COMING EVENTS

The Caroline A. Fox Bird and Garden Club's regular meeting will be held with Stella Martin, Church st., on Saturday, November 1st. All December hostesses will serve with her, exchanging with those of November, but the November program will be given as scheduled at this meeting. Edna Weiss, Helen Whittle, and Julia Sleeper have parts on this program.

The Benevolent Society will serve its annual Harvest Supper on Wednesday, November 5th at 6 P. M., in the vestry. There will be the usual unusually palatable repast of home cooked baked beans, salads, rolls, those delicious pies, coffee, and pickles probably. Where can you get a better meal?

The Deborahs will hold their regular meeting on Monday evening in the vestry.

The Juvenile Music Club will meet in the Music Room Sunday afternoon, November 2nd at 2 P. M.

GRANGE MEETING

Hillsboro Grange enjoyed its regular meeting on October 22, when the second degree was exemplified for Deputy Gilbert's inspection. The first degree had been conferred upon the two candidates at a previous meeting. A brief program was also given: vocal solo, John Newman; recitation, Mrs. Dodge of Gate City Grange; piano solo, Fern McNeil; recitation, Mr. Dodge of Gate City Grange.

Refreshments of apple pie, cheese and coffee were served.

ONLY A DREAM

Do you know what I would like to do if I had a big house and plenty of energy, and ample supply of money? I'd like to establish a Nursing or Convalescent Home and a home for aged people. Hillsboro could use both. Not big institutions, but made to accommodate ten or a dozen at the most. Neither would be charity places. The right kind of managers should derive a satisfactory living. The old people would be happy to be able to stay amid their friends and home surroundings. Growing old would be a pleasanter pastime under such conditions.

Many old folks have some money, but no one to care for them. A small local home would just be the answer to their problems, if anyone cares enough to work it out on a practical basis. I am not a financier, not even a bookkeeper, but sometimes dreams come true when enough people with like ideas work together.

Beautiful October, with its day after day of ideal weather, has outdone itself; given us too much of a good thing. Other years we have enjoyed the first week or two of such weather and made the best of rainy days; now nothing would make us happier than a few dismal, very wet, rainy days and more intermittently, until the farmers' wells are full and all fires discouraged forever.

OLD ACQUAINTANCESHIP REVIVED

This Monday morning I have had a very interesting conversation with John Mansfield, who has to lie flat on his back in bed all the time. He can move his head and use his arms, but the rest of his body is paralyzed. He is a very remarkable person and can do more than many able bodied people. When I first came to live in this house he was a boy in his teens and I read an article in the Sunday Herald about him and wrote to him. We have carried on a rather spasmodic correspondence ever since.

When Helen Ellsworth Pilkington was a telephone operator on night duty, she used to talk with him. This morning I talked to him for Priscilla Baker, who knew him when she was an art student in Boston. He lives with a sister near Fenway Park and he has many friends among the ball players and their famous fans who often call on him, among other famous people.

Fire Ban Still Remains Despite Good Rainfall

HILLSBORO — Constantly on the alert with everybody acting as a fire warden, this community so far has been spared from the sweeping flames that have destroyed so many homes and woodland in New England.

A real threat, however, was the recent fire which destroyed the Arthur McNally summer home. Firemen confined their efforts to the surrounding areas to prevent the spread of fire which destroyed the house.

The drizzle all day Wednesday and the rain Thursday morning changed the complexion of the present emergency. However, the fire ban still remains in effect and the Hallowe'en caution is still as urgent as ever.

At the Center somebody started a bonfire which was quickly brought to the attention of the fire warden, Charles Hunt, who reached the scene in time to prevent the spread, and gave the offenders a warning.

Fire warden Hunt, assisted by Warren Day, Saturday sent a crew of young men via bus to South Newbury where they relieved fire weary local residents in patrol work. Crews were also sent Sunday and Monday nights.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Harris were her brother, James Cummings of New York, and friends, Mrs. Jennie Drake and Mrs. Carrie Graley of Nicholsville, N. Y.

Louis Andrews, World War II veteran, has been appointed agent for the John Hancock Insurance Company in this debit which includes Henniker, Contoocook and Hillsboro. He started as agent for the company on Monday, Oct. 27.

A movie was shown at school Wednesday about "Oil." Wednesday night a public movie was shown at the Town hall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Davis from Portland, Maine, with daughter, Carolyn, visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur English, Sunday, Oct. 26.

UNCLE CY—SAYS

We've been so long without a rain
Fire hazards everywhere;
The sun it doesn't shine as bright,
Through the smoke filled air.
If you're riding in your car,
Your cigarette forget;
Don't throw a smoldering little butt
Until the ground is wet.
Do your smoking when at home,
To smoke a cigarette
Do your smoking in your bath,
Where it's good and wet.
If tobacco you must use,
This is what to do;
Don't buy the kind you have to smoke,
Get the kind to chew.

Fire Destroys McNally Home In Deering

DEERING, Oct. 27 — Fire, beginning after midnight Friday night, burned the summer home of the Arthur McNally family to the ground, leaving only a chimney standing. The family saved only a few personal belongings, the refrigerator and radio.

The fire was noticed by Bernie Pierce, a neighbor, who ran to another neighbor's home, where the alarm was telephoned to Hillsboro.

Firemen were able to confine the fire to the home.

Deering fire warden, Rodney Gilbert, and Deering town officials, rounded up all available men and tools as precaution against a possible woods fire as the home was in a wooded area.

Charles Hunt, Hillsboro fire warden, with his pumper, was also called to the fire and had the misfortune to lose two five gallon gasoline tanks on the way. They would appreciate the return of the cans, gasoline or no.

Hillsboro firemen report that curiosity seekers and volunteers handicapped them in getting to the fire.

The house had a well in the basement, but the house had already burned to the first floor, when the fire department arrived. The property had been in the family of Mrs. McNally for many years and was partially insured.

Can YOU Afford to be UNDER-INSURED?

Shortly after midnight last Saturday, Lillian K. McNally's farmhouse in Deering burned to the ground. Those of you who were present could see how slight are the chances of extinguishing such a blaze in a wooden building once the fire is underway. The McNally loss was only fractionally covered by insurance — and a very small fraction at that. If this insurance situation were the exception in and around Hillsboro this would not be written.

BUT MANY OF YOU ARE UNDER-INSURED AND SOME OF YOU ARE GROSSLY UNDER-INSURED.

Mrs. McNally thought that, because of the unfavorable location of her farmhouse from the insurance viewpoint, no additional insurance could be written. She has informed me that several other local citizens with whom she has recently discussed the matter have a similar misunderstanding concerning insurance. Mrs. McNally has kindly consented to my using her case as an illustration in the hope that, by so permitting me to discuss it in print, others of you may be caused to examine the adequacy of your fire insurance before disaster strikes and it is too late.

If you believe that your present coverage would not fully reimburse you in the event that your house should be destroyed by fire, — Don't assume that no more insurance can be written for you — Consult your local fire insurance agent — It is his job to see that fire will not mean financial ruin to you.

It Didn't Happen in Hillsboro

Once upon a time, a traveling salesman came to Hillsboro. His factory had porcelain dinette sets to cost about $30 and sell for $49.95. This sounded too good, so we asked, "What's the joker?" He replied, "We cheapened this set with poor slides, very short hair-pin bases on the chairs and cut out the table drawer." So we inquired, "Won't the chairs collapse and the leaves break?" "Oh yes," replied the salesman, "This set is really no good, but some of the city stores advertise it to bring people in and then sell the people something expensive."

We did not buy any.

In one city this dinette set is now being advertised as sturdy (?) a markdown from $80 (?) to $49.95 so the lucky people can rush to the city and get a bargain (?). In a city newspaper advertisement we read that there is plenty of room for 8 persons (eight) to eat around this measly 40 by 45 inch table. What little dishes! What narrow people!

All we can say is that what you read in the HILLSBORO MESSENGER is usually true, and what you buy in HILLSBORO stores is probably made to be used. Shop and save in Hillsboro. This is a paid advertisement of the Eaton Furniture Co.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor—

What are the people of Hillsboro doing to help feed Western Europe? It all seems so very far away and like the forest fire, does not endanger our immediate security. As in fire fighting, saving bread is not a spontaneous move but entails an effort on our part.

We have been asked to save a slice of bread a day. The obvious thought is "here is my slice—what shall I do with it?" In small families, bread sometimes gets stale before it is eaten. Another loaf is bought leaving uneaten bread. How fine it would be if small families and people who live alone could buy bread together, thus insuring that it all be used. There would be less stale bread and consequently less bread bought. Cutting down the bakers' purchase is the tangible contribution we need.

The cycle of "housewife buys less so grocer cuts purchase, therefore baker bakes less," would ordinarily take time. We need immediate action.

Would grocers split a loaf? Perhaps some ingenious person could develop this plan—a share your bread program—or has someone a better idea?

"Why should I deprive myself when my neighbor is wasteful?" might be the answer of some, while others say, "Oh yes, people might get worked up into a patriotic frenzy, but it won't last."

No plan will amount to anything unless people get behind it. There must be cooperation on the part of all in order to have any degree of success.

Yours truly,
A CITIZEN

CARD OF THANKS

A Letter of Thanks to My Kind Friends and Neighbors

Could there be as nice a sunshine box as mine—anywhere? Of course there is—but I can assure you that none was ever enjoyed or appreciated more.

I am taking this opportunity to thank each and every one of you for your kindness. The pleasure I derived from opening each gift is really hard to express.

My many, many cards have also been a reminder of your constant well wishes.

I also want to add my sincere thanks to those having sent or brought in flowers, gifts, candy, cookies, fruits, custards, puddings, apple pie, baked apples and the lovely fresh apples.

Truly you made what would of seemed long, dull days, into pleasant ones for me, so I am indeed most grateful to you all.

I do appreciate your untiring efforts in making it possible for me to have the lovely sunshine basket. Josie. It truly was a kindly gesture on your part. I shall never forget.

Many thanks and best of luck to you all.

Ever your old neighbor

Warner, N. H., Prepares for Winter Skiing

WARNER, N. H. Oct. 30 — Warner, the destination of the first Snow Train to ever come out of Boston, is once more making big plans to handle its biggest crowds this winter when the ski season opens and the first snow falls.

For the past three weeks a large group of workers have been busily working on the Warner Ski Slopes: cutting bushes and trees, removing and smoothing out the rough spots with a giant bulldozer.

A new corporation has taken over the management of the Warner Ski Slopes and thousands of dollars have already been invested in new tow equipment; motors, buildings, ropes, poles and all of the other requirements necessary to make the natural skiing advantages of Warner, the finest in southern New England.

The Warner Hotel Association, comprised of twelve of the largest and finest hotels in the picturesque area has already announced a full winter's program of social activities for the hundreds of guests whom they expect to accommodate this winter.

The Warner Ski Slopes are only a few hundred feet from the Boston and Maine depot, and are within five minutes walking distance of the bus stops and the Main streets of Warner.

The State House Journal

by Brock Shenton

James M. Langley, publisher of the Concord Monitor, takes this writer to task for "irresponsible political reporting." Langley, who for many years has been New Hampshire's most influential editorialist because he never hesitates to call a spade a spade, picked up a paragraph from a recent volume—which admittedly was mis-written—and proceeded to take its author apart.

The paragraph in question stated: "Councilor Matson has been bucking Governor Dale's program of purging the state service of veteran and efficient public servants—like Sunapee's Leo L. Osborne from the Liquor commission, Nashua's William L. Barry and Concord's Claude H. Swain from the Public Service commission, Dover's Ralph W. Caswell from the State Police and Concord's John J. Hallinan from the state Welfare board."

"Here," Langley comments, "we have a piece of irresponsible political reporting which twists the facts to no good purpose and misleads the public in the process. What are the facts?"

He points out that Matson was not even on the Executive Council when Barry and Hallinan left the state service, a fact which is quite true and of which this writer was fully aware. He further points out that Matson did not vote against Dale on any of the other appointments in question, also a fact well known to this writer.

Langley winds up by saying, "If the Governor and Councilor Matson disagree when the matter of appointment of a Superintendent of the State Police is finally settled, it will be the only instance of the five cited in which the two have been at odds."

To have been perfectly correct in the paragraph cited, the State House Journal should have read "something like this: 'Matson has been bucking Dale's program of purging the state service of veteran and efficient public servants. The Governor's program in recent years consists of ousting men like—' Thus it would not have appeared that Matson was a party to every one of the cases in question.

Now to the facts—Governor Dale has adopted a policy of making informal nominations for consideration by the members of his Council in his private office, where the press is not admitted. Some time later—often weeks later—the Governor submits the name of his original "unofficial" nominee, or an alternative candidate to the Council at its public session, with the press present.

All differences having been resolved in private, the nomination is confirmed without comment. This has the effect of making the record show that the Council's confirmation of Dale's appointments are unanimous. The notable exception was when Councilor Paul W. Hobbs of North Hampton dissented to the appointment of Harold L. Barnard of Concord to the Public Service commission in place of Commissioner Swain.

Also worth noting is the fact that Dale has been trying without success for nearly four months to get the Council to agree on a nominee to replace Col. Caswell in the State Police. Matson, Hobbs, and Franklin Flanders of Weare have blocked this, but very little of the dispute has been missed by reporters prying into the recurrent star chamber proceedings in Dale's private office at the State House.

Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan of Manchester is being mentioned as a potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of New Hampshire. Still other circles report he may run for U. S. Senator.

Either eventually would mean the Democrats plan a spirited fight for the Granite State's four electoral votes in the 1948 Presidential election. With his prestige as wartime assistant Secretary of Navy for air, and his present status as James Forrestal's successor at the head of the Navy Department, Sullivan could do the Democratic cause a lot of good.

Sullivan's re-entry into the state political picture, so close on the heels of Francis P. Murphy's resignation as Democratic national committeeman, also would mean the party's regulars again were back in the saddle. Ever since Murphy walked out of the Republican party in 1940 and took over the opposition party, most of the Old Guard in the Democratic ranks has been relegated to the background.

The Manchester man has long held positions of trust under the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, and his position in the party in recent years has been more important on the national level than on the state level. But Sullivan has had plenty of experience with the New Hampshire political game. His first attempts at major state office was in 1934 when he ran against Styles Bridges for Governor. Even admitting that Bridges was just beginning to build his political fortunes and was not yet a well-known personality to the rank and file of the people, Sullivan showed great strength and came within 2,500 votes of winning the governorship.

Again in 1938, when Francis Murphy was at the peak of his popularity and was running for his disastrous second term, Sullivan ran for Governor. With the finest organization in recent years, Murphy piled up 107,841 votes to Sully's 80,847.

So observers consider that Sullivan's appearance as a candidate on the Democratic side of the 1948 election ballot would be a substantial factor in the party's ef-

THE DEERING FIRE

Confusion in causing the alarm to be rung for the Arthur McNally fire has caused a story to be circulated about town implying incompetence on the part of Chief of Police Arthur Jackson and town officials, who were present during the incident.

Examination of the facts by this newspaper and disinterested persons reveal that said charges are unfounded and harmful to the Chief who enjoys a reputation as a capable man.

The story circulated alleges that the Chief ignored a report of the McNally fire when it was brought to his attention.

The facts of the case are that Chief Jackson, Judge Marshall Derby, and several citizens were at the Police Station where bail for a prisoner was being arranged. They were interrupted by a report from two boys who rushed in asking whether any brush fire had been reported in Deering, to which the Chief said that he would take care of it.

Momentarily, after the first indefinite report, Miss McNally arrived at the station stating that her home in Deering was on fire, whereupon the Chief phoned the telephone operator who in turn notified Raymond Davis who in turn caused the alarm to be rung.

The fire bell failed to ring when first set off but the whistle alarm at the mill responded with only a few minutes having elapsed. The fire in Deering unfortunately had progressed too far before anything could be done.

If there is any lesson that can be learned from this incident it is that the other fellow should be given the benefit of the doubt, that circulating an untrue rumor or half-truth may undermine the career of a capable official.

HOLLYWOOD REDS

The investigation by the Congressional un-American Committee of the Communists in Hollywood is causing more harm than good.

It is hurting the prestige of Congress and of democratic processes. By making a mountain of a molehill problem (since the Communist party is a very minute, unimportant political group in the U. S.), the committee affords the communists the limelight on the national stage. They undoubtedly are enjoying the confusion.

It's no secret that there are a few communists in Hollywood and that they work in the cultural, youth, and Union organization to recruit members and dictate policy. Needless to say that policy is always Stalin's whether it be a partnership with Hitler, war with Hitler, opposition to the U. S., or what have you.

Congress would do better to represent the people of this country in constructive acts for the betterment of our present living conditions and that of Europe than to carry on foolish investigations.

fort to win the New Hampshire electoral vote for the fourth straight time. It wouldn't matter whether Truman or some other candidate was the national standard-bearer—state interest would focus on Sullivan if he should run either for governor or senator.

UPTON IS SUGGESTED

Sherman Adams of Lincoln, the ex-congressman and candidate for the 1944 GOP nomination for governor, has occupied the limelight for more than a year as the only likely candidate for the party's gubernatorial nomination in 1948. Now, it is reported in State House circles, he may have to move over and make room for Atty. Robert W. Upton of Concord.

Upton never has run for public office, but he has enjoyed a long and interesting career in politics. He was chairman of the Republican State committee ten years ago, and has been vice-chairman of the party's executive committee for many years. He has master-minded campaigns in New Hampshire on many occasions, and his active entry into politics as a candidate would be no surprise.

Professionally, Bob Upton is ranked among the best lawyers in New England. Politically, he holds the respect of all factors in the Republican party, and most of the men who now hold high offices are in his debt. Probably the state has no more astute political observer or analyst of trends. His appearance in the lists in 1948 would unquestionably shake the hold Adams now has on town and city GOP committees throughout the Granite State.

To lift the ban will require a good soaking rain. Never have we seen the ponds and rivers so low. In fact some of the brooks we planted trout in for years are stone dry. I have a list of ponds and lakes where you can fish. Better ask me about that pond of yours. Zephyr lake in Greenfield is closed, while Otter lake and Sunset lake are open to fishing. Only safe way to get into that town this summer was by way of Greenfield, New Ipswich and Sharon. Yes, I did pick up a few men in woodlands during fire ban. One man right in the town of Peterboro. Had a lighted cigarette and a can of beer. Chief Picard gave him the hot ear. He knows better now. Two men from Rhode Island had not heard of the ban. Read the laws very carefully. There is plenty of law during a fire ban. Don't throw a lighted cigarette from a car. Nice big fine for that! Last week was Angora kitten week: They went like hot cakes on a frosty morning. Only trouble was that I didn't have enough to go around. More later, perhaps. The New Ipswich club wants to buy a small bear and a deer for their big game supper in December. Have you one to sell them? I have a few copies of the Federal laws if you are interested, pertaining to the Waterfowl and woodcock law. No, you don't have to have a duck stamp to hunt woodcock. They are not web footed. Do you want a large dog for a watch dog? Too large for a small tenement. No strings. Are you interested in a real rabbit dog? Here is a man that wants to sell three. Well trained. Come and try 'em out. Phone Greenville 74-4. The other day a man told me that a friend of his was hunting birds over in the Purgatory District Mont Vernon, and they ran across two cub bear. I asked them if it was not big quillpigs and he said he knew his bear. They were afraid to shoot as they thought the bear were protected. Bear now have a bounty of their head, $5 in this part of the state and $20 in the northern counties. Believe it or not but there is a town where the Selectmen are still paying bounty on quillpig noses. Where have they been all these years? The laws have always read heads. The other day a man brought in the whole quillpig to a selectman. It was a big one, over 25 lbs.	MOVER TONY LAMY LOCAL AND INTERSTATE MOVER We Move Safes, Office Equipment and Household Goods — Goods Insured in Transit — 16 Badger St., Concord Tel. 2174	Overcoats are in Stock! GRAMMAR SCHOOL

GRADE TWO

In our art classes on Fridays we have been doing Halloween drawings.

Richard Baldwin had a birthday this week. We sang "Happy Birthday" to him.

We are working in our Safety Sam books. We are spending a lot of time on fire prevention. Now we know the meaning of the work "Exit" and we have marked our doors with that word. When we go to the movies or any public place we are going to be sure and know where the exits are.

Our class is joining the "Audubon Junior Bird Club." We have sent for our pins, pictures and materials for starting the club.

Seven of us haven't been absent or tardy, Catherine Teixeira, Kathleen Blanchette, Darlene Powell, June Beaupre, Philip McClintock, John Evans and Eugene Broadley.

GRADE THREE

We learned to carry in addition. George and David Sterling went to Concord to see the Freedom Train.

Patricia Jones brought the book, Martin and Abraham Lincoln by Catherine Coblentz. This story is about Patricia's great grandfather Martin when he was a boy.

Our spelling lesson included the names of the days of the week.

The following people had one hundred, Beverly, Leo, Joan, David Sterling, David Lozey, Theresa Duggan, Roger, Patricia Yeaton, Patricia Jones, Richard, Norma, George, Thomas and Ronald.

Richard and Leo made the ladders for our pueblo.

Lloyd has been absent this week. He had a bicycle accident and had to have four stitches taken.

GRADE FOUR

Constance Flanders has drawn a Halloween board border.

Faith Owen brought a book to school, the title of which is "Martin and Abraham Lincoln." It is a story of the Civil War. Martin, whose full name was Martin Emery, was Faith's great, great grandfather.

We began to write with ink this week.

GRADE FIVE

William Baker, James Perham, Walter Sterling, Ann Sands and

Jane Seymour were in Concord on Friday, Oct. 17, to see the Freedom Train.

Our class in history are making booklets for their stories of the thirteen colonies.

We are enjoying the story of "Treasure Island." Mrs. Gile is reading to us. We have finished "Sleepy Hollow."

GRADE SIX

As a review of the study of Transportation we are all writing stories of some means of travel and learning songs and poems about it. We plan to put it together and hope that our parents and friends come to hear it Education Week.

Edwin Dutton, Mary Greene, Shirley Grimes, Roger Phelps, Virginia Johnson, Barbara Fowle, Gayle Bennett and Robert Thomas went to Concord to see the Freedom Train.

The children from all grades are putting the peas and beans that they would ordinarily waste in Halloween pea shooters in a large carton and it will be sent to Europe's hungry children.

The Moose Club is planning a Halloween party for all the children with the teachers in charge.

UPPER VILLAGE SCHOOL

Clarence Sweeney has become sixteen years old and has left school.

We are rehearsing for the annual Seventh Grade Prize Speaking that will be held at Lower Village Chapel on the 7th of November.

Dr. Harvey Grimes did the dental work in our room last week.

Everyone did well on the health questions for last week. This week for special work we have, fifty place geography questions.

John French is back in school after being out with tonsillitis.

We sang "Happy Birthday" on Monday for Barbara and Edward Hoganson who were thirteen. They are twins.

In the first grade word test Monday, Margy Baptist and Brenda Camera got 100%.

CENTER SCHOOL

Dr. Grimes, the dentist, came to our school last Friday and began working on the pupils' teeth. Twelve pupils had their teeth cared for this time. No more toothaches!

An interesting health poster was made by Ned Baldwin and Orville Edwards, showing the various kinds of food that we should include in our diet every day.

The fifth and sixth grades studied the origins of weaving recently. To make it more vivid, Gunnar Baldwin, Orville Edwards and Wayne Edwards made small wooden looms. Almost everyone has had a turn weaving a small piece of woolen cloth on them.

form a new club to be called the One Cat for a Family. They want me to start a club in every town in my district. What a club! That is a good club and I am 100% in favor of such a club. This party said he took a ride late one night last week and he was surprised and disgusted at the number of cats that are roaming the roads late at night. He said that in his neighborhood alone were over 200 cats, some families have as many as 20. These cats are feeding on our song and game birds at a high rate. Cats kill more game than all the hunters. They work 365 days of the year while the hunter is restricted to certain open seasons. If we want to have more song and game birds and small wild animals we must have less cats. Will you join the club, or will I get a club from the cat lovers? This is a conservation measure and will have to be enforced in some way in the future or we lose our song birds.

No, I am not in favor of a license law for cats. To bell or collar a cat would be cruel. It's hard enough to license dogs. We know of a town that's trying to collect the dog tax for 1948.

Another semi-wild mallard duck was killed on Intervale road in the home town by a hit and run driver. Some day we will connect with some driver and then who will pay and pay and pay some more. We admit these ducks do cross the road in a very slow manner but that's no reason for them being ran down and killed. Many drivers stop and get a kick out of being held up.

In our midnight rides about the county we have seen many a quill-pig, some big, some small. They seem to be traveling the roads more than usual.

In the past week I have seen more city families who have moved to the country for a permanent home. Many an old house has been remodeled and many a new house is being built in many of my towns.

Lamps in their day marked progress over candles . . . Modern electric lighting shows great strides over earlier types of electric illumination . . . it is so much more efficient, economical, scientific! The correct type of lighting . . . the right amount for the job of illumination . . . will safeguard eyesight, not only while reading or studying, but also while you work . . . because today's lighting is better!

ON THE FARM —

Modern floodlight systems turn farm-yard nights into added daylight productive hours. Barns, poultry sheds and work shops adequately illuminated are reducing that dawn-to-dusk pressure from farm work for many a New Hampshire farmer.

Look for the new Certified lamps — they give more light — and they're available in dozens of sizes and styles at your Public Service office.

Some words fool you:

STEER means

STEER means

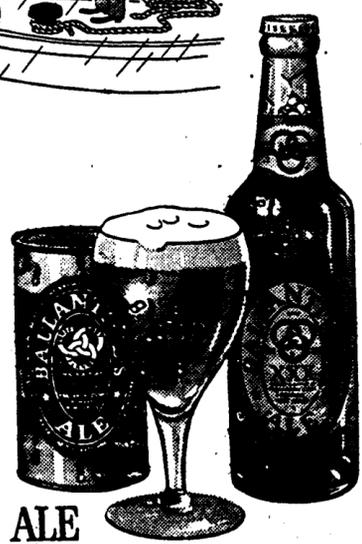

... but BALLANTINE

always means: PURITY

You drive a steer with a whip . . . you steer to "drive" a ship. It's plain to see, steer is one of those confusing words with more than one meaning. It can fool you.

But not Ballantine! Ballantine always means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR . . . the qualities symbolized by Peter Ballantine's famous 3-ring trade mark. Look for the 3 rings; call for Ballantine.

News Items From Bennington

Mrs. Maurice C. Newton Correspondent

The school, from the fourth grade up, visited the Freedom Train in Manchester on Monday.

Miss Anna Yakovakis of this town was chosen as one of the contestants on the Nashua radio station on Saturday morning to speak on "I Speak for Democracy." She was speaking for her high school in Peterboro and in her speech compared conditions in Greece with conditions here. She could present a true picture of Greece as her parents came from that country and have relatives still there that they hear from. We are very proud that one of our girls was chosen for this honor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Yakovakis. This is her last year in high school. Miss Yakovakis is a member of the girls choir in the Congregational Church and teaches in the Sunday School. All the town hopes that she will win the contest in which three others competed. There is a radio for a prize.

Miss Frieda Edwards and her father, Mr. George Edwards, visited Mr. Edward's youngest daughter, Mrs. E. Murphy, in Berlin recently.

An item last week in these columns stated that Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer visited their brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lena Taylor. It should have read—they visited their brother, Arthur Sawyer, and sister, Mrs. Lena Taylor. Rev. and Mrs. Charles Turner of Antrim and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Miss Grace Taylor and Mrs. Maurice Newton represented the Bennington Congregational Church at the Congregational Conference meeting in Francesotwn on Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. Turner in the afternoon and the rest in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman are the proud parents of a son, Norman Edmunds Hoffman. Both mother and baby are doing well in the Monadnock Hospital.

Bennington is losing its very able young Doctor, William Collins. He is moving to Wilton, a larger town. It has been wonderful to have this capable Doctor in our midst and he will be sadly missed by many folks.

There are quite a number of our folks with their arms in a sling. Inez Dodge has a dislocated shoulder. Mrs. Herbert Fenerty has bursitis. Mrs. Herbert Flanders has an injured arm.

Mrs. Fredericks entertained her niece and children from Vermont last week.

It is reported that Henry W. Wilson is somewhat improved in health.

On Thursday evening the Bennington Grange worked the first and second degrees on a candidate and the Worthy Deputy, McLavey, of Hudson conducted fall inspection. The Worthy Lecturer of the Hillsboro County Pomona Grange was present and spoke briefly. On the first Friday in November the Juvenile Deputy will be present at the Juvenile Grange for fall inspection. A lunch of sandwiches, doughnuts and cider was enjoyed by all present. On Nov. 8th, the Pomona Grange will meet in the Bennington Grange Hall.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends and the members of the Fire Department, the Sportsmen's Club and the Monadnock Paper Mill and others for the flowers and use of their cars for the funeral of Arnold Cossette.

With cold weather just around the corner much interest is now shown in the revival of the bowling league and especially among teams from the woolen mill. Competition is keen and matches are held regularly two nights each week at present.

Because of the fire emergency in the state in which many citizens have been actively fighting, Frederick N. Clarke, Commissioner of the Motor Vehicle Department, has extended the official inspection period, during which all motor vehicles must be inspected, to November 1st.

Mrs. Charles Gee, of Park st., is employed at the Woolen Mill in Troy.

Norman Cote had an unfortunate accident Friday night, when he lost control of his car at the bottom of Mill street hill at the railroad tracks. The car hit the Bridge railing and almost went over. Halford Bent parked his auto on Depot street near Marchand's Plumbing Shop, and found out soon after that the car had coasted downhill, coming to a stop at the water hydrant, damaging the hydrant.
