LT. COL. VAN DEUSEN WILL VISIT IN ANTRIM

Lt. Col. George Van Deusen writes from Shanghai under date of November 25 that he expects to visit Antrim in a few months and inquires about old friends. He has been assigned work usually given to the rank of a full colonel and has had under him 700 officers and 1700 enlisted men, while his fleet includes 100 of the C46 type aircraft.

He likes China better than Burma for climate. He has been in Hongkong, Formosa, Pieping, Hanoi, Canton, Nanking besides, of course, his headquarters at Shanghai. Inflation there is ruinous and the prices "fabulous."

FIRE BURNS OUT NEW ANTRIM ARRIVALS TUESDAY MORNING

Family Had Just Moved in on Sunday from Henniker

On Tuesday morning a fire of undetermined origin swept through the home of Carley Dramer on Concord Street. Mr. and Mrs. Dramer and three children had just moved in the house, formerly owned by Granville Ring, on Sunday from Henniker.

Damage was estimated at more than $1,000 as the fire made the main part of the two-and-a-half story wooden house unfit for occupancy and forced the members of the household to take up residence in the ell.

Only the prompt notification of the fire department by a passing motorist and the fact that the high wind was blowing away from the other property in the area prevented a general spread of the blaze as firemen from the Antrim Fire Department under Chief Fred Tucker battled the flames in freeing weather and a biting wind.

Mr. Dramer was away from the house on his slab wood hauling business at the time of the fire. He says the building is covered by insurance.

ANTRIM SPORTSMEN GIVE CELEBRATION FOR LANDOWNERS

Varied Program of Entertainment and Speaking

On Thursday evening, December 13, a gala celebration will be given by local sportsmen for about 60 landowners in Antrim who are to be guests at a chicken dinner with entertainment following.

The program opens at the Odd Fellows Hall at 7 P. M. where the dinner will be served. Following the banquet they will adjourn to the town hall for a brief business meeting, a showing of moving pictures of various sports, introduction of many landowners, and speakers from the State Fish and Game department, headed by Commissioner Ralph G. Carpenter. The highlight of the evening will be the awarding of a new double-barrel shotgun to the holder of the winning lucky number.

The committee in charge of this affair assisting the president, Robert Leonard, are Ellerton Edwards, Arthur Amiott, George Stamatelos, Albert Thornon and Carroll Nichols. New members are being sought prior to December 13 and they will be eligible to attend the "landowners' night". All of the servicemen in Antrim or recently discharged World War II veterans are invited to attend as guests of the Rod and Gun Club.

The purpose of the outstanding event is to further the preservation of both game and property, and assure mutual cooperation between the local sportsmen and landowners of the community.

ON IGNORANCE

Ruth Taylor

Ignorance is a contagious disease, particularly when it is hitched up to an unwillingness to learn.

I read this the other day and it is so good I'm passing it on to you. "Ignorance is the school of race prejudices, and provincialism is its tutor. Its memory is stuffed with lies and its mind is warped by emotionalism. Pride is its book and snobbery is its pen. All the hatreds and fears, all the cruelties and prejudices of childhood are perpetuated by it. It blinds the intellect and it hardens the heart. Its wisdom is wonderful: for it never learns what is true, and it never forgets what is false."

The only cure for ignorance is knowledge. "Men will be brutal so long as they believe absurdities", Voltaire said.

The ignorance of the other man is not OUR personal problem. It is our own ignorance that must be met and mastered. We can be as big, we must be tiny - we can be so big, we neither look up nor down at other people - but straight ahead at eye level with our fellow men. That is the mark of the educated man.

We must know not only our own side of the case, but we must study the other fellow's side. As we learn to know each other, we think more clearly, prejudice is broken down and attitudes change. But it requires a willingness to learn and to understand.

There are many different yardsticks for understanding, but none has ever surpassed the Golden Rule. If we would use this, we would never allow the jealousy or envy that is ignorance to stifle and deaden our better impulses.

SMALL TOWN PLANNING HAPHAZARD, SAYS AUTHORITY

After describing current community projects in many small towns in New England, Mr. William D. Mann, Secretary of the Community Development Committee of the New England Council, concluded that "the smaller towns in New England should make over-all plans with the aid of a paid, outside professional planner."

Mr. Mann gave examples of solutions being advanced by interested civic groups for solving traffic and parking problems and providing more recreational facilities for the citizens of the community. Mr. Mann pointed out that the choice of projects was haphazard in the smaller towns in many cases, when compared to planning in the larger cities. The solution would be an over-all plan in which all phases of the community are studied and planned for.

Discussion following Mr. Mann's talk stressed the need for maps and favored a map for every town showing present and possible future developments. The published map would create interest and discussion but, in the process, many persons in the town would help to plan for its future.

The Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Region Association Committee hopes to publish a memorandum on the types of maps essential for town planning and the steps to be taken to prepare them, it was said. Hillsboro is a member of this region.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH TO AID WAR-TORN COUNTRIES

A special canned foods collection for starving populations in foreign lands is being held this week by the Catholic churches in New Hampshire. All local citizens have been asked to participate in the drive which is seeking to bring relief to suffers in war-torn countries.

The pastor at St. Mary's Church announced the campaign at all Masses last Sunday and said that together with committees he would sort and pack the cans donated during the week so that the foods might reach people in Europe and the Far East as rapidly as possible.

New Hampshire's Catholic Bishop, Most Rev. Matthew F. Brady, who is sponsoring the drive, has said that the food emergency now experienced in both conquered and liberated countries is extremely great with death and disease taking a high toll among the populations of many countries.

Suggested food donations include evaporated milk, infants foods, canned vegetables and fruits. These may be sent or brought to St. Mary's Church.

Farmers Have Less to Worry Them This Time

Washington, D. C.—Farm prices stand at 254 per cent of the 1909-1914 average—higher than the prices of 1918—and will drop again but not as sharply as in 1921 because the Government is required by law to maintain support prices of at least 90 per cent of parity for two full calendar years following the year in which the war ends. The Department of Agriculture has announced.

The announcement indicates the farmer will not be a victim of a drop in prices similar to that which followed the last war in 1921 when prices hit the low of 134 per cent of the 1909-1914 level which was 285 per cent of the 1909-1914 level. Then the farmer will have more money than after the last war.

War Finance Committee officials said that in addition to the maintenance of the price level for two years, that non-farm families already have, and are accumulating, weekly savings through the Payroll Savings Plan of the War Finance Division of the Treasury. This, they claim is proof the non-farm front will be much better able to support itself than after the last war during the normal lull of reconversion. Buyers of farm products will have the money to buy, it was said, and farmers should avail themselves of the opportunity to acquire War Bonds during the Victory Loan so as to have the money with which to modernize and handle the non-farm market demands that will be backed with cash to pay sustained prices during the two years after fighting ceases.

The Payroll Savings Plan has sold $18,000,000 in War Bonds to wage earners, that great bulk of non-farmers who will, if need be, enjoy the fruits of their savings in the reconversion period and have the cash with which to support themselves. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson adds that "prosperity of the farm depends primarily on purchasing power in the city."

What Helps Agriculture Helps All of Us

WHAT is it that helps agriculture? We know that to grow good crops it takes good seed, fertile soil, a favorable climate, and the skill and experience of the individual. Likewise in the production of livestock you need well-bred animals, proper care and feeding, plus intelligent management.

Through better seeds and new types of plants like hybrid corn, through soil conservation methods, better land management, and improved machinery, through more effective control of pests and parasites, America has reached a level of food production never before achieved by any nation in history. Therein lies much of America's strength for the future.

By many a tragic example, history teaches us that when food supplies fail, nations fall. We of America must see to it that our agriculture becomes always a stronger, surer base for the economy of our nation. This is a task not only for you as producers but also for us who, by providing nationwide facilities and services, bridge the gap which separates farmers and ranchers from the distant consumers who must have their products.

And because our business is so closely linked with the land, we at Swift & Company are vitally interested in all developments that help agriculture. And so in these Swift pages we publish helpful information, knowing that a prosperous agriculture is essential to the livestock and meat industry—and to the prosperity of the nation as a whole.

John Hobbes, President, Swift & Company

Soda Bill Says: ... generally we should learn two things from life—what to do and what not to do. ... If work is a pleasure, a man sure can have a lot of fun farming.

OUR LIVESTOCK JUDGING METHODS

Domestic animals are machines for converting plant material into meat, fiber, and other human needs. Competition forces the modern farmer to evaluate efficiency in terms of tons or bushels per acre, dairy production in pounds of butterfat per cow per year, and poultry results in number of eggs per year. Thus, since the basic resource is food and not money, the livestock producer evaluates breeding stock on the basis of meat or of wool their offspring produce per 100 pounds of food consumed.

The show ring standards for judging animals by external appearance have given us advancement up to a certain point, but breeding for the show ring does not always lead to efficient feed utilization.

A step in the right direction is the increasing use of proved sires. Today, through use of artificial insemination, the purebred breeder is greatly assisted in the establishment and increase of efficient blood lines.

Tomorrow's "yardstick" will not only be bigger yields per acre but also more pounds of meat and fiber per ton of feed.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW? How many of the amino acids essential to health are found in meat?

What governs the price of livestock? In what dessert is meat an important ingredient?

Answers to these questions may be found in the various articles which are printed elsewhere on this page.

THE EDITOR'S COLUMN

A smart steer on range goes to where the forage is best. A smart livestock producer sells where the market is best. There are many sources of information to help him decide where that best market may be. Radio networks and nearby stations report daily on receipts and prices at central and local markets. Commission houses and their field men are ready to give personal advice on the best time and place to sell. Newspapers publish detailed descriptions of market conditions. Various timely reports are available from the U. S. D. A. and other impartial sources on trends and developments in the livestock-and-meat industry.

In making their bids, livestock buyers also use current market information. Acceptance of any price offered is entirely up to the producer or his sales agent. Meat packing plants and their buyers are located at so many widespread points that if a producer is not satisfied with prices offered by any one buyer, he has a choice of several others to which he may sell his animals.

Moreover, with 3,500 meat packing plants and 20,000 other concerns and individuals who slaughter livestock commercially, there is bound to be keen competitive bidding for your livestock. Barring meat rationing and price ceilings, livestock prices are governed by what the packer can get for the meat and by-products.

F.M. Simpson, Agricultural Research Department

Swift & Company wishes all the readers of this page

A MERRY CHRISTMAS and A HAPPY NEW YEAR

"AMINOS" ARE IMPORTANT TO YOU! From the nutrition research laboratories comes the story of amino acids, mysterious substances found in the proteins we eat. Aminos are used by our bodies to build and rebuild our tissues, organs, and blood. They also help fight off infections.

Of the 23 known aminos, ten are absolutely essential to health and even to life itself. Meat is rich in all ten of them. That's why doctors, working to rebuild the shattered bodies of wounded servicemen, order diets with large amounts of meat. That is also why everybody should eat meat for health as well as for its fine flavor and its "stick-to-the-ribs" food value.

Swift and other meat packers, through The American Meat Institute, are telling this vital story of meat and its health-building aminos in many millions of advertising messages. As people read this story, there will be wider markets for meat—and the livestock you produce.

GESTATION FEEDING FOR SOWS

You don't need to feed the head sow "vitamin pills" and "calcium tablets" according to J. W. Seabrah, of Purdue University. Here's a proper, well-balanced diet to feed during gestation which will help her produce a healthy litter of spring pigs.

Make the mixture, using one bushel of whole or coarsely ground corn, one bushel of whole or coarsely ground oats, or 30 pounds of wheat middlings or bran, plus five pounds of meat and bone scraps or tankage, or two pounds of meat and bone scraps and four pounds of soybean oil meal.

A suitable mineral mixture, to be provided in a self-feeder, consists of 10 pounds of pulverized limestone, 10 pounds of steamed bone meal, and one pound of common salt.

Extra salt fed free choice also is recommended. And be sure to provide plenty of drinking water.

On The Street

By Paul S. Scruton

Christmas this year has a more significant meaning than since pre-war days, and it is understood that a Community group of singers is to sing carols the night before about the streets of the village, which is really in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. It is also rumored that we may have a Christmas tree in Butler park so we may still fondly hope to see a brilliantly lighted tree once more in position where it should be.

This is the season when most of us who enjoy to reminiscence turn back the years to the days of our childhood and live again on past Christmases, when we believed in Santa Claus as much as we do today. There is a Santa Claus which will live forever in our hearts and the happy laughter of a little child on Christmas morning is only the reflection of the mood of our own happiness which time cannot erase from memory.

Down through the years we live again for just such an occasion measured more fully by the devotion and hope that live within our hearts. May all the Scrooges of the present world see the true light this Christmas and have a change of heart so that our world of tomorrow may be brighter and happier for those little ones who have just started down the pathway of life. How true the statement of old, "A little child shall lead them."

Did you go to church last Sunday or do you believe that the other fellow should go and it's nicer to read the news or spend the day in leisure? It's time some of us got back into the fold again, or was it better for the old folks and not good enough for us? So many of us have good intentions but wait until it's too late to act. Let's get going while we have the chance and not do so much wishful thinking about it.

News items are desired and just a penny post-card will do or you may use the telephone, but get 'em in on time, before Tuesday afternoon if possible. If your business is not worth advertising advertise your business and get results either way. It's a happy combination this news and ad. business.

Congratulations to the road and highway departments for doing a hard job so well in Hillsboro and Henniker and even up there in the hills of distant Washington. What happened on the road from the town line into Antrim is a different story but probably is reasonable. The snow and ice of the past week presented a real problem to those men who worked night and day to keep the danger at a minimum. Their work is much appreciated by most of us who must travel come hell and high water, night and day.

Ray Davis is taking over the Smith garage and many of us who know Ray best certainly appreciate past services and know that he has done everything possible in the past to give us good service in spite of any and all conditions and we rely on his ability to continue serving old and new friends.

Why not make a resolution now, today, and not wait until 1946 to attend the church of your choice as regularly as is possible and in keeping with the dictates of your own conscience. Just do not say I can't, say instead, I will try, and things will be brighter for you bye and bye, if you really TRY.

SEWING CLUB HAS CHRISTMAS PARTY TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Tuesday, December 11, 1945, the sewing Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Hazel Chadwick by Mrs. Elmira J. Jones and Mrs. Sarah Carter.

The annual Christmas party was attended by all members. The bountiful dinner of turkey, vegetables, relish, hot rolls, mince and cranberry pies, plum pudding, candy and nuts, tea and coffee were served. The table was spread with shining glass and silver, with its spotless linen. The center piece was Christmas greens, cones and Holly twigs, a beautiful bouquet of mums and ferns in the center and on each side were lighted red candles.

In a corner stood a superb Christmas tree aglitter with lights and ornaments. Its fruits were gifts for all present.

A selection, "May the Vision Grow", and Christmas Carol was read by Florence K. Favor, after which gifts were exchanged by members.

This certainly was a wonderful afternoon, an added gem in the memory of the Sewing Club, who united voiced their praise and thanks to one ever delightful hostesses, the Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Carter.

Mrs. Fred Colburn was a Hillsboro business visitor Tuesday and called at the Messenger Office.
