The New Hampshire Council of Churches and Religious Education by letter from its secretary, Dr. Whitney S. K. Yeaple, has presented to its nearly 500 constituent churches a plan whereby direct mailing of food can be made to specific families in needy areas all over the world.

The necessary organization was worked out by R. H. Stephenson, who served as an officer for thirty-two months in China, Burma and India.

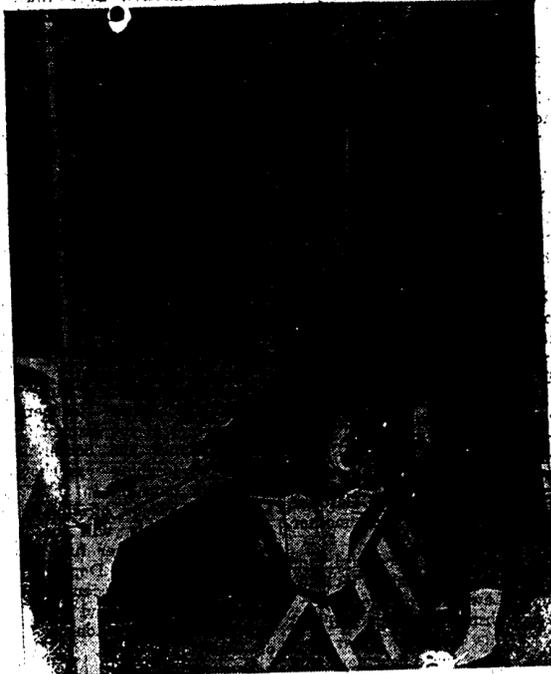

The Federal Council of Churches, with which the N. H. Council is affiliated, has provided a secretary, Miss Curtis, at the Overseas Relief Office of the Federal Council, 297 Fourth Ave., New York, N. Y., who can supply names and addresses of needy families.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT GARDEN CLUB MEETING

At the June meeting of the Antrim Garden Club, which was held at the home of Miss Alice Thompson last Monday evening, there were 24 members and guests present. This is the largest attendance that the club has had at any meeting for a long time. At this time another new member was accepted, making a total of six new members who have joined recently.

The club president, Mrs. Guy D. Tibbets, called attention to the fact that volunteers were needed to care for the club garden located at the rear of the public library.

A letter from the Massachusetts Horticultural Society was read which stated that this well known organization was finding it difficult to meet the present rising cost of operation, and the Antrim club voted to send this Mass. group a contribution of $5.

Mrs. Maurice Poor, who had charge of the program, called on Mrs. William Noetzel for the poem of the month, and Mrs. David Bassett read an article that described the flowering plants known as Violas.

The principal speaker of the evening was Mrs. Robert F. Homan of Hancock who spoke on the subject, "Bees and Their Value in the Garden." At the close of her talk she and her husband answered numerous questions, and the fact that her listeners asked so many questions was proof that they had paid close attention and were deeply interested in all she had said about bees and their values to the gardener.

During the evening the announcement was made that the club will not hold a regular meeting in July, but will go, instead, on a visit to the Loomis garden at North Branch, and then, later in the month, there will be a pilgrimage to New London, N. H., where a picnic luncheon will be enjoyed, and the members will visit some of the famous gardens in that vicinity.

Prior to the business meeting a turkey supper was served.

The Gold Cane goes to Forest Smith of Nashua as the oldest member of Waverly Lodge.

Appearing at the hearing were L. E. Whitney, his attorney, J. J. Doyle and Mrs. B. A. Jones.

As there was no opposition the decision of the Public Service Commission will doubtless be favorable.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss Perkins from Wendall were callers last Sunday on Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Babb.

The church committee met last week to arrange for services in the Congregational Church this summer.

Every one was pleased to see the work of putting our black top road in better condition started last Monday.

Mr. Adams is having some mason work done on his property.

Mr. and Mrs. Brunner are now living in Claremont where they both are employed. They plan to spend their week-ends here.

ON THE STREET
By Paul S. Scruton

I stood on the side lines this year and watched the flag go by when I should have been in the line of march instead it's the first Memorial Day I have stood by and watched the rest of my buddies carry on, and then I wondered in amazement at the too few who took part in the parade and the rest like myself who simply stood and watched.

In making inquires as to the reason why so few vets of World War II were in the line of march, I discovered with embarrassment that few if any of them had been asked and did not feel like volunteering. On this, the first Memorial Day occasion since the end of World War II hostilities, other towns have reported the same condition, only a few of our soldiers, sailors and marines taking part in the parade. A few Hillsboro vets simply said, "We had all the marching we ever want in the service," but the majority said, "Nobody asked us."

With Memorial Day gone let's look forward to our "Welcome Home Servicemen and Women," and right now all you vets of Hillsboro please be advised that you are being asked right now in this column through the committee in charge to be in our parade and take part in our program. We are also sending out individual cards in a couple of weeks and we sincerely hope that you will give us your cooperation and loyal support. This will be your day and everything being done is in your honor by your old home town. Please give us your support for without it we fail entirely in this undertaking on Saturday, August 3rd.

We of the committee also request the support of every store, every organization, every last man, woman and child and desire your cooperation and representation.

Even the baseball players had gripe pains following the 30 to 5 game on Memorial Day and the one sided contest the previous Sunday in the rain, so let's not let them down and as the season advances some close games will surely be seen at Grimes' Field in the Tri-Mountain League. Hillsboro has revealed that it has a hard hitting, fast running aggregation, good fielding ability, and at least three pitchers who can hold their own with any in this man's league.

Let's continue to patroize home games and from observation Hillsboro Legion team will win the league pennant next September without any more 30 to 5 games that give the average sports fan a bad case of the jitters and cause an epidemic of spasmodic tribulation among the winners in any ball park.

Nelson Maine has moved his shop from the Crosby block to the Garofoli block on Mill Hill, occupying the former Duval shoe repair shop. Henry Harvey will remain in charge of the Monadnock Sports Shop in the same location on School Street.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING OF CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Until all responsible government heads are made to realize that the measure of a nation's true greatness is the spiritual stature of its people, rather than its physical resources, there can be no end to the conflict between materially mental forces that precipitated World War II. The Christian Science Board of Directors told the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, Monday, June 3.
The time has come, the Directors affirmed, when representatives of all social and religious systems are being called upon to give something more convincing than promises, preachments, and paganistic pageantries, and the faith of their fellows, and to provide for a lasting peace.

This statement from the Directors was given before thousands of Christian Scientists attending the first peacetime Annual Meeting in five years, many of whom came from countries long shut off from the world by war.

Announcement of the appointment of Luther Phillips Cudworth, C.S.B., of Boston, as President of
The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, was made today, Monday, June 3, by the Christian Science Board of Directors.

GRANITE STATE GARDENER
By J. R. Helper

MELONS

A former vice-president of the United States once told one of our farmers that we could not grow melons in New Hampshire and yet when he was shown watermelons grown in this state and tasted them he acknowledged that they were a worthy addition to our gardens and asked for some of the seed.

Neither muskmelons or watermelons are grown as a commercial crop in the state except on a very limited scale and yet the home gardener can grow them and they do add a lot to the joy of gardening. What if you occasionally do have a failure? What if your Bender's Surprise may not be quite so nice as the melon you bought in New York? The melon that you have ripened in your garden still means a great deal to you and to the kids.

The site in melon culture is important. Choose a warm southwestern slope and a sandy soil if possible. Watermelons like new, sour soil. Muskmelons also like new land, but they like a little more fertility and a little more lime than watermelons. To be sure of their ripening start the seed early in May in four inch veneer bands in the greenhouse. These may be set out after the ground warms up or early in June. They will ripen fruit about two weeks earlier than outdoor planted seed. They must, however, be carefully moved and should not be set out until the soil has warmed up. Perhaps the best method of fertilization is to put a little manure under the hill, but cover it with at least six inches of soil. Use some superphosphate with the manure, but not a great deal. Fertilize your soil the same as you would for any other crop, with manure and commercial fertilizer, broadcasting it in preference to putting it in the row.

Hills of watermelons and muskmelons are usually planted five feet apart each way. Allow two or three plants per hill.

The chief insect enemy is the cucumber beetle. Dusting two or three times a week when the plants are small with a rotenone dust will control this insect. DDT also controls it, but DDT is likely to dwarf the muskmelon plants.

The right variety is the most important factor in success with melons. Expert growers can ripen almost any of the different kinds, but the ordinary gardener should attempt only the White Mountain or Merrimack Sweetheart watermelons and will do well if he plants such muskmelons as the Delicious, the Emerald Gem, Bender's Surprise, or when obtainable the new Granite State muskmelon which has just recently been released by the Horticultural Department.

WEEDS

There are many factors that go into making a good garden—sufficient plant food, enough rainfall, the best varieties, planting at the right time, proper temperature conditions, insect and disease control. All (Continued on Page 6)

NOTICE TO OUR READERS

Subscription Renewals

Beginning June 1, and thereafter, the price per year for the Hillsboro Messenger, Henniker Weekly Courier and the Antrim Reporter, will be $3.00.

This extra increase will enable us to meet the higher costs of materials and production. Since the abandonment of rationing of newsprint, the cost of paper has jumped 15 per cent, and wages and production costs are almost double that of a year ago.

This increase will make our paper less dependent on income from advertising, with a resulting increase in service to our subscribers. It will enable us to print an eight-page paper with nationally famous comic strips, as well as to continue our three columns and increase the volume of local news.

these have a great deal to do with the success of the garden, but perhaps the single most important factor is the control of weeds. No method will ever be found that will kill all weeds and not hurt crops excepting the old method of pulling up the weeds or cutting them off with a hoe or cultivator.

What is a weed? It is simply a plant out of place. I remember a friend of mine seeing large pussy plants in my garden and exclaiming, "What wonderful plants you have here!" I thought he was kidding me. "May I have some of them?" And he picked up two or three bushels to take home and pickle and he said that as soon as he had a garden of his own, that was one plant he was going to grow. In my garden it is just one of the most obnoxious weeds; even the rabbits refuse to eat it. But I was brought up to eat dandelions. Now, dandelions yield honey. I can feed them to our rabbits and I like to eat them myself. Therefore, dandelions are not nearly as obnoxious a weed to me as they may be to you. Other people eat lamb's quarters, pigweed, and other common garden weeds, and even witchgrass roots are used as a medicine. But as far as my garden is concerned they are all a nuisance.

In looking over New Hampshire's gardens from north to south and east to west I can safely say the yield of these gardens is limited more by the presence of weeds than by insects or diseases.

Now, in order to get rid of weeds, you should have started three or four years ago. Practically the only important sources of weed seed are the plants that you allowed to go to seed last year or the year before. A big pussy plant is said to produce a million and a quarter seeds, a big lamb's quarters plant three-quarters of a million. Perhaps it is an impossible task to get rid of all these plants and yet two or three years of careful cultivation will certainly reduce the weed population a great deal.

The best way to control weeds in the home garden is to cultivate the garden at least once a week with horse and cultivator and hand weed once or twice. In the small suburban garden a small push cultivator is preferable to a hoe. Kill weeds when they are small. It is easy to kill a weed that is less than one inch in size. It is difficult to kill them when they are a foot or more in height.
