COMING EVENTS

Ruth Murdough and Patricia Phelps will represent Hillsboro in the first of two speaking contests held by the Youth Fellowship at the Methodist church next Sunday evening at 7:30. The winner will compete with winners of Peterborough and Keene on March 23, and they will go to the Annual Conference held in Lawrence, Mass., in April. The subject, World Service, should be of interest to everybody and the public is invited to attend the contest.

JUNIOR BEACH CLUB

The Junior Beach Club held a most interesting meeting, Sunday afternoon. Priscilla Nissen presided over the business session. Miss Pauline Remick, president of the N. H. Music Clubs spoke, also Mrs. Fred Sprague, Junior Club counsellor. The meeting was turned over to Jack Tasker who had charge of the program.

The High School orchestra played three selections and the Antrim Glee Club gave three numbers under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Jewett. The senior Club number was a vocal solo by Miss Gilmore. The Juvenile Club was represented by Harrison Baldwin, who played a duet with Mrs. Porter, substituting for Mrs. Baldwin. David Woods of Deering played four Bach numbers. The minuet was danced by Priscilla Nissen, Janet O'Connor, Jack Tasker, and Bruce Hutchinson. The girls were dressed in long gowns and one was pink and the other was white. All were very serious and bows were very grand.

Mr. Jewett praised the orchestra for being able to play without their leader, Herman Hill, who is ill in the hospital. Mr. Jewett presented David Wood, the guest pianist, and his twin brother, Donald, with brief cases, gifts from the Music Clubs. David has a scholarship in the N. E. Conservatory of Music and Donald at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Jack thanked all taking part and Mr. Jewett, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Porter.

Refreshments of ice cream were served to the 75 people present.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

The Benevolent Society presented a speaker of great interest to the members at their regular meeting, last Wednesday. Miss Ruth Bugby of Concord was a missionary to China, but she formerly had her own music studio in N. Y. City, where she taught piano. However she taught all phases of music called for at the University of Shanghai. Miss Bugby is a fine speaker with a real sense of humor, and her music teaching experiences were made very interesting. She spent two or more years in a concentration camp near Shanghai, and she even made life there less gruesome than usual. It might not have been as bad as some. Anyway she organized some of the women in a glee club.

DEBORAHS

The Deborahs held their meeting on Wednesday, March 5, and were pleasantly entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Yeaple at the parsonage.

A lively business session was held with the president, Helen Meader, presiding. Reports and communications and suggestions for the Ways and Means Committee were given. Dr. Yeaple reviewed two books, one on India and the other "New Day Ascending," by Fred Brownlee.

Refreshments of assorted sandwiches and cookies were served from the attractively appointed table at which Mrs. Yeaple poured tea and coffee, using a silver service which had been presented to the Yeaples when they left Rochester by their parishioners.

The next meeting will be guest day and the speaker, Mr. John Langmuir of the N. H. Federated Tax Association.

Lively Debate Stirs

Bennington Town Meeting

BENNINGTON — One hundred and twenty-five dollars was raised for Memorial Day. There will be a band to help with the exercises.

Bennington voted to raise $2,000 for highways and bridges:

Raised $193.83 for class 2 roads.

$50 was raised for the Monadnock Region Association of Southern New Hampshire.

Raised $2,000 to tar the town roads now tarred.

Voted to buy 100 ft. of 2 1/2 in. hose and 100 ft. of 1 1/2 in. hose. Raised $200.

Raised $500 for the bathing beach at Lake Whittemore.

Voted 28 for and 23 against giving the town selectmen the power to purchase a truck for the use and maintenance of the Highway Department and to buy a wind and sander in connection with the truck. Appropriation was $3500 to $5000, the sum to depend on the kind of truck purchased.

Voted to sell a certain tract of land on the South Bennington road in front of the so-called Abbie Hanslie place.

Raised $200 for grading of the school playground.

Voted to raise $31,674.36 for statutory requirements and appropriations of the school district.

Voted that the Trustees of the Library funds pay Mrs. Emma Bartlett her salary of $300 for this year, if it is legally possible to do so, and that an article be put in the warrant next year to reimburse the Library for this expenditure.

Considerable argument was the order of the afternoon about the purchase of the truck, giving a lively interest as well as much information on this subject for and against. The vote was very close.

There was considerable said about the Whittemore Lake article and it seemed to be reasonable certain that some supervision would be available after the beach is fixed up and bath houses built.

Everyone was in favor of Mrs. Bartlett receiving her salary as usual whether she is able to resume her duties or not, but as there is no article in the warrant to raise this sum it was voted upon as former article states.

The Clerks for 1947 are: Town Clerk, Donald Powers; Town Treasurer, Arthur Bell; Selectman, Lawrence J. Parker; Road Agent, Herbert Curtis; Overseer of the Poor, Henry Wilson; Sexton, William Taylor; Tax Collector, James H. Balch; Water Commissioner for 3 years, Lawrence Parker; Trustee of Trust Funds, Henry Wilson; Trustee of Evergreen Cemetery for 3 years, Georgetta Bryer; Trustee of Sunnyside Cemetery to be appointed by Selectmen for 1 year; Library Trustee, for 3 years, Ruth Cody; Surveyor of Wood and Lumber, Ernest Wilson and Lawrence J. Airport Debated At Town Meeting

HILLSBORO — 400 Hillsboro townspeople, attracted by controversial articles in the Town Warrant, attended Town Meeting, Tuesday afternoon, making this the best attended meeting in years.

Those attending were rewarded with impassioned pleas for and against the proposed Airport, the Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Region appropriation, with minor debate on white pine blister, town clock and summer police officer questions.

Moderator, George Boynton, despite conflicting motions and arguments, kept the meeting in order and dispatched the town's business in a capable manner, completing the afternoon's business in two hours.

The crowd which at one time almost filled the hall, with many standing on the sidelines, was for the most part in good humor with debate on a high level.

The first several articles were acted upon with ease, but things began to warm up when Tax Collector, Bert L. Craine, moved to dismiss article 8 favoring an appropriation for the Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee Region Association. After debate pro and con, the article was upheld.

Article 9, regarding the town clock, was amended to increase (Continued on Page 4) their uniforms.

Mrs. Warren S. Reeve, and daughter, Evelyn, will sail March 22, on the Queen Elizabeth, from New York to England. She expects to spend the summer visiting her brother and family, whom she has not seen for sixteen years. She intends to return to the States when school re-opens next fall.

The Antrim Rod and Gun Club will sponsor their annual dance on April 10th with a popular orchestra, and a Mix-master will be a prize (Continued on Page 5)

A LOWER VILLAGE STORY

The highway of our village has enjoyed a colorful past, for a certain portion, the turnpike, was the direct road to Boston and over that section passed many strange and interesting people and vehicles. The old post routes went up and down this ancient road, and over the lower highway too, that leads to Concord and beyond. The post-rider carried the mail and a very picturesque figure he was in the early days as he galloped at reckless speed through village and hamlet, tossing a letter to one, and to another a paper, at the same time spreading the news of heavy storms, bridges washed away or high winds that had caused damages and destruction. The villagers hurried out to meet the boyish rider for he blew his horn as he neared a community and its sharp clear note could be heard half a mile away on a clear day.

The post rider was the happy inspiration of Benjamin Franklin, who desiring a letter to reach its destination without delay, thought of a swift horse and a fearless rider as the quickest way to carry the letter, and if his, why not the mail of everyone? And so the post-rider came into existence and continued for a long period of time, until the advent of the stage driver in the early part of the 18th century.

Stage coach days were always glamorous and particularly so in our village for two lines started from this community which at that time was the business center of the town and some of the drivers became famous in song and story.

The coaches carried mail and passengers. They were usually drawn by six horses, that at a gallop, entered a village and attracted an admiring group of people who learned from the driver political news as well as gossip of city and town.

The coming and going of the stagecoach was an everyday occurrence. Sometimes the coaches or fth ewealthy passed through our village, handsome vehicles with elaborately painted doors, drawn by well groomed steeds, the silver mountings of their harnesses shining in the sunlight. Once in the '80's, often the Governor rode to Concord in his coach and four and as he passed along received petitions from those who wished redress from injury and wrong. With the coming of the railroad, the stagecoach rolled into the shadows of the past and the highway of our village took on the form of life.

In the month of May droves of cattle were driven from the lower part of the state to the high pastures in Washington and Bradford. Oftentimes two hundred or more cattle comprised these droves, with horses, colts, calves and sheep. Long before the animals could be seen coming up the turnpike, the hallooing of the drivers and the barking of sheep dogs announced the coming of the herds. When the first horned head appeared in the bridge, men, women, boys and girls armed with brooms, hoes and sticks, took up a position before their homes to prevent the cattle from leaving the road and grazing on the lawn. This was a contest of will and strength and many times the cattle were the victors.

Yet in spite of this inconvenience, spring was an event and in the fall, too, when they left the highlands and were driven down the long dusty road to distant farms

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Concerning your editorial of last week about an oil burner, your paper is in error when it says that the Special School Board has purchased an oil burner for the High School. I believe in your sense of fairness, so offer you the detailed truth of the problem. As a school board, we have long studied the bad heating and ventilating system at the High School.

Last summer, we secured the services of a heating engineer who surveyed the whole plant and made certain recommendations for its thorough overhauling which naturally included the installation of an automatically controlled oil burner heater in the present boiler. But more important, we found that we needed to install several thermostatic valves in the pipe lines anyway, in order to provide for an effective distribution of heat. These valves should be put in at certain points through the building, in the present system. At about the same time we found that installation of window deflectors in each class room would help the ventilating problem and these have been ordered for three or four months.

Last fall, when the oil storage tanks for the Community Building arrived, we had a chance to get the other tank in the shipment at COST, which was less than $400.00, all installed. Two members of the board readily agreed to purchase the storage tank at the time because of the probability that they would continue to be hard to get. The whole problem had been thoroughly discussed at a previous board meeting and there seemed no doubt about the need to overhaul our heating system at the High school.

The price of purchasing an oil burner heater and of overhauling the radiation system is estimated at $400.00. We have included that amount in our new budget under the item called Minor Repairs. The usual amount needed under this item is $600.00, which with the $400.00 we have asked for the overhauling, would add up to $1,000.00 requested. If the voters don't want an efficient heating system to that extent, we expect that the requested appropriation would be cut when it is voted on. When we have funds to purchase a burner, I am sure we would be proper in asking for bids if we could get a guarantee of quality and service. At the present time, the board has made no contract nor commitment to buy an oil burner heater.

As far as the roof at the Grammar School goes, the problem is whether the district wants to completely rebuild a section and repair the rest at the suggested cost of $810.00 or just to patch and mend the whole roof. I feel that this is a question of just how much work the district eventually wants to do on that building, while at the High School we have a rather new building which should be thoroughly maintained.

I am not interested in winning school election by digging up little issues, any more than I want to be a party to anything that will create friction and bad feeling that might harm the schools which are for our children.

Respectfully yours,
James Ellsworth

the appropriation to $100, the increase to be used in painting the clock face.

Article 10, White Pine Blister article, which was earmarked to be killed by some, was considered favorably after able arguments by Harry Nissen, who clinched his address with Joyce Kilmer's poem, "Trees."

Articles 12 and 13 were dismissed. Articles 14 and 15 for band concerts and Grimes' Field maintenance, were carried.

At this point, Moderator Boynton introduced Russell Hilliard of the State Aviation Commission for a question and answer period.

John Evans took the floor asking 6 prepared questions of Mr. Hilliard, touching off the debate. He was followed by proponents of the airport, with most of the speakers in opposition to the articles which were defeated by a good majority, one being a standing vote.

Other actions of the meeting favored a summer policeman, and a public meeting in June to discuss specific problems of the town and to which summer residents would be given a special invitation.

Are you using these "hired hands"?

It often seems as though a farmer or rancher never has enough help. But did you ever stop to think that there are literally thousands of people who work for you that you seldom, if ever, see?

These unseen "hired hands" are the scientists of agriculture, who work for you the year 'round in agricultural experiment stations of the nation. Their accomplishments are many—and can benefit you directly in proportion to the advantage you take of their services. They've helped increase productivity of the land, helped develop better-yielding crops, better livestock and poultry. Yet, never satisfied that perfection has been reached, the experiment stations continue to explore the possibilities of further aid to agriculture.

The experiment stations in the 48 states are to the business of agriculture what our research laboratories are to Swift & Company. It is in the research laboratory that we put science to work for us, to improve our products and our business. It costs us money—but we consider it money well spent. Farmers and ranchers are indeed fortunate to have much of their research work done for them—and paid for out of public funds derived from taxes.

We like to think of these agricultural experiment stations as a vast bank of valuable scientific knowledge. To maintain the assets of this bank, millions of dollars from this year's $1,235,055,000 budget of the United States Department of Agriculture go to the various state experiment stations, to conduct experiments sponsored by the U. S. D. A. In addition, about $12,000,000 is provided by the states to staff and maintain the stations. Remember, this is your bank from which you can make withdrawals of real value any time you wish. Information is available on any subject relating to farming or ranching. Direct your request either to the Dept. of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or to your own state college, state experiment station or extension service. If you do not have the address, ask your county agent or vocational agriculture teacher. Or write to us at Swift & Company, Department A-5, Chicago 9, Illinois.

A Big Market of Little People

A new outlet for meat has been developed! Hundreds of thousands of "little people" in America, the babies of the nation, are now eating meat. Swift's Meats for Babies and Juniors are specially prepared for them. These new products give today's babies a better chance than ever before for robust health and full physical development.

The better the food, the better the baby! That's why doctors are so enthusiastic about Swift's Meats for Babies. They know that meat provides complete, high-quality proteins, the essential body-builders—iron, the blood-builder—and needed vitamins in natural form. They know, too, that these vital food elements in meat are most important when babies are young—actually building their bodies. And so, many doctors are recommending Swift's Meats for Babies and Juniors—strained for the very young and diced for older children.

This is but one example of the many ways Swift's research, distribution and promotion contribute to the nation's nutrition and build new markets for the products of your farm and ranch. Mothers: if you'd like a free copy of a new informative booklet, "Meat in Your Baby's Diet," write Swift & Company, Dept. B, Chicago 9, Illinois.

Two Different Things

There seems to be a good deal of misunderstanding about two factors which are important in the marketing of livestock—grade and price.

Simply defined, the purpose of grading is to provide a convenient but necessary means for comparing qualities of the meat animals in a market; or for comparing the animals in one market with those offered for sale in another market. However, grading is not an exact science because it depends to quite an extent on the judgment of the person doing the buying or selling. Grades are standards which take into consideration the sex, weight, quality, conformation and finish of animals.

Now, let's have a look at price. Price is not a factor in determining grade. Just because some animals are in a higher grade does not mean that they always will sell for a higher price than animals in a lower grade. For example, it happens at times that a medium grade of cattle sells for as much or more than a good grade. Such a condition may come about when there is a heavy demand for, but only a light supply of, medium cattle; while on the same day a big supply and a light demand of good grade cattle will not bring so high a price.

The same situation may exist in the case of lambs. In communities where racial customs affect eating habits, there are times when carcasses of lightweight, thin, lean lambs sell for as much as the fat, well-finished, choice type. Again the law of supply and demand is in action.

Always remember that price and grade are two different things. Try to think of each separately, and we believe you will have a much clearer and truer picture of grading and marketing of livestock.

P. C. Smith, Vice President
In Charge of Beef, Lamb, Veal

Martha Logan's Recipe for BEEF GOULASH

- 2 pounds beef chuck
- 1/4 cup flour
- 3 tablespoons fat
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup celery leaves
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1/4 teaspoon sage
- 1 teaspoon caraway seed (optional)
- 1 teaspoon salt

Cut beef into chunks and roll in flour. Melt fat in skillet. Brown meat well. Add remaining ingredients. Cover skillet and cook slowly for 3 1/2 hours, or until tender. (Yield: 6 servings.)

Things are NOT always as they seem

Which of the two shapes shown at left is the larger? The white one or the black one? The white one certainly appears to be bigger. But actually they are exactly the same size.

In the livestock-meat industry, too, things are not always as they seem. For example, sometimes people think of Swift's total profits payments to shareholders were less than 4% on the shareholders' investment; the company's net earnings from all sources were 1 1/2¢ per dollar of sales... only a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled. That seems to be doing business on a mighty narrow margin—and it is!

Nutrition is our business—and yours

SIZE OF BUSINESS

by J. L. Tennant
Rhode Island State College

A farm business should be large enough to pay operating costs, interest on the investment, and family living expenses. A southern New England dairy farm, for example, should have at least 18 cows per man; a poultry farm, 1,500 layers; a market-garden farm, 10 acres; a potato farm, 40 acres; and an apple farm, 20 acres.

Doing more business with the same capital investment is one way to lower costs and higher profits. With the larger business, the operator can spend more of his time at productive work. For example, workers on a dairy farm with 9 to 10 cows per man will be just as busy as on a farm with 15 to 18 cows per man. The gross sales and net income on the larger operation will be much higher because more of the time is used in producing milk. Reducing costs per unit puts the farm operator in a stronger competitive position.

If more crop land cannot be bought, perhaps it can be rented. Another plan is to check means by which crop production on present acreage can be increased. Ways to do this include: the use of lime and fertilizer; winter cover crops; higher yielding varieties; double cropping; drainage and terracing.

Another step toward efficiency is to install modern equipment which enables one person to produce more per hour. Overhead costs per unit of product can be lowered when each machine is used profitably for as many hours as possible.

meeting at Pinehurst farm, last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Hazel E. Putnam presided at the business meeting at which time the members observed a moment of silent prayer for Mrs. Ruth C. Gray, one of the Club members, who passed away at her home on Wednesday. Plans were made for the sale of fancy work and it was voted to sell tonic at Town Meeting. Following the meeting, refreshments of fancy cookies and coffee were served by the hostess, Mrs. Marie H. Wells, and a social hour was enjoyed during which the members discussed their hobbies.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Ruth C. Gray, who passed away at her home at Valley View farms last week. Although Mrs. Gray had only resided in Deering a few years, she leaves a host of friends to mourn her passing. She was Treasurer of Wolf Hill Grange at the time of her death, was a member of the Deering Community Club, a member of Union Pomona Grange and Hope Rebekah Lodge of Hillsboro and will be greatly missed by all.

busy year for themselves and already show signs of more interest and progress.

DARKNESS NOW AND THEN

Whenever the street light nearest us at the Walnut-School street intersection, burns out, we feel quite abused which on second thought is rather funny, for when we lived on the farm, there were no street lights on the Centre Road. We children had to go up to the Nelson House at the Centre to get our mail, after the stage, driven by Tom Harriman and his predecessors, had brought it up from the Bridge and had gone on to East Washington. Of course we liked the clear moonlight nights the best. I don't remember being afraid of anything—except black nights except Wilkins' dog which we never met. The darkness was so thick it could have been cut with a dull knife. We used to put a hand before the other's face and then laugh because it was impossible to see it. We only knew where we were by the sound of our feet scuffing along the dirt road.

Before the coming of electricity there were kerosene lamps set in a box-like arrangement on top of a pole placed at street corners here in the village. The lamplighter, usually the policeman, went around with his lighter or matches. I'd like to know just how he did it.

I wonder if they were as considerate as the old lamplighter in the popular song. For a few years we had such lights at the Centre and were quite satisfied. But when the electric lights were placed at intervals from this village to the Centre, we thought they were beautiful. At least we could keep the horse out of the ditch easier than when a lantern was fashioned to the dashboard. I don't understand now how I used to drive down here or anywhere else I wanted to go, regardless of darkness and weather. It must be fun living in the country and having a closed car to travel in. No muddy wheels to clamber over, no dirty reins or blankets to handle and no shower of horse hairs to brush off one's Sunday coat.

Why freight rates are going up...

Since 1939, railroad employees have had three general pay raises totaling 52 1/10%, and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have risen 61 1/10%.

But when the war ended in 1945, the railroads were still hauling freight at rates no higher, and in some cases lower, than when the war began.

Without increased revenues, railroads could not meet these costs and also provide improvements in equipment and facilities—improvements that are essential for the low-cost freight and passenger services which are necessary to America's high standard of living.

Under these circumstances—and almost a year after the last major wage increase—the Interstate Commerce Commission recently approved an average increase in freight rates of 17 1/10%.

Of all the price increases in America today, few have been so little and so late as that in the price of railroad transportation.

How important are healthy railroads to a prosperous country?

Only when the railroads are financially healthy can they provide the new equipment, improved road beds, and better terminal facilities needed for still better service to you.

The defense of the nation depends upon the continuance of the efficient transportation which served the nation so well in the last war.

The railroads are among the largest employers of labor. They buy over 100,000 different products. They pay big taxes—taxes which are spent not only for public schools, public health, and police and fire protection, but even for highways, airways, airports and inland waterways.

Railroads are America's lifeline—keeping goods flowing among the 48 states day and night in all weather.

They can continue to do this only if there is a reasonable balance between income and outgo. Like yourself, the railroads must make ends meet!

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Mrs. Reeve's Pupils

Give Piano Recital

ANTRIM — At the schoolhouse, March 12, the pupils of Mrs. Warren S. Reeve gave a very interesting recital, and since their recital of last year, showed remarkable improvement. The program was as follows:

"Fairies Harp"—Alice May Hill; "Dancing"—duet by David and Eben Chamberlain; "Little Spring Song" and "Happy Rosine"—Patsy Mulhall; "Pease Pudding" (played in any key requested)—Elaine Fournier; "Brownies Carnival"—Betsy Thornton; "A Little Girl's Waltz"—Joan Hartwell; "Goblins" trio—Patsy Mulhall, Edwin Roberts and Alice May Hill.

Mrs. Reeve, the teacher, spoke briefly about how the children composed their own melodies, and her method of instruction by harmonizing the compositions. These themes were illustrated by several of the pupils who played their own original compositions which were very effective.

The program was continued with: Betty Lowe playing "Skating Party" and "Rolling the Hoop"; Edwin Roberts played "Laughing Fairy"; a duet by Evelyn Reeve and Barbara Shea was the popular "Vienna Waltz"; "Bells at Evening" and "Dancing" by Edythe Fournier; "Skaters Waltz" and "Claytons Grand March" were selections played by David Chamberlain; "Ballade" and "Hungarian Dance" by Brahms were played by Barbara Shea; three numbers by Evelyn Reeve were "Angel Voice", "Traumerei", "Flowers of the Forest" which were played in a fine tempo, and masterly manner.

The teacher, Mrs. Reeve, who is leaving for England this week, spoke to the parents and pupils, thanking them for their cooperation. About seventy persons were present at the recital and it was with genuine regret that the lessons are to end, after such fine progress in piano has been made.

This recital, mostly of very young pupils, was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and their well wishes were extended Mrs. Reeve afterwards.

An evening of pleasant entertainment is promised. There will be a fancywork concession; aprons made of colorful prints and percales, many of the finest pre-war merchandise, will be on sale. A beautiful 3-piece handcrocheted chair set will be given to the holder of the lucky ticket. Prizes will be awarded to the scoring Whist fans. Delicious refreshments will be served and a social hour enjoyed. There will be a small admission charge to cover expenses.
