The Parish Supper will be served by the Benevolent and Deborahs in the vestry Wednesday, January 19. It will be a covered dish supper and will be what ever the cooks make it. The speaker will be Mr. Robert Edwards of Henniker who is considered a very fine speaker.

Don't forget the Fortnightly meeting this Thursday, January 13.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

The Benevolent Society held its regular meeting in the vestry on January 5. Guests were teachers of both town and special districts. A shot business session was held at which reports were read especially of the Christmas sale also several communications and thank you notes.

Mrs. Harrison Baldwin sang a song before and after the travelogue given by Miss Edna Johnson. Miss Johnson enjoyed a motor trip with a friend through the southwest and down into Mexico last summer. She gave a most interesting talk of her trip through Mexico especially Mexico City, where she chanced to stay with a Swedish family named Johnson. She told about the history of Mexico City; its people, customs and institutions. She also showed many articles she had brought home; rugs, blankets, belts, etc.

Refreshments of cake, small cupcakes, coffee, and tea were served from a long table at which Mrs. Yeaple and Mrs. Buttrick poured. Hostesses were; Mrs. Raymond Rickard, Mrs. Roswell Whitcomb, Mrs. George Vaillancourt, Mrs. Robert Boardman, Miss Nora Ashford.

The bouquet given to the library by the third grade also served as decoration at this time.

JUVENILE BEACH CLUB

The Juvenile Beach Club held its regular meeting in the music room on Sunday, January 9, with the president, Bruce Jordan, presiding. Hostesses were Faith Owen and Judith Gove. After the business session musical numbers were given by Eddie Trotter, Judy Fogg, Joan Devlin, Dellen Devlin, Charlotte Cutter, Harrison Baldwin, Millie Feldblum, Carol Fogg, Charlene and Janice Fletcher. A musical quiz program given by the hostesses was won by Charlotte Cutter.

Mrs. John Hartshorn of Malden, Mass., passed away last week. Before her marriage, she was Josephine Duncan, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore Duncan of Antrim and well known in Hillsboro's social circles in the late 90's when she and Ethel Gay were very close friends.

Mrs. Mary Atwood will be missed by relatives and friends—especially members of the Bird and Garden Club of which she was the last living charter member at the time of her death. She has been continuously active and valued member since the club's organization in 1905. She was especially fond of the study of birds, flowers, ferns and trees, and all plant life.

Thirty-five members of St. Mary's Christian Doctrine classes, accompanied by Father Quinn and Edward McLaughlin attended the Ice Capades proved to be very beautiful and the trip was very much enjoyed by everyone.

After Eva Eastman told about the porcelain kettle in her family, there can be little doubt that such things existed long ago and especially after an old timer waxed political and wrote a poem about its many uses in preserving and jelly-making until the bottom wore out. It was then set out under a tree and filled with flowering (Continued On Page 8)

HEARS EVIDENCE, PLACES COURT RECORDS ON FILE

HENNIKER, Jan. 13—More than 50 people were present at a Municipal Court hearing held at the Firemen's Hall on the evening of January 5th, when three young men were brought before the court charged with having entered the fire station, and with taking the fire truck therefrom and starting for a fire with it in the early morning hours of December 12th.

Judge Carpenter, of the local Municipal Court, first stated that he had heard so much about the incident outside of the courtroom that he did not feel he could impartially judge the case; therefore he turned the case over to Judge Lockhart, who came from Allentown to hear the evidence presented.

The three young men were defended by Attorney James W. Doon, assisted by Max Israel. County Solicitor, Raymond K. Perkins, represented the State and town authorities. Both parties gave their versions of the matter in a rather informal sort of way.

After hearing all parties wishing to speak on the matter, Judge Lockhart placed all records having to do with the matter on file, from which place they may be taken up at a future time, should it be felt necessary to do so.

Guernsey Meeting

A district Guernsey meeting will be held on January 17 at Peterborough in the Historical Building at 1 P. M. OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

FREE MAN

IN A COUNTRY THAT WAS TO DEDICATE ITSELF TO FREEDOM, IT IS SIGNIFICANT THAT THE FIRST PIECE OF PRINTING IN AMERICA WAS THE "FREEMAN'S OATH"—A BROADSIDE ISSUED BY STEPHEN DAY, PRINTER, IN 1639.

State House Journal Governor Adams' Program Given to General Court

BY ENOCH SHENTON

As the General Court rounded out the first full week of the 1949 session this week, attention still was being paid to Gov. Sherman Adams' administrative program, outlined in his inaugural address. It is not yet clear which members of the House and Senate will act for the Governor in introducing bills and resolutions to implement the program. But Mr. Adams has moved so rapidly in the past two weeks, it is considered certain his administrative bills will start coming into the Legislature within another week. Here, in brief, are the things the Governor asked for in his inaugural:

1. A state income tax, to provide about $4,000,000 a year. This would meet an indicated deficit of about $3,000,000 a year in operating the state government.

2. Abolition of the stock-in-trade tax. The extra million from the income tax would be used to repay cities and towns for the revenue they now get from the tax on stock-in-trade.

3. A bipartisan committee, with power of subpoena, to investigate the Standard Construction company contracts scandal. (A resolution to this effect already has been introduced by Rep. Gardner C. Turner of Keene.)

4. Amend many sections of law pertaining to various departments, so the Governor no longer will be "ex officio" member of the governing boards.

5. A Department of Audit and Control, to absorb the present functions of a half-dozen assorted retirement boards, the Merit System Council, the Classification board and Comptroller's office.

6. A state architect, to be an official of the Planning and Development commission.

7. Roadside zoning, to limit unsightly billboards.

8. A "yield" tax instead of property tax on standing timber.

10. Give the Public Service Commission more power over the rates of utilities like the telephone and electrical companies, transportation.

Adams and His Council
Technicalities of state finance occupied the attention of Governor Adams and the Executive Council during their first meetings. The executive branch of state government doesn't intend to be caught in any such predicament as the so-called Story Case. They laid down the law to Comptroller Arthur E. Bean and State Treasurer F. Gordon Kimball, telling them exactly what procedure would be accepted. (Continued On Page 9)

Hillsboro Seeks $700 More for Armory Land

HILLSBORO, Jan. 7—Dr. Harrison Baldwin, chairman of the armory land committee, has announced that about $700 more is necessary to complete the drive for $2,500 to purchase the 25 acres of land for the proposed site of the armory in Hillsboro.

It is the purpose of the soliciting committee to secure a number of smaller loans rather than a few larger contributions from a selected group.

The proposed armory would be located on the Flat and it would recruit men from Hillsboro and surrounding towns. It is proposed to have eight paid men with others to be paid for the time they drilled. The building is estimated to cost $45,000 and would house the officers and have a large drill hall and heating plant.

The Hillsboro armory would be a tank outfit. The state would maintain the building but the town must first purchase the land. According to General Charles Bowen, the New Hampshire State Guard intends to organize a mechanized tank company here and other outfits in Haverhill and Derry.

At the annual March town meeting it is expected that the money raised by public subscription by loyal citizens would be repaid them when the town votes to purchase the land site and raised $2,500 for the purpose.

Hillsborough County Farm News

Forty dairymen with about 1000 cows are members of the Merrimack County Dairy Herd Improvement Association. This program has been sponsored by the N. H. Extension Service for many years as a means of checking production and cost records in the herds of the county that wish this service. Two supervisors are employed that visit these farms each month. Each cow's milk is weighed and tested for butterfat, and from this information, production records are prepared on each cow and the herd as a whole. Records of feed and its cost, with the value of the product also are included in the reports. The following members of the As-

David Wood of Deering, N. H., is a very happy boy and his parents are justly proud of the top honors he is sharing with Carol Bennett and Erwin St. Louis of Wilmington and Rockville, Conn. The trio of lambs owned by these youngsters were judged champion pen of lambs at the annual New England 4-H Market Lamb Show and Sale at Worcester on January 5. Competition was keen with 100 lambs being shown by 4-H members from clubs in Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire.

This year marked New Hampshire's entrance into New England competition for the first time. The top pen of lambs brought fifty cents per pound live weight at the auction sale held in conjunction with the Show. David Wood's champion lamb of 88 pounds returned his $44.00 which should mean a profit after paying expenses incurred in raising the lamb.

Other New Hampshire 4-Hers exhibited lambs which sold at an average price of thirty-five cents per pound and classed as blue ribbon lambs. Boys and girls in this group were Alice Dutton of West Deering with a 92 pound lamb; her brother, Edwin Dutton, with a 79 pound lamb; Dalton Jewett of Mont Vernon, who fed and fitted his lamb to an even 100 pounds and placed fourth in the heavy weight lamb class, and a nine-year-old youngster, Patie Comerford of Amherst who fed his lamb to a 96 pound weight.

David Wood and the other entrants from New Hampshire have set a good precedent for future 4-Hers from this state. Ed Comerford, assistant county agent for Hillsborough County, says: "While witnessing the 1948 Show and Sale, we decided on the objective that we should give our boys and girls from New Hampshire encouragement to compete in future shows. The fine showing this year by our entrants is as great a surprise to us as to the boys themselves."

The success of these first 4-H sheep projects in New Hampshire is attributed to the strong cooperative backing given the work by several people. Edward Willgeroth of West Deering is the club leader of the champion club member. Sheep breeder, "Stew" Michie gave considerable assistance. Through Michie David Wood bought his lamb as a weanling from another interested sheep breeder, Dwight Miller of Putney, Vermont. Dwight allowed four youngsters in the Deering Club to pick five lambs out of his 1948 lamb flock. Most of these lambs (ewes) have been retained by the boys for future breeding ewes. For footing the bill to transport the show lambs to Worcester, we are indebted to the N. H. Sheep Breeders Association. Instruction on showing given by Harry Hardwick, shepherd at the Hob and Nob Farm in Franconstown, was of great value to the 4-Hers. Others including parents and sheepmen gave their backing to start off New Hampshire in 4-H sheep. We in Extension hope that more youngsters can obtain the benefits from 4-H sheep projects.

With the winter months here, local farmers are beginning work in their woodlots. Jeff Smith of Hills has started cutting in one of his woodlots. With the assistance of the County Forester, trees of poor quality have been marked for cutting. Thrifty trees have been left for future harvest and young straight trees are being pruned to produce clear lumber. Mr. Smith has already cut some trees and delivered the logs to a local sawmill for custom sawing.

Donald M. Stockwell of Amherst has been stationed in Milford as the Engineering specialist for the Hillsborough County Soil Conservation Service. Mr. Stockwell will also handle the work in Sullivan and Cheshire Counties.

George A. Morison of Upland Farm, Peterborough, installed 2,000 feet of tile drainage in his orchard this fall. Engineers from the Soil Conservation Service assisted Mr. Morison in the design and installation of the drainage system.

Miss Myrtis Beecher reports the following activities on the House Demonstration program:

The leaders trained at these meetings will hold similar meetings with the groups in their home communities. Leaders are expected from twenty groups.

Tuesday, January 18, Mrs. Annie Quigley and Mrs. Ida Frost of Brookline will teach their group how to cane seat chairs. Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Quigley attended a leader training school on cane seating in Milford on January 4. There will be two more training schools on cane seating held later, one in Manchester and one in Hillsboro. Dates for these schools will be announced soon.

Miss Beecher is meeting with the Hollis group on the 18th at the home of Mrs. Edward Lievens to demonstrate the cooking of cheaper cuts of meat. On Wednesday, January 19, Mrs. Olive Merrill will show the Cricket Corner group how to cane seat chairs. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dana Fuller at 10:30.

Miss Beecher hopes to hold a training school for Mending Knitwear in Milford on the 19th, but plans are not yet completed.

The training meeting for the annual County 4-H Dress Revue will be held at the Nashua Y. M. C. A. on Saturday, January 15. Miss Marjery Bee, Extension Clothing Specialist from the University at Durham, will help the leaders and members with selection of patterns and materials and will answer any questions they may have on preparation for the coming event. A tour of Montgomery Ward's will be made where everyone will be shown new spring fashions.

Many of the fruit and vegetable growers have been attending the annual meetings of the Horticultural Society which are being held at the Carpenter Hotel this week.

The "Standing Room Only" sign was put out at the poultry meeting in Milford on the evening of January 6. The large room at the Community House was crowded to capacity. Dr. George Faddeul, veterinarian at the University of New Hampshire, warned that the control of poultry diseases is now a community problem. He said that iso-

TIME — PLACE — FACT

by Jeanne Eccles

Jackie Tasker worked very hard for our Art Group last Wednesday evening, holding all sorts of action poses in skiing costume, right down to boots, skis, and poles. The results of our evening's work were nothing to crow about and definitely show our need of a great deal more of just this type of action drawing. It takes effort, concentration and a trained eye to record an impression correctly and to put on paper an idea that can be used later as a subject of a painting.

The advantage of working quickly is shown in an article entitled "Beauty in the Quick Line" a late number of the magazine section of the Christian Science Monitor. It speaks of Huseyin Halit who is a strong believer of "The Quick Line". Halit is a native of Istanbul, and studied at the Academy of Arts there, also in Milan, in London, and in New York and has exhibited in many galleries here in the East and at the present writing, some of his water colors are on display at the M. H. DeYoung Museum in San Francisco.

Alfred Frankenstein wrote of him "Halit handles watercolor and line with a deft, telling simplicity. His pictures — beaches, figures, landscapes of city and country — are small, swift and sketchy, but their sketchiness is the result of the most rigorous elimination of non-essentials. His washes are extremely thin, but have a maximum of luminosity and his extremely fine pen-line plays a very important part in the whole. The total effect is spontaneous but carefully controlled, humorous but sensitive, delicate but strong."

Handling of "The Quick Line" is something for us to strive for in our Art work from now on, particularly, those who work with water color.

On last Sunday afternoon we had a surprise visit from Richard Annis. After dinner he took time to look over all our latest drawings. He is so thoroughly appreciative of all we have done it is like a tonic to have him with us for even so short a time. He and a friend are planning a five weeks trip to Mexico in June and am promised all sorts of art news from there.

Remember—The Time—Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 o'clock. The Place—The Cellar Studio in the Valley Hotel.

The Facts—You are welcome as a student or a visitor and our instructor is Stuart Bruce of Washington, N. H.

Women Voters Seek

Home Mail Delivery

Said Mrs. Lee, "Women are definitely a factor in how the State goes, and how the Nation goes." She stressed the point that League members are not a select group, but should include every woman voter in the community. Also League programs should concentrate on local problems first, followed up by state and national items of general benefit to all.

Familiarity with Civic problems, general discussion aimed at clarifying the issues involved, keeping in touch with Legislators and encouraging membership to participate in political experience were part of a full program outlined by Mrs. Lee.

The League of Woman Voters recognizes no line between color, class, group or creed, and political views or party affiliations are no barrier to membership, as the League is entirely non-partisan.

Mrs. Clarence Whitehill, Preston Street, Tel. 110, is secretary of the Hillsboro League of Woman Voters and will be pleased to receive names and addresses of Women who wish to receive notice of the meetings. The only password required is the desire to participate in Civic and public service to your community, state and nation. The gentlemen are welcomed as associate members.

Wilton, N. H.

The average person has little idea how fierce and savage the great horned owl can be. One day last week he got into an outdoor pen at the Arthur L. Searles place and killed several Light Brahma hens. Since then one broke the glass in a door at the farm of Louis F. Grundel at Chestnut Hill, Amherst, and killed $300 worth of ready-to-lay pullets. He laid them up in neat piles after the killing.

Mrs. Jenny Whitcomb of Antrim sends us down three deer tails and Carl Valyou, chief at Mason, sends down a tail for the disabled veterans. Good cooperation. As usual there are a flock of merganser ducks on the Souhegan river between Greenville and Wilton and between Wilton and Milford. Eighteen seems to be the number this year. These ducks are the sharp-billed kind and are fish eaters.

Here is a lady in a nearby town that wants to get some clothing for a 13-year old boy. No matter what the clothing consists of, the grandmother will see that it's usable. This is an SOS. Can't go to school unless properly clothed. Can you help us out?

Fish and Wildlife service biologist Thomas Z. Atkeson has been awarded the blinded veterans association achievement award for 1948. He was blinded and lost both arms in a mine explosion at Camp Hood, Texas, in 1943. He is now doing government work as a biologist.

It won't be long before we will be hunting wild boar in this neck of the woods. Many escaped from Corbin Park in the blow-down of 1938 and have increased to large numbers and are working this way.

Before the last snow storm hunters saw two half-grown bears on East Mountain in Peterborough. They thought the law was on them so they did not dare to shoot them. By now they have crawled in for the winter and are sucking their paws.

The Boy Scouts over in Warner are starting to tie trout flies. They want peacock feathers. Sorry, I gave mine all away. Send to Gordon French, if you have any.

The other day out in Oakland, Cal., a mallard duck with a family of six held up over 100 cars and blocked all traffic both ways while she and her family crossed a four-lane road.

The other morning a few days ago I got an SOS that an animal was sleeping on the back step of the Vernon S. Ames house. Miss Cora Ames and Mrs. E. A. Rideout were afraid to go out the back door.

I went down with a net and sure enough he was sound asleep, a small raccoon. I got him in a net while my wife held the bag. About that time the owner showed up, a Mr. Johnson on Maple street. I let the coon out of the bag and the owner began to feed it grapes. Oh, I got bitten once, but the owner got bitten twice, so I did not feel so bad about it. Last seen the owner with the coon on his back was homeward bound. The little fellow traveled quite a long ways. Why he did not make for the field woods is something we can't explain.

The Lone Pine Hunters Club, Inc. of Nashua has elected Boris V. Welch of that city to act as chairman of the safety and education committee.

The All-American selections are at hand, and while I don't think that the All-American selections are as good for New Hampshire as they might be, they are always interesting and very much worthwhile. At least, they show the trend in vegetable production.

Heading the list this year with a gold medal is a New England production, the Caserta squash. This is a bush summer squash of the Cocozelle type, only much smaller. About a week earlier than any other summer squash, it yields quantities of high quality squash about the size of a large cucumber. It is a greenish-striped squash like the Cocozelle. If you like summer squash, one hill will supply enough for your family.

A radish known as Cherry Bell, which is said to be crisp and firm at all stages of its growth, is a second prize winner. Also, the Ideal Snowball cauliflower, which is easy to grow, makes big heads and has curds which hold for days without ricing or granulation.

A fourth prize winner is the Triumph lima bean. While it is said to be much better than any other thick seeded lima bean, it hasn't done well in New Hampshire. The White Mountain is a variety which is being developed in New Hampshire and will be ready to sell in the spring of 1950.

There are two new lettuces of the Iceberg type that come from Pennsylvania. They are called Premier Great Lakes and Penlake. These two lettuces are selections from Great Lakes, more resistant to tip burn and to hot weather.

And finally, a sweet corn known as Flagship. Tall, vigorous, heavy yielding, it is said to be very resistant to cold, wet springs and hot, dry summers, and also ear worms. I am not sure that Flagship will mature in New Hampshire except as a late variety.

Three Queens Capture Full House

Celebrating the completion of a $2,000,000 modernization program with a huge Christmas Ball, over 3,000 employees of an Alexander City, Ala. textile mill and their families witnessed the coronation of two queens and the designation of a Queen Mother. The company president crowned 12-year-old Anita Fay Wilson (left) of Russell Junior High School, Junior Queen, and Mrs. Ruth McJanus (center), a cutter in the knitting mill, "Queen of the Ball." The lady at the right is Mrs. Benjamin Russell, widow of the textile mill's founder, who was named "Queen Mother." Audience acclaim, as registered on a special meter, selected the two queens.

Weare

Mrs. Irene Flanders
CORRESPONDENT

About 30 poultrymen gathered Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Hillsboro County Poultry Growers Association at Osborne Memorial Hall, South Weare, to hear Dr. George Faddoul, Veterinarian at the University of N. H. He had as subjects Newcastle disease and infectious bronchitis. He spoke of vaccines and vaccination for Newcastle especially. At present there is none in Weare that they know of, but it is in near-by towns, and of grave interest to poultrymen. Richard Warren, Extension poultryman of University of N. H. followed with more remarks on the same subject. Halstead N. Colby, U. N. H. Extension Agriculture Engineer, also spoke on the Electric soil heating cable to keep water pipes from freezing, and had a demonstration model with him. There was a question period after each speaker, which was taken advantage of. Mr. Weston of Bennington spoke on the Poultry Chest, and the importance of contributing to it. This Poultry Association, which the Farm Bureau sponsors, is rather new, and takes in a few neighboring towns, its object, as a fairly local organization, to get together the poultrymen of nearby towns and discuss the latest poultry management. Most of these men would not be able to attend the large meetings held in Manchester or Concord. August Bruyneel was chairman for this South Weare meeting. George Carleton, of Mt. Vernon is president and August Bruyneel, South Weare, vice-president. Mr. Bruyneel was very enthusiastic about this meeting.

The regular meeting of Star Rebekah Lodge was held Tuesday night at Odd Fellows Hall. The Friendship Club also met, and will meet on the same evening for the rest of the winter. Mrs. Henrietta Fisher is secretary of the Friendship Club.

Weare Chapter of the W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Whitaker in Clinton Grove last week. Julia Reade, secretary, reported on the Christmas party given at Grasmere, as well as the usual business report. Several plans were taken up and discussed. A penny auction followed the meeting, after which simple refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be in February.

The Girl Scout Troops are on schedule again. The Intermediate Girls met after school Tuesday, as usual, in the Stone Building. A hike was planned for Saturday, with Mrs. Mildred London, leader.

C. O. D. has come to town again, at the home of Mrs. Everett Chase. She was so surprised she couldn't think of the answer to the C. O. D. question. Whose turn next?

The Junior High has very interesting movies. The subject this past week was aluminum, and covered the ground from the days of Napoleon to the present day. They have a movie about once a week. The P. T. A. was instrumental in getting the machine, and it has been of great value to the students in their work, as well as educational and for recreation. Weare Community Club held its first meeting of 1949 at the Grange Hall. The usual covered dish dinner was followed by a business meeting. Drawings were made for the Secret Pals, and the Food Basket is now with Mrs. Georgia Ketchum, who is sending it along. Plans are under way to hire a bus to go to the Flower Show in Boston in March, as we have done for the past few years. At the next meeting, Jan. 20, in the afternoon there will be a demonstration of Stanley Products, by Mrs. Leila Buxton as the afternoon entertainment, a certain per cent of sales going to the club. Everyone interested in this is invited.

This is not really Weare news, but I saw the Ice-capers and any one interested in skating would thrill to see them. Snow White and the 7 Dwarfs was beautifully done, the dwarfs were very lifelike; there was very fine figure skating, one team of boys from Manchester. The "Old Smoothies" brought down the house, as usual, with a waltz to "Mary, its a grand old name." They are well named, a middle aged couple, apparently, the man very stout and bald, in a white suit and the woman wore a long blue dress with silver sequins. (That is for our feminine readers benefit); under the varicolored lights the act was very beautiful and smooth just describes it.

I do enjoy Lisabel Gay's column. Part of it could be well named—"I remember." Many of us remember, with fondness, the old "Parlor" kept for company, and when the Minister came, to call. Even tho we wouldn't have them back, those Good Old Days, and give up our modern conveniences, there is a sentimental something about them. Sweet Adeline was really Sweet, then, not just a Barber Shop quartet.

The Weare Grange, No. 276, installation of officers was conducted January 7, the installing officers being Worthy State Lecturer Frank Kimball and his suite. Mrs. May Hadlock came down from Hillsboro to play the piano. Officers installed were: Master, Edith Turner; Overseer, Rose Marie Hollis; Lecturer, Mildred London; Steward, George Waterman; Assistant Steward, Natalie Hall, Ed London, by proxy; Treasurer, Blanche Gunn; Sec'y, Gladys Waterman; Gate Keeper, Clarence George; Ceres, Marie Maribal; Pomona, Beverly Hall, by proxy; Flora, Marjorie Dwinells; Lady Assistant, Ann Holmes; Ex. Committee for 3 years, Hazel Gunn. State Home and Community Welfare Officer, Mrs. Bessie Stoddard, spoke a few words. Remarks from Worthy State Lecturer Frank Kimball, also remarks from Worthy Master Ed Ketchum of Wyoming Grange. A nice supper was served in the hall upstairs. The next Weare Grange meeting will be January 21.

The Weare Boating Club had their monthly meeting Monday night at the Town Hall. Another death saddened the whole town, when Frank Peaslee was drowned Sunday while ice fishing on Pleasant Pond in Henniker. He was a great lover of ice fishing and hardly ever missed a chance to go. He was taking up the last trap when the thin ice broke, and in trying to save him, John Fuller of North Weare nearly lost his own life. Frank,

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE FIRST DUTY OF THE LEGISLATURE

The Legislature just assembled in Concord is faced by many serious problems. Some of these are not new. They have merely been avoided. They cannot be avoided longer.

Chief of these problems is that of taxes. The government cannot continue to meet expenses through easy money from the race track and the liquor stores. It will be the worst kind of economy to expect to get more income by selling more liquor and encouraging more gambling.

Economy will help. But the State cannot maintain existing services without new taxes. It is the function of the Legislature to determine what these shall be.

Unfortunately, new taxes will be unpopular. But membership in the General Court is not a prize for winning a popularity contest. It is an obligation and must be treated, as such. The public must realize that the legislature is going to have to tax someone. Its first duty is to place the state on a sound financial basis.

One good result is sure to follow the imposition of new taxes. So long as the state stores and the race track continue to pay (nearly all) the bills, expenses are not going to be too closely watched. The people who pay the bills have not been too interested, so everyone has clamored for a share. When the money comes in the hard way, by direct taxation, the people of New Hampshire are going to show more interest in how it is spent.

VOTE AGAINST POLIO

This Friday, January 14, marks the opening of an 18-day parade in the United States—the 1949 March of Dimes of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. In that little more than two-week period the Americans will write their own ticket against infantile paralysis, which in the past six years has stricken more than 100,000 of our citizens.

One of the main facts to remember about polio is that it is not primarily a fatal disease. Only about five to ten persons out of a hundred who contract it will die. And another fact is that 50 percent of those infected by polio recover completely.

Yet, today there remains a drab overtone of darkness in the infantile paralysis picture. When polio strikes with paralytic force, often many lengthy years of hospitalization and treatment comprise the calendar of the disabled.

Aside from the victim's pain and suffering, there is also the cold factual problem of doctor and hospital bills. Not one family in ten can afford to pay for full or even partial care of a case requiring more than a nominal hospital stay!

That's where your March of Dimes steps in to lighten the dark outlook. Besides financing research seeking the final answer of how to prevent and cure polio, March of Dimes funds are paying for the best available medical care and treatment of polio patients throughout the nation—whether or not they were stricken in the 1948 epidemics or in years gone by.

Yes, not one family in ten can afford to pay when polio strikes. But every family can contribute to the March of Dimes. By so doing they help guarantee prompt and adequate aid to themselves and their neighbors should the disease attack them.

Remember the 1949 March of Dimes, January 14-31. Join in that great parade. Every time you give a dime or dollar you lend a mighty helping hand.

FANTASY

The incredible Communist fantasies that they invented practically everything before anyone else ever heard of it has now extended to atomic energy. Previously they claimed they'd invented electricity, the radio, airplanes, submarines and even biology. Apparently the only thing Stalin's stooges will stop short of claiming is free speech, free press and free elections. For the rest of the world the real Russian genius lies in its invention of fairy stories.

As everyone called him, had many varied interests and no one in the town could be missed more. Any community affair he could always be depended on to join in wholeheartedly. He had lived in Weare all his life, and had been Town Clerk for 30 consecutive years. Frank typing out hunting licenses was a yearly occurrence, now long to be remembered. Little things like that made him everybody's friend. Words cannot express the personal loss that will be felt. He was a representative to the New Hampshire legislature for nine years, a member of the State Senate in 1929 and a delegate to the constitutional convention in 1938. He was also a member and secretary of the city and town clerks association and secretary treasurer of the Weare Fire Insurance Company. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Minnie (Tucker) Peaslee; one son, Arnold; a granddaughter Linda; a brother, Moses Leon Peaslee of Weare and several nephews and nieces.

DEMOCRACY (?)

A seathing exposure of the failure of democracy and the perpetuation of Jim Crow practices in Washington, D. C., had many residents of the nation's capital blushing with shame last week. How completely stultifying undemocratic practices can become was shown by the disclosure that segregation even operates against dogs. A study by the Committee on Segregation in the Nation's Capital found that "It has reached the point in the Capital where a dog cemetery has erected a color bar against the burial of dogs belonging to colored people. In announcing this policy, the owner stated that he assumed the dogs would not object but he was afraid his white customers would." Thousands of Washingtonians have resolved never again to crack wise about, "It shouldn't happen to a dog."

SCHOOL NEWS

GRADE TWO

This week we have been having a contest. A picture was studied and the pupil finding the most objects in it beginning with the letter B won a prize. Nancy Shopes was the lucky winner.

In social studies we are studying the postman.

In a vocabulary test of seventy-five words in one of our reading groups the following pupils received one hundred: Marie Young, Patricia Johnson and Kenneth Colburn.

The following pupils received one hundred all week in spelling: Nancy Shopes, Judith Fogg, Patricia Johnson, Susan Olson, Marie Young, and David Kendrick.

Geraldine Ellsworth and David Buttrick played piano solos for us.

GRADE THREE

Judith Sharby's grandmother and cousin visited us.

All but two children had one hundred percent in spelling this week.

Walter Olson told us about a nature walk he took in the Fox Reservation.

We enjoyed our movie about Thomas Edison. After we returned to our room we read a story about him, also about Charles Steinmetz.

One of our reading classes has new reading books and work books.

GRADE FOUR

David Sterling was ten years old January 6th. He invited Grade IV to a party after school. We had a very nice time playing games. The refreshments were delicious.

We are making a snowman/border. Ronald Elliott is making a poster illustrating the story of "Little Brown Bruno."

George Cote has been absent this week because of illness.

Constance Flanders showed us a doll that came from Germany.

GRADE FIVE

Schools opened in town January 3rd, after a very enjoyable and happy Christmas season.

Robert Bennett and Joseph Sferlazzo made our January calendar on the blackboards. We have no snow out doors and it seems unseasonable but we look quite wintry inside with snowman blackboard borders and trees with snow falling and coasting scenes.

Henry Woods is out of school ill. We are hoping Henry will be back soon.

Mrs. Day's lesson in art this week is making calendar posters for the year 1949.

Those getting 100 percent in spelling this week are: Kathleen, Beatrice, Maxine, Judy, Faith Owen, Ellen, Beverley, Bruce and Joseph.

GRADE SIX

Every pupil in the school; this week, signed a "Thank You Letter," to the Hillsboro Moose Club for our lovely Christmas presents and refreshments.

We had a very interesting movie showing us things about Thomas Edison's life and experiments.

We have started a new unit on Mexico in our Social Studies class, and got our new books just in time to use for it. Our books are copy-righted 1948 and have all the latest materials and pictures on "Our American Neighbors." We love them.

HILLSBORO ITEMS

Mrs. Earl Richardson reports that the tulips are coming through the ground, also she discovered peas up three inches, which were probably deposited in the tulip bed, by Hal-loween pea shooters.

Sap is also dripping from maple branches broken by the wind.

H. H. S. BRINGS HOME EXETER VICTORY, 32-29

HILLSBORO, Jan. 13—Last Friday night the Hillsboro boys traveled to Exeter and came home with a double victory. In the preliminary game the Hillsboro J V's won 27-26 and the varsity followed with a 32-29 triumph.

The varsity game was featured by the best defensive basketball the team has played this year. Warren played his usual fine game off the defensive boards, while Smith and Stamatos set up sucker shots for Sullivan and Pierce.

As the game opened Exeter jumped out to a quick 5-0 lead. Then the Hillsboro defense tightened to hold their opponents to 6 points for the rest of the first half, while our side was throwing in 20 counters.

On the second half Exeter came back with a rush and the end of the game found Hillsboro holding on to a shakey three point lead.

The box score: Hillsboro, Stamatos, 0-1-1; Pierce 6-1-13; Sullivan 6-1-13; Warren 1-0-2 Smith 1-1-3. Total 14-4-32.

Exeter, Stanley, 1-1-3; Towne, 0-1-1; Jenkins 3-3-9; Costello 2-0-4; St. Armour 2-0-4; Wiggins 4-0-8. Total 12-5-28.

Referee — Smith; Umpire Sarsbowski.

HILLSBORO BEATS CONANT

HILLSBORO, Jan. 13—On Tuesday night of this week Conant High's basketball teams invaded the local gym. In the preliminary the HHS Girls won their first game of the season by a decisive 29-19 count.

Once again the varsity game was a battle of two fine defenses. At the end of the first period Hillsboro held a 4-0 lead, and at half-time it was only 11-1. In the second half the two teams played on even terms but the victory was never in doubt as Conant was unable to cut down the local's 10 point lead. Stamatos and Pierce were high scorers for Hillsboro.

able in paying out state money. Mr. Adams and his councilors were backed by a ruling of the Attorney General's office on the duties imposed by law and constitution on the comptroller and treasurer.

A thumbnail sketch of the first Council meeting: Governor Adams chewing gumdrops, gesturing with his big black-rimmed spectacles; Councilor Harry P. Smart of Ossipee chewing gum, paying careful attention to proceedings as he fingered his glasses; Councilor J. Guy Smart of Durham, pipe in hand, interjecting questions from time to time; Councilor C. Edward Bourassa of Manchester chewing gum, fumbling occasionally for words to phrase his questions; Councilor Charles M. Mills of Jaffrey, hands folded across his vest, waiting to get the lay of the land; Councilor Charles F. Stafford of Laconia, nursing a cigar.

Man for man, the new council is at least the equal of its predecessor. Mills and both of the Smarts, particularly, are men of proven ability, long experience in state affairs. And, fortunately for the new governor, none of them have any obvious political ambitions that might cause discord. Other regent governors haven't been that lucky.

Legislative Committees
New rules of legislative procedure have reduced the top-heavy committee structure of the General Court. The rules are based on the findings of an Interim Commission on Legislative Practice and Procedure appointed two years ago to streamline the House and Senate. Members of the commission were Speaker J. Walker Wiggin and President Charles H. Barnard, both of Manchester, Senator Earl S. Hewitt of Hanover, all leaders in the 1947 session; Speaker Richard F. Upton of Concord and Rep. George H. Edson of Lebanon, members of both the 1947 and 1949 Legislatures.

Fourteen of the 38 committees in the House of Representatives were abolished. Ten of the 27 Senate were knocked out. The new House has 19 policy committees, with 21 members each, and five administrative committees with smaller memberships. The streamlined Senate has 17 standing committees, with five members each.

Both New Hampshire senators took an active part in the revolt in Washington last week, when the 81st Congress convened. The Senate dispute was over Sen. Robert A. Taft's continued chairmanship of the GOP policy committee. Republican senators held a secret caucus to fight out the issue, and Taft won. Thirteen senators who fought him got the title "Young Turks" from Washington columnists, and among the "Young Turks" was Sen. Charles W. Tobey, now nearing 70. According to reports from Washington sources, Tobey made the second opening speech for Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, whom the rebels nominated for Taft's job. Sen. Styles Bridges, only 50, made the nominating speech for Taft, according to the same Washington informants, and lined up with the "Old Guard" in the voting.

"Deak" Morse, new chief of the Associated Press in New Hampshire, got his first look at the Legislature in session last week, and wasn't visibly impressed. His views: "They can talk here as long as they want to—it'll never replace baseball." Morse' first love is sports. He was sports editor of the late-lamented N. H. Sunday News.

President Perkins Bass of the Senate and Speaker Richard F. Upton of the House have private offices on the ground floor of the State House, where they will confer with Legislative leaders three days weekly when the Legislature is in session. Speaker Upton got the private offices of Scott McIntire, director of the Tobacco Tax division, and President Bass got the office previously occupied on a part-time basis by the Pharmacy commission.

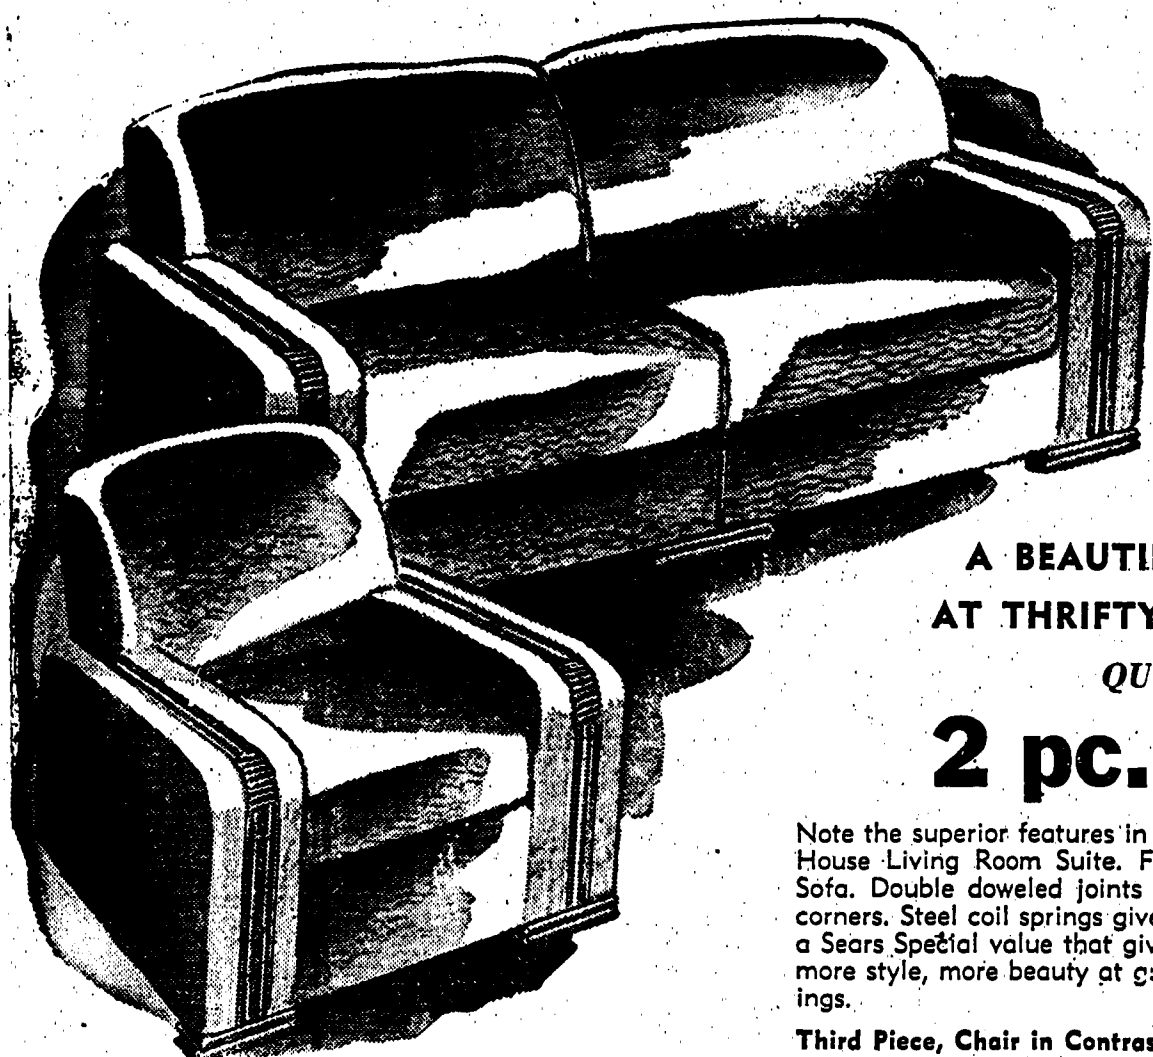

In 10 years, the state Unemployment Compensation division has collected more than $40,000,000 from employees, has paid out about $15,000,000 in benefits to unemployed workers during job lay-offs.

Postwar industrial employment in New Hampshire remained steady during 1948 at 130,000 workers. Their gross earnings were $300,000, leather and shoe plants were the state's biggest employers, with 21,000 workers, an annual payroll of $47,000,000.

Ex-Gov. Charles M. Dale is reported planning a winter vacation in the South. He may visit friends in Mexico, according to these sources.

lation is not protection against disease as it is spread by birds, wind, ground, animals, water and man himself. Dr. Faddoul said that inoculation for bronchitis can be secured at the University of New Hampshire. This inoculation, when given to from three to five percent of the growing birds on range will spread to the rest of the birds and cause immunization for the rest of their lives. Vaccine is now available from commercial sources for vaccinating growing birds against Newcastle disease. It is necessary to get a permit from the State Veterinarian before purchasing this vaccine. Large numbers of poultrymen are planning to vaccinate for Newcastle this year.

Similar meetings to this were also held at the Osborne Memorial Hall in South Weare on Tuesday evening, January 4, and at Appleton Academy in New Ipswich on the evening of January 5.
