Henry W. Elliott Dies, Native of Stoddard

ANTRIM — Henry W. Elliott died Dec. 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Ring, where he and Mrs. Elliott had lived for some time. Mr. Elliott has been in poor health for several years, receiving every care a devoted wife could give, also from the children and grandchildren.

Mr. Elliott was born in Stoddard in 1863 and married Ora M. Nash of Gilsum in 1890, who survives him, also four sons, Clarence H. of East Hartford, Conn., William Dewey of Antrim, Roy D. of West Medford, Mass., Ray T. of Dunlap, Ia., also one daughter, Mrs. William (Avis) T. Parcans of Indianapolis, Ind., fifteen grandchildren, seven great-grandchildren and two nieces. Mr. Elliott was in the grocery business in Boston before coming to Antrim 42 years ago.

Up to the time of his retirement he was very prominent in the activities of the town. At one time he was Chief of Police and at one time headed the Antrim Poultry Association.

A tribute in part, read by Rev. Donald Perron, written by Clarence H. Elliott follows:

MY FATHER

My father died when he was 83. To me it seems like the closing of a book. The story is finished and the book is closed. I am sad and my mother is sad ... and my brothers and sisters are sad ... and still that is life. I suppose, too, that is death.

As I recall my father's life I remember things that troubled me ... things that, when I was younger, I did not like. But it seems to me he led a good life. I could never detect any religious belief in any word or action of his. And still, I never knew him to cheat anyone. I never knew him de-

May Get Federal Funds For Hillsboro Airstrip

HILLSBORO — Hillsboro's application for Federal aid in building an airstrip at Grimes Field along with other New Hampshire requests is being considered by Federal Government officials, it was revealed at the Hillsboro Community Association meeting, Monday night.

Walter Sterling, president of the group, reported that the town selectmen had signed the application and that the Community Association was waiting for approval by the Federal Government before seeking a town fund to match that of the State and Federal Governments. The Hillsboro location is considered ideal by State officials having suitable soil, etc. At least two summer residents have been looking for suitable landing fields in this area it was reported at the meeting. One of whom is an official at Roosevelt Field and the other connected with a Helicopter Company.

Also discussed was the general traffic and lighting problem throughout the precinct and square. A committee will meet with Chief of Police Jackson in an effort to place a stop and go light at the square.

Also discussed briefly were the questions of poor radio reception and the band stand, the latter considered too touchy for consideration.

It was reported at the meeting of the property destruction to the bubbler system and to the grandstand and ice skating shanty, last summer and winter.

A skating rink is being prepared again this year and will be flooded as soon as the ground is sufficiently frozen.

A sign "Out of Order" on a fire alarm box is something that should be put in order at the earliest possible moment and we understand that the one box alarm will be in use shortly, but for the rest of the alarm system there is nothing wrong, in fact only recently a new system was installed that compares favorably with any to be found.

Dick Morgan faithfully tests each box periodically and it seems remarkable to us how quickly our fire laddies respond to the signal and get going on their way, night and day.

We have many fire traps in our midst, particularly in Central Square and in one big block in this area there are some twenty wood burning fires on the colder days of the year. We have been lucky for years but the luck is really our fire protection facilities and our fire company. We have good water pressure, able fire fighters and fair equipment in the two pieces of rather ancient motorized machines.

Over a period of some 40 years we have seen the Hillsboro fire department in action many times, and each man does his job faithfully and with real ability. Always on duty 24 hours of each day the members get paid only for service rendered.

We take our hat off anytime to the Hillsboro fire fighters.

The old stump brand maple syrup will be off the market this next spring for the poor old maple has gone the way of all natural things and is now down and out, of sight.

They tell us on the street that the diner is on its way and will be set on location before the spring thaw. It should be well anchored by that time and the hatches closed.

Harvey Mossia, a resident of this town for many years, recently died in Massachusetts at the age of 77 years.

He was a painter by trade and held a responsible position with the Vissoloid Company in Leominster, Mass., for many years.

Mr. Mossia was the son of the late Richard and Luella Mossia of this town.

Survivors include four sisters, Mary Appleyard, Ethel Fitch, Mabel Stoon and Gertrude Kinney, a brother, John H. Mossia of Hillsboro, nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held last Saturday in Leominster with burial in Fitchburg, Massachusetts.

Just to remind all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs that the Christmas Party is Friday evening, December 13, in Odd Fellows Hall, and to please come and bring the children. Let's make this the best Christmas Party ever. The bigger the crowd the more fun we will all have. Tell your friends and be there yourself.

Any chance of a Community Christmas tree this year? It's about time we got going if plans are made for the usual Community tree in Butler Park. My prediction of the end of the coal strike in 10 days proved correct, but I beat the deadline by 4 days. It looks very much like the brightest Christmas since pre-war days. Let's have a Christmas tree, please, for old times sake.

I'm dreaming of a white Christmas this year and hope for snow before the end of the deer hunting season for the benefit of the hunters.

If it were not for hope of something better what a drab old world this would be. Most of us go right on living and hoping even though we do not find a pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow. We just go right on hoping and believing in Santa Claus and trusting that the Supreme Ruler of the Universe will understand and be merciful to us.

A LOWER VILLAGE STORY—By Mary K. Pierce

Once there was very much of an industry in our village. An industry that was secret and hidden. Skillful counterfeiters made money as accurate in color and design that the Government found it difficult to trace this evil to its root. The day of justice finally came, and shattered the avaristic dreams of a group of men whose cleverness when discovered brought about their downfall. But for a space of years success crowned their efforts and might have continued longer if prosperity had not made them careless. At last when discovery was certain there was hurried concealment of all useful paraphanelia, hurried hiding of coins and paper money, and a prolonged absence of those who knew the secrets of the art of counterfeiting.

It is still believed by some that old engraving plates are buried beneath a stone wall, but which wall no one knows, for our village abounds in these granite boundary lines.

There is the story that the leading man or "king of the counterfeiters," as he was called, carried the false money to the great cities where it was put in circulation.

This interesting person, about whom clings mystery and intrigue, built the commanding brick mansion that sets back from the dirt road that leads to Hillsboro Center. Here he lived in much magnificence. Then came the day, when he incurred the displeasure of his neighbors. Setting aside moral conventions in olden times was never countenanced. Armourous entanglements caused village tongues to wag and village hearts to harden. Forgotten were the rich man's acts of charity, forgotten was his gracious pleasing manner.

The villagers were cruel. To satisfy their anger they slit the ears and cut off the tails of the horses of the rich man. Their act, perhaps, hastened his departure from the town or it might have been knowledge of approaching federal agents. Whatever the reason, the master of the fine brick mansion went suddenly away, and as far as it is known, never returned to the place of his prosperity.

In our village there are houses built with counterfeit money. Fine, old homes fashioned for grace and permanency, for it was whispered back in those days of righteous living that many an honest farmer helped to prosper the counterfeiting business.

That was long ago. Today there are honest enterprises that when work is finished bring as a reward the gift of untroubled sleep.

On No. 9 highway, Mr. Henry Willgeroth owns and operates a most successful ice business. His truck, laden with ice squares, makes many journeys through the village on its way to homes still faithful to the cooling qualities of natural ice.

Mr. James Oski, whose hands are trained and skillful, perfects intricate patterns in iron. With equal ease he nails a shoe on a fractious Colt or patient Dobbin, and fashions boats for those who desire safety on the water.

The Rochelle brothers, George and William, conduct a wood cutting business. It is pleasant on clear cool days to hear the musical sound of their saw as it cuts through sturdy maple and seasoned oak.

Miss Arlene Carmichael, an Army Nurse, has been honorably discharged from the service and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Carmichael at their home on the turnpike.

Mrs. Howard Tennyson shot the first deer of the season for our village.

The Fortnightly Club will meet Thursday evening, Dec. 12, at the home of Mrs. Harry Nissen. It will be the Christmas gathering.

Mr. F. J. Orser, who is working in New York, was home for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mrs. F. J. Orser and Miss Madeline Gilmore, rehearse every Tuesday evening in Antrim, with a group of ladies from Antrim and Peterboro. This group is planning to give concerts during the Christmas season, the dates of which will be later printed.

Anticipation of cold weather hastens banking the houses with evergreen boughs and filling boxes with greenery and brightly colored berries. Black alder and bitter sweet in their setting of hemlock transforms a sunless window into a framed picture of scarlet, orange and green. Small balsam trees stand as sentinels before the doors and within the house, kitchen windows are gay with blooming plants. Our village, with serenity, awaits the coming of the winter.

CHRISTMAS SALE

The Benevolent Society's Christmas Sale, held on Dec. 4, was a successful and very enjoyable affair. The "work committee," Marion Roach, Florence Read, Katherine Duseau, Helen Dodds, and Rebecca Kyle, was in charge and made aprons, etc. Lucy Buttrick, Barbara Rumrill, Ruth Derby and Nora Ashford assisted in selling them.

Mrs. Roach was in charge of the tea which was served with sandwiches, little cakes and cookies. The vestry was attractively decorated with Christmas greenery and red candles.

Not so many of their neighbors are at the Centre to welcome the Hadleys to their new home there, the original Gilbert House, but known to me as the George Ray-Elgar Hearty place. We are all glad they have come as they did last week to stay to make it their year-round home. When I first went to school at the Centre, all houses were occupied in winter except Max Jaffe's house which was built for a summer home only, and the Priest House, now the Smith house. There were two ministers living there and both churches well filled every Sunday. The school children were all from District No. 11, not brought in from all over town. Perhaps Mr. and Mrs. Hadley may start a new movement, "Back to the Centre" but they will have to step lively or chop their way thru dense forests as the first settlers did.

With his mother, Jimmie, 19 months of age and son of Mr. and Mrs. Halpin of College Station, Texas, watches his Daddy leave home each morning. As he makes the last turn he usually waves his hat and says "Be seeing you, Honey." Whenever Jimmy wants to say "Goodbye," he snatches off his little red hat, waves it frantically and shouts "Be see Hon."

Mr. Andrew Van Dommele is visiting relatives in town, and Mr. and Mrs. John McGreevey also of Providence, R. I., spent the week-end with the Hanilton Rumrills.

Mrs. Ernest Marcy visited her sister, Mrs. Rosemary Bridgen, who is ill at Kimball Hospital, Long Lane School, Middletown, Conn., the first of the week.

PIN-UP SET TO MUSIC

Pin-up pulchritude inspired Navy chief petty officer Don Wolf to compose the hitting song hit "Get a Pin-up Girl." The same Walter Thornton models who were Wolf's inspiration come to his aid again and pose (above) before the largest pin-up photograph of the song cover that could be reproduced. With them is Sam Donahue, once a Navy band leader but now the man who introduced "Get a Pin-up Girl" to the airways and started it on its way to becoming the nation's biggest song hit.

In the Christmas
Rush
By Willard Hartwick

THEY had been doing their Christmas shopping together, and stood with burdened arms waiting to board a street car for home. Again and again they joined the line-up of would-be passengers only to see the car move off without them.

"Look here, Mrs. Young. I think we're crazy to try to get home in this crush," said plump Mrs. Older. "Let us go to the Purple Tea-room and have dinner and rest till the crowd thins out a bit."

"Oh, I couldn't do that," almost wailed pretty little Mrs. Young. "I simply must get home. Teddy would be so annoyed if he got home and found me out and no dinner ready."

"But you could phone from the tea-room," said Mrs. Older.

"Teddy wouldn't like it," objected Mrs. Young. "He would say I shouldn't have stayed shopping so late."

"What nonsense," scoffed Mrs. Older, with the license of an old friend. "But Mrs. Young was firm. She was going to get home before Teddy if it were at all possible."

However, after a few more ineffectual attempts to board a car, during one of which she spilled her parcels on the pavement, Mrs. Young reluctantly accompanied the hobbling Mrs. Older around the corner to the Purple Tea-room.

Under the spell of the purple-and-gold shaded lights, the two weary women ordered substantial dinners.

Mrs. Young's body relaxed into ease, but her mind did not. She ought to be at home. She wanted to be at home. Home was the place for married women at meal-time.

"Teddy and I promised each other when we were married that we'd never eat dinner apart if we could possibly avoid it," she murmured.

"I hate to be the first to break that promise—I know Teddy wouldn't."

"Well, six months is quite long enough to keep a promise like that," asserted Mrs. Older. You might just

She noted hungrily what an unusually attractive meal it was, as well settle down and enjoy yourself."

But Mrs. Young couldn't smile or even pretend an enjoyment she didn't feel. She wanted to be at home preparing a cozy welcome for Teddy. Just at her most homesick and contrite moment, she raised her misty eyes to the wall opposite and read on a little framed card—"If you want a taxi call Main 0000."

She rose to her feet, the light of decision flashing across her face.

"I'm going to ring for a taxi to take me home," she said.

"Don't be foolish," admonished the rather disgusted Mrs. Older.

"A taxi will cost you quite a bit and you said you were broke."

"I still have that $10 bill Teddy gave me to buy a Christmas present for myself. I'll use some of that—and I can yet be home in time to get dinner."

Mrs. Young gathered up her numerous parcels and on her way out she met a waitress carrying in her dinner. As she stopped to take her check off the tray she noted hungrily what an unusually attractive meal it was.

In an amazingly short time the summoned taxi whirled her home without notable incident—except the smash-up that occurred in the $10 bill when it came into collision with the taxi fare. Mrs. Young found that she had just 25 minutes to the good, and she did a meal-marathon that broke all records.

At the exact minute of Teddy's usual arrival she was ready for him with a smile on her face. And just then the phone bell rang. She could hardly believe her ears when she heard Teddy telling her over the wires that he would not be home to dinner.

"Go right ahead and have your own dinner, dearie," Teddy said, and his voice didn't sound a bit regretful. "I've had an extra hard day, and I don't feel like standing all the way home, as I know I would have to do if I got on a car at this hour. Older and I are going to drop into the Purple Tea-room for dinner. By-by, dearie."

NATIVE OF STODDARD

liberately to deceive anyone. I don't think he ever talked about anyone for the purpose of hurting him. Maybe I didn't know my father. I know of many instances where my father has helped people who needed a hand. I have seen him stop his horse and get out and throw a stone out of the road when he could have driven around it. He has set up with people who were sick ... and given food to those who had less than we had. I have seen him stop and help people get their car out of the mud or change a tire. I find myself doing right things because my father showed me what was right. I think my father never intentionally hurt anyone ... and I know he did many deeds of kindness. Maybe my father was a Christian.

My father led a rugged, hard life, devoid of many comforts. Perhaps he did not expect too much from life. He had a violent temper at times, but always a keen sense of humor. In spite of his violent temper I know at heart he never meant to harm anyone, or hurt anyone's feelings. And his temper was always offset by my mother's mild patient disposition.

Many times, in a tough situation, I find myself thinking of some humorous saying of my father's. I find myself believing that almost anything can be done because he could always find a way to do everything.

True, my father is dead ... but his spirit lives in me, my brothers, my sister; his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Ring, Tuesday, at 2 p.m., with Rev. Donald Perron officiating, and Mrs. Elizabeth Tenney soloist. Burial was in the family lot in Maplewood Cemetery. The Woodbury Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. The bearers were, Ellery Ring, Walter Hills, Oliver Wallace and Carroll White.

The Brownies met Monday after school. They made Xmas tree decorations such as "snowballs" and paper chains.

On Dec. 11, the Rebekah's held their annual Xmas party. Dec. 14, a Penny Sale will be held, sponsored by the church in Bennington.

Dec. 21, will be the date for the Goodell Co., Xmas tree.

The question has been asked many times and now I will try to answer it. Who owns the semi-wild mallard ducks on Whiting's pond, Faro pond and the Souhegan river. Here is the answer. Six years ago I planted two pair of semi-wild mallard ducks on Whiting's pond. They have wintered very well. A few die, but a very small percentage. Today there are just 51 on the above named waters. Many young ducks fall prey to cats, mink, otter and crows, but you can see they have done well.

banded hen pheasant liberated in N. H., was found in West Acton, Mass. That bird was some traveler.

In regard to the boys and girls under 16 that want to go hunting. No permits are issued. All that is required is that they go with someone over 21 years of age who has a license tag. Be sure to take a plain tag if they get a deer. Later I will furnish you with an official tag. But be sure to tag your deer as soon as you get it. Any untagged deer, the officers will confiscate.

Don Daniels of Milford, the new Warden, has been traveling with me the past few days. Don thinks that I have some bad roads in my district, and some good ones.

Are you interested in a full-blooded Persian cat? Woman moving and can't take the cat with her. Must have a good home. Contact us at once.

Nearly all my agents were out of licenses of all kinds the night before the open season on deer. Biggest year yet for the sale of licenses.

How would you like to live in South Carolina? They have a four months long open deer season and you can kill five bucks in that long open season.

We are sorry about the sad accident in Cheshire County the first day. It behooves us to KNOW what we are shooting at.

Man from out of state wants to know if he can hunt hares during the deer season. Sure you can, but if you value your life, don't do it! Some deer hunters don't like dogs in the woods in the deer season. Wait until the 21st of December.

William Curley, the 11-year-old nephew of Rudolph Konecny, the manager of the Fountain House, on Burns Hill, got the first deer reported from this town. He was in a party of seven hunters and was the first one to shoot a deer.

Well, as usual, the deer season started off with a big bang. The conditions were all in favor of the deer. No snow and the woods very noisy. We were out before the sun was up and saw very few hunters, but as the day grew older the hunters increased. We covered many a long mile and checked several hundred hunters. A rough estimate of the kill for the first day in my district was between 35 and 40 deer. Some good ones. Out of state hunters outnumbered the local ones. On route 31 between Wilton and Greenfield line we counted 16 out of state cars in less than a few rods. No accidents in my district on the first day for which we are thankful.

John Thomas of the home town got a fine 6-point buck early on Monday morning, near the Barry farm in Temple. John goes to a veteran's hospital for treatment this week Thursday. He will take some venison with him.

The Associated Sportsman's Club of Fitzwilliam, sent me down a 1947 membership card with the compliments of the club. Andrew C. Neal is the secretary. We sure appreciate these compliments.

How many dollars does a N. H., hunter spend on his deer hunting equipment? Out in Michigan it is estimated that every hunter spends $25 on his equipment, not including his gun. How about you?

What about your Christmas seals? Now is the time to buy them. A worthy cause.

Out in North Bay, Ontario, Canada, a large elk drove out a pair of horses and has taken over the barn. He likes oats and has no desire to leave. The horses are out of doors, eating grass. One for Mr. Ripley.

Two weeks ago I sent an SOS for a heater for my car. A man in Winchendon, saw my appeal and sent for me. Now I have a nice heater and it's doing a grand job. Pays to advertise.

Some parts of southern New Hampshire got a light snow Sunday night which pleased the deer hunters.

Saturday afternoon Daniels and I ran into Chief of Police Philip Magoon of Greenfield. Phil had a new 30-30 which we tried to buy. (No soap). Phil wanted to have a shoot with Daniels. Both had 22 Woodsmans, and they went to it. The shoot ended in a tie, so they shot it off and Daniels beat him by a few points. Phil wants a return match.

Out in Minn., a man was sitting in a boat and idly dragged his hand in the water. A big muskellunge grabbed the hand and hung on. After a good scrap the big fish was landed in the boat. The man is now nursing a badly hurt hand. Moral, keep your hands in the boat.

HILLSBORO WOMAN, 70, INJURED BY DEER SHE SHOT

HILLSBORO — Injured by a mortally wounded deer she had just shot, Mrs. Clare Webster, 70, well known local sportswoman is recovering at her home here from severe arm and leg wounds.

Brought down in the so-called plains section, the eight-point buck reared its head and slashed Mrs. Webster with its antlers as returned to their home in Epping, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Haven Joy of Portsmouth, were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Davis.

she neared the fallen animal to finish it with a hunting knife, she said.

Her calls for help brought another hunter, Nelson Maine, also of Hillsboro, to the scene and he fired the shot that ended the deer's life. After aiding Mrs. Webster to town for medical attention he returned to get the deer for her.

Mrs. Webster is an ardent hunter and fisherman and prior to coming here to live several years ago she spent considerable time hunting in the Rockies, particularly in California and Colorado. Lynx and bobcats have also fallen to her trusty aim.

"Plan your work and Work your plan"

Long winter evenings bring families together after chores are done. Then there's time for serious talks and good fun. In December there's opportunity, too, to review the results of the past year's work... to make plans that can be carried out efficiently in the year that lies ahead.

Proper planning uncovers new opportunities in any business. With experience, know-how, and plain "horse sense" to draw on, plan-making should not be difficult. You think back with pleasure on your good crops... on how well your livestock or poultry programs turned out. You remember little things that made them profitable, or caused a loss. With this in mind, you look ahead and decide on next year's crops and rotations. You think of ways to improve your livestock operations. You make provision for the purchase of breeding stock, seed, machinery, fencing and equipment. You consider your problems from all angles. That's the way a sound plan is made. Then you set your course and stick to it.

What's true of the individual farm or ranch is true of any business, small or large. We at Swift & Company well know that we, too, must plan our work and work our plan. Our business interests are many and varied. Without a plan and good business records, we would be almost certain to run into serious losses because our profit margin is small. But by planning carefully, diversifying and working efficiently, we—like you—hope to increase our earnings in the future.

To all our friends on America's farms and ranches, we at Swift & Company wish a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year
John Holmes, President

TAKE TIME TO SAVE TIME

by L. S. Hardin, Purdue University

There is a labor-saving or labor-wasting way to do every farm job. Because we use too many old, hard ways, we waste 15 to 25 percent of our time. Greater attention to how we do our jobs can save time and work.

Ways of doing livestock work easier, faster and better are especially needed. Most farmers still use almost as much work to make 100 pounds of pork, beef or milk as they did 25 years ago. Yet, thanks mostly to machinery, we have reduced crop work one-fourth to one-half during the last 25 years.

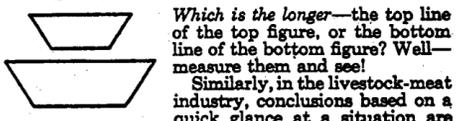

Alert farmers are simplifying farm jobs, cutting chore time 15 to 50 percent. Five Indiana farmers, by carefully planning their work, are raising market hogs with one-quarter the average hours of labor. A Minnesota farmer rearranged his barn, adopted correct milking practices, saved 300 hours of work and 138 miles of walking a year. By rearranging his watering system, a poultry man saved 22 miles of walking a season. Some farmers are making hay in 90 man-minutes per ton. Others, using similar equipment but harder ways of working, spend twice the time.

What these farmers are doing, others can do, too. Know just what you want to accomplish. Figure out how to do a job the easiest, cheapest and best way. Cut out those unnecessary steps, combine jobs, rearrange barns and lots, work out more convenient chore routes, keep equipment busy, choose new equipment that suits your farm. Give new practices a fair trial.

You'll find the easy way is the best way. Small improvements add up to days and dollars saved. Five minutes wasted a day equals 3 days a year; 5 steps a day amounts to a mile a year. With costs rising and profit margins due to shrink, we can well afford to take time to save time.

Soda Bill Sez:
... worriers die young; thinkers live long.
... a brain is no stronger than its weakest think.

Things are NOT always as they seem

Which is the longer—the top line of the top figure, or the bottom line of the bottom figure? Well—measure them and see!

Similarly, in the livestock-meat industry, conclusions based on a quick glance at a situation are not always so. A case in point is the "spread" between prices paid for livestock and the price received by the meat packer for the meat. The fact is that this spread is narrow. Out of every dollar Swift gets from the sale of its products, 75 cents, on the average, is returned to producers.

Can you name another business that returns such a high percentage of its sales dollar to producers of raw materials? Can you name any other business that performs so many essential services with the twenty-five cents left from that sales dollar? The twenty-five cents pays all business costs. Livestock-buying expenses, slaughtering, refrigeration and processing. The cost of selling the meat and delivering it to thousands of markets all over America. Necessary supplies, such as salt, sugar, barrels, boxes, paper. Ever-present taxes, etc. After all these expenses are paid, Swift's share averages, over a period of years, less than 2¢ on each sales dollar. This amounts to a fraction of a cent a pound of product handled.

N. H. CHURCH GROUP

SEEKS RELEASE OF CO'S

A Christmas amnesty for all imprisoned conscientious objectors in the country was asked of President Truman Friday in a telegram dispatched by the social action department of the New Hampshire Council of Churches and Religious Education.

Signed by Rev. Lorin Bradford Young of Grace church, chairman of the department, and Rev. W. S. K. Yeaple of Hillsboro, executive secretary of the council, the telegram seeks the release of approximately 1,500 CO's now in prison for terms ranging from one to five years.

Release Prisoners
Text of the telegram to the President reads:

"The social action department of the New Hampshire Council of Churches and Religious Education, representing approximately 450 churches, respectfully urge you to proclaim Christmas amnesty for conscientious objectors, restoring their freedom and full civil rights."

The action taken by the council is in line with action taken by church groups in other states and by the Federated Council of churches of Christ in America, Rev. Mr. Young stated.

Quoting another source, Rev. Mr. Young said that ministers picketed the White House to free CO's last October. In the same month, 139 prominent American authors signed a letter to the same intent. The letter noted that in Germany and Japan approximately 2,000,000 political prisoners had been set free by occupational forces and that among them were many pacifists.

Figures released by Selective Service show that during the war conscientious objectors have completed 5,378,700 man hours of work worth some $18,000,000 to the government, according to Department of Labor figures. Rev. Mr. Young stated. The CO's also saved individual states some $2,600,000 in hospital work.

At present, there are 826 CO's still in civilian public service work projects. Almost double that number are being held in prisons, Rev. Mr. Young said.
