COMING EVENTS

This Saturday, August 28, brings the School Reunion and Old Home Day to Hillsboro Centre. There will be nothing spectacular, just a get-together for 80 year olds and all down the line to prospective primary pupils. A business meeting follows basket lunch about 1:30 and the program by the children and grown-ups at 2 o'clock. Games and contests afterward for children, in charge of Mrs. Weiss and Tom Devoy.

The Caroline A. Fox Bird and Garden Club will meet with Mrs. Shem Barnes on Bible Hill on Thursday, Sept. 2. Each member is asked to bring a bird's nest, known or unknown.

The Women's Republican Club of Henniker has invited Hillsboro people to join them in a big Republican Rally on the evening of August 31, at 8 o'clock at Henniker Auditorium. All candidates from the Governor down are expected to be present. Stewartson's orchestra of Concord will furnish the music. Buses will leave the Square at 7:45 and will take passengers down and back for 20 cents.

KITCHEN SHOWER

Miss Arlene Pierce and twenty-five of her co-workers and friends were entertained by Mrs. Kerwin Ellsworth at her home on Woodlawn Avenue. A kitchen shower was given Miss Pierce as her marriage to John Sterling has been set for September 12.

The couple went to take a book to Mrs. Ellsworth. The kitchen only was brightly lit so they went that way. After a while they followed their hostess into the living room and as she turned on the lights the room was filled with pairs of eyes and shouts of "surprise! surprise!" everybody talked at once. Miss Pierce received many useful kitchen utensils from one of the new metal ironing tables to a mixing spoon with all sorts and sizes of gadgets.

The girls spent a merry evening talking and examining the gifts and eating the delicious sandwiches, cake and coffee served by the hostess.

Miss Pierce is one of the newer popular operators in the local telephone office. John is the youngest of the Sterling boys. Everybody knows John.

Bruce Bonnette and Bobbie Thomas have been the guests, for a week, of Hank Woods at the Woods' camp at Swanzy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Collie are in Appleton, Ontario, this week, to attend the wedding of their youngest son on Wednesday.

Miss Mary Towle has returned to New York City after a stay at Valley Hotel while visiting her cousin, Mrs. George Haslet.

Miss Ardell Call, R. N., is caring for Mrs. Frank Meade at Gould Pond. Miss Call and her mother, Mrs. Esther Call, spent the last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stock in Meredith.

Miss Rosemary Bridgen spent a long week-end with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Marcy. Miss Bridgen spent her vacation from Long Lane School, Middletown, Conn., in England with relatives.

Miss Nora Ashford, who was injured by a fall not long ago, is feeling some better now.

Mrs. Shem Barnes of Bible Hill is happy because her brother, Walter H. Taft of Belmont, Mass., has purchased the Bennett land extending from top of the hill to Beard Brook and sometime will build a house. Mrs. Barnes' niece, Miss Ruth Frazee, of Groton, Mass., has been her guest.

George Bailey left town at 4 o'clock A. M. last Wednesday to motor home to Greenville, N. C. He spent a very happy vacation at the Bailey camp in Washington, visiting his grandmother, Mrs. George Bailey, R. N., and his Whitcomb cousins, and his small car with the capacity of a bus.

Dr. Z. Bercovitz Gives Report Of Far East Experiences

DEERING, Aug. 26—Mrs. Milton Parmenter entertained the Deering Women's Guild in her delightful new paneled playroom, and for the bountiful delicious refreshments, they gathered out under the trees.

The meeting was opened with a helpful reading by the vice-president, Mrs. Gordon Rich. Owing to the pressure of duties, the president, Mrs. Pierce sent in her resignation. A touching letter was read from a family in Germany to whom a parcel had been sent. That the Guild might hear Mrs. Alfred Heinger, a missionary from China, who is at the Deering Community Center, this month, the September meeting of the Guild was advanced to the twenty-fifth of August.

The program began with devotions led by Mrs. Carlton Sherwood, consisting of the impressive reading of "shining" selections from the Psalms. Then Mrs. Reidt introduced Dr. Z. Bercovitz, who gave a most interesting and discerning report of his observations in India, Burma, and the Far East, where he has spent many years as a specialist on tropical diseases. One assignment in Japan extended over ten years. His picture of conditions in India, at the time he left in '48 was disheartening, but he ended on a more hopeful note, telling of the work the missionaries are doing. Especially it was good to hear of plans that are being worked out, to fly supplies to missionaries cut off from the world in the jungles. Young aviators who saw service in the jungle started this good work.

HILLSBORO VACATIONISTS SAVE HAY 125 YEARS OLD

HILLSBORO, Aug. 24—Mrs. Elmar Evans for some years past has given visitors who were interested a little hay tied with a ribbon which has historical value at least.

Back about 125 years ago her grandfather kept the first load of hay cut in his meadows separated from the rest for sentimental reasons. In recent years a wisp or two of hay over a century old has been something of a souvenir, especially for vacationists who enjoy the unusual and like to take back a bit of New Hampshire to the city.

The John Shedd home is one of the big houses built in colonial days and is occupied today by two daughters, Miss Estella Shedd and Mrs. Evans. A modern heating plant and electricity have been added in recent years but there still are fireplaces in the 12-room house.

HILLSBORO PLAYS LAST SCHEDULED GAME SUNDAY

HILLSBORO, August 26—This Sunday, August 29, the Hillsboro Town Team closes its regular season, against New Boston. Although having lost more games than usual this year, the team is closing out in fine form, having won its last two games, decisively from Sutton and Weare.

The team has been dogged by hard luck all year, losing at least seven of their games by one run. Mgr. Bosse has done a fine job with the limited amount of players which turned out for the team, and it is of the opinion that if next year a few more would give their time and co-operation Hillsboro would once more be in the winning way. So with this we are asking you for your support at the final scheduled game.

Hillsboro will also play a game at Hopkinton Fair with the date being announced later.

ANTRIM WOMEN'S CLUB MUSICALE SEPTEMBER 3rd

ANTRIM, August 26—The Antrim Woman's Club will present a musical program in charge of Richard Winslow, Friday, Sept. 3, in the Town Hall at eight o'clock. Local talent will present the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, H. M. S. Pinafore.

Fudge will be on sale during intermission. From 6 to 8 P. M. there will be a food sale. Food may be left at the Hall after 5:30 P. M. The Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Arthur English, Miss Faye Benedict, and Mrs. Ernest Ashford are in charge.

A letter is being sent by the Committee to each club member urging her support for this affair, proceeds of which will be used for the projects outlined in the club's budget.

UNH President Speaks at Deering Home Day

DEERING, Aug. 23—Pres. Arthur S. Adams of the University of New Hampshire was the main speaker at the Deering Old Home Day held Saturday. Dr. Adams took as his subject "The American Way of Life." He was introduced by Carlton M. Sherwood, chairman of the Deering Old Home Day committee, who presided over the speaking session and gave the address of welcome.

Typically good weather was enjoyed for the annual feature which opened Saturday morning with the usual baseball game followed by a dinner served by the Women's Guild on the church grounds.

Following a concert from 1 to 3 o'clock by the Weare band, the speaking program, held in the Town Hall, was opened with the invocation given by Rev. Charles E.

FRUIT, VEGETABLE 'SHOWER' FOR HORNE AT HILLSBORO

HILLSBORO, Aug. 22 — The ghost of New York's Columbus Circle and Union Square hovered over the town square Thursday night when youths pelted a Progressive party candidate with tomatoes and peaches during a campaign speech before several hundred persons.

Harold Horne, World War II veteran of Berlin, who is a candidate for Congress from the 2nd District, was the object of the shower of fruits and vegetables.

He succeeded in dodging the barrage but several persons around him were splattered with the watery produce.

Following his address, he declared that the incident was the work of a group of young hoodlums and not the exhibition of the sentiments of the adults whom he was addressing.

He interrupted his talk only briefly during the barrage, to retort to the youngsters: "Particularly in these days of high prices, people should find a better use for food produce than throwing it at us."

Dr. John Rideout, chairman of the Progressive party, when informed of the local incident, said: "The fact that even a few mature people obviously condoned the policy of meeting a calm presentation of political ideals with hoodlumism is important. It is in direct conflict with American ideals. Incidents like this seem all too reminiscent of the early stages of Nazi Germany."

Farm real estate taxes per acre in the U. S. averaged about 15 per cent higher in 1947 than in 1946.

The State House Journal

by Harold Horne

The Progressive party objects strenuously to a recent comment in this column that their primary objective in New Hampshire this year is to win the 7,500-odd votes that will assure them of the privilege of holding a primary along with the Republicans and Democrats in 1950. Miss Muriel Gravelle of Concord, active Wallace supporter writes:

"In reading the Milford Cabinet this morning, I find your State House Journal. It's incorrect in one aspect. We in the Progressive party haven't set our sights on a 7,500 vote mark this year' and we won't be 'satisfied not to elect anyone. We have a candidate, Harold Horne, who's running for Congress in the Second District, who has a chance of winning. And we're making an all-out effort (to coin a much-needed cliché) to elect him. Six of us on the road now in a stumping tour."

So, perhaps his friends should tell Congressman Norris Cotton he'll have a dangerous opponent in November. And this remark probably will draw a starchy protest from Miss Rita Collyer of Lisbon or Atty. Joseph Moore of Canaan, who may not like to have a newspaper columnist conceding their defeat in the GOP primary on Sept. 14. So it goes—the political reporters in Concord are so accustomed to getting complaints about their stories they long ago adopted the attitude: "You can't please everybody, so why try to please anyone?"

The Horne Toots

Harold Horne, the Progressive candidate for Congress, is a colorful young man. He's only 25 years of age, the minimum age for a congressman under the U. S. Constitution. An army veteran, Horne won the Silver Star medal in the Normandy invasion. He's now a senior at the University of New Hampshire, and admits his "flying squadron" consists of amateur politicians.

The squadron has made a swing through the second (Western) Congressional district, and has met with a variety of reactions from spectators who have heard its stump speeches. Horne himself was a target for peaches and tomatoes during a street meeting at Hillsboro. He dug up the fact that the people of Concord tossed ripe eggs at John Greenleaf Whittier when the poet spoke there 100 years ago "in behalf of a new political ideal." The Republicans will be happy at this reference to their principles as "ideals" (Whittier was a pioneer Republican). Coming from a Wallace follower, that comment was high praise, indeed.

Horne is stumping the state in a battered 1947 Ford convertible packed to the eaves with campaign equipment. The jalopy contains a public address system, a supply of phonograph records, a mimeograph machine to turn out campaign leaflets end, somewhere in the pile, the candidate himself.

Republicans Are Confident

The Sept. 14 primary, as far as the GOP is concerned, "is just a formality to get the ball rolling for what Republicans consider will be a clean sweep at the polls Nov. 2. The top of the primary ballot is so devoid of important battles the party won't be forced to lick its wound after the primary and go through the painful process of mending a lot of hurt feelings of defeated candidates. There are no contests for U. S. senator or for congressman in the First (East) district. As to the governorship and the congress seat in the Second district, the contests there are only tokens.

But let the Republican candidates be warned: the cost of living, the draft and the telephone company's demands for higher rates in this state are providing their November opponents with plenty of good campaign issues. They better prepare for rebuttals early, often and loud. Harry Carlson of Meriden, now campaigning for the Democratic nomination for Governor, has used the telephone rate case as a sounding board to embarrass the GOP and his own fellow Democrats. He recently slapped his own party leaders and "that Republican clique at Concord" for failing to oppose rising utility rates in N. H.

state Taxpayers Association, this week praised the State Police for its "fine record of traffic safety on our highways, and the resulting reduction in highway deaths since 1947." The magazine indignantly criticized the Governor for failing to reappoint Col. Ralph W. Caswell, who has headed the department for 14 months since his last term in office expired.

"Caswell is still a holdover, not knowing from one Council meeting to the next if he still be the department head," the Taxpayer complains. As to accidents, the magazine continues, the state has had 32.5 per cent fewer deaths on the highway this year than in the same period in 1947. The national average for highway deaths is down only four per cent, it points out. In the five years before Col. Caswell was appointed, the average number of traffic accidents in New Hampshire was 2,223 a year. Since the war, the yearly average has dropped to 1,774 accidents.

In this connection, visitors to Concord should not miss a graphic display now in the lobby of the state Motor Vehicle department. It probably is the bluntest plea for careful driving ever made in the state. On four huge bulletin boards, with no printed explanation (none is needed), are nearly 100 photographs of actual auto accidents. Some of the pictures show the bodies of victims as they appeared in grotesque death postures. All show terribly smashed automobiles and trucks. Each photo is its own silent lecture on safe driving.

About New Hampshire

The Manchester Union has editorialized in its news columns against the Telephone company's maneuvers to get higher rates and bigger profits in this state. James M. Langley, editor of the Concord Monitor, takes the opposite view, believes the utility should be allowed a "fair return" on its investment—but his editorials are kept on Page 4 under his signature. In one year, rate increases have given the telephone company $2,307,630 in additional income in this state. On a plant investment of just under $14,000,000, the company will make about $681,360 a year in net profit under the new rates approved Aug. 1. That sugars off at about five per cent on its investment. Few utilities make more than that in New Hampshire, and the Public Service commission's long-standing policy sets a limit of six per cent on the net profit of utilities.

Best widecrack of the week comes from D. Frank O'Neil, Manchester Union political writer: "The telephone company's motion for a rehearing on its rate case is just a formality. What is really wants is a chance to get the Supreme Court to hold another stockholders' meeting on the question."

Newcomer to the weekly publishing field is Vincent R. Dahlfred of Durham, Dartmouth college graduate of a decade ago. With Ann and Theodore Coolidge, who publish Newmarket's "Great Bay Pilot," Dahlfred has bought the moribund Somersworth "Free Press." He will serve as editor, with Mr. Coolidge as business manager. The purchase gives the new owners plenty of room to make improvements.

Six official regions, three unofficial regional associations and 16 resort towns are issuing publicity folders to attract summer visitors. It all fits into the state's bid for vacation business, which is expected to be more than existing facilities can handle this year. Regions that are publishing booklets about their scenic advantages are Lakes, Dartmouth-Lake Sunapee, Merrimack Valley, White Mountain, Monadnock and Seacoast. Privately operated regional associations in the Chocorus, Eastern Slopes and Newfound Lake areas also are advertising.

Towns now publishing publicity folders are Bartlett, Alton, Conway, Center Harbor, Bethlehem, Franklin, Hillsboro, Jackson, Keene, Lancaster, Littleton, Pittsfield, Wolfeboro, Randolph, Sutton and Whitefield.

Already 25,000 persons an average of 9000 persons a day have seen the famous collection of paintings, from Berlin that are on exhibition at the Boston Art Museum until Aug. 31st. Correggio's large painting of "Leda and the Swan", makes an impressive centre for this Boston Display—hanging in the Stone Room where it forms the end of a vista seen thru the rotunda and Tapestry Gallery. It is an outstanding example of the 15th century Italian artist's work. Especially famous are his exquisite "Mystic Marriage of St. Catherine" in the Louvre at Paris and the Nativity called "Night". Near the "Leda" hangs Titian's portrait of his daughter Lavinia—Tintoretto (familiarily known as the little dyer) is represented by portraits only.

According to F. Mason in the Boston Post's Magazine many of the artists who descend upon New England in the summer are far from professionals. They are school teachers, secretaries, salesmen and saleswomen, engineers, lawyers, doctors, musicians. To them painting is a hobby—a form of relaxation. Give them canvas board, paints and brushes and their cares and worries are forgotten for a couple of weeks out of the year. "YOU" living in Hillsboro have the same opportunity the year 'round that these vacationists have only two weeks to enjoy. Come down and use the Cellar Studio anytime—and bring your work in Wednesday evenings for some of Stuart Bruce's constructive criticism. Last week we were a ship without a rudder due to his illness but he will be back with us this coming Wednesday. Little Ann Broadley with a wreath of flowers on her blond hair must have been an inspiration, for the pictures done last Wednesday evening were splendid.

Remember—the Time—Wed. Eve. 8 to 10 P. M. The Place—Cellar Studio in the Valley Hotel. Remember you are welcome either as a worker or a visitor, and that Stuart Bruce is our instructor.

Reidt, pastor of the Community church. Mr. Sherwood gave the address of welcome and he read a paper written by Mrs. A. A. Holden, entitled "Main Points in Deering History." Community singing was under the direction of Henry Rust.

Musical numbers included vocal solos by Mrs. Nancy Whitehill of Hillsborough, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Porter, and piano solos by Miss Marie Carew of Deering Center. The program ended with an exhibition of magic and tricks by Francis Rigney of the Eagle's Nest. There were also selections by the Wear Band and the singing of the national anthem.

A program of outdoor sports, arranged by William Dumais, took place outside the hall from 4 to 5:30. Included were a penny hunt for the younger children and a horseshoe throwing contest for the men. There was old time dancing in the Town Hall after the program and the usual Old Home Day dance in the evening. Arthur McNally was the manager at the evening dance.

Orphan 'Annies'

It's too much to hope that little orphan Annie's script writer will read the Federal Reserve Bulletin. But if he did—and Col. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune didn't catch on—he'd change Annie's views about the widows and orphans who are supposed to own U. S. industry and to depend on industry's profits for a livelihood. The federal reserve board last week published the results of a 1948 survey showing that only about 5,500,000 people—representing only 4,500,000 families—own corporate stocks. This is just about 3 per cent of the people of the country.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor of Hillsboro Messenger:

Why was Hillsboro such an outstanding example of un-Americanism? Such as the disgraceful acts of some young boys, and a few others much older at the Progressive rally last Thursday evening.

Many of us do not agree with all new ideas, but neither are our old customs and systems entirely right at all times.

We should certainly be willing to listen to new ideas. Let us remember that this Nation is the result of new ideas in the minds of people who believed in them, and were ready to die if need be to preserve those ideals as a part of our life.

Charles I. Nelson

mittee comprised Carlton M. Sherwood, chairman; Miss Marjorie A. Holden, secretary; Arthur O. Ellsworth, treasurer; Halford Bent William Dumais, Chester Durrell, Mrs. Marguerite Dutton, Miss Charlotte Holmes, Robert Johnson, Arthur McNally, Mrs. Janice Pierce, Dr. Daniel A. Poling, Rev. Charles E. Reidt, Mrs. Clara Rich, Howard Whitney and Dr. W. S. K. Yeaple.

Next year will see the 175th anniversary of the incorporation of the town, and a special celebration is already being planned. The committee as announced for next year is Arthur O. Ellsworth, chairman, Miss Marjorie A. Holden, secretary, Carlton M. Sherwood, William Dumais, Chester Durrell, Mrs. Marguerite Dutton, Arthur McNally, Mrs. Clara Rich and Howard Whitney.

SHOULDN'T BE DONE

What turned out to be a rather cool reception to a political candidate took place in Hillsboro Square last Thursday, when several young lads threw a few peaches and several tomatoes at the Progressive Party speaker. Attracted to the Square, a crowd of probably 150 at the most heard Candidate Horne. Possibly a dozen were sympathetic to his views.

It is unfortunate that some of the youngsters in the best movie tradition acted as they did. Had there been no incident, the meeting would have been a decided flop. As a result, the Progressive Party is attempting to make political hay out of the incident to prove how undemocratic and lawless is our town.

Nobody in Hillsboro was fooled by the false front of this "new" party which has so arrogantly stolen the respected name of the former LaFollette Progressive Party. Horne's statement that the Progressive Party welcomes the support of all who agree with its program (including the Communists), proved beyond a doubt that this was not an American political party, but a front organization of the Communists.

We believe that it is all right to want to throw tomatoes but that it shouldn't be done.

LABOR DAY DRIVING

What are you going to do Labor Day week-end? Are you and your family going to hit the highway for some fun and relaxation? And what are you going to do the day after LABOR DAY? Are you and your family going to settle down into the regular routine with soundness of body and peace of mind? Or are you going to be one of those who sadly says, "It wouldn't have happened if—?" The Motor Vehicle Department hopes you are including safe driving and living practices in your plans. If you are going to drive keep your holiday spirit and your car under control—And keep your eyes open for drivers and pedestrians who may not be as sensible as you. Decide NOW that you will have a PLEASANT, not PAINFUL holiday.

Did you ever hear of eating peas with the jackets on? Well, it's so, and they are swell. Try it. Just snip off the vine end and cook. Edward Conrad of the home town on Route 31 who has a swell garden, sent me down three quarts to try. They were just as he said, "Swell". Ed has pea vines seven feet tall and still growing. He got the seed in Nova Scotia. Never again will we shell the peas and feed the pods to the pigs. Nope, we eat 'em jackets and all.

Last week it was bats in the garage, swallows in a house and skunks in the cellars.

SOARING

TO A NEW HIGH IN POPULARITY

IT ALL STARTED HERE!

17 years ago, the Flying Red Horse stood for "SOCONY"—Standard Oil Company of New York—and New York and New England were known as "SOCONYLAND".

Then SOCONY merged with VACUUM and the Flying Red Horse grew to span the nation.

TODAY

The Flying Red Horse is Known to Millions of Motorists — AMERICA'S FAVORITE FROM COAST-TO-COAST!

Socony-Vacuum is an independent company not affiliated with any Standard Oil Company operating in the U. S. A., and is in direct and vigorous competition with them!

Seventeen years ago, we were the Standard Oil Company of New York (Socony) and the Vacuum Oil Company. The trade name "SOCONY" appeared on service stations, pumps, trucks, throughout New York and New England.

With the union in 1931 of SOCONY and VACUUM a far greater oil company emerged—united the famous products of both companies under the Flying Red Horse trade-mark—rapidly expanded from Coast-to-Coast.

Today, in order to eliminate any possible confusion in the public's mind with other users of the name "Standard", Socony-Vacuum has dropped the name from the few remaining products which have carried it.

The main point is this: Today the Flying Red Horse has outgrown its "Native Soconyland" and the name "Standard".

Today, our trade-mark stands for Socony-Vacuum—the Mobil line of Automotive Products, Mobilgas, Mobiloil, Mobilubes, Mobil Specialties, Mobil Tires, Mobil Batteries and Accessories—for Tavern Candles—for Mobilheat and Mobil-flame—for Process Products and the world-famous line of Gargoyle Industrial and Marine Lubricants!

The Flying Red Horse is your guarantee of a leading petroleum product from a leader in the progressive petroleum industry!

LOCAL SHOOTERS DO WELL AT NEW BEDFORD SHOOT

HILLSBORO, August 26—Nelson Maine and Ady Yeaton traveled to New Bedford last August 15 to participate in the Mid-Summer Small Bore Rifle Shoot. Leaving at 5 o'clock in the morning, the two Hillsboro marksmen saw some fine shooting and succeeded in placing in the matches.

In the 50 yard iron sight match, Ady Yeaton was second to Lester J. Pease of Somerset, Mass., who just missed going to the Olympic games this year. Pease shot 300 25x while Yeaton had 300 24x.

Both Maine and Yeaton received cash prizes for their efforts.

Next Saturday, August 28, is the day for the Annual School Reunion. However, we feel that it is more of an Old Home Day and hope everyone interested in meeting the old timers will come.

On August 16 William Worth Loomis was born to Helen and Robert F. Loomis of Milwaukee, Wis. Young William's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Loomis of West Newton, Mass., and owner of the former Flint farm, and Mr. and Mrs. Worth Hale of Antrim. We feel much interest in this young man as his parents were married in our chapel at North Branch and spent their first winter at the Branch. Congratulations!

Mrs. George Wilson is a patient at Peterboro Hospital where she will be operated on this week, while she is very ill. We trust for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Liming and two children of Long Island, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. Liming's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Rohr.

We are shocked to hear of the sudden death of our old friend and neighbor, John D. Clement of Los Angeles, Calif. We have not learned the particulars, but we understand that death was caused by an automobile accident. John always called on the old neighbors when visiting his sisters, Mrs. Mary Atwood and Mrs. Charlotte Harvey, to whom we all extend sympathy. We shall miss him.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clarke of Jamaica, Mass., were week-end guests of Dr. and Mrs. Rohr.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Knapp of Corinth, Vt., visited his aunt, Miss Lizzie Dowlin, also his uncle, E. M. Knapp, besides calling on old neighbors, last week.

John H. Cole Weds Miss Ruth M. Wilson

BENNINGTON—A very lovely wedding took place in the Congregational Church on Sunday at 4 o'clock when Ruth M. Wilson and John H. Cole were united in marriage by the Rev. Edward W. W. Lewis of New York and Henniker.

The church was decorated with beautiful flowers of various kinds now blooming in the gardens and there were lacy old fashioned bouquets on each pew. These were very lovely with tiny showers of white satin ribbon and small white flowers. The church "bloomed like a rose" and Mrs. John Bryer and Mrs. P. Jenness were in charge of decorations.

The bride looked lovely in white lace over white crepe. The top and peplum being of white lace falling in soft graceful folds over a long skirt of crepe without a train. The veil covered her face and fell to the fingertips and was held in place by a beaded orange blossom coronet. She wore white satin slippers and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. Marion Erskine of Manchester. She wore a rose pink gown also long and trimmed with the same shade in lace. The bride wore long lace mits and the attendant long white silk gloves. The matron of honor carried rose sweet peas and a wreath of the same flowers in her hair.

The bride's mother wore a black dress figured in orchid and wore a corsage of orchid sweet peas. Mrs. Champlain sister of the groom wore a blue dress and wore the same kind of corsage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mae Knowles Wilson and the late Walter Wilson, and has resided in this town all her life. She attended school here and in Peterboro and graduated from each in turn. For some years she was a member of the Girls' Choir in Bennington under the direction of Miss Edith L. Lawrence. Miss Lawrence played the wedding march and also accompanied Mrs. Carlton Pope, who sang "Because".

The groom was attired in a blue summer suit. His best man was Robert Wilson, brother of the bride.

Mr. Cole is a native of Frankestown and still resided there until the time of his marriage. He was a veteran of World War II and holds the purple heart. He was in the Pacific area for about four years. He is employed at the Verney Farms. As Mr. Cole's parents have both passed away, his sister, Mrs. Champlain of Frankestown assisted in the receiving line.

The reception took place in the home of the bride and there were on display many lovely gifts as well as the wedding cake and the refreshments. Pictures were taken by Silas Felker of Hillsboro.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Robert Knowles of Marlboro. Another uncle, Philip Knowles and Robert Hammond, who is employed at the Verney Farm, were the ushers.

Mrs. Nerine Adams of Hillsboro presided over the guest book and the servers were: Mrs. Paul Traxler, Miss Marjorie Traxler, Miss Velna Smith, and Mrs. John Lindsay.

Mrs. Florence Smith of North Weare, Mrs. E. A. Trotter of Springfield, Vt., Mrs. William Knowles and son of Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cahoon of Washington, N. H., Miss May Farrell of Cambridge, Mass., as well as guests from Frankestown, Deerling, Greenfield, Peterboro, Hillsboro and Bennington.

The young couple left on a honeymoon which is to be for a week. The bride wore a gray suit with wine accessories. When they return the young people will reside in an apartment on Bible Hill, owned by Mr. Fleming. It isn't quite finished being decorated yet.

Best of luck, Ruth and John Cole!

WBZ-WBZA Sportscaster and Former Major League Pitcher

THE CLEVELAND INDIANS may or may not win the American League pennant this fall, but if you ask the National League contenders—Boston Braves, Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals—what American League team they favor in the flag race, the chances are that 90 per cent of the players would answer "Cleveland".

Is it because the National Leaguers consider the Indians a push-over in the World Series? Not at all. It's because the Cleveland Municipal Stadium is the largest baseball plant in the United States. The Cleveland fans are among the most loyal in the United States.

If Cleveland gets into its first World Series in modern baseball history, there is an excellent chance that the three games in Municipal Stadium will draw a quarter of a million fans, the largest World Series three-game attendance in history.

Cleveland already has broken several major league attendance records this season, and it's more than likely that the Indians will wind up with a new home record of more than two million cash customers this season.

Five times this year, more than 70,000 fans have jammed the Stadium to see the Indians play. The all-time high for a baseball double-header with a single admission was set on June 30th, when the Indians—Philadelphia Athletics drew 82,781 customers.

On Sunday, May 3rd, the Indians and the New York Yankees drew 78,431 at Cleveland. The Indians also drew 73,163 for a game with the lowly St. Louis Browns and a crowd of 72,434 with the Washington Senators.

They draw against the lower clubs as well as against the leaders. Is it any wonder that the National Leaguers would like to play Cleveland in the World Series?
