, observers declared. In creating a second front against Germany, American planes and fliers operating with the British to bomb German factories, defenses and communications would be under their own command.

The "softening up" process forecast by joint American and British air offensives over the Reich would, it was believed, be a prelude to invasion by United Nations' land forces of the continent of Europe later on. This was confirmed by a statement of Lieut. Gen. Somerville that "America is ready to supply men and materials on a large scale to a European front."

The American air mission in Britain was regarded as a logical corollary to Gen. George C. Marshall's London conference on strategy recently. The U. S. army chief of staff's talks with Prime Minister Churchill and British chiefs of staff were known to have covered every war zone including Russia.

600 MILLION: Fund for Housing

The appropriation of an additional $600,000,000 to provide living quarters for 1,600,000 war workers who will migrate to munitions producing centers was asked by President Roosevelt in a message to congress. Congress had previously appropriated $1,020,000,000 for war housing to provide shelter for workers producing essential munitions.

Mr. Roosevelt said in his message that while workers are being obtained locally as far as possible and new sources of labor supply are being called on, it will be necessary for at least 1,600,000 to move to centers of war activity during the coming year. Existing structures are being counted on to absorb a large percentage of the workers, he said, but many workers will have to be housed through new public construction, largely temporary in nature and designed to serve the lower income brackets of war workers.

LYBIAN FRONT: Active Again

Although the weather timetable said it would be a dry season, the Lybian front was active again in the Lybian desert when Nazi Gen. Erwin Rommel's armored units opened an offensive against British forces south of Tripoli.

In the opening phases of what was regarded as Rommel's long-awaited general attack, the British held the upper hand and repulsed and inflicted heavy losses on the Nazis in a series of fierce tank battles.

British tank units were strongly supported by squadrons of Royal Air force fighters, according to communications from Middle East headquarters. The German army was reported to be fighting with stronger air forces.

Observers speculated that what foxey General Rommel had up his sleeve. A master of "feinting" tactics, the Nazi leader was believed by some experts to be making a token thrust against the British southern flank in order to screen a general advance eastward along the coast toward Egypt.

TWO NEW ALLIES:
Mexico and Brazil

More effective measures against the submarine menace along the Atlantic seaboard and in Latin-American waters were forecast through the co-operative action of Brazil and Mexico in joining the United Nations' warfare against the Axis.

Operating under "shoot on sight" orders, Brazilian airmen were reported to have sunk three U-boats lurking off their northern coast. Brazil had to send her armed forces into action, said an air ministry communique, "to safeguard our sovereignty and the lives of our un-defended sailors." Seven Brazilian ships had been torpedoed.

Mexico's action likewise came after the sinking of two of her ships. "We recognize the limits of our military resources," said President Camacho, "but we shall respond to the aggression of our adversaries, collaborating energetically in safeguarding America."

JOB FREEZE: Aids War Output

In answer to the growing practice of "pirating" war workers from one industry to the other by inducements of higher wages and other incentives, the War Manpower commission moved drastically to hold "essential" workers in critical war industries and agriculture in their present jobs.

Primary purpose of the action was to step up war production hampered by shifts of workers. Officials said the United States Employment service would be designated as the sole hiring agent for vital war industries. It was indicated that the service would be empowered to prevent any employed from leaving one job for another, except in cases where his skills were needed for a particular task and where there was a shortage of skilled labor.

Men in key positions would not be subject to military service under the draft deferment provisions of the proposal.

WAR WIVES' AID:
U. S. Is Generous

Substantial financial aid for the families and dependents of enlisted men in Uncle Sam's armed forces was approved by the senate military affairs committee, when members voted an allowance scale beginning at $50 a month for wives.

The benefit system worked out by the committee included a much more liberal war risk insurance plan than in World War No. 1. The program's provisions would start with a government allowance of $20 per month for a wife with no child, to which would be added $22 from the monthly pay of her husband. A wife with one child would receive $40 from the government, plus the $22 allotted from the soldier's pay and $10 for each additional child.

In case of a soldier with parents, brothers, sisters or grandchildren dependent on him, an additional scale of benefits was provided, including $15 for one parent, $25 for two and $5 for additional B class dependents.

MISCELLANY:

Washington: Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, chairman of the naval affairs committee, predicted the Atlantic coast submarine menace will be "increasingly checked" through new plans being put into effect by the navy.

New Delhi: Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, British commander for Burma and India, disclosed that 80 per cent of the Imperial troops sent into Burma had been safely returned to the Indian frontier.

Washington, D. C.
WAR FLASHES

Belgian anti-Axis saboteurs have blown up one of the largest synthetic fertilizer plants in their country. This is a serious blow to the Nazis, who have been using the output of this plant for food production in Germany.

For more than a month there have been no cereals of any kind on the Sofia market. Also the lack of feed, commandeered by the Nazis, is so severe that thousands of horses have died of starvation.

Four small Buffalo concerns are demonstrating that where there is a will there is a way to aid war production. Three of them, tombstone manufacturers, have obtained contracts to sandblast castings for battleships and machine gun mounts. The fourth, which formerly made wig-wag turn signals for trucks, is now making armaments parts.

When Nazi stooge Quisling recently issued a call for enlistments in a select "Quisling Guard" only 35 in the whole of Norway responded.

The labor shortage in Italy has become so acute that all males between 14 and 70 and all females between 16 and 60 have been required to register for "war work service."

CONGRESSIONAL GRAB

Even Washington, where congressional boodling is an old story, was startled when some 300 senators and representatives took "X" rationing cards giving them an unlimited supply of gasoline.

The capital well knows that few members of congress have sufficient "official business" to warrant an "X" rating. Also, after the way the boys got their fingers burned in the attempted crude "bundles for congress" pension grab it was thought they had learned their lesson—for this session at least.

But it seems they haven't, for the gas grab is only part of the rationing ducking story.

OPA has said nothing about it, but the inside fact is that a number of the congressional statesmen have privately demanded that the drastic tire restrictions be lifted for them so that they can get tires for campaigning purposes.

Further, none of these politicians said anything about extending such a concession to their opponents. They want tires for themselves, but their rivals must abide by the regulations without any special favors.

So far OPA has turned a deaf ear to the tire demand.

Note: One reason why "X" cards were dishied out so freely on Capitol Hill was that a number of congressional wives acted as registrars.

FAST THINKER

Popular pastime at Selective Service is swapping stories about draftees. Here is the latest making of the rounds:

A prospective draftee was taking his physical examination and the doctor directed him to "look at the chart on the wall and tell me what numbers you see."

"What wall?" asked the draftee blankly.

After looking him over a few minutes the doctor told the registree the army couldn't use him. He put on his clothes and departed. But on the way home, he stopped off to see a movie. When the lights went on at intermission, he was startled to find the examining physician seated beside him.

But the draftee was equal to the occasion. Nudging the doctor he asked innocently, "Can you tell me if this is the bus to Alexandria?"

JAP OIL

Navy experts are closely watching Jap efforts to rehabilitate the destroyed oil wells and refineries in the Dutch East Indies and Burma.

Orders have been issued that samples of oil, grease, gasoline and fuel oil from captured Jap equipment be rushed by the fastest route to the Engineering Experimental station, Annapolis, where analysis will attempt to ascertain from what region, and even from what well, the original crude was obtained.

Nearly all oil wells and refineries were destroyed when the Allies were forced to retire from the Netherlands Indies and Burma, but the Japs are working feverishly to get the fields back in production. So far there has been no sign of any Jap use of this oil.

Note: A quart is needed for a thorough analysis, but if no more than a smear can be found, the navy wants it.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The hens of the nation are doing their part for the war. This year's egg goal is 51,900,000,000 eggs—13 per cent more than in 1941. And so far this year egg production has been running around 16 per cent greater than 1941.

Although one of the oldest men in the senate, Senator George Norris, "father" of TVA, is at his desk every morning by eight o'clock, never misses a meeting of the committees of which he is a member, and rarely goes home before 7 p. m.

Bossy Meets War Production Challenge
As Dairy Industry Supplies Vital Foods

Industry Observes Sixth
Annual June Campaign.

CHICAGO.—June dairy month brings a picture of 26,000,000 cows on nearly 5,000,000 farms in the United States, each performing an important function in winning the war. Quietly at work in the barns and on the pastures from Maine to California and from the Canadian border to the Gulf, these 26,000,000 animals are daily producing a third of a billion pounds of milk.

That means, an average production of 166,666 tons of milk every day in the year. If placed in ten gallon cans, 3,921,569 cans would be required to hold an average day's milk production in the United States. This is enough milk to fill 6,666 big 25-ton tank cars.

The flow of this life-giving stream of food rated by nutritionists as the No. 1 protective food is of vital importance to our nation at all times, but especially so this year. The Allied nations and the soldiers of the United States must have milk and its products. Factory and munition workers have greater need than ever for milk and milk products.

Office workers, housewives, school children and all other classes of the American population are coming to realize, as never before, their need for greater quantities of these vital foods in order to keep America strong by making Americans stronger.

Dairy Program.

Today the National Dairy Council program, which the industry has sponsored for 23 years, is finding new recognition and new support. A national nutrition program is expanding, and materially strengthening the realization of the fact that good nutrition is necessary to optimum health, vigor and vitality. This national nutrition program has been in operation for more than a year.

Just how are these 26 million cows and those responsible for the product meeting this challenge and this opportunity?

We need not wait for that answer. Those "bossies" and their masters are meeting the challenge. Starting with an average production of 104 billion pounds of milk during the years 1935 to 1939; there was 111 billion pounds of milk produced in 1940; 115 billion 500 million pounds of milk in 1941, and the production for 1942 is estimated at not less than 120 billion pounds of milk to be produced in the United States. In other words, for each and every day of the year, including Sundays and holidays, there is being produced more than 44,000,000 pounds of milk over that of five years ago. That is the equivalent of a fully loaded milk train of 50,000 pound capacity cars, 7 1/2 miles long over and above their normal production.

Terrific Handling Problem.

Stated in terms of ten gallon milk cans, if these were filled and placed side by side, we would find that we had every month a line of filled milk cans 3,150 miles long over and above the amount of milk that was produced in this country in the same period during the preceding five-year period. Producing such a volume of milk in addition to the regular supply is no easy task. Just the job of hauling milk to fill 7 1/2 miles of 50,000 pound capacity tank cars from the farm to the milk station or dairy plant each morning, is enough to stagger the imagination of the average individual, but that is simply a little "before breakfast chore" as compared with the extra effort necessary to raise the feed, do the additional milking and cool and care for that extra 7 1/2-mile milk train load of milk each morning.

As its contribution to feeding the democracies, the dairy industry of the United States has increased its production from 1935 to 1939 by nearly 15,000,000 ten-gallon cans of milk—enough cans to make a row from Los Angeles to New York.

Dry Milk Solids.

For many years, the cream from about 45 billion pounds of milk each year has been used for the manufacture of butter, including both the factory and the farm-made product.

Milk made the difference—both dogs had the same food, but the larger one received a daily ration.

Of this, about 30 billion pounds of milk have been farm separated with the remaining skimmed milk being kept on the farms for feed for calves, pigs and chickens. One of the severe re-adjustments which the industry has been called upon to make in order to furnish sufficient dry milk powder to the United Nations has been to shift from farm separation of much of this milk to the delivery of whole milk.

Manufacture of dry milk solids is gaining rapidly and in March reached an all-time high of 49,800,000 pounds. While the speeding up of the manufacture of dry milk solids has necessarily been delayed longer than seemed desirable on account of the vast amount of changes in practice necessary, both on the farms and in the plants; yet, it is now gaining momentum rapidly. Production today is approximately 120 per cent of 1941.

The three states of Wisconsin, New York and California produce more than one-half of all the dry milk solids in the country at the present time. Other states important in the manufacture of dry milk solids are Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Idaho and Vermont, in the order named.

The increase in the manufacture of dry milk solids has forced severe changes in both farm management practice and in the operation of butter factories. Farmers have had to adjust their operations to new methods of feeding. Creameries have been obliged to put in new equipment, to train new personnel and to re-vamp their operating and merchandising plans. This is in addition to another difficult problem which the butter making industry must face every year and that is, the varying seasonal production. During the year 1940 to 1941 butter manufacture varied by months from a low of 115 million 700 thousand pounds in November to a high of 205 million 300 thousand pounds in June.

North Central States.

Most of these changes have been brought about in the North Central states where butter production is the heaviest—Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin rank first, second and third in the order named as the "big three" in the butter industry in the United States. After that come Michigan, Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, Kansas, Indiana, California, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Washington. These 15 states produce more than 85 per cent of all the butter made in the United States.

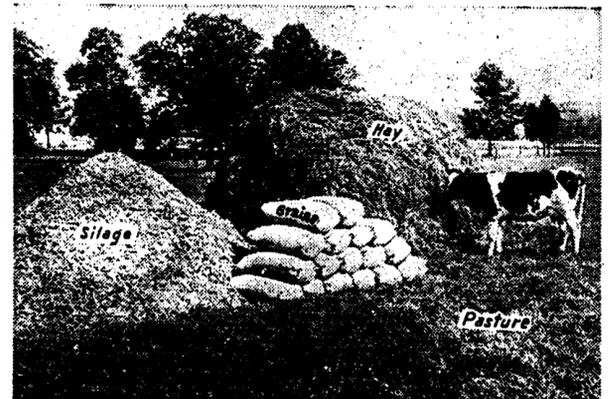

Cheese is another important dairy product, the manufacture of which has been materially affected by current conditions. Largely as the result of the war and the demand for American cheese abroad, production of this product has been stepped up enormously. The government request in March, 1941, for 250 million pounds of cheese amounted to an urging, on its part, for almost 50 per cent increase in production. The industry has met that request and more. Nearly 300 million pounds of cheese had been provided for "lend-lease" purchases from March 15, 1941, to April 1, 1942. Cheese production is now running about 150 per cent as much as a year ago.

Cheese is a product containing practically all the ingredients of fluid milk, and as such, it is one of the first on the protective list of foods. Its value and its importance are gaining recognition rapidly. In the production of cheese, Wisconsin alone produces more than half of all the cheese in the United States. Following Wisconsin are New York, Illinois, Indiana, Oregon, Ohio, Missouri, Texas, Michigan and Minnesota in the order of their importance.

Evaporated Milk Industry.

War conditions have had an equally important bearing on the evaporated milk industry. To fill the demand for a concentrated milk product for the United Nations, the government asked for a step-up in production sufficient to supply 25 million additional cases of evaporated milk. This called for an increase of more than 50 per cent in manufacture. It called for changes in farm management plans, for adjustments in evaporating plant operations, for the training of personnel and for shifts of merchandising methods fully equal to those the cheese industry met. Here again the goal was equalled and more. Approximately 30 million cases of evaporated milk has been furnished for "lend-lease" operations. In this industry, too, Wisconsin leads with almost 30 per cent of all the evaporated milk production in the United States. Ohio, California, New York, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Indiana, Washington and Pennsylvania follow in the order named.

During June hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of publicity in newspapers and trade publications, in food and drug stores, radio programs, publicity stunts, advertising material at point-of-sale, soda fountains, as well as educational programs, combine under the leadership of the National Dairy Council with the efforts of nutritional authorities to make of this the most gigantic effort to bring home to all people the realization of the need of better health and the place of milk and its products in achieving that goal.

A dairy cow weighing 1,000 pounds (providing she maintains her weight and produces 7,605 pounds of milk a year) eats approximately the following amounts of feed in one year: two acres of rich pasturage in five months of summer; 6,300 pounds of silage and 2,730 pounds of alfalfa hay during the seven remaining months; and 1,700 pounds of grain throughout the entire 12 months.

Ice Cream Consumption More Than Doubled

Long regarded as the "all American" dessert, ice cream is rapidly coming to be recognized not only as an economical food, but since it also contains all of the ingredients of milk, as one of the best protective foods. Within the past eight years, consumption has risen from about 4 1/2 quarts per person per year to over 10 1/2 quarts per person per year in 1941. That figure is rising rapidly. Ice cream takes the output of nearly one million cows. In the manufacture of ice cream, Pennsylvania leads the nation closely followed by New York. These two states produce more than one-fourth of all the ice cream in the United States. Illinois, Ohio, California, Michigan, Massachusetts, Texas, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri, Minnesota, New Jersey, Iowa and Maryland follow in the order of this productive importance.

SHE LOVED A SPY by SYLVIA TAYLOR

THE STORY SO FAR: Joan Leland accepts a secretarial position in a night club and falls in love with the handsome proprietor, Karl Miller.

Joan laid the dazzling emerald before Karl without speaking and Karl put it in his pocket as if it had been a slip of paper.

CHAPTER X

One-thirty and still Sybil had not come home. What had she meant by that note saying "something terrible had happened?"

"She never trusted Karl," Joan spoke fearfully. Paul was looking out of the window. "He's not there now."

"I'm afraid so. Karl is too clever to take any chances." "But what does he actually do?"

"Remember that freighter Karl took me to and later sent me to with a package?" "Maybe establishing refueling bases for submarines."

"No. Probably in the South Atlantic. I don't know yet." Joan sighed. "I always wanted adventure but I certainly didn't expect it to take this form."

"I'm sorry you got in so deep," Paul told her very seriously. "It's my own fault. You tried to warn me, so did Sybil."

Their eyes met. Two o'clock and Sybil was still out. "I'm going," Paul said, rising, "and you'd better get some sleep."

"I'm not going to bed until Sybil comes," Joan insisted. "Oh, yes you are! You need your sleep. Tomorrow is going to be a tough day."

"Don't say that! Oh Paul, I've been such a fool. I loved him." He patted her shoulder. "We all make mistakes," he said comfortingly.

When he had gone she tried to obey his instructions. She went to bed and tried to sleep. But the grandfather's clock had chimed three, then three-thirty before she slept, a fitful doze.

"Sybil!" she called hysterically, but there was no reply. Her sister's bed was untouched.

Joan got up, shivering in the cold of the December morning. She went into the kitchen and made a pot of coffee. What had happened to Sybil?

"I've got to keep my head," she thought desperately, pouring the coffee with shaking hands. "But I feel so helpless."

At one-thirty Paul arrived and took Joan to the Club Elite. "Now remember," he said as he parked the car, "we're not friends. Ignore me. And watch your step."

"I'll do my best," Joan said grimly. But it was not easy to walk into this office, to see Karl sitting at his desk with the familiar red carnation in his buttonhole.

"Paul tells me you have decided to be sensible," Karl commented. "What else can I do?" She paused for a moment, then burst out, "What have you done to my sister?"

Karl regarded her with apparent surprise. "Sister? What do you mean?" "She didn't come home all night."

Karl Miller shrugged and smiled. "What makes you think I had anything to do with it? I have no interest in your sister."

"You know what I mean..." "Let us get on with our work," Karl said. Joan managed to control her resentment, and obeyed.

The afternoon finally dragged to a conclusion. At six Paul Sherman appeared and he and Karl had a short conversation in German, after which Karl left.

"I'm taking you to dinner," Paul said, "Karl's orders."

Without a word Joan got her coat and they left the club. Safe in a small restaurant, she asked, "What about Sybil? Have you heard anything?"

"Not a word. And I can't ask Karl. It's too much of a chance." "But we have to do something," Joan pleaded.

"Wait until tomorrow and see what happens." Paul smiled grimly. "It amuses me the way Karl trusts me. Even the most clever criminals make one fatal mistake. This is his."

"Yes. And since he does, he is sure to reveal something." "And all this trouble started because I wouldn't take Sybil's advice."

As Joan picked up her purse she remembered the ring Karl had given her. It was in its velvet box in her purse where she had placed it this morning. She had completely forgotten to return it. Karl did not seem to care particularly whether she did or not.

"It's probably stolen anyway," Joan thought bitterly as Paul took her back to the club. Joan laid the dazzling emerald before Karl without speaking and Karl put it in his pocket as if it had been a slip of paper.

Joan wanted to scream, to pour out her anger. But she suspected that it would only amuse him. Karl actually seemed to think that she would return to their former relationship. "You loved me yesterday," he reminded her. "What is so different?"

"You can force me to work for you—that's all!" Joan told him, her green eyes blazing. Had she ever loved this cruel, conceited man?

An hour later Paul Sherman appeared again and said something to Karl in his own language. Joan noticed that Paul did not look at her, but she felt a personal importance in those guttural words even though she could not understand them.

Karl smiled as he turned to her but there was warning in his eyes. "There are two officers here to see you, Joan. I believe they have news of your sister."

"The police!" In an instant Joan was on her feet. "Something about Sybil," Karl repeated calmly, but his eyes warned her not to make a false move.

Joan risked a glance at Paul. It seemed to her that he shook his head ever so slightly. He was trying to tell her not to take any chances.

"All right," Karl snapped. "Show them in." Paul disappeared. When the door opened as he left, Joan could hear the music and laughter from the front of the club. Christmas gayer! How could these people laugh and be merry? How could they be so unaware of the drama that went on in that back office?

"Watch your step," Karl advised. "If you say anything, you will be the loser, I warn you. I will not hesitate to use all the cards I hold. Shall we put it that way?"

Her green eyes filled with tears. "Don't worry! Sybil is all I'm thinking about now." Paul returned with two officers. "Sorry to bother you, Mr. Miller."

"Not at all," Karl replied graciously. "Tell me," Joan cried, "is it something about my sister? What's happened to her?"

"We're not sure it's your sister, Miss Leland. We want you to come down to headquarters and identify the clothes."

"Clothes? You mean... oh, no!" Her voice rose to a scream. "Take it easy now," the officer advised. "We're not sure."

"Tell me," Joan begged. "Where did you find them?" "A woman's garments were found on the Golden Gate Bridge—a coat, shoes and a handbag with a letter addressed to your sister. Apparently it was suicide."

"Suicide? Sybil would never do a thing like that!" "Maybe she didn't. Maybe she just wants you to think so. But we called up her employer, Mrs. Murdock, and she said she hadn't shown up for work."

Joan's eyes were upon Karl. "You had something to do with this," her eyes accused.

For one moment she was tempted to pour out the whole story of the spy ring, to scream her accusations, but Paul was at her side now, grasping her firmly by the arm, and the pressure told her to be silent.

Karl was saying, "I'm terribly sorry, Joan. You may go with the officers. Paul will go with you and see that you get home safely."

"Thanks!" Joan flung the word into his expressionless face. All the way to headquarters Joan prayed that all this might be a mistake—that those clothes found on the Golden Gate Bridge were not Sybil's. It could not be Sybil! Her sister had said she would "be back soon." Was that indicative of suicide? But when she was faced with the coat, shoes and handbag she knew there was no mistake.

"Yes. These are my sister's," she told them tonelessly. There was a sympathetic silence as an officer removed the clothes and letter.

"Do you know of any reason why your sister should have done this?" "No," Joan wanted to cry but the tears would not come. A great pain welled up inside her. Sybil! Sybil was all she had in the world! She felt the floor swaying beneath her. She clung to the table.

"Poor kid!" Paul was saying as he helped her into a chair. Someone else brought a glass of water. "It's almost impossible to recover a body from that part of the bay," one of the men was saying. "Of course we'll do all we can but the tide is so strong..."

"Stop it!" Joan screamed. "I tell you my sister didn't kill herself! I know she didn't!" She was speaking incoherently now.

The officers leaned closer. "Just what do you mean, Miss Leland?" Paul came to the rescue. "Miss Leland is hysterical. It's only natural. This has been a terrible shock, of course. Probably a good night's sleep will fix her up. Why not let me take her home? She's had enough for one night."

"Sure," the officer said sympathetically. "Go ahead." Paul led the trembling figure down the cold marble hall and into the street. Joan could not have stood without his support.

"Why didn't you let me tell them?" She asked over and over. "Paul, you know Karl had something to do with this."

"We can't prove it," he reminded her kindly. "Our only chance to convict Karl of this, or anything else, is to be seemingly unsuspecting."

They were driving home now, through the wet streets of San Francisco. Wreaths shone from the windows of homes and apartments. Small Christmas trees sparkled. Next week—Christmas.

"Oh, Paul, I can't stand it!" "Listen, honey," he said tenderly, "I don't think Sybil committed suicide."

"Then you think Karl is behind it?" "I wouldn't be surprised." "But where is Sybil? Has he...?"

"As a matter of fact," Paul said thoughtfully, "I think Sybil is alive. Now this is pure theory, understand, but I think Karl is trying to put a scare into you. He's probably taken Sybil away somewhere, but I don't think he's really harmed her. He doesn't want to take that much of a chance. He wants her as a hostage."

"You mean," Joan said slowly, "that Karl will someday tell me that Sybil is alive and threaten her life if I don't do as he asks?"

"That's the way I have it figured." "As long as Sybil is alive, that's all that matters. Surely we can find out if we go on with Karl and he isn't suspicious."

"Good girl," Paul approved as they drove up before her apartment. "If we work together, I think we can beat Karl Miller at his own game. He's bound to make a slip and when he does we'll have all the evidence, not only about Sybil but his other activities. You'll stick it out, Joan?"

INFLATION A SERIOUS PROBLEM INFLATION IS MORE THAN A THREAT. It is a very serious danger which we face. Should it come in the wild form experienced by Germany, and to a large extent by France, following World War I, it would, in all probability, cause us to lose the war.

Germany recovered largely because to a considerable extent we fed the German people. We loaned her 100 per cent American dollars with which to buy American food products. She never repaid those dollars. We could not find a friendly people who would be able to feed us under inflation conditions.

In an effort to avoid the evils of inflation, we can certainly accept a limitation on profits, a limitation on wages, a ceiling on prices, and pay heavy federal taxes for war purposes for the duration. We can do these things much more cheerfully for a limited time than be slaves to the Huns for generations.

We are engaged in an "all-out" war, and that means either sacrifices for the period of the war, or slavery.

'BUSINESS' AND AMERICAN PEOPLE

WE, THE RANK AND FILE of the American people, are a part of American business. We are the silent partners. It makes no difference as to what our job may be, whether that of a mechanic, merchant, clerk, member of a profession, a farmer, or what have you, the continuance of that job is dependent, directly or indirectly, upon business.

Business conducts an intelligent effort to sell its products. It buys newspaper and periodical space, time on the air, billboards and other forms of advertising, in which to tell of the advantages to the purchaser of those things business produces. In its advertising it does not tell of the advantage to business gained by the sale of its products. It tells only of the value to the purchaser.

But business makes no effort to sell itself to the people, its silent partners. Business takes it for granted that we know all about this American institution in which we are so vitally interested; that we are familiar with our relationship to that institution and that it can call upon us whenever it is in need of assistance.

Not realizing our relationship to business; not realizing how vital the continuance of business is to our personal welfare, we do not heed its call. To us, the rank and file of the American people, business is an enemy that will prey upon us if we do not prey upon it. It is our part to take from business all it is possible to collect, not realizing that in doing so we are taking from ourselves.

What business needs is as competent an advertising manager and staff of copywriters for itself as it has for its products. It needs to sell its silent partners on its value to them. The fact that business has not done this—has not shown us our relationship as silent partners—is largely responsible for our present attitude of "soak business."

FARM LABOR IN CALIFORNIA

THE GOVERNMENTS of the United Nations, including our own, are calling on American farmers for greater quantities of food. The farmers are asked to produce more at a time when they, like all other industries, are short of help because of the call to the colors of hundreds of thousands of farm boys.

California proposed to solve, or at least partially solve, the farm help problem during the fruit and grain harvest season by inducing school boys of 15 years and over to forego their summer vacations and volunteer for work on the farms and in the canning plants. High school teachers encouraged the idea, and some thousands of boys volunteered.

Then the United States Employment Service stepped into the picture with a statement that the boys could work, provided they paid for union membership cards and paid union dues for the period of employment.

These California boys will be permitted to do a patriotic job if they pay the unions for the privilege of doing it and agree to work not more than 40 hours a week. That at a time when hundreds of thousands of farm boys are fighting for the liberties of the American people, for our cherished philosophy of government, for our very life. And this is America!

Dumpy and Hippy— That's U. S. Beauty!

Department of Agriculture
Uses Tape Measure.

WASHINGTON.—The average American woman is dumpy. If that's a seditious statement take it up with the agriculture department.

A department scientific compendium of research into feminine sizes and shapes reveals that the average American woman is short, heavy for her height, thick-waisted and hippy. By measuring 59 external dimensions of 14,698 women selected at random in seven states and the District of Columbia, the department's bureau of home economics arrived at data which it believes is fairly representative, when boiled down and averaged up, of the nation's 40,000,000 white women over 18.

The mean woman, as the department calls her, stands only 5 feet 3 inches tall while weighing 133½ pounds. She has a 15.27 neck, a 35.62 bust, a 29.15 waist and—heaven help her—a 39.82 hip.

When you consider that the current ideal of feminine beauty is a creature 5 feet 6 inches tall weighing 122 pounds with a 34 bust, 25 waist and 35 hip, you get an idea of how far the mean American woman misses the mark.

"A surprisingly large proportion of women," the report goes on, "are short but stout or tall but slender," and you can't gauge a girl's hips by her bust or vice versa.

To aid manufacturers of women's clothing, the department sought a system for predicting all dimensions from a given few. Since no scientific study of the kind had ever been made before, the department undertook to measure everything from ankle height to shoulder slope and from neck girth to sitting-spread.

Here's Good Recipe for Medicine to Give Japs

CHARLESTOWN, IND.—Sh-sh-sh! Don't breathe a word about how much smokeless powder is being made in the war department's Indiana ordnance works here. But for those (if any) who would like to make some in the kitchen stove, here's the unofficial recipe, straight from the horse's mouth!

Gather the lint from father's cotton underwear, put it in a kettle of water and bring to a boil; evaporate the water and put the dry residue in a pot with some diluted sulphuric acid (obtainable by emptying your car battery) and add a dash of wart remover, otherwise known as nitric acid. Stir the mixture for half an hour, remove the lint and place it in boiling water containing baking soda.

Next, take out the wad and churn it in rubbing alcohol or home brew, and add finger nail polish containing ether. Churn it some more and then dry. And—DON'T LIGHT ANY MATCHES IN THE VICINITY because what you have is good medicine for Japs and Germans but not for you. It's gun cotton, mister—nitrocellulose.

The Garden Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. G. H. Caughey with about the usual attendance. Interesting talks were given on House Leeks by Mrs. Iva Hutchinson, on Tree Peonies by Mrs. Caughey, and on Primroses by Miss Ethel Dudley. Mr. Packard talked about raising vegetables and Mrs. Roberts gave some information about preparing them for the table. There was the regular round table discussion of garden problems. At the next meeting flower arranging will be discussed and demonstrated.

THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1942

Bennington

Mr. and Mrs. Holzman have arrived from Long Island for the summer.

Mrs. John Devins of Jamaica Plain has been spending some time in town.

George McGrath was home all last week from his work in Bristol, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sargent and daughter Linda have moved to Lebanon, N. H.

Earl Scott visited his sister, Mrs. Harry Favor, and also Mrs. Carlton Page on Sunday.

Mrs. Joseph Mallett and sons spent a short time with her father, Mr. Patrick McGrath.

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Joslin of Manchester visited Miss Emma Joslin on Memorial Day.

Mrs. Patrick McGrath is reported as doing very nicely in the Memorial Hospital in Nashua.

Mrs. Mary K. Wilson is in the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital in Concord for observation and rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Sullivan and daughter of Keene were visitors of Mr. Lovern on the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Simons returned to Antrim about two weeks ago. They lived for the winter in Mr. Lovern's home.

Carlton Pope went on Monday to Concord for induction into the Army. He has a ten-day furlough before reporting to Camp Devens.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perry of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Call of Jaffery, were with Mrs. George McGrath on Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice C. Newton, Edward A. Newton, Arnold R. Logan and Miss Lillian Newton of Amherst, N. H. were in Merrimac, Mass. on Memorial Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Van Iderstine and daughter of Gardner, Mrs. Frank Young of Somerville, and Mrs. Fred Bennett and children of Boston were in town for the holiday.

Children's Day in the Congregational Church is being arranged. The children will speak and sing and merits will be awarded. Plants will also be distributed. Remember the date and be sure to come. Sunday, June 14th at 11 A. M.

Twenty-five years ago the people in town gave Mr. and Mrs. Maurice C. Newton, recently wed, a lovely party. They decided then and there that if it were possible when they were wed 25 years, they would give the people a good time. So on June 18th in the Grange Hall, if possible (if not possible, then in their own home), Mr. and Mrs. Newton invite all their friends and neighbors to come and make merry. Card games may be played, music enjoyed, and just an informal good time participated in. So come for the evening.

Another of our faithful townspeople has passed away, Miss Charlotte Balch. We shall miss her very much. For years she has been a member of the Methodist Church in Antrim. She played the organ and did many things that busy hands find to do in church work. For almost fifty years she taught school, an excellent teacher. Antrim has lost a teacher of unusual merit.

Words can never describe the vacancy left when such people as Miss Balch leave us. It is as though a familiar, necessary and lovely landmark were suddenly swept away. She had a great capacity for friendship, and the night before she was first stricken, Miss Balch attended a birthday party of one of her schoolmates here in town. She was always ready to lend a helping hand.

Woman Asks 4th Divorce

From Same Old Spouse

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA.—Mrs. Mildred Williams has made overtime use of the so-called woman's privilege of changing her mind. She is seeking her fourth divorce—all from the same man, James F. Williams.

The Williams' marital record: Married September, 1939, divorced November, 1939, remarried 11 days later; divorced January, 1940, remarried five weeks later; divorced December, 1940, remarried two months later.

Mrs. Williams filed again for divorce last year, but changed her mind and dismissed the action prior to the case now pending. Mr. Williams, also is getting fed up by now, has petitioned for the annulment of their last marriage.

Pastor Bicycles Around

Parish to Save Tires

COLUMBUS.—The Rev. Sheridan Bell Jr., youthful Methodist pastor, is all set for tire rationing. Clad in a short unclerical leather jacket, he bicycles his way to visit his flock of 230 families, scattered over five square miles of suburban Columbus.

Bell, who drove his automobile at least 250 miles a week, foresaw the difficulties of tire rationing. He bought an English-type bicycle with low handlebars from a youth who entered the army.

When his overcoat caught in the spokes he bought a warm leather jacket. Bell made 10 calls on a trial run and was well satisfied. Besides saving tires, he cuts out the cost of 20 gallons of gasoline a week.

PARENTS AND FRIENDS OF Service Men

The Messenger is asking all parents and friends of men in any branch of the country's armed forces to help make up a master list of all service men and their addresses.

Many times citizens and responsible organizations would like to send the boys greetings or gifts and are unable to do so for the lack of addresses.

If anyone in Hillsboro, Deering, Antrim or Henniker has any relatives in the armed forces please notify the Messenger of their recent address, at once. When completed this list can ONLY be used by RESPONSIBLE persons and organizations for the added enjoyment of our boys.

Remember, letters and gifts from home mean a great deal to the servicemen.

Proctor's Sportmen's Column

It won't be long now when you can take pout, June 1 pulls up the curtain and keeps it up till Nov. 1. It should be wonderful pout fishing this year as we have stocked some of my ponds heavy with pout.

The past week I have been obliged to notify in an official manner many dog owners that their self-hunting dogs are running at large in woods and pastures inhabited by sheep and wild birds and animals. This is the law and we are bound that it will be enforced to the letter. Dogs running riot now are causing a lot of damage to nesting birds and to young animals. Young deer are now in the wooded section and must be protected from the dogs. If you know of any dogs hunting now it's your patriotic duty to report them in at once to the nearest Game Warden.

If you get caught in the round up net which is being spread in many of my towns it's your own fault as I have told you many times that your dog tax was due May 1 and the dead line was May 10. There is a fine of $15 on each dog and the Judge may order the dog killed besides. Don't get caught in the net. See your town clerk at once.

Last Friday night I came by the Fly Casting pool at North Peterboro and were those trout feeding on flies. The water was alive and it looked like a rain storm but it was trout and what beauties.

It only costs $3 to register an out-board motor but if you don't and you get caught it will cost you $100. Better play it safe. This plate can be used on any boat on any body of water in the state.

Oscar Dube the well known fisherman took a 15-inch Rainbow out of the Souhegan river a few days since while Rev. Harold Frye got his limit twice last week in rain-bows and squaretails. It was boys' week last week and did they catch the trout.

The same old question every day, Shall I post my land against trespass. Well I have 65 acres and I have never posted mine. The reason is this: The fellow you want to keep off you can't for he is a prof poacher and will go on signs or no signs. So it's better not to post.

You dog fellows listen to this one. The Profile Kennel club is to hold an All Breed Sanction Match (Plan "D") Dog Show at Rockingham Park, Salem, N. H., May 31. Open at 1 p. m. Judging at 2. Puppies of all ages, regular classes for older dogs. This club was organized in the home town 15 years ago and I was the first president. This show will be held rain or shine. Better bring your dog down and compare him with the others. Nice prizes and good judges.

Just now I think the crow is blacker than his color as he is the means of putting me out of the duck business. Every day in my pine grove I find eggs which he has stolen out of a duck's nest and eaten. Why they are so bold that my neighbor the other day saw them eating out of a corn dish I had put out for my ducks. Not a young duck have I seen yet on my pond and there were at least 13 nests around my pond. A little lead poisoning injected from a 12-gauge gun might help some.

Another one of my neighbors went over to my pond the other day and scared up a big hawk right off the dam, then several black ducks flew out, several crows, two mud hens and five heron, and in this same woods lives a big bobcat which no one seems able to get.

How do you know the crows are stealing the eggs from the ducks' nests? Well I have seen them fly over with an egg which they drop and then drop down and eat.

Did you ever try and tear out a beaver dam? It's some stunt, if you don't believe it ask some one who has. Saturday Dick Abbott and my son "Sam" pulled out a dam and set several traps to take 'em alive. Why I bossed the job from the bank and it sure tired me all out just watching them.

"REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR" STARTS SUNDAY AT CAPITOL

As timely as tomorrow's newspaper headlines and even twice as exciting is "Remember Pearl Harbor," the Republic action drama, which opens Sunday, June 7, at the Capitol Theatre in the first of a 3 day run.

Magnificently enacted by a splendid cast which includes Donald M. Barry, Allan Curtis, Fay McKenzie, Rhys Williams, Sig Ruman and Maynard Holmes.

Barry, Curtis and Holmes are seen as three soldier pals stationed at a U. S. Army post in the Philippines. Barry is the "rugged individualist" of the trio whose blithe disregard for rules and regulations keeps not only himself, but the other two as well, constantly in hot water.

However, in the critical moment, he is found to be not wanting in courage and resourcefulness.

The accent in the picture is definitely on action, but there's romance too—with Barry and Curtis vying for the affections of lovely Fay McKenzie.

Mrs. John Pierson entertained in honor of the 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson and the 7th birthday of their son John of Manchester. Among those present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Putnam of Epping, John Hunter of Hartford, Conn., and Edwin E. Carr of Lexington, Mass.

The Ladies Aid held its annual meeting and guest night at the chapel Wednesday. During the business session the following officers were elected: Mrs. John Moulton, president; Mrs. Wesley Bumford, vice president; Mrs. Morris White, secretary; Mrs. Fred J. Gibson, treasurer. The members of the Upper Village Community Club and their families were guests of the evening. Following the supper Rev. Mr. Coad, by special request, related some of his experiences while located in British Columbia, a subject that is always interesting to his audience.

Looky! Looky! A Sugarless Cookie!

PASS up the sugar bowl and heat it up the oven, for you don't need that precious sweet stuff to make that brand new sugarless cookies that have been created, tried and tested in the Rumford Kitchens. They're sweet and simple, and since sugar tends to mask ingredient flavors, Rumford being an all-phosphate baking powder leaves no after taste in sugarless recipes. Here is the basic recipe and its four flavorful variations:

Sugarless Cookies
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup honey
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt

Sift together flour, Rumford Baking Powder and salt. Cream shortening, add honey slowly and cream until fluffy. Stir in well-beaten egg and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients, a little at a time, blending well after each addition. Drop by teaspoonfuls on lightly greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven (425°F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: about 4 dozen cookies.

VARIATIONS
Chocolate Drop Cookies: Add 1/2 cup grated semi-sweet chocolate to creamed shortening mixture before adding sifted dry ingredients.
Nut Drop Cookies: Add 1/2 cup chopped nut meats to creamed shortening mixture before adding sifted dry ingredients.
Orange Drop Cookies: Add 2 teaspoons grated orange rind and 1/4 teaspoon orange flavoring to cookie batter in place of vanilla.
Fruit Drop Cookies: Add 1/2 cup raisins, chopped figs or prunes to creamed shortening mixture before adding sifted dry ingredients.

FIRST-AID to the AILING HOUSE

By ROGER L. WHITMAN

Roger L. Whitman—WNU Features.

HOUSE HEATERS SHOULD BE OVERHAULED NOW

THIS is a good time of year for a home owner to overhaul his heating system in the light of troubles that he has had with it in the previous winter; uneven distribution of heat, excess fuel consumption, etc. First, he should make sure that the chimney is in good condition and that the flue is clean. The heater itself should be gone over and cleaned thoroughly. All open joints by which air can enter should be closed, for these will interfere with the draft and cause waste of fuel. Leaks may be around warped doors and dampers, or between the bottom of the heater and the floor. If there had been dust in the house from a hot air furnace, the fault is likely to be in open joints between the sections. These joints should be closed with a special cement that withstands high temperatures. Even the best cement will not last longer than five years, however, and in cracking will permit smoke and dust to enter the air passages. A hot water house heater that is slow in heating, or that heats unevenly, can be greatly improved by adding a circulating pump to operate automatically. A steam heating plant can be improved by replacing the old radiator air valves with a modern adjustable kind, with which all radiators will heat at the same time. The best move, of course, is to have the plant inspected by a competent steamfitter, with the idea of putting things into prime condition before the coming cold weather.

Wet Foundation

Question: My foundations are made of cobblestone with cement blocks on top. In rains and thaws the blocks become wet and the cobblestones beneath them are soaked through. Outside the wall the sidewalk is graded, and gets drip from the eaves. Is this the cause of the dampness in the foundation wall?

Answer: Dampness in the foundation wall comes from the collecting of water in the filled-in part of the excavation outside of the wall. Your best remedy will be to lay drain tile at the footings of the wall outside to carry the water away to some low point where it will discharge. You should also equip your roof with gutters and leaders.

Care of Floors

Question: How should new oak floors be cared for? They have been waxed, but not stained. They turn dark after washing them.

Answer: A new floor should be given a varnish, shellac or similar finish before being waxed, to prevent wax from soaking into the wood. Without an undercoat, dirt will go through the wax and discolor the wood. A hardwood floor should never be washed with water. Dirt can be taken up by dry wiping. When heavy dirt must be removed, take it up with a damp cloth, followed by wiping dry. A waxed floor can also be cleaned with liquid wax—not water wax, which is to be used only as a finish.

Mirror in Bathroom

Question: Will you tell me what kind of a back a mirror must have to withstand steam, etc., in a bathroom? I have been told that any kind of mirror would peel, and then again, that an enamel back would give protection.

Answer: The best type of mirror for bathrooms and other purposes is one that is made with a copper-plated back. A mirror with a painted back may be scratched if the silvering is worn off, but for the same reason, a painted back will peel in a short time.

Sticky Varnish

Question: Woodwork in my house is varnished, and I have had trouble with the varnish sticking to it. In my dining room, the most place in a stark must have warm water poured into it to loosen it. These things are very trying. How can they be remedied?

Answer: The varnish apparently had too much oil in it. The stickiness can be taken out by washing with turpentine, but as this will dull the gloss, another coat of varnish will be needed. For this, use top quality quick-drying varnish.

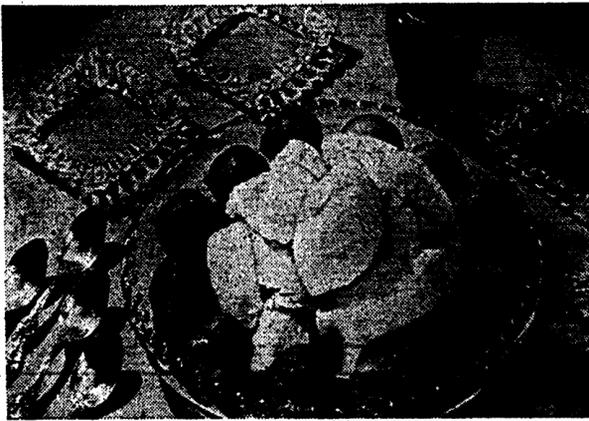

Wall Plaster

Question: Before replastering should I remove all plaster that has become crystallized and mudded? When the plaster is applied directly to brick without lath or anchor it, what type of plaster should be used for replacement?

Answer: It is not satisfactory to apply plaster directly to brickwork, for it will be cold and is likely to be damp. For best results, take off the old plaster and put the new plaster on lath on furring strips.

Bridal Showers

Pretty, but practical—that's the cue for this year's bridal showers. Chances are this year's bride will be an army or navy bride with but a whirlwind wedding with her husband on a short leave, so there won't be much time for the frills and fuss of other years.

Her plans will be sketchy, most probably, and very often they will not include a permanent home or bungalow. That means that bridal showers will be simple and inexpensive and gifts for the bride-to-be will include only things which are not too elaborate, and which can be packed in a small space in case she is to travel or take a small apartment by herself.

What kind of showers, then? Well, there are always the personal showers in which you give her lingerie or other personal toilet items that you know she needs or wants.

Another practical shower is the Kitchen Gadget shower. Get small items like dish mops, kitchen knives, forks, mixing spoons, dish cloths, soap flakes, clothes pins and a few sets of bowls. Glass sets are popular, coming three in a set, fitting together in a nest so they don't take up much room. They're practical plus, too, because they can be used for baking dishes if you get the heat-resistant kind.

Include measuring cups and spoons, custard cups and small skillets and pots in the kitchen gadget shower. A new bride will appreciate your thoughtfulness in getting necessities like these for her. The Kitchen shower is extra nice because you can carry out table decorations in the theme of the shower. Make a bouquet of some of the items for a centerpiece and use the dishcloths for doilies or place mats.

Sewing Shower. Spools of thread in a riot of bright colors tumbling out of an attractive sewing basket can make the centerpiece for this party both novel and economical.

There's a variety of things to give the bride in this kind of shower and none of them will strain the pocket-book—needles, hooks, snaps, darning thread, thimbles, etc.—all these are "musts" on the bride's list.

Recipe Showers. Is the bride-to-be interested in cooking? Most of them are, and if they are not, they will be soon. That's why recipe showers get "most popular" rating often. For this shower you and your friends can gather together your most popular and favorite recipes on cards or in notebooks, or collect several cookbooks to give the guest of honor.

Decorations. Pretty up your table with pastel and white colors. This is the time to use your nicest linen and most fragile china to lend daintiness to the occasion. Color combinations may be white used plentifully with pink, green or pale yellow. Fresh sprays of garden flowers, even in small quantity add charm.

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: Egg production has been upped 15 to 20 per cent to take care of national and allied needs, so there will be no shortage of this staple item.

Although there have been rumors of a tea shortage, tea will be rationed on a 50 per cent basis to assure plenty for summer, thirst-quenching use. There is enough tea in the country to last eight months, and in spite of the war, shipments are still coming in from India and Ceylon.

The War Production Board has allotted enough tin to the pineapple industry for this year's pack and operations for production in Hawaii have been hiked to the maximum. It is expected that supplies will be somewhat curtailed because the government has reserved about 28 per cent of the pack for its own purchase.

This Week's Menu

- Bride's Shower
- *Salad Luncheon Plate or
- *Asparagus Loaf
- Tiny Hot Rolls Preserves
- *Ice Cream With Green Gage Plums
- *Recipes Given

A light, dainty luncheon platter can be served by way of refreshment. Accompany this with tiny hot rolls or muffins and no shower guests could desire more:

- *Salad Luncheon Plate. (For One Serving)
 - ½ cup cottage cheese
 - 2 deviled egg halves
 - 2 to 3 slices of tomato
 - 2 to 3 slices of cucumber
 - 2 finger strips of sliced cheese
 - 2 crabapple pickles
- Miscellaneous:
- 2 olives
 - Slices of hard-cooked eggs
 - Salad dressing
 - Paprika

Heap cottage cheese in crisp lettuce cup arranged in center of chilled salad plate. Then around this center, arrange the remaining foods in neat, symmetrical fashion—the deviled eggs opposite the crabapple pickles, the overlapping slice of cucumber next to the apples and opposite the overlapping slices of tomato on the opposite side of the plate, bread triangles topped with a slice of egg, opposite each other, 2 slices of cheese opposite each of the 2 olives. Garnish the cottage cheese with paprika, and pass french dressing with the salad.

If you prefer to serve a hot dish in place of the salad plate, you'll like this asparagus loaf in this versatile combination with cheese and white sauce:

- *Asparagus Loaf. (Serves 6)
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 cups grated American cheese
- 1½ cups fine, soft bread crumbs
- 1 (1-pound) can asparagus tips
- Pimiento strips

Drain asparagus, reserve liquid. Line bottom of buttered loaf pan with half the asparagus tips. Place strips of pimiento between tips. Melt butter, blend in flour and mix well. Add milk and ¼ cup of the asparagus liquid and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper and cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Fold in crumbs. Add gradually to eggs and fold in remaining asparagus tips, cut into one-inch pieces. Pour into loaf pan, place into a pan of hot water and bake 1 hour in a moderate (350-degree) oven. Serve on a platter surrounded with watercress and overlapping slices of tomatoes which have been marinated in french dressing.

Your figure-conscious young guests will appreciate the good news about ice cream. Recent tests show that ice cream has much less calories than other favorite desserts such as cake and pie, but nutritionally it is excellent.

- *Ice Cream With Green Gage Plums (Serves 6)
- 1 quart of vanilla ice cream
- 1 No. 2½ can green gage plums

Drain syrup from green gage plums. Arrange big spoonfuls of vanilla ice cream in center of a large glass bowl. Garnish or surround with plums. Serve immediately, with a jug of syrup, drained from the can of plums.

Plums may be rolled in shredded almonds or finely chopped nuts, if desired.

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

MILLIONS of movie fans who have seen Johnny Sheffield cavort across the screen as "Tarzan Jr.," son of "Tarzan," will see him in a new role. He's starting on a country-wide tour to stimulate sales of War Bonds and Stamps; it's sponsored by the war savings staff of the U. S. treasury, in conjunction with Metro. Johnny, in his Boy Scout uniform, will make his appeals from the turret of a shiny new army tank; purchasers of quantities of stamps will be permitted to board it, for inspection.

Ann Thomas is doing such a terrific job as "Casey" in NBC's "Able's Irish Rose" series that author Anne Nichols is enlarging her part. The pretty and talented Ann is on so many radio programs that you wonder how she keeps her roles straight, especially as she spends her spare time collecting detective stories and phonograph records for the navy; takes 'em to the Brooklyn Navy yard herself.

Hollywood movie companies usually fly a balloon when on location, to warn away planes, because of the noise of their engines. Recently, however, Columbia's "The Lone Wolf in Scotland Yard" troupe practically hung out a "welcome" sign. The company, headed by Warren William, was in a bomb shelter, supposedly undergoing a raid, and they were shooting in the San Fernando valley, where plenty of planes flew overhead. When one especially large plane flew over, a company business manager said "That effect would cost us $25 in the studio."

Once upon a time it seemed that Norma Shearer was getting all the best roles in all the best pictures; nowadays it's Bette Davis who gets the good chances—and he it said for Bette that she never fails to turn in an excellent performance. She gets the feminine lead in the picture version of "Watch on the Rhine," which will be a great picture if it's nearly as good as the play.

Pretty Janet Blair got that coveted chance to play the title role in "My Sister Eileen," when the movie made from the play of that name reaches the screen. But she'll have her work cut out for her, for Rosalind Russell has an even bigger role.

Because "International Honey-moon," co-starring Ginger Rogers and Cary Grant, is laid in the period before the present war, a difficult bit of research has come up. Save for refugees, the only persons who have the needed information are in concentration camps.

It's nothing new for stars to write into their contracts the proviso that they're to have time off each year to do a stage play, or make a picture at another studio. But Roy Rogers has an original clause in the seven-year contract he recently signed with Republic. He may devote three months of each year to war work!

Following the announcement that Walt Disney has completed his new feature length production, "Bambi," which was five years in the making, it had been revealed that 75 per cent of the studio's total output is now devoted to government films. In them, facts and figures appear on the screen in graphic, usually dramatic forms; complicated machinery dissects itself before your eyes by means of simple drawings. The raw recruit sees the bolt mechanism of a new weapon as a simple, understandable thing—thanks to the Disney war effort.

ODDS AND ENDS—Walter Reed has been assigned to the role left vacant in RKO's "Spitfire" series when Buddy Rogers joined the navy. Metro plans a film "Sabotage Agent," starring Robert Donat, in London, which seems to mark resumption of American movie-making in England. Jane Randolph, who has pilot's license, changed her last name from Roemer to Randolph in honor of the lyn field of that name. "We, the People," broadcast from the army bomber in flight toward its target took four minutes to tie off—four weeks to arrange. Ona Munson, girl reporter of radio's "Big Town, you has a rare thassa terrier.

Buying Wisely

In these days people are buying wisely. They study values more closely than ever before, they compare prices. The buyer today studies advertising carefully, and the seller can use advertising and obtain better results than when money is more carelessly spent. Advertising nowadays pays—both buyer and seller.

WHAT single mistake, error or so-called faux pas in the rickety history of sport cost the largest amount of money?

There have been more than a few such slips, many of them normal mishaps, that ran the bill from $100,000 to $500,000. That's a fair chunk of loose change for one skidding act.

This argument came up in the wake of Billy Conn's misguided left hook which happened to land on his pa-in-law's head in place of his pa-in-law's chin, nose or abdomen.

Conn, one of the sharpest of the snipers—labelled another Jim Corbett by Bill Brady—cost himself, Joe Louis, Mike Jacobs and the Army Relief fund from $500,000 to $700,000 by being off the beam many inches. This certainly ranks around the top of all-time financial upheavals in the wake of erring judgment or erring physical skill.

A Few Others

There was the time Fred Snodgrass of the New York Giants dropped a fly ball in Boston in the Red Sox-Giant World Series of 1912 with Christy Mathewson pitching. This happened in the stretch of the eighth game and it cost the Giants around $100,000 in the money split. This mishap came from complete overconfidence on an easy fly descending into Fred's waiting hands.

There was the time when jockey Johnny Pollard, riding Seabiscuit in the Biscuit's first Santa Anita Handicap, failed to hear the $100,000 thunder of Rosemont's approaching hoofbeats. If he had, Whirlaway wouldn't be even close today for the Biscuit's all-time cleanup.

There was the Hugh Casey-Mickey Owen twister in the Yankees-Dodgers battle last fall that lifted over $200,000 from the two ball clubs and sent it back to the ticket holders in the wiped out sixth contest. Casey had more stuff on the ball than Owen could handle. He had more than $200,000 worth of stuff. So you can't blame Owen.

Pastor-Lewis Fight?

Bob Pastor will make up a good part of the Conn loss if a summer heavyweight fight is arranged. Which means, of course, that the army must be willing to grant Joe Louis a leave.

But a Louis-Pastor battle would not draw as well as the cancelled or postponed Conn entertainment for several reasons. One is that this would be Pastor's third parking spot in front of the two Louis fests, meaning right and left. Also, Conn came closer than any other challenger to removing the heavyweight crown from the old homestead.

For all that, Pastor has earned his place as the next in line. He was at least smart enough not to throw a left hook into a concrete wall.

What's the Source?

The amount of money sent through mutual windows so far this spring has astonished even the racing optimists. This has been especially true of New York and Maryland tracks where both the crowds and the cash have set up a flow of new records.

New York will hit and pass the $60,000,000 mark at Belmont. The line at the $10 windows is the longest racing has ever seen. This money, or a big part of it, comes from new players who haven't yet discovered there is a slight element of chance in this racing game.

With extra billions scattered around and fewer things to buy, including sugar and gasoline, they storm the impregnable fortress of thoroughbred chance.

No small part of this money comes from war work for the government and that is one of the reasons that at least a part of it should go back to government war work.

Just how long, or how much longer, this golden flow will pour through the mutual windows is another guess. More than one big Belmont day will pass the $2,000,000 mark.

It isn't such a wrecking matter to beat a race—or even to beat a day's card. But anyone who thinks he can beat 12 per cent through a week or a season has an imagination too extended to be measured by either time or space. As the late Mr. Coleridge put it, he is strolling "where Alph, the sacred river, ran through caverns measureless to man."

ABOUT three years ago Ralph Guidahl, professional golfer, was burning the fairways with a consistently good game. In a sudden burst of enthusiasm we wrote that ice water and not blood coursed through Ralph's veins.

He was a cool, unemotional, patient player. He shot to win, giving and expecting no favors. Several experts looked upon him as the greatest player in the game—one who might eventually lead the list of all-time greats.

Proof of his ability lies in the fact that he won the National Open in 1936, '37 and '38. Add to that the Masters' title and you have an indication of his successes in a period of little more than three years.

His fortunes slipped in 1940, after those three splendid years found their way into the record book. And Guidahl hasn't found himself again.

He admits that he has lost his confidence—his sureness in making shots. His swing has gone slightly sour and he's having a difficult time remedying it. He knows his trouble is mental, but that makes no difference when scores are posted.

Ralph knows the cure. It calls for constant, never-ending practice. Whatever he lost will be picked up in week after week of steady practice. He points to Ben Hogan as the shining example. Hogan spends more time in practice sessions than any other professional. A glance at the list of money winners will prove the value of the Hogan system.

But Ralph has confidence in his ability to stage a comeback. After all, he's usually quite well up among the finishers. The time again will come when he is sure of every shot, when he knows his game is sound, his swing perfect and his chances to win undimmed by a mental hazard.

It's Bad News for Promoter Jacobs

Promoter Mike Jacobs, ace of cauliflower exhibitors, was not exactly a jubilant citizen when the army admitted its coolness toward the idea of Joe Louis defending his heavyweight crown in any series of matches arranged for the summer months.

The army doesn't dislike Mr. Jacobs. In fact, they probably think quite well of him. Back in March Joe knocked out Abe Simon for the benefit of the Army Emergency Relief fund.

It is quite likely that army officials feel Louis would be better off if he were allowed to settle down to his military affairs. Too, Louis would be serving a better cause by giving exhibitions in the various training camps. Between exhibitions he could continue his battlefield training.

Since Billy Conn, logical heavyweight contender, came off second best in a pugilistic encounter with Jimmy Smith, his fighting father-in-law, Jacobs has had little but bad news. Conn, with a broken left hand, gave way to Bob Pastor. Now Mike may be forced to give way to the army.

Pastor has been whipped twice by the champ and knocked out by Conn. But at least he confines his fighting to the prize ring. And Pastor has won his last 12 contests, which is something of an achievement, considering the competition. He brought an end to the claims of Lem Franklin. He whipped Booker Beckwith, Gus Lesnevich and Jim Bivins. Incidentally, Bob has won over every Negro he has met except Louis.

Jacobs was upset at losing Conn. But that blow would be as nothing compared with the loss of Louis. Mike pointed out to army officials that a Louis-Pastor outdoor show should draw about $600,000. The emergency relief fund, he said, should realize approximately $150,000 of this.

The army still remained cool to the Jacobs plea. Before the summer is over, Joe may be allowed one more fight, but the odds are 10 to 1 against any further title bouts.

SPORT SHORTS

Maryland's 33 days of spring racing produced a total mutuels betting of $16,295,351.

Clark Hinkle, Green Bay Packers' fullback who has played in the National Football league for 10 seasons, had his draft rating changed from 3-A to 1-A.

PREPAREDNESS

by the AMERICAN RED CROSS

TO THOUSANDS of Americans seeking news of their families and friends in war-torn countries, 25 words on an official Red Cross form have meant all the difference between hope and despair.

Ever since the outbreak of the war, the American Red Cross has been for many people the only medium through which they could get news of their relatives in Poland, Holland, Belgium and the other occupied nations. Even when the news has been bad, even when it has been the worst possible, it has at least meant merciful release from torturing anxiety and uncertainty.

For a while it was possible in a few cases to maintain contact by letter over long roundabout routes. Since America's entry into the war, all remaining avenues of communication have been closed. Today, under the rules of the United States Office of Censorship, personal messages to residents of enemy or enemy occupied territory may be forwarded ONLY through the Red Cross inquiry service here and the International Red Cross committee in Geneva, Switzerland.

Regulations governing the sending of one of these messages from the United States are that the communication, which should be filled in at a local Red Cross chapter, must not be more than 25 words, and should be in English. If it is written in a foreign language, an English translation must be attached.

The United States Office of Censorship rules that no mention may be made of politics or military subjects, defense materials, shipping or weather conditions, business matters or geographic names.

But even the strict regulations cannot rob the brief message on the International Red Cross form of its human warmth and drama. The original message, made out in some local Red Cross chapter here, goes on its long and slow journey across ocean and continents. Space is provided on it for a reply message, to be returned to the original sender. It needs little imagination to picture the joy and comfort that brief message from some loved one brings to those cut off from every other chance of contact.

LISABEL GAY'S COLUMN

Miss Elinor Chadwick of Fort Wayne, Ind., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Irving Read.

Mrs. Belle Mosley spent three days at her home last week, returning on Friday to Warner where she is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Phelps and four children spent Memorial Day with relatives in Salem and Haverhill, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. David Todd and two children of Allwood, N. J., are spending this week at her old home on School street.

Mrs. Warren Evans and two sons of Nashua spent the holiday weekend with her sister, Mrs. Raymond Davis of Walnut street.

E. Leota Marshall and Olive Colby of Boston spent the holiday weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Colby.

Miss Susan Watson of Boston spent the weekend with her father, Arthur Watson who is quite ill at his home on Bridge street.

On Memorial Day the lawn was covered with Maple seeds which had been swirling down like countless little airships for three days.

Miss Etta Miller is at Valley Hotel for a short time before going to Hancock for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor returned home to Centre Harbor after a two weeks' stay at the hotel.

Miss Alice Reed of Cambridge, Mass., was the weekend guest of Mrs. Philip Marcy. The two ladies with Mrs. Peaslee were dinner guests of Mrs. George W. Haslet on Saturday evening.

The rain of Saturday night and all through May was very fine for the gardens and hay crop but not so good for rheumatism which seems to be more in vogue this year than ever before.

Mrs. H. H. A. Beach has been at her home at Centerville, Cape Cod, about two weeks. She was very tired and to escape from the heat and noise of New York her doctor ordered her to take a good rest and already she is beginning to feel better.

Mr. and Mrs. George Heintz and Mrs. Walter Hartwell of Winchester, Mass., visited Mrs. A. L. Mansfield on Memorial Day and found her improving slowly. Norman Mansfield of Glen Ridge, N. J., spent the previous weekend with his mother.

Miss Barbara Vigeant of Manchester was a weekend guest at Valley Hotel and attended the Junior Prom on Friday night. Barbara graduates from Central High school this month and expects to enter Elliott hospital as a student nurse during the summer.

RED SOX LOSE OPENING GAME TO WEARE, 15-10

The local Red Sox lost their opening game to the Weare Town Team last Sunday by a 15-10 score. The game was featured by hitting. Bill Bondar and Ziggy Zeludancs led the local's attack with four and three hits in as many times up.

Next Sunday the locals face the strong Somerville Rosebuds of Somerville, Mass., one of the leading teams in the Boston Suburban League. This team should be a good team to watch. This team has Bob Lynch pitching for them, a star hurler in Massachusetts schoolboy ranks last year. He is under a Boston Braves contract.

THIRTY-FIVE WOMEN IN FOUR HILLSBOROUGH COUNTY TOWNS ARE MACHINE-MINDED

At four sewing machine clinics held recently in Hillsborough County, 42 sewing machines were overhauled under the supervision of Mr. G. M. Foulkrod, Agricultural Engineer from the University of New Hampshire, and Myrtis E. Beecher, Home Demonstration Agent.

The women did the actual work of cleaning and oiling their machines and Mr. Foulkrod showed them how to do the delicate job of adjusting them. In spite of the fact that some of the machines were of ancient vintage, they all responded wonderfully to the treatment. With the instruction sheets which Mr. Foulkrod has prepared, these women should be able to do their own "trouble shooting" in the future.

The clinics were held in Bennington, Brookline, Milford and at Cricket Corner in Amherst.

Those attending in Bennington were: Mrs. J. W. Bryer, Mrs. W. D. Cleary, Mrs. W. W. Clymer, Mrs. J. F. Diamond, Mrs. J. McGlory, Mrs. M. C. Newton, Mrs. L. Sylvester, Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Miss Lillian Lawrence, Mrs. George Griswold, Mrs. L. J. Parker, Mrs. Leonise Favor.

West Deering

West Deering School Notes

Friday we all went to the cemetery and decorated the soldiers' graves. We had a short Memorial program at our school.

The Normandin boys brought in June pinks.

Monday noon we went on a treasure hunt. Louis Normandin found the buried treasure.

Ed Knapp of Antrim was a recent visitor in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savage were in this section of the town on Sunday evening.

George Colby and Mrs. Flossie Marston of Henniker were Sunday visitors at the McAlister farm.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mann of Arlington, Mass., spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Normandin entertained her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt, from Pawtucket, R. I., over the week-end. They enjoyed their first buggy ride and had a great time helping with the farm chores. Their visit was made complete by having their cousin, Jack Rafuse, drop in Sunday afternoon.

Three Times
William Jennings Bryan was a candidate for president of the United States three times.

South Weare

Gives Farewell Party

A group of about 30 friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Richards one evening last week to give a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Philbrick, who are moving to Bedford soon. Their daughter, Alice Philbrick, was presented a cake in honor of her second birthday Saturday and Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick were presented a table and a lamp. The presentations were made by Scott Eastman.

Card playing and dancing followed after which a buffet lunch was served under the direction of Mrs. Richards. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Straw, Goffstown; Mr. and Mrs. George Noyes, A. P. Smith, Della Cluche and Marie Cluche, New Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Curtis, George Smith and George Smith, Jr., Milford; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Powers and two children, Evangeline and Loren, Jr., Scott Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. John Richards, Arthur and John Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick and two children, Alice and Frank, Jr.

Civic Body Meets

The South Weare Improvement Society held its annual meeting in Osborne Memorial hall last week. The treasurer, C. F. Eastman, gave his annual report. In the absence of the president, Allen W. Sawyer, the vice president, Forrest Dearborn, presided and the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Mr. Sawyer; vice president, Forrest Dearborn; clerk, Mrs. Helen E. Dearborn; treasurer, Mr. Eastman; and fifth director, John Richards. Other routine business was transacted.

John E. Collins

John E. Collins died at the Grammer hospital, Thursday evening, after a short illness.

Mr. Collins was born in Frances-town, January 13, 1866, the son of Horatio J. and Abigail (Philbrick) Collins. He was a sawmill sawyer practically all of his life. He was a member of Wyoming grange and of Granite council, O. U. A. M., of New Boston.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emily J. Collins; one son, George E. Varnam; one daughter, Mrs. Carl E. Peterson of Manchester; and one grandchild.

The funeral was held from the Union church, South Weare, Sunday afternoon with many friends and relatives in attendance. Rev. Wilbur Kamp, pastor of the Federated church in North Weare, officiated. Delegations were present from Wyoming grange and Granite council, O. U. A. M. of New Boston.

Burial was in the family lot in Hillsdale cemetery. Bearers were Angus McDonald, Guy Wilson, Clinton Wilson and George Dodge. Arthur W. Holt of New Boston was funeral director and furnishing undertaker. Relatives and friends were present from Massachusetts, Manchester, Goffstown and Riverdale.

GRADE II

Our room was decorated with flags and shields we made for Memorial Day.

We have finished our model town on the sand table.

GRADE III

We played "Scouts on Parade" with the rhythm band for the Memorial Day Exercises at the High School on Friday.

We had arithmetic races the other day and Row IV won. Those who are in the winning row are: Fred McClintock, Joseph Auclair, James Duval, and Ronald Teixeira.

For the next three weeks we are having a gold star contest. Those who have a perfect day without any misbehavior will receive a star at the end of the day.

GRADE IV

We are now reviewing our year's work.

The new officers of the Civic Club are James Jordan, president; Francis Heath, vice president; Clydette Creaser, secretary.

GRADE V

We have been studying Modes of Travel in History, so this week we have worked on a frieze showing the old and the new ways of transportation.

Our part in the Memorial Day Exercises was written by a fifth grade pupil in Glencoil, Illinois. It is entitled "America Is."

For the past two weeks we have had 8½ days of perfect attendance.

GRADE VI

Edward Semerjian drew us a map of Australia with pictures to describe different places.

We have two new books, one on Asia and one on Australia. They are very interesting.

GRADE VII

We won the spelling contest which we have been having with Grade VI. Our average was 97% for the week.

We have a new pupil in our grade. She is Jennie Thayer from Henniker.

GRADE VIII

We won the Civic Cup with 174 hours this week.

We plan on having a baseball game with Henniker sometime this week.

Irene Auclair wrote our class song "Memories" to the tune of "Johnny Doughboy Found a Rose in Ireland."

HILLSBORO

Franklin Sterling, medical student at Tufts college, is home for the month of June.

Leon Hill, Boston and Maine freight agent for this town, is enjoying two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Marion Smith spent last week with her husband, who is employed at the Fore River ship building plant.

Mrs. Mae Atkins, who has been very ill at the home of Alfred Flint, is slowly recovering. Mrs. Leeman is caring for her.
