BIRD AND GARDEN CLUB

Miss Ethel Farley and assisting hostesses entertained the Caroline A. Fox Bird and Garden Club at the Ray home, Concord End on Sept 7th. Every one responded to roll call "Ferns I've learned to identify this summer". Members have enjoyed the study of ferns obviously. Two very interesting papers were read: "The Adders Tongue Group" by Miss Isabel Bowers and "Earth's Satellite, the Moon" written by Miss Mary Pierce and read by Mrs. Charlotte Harvey. Plans for the Family Party which will take place in Community Hall on Saturday, Oct. 6, were discussed. Pearl Ray is chairman of the supper committee. Each member is asked to bring her own baby picture and any of the grown-ups in her family who will be present.

The Club members are glad for the good fortune of Miss Ethel Farley, who has accepted a position with advanced salary and less responsibility and will teach in a new building at Melrose, Mass. She has been an interesting and interested member of the club since living in Hillsboro and may be able to spend week-ends in town.

Miss Ray took the club on a personally conducted tour of the farm after which refreshments of tea, sandwiches, olives, pickles, and cookies were served by Miss Farley, Ethel, Peaslee, Frances Barnes and Fannie Shattuck.

HILLSBORO TEACHERS

Some Hillsboro teachers teaching in other places began their school years as did Hillsboro on Sept. 4th. Albert Mosley began then as teacher of mathematics in Hollis High School. His wife also teaches the same subject in Hancock but because of a case of polio in a nearby town, schools will not open until Sept. 16. For the same reason, Mrs. Iene Parker will begin teaching in Bennington on the same date. Until then she is substituting at the Grammar School. On the 9th., Miss Marian Lundberg, returned to the Edward Devocation School, Brookline, Mass.; Miss Gertrude Janowsky to Melrose, Mass.; Miss Edna Crane to Stratham; Miss Harriet Nissen is Home Demonstration Agent for the University of Maine and lives at Fort Kent. Miss Helen Carter has returned to her teaching in Worcester, Mass. Miss Ethel Farley has accepted a very good position in Melrose, Mass.

Miss Edna Johnson has been given a year's leave of absence from Weston, Mass., High School. With her mother, Mrs. Anton Johnson and Miss Lillian Johnson, she plans to make a trip to Sweden, sailing on the Gripsholm if all goes well, on Oct. 4. Mrs. Johnson's parents, 84 and 83, are still living there.

Next week a list of college students will be given.

GUY O. HOLLIS HEADS COUNTY USO DRIVE

A USO quota of $3,697 and a boy scout goal of $1,790 comprise the task facing Hillsborough County Chairman Guy O. Hollis of Antrim, and his assistants in the drive which opens in New Hampshire on September 30th.

The figures quoted above represent the total sum to be raised in the county exclusive of Community Chest cities.

Eighteen other towns have both USO and scout quotas. The Antrim USO and scout quota is Antrim, $116, $110.

Towns with USO quotas but no scout campaigns are: Bennington, $44; Deering, $26; Hillsboro, $351; Weare, $149; Windsor, $5.

Mr. Hollis, long associated with civic movements and President of the New Hampshire Truck Owners Association, called attention to the fact that 15 towns in the county are joining their scout campaigns with the USO.

"The adult leadership of the Daniel Webster council is cooperating fully with USO," he said. "We don't need to go into details as to the work being done in scouting circles for our state's youth, but with the war having ended more than a year ago, many of us may have become complacent as to the need for USO."

"We must bear in mind that men and women still in the armed services doing occupation duty and many more who were hospitalized while in service are still in need of aid, including the morale building, and services such as are offered in USO clubs for those in transit in the U. S. and for those overseas. All this is financed by the voluntary gifts of the American people and the need is more urgent now than ever before."

BEGIN SCHOOL PAGE IN COURIER NEXT WEEK

Next week a new feature will grace the columns of this paper in the form of a newspaper within a paper.

The new paper will relate news and activities of the schools of Supervisory Union No. 24, and the Henniker schools, and will have a layout similar to a regular newspaper.

Each participating school in the district which includes Hillsboro, Windsor, Deering, Antrim, and Bennington, will be given space on the school page with their own correspondents and reporters. A general staff of Editor and reporters will be announced later.

News especially desired is reports on new pupils, teachers, activities, and general items of news value. At present, each High School will be allowed space equivalent to 1/2 column, elementary schools 300 words. Special events and sports events will be given extra space if necessary.

Mr. Stewart V. McCormack, district superintendent has endorsed the idea and urges the participation of teachers in this program.

The page similar to one in the Meridith News has long been contemplated, but due to mechanical obstacles, could not be inaugurated until this year.

The publisher will reserve the right to edit all copy, if necessary. All items for the page must reach our office on Monday, written on one side of the page only.

MISS BARBARA FLURI WEDS ERNEST THIBODEAU OF TILTON

A very pretty wedding was celebrated Monday morning at 9 a.m., at St. Patrick's Church, Bennington, N. H., when Fr. Murtagh united in marriage, Barbara Fluri, daughter of Mrs. Anna Fluri of Antrim, N. H., to Ernest Thibodeau, son of Mr. Emery Thibodeau of Tilton, N. H. using the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin gown with lace inserts with a lace-edged finger-tipped veil attached to a beaded coronet. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with a white orchid in the center and was given in marriage by her uncle, Francis B. Ertel of Northampton, Mass.

The maid-of-honor, Aline Thibodeau, sister of the groom, wore a peach gown with a taffeta bodice with net yoke and skirt, with matching hat; and carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and blue delphinium.

The bridesmaids were Gertrude Ertel and Hortense Olson, wearing like gowns in sky-blue with matching tiaras. Their bouquets were peach gladiolus with blue delphinium.

As the wedding march began, a white carpet was drawn by the ushers, Charles Thibodeau and Roy Harbour, for the bride and her attendants as they marched down the aisle between gladioli and ribbons attached to every other pew, where she was met at the altar by the groom and the best man, Norman Thibodeau, brother of the groom, all dressed in formal attire, with gardenia boutonnières.

During the nuptial Mass, Miss Jané Vogel, friend of the bride, sang Gounod's "Ave Maria", and "On This Day, O, Beautiful Mother", accompanied by Christine Bell at the organ.

The bride's mother wore a black dress-suit with fuchsia accessories and a corsage of white roses tied with fuchsia ribbon.

Following the wedding, a wedding breakfast and reception was held for about seventy-five guests at Breezy Point, Antrim, N. H.

In mid-afternoon the guests were invited to the bride's home to see the display of gifts.

The bride's going-away outfit was a blue garbardine suit with pink accessories.

Toward evening the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip through the White Mountains Canada, Lake Placid, N. Y., into Massachusetts, and home.

They will be at home to their friends at Belknap Manor, Tilton, N. H., after October 1st.

Men's double front dungarees, $2.94. Sanforized, "Dubbleware" extra quality.

At the present time it is probably only the shoe dealers who are realizing the serious shortage of leather. Very, very few ladies shoes this fall will come through with all leather uppers. In another month, the public will have wished they had bought their shoes earlier. So it's a good tip to take care of all shoe requirements RIGHT NOW if you want anything with all leather.

HILLSBORO MILITARY BAND

The Hillsboro Military Band concluded its year of musical endeavor, Monday night, with a short rehearsal.

Enjoyed by many, our town band is one of the best in New Hampshire. We think it the best we have heard in this area, based on its superb performance in the Veteran's Day parade. Boasting a historical background of long establishment, the band except for a short interim during the war, has played every summer, this last summer at the Grammar School building.

We hope that next year the band will have a more desirable location than it had this year. Somehow, a spacious lawn, with benches for pedestrian listeners would be more in keeping with the excellent music rendered.

NEEDS SUPPORT

Last Monday evening, a group of our professional and businessmen gathered at the Precinct Hall for the first meeting of the Hillsboro Community Association since early summer.

Somewhat discouraged by the small interest in the organization, as measured by the few paid memberships, the group after a heart to heart talk, decided to continue on its program of community betterment.

One member, who we shall not name, stated that for years an attempt had been made to do something and that we should not stop now; that the officers of the organization should continue their efforts. Another member quoted a philosopher, (as we remember it) "It starts with the individual — if he is right, his home will be right; if his home is right, his community will be right; if his community's right the state will be right" (and visa-versa.) Right, in the sense of the Golden Rule and a peaceful, unselfish viewpoint in life.

We believe that the new speaking program to be undertaken by the Association will aid materially in focusing attention on town problems and improvements needed. It deserves the support of all.

ON THE STREET

By Paul S. Scruton

Some time ago, more than 5, 10 or 15 years before the advent of electricity in this village, it was the duty of the street lighter to go from pole to pole, or post to post, and light the kerosene lamps that were inside a sort of glass cage, and some of these glass houses may now be seen about the country now lighted by electricity, today. We recall the days just at dusk as the keeper of the lights made his rounds. Then there were no tarred roads, just plenty of board walks, where there are no sidewalks today, but there were some fast horses and some nice rigs. In those days a bell summoned mill workers in the early morning, around 6:30 as we recall. School started promptly at 8 and we got out at 4 in the afternoon. Mill workers had a long day of 10 hours including Saturdays. The fire fighting equipment had just passed the bucket brigade and we had a couple of hand drawn vehicles manned by men and boys, summer and winter. They are vividly recalled by men like Bill Newman, George Van and Alton Colby.

We always had a good band and Bill Newman has a tin-type of himself and the late Porter Gould, taken back in the days before my time, in fact in 1888. The uniforms they wore in those days put an admiral to shame. The orchestras, including the fine Wahnetah, will also be a pleasant memory. The old Opera House has seen some local talent hard to beat even in the big cities. The Hillsboro Dramatic Club of a later date will always be tops in our estimation. For many years we had four physicians who kept us in the of condition, Grimes, Bailey, Kelso and Abbott, and we also recall Dr. Felt, who gave us a dose of pure kerosene one time when the croup was about to take over, last whoop and we live to tell the tale. No doubt that many readers will regret that there was any kerosene left in the old can that night in February 1898, but here we are still whooping it up.

Recall with me some famous old characters in John Hurd, barber and actor and Kirk Pierce, lawyer and friend to everybody who loved to go to New York and back on the same train, the same day. George Haslet, who took pride in his mill, his town and his people; Joe Lovren, stalwart chief of police; Ben Abbott, another old time minstrel man along with Dad Bailey. Dad will never be forgotten. Fatty Crowell, the home run king, who could hit a ball out of any baseball park, Bill Manahan, the auctioneer, famous throughout the state, all these men come to mind in a fleeting minute and all have passed away to their reward.

Old timers who occasionally return to town will find many changes and your neighbor of today becomes the stranger of tomorrow in this rapidly moving change of location. Homes that cost as much as $2,000 to build are selling for $5,000 today. The old haircloth sofa where grandpappy made love in 1890 at a sofa cost of $25.00 is now replaced by a davenport costing $150.00 and love goes out the window, in modern air conditioning.
§ § § §
The old roller towel that hung by the sink is now replaced with paper tissue but somehow germs find their way into the human system and the ambulance is constantly coming and going on a day and night basis and the man with tonsils is considered a freak of nature and if you still have your appendix, something, is radically wrong.
§ § § §
To change the subject and get back to this day and age, did you ever stop to ponder what would have happened if the Army, Navy, and Marines had called a strike during the past war? Now a strike a day seems as popular as the daily news. My education apparently stops when strikes begin.

"Bad Lands" Into Good Meat

Vision and resourcefulness in the rebuilding of various kinds of abandoned and unproductive lands may pay dividends. The return of such "bad lands" to profitable use is equally important to producers and to us at Swift & Company. Because "what helps agriculture helps all of us." Here is a story of such vision. Here is an example of one man's initiative.
Like a farm torn up by a giant's plow, 600 acres of Illinois strip mine land stood bare. It was apparently worthless. That was in 1938. Today those once-bare ridges are knee-deep in grass and clover. Each rugged acre makes more than enough grass for one steer. And it's getting better each year.
The year after the land was mined for coal, a few volunteer sweet clover plants took root. They flourished in the lime-rich soil. Byron Somers of Canton, Illinois, who farmed adjacent land, noticed them. He bought the "bad land" for $5 an acre. With a hand seeder, he walked the ridges and sowed sweet clover. The next year he had a good stand. This added some nitrogen and humus to soil already rich in phosphorus and potash. Further seeding of a grass legume mixture is done each year by airplane. Brome grass has got a start, and now his pastures will be even more productive. In addition to grass, plenty of drinking water for the cattle is held in the little valleys.

Since being returned to usefulness, this land has averaged a net profit of $7 an acre each year. Similar Illinois land has recently sold for $25 an acre.
This is only one example. Every state has unproductive lands. Many other men have returned them to use—and profited. Huge areas still offer a challenge and an opportunity to American producers everywhere. Your opportunity, too, may be indicated by such a little thing as sweet clover growing on abandoned land.

It's extra care that cuts shipping fever losses among feeder cattle. Vaccination also will produce a measure of immunity. After cattle reach the feed lots, provide them with shelter from cold winds and rain. Give them light, bulky feeds such as whole oats and roughage. Cattle fall easy prey to shipping fever when they are run down, due to fatigue, exposure, or irregular feeding. If animals do fall sick, isolate them promptly and call a veterinarian.

FEED SUPPLY AND MAXIMUM DAIRY PRODUCTION

by E. A. Gannon
Extension Dairyman
Purdue University

More and cheaper milk will be produced by many herds if and when better feeding systems are used. Where good quality legume hay is fed, grain ration averaging 10-12% protein is sufficient. With good quality legume hay and silage, grain ration should consist of 12-14% protein. With mixed hay of good quality with or without silage, grain ration of 12-16% protein is desirable. Where corn fodder, stover or straw is the main roughage, with or without silage, an 18-20% protein grain ration is required.
Weighing of silage occasionally will determine if it is being overfed at the expense of roughage. Normally, one pound of hay and three pounds of silage per 100 pounds of live weight is recommended. In the case of fresh cows, during the first three or four weeks of lactation, silage may be reduced to 1 1/2 pounds per 100 pounds of live weight and hay increased proportionately. Grain should be coarse ground and mixed with ground soybean supplement or 32-34% commercial feeds, to obtain desired percentages of protein, based on type and quality of roughage.
Cows should be fed according to daily production—for high-testing breeds, feed one pound of grain for 3-4 pounds of milk. For low-testing breeds, feed one pound of grain for 5-6 pounds of milk.

Geography of Meat Production and Consumption

The United States by rail is approximately 3,000 miles from East to West. It is about 2,000 miles from North to South. Not all of its 1,934,326,280 acres produce agricultural products. Neither do all of its square miles have the same number of people. The western part, including the Corn Belt, is the great food producing area. The East is the section in which most of the people live.
Approximately two-thirds of the livestock is produced west of the Mississippi River. Approximately two-thirds of the people live east of it. More specifically, about one-third of the people live in the area from Pennsylvania northeast into New England. Thus there is a great distance between the producers of livestock and the consumers of meats. This makes it necessary to have national concerns like Swift & Company in the slaughtering of livestock, processing, handling and selling of meats. The products handled by meat packers average to move more than one thousand miles from producer to consumer.

You BET There's Competition!

Recently I spoke to a meeting of livestock producers. When I had finished talking, the chairman asked if any persons in the audience wanted to ask questions. Immediately one livestock man stood up. "Is there any competition in the buying of our livestock?" he asked. Naturally, my answer was, "Yes." I went on from there to an explanation...

One of the best evidences of competition is found in United States Government figures. They show that there are more than 3,500 meat packers in the United States. Also there are 22,500 other commercial slaughterers of livestock. Surely this means much competition. Of course, Swift & Company does not come in competition with every one of these 26,000 slaughterers at every point at which it buys livestock. However, there is no place in the United States but what Swift & Company does come in competition in the buying of livestock with one or more of the 26,000 slaughterers.

Here's another fact about competition. At practically all markets in the country there are order buyers. During a year they buy for up to hundreds of meat packers. No individual buys for several hundred on any one day. But when the meat packers whom they represent need livestock, these order buyers are out competing with Swift & Company and every other buyer in the market.

The foregoing are just two examples of the many to be found indicating the ever present competition in our business.

The Donkey and Carrot Game

What NEXT, American Labor?

The OPA battle is over. The fight against inflation has begun. Business asked for more than it wanted and got what it really after—a higher price level.

For labor, the recent events add up to this sobering conclusion: Labor won its strikes in the first four months of this year—and then lost them in June and July. What labor won on the wage front it has now lost on the price and cost-of-living front.

Here are the startling facts: Labor fought for and won an 18 per cent increase. Under the new OPA law, economists here estimate that the price level will move up between 20 and 25 per cent. The lowest estimate is put at 15 per cent.

The labor movement is stymied. Neither the AFL nor the CIO can think of any way out, and strikes are no real solution. The hardship of the picket line now seems to have been in vain.

Here is how the situation shapes up:

1. The recent strikes were costly, and it is doubtful that most labor organizations could stand the strain of month-long strikes once more.
2. Labor is afraid of the effect new strikes would have on the 1946 elections. The PAC idea of political action has revealed its ineffectiveness. Sincere PAC-minded labor leaders are trying to figure out how it happened that the Congress of 1944, which it helped elect and over which it congratulated itself, could prove to be the most anti-labor Congress of the past decade.
3. But that, apparently, will not keep labor from repeating its mistake of 1944—electing warm-weather friends for the winter ahead. And to elect those friends labor has to surrender its strike weapon in the cost-of-living crisis of 1946.
4. 3. But even if labor were to strike again, union leaders know that they are involved in the game of donkey and carrot; just when they think they've caught the prize, a boost in prices snatches it away. A new round of wage increases, even if won on the picket lines, will be lost in Congress, in the meetings of the newly reinforced OPA "industry advisory committees" and the fresh-born, "decontrol board" established by the present OPA law.

The result is that labor has been trapped by its policy of supporting the "return to normalcy." William Green, on the one hand, sees no answer but for labor to bide its time while it helps industry push up production until the inflationary danger has been eliminated by the restoration of balance between supply and demand. The CIO, on the other hand, calls for a new government-sponsored, labor-management conference, but again without an economic program of its own involving a reorganization of economy.

CIO'S DILEMMA

The dilemma of the CIO is even more disturbing than that of the AFL. CIO leaders have let newspaper correspondents know that further wage strikes, are not in favor at 718 Jackson Place, CIO headquarters. The New York Times, the New York Herald-Tribune, and the Journal of Commerce have featured that policy as big news—which it is. The Times, for example, has reported: "The Congress of Industrial Organizations in general and the United Automobile Workers in particular have abandoned any thought at present of new wage increases in favor of an all-out effort to preserve the present purchasing power of the dollar."

The decision was a hard one to make, but the surrender on the wage front is the only possible realistic one in view of the way the cards have been stacked. On the other hand, the effort to save the dollar also seems doomed.

The inflationary drive can be slowed by the measures which the unions propose—and they deserve unanimous support from the people. But they will not be able to preserve labor's position.

LEVEL MUST GO UP

As a matter of law, now, the price level must go up. The legislation that Truman finally signed provides expressly for rising prices on the basis of the new standards which OPA must follow under the Barkley amendment. Manufacturers, producers and processors' price ceilings must guarantee profits on the basis of 1940 price plus average increased costs in the industry since that date. But the only hope of maintaining price levels was to require, as OPA did formerly on an all-too-lenient basis, some cost absorption, and to key profits at least to the 1936-1939 basis.

WILLIAM E. NEWMAN HILLSBORO BUSINESS MAN DIES AT EIGHTY

Mr. William E. Newman, the oldest businessman in town passed away suddenly at his home on Main St., Monday night. Mr. Newman had worked in his garden shortly before his death and had enjoyed good health all his life. He had operated the Newman Plumbing business for fifty years at the same location. Mr. Newman learned his trade with the Appleton & Pillsbury concern in Hillsboro, and then bought the business of Harry Colby at the present location with Hamilton Chaffin, who later died. Mr. Newman then took on his brother, Bert E. Newman, along with Fred W. Carter, who have worked for him during all these years.

For many years he was Captain of the Hose Co., in the Hillsboro Fire Dept., and then was made Chief, which position he held for many years. During this time he attended some thirty firemen's conventions in and around New England.

Always interested in music, Mr. Newman was a member of Merrill's Orchestra, the Wahneta Orchestra and the Hillsboro Band. He also belonged to "The Club" and was one of the reliable and interested citizens of the town affairs.

Mr. Newman was born in Washington, N. H., the son of Joseph Henry Newman and Harriet A. Gregg, on Sept. 1, 1866.

Survivors are one brother, Bert E. Newman of Hillsboro, and several nephews and nieces and cousins.

Funeral services were held from the Woodbury Funeral Home on School St., Thursday, Sept. 12th, at 2 p.m., with Dr. Whitney S. K. Yeaple officiating. Burial was in Maple Ave., Cemetery, Hillsboro, N. H.

Blue Shield Now Available for Hillsboro Residents

Reopening of the community enrollment for Hillsboro in the non-profit Blue Cross Hospitalization Service, was announced today.

Olo York and Walter Sterling are members of the committee sponsoring signing up of members in the non-profit plan that prepays hospital bills. At the same time, benefits of the non-profit Blue Shield plan will be made available, the committee said. Applications and descriptive literature can be obtained from Olo York.

Applications must be received by Sept. 25, and benefits will be effective Nov. 1. While Blue Cross prepays hospital bills, Blue Shield provides allowances toward fees of surgeons for operations and family doctors for medical care. Blue Shield is an organization of the state medical society.

The community enrollment is open to anyone employed in concerns where there are five or less, those self-employed, retired or unemployed.

Blue Cross is sponsored by the state medical society.

opened up in the anti-inflation dike is the treatment accorded major food items — the most important area in the whole economic picture. The decontrol board can decide by August 20 whether or not price control should be restored, and in this decision the Secretary of Agriculture — a notorious opponent of price control — is given a controlling voice.

In addition, the decontrol board consists of what Arthur Krook has called "a board of exceptionally high caliber"; the head of a land bank, a commercial banker and a manufacturer. Not a taint of labor among them!

Add to this picture a crippled subsidy program, and it all spells rout on the price front.

BRIDAL SHOWER

A miscellaneous bridal shower was recently held for Miss Martha Elizabeth Van Hennik, by Mrs. Albert Bryer, the former Marie Leonard, at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Albert Bryer, of Antrim. Twenty-six guests attended the shower and when the refreshments were served the two who poured were Mrs. David Brown and Mrs. Burta Van Hennik. The hostess, Mrs. Bryer, from Woodsville, N. H., decorated the room with white wedding bells hung at the ceiling, having white streamers hanging from them. These were decorated with pink rosebuds.

Many lovely gifts were presented the guest of honor, and she was happily surprised to have present, a childhood friend, Miss Diane Wenck from Miami, Florida.

Mrs. Alice E. Perron of Lowell, Mass., has been a guest of her son, Rev. Donald F. Perron, at the Baptist parsonage. Rev. and Mrs. Perron are also entertaining Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Byron, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Brodeur of Lowell, last week-end.

George; Chaplain and Service Officer, Rev. Donald Perron; Sgt. at Arms, Robert Lang; Athletic Officer, Stanley Canfield; Graves Registration, Harold Miner.

Any ex-serviceman having any questions regarding terminal leave pay or hospitalization, contact the service of Rev. Donald Perron. The Legion plans to sponsor a basketball team this winter.

A WAY OUT

To be sure, labor can do some things. It can raise hell with the decontrol board, badger its member and the members of OPA. At best, it can only slow up the march to chaos. But as long as this remains the OPA law, labor cannot change the direction in which the country marches.

The year 1946 started out with labor victories on the economic front. On the picket line, organized workers were piling up new gains. Suddenly the golden fruits of the struggle turned to dust in their hands. And the reason was simply that labor had lost on the political front what it had gained in the economic arena.

Out of its present dilemma — the futility of the strike weapon and importance in the face of rising living costs — labor now has only one chance; to supplement its economic strength by organizing its political resources with the same effectiveness that it displayed in unionizing. That means building a new party.

Let labor re-read the paeans of exultation which PAC leaders dictated to the newspapermen the day after election in November, 1944. Those words will sound hollow now as the 79th Congress adjourns. To repeat the error of 1944 is to repeat the tragedy of 1946. To abandon the mistakes of 1944 is to open the road to victories for a new party in 1948.

Rhubarb is one of the few crops that may be transplanted in August or September. Like nearly all hardy perennials, it goes into its winter resting stage sometime in August or early September. It can then be safely taken up, divided, and replanted. The method of division is usually to cut the root into four equal pieces with a spade and set out each piece four feet apart, in a rich, loamy soil. To fertilize, put manure around the plants in the spring and work it into the soil.

Plans for a program of guest speakers was agreed upon by members of the Hillsboro Community Association, Monday night, at the first meeting of the group since early summer. The meeting was held at Precinct Hall.

People who force rhubarb, grow it from seed. The seed may be planted in August and transplanted the following May. The distance varies from one to three feet apart, with rows three to four feet apart. It is usually grown for two seasons, and then taken up in the fall for forcing.

The dinner affairs will feature local authorities and National speakers and each meeting will be built around a local theme such as Aviation, Schools, Police Department, Sidewalks, Tax Assessment, Hospital, Ski Tow, New Industry, etc.

People ask if rhubarb is good to eat now. Probably the new inner stalks have fair quality, but the outer ones, as a rule, are quite tough. However, there is no reason why rhubarb which has not been picked too much in spring should not be used now by the families who like it.

Following the public dinner, the meeting will be opened to all interested and discussion period following the speaker.

There has been considerable rhubarb planting here and especially in Canada and the Middle West and the following varieties are really much better than the old fashioned Victoria or Linneaus: Valentine, McDonald, Canada Red, Ruby and Early Sunrise. These five varieties, particularly the McDonald variety, are widely grown but of the five, the Valentine seems to be the best for New Hampshire. All these varieties are propagated from divisions and are, therefore, more expensive than seedlings would be.

The executive board of the Association will secure the speakers and announce the first meeting shortly, it was said.

The forcing of rhubarb is very simple. The roots are taken up as late as possible in fall and then allowed to freeze solid. After they are frozen, they may be placed in a cellar where the temperature runs 50 degrees F or above. Soil is worked in around the rhubarb and is wet down so as to give it proper growing conditions. In from three to five weeks it will be ready. The roots are useless after one forcing and should be thrown away. As a general rule, at least two plantings should be made so as to have a continuous supply of forced rhubarb from Christmas to March; the first one just as soon as the roots freeze in fall, which should be around or right after Thanksgiving. The roots for the second planting should be kept frozen in a cold shed.

HERE AND THERE IN THE UPPER VILLAGE

Animal lovers in Hillsboro will be quite interested in a "Tale of A Cat". Mrs. Eric Wilton of Windsor brought her cat from Billerica, Mass., at the time of moving here. It, not knowing the exact gender at this writing, recently returned to its old home, a distance of over 70 miles. I don't believe that many of us could find our way, other than by the marked routes, to say nothing about cross country.

Electric lights have been installed in the Wilton and Duggan homes of Windsor, and that let's a lot of light on other news items.

Bill Duggan, 2nd., Officer Merchant Marine, is back on the Hill again. Glad to see you Bill, now let's get your ship-mate Ozzie Wade of WKNE, and have another barbecue before snow comes. After getting Ozzie over those famous, Thank-You-Marm's of Windsor, we will all be ready to eat.

Rita Wilton is confined to her home by an infection. Sorry but Rita won't be in school this week. She is a Freshman at Hillsboro High. But we can see her burning those new lights till the wee hours, catching up with her classes. Hustle and get well Rita, High School is lots of fun.

Marshall Strickland is working at the Laundry. The day we saw him, he was painting and doing a mighty fine job of it to. Look out Marshall, the Union will get you if you don't watch out.

Mr. Emil Thibodeau, of the Upper Village Store, is remodeling said store in up to date fashion. Got a seven room apartment and a right smart job, considering all those rusty nails you are using, Emil. But, as he says, "Heck, the rust holds 'em tighter". Emil's a smart feller, got a good stock of groceries to, and a How-de-do for everyone. Emil's a newcomer, let's help him to be a stayer.

Wilton, N. H.

I am sorry to say that we here in Wilton are going through a real dog scare. A well known hunting man bought a dog down in the south and this dog died with the Rabies. Now all local dogs are to be confined by order of the Selectmen and the Board of Health for an indefinite time. Several persons have been bitten by dogs in the past week but no traces of rabies has been found in them to date. Please keep your dogs out of this town for some time to come.

One night last week I attended an outdoor meeting of the Civic Club at the home of William Ferguson in Milford. The supper (Fish Chowder) was served on the lawn and was the best ever. This place is a slightly place and a fine view of the mountains. Just before the gong sounded to put on the nose bags a flock of 22 Canadian geese went over bound southwest. During the supper, several flocks of night hawks and grackles went over in huge numbers. After the supper we all retired to the large front room where Rev. Mr. Haskell of the Congregational church had us all sitting, on the edge of our chairs wondering what was coming next. I have seen a lot of these kind of artists before in my young life but nothing as to what this man put on. He was good and had the audience spell bound. After this Chester Davis showed movies and among them was the Civic club outing in color at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Burns at Franctown.

Well, folks, we are grandad once more and now the number is ten, five girls and five boys. This young fellow is named George Steve Phillips and weighed 7 lbs., 3 ozs. The mother is my fourth daughter, Lillian, a former Army WAC, Memorial Hospital, Nashua. Drop her a card.

Last Saturday I planted 187 14-weeks old ringneck pheasants in my towns. They came from Conn., and were very strong on the wing. Gould of the Fish and Game Dept. came down with a new Chevie truck. One or two of them I guess went back home as they were going strong when I last saw them leaving Temple.

The town of Temple had good roads last Saturday. Was hoping to see them at work. I wanted to see what kind of a job our Senator can do with a shovel. All my brooks are now closed to all fishing. I have no ponds and lakes containing trout so my brook trout fishing for 1946 is all done.

After a long absence I did get to the monthly meeting of the Hillsborough County Forest Fire Warden's meeting at Hancock. The ladies put on a fine supper and the meeting was short and snappy under the leadership of Charles Eastman of Wear. The president was unable to be present. These meetings are very helpful to the fire fighters and every meeting brings up new subjects. But for these men the state would lost thousands of dollars in fire loss. They have modern appliances and they know how to use them. After the meeting we went down and looked over the new big "Mack" fire truck and the new fire station. Chief Young of Amherst was present. I went up with Charles N. Stearns, Lawrence Paro and Bart Pelky, all of the home town.

Speaking of good turns. One day last week John Dailey, our popular Newsdealer, took all his newsboys to Boston to see one of the American League games. The boys had the time of their lives and I guess John was not far behind.

Never saw traffic as heavy as it was Saturday and Sunday of the past week.

Owing to the Rabies scare all permits to train dogs in this section is off. Keep your dogs at home.

It was tinroof week last week. Listen to this honor roll: J. Marshall Pierce, Van-Nuys, Cal.; Bud Lamb, Leominster, Mass.; Miss Viollette Phillibert, Henniker, N. H.

Will the party that wanted mallard ducks last spring write to me, I know where he can buy some.

The Associated Sportsmen's Club Inc., Fitzwilliam, are to have a big shoot, Sept. 29th.

We understand that the Greenville Sportsmen's Club cleaned up over $800 even if they did get rained out two nights in their recent Carnival.

Of the $2,500,000 Pittman-Robertson fund from the Federal Govt., New Hampshire will receive $12,898 as her share. Michigan gets the largest purse $129,652 and R. I., the smallest $5,000.

Some of my readers in New York State send me some Horse magazine known as The Harness Horse. Very interesting.

Here is a Boston fan that pulls me over the coals. He said I made some bad mistakes in my report on the trip to Fenway Park to see the Red Sox. He said I called them National League. I meant to have said the National Game. Then he said I made a bull in saying that the park held 36,000 people. Well I asked a cop in the grandstand how many people it held and that's what he told me. Those Boston cops like to brag about their fair city. Can you blame them with such a nice park. At the foot of his letter he tells about a black snake killed in Stoddard a few years ago that measured 9 feet and 2 inches. Sorry he didn't sign his name. Hope he sees this. I guess we are even now.

Yes, that all breed dog show is to be held at Rockingham Park, Salem, N. H., Sept. 15th. 1 p.m. Come and bring your dogs and meet some nice doggy people.

Although we had a record fall of rain in August our brooks and ponds are way down again and we need a lot more before winter sets in.

Never have we had so much damage reported in as this year on all sorts of animals and birds but the quillpig this year stands right out in the front row. With a price on his head of four bits he is still gaining on the hunter and what a job he is doing in the corn field.

Now that summer is over and you are going back to the city be sure your dog and cat is well provided for if you are not taking them with you. Cats left to shift for themselves do a great deal of damage to our wild life during the fall and winter.

One man who does a lot of night riding told me the other day that he never has seen so many house cats roaming the highways at night. Thirty-three cats he saw while going 22 miles and that was on a trunk line. One lady writes to me to favor a bill in the next legislature to license cats and make them wear a collar. That would be cruel to make them wear a collar and a bell. It's hard enough now to collect the dog tax say nothing of a cat tax. No, I am not in favor of any such legislation. Now cats are not a property and a poultry man can knock them off if they bother his chickens. They are only safe in their own dooryards.

Did you ever visit Camp Monadnock on Thorndike lake, Jaffrey. This camp closed this week after a very successful 33rd season. 88 boys for two months and the whole camp totaled over 100 persons. This is a fine located camp with Mt. Monadnock right in the back yard. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Ernst, Camp Directors.

Are you interested in a bunch of large meat rabbits? I know where they can be found.

tired enough by attending a fair one day a week but last week Frank Gay went to Hopkinton Fair three days and to Keene Fair with Alton Colby and Mr. and Mrs. James Stafford on Saturday. He was as pleased as a 12 year old with the rodeo. Then on Sunday, Frank took Walter to the Clambake given by Fish and Game Club, then after taking Walter home, he picked up a driver and went to the ball game in Warner. What a pace for five days out of seven! It makes me dizzy to write about it. Frank really missed his calling. He should have gone to the far west when young and grown up with bucking bronchos, wild cattle and jack rabbits, in the wide open spaces.

WOLF HILL GRANGE NEWS

Friday, Sept. 13th., Wolf Hill Juvenile Grange will meet at 7:30 in the Grange Hall. After our brief vacation lets all come and make it a "Full House".

Sept. 9th., the regular meeting of Wolf Hill Grange was held. It was announced that on Monday night, Sept. 16th., the Union Pomona Grange meets with us. Supper will be served at 6:00 p.m., and the business meeting is to be held at 7:00 p.m.

In the order of the business, Grace Bent was installed as Ceres by the Worthy Master, Leonard Gray. Several invitations were read and one was to attend a "GO To Church Service", to be held at New Boston, Sept. 22nd. Charles Gardner will be the principal speaker. Several are planning to attend.

The literary program was as follows: Piano Solo, "Boy Scouts Dream", Florence Lilley; Discussion, "Why more farmers have not taken advantage of the tax exemptions provided for in the timberlands classification law of New Hampshire"; Piano Solo, "Canadian Capers", Florence Lilley; Stunt, won by Richard Griffiths.

The dime march was held and the prize won by Mary Willard.

The discussion seemed to be of such interest to land owners that it was voted to have a speaker from the State Forestry Dept., come in Oct., to explain and discuss further the items of interest this law provides. This will be an open meeting so that all property owners may come in and hear him. Watch for further details.

It was announced that the next program on Sept. 23rd., will be in charge of the Stewards: Phyllis Bent, Howard Whitney, Jr., and Charles Williams. At this meeting it is very important that all officers be present.

After the meeting a lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

A Farmer and HIS HIRED-HAND!

Yes, I really like farm life . . . the more I see of it, and I'm seeing more and more these days. I'm one farm hand whose wages get lower the more use you make of my power. Pretty hard to name some chore or job around the farm that I can't do better, quicker, cheaper and make more profit for you.

And do you think my work's done only around the barns and sheds? No, sir! Why I'm one of the family in the farm home . . . making life easier everywhere . . . cooking, lighting, refrigerating, cleaning, laundering and providing every convenience Electricity can bring to you.
