COMING EVENTS

People intending to attend the Deborah's turkey supper on Feb. 28, are advised to buy tickets from boys calling at home or from Mrs. Devlin at the Western Auto Store. The committee wishes to have some idea as to number coming in order to have a bountiful supply of food for all patrons, but this is no time to waste anything.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB

The Improvement Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Esther Hill last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Leona Cutter presided and led in the flag salute and the Lord's Prayer. In response to roll call, some of the 1,097 inventions of Thomas Alva Edison were named in commemoration of his 100th birthday anniversary. Readings were given by Ida Ellinwood, Státira Barnes, Carrie Cross and Mary Holden. Eunice Willgeroth told of some of the outstanding events of Edison's life. It was decided to have the Paper Products agent meet with the club in the near future. The president announced that a "Silent Auction" would be held at the next meeting. For the April meeting each member was asked to bring .50 in place of holding a food sale. The flower committee's report was read.

Piano solos were played by Nettie Yeaton and Státira Barnes, followed by all singing old songs closing with God Bless America.

Refreshments of chicken a-laking, olives, pickles, coffee, and nuts were served by Mrs. Hill, Nora Jones, Státira Barnes, Eunice Willgeroth, Janet Sharby and Hazel Chadwick. 21 members were present and one guest, Mrs. Agnes Hill.

JUNIOR FORTNIGHTLY

Reports of the interesting things the Junior Fortnightly Club class in Arts and Crafts are doing make me wish I could work with them too. The class meets in their Community House club room every Tuesday evening. Mrs. Eleanor Vaillancourt is teacher or leader, but the girls also learn from each other. They spend a very happy, profitable evening making or decorating articles for their homes or gifts. They began painting on glass, flowers, animals, any object on tumblers, plates, etc. Decorating wooden bowls, trays, plates, etc., is also done. Stenciling on cloth or paper affords an unlimited number of possibilities, towels, luncheon sets, curtains, etc. Individuals work on whatever they wish to learn new things as fast as started. It is all very informal and enjoyable.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Carolyn Meader celebrated her third birthday anniversary on Saturday, Feb. 15. She was given a party by her mother, Carolyn's guests were, Kenny Ryder, David Boardman, Diane and Darryl Brown, Mauren Ives and Faith Vaillancourt, and their mothers. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meader of Rochester, were week-end guests, and Mrs. Frank Peaslee of Henniker attended the party.

GRANGE MEETING

The regular meeting of Hillsboro Grange was held last Wednesday evening in Grange Hall. Mrs. Fern McNeil read a story on the life of Edison. A poem about Lincoln was read by Mrs. Mabel Crosby. There will be Deputy Instruction at the next meeting.

Refreshments were served in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman. The Grange has held dances on the last three Saturday nights. Music for these dances is by Lindsay's orchestra of Bennington.

Miss Catherine Phelps celebrated her 13th birthday anniversary by entertaining three friends at the movies and afterward serving refreshments at home. Her guests were, Charlotte Vigue, Barbara Jones and Jean Murdoch.

GRANGE MEETING

At the Grange Hall, Feb. 19, the Antrim Grange held a meeting. Several visitors were present from Bennington and Hillsboro. The District Deputy, Geore Gilbert, and Juvenile Supt., Mrs. Marjorie Emory, both from Boscawen, attended. The first and second degrees were conferred on candidate Robert Warren. Following the business meeting, lunch was served and Mrs. Leona Canfield had charge of the Literary Program. Solos were sung by Lester Hill, and everyone enjoyed the essay on "Olden-days of the Grange," which was read by J. Leon Brownell. Two pantomimes were given by the following: Mrs. Edna Humphrey, Lewis Bezio, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Black, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Canfield.

The next Grange meeting will be held on March 5, at the Grange Hall.

BROWNIES

The Brownies meeting was held Monday after school at Fireman's Hall. The winners of the contest for the best Valentines were: Betsy Thornton, 1st, prize; Carol English, 2nd, prize; Betty Green, 3rd, prize. The prizes were made by Mrs. Carroll Johnson.

Lois Black visited her mother here last week-end.

Joseph LeBlanc, Sr., of Bennington, formerly of Antrim, has been recuperating at Peterboro Hospital from a knee operation. Friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Everett Davis entertained, Feb. 19, the Mission Circle of the Presbyterian church for a business meeting.

School closes next week. Let's hope the snow conditions are ideal for sliding and skiing; and that the skating rink provides fun for the young folk.

Frank C. Withington, 70, Center Resident Dies

HILLSBORO — Word was received, Sunday, of the death of Frank C. Withington, 70, well known resident of Hillsboro Center, in Dunedin, Florida, February 16.

Mr. Withington came here many years ago as a summer resident, but in 1939 made the Center his permanent home.

Together with Mrs. Withington, they established the Well Sweep Antique shop at the Center and were widely known in antique circles for their fine showings.

Mr. Withington had been associated with the John Hancock Insurance Co., and the Boston Mutual Insurance Co., for many years before coming to Hillsboro Center.

The deceased was born in Jamaica Plain and had lived at West Roxbury, Mass. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Edith Nelson Withington, three sons, Nelson of Brattleboro; Roger of Cambridge; and

Henniker PTA To Be Organized Soon

HENNIKER — Plans to form a Henniker Parent-Teacher Association were discussed at a meeting held in the Congregational church parish house Tuesday evening, February 18, and a tentative date was set for an organizational meeting in the near future.

Mrs. B. E. Hadley, president of the Weare PTA, and Mrs. Elsie Purington of the Weare School Board and past president of the Weare PTA, led an informal discussion about goals of the organization and how they may be achieved.

Emphasis was placed on the fact that the greatest value of a PTA to any community is the close cooperation and understanding between parents and teachers rendered by the association and illustrations were given of how this is gained in Weare. Questions of Henniker parents about the school lunch program and other matters of interest were answered by teachers and Mr. Phil Chase stressed the educational purposes of the PTA.

Community singing was led by Mrs. Elsie, Purington and Mrs. Harold Connor. Rev. Robert Lewis acted as chairman for the evening.

The club is taking a very active part in stocking all streams, lakes and ponds, in this vicinity. A discussion on the feasibility of closing them for a few days, when first stocked, was held. This is to permit runs. If it is found practical, the club may approve some such measure.

Albert Bryer, for his co-operation in assisting the skating rink project, was presented a complimentary card of membership. With Sam White as chairman, a dance will be sponsored soon by the club. Arthur Amiot showed movies following the business meeting, and Hadley Allison was chairman of the refreshment committee.

STATE DEPENDENT ON GAMBLING, DRINKING, AND SMOKING FOR SIZEABLE PART OF INCOME

Dale's Budget Message Last Week Recognized The Problem But Offered No Solution, Present or Future

It is now apparent that any leadership this year towards relieving the state of its dependence on gambling, drinking and smoking for a sizeable proportion of its income will have to come from the Legislature. Any hope of direction from other sources faded with Governor Dale's budget message last week. As he had in his inaugural address, the Governor recognized the problem but offered no solution, present or future. The eagerly awaited report of the Interim Commission on State Finances published several weeks ago, passed the buck to the 1949 Legislature. It did, however, recommend consideration of income and sales taxes at that time.

The Governor pointed out that 24 percent of the state's income in 1946 came from the race track, liquor store revenues and taxes on beer. He estimated revenue from these two sources over the next two years conservatively but added: "Any business recession will affect these revenues, and in the case of income from racing, even a mild epidemic which caused the closing of the track might eliminate that revenue (estimated at $2,200,000) entirely." This reasoning leads him to only one conclusion, that the state must not embark on any new gambling ventures to produce income.

He also points out that federal grants to the state, which in 1946 amounted to more than $2,400,000, may be cut as a result of the economy drive in Washington. If this should happen, the state activities affected (Old Age Assistance, highway aid, etc.), would have to be curtailed or new sources of revenue would have to be found immediately, he said, and there the matter is dropped.

BIENNIUM ESTIMATE

Governor Dale asserted that the state could operate on a budget of $13,600,000 plus in fiscal 1947-48, and of $14,300,000 plus in fiscal 1948-49, without new taxes, and with a small surplus at the end of the biennium. His estimates include increased state aid to education of $1,600,000, the total amount requested; $300,000 more for the University of New Hampshire; $1,000,000 more for the state welfare program; money to begin the elimination of pollution from lakes and streams, possibly $45,000; financing a plan for compensating industrial accidents; and increased departmental requests based on higher salary schedules, and cost-

Concord Hospital Fund Drive Oversubscribed Here

Although members of the five Hillsboro teams in the public campaign to raise $6,500 in this town and Washington toward the $1,000,000 building fund for the new Concord Hospital already have obtained $6,811, they have continued their efforts during the past week as the campaign, originally scheduled to close on February 13, was extended to February 20 at the request of the workers in all communities.

The total in Hillsboro and Washington at the February 13 report meeting was announced as $6811 in 212 subscriptions by George W. Boynton of Hillsboro, community chairman, who said that the total of the entire fund stood at $989,538. Final reports on the closing of the campaign will appear in next week's edition of this newspaper.

Of the five Hillsboro teams, the group headed by Roger Connor has secured the greatest amount thus far, 68 for $2,401.

Reports by community chairmen at the meeting of all volunteers on February 13 showed the following subscriptions and amounts by

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS STUDIES ATOMIC ENERGY

HILLSBORO — Mrs. Haas, National Treasurer of the League of Women Voters, reminds us all that the purpose of the League is to help people remember that this business of Government is what every individual does, not what someone else does. In carrying out this purpose the League always maintains its non-partisan policy.

Subjects for study in the League this winter include, Control of Atomic Energy, National Policy in regard to Displaced Persons, Immigration Policy and an elementary course in Economics. To illustrate, starting with the purchase of a loaf of bread we glimpse the multitude of transactions that purchase entails, involving production, employment, free enterprise, price systems, interdependence and finally the American Way. Please ask for League's Economic Primer, "How the Wheels Go Round," if you are interested, or its slide-film, "Economics for Everybody."

Martin Palhof, proprietor of Breezy Point Inn, arrived in town Wednesday to prepare his resort for summer business.

That is all the estimates include. Unless the Legislature wishes to exceed the Governor's Budget and presumably find new sources of revenue, it will have to forget all about a lot of bills and plans now under consideration. Among them are the bonus bill, $6,000,000, now in the Ways and Means committee; increased mileage for legislators, $76,000; the Weirs Development, $950,000, or perhaps $100,000 annually in interest and principle; $150,000 more for the Fish and Game Department; $25,000 for the Region Associations; perhaps $75,000, if the interest and dividends exemption is raised; pay raises for judges and department heads; $1,200,000 to replace the 40 percent of the liquor revenue which, it is proposed, should be turned over to counties; $835,000 for new National Guard armories; $340,000 to be loaned to communities if the severance tax bill is passed; $1,000,000 for state aid to housing; and there are many more. According to the Governor none should be passed unless new sources of revenue can be found.

1949 DEFICIT?

Incidentally, Governor Dale made two recommendations which, if passed, would put the state in the hole June 30, 1946 to the extent of perhaps several hundred thousand dollars, based on the Governor's other estimates. He has recommended a ten-year $2,000,000 bond issue to pay the balance of the veterans' bonus authorized in 1943. This would cost $200,000 plus interest yearly, or $400,000 plus for biennium. And he advocated a new bond issue to control Bang's disease. The last was $600,000 in 1945. Interest and principal payments on this might add up to $100,000 and more for the biennium. Neither of these sums is included in his figures. His estimated balances as of June 30, 1949, without them, are only $25,000 for the budget, and $274,600 for the general sinking fund. In reference to the bonus bonds, it is widely noted at the Capitol that Governor Dale led the fight in the last session which killed off the $3 poll tax which had been financing the bonus.

STATE INCOME

The state's total income each year includes in addition to the money appropriated by the Legislature, federal grants to certain activities (Old Age Assistance, etc.), income from cities and towns, and special funds for special purposes. In the later category is revenue from motor vehicle registrations, licenses, gas taxes, etc., which support the Highway Department almost entirely; and from hunting and fishing licenses which support the Fish and Game department. Thus in 1946 the Legislature appropriated only $7,240 of the state's total income of about $25,000,000.

NO ROLL CALLS

As of last week-end, the House of Representatives had acted on a considerable number of bills but had yet to go on record individually in a roll call. The various bills, amendments, etc., were passed or defeated on voice votes, or on divisions, in which only the number of "yees" and "nays" are recorded. Observers look for only 15 to 20 roll calls during the entire session for two main reasons: First, they take a long time, in the neighborhood of half an hour; and second, in some instances, and on some measures legislators do not wish to go on record individually, if they can help it.

MILEAGE EQUALS SALARY

A week ago the House passed a bill which, if approved by the Senate and Governor, would give members of the General Court a base pay raise of about 100 percent. The state constitution limits legislators, (other than presiding officers who receive $250) to a salary of $200 for the biennium, making them among the lowest paid in the country. The new bill gets around this by increasing the mileage allowance. It used to be five cents a mile. The proposal calls for $3.00 for the first mile and five cents a mile thereafter. Legislators receive the allowance each day they attend, whether or not they travel and whether or not they live in the shadow of the Capitol dome. The Legislature meets three times a week normally and the session is expected to last about 25 weeks, that's $225.

ON THE STREET

By Paul S. Scruton

We attended the Royal Purple degree at Manchester, last Saturday night, with the state officers taking part in the ceremony which is always impressive and brings back memories of not so long ago, when we went through the same procedure to become enlightened and changed for the better, we hope.

The man on the street who said we were always preaching but never went to church must have been shocked to see us in church last Sunday morning, and maybe the minister was surprised also, but from first-hand information we add that the sermon was thoroughly enjoyed and gave us something to think about in a high elevated plane of existence. Rev. Dr. Yeaple certainly is giving us what we need and re-recommend that some of you other heathens come more regularly. We need the churches and the churches need us.

The price of maple syrup will be $5.00 per gallon this year according to good authority and from the standpoint of everything else, it's well worth the price. The old stump brand is out this year, so please do not order in advance. We have not caught up with our 1935 orders yet.

Washington village was the first in the country to be named for General George Washington, so we have something to be proud of up in the hills of old New Hampshire, as his birthday approaches on the 22nd. Other towns by the same name have taken credit in past years for being first but there is no question as to the authenticity of the claim in our own New Hampshire village.

Antrim has its own Town Hall along with Deering, Henniker, Washington and Weare, but Hillsboro still has only a dream of having one some day, some where, or something.

The third degree will be con-

On Tuesday and Wednesday, maple sap literally poured from the tapped maples and Norman Fletcher and the Farnsworth brothers took full advantage of weather conditions to obtain a quantity of the sap and made some syrup. The early springlike weather also brought out a few brave house flies, who will probably be somewhat chilled this week-end if they survive the rigors of winter. According to weather prophets, we still have some 40 inches of snow coming before April 15th.

A-LOWER VILLAGE STORY

Hannah Bachelord lived on the pasture road. Long ago it was, and no one now remembers her, and her name is almost never heard. Sometimes, perhaps a "ragged bonnet" with frayed strings hanging from an attic nail awakens long forgotten memories. Some one may say, "Oh yes, my great grandmother's bonnet. Hannah made it." One wonders how it holds together after all these years. But there it hangs covered with dust and cob-webs, a silent tribute to a woman's patient skillful hands.

Hannah made bonnets. Charming shanes of straw adorned with flowers and velvet bows, and some with long ribbons that tied beneath the chin. "Beau catchers," they were called, these coquettish knots of ribbon, but to Hannah they were only an embellishment to her expert handiwork.

She lived alone but never was she lonely for her art was appreciated by those who followed fashion and so a small world came to her house, purchased a bonnet and an attractive box in which to keep it, for Hannah made bonnet boxes too.

Lovers riding postilion on a spirited horse dismounted before her door, for the swain must always scansion his sweetheart's choice in style. Little girls in full skirts and pantaletts clinging tightly to their mother's hand, gazed in open-eyed wonderment at the crown of straw fitted to their youthful heads. Matrons looked for something neat not prudish and grandmothers desired a black and modest bonnet.

Hannah understood her customers and had learned well her craft. She knew the art of arranging flowers, lace and velvet to display the lure of golden curls and how to twist a bit of ribbon to conceal an ugly blemish.

Hannah made cap boxes but she did not fashion caps. Back in the days when a handsome bonnet was worn for several years, for fashions did not change so quickly then, women prided themselves in never permitting their heads to appear uncovered. This was very much of a social error, and so the vogue of wearing caps was faithfully followed. Some caps were made of lace with many ruffles and gatherings to form a setting for a pretty face. Others were of velvet or heavier material and gave, in winter, added warmth to heads no longer young.

Hannah, for many years, pleased her countless customers and when she died she took something from our village that was sorely missed. Her honesty, the perfection of her slender artists hands and the whimsy of her moods. "Yes it's a pretty bonnet," she would say when someone admired her work, then after a moments thought would add, "I could have made it better if I had a mind to."

Says that a road agent, be it fifty years ago or now, has to take a lot of kicks while he is doing his best, but there is one condition I'd like to speak of and that is the sanding condition. To my way of thinking, the level stretches need some sand if only one side, to accommodate those who have to go to the rural route for their mail, and to take the bus, also for the school children who have to meet the bus that takes them to school, or those who might make a neighborly call. True it would take more sand, but wouldn't that extra expense be better than a broken bone?

Your question will be answered. They have the goods. Some time ago I mentioned the fact that Kasco dog feed was not only for dogs but all pets love and thrive on it. It might be interesting to know that this feed has been taken by Admiral Byrd on his recent arctic expedition. Nuff sed. Nice letter from O. H. Robb of McKeesport, Pa. He lived in Andover, 50 years ago. Nice letter. Come again. Yes, we would give a week's pay to catch the person or persons who are dropping kittens, cats and dogs beside the road for some one to hit or pick up. Many have been dropped the past few weeks in some of my towns. It's bad enough to drop them when the weather is good but now with the mercury hovering the zero mark it's more than cruel, it's inhuman. Any one seeing this should get the number of the car and report to the nearest Police Dept. Let's stop this if we can. Did you ever hear of a squirrel that would pass up a good nut? Well, up in Lyndeboro a grey got into a man's cellar and was doing a job on his apples. I went to his SOS and set a trap with good nuts. No response. Three days went by and nothing doing. So I removed the nuts and put in an apple. Within an hour I had the fellow. He did a good many dollars' worth of damage and he only wanted the seeds in the apple. He was not a nutty fellow. What's the Legislature going to do about the slashing of our forests and the big Bilboard nuisance. I thought the Garden clubs were working to stop this great waste. We read a lot about the pollution of our rivers and lakes and ponds. But we will bet you dollars to doughnuts that nothing will be done about it. This must come from Washington, D. C. Too much opposition to this matter. Some cities and towns would be ruined if they had to dispose of their sewerage in some other way. But we hope to live to see the day when it does come. There are a few bills in the Leg-

GENYSLER — PLYMOUTH SALES AND SERVICE DEPENDABLE USED CARS We Pay Cash Prices for Used Cars — Any Make or Year 228 No. State — Phone 355	Well, folks, we have another scare on the anti-gun proposition. Some Senator from Wisconsin has introduced a bill to make every one owning any kind of a gun larger than a .22 rim fire to be registered with the govt. The fine is $500 if you don't and a year in some Federal prison. Here is your duty plain and simple. Sit down and write your Senators and your Congressmen to kill Senate bill 332 introduced by Sen. Willey of Wisconsin. This is a savage bill and will make it unbearable for a man who owns a gun. You have to be fingerprinted and your home can be searched by the officials who enforce this law. Let's get busy and ask our representatives in Washington, D. C., to step on this bill. This same bill or one similar pops up every session. The last time had it not been for the National Rifle Association we would have had such a law. How do you like the idea of an increase of $5 to $20 bounty on the bear? No one would ever pass up the chance to shoot a bear and just as many bear would be shot at $5 as at $20. Bear dogs cost a lot of money. It's rumored that the license fee may be raised a dollar for the combination resident. It's also rumored that there may be two separate licenses. One for fishing $2.50, one for hunting $2.50 and the combination for $3.50. How does that strike you? A new Fish and Game Club was formed the other day at Peterboro. Final organization Feb. 14th. With a newly formed Rifle Club this town is going places. Success to them both. Have at hand a nice long letter from a man in one of my towns who wants to know why they don't license cats. The idea is old. In fact many bills have been presented from time to time and when it comes to a collar and bell on a cat they kill the idea in committee room. The only way to control semi-wild cats is to put a bounty on their heads. The license idea is out. If the cities and towns can't collect on the dogs how in the world would they collect on the millions of strays. I admit that the semi-wild cat is worse than the bob cat as they hang around the cities and towns and feed on our wild birds and small game animals. A bounty would solve the question. A few years ago a manager of a	MOVIE TONY LAMY LOCAL AND INTERSTATE MOVIE We Move Safes, Office Equipment and Household Goods — Goods Insured in Transit — 18 Badger St., Concord Tel. 2174	Game farm on the Coast of Maine offered a reward of ten cents for all cats, old and young, brought to him dead at his farm. The fall of 1945 he paid out $110 in fees. Some cats. A summer resort was near by. This is the time of the year when many dogs are lost through the thin ice. The recent January thaw weakened the ice in many of the ponds and lakes. In the past we have had many a fine deer and dog lost. They are in the habit of crossing the ice during the winter and do not realize until too late what the thaw did to the ice. Better check on your dog's habits. Had one case of dogs chasing deer last week and the owners were notified. We noticed the passing of Charles Rounds of Bristol. I knew him very well as a 100% sportsman. He will be missed in that locality. We notice in the state papers under the column "What people talk about," many people are wondering where the winter birds are. Many were killed by the icy weather which covered up all their feed. Feed the birds is more important than ever. A valuable beagle hound has been lost in New Ipswich or Sharon. Please check. Have a long letter from an out of state man who owns a summer home in N. H. He can't see my point in not posting against hunting. It's the poacher and not the sportsman who will go onto your posted property. Vermin in the shape of foxes, skunks, semi-wild house cats, bobcats and quillpigs will go onto posted land and thrive and drive all the small game animals and wild birds out. Proper hunting will keep the vermin down. Also another point, did you consider that the neighbors who have always hunted on your land resent the No Trespass signs. More than one way to look at the matter. I still believe in no posting. Along with other rivers the old Souhegan river cleared itself of quite a space one day last week. It won't be long now to the annual town meetings all over the state. What you got on your mind? Are you in favor of a ten or five man commission for the Fish and Game Dept? We have got along fine with five men. Why change? Many letters the past few weeks asking where to buy suitable feeders for the wild birds. Well, just drop a line to Hyde Bird Feeder

2ND MARINE DIVISION

Five of the most significant landings in the Pacific . . . Guadalcanal, Tarawa, Saipan, Tinian and Okinawa . . . from the Second Marine Division's history in World War II.

One regiment of the Second landed in the initial assault on Guadalcanal. Another arrived with Army reinforcements in December and a third unit participated in the final mop-up.

Withdrawn to a rear base, the Division was refitted under the command of Major General Julian C. Smith, before sailing for the Gilbert Islands . . . Tarawa.

That bloody action, where Marines stormed ashore against withering fire in one space of 20 yards, 120 Marines fell. But their comrades moved on, took the objective annihilating more than 4,000 of the best troops of Japan. For this outstanding performance the Second Division was awarded a unit citation.

With Major General Thomas E. Watson in command, on June 14, 1944, the Second Division landed on Saipan beaches, with the Fourth Marine Division on its right flank. After bitter fighting, the Second captured the heights overlooking Saipan's capital, Garapan.

On August 1, 1944, Major General LeRoy P. Hunt, succeeded General Watson in command. Elements of the Division under Col. Clarence R. Wallace, feinted a landing off the coast of Okinawa for two days before the main Marine and Army forces drove ashore unopposed on April 1, 1945. This carefully planned demonstration was particularly responsible for the bloodless seizure of the beachhead.
