CATHOLIC FAIR

The lawn party, which was supposed to start on Friday evening Maurice Poor gave a description on the lawn of St. Patrick's of the different types of plants in Church, did not start until Sat- the dianthus family, and Rev. H. urday afternoon, owing to the L. Packard told about the church rain. However it continued again and people of the parish in Florion Monday night and brought da, where he served as pastor last out a record crowd.

There were grab bags: a refreshment stand; a long beano table: a dollar bill stand with a traveling car to mark the numbers; a wheel; a cane stand; a turtle; race: a stand where, if lucky, you knocked down four dolls and got a paper hat; nylon stockings chanced off; a large doll; $50 and $25 in cash; sugar; a rug; all for the lucky winner; and a fancy work and apron table. Much money was realized by the committee in charge during the two evenings.

This is an annual event, looked forward to by the people from all over this community.

More than good eyesight is required to read an x-ray photograph. Before Monadnock Community Hospital's roentgenologist. or x-ray specialist, began doing it, he spent years in advanced study to become an expert in his field. In the hospital's present x-ray room, shown here, the annual number of examinations has grown by more than half in ten years. The x-ray department in the enlarged hospital will be more adequate in size.

Even 15 years ago that trip to Boston would have been urgently necessary had you been suffering from one of the more complicated ailments to which flesh is heir. Though the Monadnock Community Hospital dates from 1923. it acquired only in recent years the professional staff and the facilities to give adequate care to patients requiring highly specialized attention. Few hospitals, at this time, outside metropolitan areas, could offer such services.

The chances are it wouldn't be Northwood. Mr. Edmunds is renecessary to make that trip now. Advancing medical science, combined with alert community planning, are making it possible for the citizens of this area to have a truly adequate hospital of their

LEGION CELEBRATES VETS DAY BY DEFEATING VISITORS

The Legion team celebrated Veterans day with their third shut out in a row, defeating Marlboro, 2.0, with a record crowd present.

Frank Gay was given the honor of throwing the first ball. Jack Rafuse pitched masterful ball, giving the visitors only five hits.

On Sunday, Louis Andrews, pitched the locals to a 7-3 victory over Warner.

Contoocook team will be at Grimes' Field. They have won their last seven games and they promise a good game.

Hillsboro has won 13 and lost 2 thus far in the season.

The side attraction during the ball game was the greased pole climb. The pole proved to be too slippery, so the $5.00 award went to a boy from Concord and Scotty Johnson of Deering.
